C. A. DEVINE SAYS WORK ON RIGS TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

C. A. Devine, of the firm of Cunningham & Devine, who are contracted to drill two deep tests on the White ranches in the northern part of the county, announces that work on the rigs will begin next week. Mr. Devine just having received word from A. L. Jones of Coleman, who has the contract for building the two rigs, that he will be ready to go to work within the next four or five days. Rig No. 1, to be known as the Helen, will be located on Survey No. 2 of the west tract, and is contracted for a depth of 3500 ft. Rig No. 2 will be located on Survey No. 19 of the east tract, and will be known as the Marie, being named after the twin daughters of Mr. Devine. This test will go 2500 ft.

The Prairie Oil & Gas Co. on Survey No. 89, is continuing drilling at above 3300 ft. The shallow test, which was brought in as an oil well a week or so ago, is said to have a minimum production of ten barrels.

The C. S. Thomas Salt Gap well, Survey 1351 is shut down at 2450 ft. temporarily waiting on a nipple. The Thomas Whiteland well is operating on Survey 1237 at 2860 ft.

The Texas Oil & Refining Co. on J. H. Gibson Survey No. 1 received tools this week and resumed drilling yesterday at a depth of 745 ft.

The Texas Eastern Oil Co. test on Survey 302, is shut down temporarily. The R. W. Morris well on Survey 495, is setting 8 1/4 inch casing at a little better than 300 ft.

There is great speculation and much interest in local oil circles in the report that the Leonard Petroleum Co., who are drilling 4 miles southeast of Eden, in Concho county, got a good showing at around 3300 ft. The company Wednesday secured leases on 7,000 acres in the vicinity of their test, and oil leases in the vicinity of the well are bringing increased prices.

Just what the well has developed is not given out, and operations are, for the time being, suspended.

J. C. McCormack returned Wednesday morning from a two months' visit out in the Golden West. During his absence, Mr. McCormack visited in California, Nevada and Colorado. Part of the time he was tied up in California by the railway strike, but the most of the time he was on the move and boosting Texas and McCulloch county at every opportunity. He reports that while the Californians and the people in the western states like to boost their own game, they cannot overlook the Texas oil fields and are willing to admit that everything looks good for wonderful development in Texas, with the possibility of a new oil strike at any time in the newer fields. Consequently, they are all anxious to learn all about Texas, and believe investments here are among the best to be made. Mr. McCormack was greatly interested in developments in McCulloch county during his absence, and foresees the greatest of activity in oil circles here this fall and the coming year.

As illustrating the interest in this section of Texas upon the part of California investors, may be mentioned that requests are being received by local oil men for maps of McCulloch county, information as to the progress of drilling and developments, and every manner of advice regarding the oil situation here.

Among the visitors to Brady and McCulloch county the past week have been E. E. Bonewits and E. W. Young of Batesville, Ark., representing a company of prominent financiers of that section, who hold acreage near some of our deep tests. The gentlemen mentioned were sent here to investigate the conditions in the county and upon their report will depend the activities of the company which they represent. They were very agreeably impressed with the opportunities for development here, and it is very likely that the company will add to their holdings in this county.

MEMBERS MASONIC LODGE ENJOY UNEXPECTED TREAT TUES. NIGHT—COMPLIMENTED

Members of the local Masonic fraternity, who were present at the lodge room on last Tuesday night were given an unexpected treat in the form of a talk by a visitor high in the councils of the lodge, and whose address is the subject of much praise by the members present.

The occasion was the conferring of the Master's degree upon a new candidate, and the visitors present were G. H. Zimmerman, past master and deputy grand master of the Waco lodge, and a certificate man; also J. A. Kirkpatrick, past master of the Quannah lodge. By invitation, Mr. Zimmerman conferred the degrees, and so beautiful was the ceremony performed by him that those present were entranced. Mr. Zimmerman followed this by an address which still lingers in the memory of the members, whose aptest praise is, "You can say nothing too nice for Mr. Zimmerman." In his address, the visitor referred in highly complimentary manner to the local lodge and the splendid work it was doing, as well as the excellent example it was setting for other lodges. To quote Mr. Zimmerman: "Brady has the best lodge room in Texas—outside of Waco."

The city of Brady was left in almost total darkness Wednesday night by reason of the burning out of the generator at the water and light plant Wednesday afternoon at about three o'clock. Likewise during the afternoon there was no power available. Only a limited number of candles and kerosene lamps, which illuminated the town like some backwoods village, kept the darkness from being absolute. Repairs were made and the lights were again turned on and power made available some time during the night.

Chas. Skalie of Dallas has been here the past week or so assisting Superintendent Wm. Bauhof in overhauling the electric machinery at the plant, and it is hoped to have everything ship-shape so that no further interruptions may be anticipated.

LIVE OAK-FAIRVIEW NEWS.

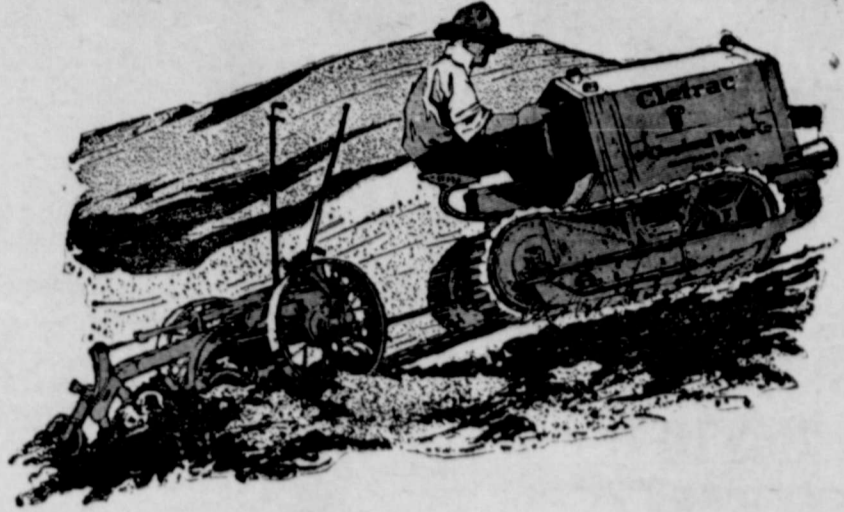

Brady, Texas, Sept. 16.
Editor Brady Standard:

After an absence of three weeks, will come again. It's not for the want of news that I have not written—just the lack of time. There has been more news lately than ever. I am at a loss just where to start with.

The grand celebration at the W. R. Pence ranch, Saturday the 13th, I suppose, was the most noted. Words, of course, will fail to express the time and enjoyment everyone had. There were about 150 present as guests. Barbecued goat, light bread, salads, cakes, pop and everything anyone could wish for was served in abundance. There were people from most everywhere—Fife, Lohn, Brady, Rochelle—all well represented. This is just one of the many celebrations enjoyed by the friends and neighbors of W. R. Pence, and marks his 77th birthday. Also the 64th birthday of W. E. Benson was celebrated at the same time. They being so close together, the two were had in one, and everyone did full share to the good things set before them, and left for their homes wishing they both would enjoy many more birthdays. Grandpa Pence says if he lives to celebrate his 78th birthday, he intends to make it a more noted occasion than this one by having yearling meat instead of goat; but we think this occasion would be hard to beat. Everyone enjoyed the barbecued goat meat immensely.

Since our last writing, Mrs. H. J. Huffman has been taken to Cisco, and from there to Mineral Wells in hopes of benefiting her, but last reports were to the effect that she wasn't doing so well. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Betty (Rainbolt) Lewis, and Mr. Huffman also is with

A Tractor That Does More Than Plow

Plowing is only the beginning of what a tractor should be able to do.

It should also be able to do everything else in the preparation of the seed bed—the discing and harrowing, the planting. And it should do these things in a way that it will not injure the coming crop.

After the ground is broken, The Cleveland Tractor goes over it with the disc and the harrow, then goes over it with the seeder.

The Cleveland rides on top of the seed bed; but it does not sink into it and it does not pack the soil.

The Cleveland goes over soft ground because it travels on its own endless track which it picks up and lays down as it goes along.

These tracks have about 600 square inches of traction surface, so the pressure on the ground is only about five pounds to the square inch—therefore there is not enough weight at any one point to inflict damage.

We repeat, The Cleveland Tractor rides on top of the seed bed. It does not sink into it; therefore it does not have to wade or wallow through it. And because it does not sink in, it does not have to push the dirt in front of it and pack it down in order to navigate.

And because it is not obliged to push the earth from in front of it and pack it down, the greatest possible amount of The Cleveland's power is available for accomplishing the work it has to do.

Death of Infant—Good Crop Report —News of Interest.

Rochelle, Texas, Sept. 15.
Editor Brady Standard:

Well, we got pretty dry for a while which was fine for the cotton crop, but began to rain on Sunday evening and rained all night. It is still raining at 12 Monday. At least two inches of rain up to the present and may continue several days.

Cotton is fine now and with not too much rain there will be raised one of the best crops in the history of McCulloch county, which with the price now decided on, will greatly alleviate the indebtedness of the farmers incurred during the last two years drouth, and we are still hoping for an honest price for our products.

Threshing is still in progress out southwest of here but the rain will put a stop to that for a few days.

Five bales of cotton were ginned here last week and would have been quite a good run this week had the weather continued favorable.

Miss Viola Gainer left last week for Denton to enter C. I. A. and her many friends of this place wish for her a very successful term of work.

Ed Neal, Roy Starnes and Otis Stewart, also Miss Ruby Barton left last Tuesday for Brownwood to enter Howard Payne college for the coming years work.

J. C. Jones of Muldoon, Fayette county, Texas, accompanied by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lula Jones of Weir, Williamson county, Texas, are here on a visit to his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. P. Waddell and family. About 30 years ago Mr. Jones visited in this county and notes with pleasure the improvement in the county since that time. At that time the farms were few, small and far between. Ranches and stock raising was the foremost industry. He also said this county was far in advance of Fayette in regard to cotton, as the weevil worked on it first, followed by the leaf or army worm, but corn was as fine as could be asked for.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Hardin and children after visiting in the parental home two and a half months, left Saturday night for their home in Fort Worth.

Frank Templeton and children of Hall visited in the home of her father-in-law, G. W. Anderson from Saturday till Sunday.

The babe son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wingo was taken seriously ill of cholera infantum and passed away on last Monday night. Sympathy of the entire community is extended to those good people.

Mrs. Nettie Chadwick, sister to Mrs. Mollie Anderson, spent several days with her a short time back.

Furnishing the Witnesses.

A big, brawny, red-faced sagebrush lawyer lived in one of the Indian reservations back in the 70's says the Saturday Evening Post. He wore a drooping mustache, and the Mexicans called him El Toro Blanco, because of his habit of bellowing in court.

He was playing poker with the Indian agent and his clerk one day when a dusty and frightened man came in. "Be you Mr. Eltoro Blanco," asked the visitor.

"Yes," replied the lawyer, pompously. "I am the man. What can I do for you?"

"I just killed a man over there on the white sands, and I want to consult a lawyer before I surrender."

"That's a good idea," said El Toro Blanco. Always resort to the law. How much money you got?"

"Three hundred dollars."

"Gimme it," shouted El Toro.

HONEST INJUN.

Can we expect forgiveness when we rise to remark that folks who indulge in fighting may be said to be having a "fine" time? $8.70, please!

FEDERAL AID.

The Federal Government is loaning to the counties of West Texas four trucks at the nominal price of $25.00 per year. Has your county got yours? If not, ask the commissioners why. They are too good a thing to overlook.—Goat and Sheep Raisers' Magazine, Menard.

At first glance, few realize the importance of this governmental offer. A little explanation will make everyone see the matter in a new light. During the war, the government contracted the purchase of large numbers of trucks of national reputation and merit. The manufacturers exacted a promise from the government that at the end of the war, these trucks were not to be re-sold in competition with the trucks then being placed on the market by the manufacturers. Accordingly, now that the need of the trucks by the government has passed, there is but one thing to do, and that is to give the trucks to counties that have need of them and who will put them to service in the community.

Obviously, this cannot be a free gift from the government, and so the nominal charge of $25 per year rental is made on the trucks. Also the county requisitioning the trucks must pay the freight on them, which amounts to about $250.00.

At that, stop and think what a bargain is being offered the county!

These trucks are from one to five-ton capacity. McCulloch county has worlds of road material, which if placed on her roads will give her highways unsurpassed in the state. To transport this road material long distances or over bad roads in ordinary wagons would be a difficult and expensive—nay, impossible, task. The use of five-ton trucks, however, would enable the building of highways throughout the county.

Not only that, but the trucks could be put to every use for which trucks are available. In times of necessity, they might enable the saving of crops, material, food, supplies—and thereby enrich the county to just that extent.

McCulloch county should put forth every effort to secure her quota of the trucks offered by the government.

WORK OF THE RED CROSS.

Many folks, now that the war is over, profess not to be able to see any need of continuing the work of the Red Cross. They have slackened, or entirely ceased, their efforts to aid this great organization, and cannot be induced to feel that there is any requirement that the work of this noble organization be carried on. As a concrete illustration of just what the Red Cross is doing, and must be enabled to do in times of peace, let us direct attention to the fact that among the first relief given the stricken city of Corpus Christi, following the tidal wave which swept over that place carrying death and disaster in its path, was the train of Red Cross nurses, material and supplies sent by the Red Cross. With scores of people drowned, with hundreds homeless, destitute, hungry and helpless—just imagine what the coming of these supplies, the doctors and the nurses meant to them!

The great work of the Red Cross must go on in peace times as well as in time of war. Humanity needs its offices, and for the sake of humanity everyone of us should be willing and ready to help in the humanitarian work which is the ground work of the Red Cross organization.

HELP FOR THE STRICKEN.

Corpus Christi, lying desolate from the great tidal wave that swept over her and twenty miles into the inland, is sending out a call for aid. Many cities have been prompt in their response. Funds for carrying on relief work have been raised, food supplies have been donated—every effort has been put forth to alleviate the distress that has visited our neighbor on the coast.

The McCulloch county Junior Red Cross stands ready to donate $15 or $20 to the relief fund. What will the citizens of McCulloch county do? The Standard stands ready to receive any and all donations and forward them to the proper committees for relief. Will you help? Will you take a mite from your abundance and give to your stricken and suffering neighbors?

LOCAL BRIEFS

T. B. Cobb, ginner at Doole, was here last Saturday, and reported he had already ginned five bales the past week. Mr. Cobb is counting on having about 2500 bales in his territory to gin this season.

F. F. Hogan, who lives on the Davis place, reports one of his cows bringing twin calves, which are entirely unlike. This is said to be a rare occurrence, as practically all twin calves are almost exactly alike in color and markings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kieth and little son arrived Monday from Dallas, and will again make their home in Brady. Ivan has been employed in the dairy business in Dallas the past two years, and is contemplating engaging in a similar line of business here. He says he is mighty glad to be again a McCulloch county citizen.

L. O. Marshall was here from Lohn this week and reported everything good out his way, with every indication of a rousing big fall business. Mr. Marshall says he and Carl Lohn have dissolved partnership, and the Waldrip Cash grocery is now in charge of Mr. Lohn, while he himself will continue to conduct the business as before at Lohn.

While attempting to climb on a wagon driven by his grandfather, the 5-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kiser of the Camp San Saba community last Friday morning fell beneath one of the wheels which passed over his shoulder, breaking the shoulder blade and bruising the little fellow quite seriously. Medical attention was given as soon as possible, and the young man promises an early recovery.

H. P. C. Evers is a happy man now that he has finally succeeded in getting a saddle-maker on the job, and he is restocking his supply of saddles, which had become almost entirely depleted during the past several months. Geo. Kimball arrived recently from California, and is turning out as attractive a line of saddles as has ever been seen in Brady. His stamping is wonderfully attractive, and special designs may be made to order by him.

Virgil Boston has located in Brady.

Virgil is known far and wide as a musician of exceptional ability and although he is handicapped by being blind since early childhood, yet he has resolutely made his own way through life by his own efforts. Virgil has purchased the electric peanut roaster and pop-corn popper at the Trigg Drug Co. and will operate the machine at this place, serving the people of Brady and McCulloch county with the very best in these lines. His enterprise and industry, it is hoped, will be rewarded with a liberal patronage.

S. P. BOON ENGAGES IN TAILORING BUSINESS WITH COUSIN AT RANGER, TEXAS

The many Brady and McCulloch county friends of S. P. Boon will be interested to learn that he has engaged in business at Ranger in company with his cousin, Emmett Evans, formerly of Brownwood. The new firm will do a general tailoring business with special attention to dry cleaning and hat work. Boon writes: "I have changed my address again, and would like to have you change my paper to the above number. Have gone into a little business with my cousin—not so little either; it is going to be the biggest thing of its kind this side of Fort Worth. Was at Brownwood on business about the first, and tried to get off to Brady, but had to get back to Ranger to take charge by the 5th. We are doing just fine to start, and the future looks mighty good to me. Please have the paper come to my street address. We have free delivery now, and many improvements have been made just since I came."

The following clipping from the Ranger Daily Times, tells of the new enterprise:

"Emmet Evans of Brownwood and S. P. Boon of Ranger, formerly of Brady, are opening a modern tailor shop and dry cleaning plant at 209 1/2 Pine street. They are now ready for business in their new stand. "Mr. Evans is an expert at this business, having conducted the same sort of shop at Brownwood for the last fifteen years. Mr. Boon is just out of the banking business, coming to First National bank of Ranger from Brady National bank. He has had wide experience in dealing with the public. "The firm has installed a new delivery car and Mr. Boon will care for the customers' wants in the delivery line. The dry cleaning plant is the most modern money can buy. It is on its way now. When installed, it will offer the quickest service and the best that can be obtained."

AUTHORITATIVE PARISIAN MODES FOR THE WOMAN OF TASTE SEEN AT BENHAM'S, STYLE STORE OF BRADY

VISITORS WARM IN THEIR PRAISE OF THE BEAUTY AND VARIETY OF GOODS DISPLAYED AT THE QUALITY STORE—NEW YORK'S OFFERINGS HERE.

There was no question about the refinement of the lady as she entered Benham's store. It was reflected in her garments which fitted her figure with a quiet elegance that bespoke of perfect taste; it was to be noted in the becoming hat which crowned her head and which blended in perfect harmony with the dress she wore. It was to be found in her evident appreciation of the efforts the Benham's had put forth to bring to Brady the most wonderful array of dresses, suits, coats and hats; in fact, the very cream of New York's greatest markets. "What a wonderful store you have," she exclaimed, "and what beautiful garments and hats. The people of Brady should be proud of this store, and no one should ever find need to go to any other place for their wearing apparel. We have nothing that at all compares with your store in our city." She was from Cleburne, by the way.

That's the idea that invariably comes into the mind of everyone who visits the Benham store. There are many—the majority, probably—who are not so outspoken in their appreciation, but unless they have lost all sense of beauty they are certain to be stirred by the elegance, the exquisite taste and the elaborateness of the showing in the Benham millinery and ladies ready-to-wear department. This editor chanced in yesterday just in time to observe a style show, with one of Brady's charming matrons as model. Of the beautiful costumes shown, there were none more beautiful than the three models depicting authoritative Parisian modes. These garments were produced by one of the leading fashion designers and are replicas of the most popular Parisian designs. These styles are being advertised extensively in beautiful color plates in Harpers' Bazaar and Vogue, and Benham's is included in the long list of dealers in Texas and all over the United States where these models are to be seen. But the showing does not stop there, for there are innumerable dresses of exquisite design, each having its own individual attractiveness, and when Mrs. Benham completes the costume with a becoming hat, you may be sure the result is a picture which only an artist could portray. For, speaking of millinery, Benham's has such a large and varied display of beautiful hats of every shade, color and design that whether you are attracted by harmony of hat and gown, or by contrast, you are certain to find just what is most becoming to your personality here. Just then the express brought in a shipment of evening dresses and our obliging model consented to display one of the new arrivals. (Confidentially, what lady could resist the temptation to array herself in one of these exquisite creations?) It's asking too much to expect us to describe these silky, filmy, lacy, bespangled, embroidered and jewel-adorned dresses—why not run down to Benham's and see for yourself? And while you are there, don't overlook the elegant coat suits—they are snug-fitting, beautifully formed and breathe class in every line and curve. Then see those wonderful coats in the popular "kitten's ear cloth"—it's most appropriately named, and note the elegance and extraordinary beauty of the beflowered and patterned silk linings. You'll find the coats very full, and very attractive as a result. And then, too, there is that elegant new garment known as a coatee, beaver trimmed, silk-lined, and all that!

The prices, did you say! Well, there is range of price to suit every purse, and if yours be a modest purse, Benham's is prepared to take care of your wants as well, for the dresses, suits and coats vary from $25.00 to $125.00.

We couldn't tell you all we saw, or nearly all you'll see at Benham's, but as a last caution, we would remark, don't overlook seeing those attractive articles known as Poulet skirts—Benham will delight in showing you.

ROSH HASHANAH, JEWISH NEW YEAR, COMES ON SEPT. 25TH

On Thursday, September 25th, the Jews will celebrate festival of the New Year, or Rosh Hashanah. Religious services ushering in the year 5680 will be held on that day in all the synagogues of the world. The holiday commences at sunset Wednesday evening, September 24, and ends at sunset the following day. Orthodox Jews, however, observe two days. The festival is distinguished by the blowing of the Shofar or ram's horn. In addition to its joyous and optimistic character, it is one of great solemnity and sacredness. On Rosh Hashanah the worshippers recall to mind the misdeeds of the past year with a view to consecrating themselves to a nobler life during the years to come. The religious services which marks the observance of the holy day emphasizes that the door to improvement and betterment is constantly open.

The New Year is the beginning of the most sacred of the Jewish holiday seasons. It is the first of the Ten Days of Penitence, culminating in the Day of Atonement, the holiest and most sacred days in the Jewish calendar. A few days after the Day of Atonement, the Feast of Succoth or Tabernacles is celebrated during a period of eight days, in commemoration of the ancient Palestinian harvest festival and of the wanderings of the Israelites through the wilderness.

DR. J. W. RAGSDALE WITH B. L. MALONE & CO. STORE NOW

The many Brady and McCulloch county friends of Dr. J. W. Ragsdale will be delighted to learn that he is coming to Brady to locate permanently, having purchased an interest in the B. L. Malone & Co. store, and with which firm he will be identified. Dr. Ragsdale will arrive Monday from Brownwood to begin his work here, and while his efforts will extend to caring for patrons in all lines of the store, he will specialize on optical work. In order to take care of all optical work, Dr. Ragsdale and Mr. Malone have placed an order for an up-to-date manufacturing plant, whereby they will be enabled to make all their lenses in their own plant, and on very short notice. This new machinery will be installed as soon as the manufacturers can make delivery on same, which will probably be about the 1st of the year.

Dr. Ragsdale is a graduate of St. Johns academy at Syracuse, N. Y., and spent an entire year taking a special course in optics in California. He has followed the profession of graduate optician for the past six years, and for the past four years has made regular weekly trips to Brady, during which time he has met with citizens from all parts of the county and has rendered services to hundreds of patrons, all of whom speak in highest praise of his ability and work.

The securing of the services of Dr. Ragsdale is quite a feather in the cap of B. L. Malone & Co., and his becoming a member of the firm means that Brady has two live wires in the jewelry and optical business who will give the firm a reputation second to none in all West Texas.

COLLIS CAMPBELL RETURNS AFTER TWENTY MONTHS SERVICE—ON RHINE 8 MONTHS

The Standard has several times reported the last of our boys home from service, only to have still another home boy make his belated return. However, we believe we are safe in saying that Collis Campbell, who returned yesterday morning, is the last of the McCulloch county boys to receive his discharge. Collis returned from overseas on August 22nd, but his discharge from service was delayed by being quarantined at Camp Travis for several weeks on account of a supposed case of small pox having developed on the train. Later it was decided the disease was only chicken pox. The wait, however, was a long one for the boy so near home, and so anxious to return, and it was a painful wait as well on the part of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Campbell who came in from Waldrip to greet him.

Collis was in service twenty months, and after three months training was sent overseas, where he took part in five battles—the most important engagements by the Americans during the entire war. During this period he was in the infantry with the 3rd Division. Following the signing of the armistice, he was with the Army of Occupation and spent eight months on the Rhine. Collis has many interesting experiences to relate, but the most delightful experience of all was his welcome home to McCulloch.

STOCK RAISING IN McCULLOCH COUNTY

This is the ninth of a series of fifteen articles on industrial conditions of Brady and McCulloch county. The data has been gathered from authoritative sources and show true conditions as they exist today. Each of the articles has been censored and approved by the President of the Brady Chamber of Commerce—Editor).

The stockraising industry, while still an important one in the county, does not assume the extensive proportions it did years ago when this county was a part of the extensive open range country of Texas. Today the stock-raising industry has been augmented by agricultural production, and the farmer of today raises his stock on a much smaller plot of ground and feeds them from the feed stuffs he raises on his agricultural land, thus reaping a much higher profit from the industry and utilizing much less ground and realizing an extensive profit from his agricultural production.

Many years ago, where the fertile and productive farms of McCulloch county now lay, vast herds of the famous long-horn Texas cattle grazed. These cattle were marketed once or twice a year and in some instances every year or two. The fertile and the improved breeds of horses, mules, sheep, cattle and hogs, large profits will always accrue to the stock raisers from these sections of McCulloch county land, augmented, as stated before, by the use of cultivated feed stuffs, which grow profusely, to prepare these animals for the market. In the silo the stock raiser has found the substitute for the open range and this method of feeding has changed the situation from the hungry-looking, long-horned range steer to the sleek, well-fed, pure-bred animals.

The raising of cattle in this county has been almost strictly confined to the raising of the pure-bred animal. Herds of Durhams, Red Poll, Herefords and other well-known breeds are to be found over the entire county. The cattle man has found besides the necessity of conserving land that he can make more money by feeding the animal which will bring twice the

These animals are always in demand, and one mule and horse buyer operating in Brady reported that in a period of three months, in McCulloch county alone, he paid out more than $40,000 for horses and mules.

The cattle in the county this year number less than usual. The dry weather of last year made it necessary in many instances for the stock raisers to cut down the size of their herds because of water and food supplies. Naturally the market received the less valuable animals and those that are to be found on the ranches today comprise the pick of all the herds. It is estimated that there are more than 30,000 head of cattle in the county with more than 90 per cent of the pure bred class. This fall will again find the cattle country stocked up to a maximum and next year will be another banner year in the stock-raising industry in the county.

The county is accredited with being one of the best for wool growing. It is estimated that about 20,000 head of sheep are being raised in the county and conditions are excellent for an immense wool crop. The fleece of the animals grades high and frequently a sheep will shear from seven to eight pounds of wool of an exceptionally high grade. McCulloch county is in the center of the greatest wool market in the entire United States. The wool shipment, handled from Brady alone will run in excess of half a mil-ions in the county. This industry, however, is being pushed by those individuals who realize the opportunities. In many sections of West Texas the commercial organizations have adopted the plan of personal solicitations among the farmers to get them to produce more pork. Statistics and past experiences have proven that McCulloch county is especially adapted to hog raising, because of the class of tillable land was lying in waste. Soil analysis proved its value from an agricultural standpoint, and soon the ranches began to give way to farms. This necessarily forced the condensing of the herds of stock and the long-horn gradually drifted out of existence and the pure bred animal came in to take its place.

Stock raising interests will never entirely disappear from McCulloch county. There is a certain percent of land in this county, like in the majority of Texas counties, which is especially adapted to stock raising and not to agricultural cultivation. With price of a pure bred animal, yet does not eat any more food than the scrawny, inferior, mixed breeds of cattle. Hogs, sheep and horses and mules are just as profitable as raising cattle in this country. The climatic condition are especially conducive to the raising of stock with a minimum of care and attention.

Today it is estimated that there is in the neighborhood of 10,000 head of horses and mules in this county. These are almost all pure-bred animals, and it is conservatively estimated that mules alone bring more than $20,000 into this county every year.

There is, according to conservative estimate, about 10,000 head of goats raised in the county. This industry, like the sheep industry, is an exceptionally profitable one and is receiving an added impetus every year. The raising of these animals, however, is mostly confined to the county areas which are not adapted to the raising of agricultural products. This means then that every foot of land in the county is adapted to some profit-producing vocation and is utilized to the fullest extent.

feeds that can be raised. In some instances farmers in this section have made more profit from hogs, which have been alfalfa and grain-fed, than they have from the raising of their major agricultural crops. An effort will be made, however, to encourage this industry in the county and surrounding territory.

Poultry-raising is also coming in for its share of the stock-raising industry. No county is better adapted than McCulloch for the raising of poultry and many farmers have substantial bank accounts as a result of

SILOS IN McCULLOCH COUNTY

The hog-raising industry throughout West Texas has not received the proper support that it should, considering the favorable conditions for this industry. At this time it is estimated that there is only about 2,500 head of hogs in the county. This industry, however, is being pushed by those individuals who realize the opportunities. In many sections of West Texas the commercial organizations have adopted the plan of personal solicitations among the farmers to get them to produce more pork. Of course, the stock-raising industry is a secondary industry in the county, but it is being handled on an intensified basis which means that eventually the industry will bring in as much or more revenue to the county, with the use of only a small percentage of the land for this purpose, than it did when the entire county was used for the raising of stock and then the principle animals raised were cattle.

Brady, the center of the county and the shipping point, has direct connection with the greatest stock market in the south or southwest, being less than two hundred miles from Fort Worth on a direct line. Stock raised in this section can be placed on the market just when the grower desires, as freight accommodations are far above the average.

"The Carlton hotel, the day after the fire," he said, "gave out newspaper statements to the effect that there had been no real fire at all—the effect that people were drunk in the restaurant all through the trifling blaze. And meanwhile poor Finney's blackened corpse lay undiscovered in an upstairs room.

Brady Business Firms--Industrial Institutions

Mann-Ricks Auto Co.

With the development of the automobile industry it has become necessary in all commercial centers to maintain adequate garages and mechanical equipment to properly care for the automobiles which have gradually become such an important part in commercial life. In this line of business, Brady is exceptionally well taken care of. Numbered among its institutions along this line is the Mann-Ricks Auto Company, which firm has the distribution of the Overland car for Mason, Concho and McCulloch counties, and maintains one of the most up-to-date sales and service garage to be found in this section of West Texas.

The firm was established in its present location about four years ago and since that time has been under personal management of A. J. Ricks, to whose splendid executive ability is due credit for building the business to its present proportions. Assisting Mr. Ricks is J. C. Benson, and both men being exceptionally proficient along the automobile line, and coupled with the lines of merchandise carried, the firm has rapidly grown to a position in the automobile world where it is recognized in this territory as a place where service and satisfactory treatment can always be obtained.

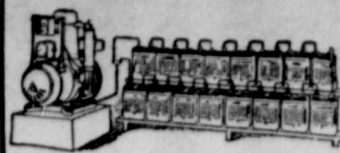

There is not much use in taking up space describing the Overland car. Almost every man, woman and child in the United States knows that the Overland is in a class by itself and is the car with the personal identity. It is a car that gives service constantly. As an example of this service, an old Model 83 Overland, which has been driven in this county constantly for four years, was recently put in the garage for the first repairs necessary in this period. As illustrating what excellent material is in the motor of these cars, it was hardly necessary to even put new rings in the motor to put it back in excellent condition. The Overland people are now putting on the market a new car, the Overland 4, which is being looked forward to with much interest, as it promises to revolutionize the automobile industry in the medium-priced make of cars. This car will be on display by Mann-Ricks within a few weeks' time. There are hundreds of satisfied Overland owners in this section of Texas. The car is so simple of operation and the cost of upkeep is so low that it is the most popular of the medium-priced cars.

In addition to the distribution of the Overland cars, the firm carries an extensive line of accessories and handles Fisk and Globe automobile tires and casings in both the high and low-priced grades, and the well-known Michelin tubes. They also maintain a tire service department with a complete vulcanizing plant, which always assures those who buy their tires from this firm of getting the best and most satisfactory service along this line.

In the mechanical department, two expert mechanics, who have made a thorough study of Overland work, as well as being proficient in the handling of repair work for any brand of cars, are employed. These men thoroughly understand the automobile and there is no repair job too large nor none too small but what can be handled promptly and with satisfaction at this garage. The man with the ten cent job gets just as prompt service as the man with the hundred dollar job. Another reason for the popularity of this garage is the fact that every patron gets prompt and satisfactory attention at all times.

Both Mr. Ricks and Mr. Benson are congenial and thoroughly understand their lines and are prepared to explain the merits that attract to their various lines, and to show the weak points as well, and always handle their explanations to customers in a straightforward and fair manner. Both men are interested in making the institution a credit to the city and county, and are always working to that end. Mr. Ricks is an enthusiastic city builder and always support every undertaking for the development of the city and county's resources.

In substance this firm does a general repair business including the reboring of cylinders, refitting of pistons, and magneto recharging. Also magneto and all electrical work is done in a most accurate and proficient way. They carry a complete stock of parts for Overland cars, lubricating oils and gasolines, and furnish complete service, including free air and water. The floor space occupied by the firm is about 7,200 square feet. The most complete vulcanizing plant capable of turning out all classes of work, is one of the attractive features of the firm. In fact, there is no work about the automobile that cannot be done and is done satisfactorily here.

SERIES OF ACCIDENTS—THIRD IS CHARM, WE HOPE

Three accidents in a row is the record for this week—and mayhap the third will be the charm, and consequently the last. At least such is the hope.

J. C. Elkinson of Brownwood was Victim No. 1. Mr. Elkinson was at work at Carroll Gray's place, near Calf Creek last Saturday evening, driving a wagon with a frame. In some unexplained manner the wagon was overturned, the heavy frame striking Mr. Elkinson and injuring his shoulder and fracturing his collar bone. The victim was brought to Brady for treatment, and is reported doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

A. J. Smith, known locally as "Pony" Smith, and who carries the Calf Creek mail, was the second victim. While leading a calf Sunday, he became entangled in the rope, and was thrown violently to the ground, resulting in a fracture of the leg. On account of his age, the injury is a serious one, and will result in confining him to his home for several weeks. The Calf Creek mail was not carried out Monday, but Ed Jacoby has been substituting for Mr. Smith since Tuesday morning, and arrangements will be made to carry the mail regularly until Mr. Smith makes his recovery.

Wednesday afternoon, Joe Ogden fell from the Waples-Platter delivery wagon in front of their building. The misap resulted from the wagon seat folding over under his weight and he was thrown across the wagon tongue, being knocked unconscious in the fall. It was ten minutes before he was brought to. To make matters worse, while lying unconscious, the team started up and the wagon wheel passed over his leg between the knee and the ankle. Fortunately no bones were broken, and Joe is again on the job, altho still feeling the effects of his injuries.
