BOTH C. S. THOMAS WELLS TO BE DRILLED TO 4,000 FT. DEPTH

BRADY MAN HEAD OF THE MID-TEXAS TEACHERS ASSN.

Signal honor was paid W. L. Hughes, superintendent of the Brady schools, by the teachers in this section of Texas in attendance upon the meeting of the Mid-Texas Teachers association at Brownwood last Friday and Saturday, in his election as president of the association for the coming year. Mr. Hughes had returned to Brady before the election of officers was held; consequently the news of the honor that had been conferred upon him came as a very pleasant surprise.

Regarding the meeting of the Mid-Texas Teachers association, the Brownwood Bulletin has the following to say:

"The Mid-Texas Teachers association adjourned last Saturday evening bringing to a close one of the most successful meetings in the history of the organization, according to the opinion of those who were present which was more than two hundred.

"Brownwood was selected as the next place of meeting which will be in March, 1921. There seemed to be a well-defined sentiment towards making Brownwood the prominent place of meeting, as this city is centrally located, is easy of access to all the counties that compose the Mid-Texas District, and has all the facilities for the accommodation of the teachers in a satisfactory way.

"W. L. Hughes, superintendent of the Brady city schools, was elected president, succeeding C. H. Hufford of Coleman, to whom the association gave a vote of thanks for the able and impartial manner in which he had discharged the duties of his position.

"Superintendent G. W. Page of the Brownwood city schools was elected first vice-president, and Miss Mary Morris of Stephenville, second vice-president. J. C. Griffin of Coleman remains secretary-treasurer.

"Resolutions were adopted thanking the people of Brownwood for their many hospitalities, the High school faculty, Daniel Baker and Howard Payne colleges for their highly appreciated assistance and courtesies and various other resolutions of more or less importance.

"The association went on record as favoring an amendment to the state constitution making it possible for every locality in the state to levy a special school tax, without regard to limit of population. The present limit is 50 cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in all places except towns that have 5,000 population or more. This cuts out hundreds of towns in Texas, that are fully able to levy the extra tax; but by being prohibited they are not able to maintain their schools the length of term required. Coleman is one of the towns thus affected, as well as Stephenville, Comanche, Brady and a number of others. It is believed that with proper representation on the next session of the Legislature will adopt the necessary resolutions submitting the proposed amendment to a vote of the people of Texas.

DR. WM. C. JONES RETURNS FROM MEETING OF STATE DENTAL SOCIETY

Dr. Wm. C. Jones returned the first of the week from Dallas, where he had been in attendance upon the meeting of the State Dental society, in session there the past week. Dr. Jones reports a large attendance and a very profitable meeting. In connection with the papers and discussions by both local and state men, the society enjoyed an innovation for a state meeting, in the form of post-graduate work, several very distinguished men in the profession giving lectures and clinics. The visiting dentists were so well pleased with the meeting and the royal entertainment given them that they voted to again meet in Dallas at the 1921 session of the society.

ONE CANDIDATE FOR ALDERMAN—BASS AWALT

Friends have prevailed upon G. B. Awalt to permit his name to be placed before the voters in the coming city election as a candidate for alderman, and are gratified to know that he will be willing to serve in case he is elected. Mr. Awalt is one of Brady's most substantial citizens, as well as one of the best-known and highly respected citizens of the county. He is a successful, substantial and level-headed business man and should be a valuable asset as a member of the Brady city council.

Still another city councilman is to be elected, as two aldermen at present serving, are to retire next month. The citizens should arouse to the needs of the occasion and induce some good man to permit his name to be placed before the voters.

The visiting teachers and officials were delighted with the work of the association, and the hospitality of the people of Brownwood, hoping they would all be back again when the meeting of next year is called."

C. S. THOMAS TO COMPLETE BOTH SALT GAP AND WHITELAND WELLS TO 4,000

FAITH IN McCULLOCH COUNTY UNSHAKEN, SAYS CALIFORNIA OIL MAN FOLLOWING VISIT HERE—DRILLING ON BOTH WELLS AGAIN IN PROGRESS.

C. S. Thomas has an abiding faith in McCulloch county's future as an oil field, and, after looking over the situation Wednesday during one of his periodic visits here, he stated that his confidence was unshaken, and that operations at both the Salt Gap and Whiteland wells would be continued to the 4,000 ft. depth, unless future developments offered some insurmountable obstacle or the golden liquid for which they are trying was found at a lesser depth.

Mr. Thomas arrived here Wednesday morning from Los Angeles, Calif., being on an inspection tour of his Texas operations in the various oil fields of the state. In company with Jack Tait, superintendent of McCulloch county operations, Mr. Thomas made a trip to the Salt Gap and Whiteland wells carefully noting the progress made, and after returning from the trip made his announcement that operations were to be continued as originally planned. Mr. Thomas left on the night train on his return to California.

Operations at the Salt Gap location, which had been suspended for a number of months because of bad roads, were resumed Monday night, drilling at 2880 ft. Operations at the Whiteland well, which had been closed down on account of a bad belt, were resumed last night at 3250 ft. All arrangements for carrying on operations at both these wells uninterruptedly have been concluded, and regardless of weather conditions, the drilling crews will bend every effort towards completing the drilling of the wells.

Following a delay last week occasioned by the jumping of a pin, operations were resumed Thursday of last week at the Thad O. Day well No. 2, on the Dutton tract, 11 miles north of Brady, and good progress is now being made. The well is running four and Wednesday morning 350 ft. of hole had been made.

Drilling at the Smith & Jergins well was resumed Wednesday, following completion of the underreaming of the 8-inch casing from 1792 ft. down to 1849 ft.

C. A. Devine has been here from Fort Worth this week and announces that rigging up for the "Marie" well on Survey No. 19, fifteen miles north-east of Brady, has about been completed and that this well will, most likely, be spudded in the early part of next week.

Operations at the White well No. 2, in the Mercury community, are held up owing to illness of the driller, C. J. Vater.

The Moore Bros. well on F. M. Richards ranch, 11 miles east of Brady is being abandoned at 767 ft.

Reports of other operations in McCulloch county are not available. Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Ross were here from Fort Worth this week, Mr. Ross looking over the local field. So impressed was he with the possibilities offered here, that he purchased a large block of acreage north of Brady, and in addition, holdings in various parts of the county, Mr. Ross has checkerboarded his acreage over various parts of the Texas oil fields. He expressed himself as highly pleased with his McCulloch county holdings, and expects Day Well No. 2 to put McCulloch county in the class of Texas best producers.

ADDRESS OF TEXAS HISTORIAN, MAJOR JOHN HENRY BROWN, ON ST. PATRICK' DAY RECALLED

The celebration of St. Patrick's day recalls to the Dallas Times-Herald an address to the Irish delivered thirty-two years ago by Major John Brown, then mayor of Dallas, known as the Texas historian:

It's time to wear the green again. Irishmen in all parts of the world are joining in universal tribute to St. Patrick, the patron saint of the land "where the River Shannon flows."

There are few citizens of Texas who do not have enough Irish blood to be justified in wearing the color symbolical of Erin's shores. Irishmen began to come to Texas long before the Mexicans thought they were needed. They came across the plains in covered wagons, on horse-back and by water. There was fighting going on in Texas and these Irishmen were looking for that kind of an atmosphere. They found the kind of atmosphere they wanted and help Sam Houston make the Mexicans step back across the Rio Grande.

Dan A. Kirvan of Dallas recently found among his father's papers a faded and worn document tied with a green ribbon. It proved to be the manuscript of a speech delivered by former Mayor John Henry Brown of Dallas to the Irish-American banquet on St. Patrick's day in 1888. It is in the handwriting of the former mayor and the paper has turned from white to dark tan. Everything is faded but the strip of green ribbon which, like the real Irish spirit, never fades, and the celebrated Irish wit, ever fresh, no matter in what atmosphere. The address is in part a history of the early Texas Irish-

TO CONTINUE EXAMINING TRIAL OF JIM MILES NEXT THURSDAY, 25TH

According to advice received by Sheriff J. C. Wall from District Attorney Walter Early, the examining trial of Jim Miles, accused negro murderer, will be continued on Thursday of next week, when the remaining witnesses will be examined. Meanwhile, Miles continues in jail, pending the setting of his bond at the conclusion of the examining trial. Nothing further has been learned about the accused man, nor have his statements concerning the owning of a large tract of land at Chickasha, Okla., been verified. One of the banks at Chickasha has advised that the man was not known to them.

SAMUEL'S STORE IS BURGLARIZED—SILKS STOLEN

The H. C. Samuel store was burglarized sometime during Wednesday night, and a number of bolts of silk stolen. A suit of clothes was also missing yesterday morning, and the total loss will very likely run into a couple hundred dollars. Entrance was gained to the store by cutting out a pane in one of the rear windows. No clue was left by the burglars, and so far no one has come under suspicion. That the thief or thieves were familiar with the store is evidenced by the fact that none of the gingham or cheaper goods were disturbed. Instead, the burglars evidently headed straight for the highest priced silks in the house, taking off all they could carry, along with the suit of clothes.

Quite recently, while Mr. Samuel was sweeping out in front of his store, a young Mexican slipped in unobserved, and when Mr. Samuel first saw him the Mexican was standing in the aisle about the middle of the store. Suspecting the Mexican from the start, Mr. Samuel threw open the man's overcoat, but saw nothing concealed underneath. The Mexican protested that he would not steal, and after buying a handkerchief, started out. As he did, Mr. Samuel noticed the overcoat bulging out suspiciously in back, and gave chase to the man, who dashed off at top speed. At the corner of the bank the fleeing man dropped several bolts of cheap dress goods which he had managed to snatch off the shelves before Mr. Samuel had first noticed him. The Mexican made good his escape and has not been seen since.

There has been considerable shop-lifting going on the past several months, and store-keepers should be on the watch for parties whose actions are in the least suspicious. Buy your Easter Togs at KIRK'S QUALITY SHOP. Nuf-Sed.

OFFICE OF CITY SECRETARY NOW IS APPOINTIVE

An important change in the manner of selecting a city secretary was made by the Brady city council at its last regular meeting, held Tuesday night, and the office in future will be appointed instead of elective. This change was accomplished by the passing of a resolution reducing the city secretary's salary to $1.00 per month, for the next term of office. This action is in line with that taken about a year ago as regards the office of city marshal, which was similarly abolished, the council appointing a chief of police to assume the duties of city marshal.

The great advantage of filling these two offices by appointment, rather than by a popular election, according to the members of the city council, is that each of these officers thereby comes directly under the jurisdiction of the council, and is made subject to the orders of that body. Failure to properly carry out the duties of the office can be remedied by removal of the offending officer and the appointment of another in his stead. The council hopes, by this means, to secure a greater degree of co-operation than ever between the city officers and the council, and thereby enable the better enforcement of the laws and rules and regulations.

Another important step taken by the city council at the last meeting was the passing of resolutions pledging the support of the City of Brady to the Brady Water & Light Co. in its endeavors to rehabilitate its plant, in order that this municipal enterprise may be able to resume operations and the giving of service to the citizens of Brady at an early date.

Other business transacted by the council was the allowing of $100 for expenses of fire boys attending the State Firemen's convention at Hillsboro as delegates from the local fire department, and the refunding of $70.83 overcharge on city taxes to C. H. Vincent.

Fruit Crop Safe—Box Supper for School Benefit Held.
Voca, Texas, March 15.
Editor Brady Standard:

It seems like the scene has changed. All last year we dreaded to see it cloud up; we knew it was going to rain every time it clouded up. But now it clouds up and don't rain and we are sure needing it now.

I don't think all of us will get a good stand of corn up without some rain on fresh-broke land.

We have had some more freezing weather of late but I think the fruit crop is safe yet, or least, enough is safe.

What might have been a serious accident occurred here one day last week when Bill Cochran, the seventeen-year-old boy of Mrs. Bettie Cochran accidentally shot himself thru the thick part of the thigh with a target rifle. He was fooling with the hammerless thing and let it go off. The ball still remains in the flesh but the boy seems to be suffering but little from the effects.

A box supper was given at the school house last Saturday night for the benefit of the school. Quite a nice little sum was raised. It will be used to buy an Edison phonograph to keep in the school.

I think the latest company formed in this community is Mr. Ernest Henderson and Mr. Burket Schooley; they are dealing in live stock, in partnership.

Two Accidents Reported—Cemetery Working in April.
Fredonia, Texas, March 14.
Editor Brady Standard:

Well, as news was so scarce the past week and everybody has been sick with the flu, and "Charity" has been very busy waiting on the sick.

The Allison brothers, Jno. F., G. B. and Prof. came down from Eden to see their mother, Mrs. S. A. Allison, who is ill with the flu.

Mrs. R. M. McMillan is very sick at present with the flu.

Mrs. Roy Hall went back to her home at Pontotoc after several weeks stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson.

Mrs. Tom Brown and children, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Samuelson, visited at Mrs. S. A. Brown's a few days the past week.

Jim Hall of Pontotoc was seriously hurt Saturday evening when a horse threw him off, breaking up his shoulder very badly.

A sad accident happened the past week when two school boys were coming in from school. Mr. Otis Morrison accidentally shot Willie Cochran through the leg, but glad to report him doing nicely at present.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burns spent Sunday at the Brockman home near Mason.

Mrs. Mattie McWilliams has gone to Eden to visit a while.

I will ring off for this time.

"CHARITY."

P. S.—Don't forget that the first Saturday in April they are going to work the Mt. Tabor cemetery again. On account of the flu and so much sickness, there was not many there the first Saturday. We want everybody to bring their dinner.

ROCHELLE RUMBLINGS.

A Newsy Letter—Chickens, Gardens, Farming and Airplanes.
Rochelle, Texas, March 15.
Editor Brady Standard:

Well, as I have not written lately, I will try to give you a few of the happenings in and around Rochelle. Have had considerable sickness thru February and on up in March, but think it has almost ceased and I think it is time for it to stop, but our death rate was small compared to what it was last year. Only two deaths in Rochelle, both were mothers, former Mrs. Williams and short time back Mrs. Byrd, wife of the foreman in the store of Selman Mercantile Co. Mrs. Byrd was a sweet friend and a kind and loving wife and mother. There is a husband and six children, two daughters, Mrs. Chas. Bratton and Miss Ruth Byrd; four sons, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss and she will also be missed in the church work and also in all the ladies' endeavors in which she always took an active part. But she has only paid the debt the remainder of us still owe and must pay sooner or later.

It seems as though the weather man has failed to open up the channels that brings the rain, and we are getting pretty dry, but the farmers are paying no attention to that, but instead, are going right on with the turning of the soil, (or clods I should have said). Don't think any one ever saw land break up more cloddy and rough, but they are planting corn and believe it will come up and that is sufficient for the rains later on will melt those clods and make it nice and smooth and we are expecting another bumper crop this year.

It's a little cloudy this morning, like it might be going to rain for us right away and let it come, for it will receive a hearty welcome any time.

Our phone system has just about gotten back to where it was about Thanksgiving last fall, and we are certainly appreciative of the service too, as this is the first time it has been in such a bad shape for such a long period, we almost got used to doing without it and now about all you can hear over the lines is something about the garden or chickens; one has Brown Leghorn, another has Reds, and still another Plymouth Rocks and of course each has the best and one has so many little chicks and another has more and better ones, or prettier ones, just as the case happens to be; but anyway, Mr. Editor, I think if you will drop into most any of the homes about the noon hour in a couple of months you will be pretty sure of fried chicken for dinner.

Miss Ruth Sellman spent last week with her cousin, Miss Louise Sellman at the ranch.

Mrs. Frank Templeton who has been over from Hall for quite a lengthy visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anderson returned to her home with her husband on last Saturday.

Mrs. Ed Floyd who moved back to her home near Eden about the first of the year came in with a friend on last Saturday, returning Sunday. She says everything is doing nicely in that community at present.

Mr. Leslie Rogers, wife and little daughter, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Rogers, went to Menard last week on a visit to his brothers, Arthur and Will Rogers of in and near that place, returning Tuesday.

Bro. Springer, the Baptist associational missionary was here the last of the week and held service at the church from Friday till Sunday night inclusive and delivered some very fine sermons, so I was told; did not have the pleasure of hearing them myself.

A couple of airplanes lighted here at Rochelle on last Saturday, creating quite a bit of excitement among the people and most everyone in town went out to see them; quite a number enjoyed a ride in them.

Mrs. Grace Smith and little daughter, Catherine, returned a short time ago from Minnesota (her old home) where they went to spend Christmas and to visit her sister Mrs. McGrew and daughter, Miss Branch, who is teaching in that state.

The wind, the wind, the wind! how glad I'll be when this month is over and we begin to have our nice warm

Milk and Butter Making the Farm Pay.

Brady, Texas, March 17.

Editor Brady Standard: Everything looks pretty and everyone is enjoying this spring weather. The farmers in this section are needing rain on their small grain.

John Rush returned from San Antonio where he had been to see his sister who was sick. He reports her much improved.

Prof. E. L. Allison and brothers, John and Baxter, from Eden passed thru West Sweden last Saturday enroute to Fredonia to see their aged mother who is sick with flu. They came back Sunday and ate dinner with H. John Hanson. Prof. is the father of our teacher, Miss Alpha.

Mary Hanson has returned home and is back in school again. Abner Hanson has been spending a few days at Broadmoor.

The singing at the church last Sunday night was enjoyed by all present.

John and Lottie Rush attended church at Dodge Sunday afternoon. Miss Frances Zimmerman accompanied them home and came to singing Sunday night.

Oscar Young and wife were Brady visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. H. John Hanson is a woman who believes in making the farm pay. She milks seven cows and from the seven, she sold $15.00 worth of cream last week, besides having plenty of milk and butter for home use.

FIFE FINDINGS.

Fife and Lohm Citizens to Fly High if Plans Mature.

Fife, Texas, March 16.

Editor Brady Standard:

The health of the community is good now and everybody is busy now preparing land for another crop. Some land is getting dry and a rain would not be unwelcomed.

Irvin Crider of Rochelle is visiting friends here this week.

Dock Wyres, H. T. and Dair Baldridge were Brady visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rev. Bradley are visiting relatives at Eldorado this week.

E. L. Guyton marketed cotton at Brady Tuesday.

Fred J. Williams and A. J. Thompson, accompanied by Geo. Ahl, mechanic, of San Angelo, were visitors here Monday, coming via airplane. The gentlemen are experienced plane drivers, having been instructors of the American aeroplanes in France.

Mr. Williams is contemplating opening a school of instruction in flying at Lohm or some other place in the county, where good landing ground can be found, and has already secured applicants who wish to enter the school and learn how to fly. The Standard may see some of its subscribers from Fife flying to Brady after a dollar's worth of sugar before long, that is, if there is any sugar.

Messrs. Alva Hilliard and Billy Hemphill were visitors at the Ferris home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. H. L. Winstead bought him a new team in Brady Saturday. Guess that means he is getting busy plowing.

In a Hurry.

The Chinese have numerous traditions concerning their famous philosopher, Confucius. One day, they say, while he was meditating in the fields outside the city of Tientsin, he noticed a woman weeping bitterly beside a fresh grave, which she was fanning vigorously. He was touched by her evident grief, and said:

"O, sorrowful one, what is your trouble?"

"Your Honorable Excellency, my husband is dead."

"No doubt he was a good husband and you are to be pitied; but why are you fanning his grave?"

"Exalted one," replied the woman—and her voice choked with sobs—"my husband made me promise not to marry again until his grave was dry."

A good treatment for a cold settled in the lungs is a HERRICK'S RED PEPPER POROUS PLASTER applied to the chest to draw out inflammation, and BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP to relax tightness. You get the two remedies for the price of one by buying the dollar size Horehound Syrup; there is a porous plaster free with each bottle. Sold by Trigg Drug Co., and Central Drug Co.

Luke Rielly Says, "The Rat Died Before Reaching the River."

"Since moving near the river 2 years ago, we've always used RAT-SNAP. Watched a vicious water rat, nibbling at RAT-SNAP outside the house. About 15 minutes later he darted off for the water, to cool his burning stomach, but he died before reaching it." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by O. D. Mann & Sons and Trigg Drug Co.

To a Five-Dollar Bill.

Crinkle, crinkle, little bill; Goodness gracious, you look ill! Are you losing all your power? You seem weaker hour by hour.

"Now that prices are so high, I'm so tired that I could die. I just circulate all day; No one dares put me away."

"When the evening board is set, With the fruits of father's sweat, My small voice is hushed and still— I am the butcher's till."

"And no matter where I go, People disregard me so; I don't seem to count for much 'Mongst the profiteers and such."

Bill, take heart; your luck may change I'll admit the times are strange. Though you're weak, I love you still, Crinkle, crinkle, little bill.

She Was Bred in Old Kentucky.

The bride is a woman of wondrous fascination and a remarkable attractiveness, for with manner as enchanting as the wand of a siren and a disposition as sweet as the odor of flowers, and spirit as joyous as the caroling of birds and mind as brilliant as those glittering treasures that adorn the brow of winter and with heart as pure as dewdrops trembling in a coronet of violets, she will make the home of her husband a paradise of enchantment like the lovely home of her girlhood, where the heaven toned harp of marriage, with its chords of love and devotion and fond endearments, sent forth the sweetest strains of felicity that ever thrilled the senses with the rhythmic pulsing of ecstatic rapture.—Charlottesville (Ky). Chronicle.

Oh, why didn't someone marry this week—we could have used this rhapsody in describing the bride.

"A TALE OF TWO CITIES."

Says the Fort Worth Record: This is "a tale of two cities." It is from the pen of Lee J. Rountree, a veteran Texas editor, now the publisher of the Bryan Daily Eagle. The first deals with old Jefferson. It follows.

Along in the early 70's Jefferson, Texas, was the largest and most important city for hundreds of miles around. It is said that it had a population of 20,000 and was several times larger than Fort Worth and Dallas. It was the greatest trade center in Texas. Jefferson thrived on water transportation and goods were freighted for hundreds of miles. Jefferson was satisfied with her place in the business world. The railroads began to head toward Texas after the days of war and reconstruction. In the 80's Jefferson refused to keep abreast of the times. She lost the railroads. Her newspapers perished and her business disappeared. I saw the town as it began to decay. Even then the wholesalers and retailers did not realize the situation. A newspaper editor friend of mine told me the merchants with their prosperity would not advertise or push the town and its business. This paper suspended for lack of business. Old Jefferson was practically forgotten. A few years ago I visited Jefferson again. It had come down from 20,000 people to about 3,000. The town was old and ugly, the houses empty and decaying. Trees grew in former business houses. Many houses were decaying and the habitation of bats and rats. Jefferson failed to keep up with the march of progress. The merchants and business men failed to advertise. They were soon forgotten.

Old Jefferson was the home of many of the representative men of the Southwest. The Culbertsons, father and son; the Crawfords, the Harisons and many others were residents of Jefferson in the days when it was a flourishing city. This is the story of Prosperous Greenville:

The other day on my way to Bryan I stopped in Greenville. It is a city of nearly 20,000 people built in the black lands. It had no water, timber or natural advantages. Along Main street are the handsomest mercantile establishments, hotels, theatres and shops. The street was jammed with people trading. They came for forty miles. I met a group of people who had come forty-150 miles to buy goods. They were citizens of Hopkins county and I asked them why they came to Greenville to trade. One of the ladies (and the women are the wisest shoppers) handed me a copy of the Greenville afternoon daily paper and it contained three full page advertisements from three of the leading merchants, giving description of goods and prices. There were two auto parties representing three families. Later in the afternoon I saw them and they had purchased $302 worth of merchandise for themselves and friends. They came to Greenville in answer to the advertisement in the Greenville paper. Dozens of others were doing the same thing. Jefferson and Greenville are two Northeast Texas towns. Their history is the history of many other towns. Shall we profit by this true story? Business and prosperity make happy and contented people and towns. Business institutions must keep the fires burning. No business is too large or too small to advertise. If it is worth while it is worth advertising.

HOMES MAKE FOR GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

"He's a home-owner and a taxpayer," is the best recommendation any man can have in his own community. It gives him a standing forthwith, not so much as a person of some financial importance, but as a dependable, substantial and self-respecting citizen, wisely regardful of his own and his family's happiness and best interests, and at the same time an asset to the neighborhood in which he lives. So universal is the home-loving instinct that it might almost be said there is something wrong morally with the man or woman who does not care to own a home; and that is why the malcontents, the habitual industrial disturbers and the socially restive that inflict themselves on all countries are without home ties.

Unless all signs fail this is to be the great American home-building year stimulated by the Government's urgent advice to "Own a Home for Your Children's Sake," and by the injunction that "During the war it was patriotic not to build, now we can best show our patriotism by building," there has been a tremendous "revival" in the sentiment for home ownership. The indications are that the unhappy classes of "renters" and "boarders" will be greatly depleted before the end of 1920, and that there will be many thousands of additional families entered upon the life of happiness and contentment to be found only in the home. The price of building materials today is not high, as compared with prices of other important commodities and the community that does not add materially to its total of homes this year is likely to be rated as lacking in patriotism, as well as good business judgment.—Contributed.

Birthday Dinner Party.
Miss Ruhama Snider entertained a few friends on Wednesday evening with a seven o'clock birthday dinner. Guests included Misses Jim, Lula and Trix Gay; Messrs. Joe Ogen, Jack Freshour, Eric Swenson and Hardin Jones.

A Wiener Roast.
A jolly crowd of young folks, chaperoned by Mesdames J. G. McCall, S. H. Jones and S. S. Graham, enjoyed a picnic at the Country club last Saturday, spending the day very pleasantly in playing many games and in taking kodak pictures. Lunch was taken and roasted wieners and toasted marshmallows added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Included in the number participating were Misses Marjorie McCall, Cleone Deavers, Carmen Anderson, Catherine Ballou, Maggie Bryson, Mary Butcher, Eulalia Gavit, Cora Snider, Nellie Brown, Elizabeth Calvert, Edna Fahrenthold, Phoebe Graham and Malcolm Jones.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Mease of Brownwood were visitors here Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Mrs. W. H. Ballou left Saturday for Marlin, where she will be a guest of her mother, and relatives and friends for several weeks.

Dr. Burke, one of the leading physicians of Temple, Texas, is a guest of Lewis Brook and family, while enjoying an outing in this section.

Miss Knola King spent the week end here, a guest of her parents and friends, returning to her studies at Howard Payne college at Brownwood Sunday night.

Lewis Brook has returned from Temple, where he has been under treatment for the past several weeks and his many friends will be pleased to learn that he is improving rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Myers and son, Theodore, returned Tuesday from a marketing trip to Dallas and Fort Worth. Enroute they stopped at Belton for a visit with the lady's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whiteman and children left Tuesday night, Mrs. Whiteman and children stopping in Fort Worth for a visit with relatives, while Mr. Whiteman went to Dallas to attend a state meeting of telephone managers.

O. E. Jackson returned Wednesday from Houston, where he had been visiting Mrs. Jackson and also his son, F. Y. Jackson, and family the past couple weeks. Mr. Jackson reports Mrs. Firman Jackson's condition still very serious.

Chronic Constipation.
There are people who never have a movement of the bowels without it is produced by a cathartic. Most of them have brought that condition on themselves by the use of mineral waters and strong cathartics that take too much water out of the system and aggravate the disease they are meant to relieve. A mild laxative tonic like Chamberlain's Tablets affords a gentle movement of the bowels that you hardly realize has been produced by a medicine, and their use is not so likely to be followed by constipation.

Death of Mrs. Maud Flemings.
(Contributed).

The sad news has been received here that Mrs. Maud Flemings died Sunday evening March 7, 1920, at 7 o'clock at her home in Marfa, Texas, with black small pox. Mrs. Flemings was formerly Mrs. Jess Lindsay, daughter of Mrs. M. A. Bumgardner of Brady. Deceased leaves a little girl, Gladys Lindsay, aged 9 years. Mr. Lindsay died two years, six months ago. Mrs. Fleming was married to Mr. Flemings 6 months ago in Marfa, Texas. She was 31 years and 2 months of age at her death. Mr. Flemings was formerly medical sergeant in the regular army until January 1st, when he got his discharge.

Mr. and Mrs. Flemings were engaged in the drug store business for the past seven months at Marfa, Texas, in which they enjoyed a prosperous business.

Mrs. Flemings leaves, besides her husband and little girl, her mother, Mrs. M. A. Bumgardner, two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Coalson and Mrs. Joe Bryson, all of Brady, and five brothers, Charlie of New Mexico, Cephas, Willie and Gordon of Brady, and Autrey of Menard, Texas to mourn her untimely death. She was only sick ten days, and her death came as a shock, as there had been no news of her sickness until the message came, saying she had passed away.

Maud, as she is best known, came to Brady with her father, C. C. Bumgardner and family when but 3 years of age and was reared in Brady. She lived at Alpine some five years with her former husband, and then at Carlsbad, N. M., where Mr. Lindsay died. Two years later she went to Marfa, where she married Mr. Flemings. To know her was only to love her.

After a long winter the system becomes filled with impurities caused by dry, strong diet. In hot weather these impurities cause sickness. Get rid of them by taking Prickly Ash Bitters. It is the remedy that men use for purifying the blood, liver and bowels and putting the body in shape for summer work. Price $1.25 per bottle. Trigg Drug Co. Special Agents.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Milton, the 9-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Coalson, suffered a fractured and dislocated elbow while engaged in a friendly scuffle with a playmate at Central school yesterday afternoon. While the injury is causing the little man some discomfort, it is thought an early recovery will be made.

Ben Anderson left Wednesday night for Dallas to attend a district meeting of Mutual Fire insurance agents. The trip promises to be one of the most enjoyable he has ever taken, especially since all expenses are borne by the company. The company offered the trip free to agents writing a certain volume of business, and Ben proceeded to cinch the matter by writing five times their required amount.

Mrs. Wm. C. Jones and two sons, who have been visiting with her mother in Hamilton for the past several weeks, returned yesterday. Her many friends sympathize with her in the death of her youngest sister, Miss Launa Stiles, which occurred a few weeks ago at Temple. The young lady had gone to Temple to attend an older sister who was at the Temple sanitarium for treatment, when she herself was taken fatally ill. The older sister, after undergoing two blood transfusions and being operated upon, is now on the high road to recovery.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. (Bill) Snider will be pleased to know that they are again numbered McCulloch county citizens, Mr. Snider having recently resigned his position with the Coggin National bank at Brownwood to take the management of W. W. Jordan's ranch in the Rochelle community. Ever since quitting Brady business circles, “Bill” has had a longing to try farm life and open-air work, and in his new position he believes he will find just the kind of employment that best suits him.

Elder T. L. Allen, who recently sold his place one mile from Brady on the London road to S. W. Espy, says he has again gotten located. Mr. Allen has purchased a residence and four business lots in Brooksmith, for which place his family will leave tonight. Mr. Allen will superintend the shipment of his household effects, and hopes to become relocated sometime next week. Mr. Allen has not yet decided what line of endeavor he will take up, but will decide after moving to Brooksmith as to what offers the greatest opportunity. In the meantime, he promises not to forget his friends in this section of the county, but will make visits from time to time here while filling his three appointments.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT APPOINTS INSPECTORS—RAISES JANITOR'S PAY

Commissioners' court held a brief session the past week, and, among other things, appointed W. E. Simpson and Leslie Sansom as county inspectors, their employment to begin March 15th, and continue until further notice at salaries of $100 per month.

The court also ordered that, beginning April 1st, the salary of the McCulloch county court house janitor be raised to $60 per month.

Warrant was ordered issued on the general fund for the sum of $25 in favor of Mrs. Addie Stevens, a pauper.

OIL AND GAS LEASES AND ASSIGNMENTS RECORDED DURING FEBRUARY

CONTINUED ACTIVITY IN McCULLOCH COUNTY OIL FIELD EVIDENCED BY RECORDING OF LARGE NUMBER OF INSTRUMENTS IN COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE.

The following is the list of oil and gas leases and oil lease assignments recorded in the McCulloch county clerk's office during the month of February. The long list give prima facie evidence that interest in McCulloch county oil lands has not abated one whit, but, on the contrary, is growing every month.

Notice to Electric Consumers

We are going to work installing New Meters in all houses for lights and will expect the parties owning property to pay on installation the sum of $9.00 on residences, and $12.00 on business houses; the same to be paid back to consumer at the rate of 25c per month until Meter is paid for.

The reason for this rule is on account of our financial condition. Hoping this meets the approval of all.

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a potent medicine. It is simply blood with a very depressing effect on the system. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

'T WAS FALSE

By VINCENT G. PERRY.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Arthur Thorne had argued until he was tired of arguing. There was no use trying to talk sense into a man who hadn't any, he thought at last, as he gave up with one more effort.

"I tell you she is young—just about twenty-one," he said hotly. "Because she is an actress you think she has to be old. There are some young actresses, aren't there?"

Mervin Renton, his companion, was quite willing to admit that there were but this one, he claimed, was not. "You can't tell me," he argued. "This Dora Fraleigh will never see thirty-five again. Her hair is false, I'm willing to wager anything. Did you ever see curls like hers that were real? Everything about her is false."

Arthur knew if he stayed he would become angry. Mervin was jealous—that was what was the matter, he felt.

Without another word Arthur left the bath-house where the conversation had been held and made for the beach. It was a glorious day and the guests of the hotel were making the best of the bathing weather. He caught sight of Dora almost immediately. Apparently she was searching for something in the water near the beach.

"What have you lost?" he asked, as he waded toward her.

"Oh, nothing," she answered a trifle confused. "Isn't the water fine?"

After completely immersing himself and swimming aimlessly about for a few seconds, Arthur agreed that it was. "Let's go out on the raft," he suggested, but Dora seemed unwilling to leave the shallow place. This was surprising, for she had always seemed anxious to get all the fun possible. There was something troubling her. She even seemed unwilling to go on the beach for a sun bath, but finally agreed.

"There!" Arthur exclaimed, as he stretched out on the sand. "I thought I never would get away from that shallow part. There were so many children there I didn't have a chance to talk with you."

"You usually have lots of opportunities," Dora smiled.

"What's this?" he asked, as he picked up something his toes had been rubbing against in the sand. "Well, look what's here! A false curl!" Sure enough it was.

Dora took it from him eagerly. "I lost it!" she exclaimed, as she jumped to her feet. "I was searching for it out there. Wait until I go and tell auntie. She'll be delighted."

She was off before Arthur could stop her. He looked after her with an exclamation of dismay on his lips. To think that those beautiful curls of hers were false. No wonder she hadn't talked much and had been confused. So Mervin had been right!

When Dora joined him again he was trying to smile, but found he couldn't. "What makes you so quiet?" she asked, after they had sat in silence for nearly five minutes.

"Nothing very much," he replied to her question. "I was thinking that I was going home tomorrow."

"Going home!" she echoed. "Why you said last week that you would be here all summer."

"I have changed my mind," he answered, but when he saw the pained look on Dora's face he wished he had thought up an excuse.

The next morning Arthur's resolve to go home had not faltered. He wasn't going to stay there to be the laughing stock of the whole hotel when they found out about Dora's age. He was only twenty-one and most likely she was thirty, anyway. Nine years was too much difference. He felt so uncomfortable over it he went to the station half an hour before the train was due to leave. His going away would leave the field open for Mervin. That was too much. He left the train in a hurry and left word with the baggage man to have his trunks sent back to the hotel. He couldn't be happy without Dora, even if she was eighty.

He found Dora in a secluded corner of the veranda. Her eyes were red and there were other traces of tears.

"You haven't gone yet," she cried joyfully, as she caught sight of him. "I heard that you had" gone without even saying good-by to me."

"I came pretty nearly doing it, dear," he said, "but I couldn't go away and leave you here. When I go I want to take you with me. I want to marry you."

"If you wanted to marry me, why did you make me worry about your leaving so unexpectedly?" she asked, trying not to smile. "Last night was the second night I have lost sleep by worrying. The night before it was the thought of having lost auntie's best curl that—"

"Auntie's curl?" he interrupted.

"Yes, the curl you found yesterday."

"Oh!" Arthur groaned. "I thought that was your curl!"

"Mine!" she laughed. "And I was only twenty a week ago!"

"Thank goodness for that," he cried.

"But why?" she asked, perplexed.

She laughed for a long time after he told her. "But what difference would it have made if I was thirty-five?" she said.

"None; but I'm glad you're only twenty," he replied.

Real Test.

"He loves the very ground she walks on."

"Does he love it well enough to plant a vegetable garden in it for her benefit?"

Kindergarten Helps for Parents

This is No. 30 of a series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association. They will appear weekly in these columns.

By MRS. JANET W. MCKENZIE.

Kindergarten training is often begun at home unconsciously by both mother and child. It has its beginnings in the answers to the first questions familiar to every mother, such as "Mother, what color is this?" "How many are there?" "Which is my right hand?" "Which is heavier?"

If the mother will take a little time to play with her children, as Froebel urges the first question about color can be made the nucleus of a little game. Let the child find something of the same color as that which first interests him, then something in each of the six standard colors; count the articles found; classify them as smooth or rough, heavy or light, and so on.

In the same way the three type forms of solids—the sphere, cube and cylinder—can be shown the child, and articles around the house classified as cubical like the cube or block, round like the sphere or ball, or cylindrical like a barrel. The size of objects should also be noted.

Color, form and number can easily be made into games if mother has time to play with her children.

When mother is busy with the pressing routine of housework, perhaps a box of cranberries and a long thread in a coarse needle would entertain a dear little meddler, and give mother a free hour to work. Cranberries may be scarce, but buttons flourish in every home; also inch pieces of macaroni which can be combined with circles or squares of colored paper cut out of bright advertising pages.

When baking is under way, and little hands have to be kept from interfering, a piece of colored string one yard long with the ends tied together will afford much delight. Wet the string and make as perfect a circle of it as possible on a flat surface. By pushing a point in the circle to the center, we change what looked like a full moon into a crescent; pushing in three places makes a clover leaf. The variations are endless. And the child can learn with an occasional suggestion from mother, to make familiar symmetrical outlines in this way.

Perhaps it is bread that is being baked. What possibilities in a small lump of dough! It can be made into a loaf just like mother's, or rolled into tiny biscuits.

Toothpicks have many possibilities as play material. With them pictures can be made in outline of houses, fences, furniture, boats or stars, and it is material that can be used over and over again.

Chains of paper are made by slipping one short strip within another and pasting the ends. Colored strips may be alternated with the white strips that have been saved from rolls of narrow ribbon.

Coloring with crayons, cutting out pictures and pasting are all kindergarten activities that can be carried on at home.

A blank-book in which pictures of furniture have been pasted for each room of a house give delight that I have seen last all summer. How eagerly the advertising pages in magazines are searched for the kitchen cabinet, bath tub, parlor suite, crib or bed! How carefully the selected pictures are cut and pasted on the proper page!

With a hat-box as the frame for a doll-house, and cardboard partitions making four rooms, a child's interest and attention may be occupied perhaps for several months. The house can be furnished as to occupants and rugs from the magazines while curtains can be made for the windows from paper lace used in candy-boxes. The furniture can be made from folded paper or built with small blocks of dominoes.

These suggestions only touch the rim of activities that kindergarten training opens up to the little child. What the mother may do at home will be helpful, but what the kindergarten does every day for three hours, will be far more so. In kindergarten the child is a member of a social group and learns the valuable lesson of consideration of others and the spirit of team work.

May I say to mothers who are not within reach of a public kindergarten, that your best course is to agitate and co-operate to have one if it is a possible thing.

If that cannot be done and some kindergarten materials can be purchased, a catalogue from Milton Bradley Company, Springfield, Mass., or E. Stieger & Co., 49 Murray street, New York, will be helpful in selecting the list of materials desired.

However, the spirit is more important than the material. "Come, let us live with our children," says Froebel, and "Come and play with us," say the children themselves.

Look back in memory to your own childhood. What are your dearest recollections of your mother? Her unceasing care for your food, clothes, teeth, eyes, health? Or is it not rather that happy day you took your lunch, mother and the rest, and went for an unexpected picnic? Did the shopping trips, the church-going, the calling, the occasional matinee, leave the deepest impress, or the quiet hour when mother was alone with you and read or told you stories?

Dear mothers, cumbered, like Martha, with many cares, can you not see that the practical and necessary services which you render your child minister to the physical, which passes, but the hours of play and mental effort which you share and encourage and the ideals you set up for emulation, these are the meat of the spirit of your child, which nourish the very essence of his life, developing in him that intangible something we call personality, and forming his contribution to the race.

Why Colds are Dangerous.

You are often told to "beware of a cold," but why? We will tell you: Every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases. People who contract pneumonia first take cold. The longer a cold hangs on, the greater the danger, especially from the germ diseases, as a cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the germs of consumption, diphtheria, scarlet fever and whooping cough. The quicker you get rid of your cold, the less the danger of contracting one of these diseases. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a great reputation as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. It is pleasant to take.

ADDRESS OF HISTORIAN, MAJOR JOHN H. BROWN, ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

daughters, living in the same yard in the present county of Lavaca, were brutally murdered and scalped by Indians. Two sons of Douglas, age 15 and 13, escaped and have ever been good citizens. All of them were Irish and the survivors were my neighbors for many years, honored by all who knew them."

Other Pioneers.

The address delivered by Mayor Brown goes on to tell of several other doughty Irishmen who helped lay the foundation of the Lone Star state. He tells of the adventures of several of them in fighting the Indians in Texas and says, "No true Irishman can know their record and not feel proud of them as his countrymen, kith and kin; and had he known them personally, a considerable number of them, as I did for many years, their memory would be held as an honor to his race."

Mayor Brown mentions twenty-one signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence at Goliad, Dec. 20, 1836, who were Irishmen. He also names James Power as one of the signers of the March 2 declaration at Washington. He says that other Irish delegates to the convention were prevented from being there because they had to attend at the time to removing their families from the path of Santa Anna's army. He names twelve Irishmen who were killed in the Afamo. They were J. Flanders, Guin, Garvin, Kenney, Linn, McCafferty, Noiland, Walsh, Waters, Harrell, Cunningham, and another name that is too faded in the old manuscript to be deciphered. Fifty sons of Erin died in the massacre of Fannin and his men, according to Mayor Brown. He names thirty-one who were with Sam Houston at San Jacinto.—Fort Worth Record.

BLAIR WELL IN BROWN COUNTY HAS PROMISE OF PRODUCING BIG FLOW

The Blair well of the Midway Oil & Gas Company, two miles north of May, was cleaning out Sunday morning, and it was regarded as probable that the work would be continued today. It is impossible to secure authentic information as to the status of the well, even by visiting the scene of operations, since company officials and employes decline to answer any questions and admission to the derrick is forbidden to all comers. Visitors, however, may approach within seventy-five yards of the derrick and observe operations as much as they desire.

It appears that the unexpected flow of the well on Tuesday night of last week caused a bridge in the uncased portion of the hole and about eighty feet must be drilled out before casing can be set. This work was under way Sunday, progressing very slowly and carefully. There is a big supply of casing on the ground, and the belief of those who have observed operations carefully is that as soon as the bridge is drilled out casing will be set upon the sand, and then, perhaps, there will be a further careful exploring of the sand from which the recent flow came.

There is plenty of evidence about the well to substantiate the report of a big flow Tuesday night. The derrick is oil-soaked from bottom to top, and towards the north from the derrick, for a distance of probably two hundred yards the trees and underbrush are all stained with the oil which was thrown out of the well and carried northward by a high wind.

The town of May is bustling with activity, and the citizenship there appears to be keenly alive to the opportunity for growth which has been presented by the showing made by the Blair well.—Brownwood Bulletin.

WINCHESTER COMPANY APPOINTS BROAD MERCANTILE CO. LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE

The appointment of Broad Mercantile Company to sell in this community the new hardware and sporting goods manufactured by the Winchester Repeating Arms Company is announced. And in the opinion of leading merchants it is one of the most interesting and important developments.

ments the local retail trade has. First the family, next his dog, then comes his "Winchester" in the love of the best type of American. Almost every family seems to have possessed a Winchester at one time or another, and the love and respect for the good old gun is just about universal. And now that recently there have been many new additions to the Winchester "family," there is wide popular interest in the new cousins and other relatives of the famous repeating rifle.

Fifty-three years ago the Winchester repeating rifle was placed on the market by the Winchester Repeating Arms Company, of New Haven, Conn. It was a good rifle, in fact the first truly successful repeater, and almost immediately achieved great popularity.

With the coming of smokeless powder the Winchester Company commenced the manufacture of ammunition, to insure Winchester users the best possible cartridges and shot shells for their rifles and shotguns.

Now this great manufacturing establishment, tremendously expanded in the gigantic part it played in the winning of the World War, is apparently branching out to make all possible use of the additional knowledge, experience, and equipment thus acquired. New articles being made already include tools, cutlery, fishing tackle, flash-lights, skates, etc. With half a century of experience and unexcelled equipment entering into their production, it is to be expected that these new products, made in the same skilled and workmanlike manner as the famous Winchester guns have been made for so long, will have merit above the ordinary.

A special invitation is being extended by the Winchester Company to all its friends in this district to visit "The Winchester Store" and see the latest additions to the Winchester "family." And as Broad Mercantile Co. is likewise inviting everybody to do so, the store is enjoying a regular "old home week" of Winchester visitors. New friends will of course be equally welcome with old Winchester acquaintances.

A pain in the side of back that catches you when you straighten up calls for a rubbing application of BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It relaxes the contracted muscles and permits ordinary bodily motion without suffering or inconvenience. Sold by Trigg Drug Co., and Central Drug Co.
