80,000 POUNDS WOOL SOLD BY SHEEP & GOAT RAISERS ASSN. AT OVER 50c

SPOHR WOOL CO. OF ST. LOUIS BUY IN CLIP ON SEALED BID—PRICE RECEIVED IS APPROXIMATELY 5c MORE THAN OFFERED BY INDIVIDUALS.

The McCulloch County Sheep & Goat Raisers association Monday placed its accumulated wool clip on the market. Some 80,000 pounds were offered and sealed bids were received. The Spohr Wool Company of St. Louis were the successful bidders, their offer averaging better than 50c per-pound, and about 5c more than was offered the wool growers for individual clips. The wool was being weighed out for shipment Wednesday, and will be sent direct to St. Louis.

The McCulloch County Sheep & Goat Raisers' association was organized in February a year ago. During the year and a half of its existence, it has sold approximately 50,000 pounds of mohair co-operatively. During this period no wool was sold in this manner, since the government took over all the wool clips. The sale Monday was the first co-operative wool sale made by the association.

The association has done splendid work in organizing and in advancing the interests of its members, as well as the farmers and wool and mohair raisers of the county in general. Since September of last year they have had from one to four wolf trappers employed on regular salary, the association paying one-half and the government one-half of the pay, and thru the work of these men the county is being rapidly cleaned up. At present there is but one man, Roy Wilkerson, employed, he having been sent here by the Predatory Animal bureau of the State department as one of the best wolf-catchers in their employ. This fact is vouched for by local sheep and goat raisers, since he is cleaning up bad wolves which had heretofore been too cunning to be caught, and local members state that at his present rate of progress there will not be a single wolf left in the county twelve months from now.

Secretary Black states that it is his intention to work with and among the farmers and put forth every effort to secure the best prices obtainable for their oats and wheat. All who are interested are invited to call on his services freely.

held July 3, 4, and 5th, The San Saba County Fair and Encampment will be held August 12-15, next. Both big events and great crowds are expected at each meeting.

TOURS CATACOMBS OF PARIS WHERE UNCLAIMED SKELETONS FROM CEMETERIES ARE
A trip through the famous catacombs, or underground quarries of Paris, is described by Rupert W. Gillett, Fort Worth soldier, in a letter to his mother. Gillett gives an interesting description of the catacombs. The old quarries were first turned into catacombs long ago when the Paris business district overflowed into old cemeteries, and, on unearthing the skeletons of the dead, the thousands of unclaimed bodies were put into the quarries. Gillett took the trip through the place with a number of comrades. He says that the arm and leg bones were stacked like cordwood along the corridors of the catacombs, while the grinning skulls festooned the walls in varied designs.

SGT. BEN MOFFATT HOME—TELLS OF THE SUB ALARM

Sgt. Ben Moffatt arrived home Wednesday morning from a sixteen months' overseas service, having received his final discharge at Mitchell aviation field, at Long Island, New York. Ben looks fit as a fiddle and as carefully groomed as a race horse. He brings back with him an interest-lot of experiences and never lacks an audience when inclined to talk of the sights he has seen.

Ben was started overseas from Camp Travis in charge of a bunch of negro soldiers. Enroute to Newport News, they, for some unknown and inexplicable reason, were routed back and forth over the eastern states, crossing Louisiana to Florida, up the

STACY HAPPENINGS.

Corn, Maize and Feterita Already Made—Crops Fine. Stacy, Texas, June 16.

Editor Brady Standard: Monday seems to be our rainy day. A slow, misty rain is falling at this writing. Those who have grain to cut are anxious for some clear weather, however, most of the grain have been cut and shocked. The threshers will start here during the latter part of the week if the weather is favorable. The finest feed crop that was ever known will be made here this season. Enough rain has already fallen to make corn, maize and feterita. Cotton is looking fine, those who have been fortunate enough to escape the worms. In the Doole community they have destroyed quite a lot of cotton, but the farmers are planting over and some are planting on the oat stubble land.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Trott of Bisbee, Ariz., are here visiting relatives during the summer months.

Mrs. Edna Walker of Eagle Lake is here the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. D. Trott.

Louie Trott and small son, Sloanie, are here on a visit from Post City to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Trott and family.

Miss Mamie Spiller left last week for Denton where she will attend the summer normal.

O. F. Bates, state tick inspector, was out here one day the past week on business.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrah deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrah Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrah, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrah Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

The Government of the United States is endeavoring to disseminate principles of Thrift among the people of this nation, that they may learn to avoid waste, save wisely, spend wisely and invest their savings safely and judiciously.

The Government is offering the people of the United States the opportunity of making safe and judicious investments through the medium of Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps, that they may have money invested for any future emergencies or opportunities which may arise.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name and caused the Seal of the State to be hereon impressed, at the city of Austin, Texas, this 13th day of June, A. D., 1919.

GEORGE F. HOWARD, Secretary of State.

FIFTY THOUSAND SIGN FOR LAND

Soldiers in Camps Organizing Farmers' Forums Are Being Aided by Army Y. M. C. A.

Farmers' forums composed of soldiers desiring to establish homes and farms on land provided by the government are being organized in the military camps of the Southern department, comprising Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico and Arizona by the educational department of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

Groups of soldiers comprising the forums meet regularly in the Y. M. C. A. buildings and discuss the questions involved in their efforts to get lands in various states and the ways and means of developing the lands after they get them. Literature from the department of the interior and the agricultural departments of the states being studied is obtained and a digest of it given to the groups by different members.

S. N. Craig, representing the department of the interior, has been largely instrumental in formulating the plan of operation followed by the soldier farmers and farmers-to-be. A series of addresses was given by him in the camps of the Southern department in the "Y" buildings, during which he outlined the course to be pursued by the government in assisting soldiers to locate on unused government lands in various states.

More than 50,000 soldiers have signed the applications for the government land which will be available after congress has passed the bill containing the recommendations of Secretary of the Interior Lane, according to Mr. Craig.

"It is gratifying that so many of the soldiers have indicated their desire to take advantage of the opportunities to be provided under the provisions of the new law," said Mr. Craig. "The ultimate success of the plan depends upon the follow-up work that will be done by the farmers' forums in the various camps being organized with the aid of the Y. M. C. A. leaders."

Camp Travis, San Antonio, Tex., organized the first farmers' forum.

DEMobilIZATION OF "Y" MEN NOW AT A STANDSTILL

Only 400 Remain in Southern Department—Activity on Mexican Border.

San Antonio, Tex.—Demobilization of Army Young Men's Christian association secretaries in the Southern military department has about reached a standstill for the present, according to J. H. Eckford, departmental supervisor of personnel. About four hundred wearers of the Red Triangle remain in the six states composing this department, more than six hundred having been released since the signing of the armistice. It is believed that, with the numerous camps in the department demobilized down to practically the smallest possible working force, coupled with the demands of the regular army men and the returning soldiers from overseas, there will be a need for at least four hundred secretaries for at least several weeks.

Seventy secretaries are serving the towns and outposts along the Mexican border, this phase of Y. M. C. A. activity having been materially enlarged since the armistice. Apparently 2,000 miles of border territory is now being covered, the greater part of it by itinerants in light delivery cars, in which the secretaries carry a full supply of books, stationary, portable motion picture machines, athletic equipment. In a number of the isolated villages where troops are stationed the Y. M. C. A. hut is the only entertainment feature and the soldiers share their privileges with the civilian populations. Every border outpost is now being reached by the "Y" men, and the work will continue as long as there are soldiers to serve.

Y. M. C. A. ENLARGES WORK IN RUSSIA

Doubles Personnel in Non-Bolshevik Sections—Large Sums Being Expended.

An urgent cable has been sent from Vladivostok to the Y. M. C. A. national war work council headquarters in New York requesting that 200,000 feet of up-to-date English comedies and dramas and an enormous repertoire of Russian titled films be rushed to that part in addition to 725 reels of committee on public information educational films.

In response to appeals made by the Omsk government and other allied authorities, the Y. M. C. A. has doubled its personnel in non-bolshevik Russia, and has enlarged the scope of its work proportionately. There are now 97 American Red Triangle workers in Siberia and 50 on the arctic front in European Russia. In addition there are more than twice this number of Russian and Czech secretaries.

The national war work council is now expending $150,000 a month for Y. M. C. A. work among allied and American troops in Siberia, and an additional $50,000 a month among the troops in northern Russia.

Mrs. C. P. Eklund Entertained for Ladies Aid Thursday Night. Brady, Texas, June 18.

Editor Brady Standard: We nearly all worked all day Saturday and got to rest and watch the weeds and grass grow Monday and Tuesday, and most probably, Wednesday.

J. M. Johnson and Jesse Burk got their oats cut last week. Jonah Bell is contemplating cutting his wheat this week.

The rain lasted all day Monday and till about nine o'clock Tuesday; a nice heavy, steady downpour from about noon Monday till about midnight Monday night, and continued all night and up in the morning, but not so heavy at intervals.

Some grain is damaged from the recent rains.

Mrs. Edna Bryan and children of Francis, Okla., are here on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Behrens.

Mrs. C. P. Eklund entertained very pleasantly for the Ladies Aid last Thursday night. There was a very nice crowd for such busy times. After reading and singing, the secretary gave her report. Mr. A. J. Johnson gave a little talk. The house was beautifully decorated with pot flowers. The centre piece was beautiful with smilax and sweet peas. Sandwiches, cake and coffee were served to those present: Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Carlson, and Miss Fay Bell, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Rev and Mrs. Gustavson, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Huffman, Louis West and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Jones, of Brady; Misses Cora Johnson, Ethel Bergquist, Allie Mae Anderson, Ebba Carlson, Lillian Eklund, Julia Carlson; Messrs. Robert and Gus Carlson, Delma Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Boyles visited Jonah Bell Thursday night.

When Farmers Are Ready to Thrash, Rain is Unwelcome Guest. Brady, Texas, June 17.

Editor Brady Standard:

We are having our weekly rain. It began raining yesterday (Monday) morning and has been coming a slow rain almost continually since. At present, 1 3-4 inches has fallen. Guess this is the most unelcome rain we've had as several around here intended threshing grain this week.

Messrs. Bates and Homer Purdy began on Mr. Winstead's oats Saturday and threshed about 400 bushels and now the shocks will all have to be torn down and dried out before they can thresh any more.

With some still planting and the plowing, hoeing, harvesting and threshing all to be done, it is certainly busy times and hands to help are scarce. We think the soldier boy who comes home and stops in town to take the girls jobs away from them, when they are needed so badly on the farms are sure enough slackers.

Mrs. B. D. Dillard visited her niece, Mrs. Jack Parish, who is very ill.

Mr. McCoy's parents, from Bell county are here on a months' visit with them.

Mrs. J. Newton spent two days with her daughter, Mrs. Hilliard last week.

Newt McShan had his wheat (at his father's place, 4 miles north from Brady) cut last week.

Come on Bonnie Bell with your news. We think you are only two miles north from us. Did we guess it?

BRADY, TEXAS, June 20, 1919

HONEST INJUN.

Our opinion is, so far as West Texas is concerned, that Mother Nature has just about washed up creation, and that now it is time for her to hang her clothes out to dry.

THINK ABOUT IT.

Did you ever stop long enough in your mad flight through life; in your mad scramble for riches and comforts; in your eager haste to be among the leaders, to think how the world has speeded up and is speeding up year after year?

A little over five centuries ago, Christopher Columbus established the world's record by sailing across an unknown ocean and discovering a new continent. Time, 2 months and 9 days. A few centuries later steam vessels sailed the ocean and completed the trip in weeks, where Columbus took months. Still more recently the big transports and liners made the journey in a matter of something like four or five days. The climax to date is the non-stop flight of an airplane across the ocean through fog and against high winds in a little more than sixteen hours.

The world do move!
Now they are prophesying that a man may complete a day's work in New York, board a palatial airship, dine, smoke a few cigars, retire for the night and awaken the next morning refreshed and ready to transact business in London.

The world is still moving!
Speed is the thing these days. The folks who used to spend two or three days coming to town to shop (and that wasn't so very many years ago) wouldn't consider making the trip unless they could board their flivver, come to town, stay a couple of hours and get back home about dinner time. When we travel today, we want the fastest automobile, the fastest train, the fastest boat. The fastest horse will do in an emergency—but really it's too darn slow!

Time has speeded up! Prices have speeded up! Wages have speeded up! Speed is the cry of the day! We are all showing "some speed."

The American plane "hopped off" all right, but the British went one better—they "hopped over" the Atlantic.

If Mexico should get on the war path against the U. S. and sever the international telephone and telegraph lines, we could still depend on Major General Cabelle to deliver any messages we might want to send down into tamale-land.

FOR THE SOLDIERS.

Commenting on the efforts of The Standard to arouse local enthusiasm in order to arrange some kind of a Home-Coming celebration for our returned and returning soldier boys, the Ballinger Banner-Ledger says:

"At mass meeting held in Ballinger several weeks ago, a committee was appointed to work out plans for a celebration here in honor of the boys who went to the front. It was decided to hold the celebration as soon as the boys returned home or as soon as most of them returned. Within the next month practically all the boys from this county will be at home, only those in the regular army and navy remaining away. It may be several months before the regular army men are discharged and no further delay for the home-coming is necessary. The committee should begin now, plan an affair worth while, and let us get back to the pre-war ways of having a good time."

Well, so far as The Standard is concerned, we appear to have struck solid granite—certain it is we didn't get a gusher, and no one has rushed to the front and taken up the idea advanced. There's no use wasting further effort on our part in this matter—we'll call it a dry hole, and get in on the harvest or some other live topic.

CONGRATULATIONS.

Our congratulations are extended Editor John E. Cooke of the Rockdale Reporter upon his having been honored with the office of vice-president of the Texas Press association at the close of the annual meeting of the association in San Antonio last week. By an unwritten rule of the association, Editor Cooke will be unanimously elected to the office of president at the next annual meeting in 1920.

As founder of the Brady Standard, and as the co-partner with the present editor, Editor Cooke is well remembered by Brady citizens, all of whom will rejoice with us in the honors that have come to him. As always, Cooke is a live-wire newspaper man; he publishes a live, readable paper; he stands always for progress and morality. No honors could have been more worthily bestowed by his fellow craftsmen.

Sam Flore, Jr., of Floresville is president of the association; the genial Sam P. Harben of Richardson again is secretary, and C. F. Lehman is treasurer. Houston won the 1920 convention, although Corpus Christi ran her a close race, and lacked but one vote of tying for the honor.

For the information of the uninformed, we wish to advise that the letters NC used to designate the U. S. planes NC-1, NC-3 and NC-4, stand for Naval Curtis.

It rained Sunday night; it rained Monday; it rained Monday night; it rained Tuesday morning up to nine or ten o'clock—about 1-1.5 inches in all. Yet by 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the dust was blowing on the down town streets. Does it look like we need a street sprinkler in Brady? It does!

To the innocent bystander, it looks like the sanest proposition that was ever offered is that of building a high barbed wire fence all along the Mexican border, and then charge the wires with electricity. That ought to stop raids by Mexican bandits. However, it would hardly stop the bullets fired by the bandits into American territory—and that's where the trouble starts all over again.

MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE
MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

Every since the armistice was signed, the proposed flight across the ocean has been occupying the attention of the people of the world. After several more or less disastrous "hop-offs" the American plane, NC-4 made the first successful flight, stopping at the Azore Islands and again on the coast of Spain, before reaching England. Then the British aviator in a Vickers-Vimy plane, the first of this week made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic, and thereby pulled down the $50,000 prize offered by the London Mail. Time of crossing a little more than sixteen hours. Now wouldn't that make the shades of Columbus jealous? Poor old Columbus, who sailed for weeks and weeks and weeks before he crossed the ocean. If Columbus were to come alive today, he would probably think this is too fast an age for him, and peacefully go back to sleep again.

Billings, published of the Goat and Sheep Raisers' Magazine at Menard, we are this week in receipt of an invitation to attend the annual meeting of the Goat and Sheep Raisers association to be held in San Angelo on June 25, 26 and 27th. We don't know exactly whether Billings is trying to "kid" us, or if he is playing us for the "goat," but this is the way the invitation reads:

Mr. and Mrs. Sheep and Goat Raisers request the honor of your company at the marriage of their adopted daughter Miss Delaine Sheep to

Mr. Angora Goat on the morning of Wednesday, the twenty-fifth of June at half after eight o'clock at their home in San Angelo, Texas. President Jeff Moore, officiating. Secretary Stricklen giving away the bride.

Family Reunion.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor are enjoying quite a family reunion at present. A son, Marcus, arrived here last Thursday from Sacramento, Calif., for a visit while on a furlough. Marcus has been in service the past fifteen months, and for the past nine months has been stationed at Sacramento in the aviation department of the naval service. He finds the service so interesting that he has re-enlisted and will return to his station in California some time next week.

Three daughters are also here, Miss Aubyn, who has been engaged in social child welfare work at Dallas, arriving Sunday, and Miss Nell, who has been teaching in the high school at El Paso, and Miss Luella, a teacher in the primary department at Greenville, both of whom arrived Tuesday. Another son, D. H. Taylor, a business man of Quanah, Texas, is expected with his family to arrive next week to complete the family gathering.

Townsend-Warrick.

Mr. Carl Townsend of this city is receiving the congratulations of his friends upon his marriage at Brownwood on last Tuesday morning at 10:45 o'clock to Mrs. Maude Warrick. Mr. and Mrs. Townsend arrived here on Wednesday morning's train, and will be at home to their friends in Brady.

Mr. Townsend is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Townsend of this city, and is a splendid young man, being a valuable employe of the Knox-Johnson Produce Co., and being highly esteemed and spoken of by all who know him. His bride is a charming young lady, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peel, now residing in Oklahoma, but who made their home in Brady some six or seven years ago. She recently visited here, being the guest of Miss Lulu B. Wigginton, and the plans of the young couple were then consummated. In their journey through life, the newly-weds have the best wishes of all their friends, in which The Standard joins.

Legend of the Garnet.

The Indians who live in Arizona have a great deal of sentiment about the garnet mines, it is said, and there are numerous legends concerning it, one of which is that centuries ago on a cold winter night the little daughter of a great Indian chief died, and as she passed away Indians standing outside the place where she lay noticed an immense multitude of sparks that flew up from the chief's chimney and settled upon the mountain side, where they shone as brightly as stars, never growing cold and dead.

Later they sank into the earth and formed the garnets that gem the entire mountain.

Inalienable Feminine Right.

"How much is the watermelon, Mr. Brown?" asked a ragged little miss of four years.

"Oh, go long with you," replied the grocer. "Your mamma hasn't given you any money to spend on watermelons."

"Well," rejoined the child, "haven't I got as good right to go shopping as the other ladies?"

coast and back again, until their journey to Newport News consumed five days and nights. At the time of embarkation, some of the negroes decided they didn't want to cross the pond, but changed their views after a little persuasion mixed with some force.

The most interesting of Ben's experiences came while on board ship going across. There were two battalions of negro soldiers on board, they being quartered in the hold of the vessel. The officers, including the non-coms, traveled second-class. In order to get out of the hold and up on deck of the vessel, the soldiers had to climb up two flights of stairs, the steps of which were so nearly perpendicular as to more resemble a ladder, and chains on either side were used as a hand-rail to help climb. There were two of these ladder-stairs, one of which was to be used in the descent and the other in ascent. One day, however, a sub alarm was given. Ben says the negroes piled out of the hole like a swarm of ants. Everybody was going up—nobody going down—and both ladders were used. In the mad rush, those in back climbed over those in front; consequently some of the negroes who first reached the ladder, could merely stand and swing on to the chains while the other swarmed over their backs and up the ladders. Another time, one of the negroes had taken his mess kit to bed with him. The bunks were arranged in tiers, five high. About one o'clock at night the mess kit slid to the steel-bottomed floor with a crash that reverberated through the hold like a bomb blowing up the vessel. Pandemonium reigned; the negroes in the top bunks jumped out, many of them landing astride the necks of those just crawling out of the lower bunks. It took about two hours to quiet them and herd them back to their bunks. Ben said after the first scare was over, the officers could look down through the air shaft and see the ludicrous sight—but right at the first moment it didn't seem funny in the least.

Going over three subs attacked the transports, the periscope of one of the subs breaking the surface just about a block away from the transport on which he was. Depth bombs were dropped and it was claimed that two of the three subs were accounted for.

He was among the first 500,000 U. S. soldiers in France, and as a member of the 513 Engineers, helped to build the first American warehouse in Nantes. After the armistice was signed, he was engaged in reconstruction work up to the time of his discharge.

G. O. No. 13 were the cause of his being returned at this time. These were general orders issued at headquarters of the Expeditionary forces, and men coming under certain classification, were allowed to return to the States. Ben had just gone through the delousing station and had filed his last papers the day before the G. O. No. 13 was withdrawn—and he is duly thankful that he happened to be one of the fortunate ones.

Fishing in France is not much good, he says, although they have flounders there as big as a tub, and lobsters that the chefs know how to fix to a queen's taste. It rained there nearly all the time, and at chuck time it often happened that by the time the soldier had received his several spoonfuls of beans on his plate, the rain had added enough water to turn it into bean soup.

The francs are currency of the realm, although there is much paper money and coin of smaller denomination. Banks, manufacturing concerns and various businesses manufacture their own paper money, but this is good only in that particular section.

France has some of the largest cemeteries he ever saw. At that, many of the soldiers lie in shallow graves—a ditch or a shell hole—with scarce ground enough to cover the bodies. Now and then one sees the bones of a foot or a hand sticking out of the earth. Should the bodies of U. S. soldiers who died on the battle fields of France be returned to U. S., all that can be sent back is the skeleton—perhaps the right one; again maybe that of some one else, for in the battle zone many lie unidentified in graves; many of the marks of identification have been destroyed or lost. A custom that prevails in France and which American people can scarce appreciate is that of caring for the dead. A family burial lot is often a very cramped plot of ground; so, more often than not, one coffin is placed on top of one buried at an earlier date. These are allowed to remain as long as the surviving members of the family pay the taxes for the upkeep of the graves. When this money is no longer forthcoming, the bones are exhumed and dumped in a bone pile in the rear of the cemetery. Of course, this practice applies only to the poorer classes. The more wealthy have their own tombs, mausoleums and the like, where their dead lie in state throughout the ages.

While on leave of absence, Ben had opportunity to visit the Alps and part of Italy, which, he said, is the most beautiful country imaginable. Here they grow flowers in fields just like we grow grain in this country—chiefly for the purpose of making perfumes. Roses are shipped to factories by the carloads.

The departure of the troops from France lacked much of the enthusiastic reception given the soldiers of the U. S. when they first arrived in France. However, the soldiers needed no rousing farewell—going home was all the music their ears needed to hear.

What Heat does to your Automobile Oil

The heat of an automobile engine ranges from 200° to 1000°. This terrific heat breaks down lubricating oil and leaves a black sediment. The volume of this sediment depends absolutely on the ability of the oil to resist heat.

Veedol is made by the Faulkner Process. This new discovery gives Veedol its wonderful heat-resisting and wear-resisting properties. Tests in laboratory and on the road prove conclusively that Veedol reduces sediment 80%.

Your operating costs increase directly as the sediment in your oil increases. Keep down up-keep by using Veedol.

None so Deaf—
Captain Libaire was particularly sensitive about his hearing. He was deaf—or at least the members of the board believed such to be the case. One morning Fred Rook, a fellow member, who was hard up, said to Libaire:
"Captain, won't you please lend me $100 until Saturday?"
Libaire, placing his auricular appendage in his left hand, asked: "What was that you said, Rook?"
Fred answered: "I asked you to lend me $200 until Saturday."
The captain flashed back: "You said $100 a minute ago, and I like a man of his word—he honest"—and he went off in high dudgeon.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

TROUBLE MAKING CANTEN TAKEN OVER BY PERSHING

Grants Earnest Request of Y. M. C. A. Head—Did Better Than Expected, Says General.

Chaumont (Special).—At the earnest request of E. C. Carter, general overseas secretary of the Army Young Men's Christian Association, General Pershing has officially taken over the army canteen, and in the future all exchanges, or "canteens," will be operated by the military instead of the Y. M. C. A., as was the ages-old custom before the present war. In replying to Mr. Carter's request, General Pershing says that as the reasons which impelled him to request the Y. M. C. A. to undertake the canteen work no longer exist, he is glad to approve Carter's suggestion. The general thanks the Y. M. C. A. for the manner in which it handled the canteen, declaring that, "handicapped by shortage of tonnage and land transportation, the Y. M. C. A. has by extra exertion served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army.

According to Y. M. C. A. officials and investigators of recent criticism coming from overseas, the canteen has been the cause of nineteen-twentieths of the organization's trouble. In his letter to Mr. Carter, General Pershing declares that "the Y. M. C. A. undertook the management of the post exchanges at my request at a time when it was of the greatest importance that no available soldier should be taken away from the vital military functions of training and fighting." Y. M. C. A. men everywhere are sure that with the canteen in the hands of the army, all criticism of the organization's overseas work will cease, because of the impossibility of a civilian organization, handicapped as the Y. M. C. A. has been, operating such a mammoth mercantile enterprise as the post exchange business proved to be.

General Pershing's letter to Mr. Carter follows in full:

"My Dear Mr. Carter:
"I have received your letter of January 29 asking whether in view of the present changed situation it would be possible for the army to assume full responsibility for the maintenance of post exchanges throughout the American expeditionary force. As you correctly state, the Y. M. C. A. undertook the management of the post exchange at my request at a time when it was of the greatest importance that no available soldier should be taken away from the vital military functions of training and fighting. As the reasons which impelled me at that time to request you to undertake this work no longer exist, I am glad to approve your suggestion. In reaching this decision consideration has been given to the new burdens in connection with the entertainment and athletic activities and the education that you have assumed. I have accordingly given directions that army units themselves take over and operate their own post exchanges. In making this change permit me to thank you for the very valuable services and assistance which the Y. M. C. A. has rendered to the American expeditionary force in handling these exchanges. Handicapped by shortage of tonnage and land transportation, the Y. M. C. A. has by extra exertion served the army better than could have been expected, and you may be assured that its aid has been a large factor in the final great accomplishments of the American army.

"Cordially yours,
(Signed) "JOHN PERSHING."

TUBERCULOSIS IS NOT INCURABLE

IF DISEASE DETECTED IN TIME CURE CAN BE EFFECTED IF PROPERLY TREATED.

PROPER HOME CARE HELPFUL

Pamphlets on Treatment of Tuberculosis and Transmission of Disease Will Be Sent Free on Request.

WHAT ABOUT THE CHILDREN?

Are the people of Texas going to continue allowing their children to fall heir to all sorts of constitutional defects, merely because of the lack of knowledge of the means of preventing the requirement and spread of communicable disease? The State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad, has prepared an excellent little pamphlet, gotten up attractively in colors, entitled "Communicable Diseases Among School Children." The propaganda department of the institution hopes to get a copy of this pamphlet into the hands of every primary grade teacher, during the fall term of 1919. The pamphlet is intended for parents as well.

Among other things, it is hoped that this pamphlet will help establish the falsity of the old notion that children should be exposed to such dangerous diseases as Mumps, Measles and Whooping Cough "To get it over with." Measles and whooping cough both are apt to leave certain organs of the body—the heart, kidneys, lungs—in impaired condition, so that other disease finds a ready lodgement. Oftimes the eyes are affected. Because a child can be very sick, yet complain little, it is thought that these diseases "go harder" with the grown person. The grown person can better afford to take the chance of after disease than can the child, because the former's immunity to many diseases is established, whereas that of the child is not.

Prevention is better than cure.

TUBERCULOSIS is not INCURABLE if it is detected in time and proper measures of treatment instituted. Home treatment is good. Institutional treatment as an educational feature is excellent. PREVENTION is better than cure.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN JUSTICE?

Were you, dear reader, ever on a train or in a hotel, and did you happen to notice some passenger or guest take a little pasteboard box out of his pocket and carefully spit into it? Were you one of those who became frightened and carefully avoided this person, possibly going to the conductor or hotel proprietor and making a vigorous protest against that person being allowed around? We hope not, but if you did not do this you may rest assured that someone else did.

The person who used that sputum cup possibly was a consumptive, but he was being brave enough, sane enough and man enough to do what he knew would protect others from infection from his sputum. Possibly he was not a consumptive but an ordinary citizen with some regard for the rights of others, but we doubt it. At the very time this (possible) consumptive was taking such care to dispose of his sputum without endangering others, a hundred other people in his vicinity were spitting promiscuously, and inoculating no blame. Yet they were spreading the germs of disease—pneumonia, scarrah, influenza, consumption—thick and fast. THINK IT OVER.

HOW YOU CAN HELP.

Any public spirited citizen of Texas can help make this a greater, better state to live in by posting bulletins furnished free by the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad, giving information about tuberculosis. Few realize that this disease, owing to a lack of knowledge of the means necessary for its control, is making tremendous inroads into all classes. Every citizen, worthy of the name, should be interested enough to at least inform himself and, if possible, spread the knowledge thus gained.

"Can you remember the title?"
"No; but its her Jew book," he insisted.
"Well, I'll read over some of the titles of her books to you, and perhaps you will know it when you hear it read." Patiently she began. "Little Women," "Little Men," "Under the Lilacs," "Rose in Bloom—"

I AM THE GOOD ROAD

By Bradley Hogue in Dallas Times-Herald.

I am the GOOD ROAD.
They call me sand and gravel and concrete and cement.
But I am more.
I am the living friend of man.
When high prices call to the farmer, "Come" I help him speed quickly to the market.
I insure him good prices. I am his business friend.
I am his social familiar. I draw him closer to his fellow farmer. For the drab loneliness of the rural life I substitute the life and color that come from the evening spent in pleasant converse with friends.
I annihilate space and thus neighbors I make more neighborly and of the two or more whom vile highways have made strangers I make companions.
When through the Sabbath stillness the church bells fling far their silver summons over field and meadow, I invite him who lives distant from the church door to use my shining surface and so quickly draw near to God.
I link home and school together and thus the children, laughing at the wet that once held them home bound, can go along with me to where education offers opportunity, wisdom and the fuller life.
When the springtime calls like a sweet dream of youth renewed, when the prairie flowers summon man to visit God in the fields, I am at hand to bring him quickly out of the hot and stifling city to where the breeze and the birds are a symphony of exquisite delight.
Whoever champions my cause champions the cause of a completer civilization.
I am a material asset as sure as money in the bank.
I am a spiritual asset—if you will have me so—as certain as the Song of Solomon.
Whoso is "forward looking" will include me in his vision.
Whoso is content to live a mudhole life, only he should oppose the coming of the day when, with prosperity as my companion, I shall fling myself forward over the uttermost reaches of Texas.

"UNTHINKABLE" SAYS DANIELS

Secretary of the Navy Nonplused at Criticism of Y. M. C. A.—Proved Heroism.

The war work of men in the uniform of the Red Triangle who followed the flag wherever it went proved their heroism and devotion on the battle front and were always present to serve and comfort the American fighting men, says Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, will remain an enduring monument to the Y. M. C. A.
"It is unthinkable," he declared in a letter to the "Y" war work council,
"that criticism of minor defects here and there should be allowed to cloud for a moment the splendid record made by this great association."

His letter, recently made public by the Y. M. C. A., follows in part:
"Only those who were brought in intimate contact with it, and could survey the whole field, are able to appreciate fully the great extent and value of the Y. M. C. A.'s work for our soldiers and sailors. In camps and training stations, at home and abroad, at the fighting front, on transports and at naval bases, it cheered and aided our fighting forces. Its halls and huts were not only social centers, furnishing wholesome recreation and amusement, but were places for mental improvement and moral refreshment.
They were bits of America set on foreign soil, reminding the boys of the homes from which they came.

"The men of the Red Triangle followed the flag wherever it went, and were there to serve and comfort our brave boys. They proved their heroism and devotion on the battle front,
a number being commended for bravery, and several sacrificing their lives in the line of duty.

"It is unthinkable that criticism of minor defects here and there should be allowed to cloud for a moment the splendid record made by this great association. No big undertaking was ever carried out without some imperfections, and no organization engaged in such a stupendous work, employing so many men over a vast area, could expect to carry it through without making some mistakes. But so far as I have been able to determine, these have been few and hardly enough to be considered in comparison with the magnificent service rendered.

(Signed) "JOSEPHUS DANIELS."

SOLDIERS PLAN FOR FIGHT BACK HOME

Disturbed by Reports of High Cost of Living—Y. M. C. A. Offers Help.

Fluctuations of the political barometer "back home" are watched with interest by the American troops in France and Germany, according to reports coming from Paris. From men who have reached America they have received reports concerning the cost of living which have caused wide unrest. This has sharpened the soldiers' determination to equip themselves with increased efficiency for the return to industrial life.

To offset the growing apprehension the Y. M. C. A. has introduced a new business system in its program with the army. Secretaries have been instructed to take up with the men the question of work after the war. Signs reading, "What are you going to do when you get back home?" are prominently displayed in the Red Triangle huts in Germany. No matter what profession or what special work a soldier wishes to pursue he will be able now to develop that bent by enrolling at the "Y" hut. There he will be placed in direct touch with the people back home who need and can use his services.

The Y. M. C. A. will give men every opportunity to study books that contain professional and technical information so when they do reach home they will have obtained a rudimentary knowledge at least of the enterprise on which they desire to embark. Comment made by the soldiers on conditions is indicative of the fact that they intend to take a pronounced interest in the affairs of the nation once they are again on this side of the Atlantic.

SWEET CHOCOLATE CARRIED UNDER FIRE

Chocolate Furnished by Y. M. C. A.
Arrives Just When It Is Needed.

With the American Armies in France.—Praising the men of Company D, One Hundred and Ninth Machine Gun battalion, Twenty-eighth division, Howard R. Keister, a Y. M.
C. A. man of Dunnellon, Fla., tells how, when without food, they sent the sweet chocolate which he secured for them to an isolated platoon, which was under severe fire, across the Vesle river at Fismes.

It was during the heavy fighting eastward from Chateau Thierry that the men of the One Hundred and Ninth Machine Gun battalion got ahead of their supplies, and the sweet chocolate which the Y. M. C. A. managed to get to them was specially welcome.

The battalion reached the Vesle river on its advance. There the German line held. Men were thrown across the river by various units to keep in contact with the enemy.
There was terrific fighting all along the line. A platoon of Company D was hurried over to help in holding the narrow strip that had been taken at great cost by the American soldiers.
It was surrounded on three sides by the boche, who tried every means in his power to dislodge them—gas, shells, machine-gun fire and snipers.
It was a difficult matter to get food over to them, for men with supplies had to cross the river, which was exposed and under heavy fire.

"BATTLE BALL," NEW GAME, MAKES HIT

Two Hundred and Fifty Men on a Side—Invented by Army
"Y" Man.

Military officials at the head of the Camp Travis athletic council, Camp Travis, Tex., are much interested in a new game of mass athletics which is the invention of Lu Ringsmuth, an Army Y. M. C. A. secretary. The game combines much of the science of rugby football, soccer ball, volley ball and basket ball, and games have been played at Camp Travis with as many as 300 men on a side.

Using five ordinary footballs and an ordinary football field, with goal posts at the ends, the game brings into play a "skirmish" line and a "defense" line of players. The balls are placed on a line at the center of the field, and at a given signal the "skirmishers" race up to be the first to kick the ball. It is then kept in play by kicking, throwing as in forward pass in football or passing in basket ball—the aim of each side being to get all five balls through the opponent's goal posts or over the goal line. To get the ball through the goal posts means a score of four, but to get it over the goal line means a score of two.

Maj. J. S. Leonard, head of the military athletic council of the camp, has become an enthusiastic booster for the game, and it is likely that the game will be carried to other places as the men leave Camp Travis. Organized tenwork in this, as in other games, which the Y. M. C. A. steadily encourages, wins out, and this has been proved by the progress made by the Thirty-fifth infantry team, which has won the championship of Camp Travis.
"Team" is hardly the word, for with 250 men on a side, the "battle" of "battle ball" becomes very realistic when the game is on.

Too Thorough.
A certain farmer, who lives not far from Youngstown had the habit of collecting so many old buggies and wagons that his yard was littered with them most of the time.

The wife of the farmer, who has entirely different ideas about the way things should be conducted, resolved to make a cleanup.

Accordingly, she assembled the ramshackle vehicles in an open space, set fire to them, and gleefully watched them disappear.

When the husband returned from town he drove to the backyard, looked about him, rubbed his eyes and cried excitedly:
"Great bubbling beeswax, Henrietta,
where is everything?"

"Why," replied his wife, "I just burned up a lot of old trash."
The husband gulped, gasped, cleared his throat and then blurted out:
"But heavens to Betsy, Henrietta,
two of them wagons and one buggy were borrowed!"—Youngstown Tele-

Brady Mothers Should Not Neglect
Kidney Weakness in Children.
Many children have weak kidneys.
An early warning is bed-wetting.
Often followed by backache, headache, languor.

To blame the child for its own distresses.
Seek to check the cause.
Save the child from dangerous kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for weak kidneys.
Brady parents know their worth.
Mrs. O. A. McShan, Brady, Says:
"I can highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for I have given them to my boy who was troubled with his bladder. The secretions from the kidneys were of a scalding nature and contained sediment. He lost in weight and this trouble also caused him to have headaches and nervous spells.
I heard a good bit of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got him to take them with fine results. Doan's cured him."

Not Supposed to Think.
A sailor who was being reprimanded by an officer started to defend himself.

"But I thought, sir—"
"You are not supposed to think."
About a week later the same officer sent this man ashore to get him some cigarette papers, and, as he did not have any change, he gave him a $20 bill.

"What have you got there?" asked the officer.
"Cigarette papers," came the reply. "You didn't say how many, sir.
You gave me the bill and said, 'Get me some cigarette papers.'"

"What do you think I want with $20 worth of cigarette papers?"
"I am not supposed to think." —

SOLDIERS "GASSED" BY GIRLS IN PERU, IND., AND LOST BY COMPANY. AGAIN JOIN UNIT FOR DISCHARGE

Two well-known Brady soldier boys were star performers in a little episode entitled, "A. W. O. L., or Why They Missed the Train," which occurred while enroute to Camp Bowie on their return from overseas duty. The incident is recounted in the Tuesday issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, as follows:

"Two soldiers of the Three Hundred and Forty-third Machine Gun Battalion of the Ninetieth Division were 'missing' after the troop train pulled out of the station at Peru, Ind., according to J. S. Mulcahy, the Y. M. C. A. troop train secretary who was assigned to accompany the train from Camp Mills to Camp Bowie. When the train came to Camp this morning the men had not arrived, although the captain had received word by wire that the two men had missed the train and had had no intention of going 'A. W. O. L.'"

"Just before noon today two men came into Y building No. 64 and asked for the Three Hundred and Forty-third Machine Gun Battalion. It was discovered that they were the missing members of the unit. One of the Y men accompanied them around the camp until their unit was found.

Two Prisoners in Hand.
"I've brought you two 'prisoners,'" said the Y. Man to their captain, laughing. "Now what will you do with them?"

"It's too near the time for getting out of the army to do anything to them," answered the captain. The soldiers looked pleased. The captain then directed the men to the company street and the 'missing' members were enthusiastically greeted by their comrades to whom the story of their adventure was told.

"We were gassed," explained the men.

"Gassed!" exclaimed the comrades.

"How did that happen?"
"Well, we were told that the train would stop 45 minutes at Peru, and as we walked through town some of the girls working in the office of the Gas Light Company office invited us in to have some chocolate and we, of course, went in. That's how we were 'gassed.' We rushed to the train after eating, but it was gone, so we went back and waited four hours for the regular train. We had a nice visit with the girls, but we figured that it was best to telegraph the captain to let him know we had missed the train."

"The men who were 'gassed' were Corporal Eugene Schultz and Private Lewis W. Carr, both of Brady, Texas. They said they dropped postal cards to the girls when they stopped at St. Louis.

"On the train with the Three Hundred and Forty-third were the headquarters staff of the One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Field Artillery Brigade, Company M of the One Hundred and Forty-fourth Infantry, the Three Hundred and Thirty-third commissary unit and a number of casuals.

See Niagara Falls.

All of the soldiers stopped at Niagara Falls and saw the falls from both the Canadian and the American side. They went through Detroit at night. Through the activity of the Y. M. C. A. troop train secretary, Mulcahy, they were given a swim and a shower bath at St. Louis Y. M. C. A. and refreshments at numerous points along the way by the Red Cross and other local committees. The Y man telegraphed ahead.

"On one sign on the train was this inscription: 'All good-looking girls and all persons with cats stop under this window.'"

WEEK'S REPORT SHOWS PROGRESS IN OIL FIELDS

Very favorable progress is shown in this week's report on the oil activities in McCulloch county, in spite of the heavy rains of the early part of the week.

Drilling is proceeding at Whiteland in the C. S. Thomas test on Survey No. 1237 at better than 1800 ft.

The Thomas Salt Gap well on Survey No. 1351 is shut down at 2300 ft., waiting on the roads to dry sufficiently to enable the bringing across of the 8 1-4 inch casing.

Contractors Price & Beagle are making slow but sure progress at the Geo. F. King well on Survey No. 401, two miles southeast of Brady. They are drilling in very hard lime.

The Texas Eastern Oil Company test on Survey No. 302 set their 8-inch casing at 1450 ft.

The Douglas Oil Co. test on Survey 1134 is shut down for oil. They set their 8 1-4 inch casing to the 1966 ft. level the first of this week.

Smith & Jergins test on Survey No. 42 is drilling at 270 ft. Their 1,000 ft. test on Survey 1331 is shut down at 450 ft. The bunk houses have been completed and Driller J. W. Waymire and the crew have moved out to the camp.

The Texas Oil & Refining Co. on J. H. Gibson Survey No. 1 have been drilling past their lost string of tools and expect to take hold of the lost tools as soon as the socket arrives.

The Moore Bros. 1200 ft. test contracted on Survey No. 495 (F. M. Richards ranch) is reported down 120 ft. and drilling in white lime.

The drillers have arrived for the Cochran & Stewart test on the Brandenberger ranch in Mason county, and are building bunk houses and making final preparations for beginning operations. They expect to spud in by the 1st of next month. Their casing and cable, the last of their equipment is on the track and waiting on the drying up of the roads for transportation to the well location.

Messrs. J. A. Henry and C. H. Crandall, oil producers of San Diego, Calif., have been here this week looking over the local field, and have become very much enthused over the possibilities. They expect to make investment here, and contemplate making some drilling contracts in the near future.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Miss Jonnie Thompson has accepted a position as stenographer with the Commercial National bank.

Miss Clara Sheppard has accepted a position as stenographer with the Brady Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Kid Jeffers are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a fine son at their home on Monday, the 16th.

Word from the bedside of Franz Johnson, who was so seriously injured a week ago, when his team ran away, is in effect that although in serious condition, he shows some little improvement. The chances for his recovery, however, continue small.

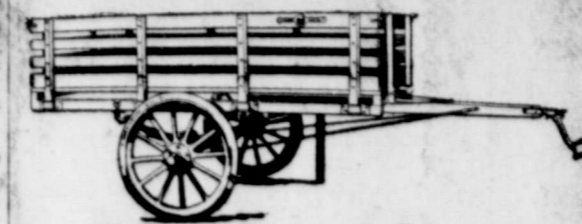

Rain No. 2 for yesterday arrived shortly before 5:00 o'clock, the down-pour being quite heavy and driving from the east. As with all the others, it was quite a wet rain, which is about the best we can say for it.

Just to keep the record straight, we are enabled to report again in this issue another rain. It fell early yesterday morning; amounted to 1-5 of an inch in Brady, and was not over-enthusiastically welcomed. At that Brady missed the heaviest part of the rain cloud, which went to the east and south. The roads, however, are already so soft that even this little rain has put them back in a lollingly again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Page and son, Frank, returned Tuesday from a visit in Grayson county. He reports seeing 250 acres of mighty fine corn in the Red River bottoms, but says that that the corn was no better than his own roasting ear patch. He did see some good roads, however, that are mighty hard to beat, and he is interested in getting a good roads movement started in McCulloch county that will continue until McCulloch can boast of as good roads as any county in the state.

one of her eyes. The growth had practically blinded the vision, but with its removal her sight is as good as ever. Mrs. Vincent will remain in Dallas under treatment for at least another week, following which she and her daughter, Mrs. L. G. Abney, and grandchildren, Mary Lyle and J. B. Vincent, will visit in Oklahoma, Denison and Mineral Wells before returning home.

Albert Shield is here from Pampa, Texas, on a business visit. Albert still owns his place in the Lohn community and took advantage of an off week before harvesting begins to run down and look after matters. He says his country is getting too much rain and that farmers there say the wheat is being damaged by the heavy precipitation. The wheat stands nearly shoulder high and will be ripe for the harvest within another week. He still has a mighty warm spot in his heart for Old McCulloch, but says he sees no hope for a return here, since his family is attached to the plains country.

Ed P. Eason, editor of the Winters Enterprise, was a visitor in Brady Wednesday upon his return home, accompanied by his two children, from the meeting of the Texas Press association in San Antonio. Mr. Eason retains a lively interest in Brady, her progress and her citizens, although it was 26 years ago, since he resided here while employed on the Brady Sentinel as compositor. Mr. Eason has seen the country printing business advance from the days of the old G. Washington hand press to where he himself now owns a modern plant and equipment including power presses, linotype and all the necessary machinery for a first-class printing office, even though it is located in a so-called country town.

The city street force is doing some of the best work it has ever put in on Blackburn street. Every rain washes out this street, and especially that part of the street immediately adjoining the concrete guttering. This gully is being filled in from the top of the hill to the square with broken rock of sufficient size to not be easily washed away. The good results have already been noticeable in that the overflow from the upper part of the city flowed down the concrete guttering instead of washing out the middle of the street. Quite naturally the rough rocks do not very well enable the water falling on the street itself to run off into the gutters, but this can readily be overcome by giving them a surfacing of crushed rock and concrete. Altogether, it looks as if the present work will eventually save the street.

Word received by Brady parties from friends in El Paso is that the citizens of that border city were treated to a fair representation of the sort of war that the American soldiers and artillery made on the Germans in Europe. When the Villa rebels attacked Jaurez the early part of the week, there was indiscriminate firing into El Paso. One woman was killed, a man was probably fatally wounded and one man driving a truck just missed being struck, the end of his truck having been shot off. The patter and popping of the rebel rifles was terrifying enough, but when the American artillery infantry got into action, crossing the river and giving chase to the rebels, it seemed like the whole earth was being torn up. The Mexican situation is said to be very serious, and reprisals by Villa forces against American and American property in Mexico is anticipated, while the border towns are reported in danger from raids. Troops are being stationed all along the border.
