SKIP MENO, the Texas Education Commissioner, was one of our speakers at the recent Panhandle Press Association convention in Amarillo.

Meno pointed out a number of challenges that are facing today's educators, other than the financial crunch that everyone hears about.

Changes in the family makeup have a large bearing on education, Meno said, pointing out that a number of students today are saddled by having to move from place to place during the school year, as well as being a part of a single-parent family.

Fifty-one per cent of the students in Texas schools today are minorities. (It's hard to figure out how the majority of students can be minorities, but that seems to be the way it works—even if it gets up to 80 or 90 per cent).

A number of students have a language other than English as their primary language.

Meno is a native of New York, who was superintendent of schools at Syracuse, the nations second or third-largest system, prior to being appointed as Texas' Education Commissioner.

Personally, we thought that Friona native Ted Sanders, former U.S. Education deputy secretary, would have been a better choice for the Texas job, but Governor Richards opted to go out of state for this appointment. Someone forgot to give her the lecture about "shopping at home."

Anyway, Meno says that the Texas school system is in need of a fundamental re-structuring.

"We need to provide some summer school for the kids who need it," Meno said.

He pointed out that students who are retained while they are in school rarely ever graduate from high school. He hinted that a summer program to help the slow students catch up to their classmates might help them in their efforts to stay with their class and perhaps graduate.

A total of 20 per cent of the students in Texas schools are being retained, Meno said, and this is a very high percentage.

It's time for the schools' professional staffs to re-structure the schools, the commissioner said.

One of the big problems, according to the Texas Education chief, is the fact that the state's schools can't compete with other industries in the way of teacher salaries. Texas currently ranks 38th in the nation for teachers' salaries, he said.

Meno said that dramatically improved student achievement would remain his number one priority.

AT A RECENT meeting of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, the group discussed the dangerous precedent that passing the "Robin Hood" school amendment (Proposition #1) might set.

What if the legislature decides later on to rob from the "rich cities" and give to the poor ones, or to rob from the "rich counties" and likewise distribute to those less endowed?

What ever happened with the idea of doing for one's self?

Wasn't it just a year or so ago that the people in Russia toppled the statues of Stalin and Lenin, and the residents of Germany broke down the Berlin Wall, as an indication that communism doesn't work?

How far is socialism removed from communism?

Early Voting Ends Tuesday

Early voting for the May 1 elections will end Tuesday, April 27.

The special voting is being conducted at City Hall for that election, at the Superintendent's office for the school election, and at the County Clerk's office for the special election.

In addition to the city and school races, voters will cast ballots in the special senate race and constitutional amendment election on May 1.

C-C Needs Donations For Drug-Free Party

The Bovina Chamber of Commerce is needing donations to be used as door prizes for the all-night drug-free party, to be held following the Junior-Senior prom on May 1.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the party for the second year in a row.

Activities on tap for the participants include bowling at Cannon Air Base, and roller skating at Clovis.

Last year's all-night party, which is chaperoned by Chamber members, wound up with a breakfast for the students.

If you have a prize to donate as a door prize, please call Bret Whitten, Chamber president, or any of the other Chamber officials.

Lumbrera Being Retried For Son's Death In Kansas

Diana Lumbrera, former Bovina resident who was accused of killing seven children, including six of her own, is being retried in Kansas for the smothering death of her four-year-old son, Jose Antonio.

In 1990, a Finney County District Court had sentenced Lumbrera to life in prison for the May 1, 1990 death of Jose Antonio. But the Kansas Supreme Court last December cited errors in her original trial in Garden City, Kansas and ordered the new trial moved to another county to avoid pre-trial publicity.

She is now being retried for Jose Antonio's death in Barton County District Court in Kansas.

On May 1, 1990, Lumbrera carried Jose Antonio to the emergency room of St. Catherine Hospital in Garden City. He was unconscious and doctors were unable to revive the infant. An autopsy revealed the child had died from "asphyxia caused by smothering."

After Lumbrera was accused of killing Jose Antonio in 1990, Texas investigators opened a series of investigations into deaths of other children who were under her care while she lived in Texas, including two in Dimmitt and others in Lubbock and Parmer Counties.

After she was convicted in Kansas, she was returned to Texas, where she pleaded no contest in Lubbock County to killing her two-month-old son, Jose Lionel Garza, in 1978; and in Parmer County to killing a two-year-old daughter, Melinda Ann Garza, in 1982. She was sentenced to life in prison for each incident, with the sentences to be served concurrently with the Kansas life sentence.

In return for her "no contest" plea, the state dropped charges she murdered two other daughters and a cousin's child.

During her Texas trials, Lumbrera blamed a mother-in-law's "curse" for the children's deaths, but investigators believe she sacrificed her children because she craved the attention brought by the deaths.

FLBA Elects Directors

The Federal Land Bank Association of Muleshoe (FLBA) held its annual stockholders meeting April 12 at the Bailey County Civic Center at 7:30 p.m.

William C. Liles, chief executive officer, FLBA, gave the financial report and reported on the association activities for 1992.

Two directors were elected, Jimmie Pitcock of Muleshoe and Donald Christian of the Oklahoma Lane community were re-elected for three year terms. Other directors are James Glaze of Muleshoe, Billy Baxter of Friona, Jim Pat Claunch of Bula and Don McDonald of the Lazbuddie community.

EXTENSIVE BRIDGE WORK....If you have to have "bridgework" done, it might as well be on a highway project. The foundation for the new Highway 60 bridge across Catfish Draw, just east of Bovina, is nearing completion, and workmen were captured by the Blade photographer on a recent day at the bridge site. Amarillo Roads is contractor for the highway project from Friona to Farwell.

TEA Schedules Visit To Review Schools

The Bovina Independent School District has been scheduled for an on-site review by the Division of Accreditation of the Texas Education Agency (TEA) during the week of May 10-14, 1993. The announcement was made this week by Tommy Cathey, superintendent of the Bovina I.S.D.

The review will focus primarily on student performance, the district/campus planning process, and the district/campus implementation of the decision-making process.

Members of the Agency review team will conduct a public meeting on May 10 in order to hear from parents and community members of the school district. The meeting will be held at 7:30 that evening at the Bovina High School Auditorium.

Parents and patrons may present written or oral comments to the visiting team during this time. Issues they should address include student performance, the planning process, and the decision-making process.

Reason for the T.E.A. visit, according to Cathey, is the low TAAS scores turned in by Bovina students. Schools are expected to have scores on the test at a particular level, and Bovina's scores were low enough to rate the visit by the T.E.A. team.

The accreditation of Bovina's schools will hang in the balance for the week's review. Cathey said that when the team finishes its work, the local school system could be rated as accredited, unaccredited, or accredited with a full-time monitor from the T.E.A.

Bovina is not alone in having this particular problem with TAAS scores, as a similar team from the T.E.A. has recently finished a week's review at Dalhart, a class AAA school, and the team recommended the "accreditation with a monitor" for that school system.

"We encourage school patrons to turn out at the public meeting, and show an interest in the school's future. We suggest that mainly parents with children in school be involved, as these are the main ones that the T.E.A. will be focusing on," Cathey said.

A primary interest, according to the Bovina Superintendent, will be how Bovina is addressing its drop-out rate; site-management techniques, learning styles and test discrepancies between ethnic groups.

"The team will want to know how we are going to correct our deficiencies in these areas," Cathey said.

Also to be addressed will be staff development, high school honors program, bi-lingual program, SAT-ACT scores, special education and the amount of money spent per child in the Bovina I.S.D.

Cathey said that the team would check to see if Bovina is doing all it possibly can to improve its scores on the TAAS test. They will make recommendations and suggestions as to how these scores could be improved.

"Quite honestly, we're anxious to have them come and make suggestions and recommendations," Cathey said.

The team will visit site-based management teams from Bovina's two campuses, plus the district's site-based management team.

The May 10 meeting will be set aside for community input, both positive and negative.

The T.E.A. team will be headed by Dr. Ron Singleton of the T.E.A.'s Accreditation Division. Another representative from the T.E.A. will accompany Dr. Singleton, along with four school administrators, members of the Texas School Initiative Institute (TSII). Cathey himself, as a member of TSII has participated in such reviews, which are known as "peer review teams."

School officials have known about the upcoming visit since May of 1992, when the T.E.A. stated their intent to make the review visit.

One of the main drawbacks to posting high marks on the TAAS test is the fact that a high percentage of Bovina's students are not as proficient with their English as they need to be.

At the present time, the TAAS tests are administered to students in grades 3,5,7,9 and 11.

MEET YOUR NEIGHBOR

By June Floyd

A paraphrase on some advice from Solomon, "If you want a good neighbor, be one," would be appropriate if applied to Elton and Marie Venable, longtime residents of Bovina.

Whether these two are at home at 202 North Street or at their place of business, which is Elton's and Marie's Flea Market, down on Highway 60, they are busy being good neighbors.

Anyone who happens to be at either place when it is about meal time, will be invited to join them for a home cooked meal.

An annual tradition with the Venables is to host a big dinner during the Christmas season. Marie bakes a turkey and makes dressing and guests bring in salads, vegetables, desserts and hors d'ouvres.

Marie, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joe Langer, is a native of Bovina and has lived here all her life. Elton moved here from Lamesa, Texas, in 1930 and has lived here since that time with the exception of the time he spent as a paratrooper in the United States Armed Forces during World War II.

The Venables are both graduates of Bovina High School and were married November 21, 1945 in Hereford, soon after his discharge from the Armed Forces.

Elton and Marie have lived in their present home for the past 48 years and don't have any plans to move elsewhere.

Marie said, "I've always liked old things and perhaps that is why we are in the business we are in." She opened her first store, which was named "Marie's Used Values," on the west side of Third Street for a few years, then moved down North Street about a block and stayed there nearly forty years.

About ten years ago, she and Elton moved the business to Highway 60 and have operated at two different locations down there.

She said, "For many years, we needed a full time clean-up, fix-up man, and finally got one when Elton retired from Charles Oil Company after driving a transport truck for about 20 years.

The Venables have two children, Radford Venable, Bovina, and Margaret Moore, Lubbock, who—like their parents—are graduates of Bovina High School. They have two grandsons, Bud Venable, who is also a BHS graduate and his younger brother, Rusty, will carry on the family tradition when he graduates next month.

Radford and his wife, Kay, live here. They also have one daughter, Amy Beth, who is thirteen years old.

Margaret and her husband, Owen Moore, who has retired from the United States Air Force, live in Lubbock. They have two sons, Neil and Logan.

Marie said, "We don't travel very much, but when Margaret and Owen were in England, we flew over there for a delightful month-long stay."

"Then," she continued, "We made three trips to New Hampshire when they were living there."

Spending a few hours at Marie's Flea Market would be almost like visiting a pioneer museum for the same length of time. If you have time, stop by to visit with them and see some of the relics which they have collected through the years.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that DEAF SMITH ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. (the "Utility") intends to decrease rates for electric utility service effective July 6, 1993, or as soon thereafter as may be permitted by law. Based upon a test year ending December 31, 1992, the decrease requested is $740,000 or 4.465% of actual test year revenues. The changes are applicable to all areas, all customer classes, and all customers served by the Utility.

The Utility proposes to change all rates for Farm and Home, Residential Space Heating, Irrigation, Commercial, Large Power, Industrial, Cotton Gin, and Lighting, including demand, energy, minimum and other charges. The proposed changes are expected to affect the classes as follows: for the 4,416 customers in the farm and home class, the proposed decrease will be $109,357 or a negative 4.53% change in revenues; for the 147 customers in the residential space heating class, the proposed decrease will be $7,793 or a negative 3.39% change in revenues; for the 4,060 customers in the irrigation class, the proposed decrease will be $376,215 or a negative 4.15% change in revenues; for the 774 customers in the commercial class, the proposed decrease will be $54,019 or a negative 6.17% change in revenues; for the 111 customers in the large power class the proposed decrease will be $81,413 or a negative 8.11% change in revenues; for the 26 customers in the industrial class, the proposed decrease will be $95,907 or a negative 3.74% change in revenues; for the 6 customers in the cotton gin class, there will be no change in revenues; and for the 2,888 customers in the lighting class, the proposed decrease will be $15,296 or a negative 6.11% change in revenues.

The Utility also intends to change its service rules and regulations, including rules relating to obtaining service, line extension and line extension charges, the provision of electric service, service fees, and discontinuance of service.

Information concerning the proposed rate changes, including the proposed revisions of tariff and schedules is available at the General Office of the Utility, located at Highway 60 at Whittier Street, Hereford, Texas 79045-0753. Inquiries should be directed to Mike Veazey.

The Utility is required to give notice of the percentage change in base revenues which is negative 12.087%. The percentage decrease in base revenues is not an indication of how much your bill will change. Rather, it is a measure of the decrease in revenues that will be experienced by the Utility for its own operations, excluding payment of the cost of power purchased by the Utility from its wholesale power suppliers.

On or about May 7, 1993, the Utility will file with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, a Statement of Intent to Change Rates, specifying in detail each proposed change. Requests to intervene must be filed no later than 45 days after the application filing date; Thus, the Utility anticipates the deadline for intervening and objecting to the rate changes will be June 21, 1993. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Tortillas Can Be Utilized In Many Interesting Recipes

By Carla McKeown

My parents taught me to eat Mexican food almost as soon as I could eat solid food. For as long as I can remember, my mother made dishes such as beef enchiladas, chicken enchiladas, tacos, Spanish rice and beans.

But, it wasn't until my family moved to West Texas that we really began to appreciate the tortilla. After we moved to Plainview, I became friends with a girl my age and her family who introduced me to many aspects of their Mexican-American culture, including homemade flour tortillas.

I thought I was in culinary heaven the first time Rosa's mother Mrs. Efrain Nunez, handed me a hot tortilla fresh off the stove. Rosa put some margarine on it for me, and I rolled it up and ate it just like that. I was hooked.

I still haven't learned to make the round, flat bread, but I have thoroughly integrated tortillas into my cooking.

Tony and I often stuff tortillas with eggs, potatoes, and bacon, sausage or chorizo for breakfast burritos. A little leftover meat, some shredded lettuce, chopped tomatoes, and a dash of salsa or hot sauce all rolled up in a tortilla make a quick lunch-time meal.

From burritos and enchiladas to fajitas and tostados, the tortilla is a versatile bread enhancing every meal from breakfast to midnight snack.

Tortillas--flour or corn--can be heated and eaten while they are soft and pliable. Or, they can be fried--flat or in a taco or basket shape--until crisp and then filled. Another option is to fill the tortilla and then fry it, creating a flauta or a taquito.

Try the following recipes (the Chicken Burritos is one Tony and I created together, tasting and adjusting each time we cook them) and enjoy the versatility of the tortilla.

CHICKEN BURRITOS

2 boneless, skinless chicken breasts
Vegetable oil
1/2 onion, chopped
1 garlic clove, minced or pressed
Chili powder, to taste
Cayenne pepper, to taste
1 can tomatoes and green chilies

Green onions, chopped
6 flour tortillas

Cook the chicken breasts (in a microwave or skillet); allow to cool and shred into bite-sized pieces. In a large skillet, cook the chopped onion over medium heat until soft. Add the garlic and cook for 1 minute. Add the chicken and chili powder and cayenne pepper to taste; stir to mix. Add tomatoes and green chilies and stir. Let simmer until mixture is not too watery. Fill heated tortillas with chicken mixture and sprinkle with chopped green onions. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

FLAUTAS

1 dozen corn tortillas
1 chicken, boiled and cut into chunks or shredded
Oil or lard
Sour cream
Salsa

Warm the tortillas, one at a time on a griddle. Place the chicken in each tortilla, near one end of the tortilla, and roll. Secure each roll with a toothpick. Fry the flautas in the oil or lard until crisp. Drain on paper towels. Serve with sour cream and salsa.

TORTILLA SOUP

9 tortillas
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 onion, chopped
1/3 cup tomato puree
2 quarts chicken broth
1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro
1-1/2 cups grated Monterey Jack cheese

Cut the tortillas into 1/2-inch wide strips. Fry them in hot oil until crisp. Remove and drain on paper towels. Fry the onion and tomato puree in the remaining oil over lower heat for 5 minutes. Add the onion mixture, the tortilla strips and the cilantro to the boiling chicken broth. Simmer for 30 minutes. Put the grated cheese in each soup bowl and pour the hot soup over the cheese. Makes 6 servings.

FAJITAS

4 cups light soy sauce
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 cup finely minced fresh onion
8 tablespoons lemon juice
4 teaspoons fresh ginger root, minced

1 skirt steak for each 3 guests
Warm flour tortillas

Combine the soy sauce, brown sugar, garlic, onion, lemon juice and ginger in a jar; cover and shake to mix well and to dissolve the brown sugar. Let the marinade stand in a sealed jar overnight. Trim the fat from the beef and peel off any membrane. If the meat is more than 3/4-inch thick at the thickest part, cut it in half lengthwise so it will cook quicker. Pour the marinade over the beef and marinate for 2 hours or overnight in a sealed container in the refrigerator. Remove the steak from the marinade and grill over very hot coals for about 10 minutes per steak. Brush the meat with the marinade 2 to 3 times while grilling. Chop the meat with a cleaver and wrap in warm flour tortillas.

CHEESE ENCHILADAS

4 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup vegetable oil
2 tablespoons chili powder
2 teaspoons ground cumin
1 teaspoon salt
1 large clove garlic, minced
2-2/3 cups hot water
Vegetable oil for softening tortillas
12 corn tortillas
12 ounces Cheddar cheese, grated
1 medium onion, finely chopped

Brown the flour on a cookie sheet at 400 degrees in oven for 15-29 minutes. In a saucepan, combine the browned flour, oil, chili powder, cumin, garlic and salt. Simmer over low heat, gradually adding hot water while stirring continuously with a wire whisk. Simmer slowly for 1 hour, stirring occasionally. In a small skillet, heat vegetable oil. Dip one tortilla at a time into the hot oil until the tortilla is pliable. Remove each tortilla from the oil to a warmed plate and continue with each tortilla. Fill each tortilla with 3 tablespoons of cheese and 1 teaspoon onion. Roll up each tortilla and lay them in a baking dish, one alongside the next. Pour the warm sauce over all the enchiladas and top with the remaining cheese. Bake at 250 degrees for 15 minutes.

DESSERT TACOS

2 pounds slightly green bananas

6 tablespoons butter
1-1/2 tablespoons brown sugar
6 corn or flour tortillas
1/2 cup sliced almonds
1-1/2 cups sour cream
1 tablespoon powdered sugar

Peel the bananas and cut into 1/4-inch thick rounds. In a large frying pan, melt 2 tablespoons of the butter over medium-high heat until foaming. Add the banana pieces and brown. Turn and brown the other side, about 1 minute altogether. Remove from heat and set aside. Place 1 tablespoon of the butter and 1/2 teaspoon of the brown sugar in a frying pan large enough to hold a tortilla. Heat on medium-high until the butter foams and the sugar melts. Stir the mixture. Then, place a tortilla in the pan and fry for 30 seconds. Turn and fry the other side, until warmed through and sugar coated, but still pliable, about 30 seconds more. Remove and continue with the other tortillas, adding a little more butter and sugar as needed. Toast the almonds by stirring in an ungreased frying pan over medium-high heat for 2-3 minutes. Place the sour cream and powdered sugar in a small bowl and stir until smooth. Spread 1/3 cup of the bananas in the middle of a tortilla. Top with the sweetened sour cream and toasted almonds. Fold and serve.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

POWERLESS ON THE BATTLEFIELD!!

A TRADITIONAL CUSTOM, IN EARLY BIBLICAL TIMES, WHICH WAS A CRUEL BUT EFFECTIVE METHOD BY WHICH WARRIORS WERE MADE POWERLESS... WAS THE CUTTING OFF OF BOTH A MAN'S THUMBS AND LARGE TOES! ACTUALLY THIS WAS LOOKED UPON AS HUMANE TREATMENT RATHER THAN AN OUT-AND-OUT KILLING. THE SUBJECT'S LIFE WAS SPARED BUT, HAVING LOST HIS THUMBS, HE COULD NOT HANDLE WEAPONS, AND LOSING HIS LARGE TOES MEANT HE COULD NOT WALK LET ALONE RUN ON THE BATTLEFIELD, PROPERLY. A MENTION IS MADE OF THIS IN JUDGES 1:4-7. ADONIBEZEK, A CRUEL AND SUSPICIOUS KING OF BEZEK, WAS GIVEN SUCH PUNISHMENT BY THE WARRIORS OF THE TRIBE OF JUDAH. ODDLY, THIS KING SAW THE "POETIC JUSTICE" IN THIS ACT BECAUSE HE'D GIVEN THE SAME TREATMENT TO SEVENTY OTHER KINGS WHOM HE HAD CONQUERED. THIS HE REGARDED AS A DIVINE REQUITAL, VISITED ON HIM BY GOD, FOR THE SIMILAR CRUEL-TIES PERPETRATED BY HIM.

Scooter's Scoops

By Scooter Russell

Thomas and Virginia Rhodes visited their children in recent weeks. They visited with son, Alan of Amarillo, and his children, Gregg, Katherine and Jena and enjoyed seeing Kregg play in a soccer game and Katherine run in a track meet.

Weekend before last they visited in Denver, Colorado with daughter, Rhonda, and Terry and the Rhodes' granddaughter, Ragan. Virginia said there was still snow on the ground and they ran through a little to get there.

Thomas and Terry were able to see the Rockies' baseball team in their opening game and the ladies enjoyed a shopping spree to Cherry Creek Mall.

 Irma Bradshaw is home from Zapata where she spent several weeks and we want to welcome her back.

 I talked with Aletha Wilson on Wednesday morning and she said Bob is still undergoing treatment in Friona. She said he had an infection of the spine but it was not malignant, for which they were very thankful.

Bob has been taking treatments for the past two weeks and has two more weeks to go.

He had had gall bladder surgery in the Clovis Hospital and they tried other things to try to help control the pain in his back.

Aletha said they finally made a trip to Mayo Clinic in Phoenix, Arizona, and they discovered the infection. Anyway, hopefully, he will be on his feet soon.

 Visitors in the home of Joe Looney and Bob and June Gay McMeans were Joe's nephew, Dr. Harold Starr of Longview, Washington and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Paranto of Pampa. Mrs. Paranto is Joe's niece.

The family went to Clovis on Saturday and ate out and on Sunday,

June cooked dinner for the family at her home. They enjoyed a good time together.

 My mother, Meca West, and I drove to Oklahoma City on Sunday and spent a couple of nights with my aunt, Rose Lee Mullin, and cousin, Florene Rice.

Meca and Rose Lee are the last in their family and they had a good visit. The weather was pretty, but windy. We returned home Tuesday evening.

 We understand Levi Steelman, son of Esther and Joe Steelman, and Julie Grisham, daughter of Brother Richard and Velma Grisham, participated in the State Bible Drill competition, sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and performed real well.

The youngsters have memorized all the books of the Bible, many verses, and certain key passage references. They competed with 224 other youngsters in the events.

Esther Steelman is their leader and doing a wonderful job. If you are interested in getting your children in the Bible Drill or starting one in your church, give Esther a call.

 I talked with Esta Lee Lide Wednesday morning and she said they are still running tests on her husband, Edwin. He is a patient at the High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo and entered the hospital on Monday.

At first, it was thought he had heart problems but that all checked out fine so they are running more tests to see what is causing his weakness and breathing problems. He is in room 564, if you want to send a card.

 We were unable to reach Sid Lloyd, but friends said her twin brother, Bill, who lives in Childress, is getting along real well. He has been in the rest home there since last fall but the family thinks he may be leaving there and able to care for himself at his home.

Sid and Bill have lost two brothers in death in the last few weeks, so it is time they had some good news and hopefully things will go well.

 O.H. and Carlene Jones drove up to Canyon for a weekend visit in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Lowell and Kathy Boozer and family.

While there, they were privileged to watch one of their granddaughters, Amy Boozer, compete in a tennis tournament. She attends Canyon High School and won the singles competition.

This win qualifies Amy for the regional meet, which will be held in Odessa in the near future.

 A Blade visitor on Tuesday was Sue Fowler. She and her husband, Joe, have spent a great deal of time during the past 4-1/2 months in Amarillo. He has been hospitalized and she has been staying at the Ronald McDonald House.

She was so impressed with the facilities there that she became a volunteer for the sponsoring organization.

Sue reported that at the present time Scott Paper products is offering ten cents for each paper code collected. Anyone who desires to participate in this project or wants any other information about it is invited to call Sue. Her phone number is 225-6344.

Incidentally, Joe is making satisfactory progress and is able to drive the pickup around the field and be of some help to his son, Robert.

 Buster and Mearle Morgan had a good time with Mearle's niece, Stephanie Woltman, visiting from Albuquerque, New Mexico. She came on Friday and returned home on Sunday.

 Rick Sheek of Pettit visited in Bovina with his aunt and uncle, Les and Rose McCain. Rick farms their land at Pettit.
