FIRE BOYS REAP $32.00 IN BALL GAME--CITY TEAM GARNERS SCORES

It was 50-50 in last Thursday's game between the Brady Volunteer Fire department and the City League—the fire boys got the gate receipts and the city team gathered in most of the scores. No use for either side to be hoggish—eh, what? In all, the fire boys netted $32. The city league did not make quite so good a showing in the aggregate number of scores they ran up, but at that the score was a sizeable affair.

The whole town closed up for the occasion, and gave the whole game their closest attention. Also some advice, wise and otherwise, was occasionally handed the players on both sides.

For the benefit of any major league scout who might desire to recruit some first-class ball players, we are appending hereto the names of all players participating in the game.

A party composed of Messrs. J. C. Mayhew of Brady, brother, Frank Mayhew and wife of Jonesboro, Ark., and son, Avner Mayhew and family of Fort Worth, enjoyed a fishing and outing trip on the North Llano river the past week. J. C. reports an abundance of fish and the finest and fattest squirrels he ever set a tooth in. Consequently the trip was an entire success and a most pleasant event.

HALF BUSHEL OF FISH AT A MEAL--THAT'S WHAT 31 PEOPLE CAN CONSUME

How would you like to cook a half bushel of fish at every meal? Some task, eh? But when there are 31 folks to take a hand in the cooking, not to mention the catching and cleaning, the task becomes somewhat simplified. At any rate that is the record brought back by M. F. Fuller and party upon their return Saturday from a camping and fishing spree on the San Saba river at the mouth of Lost Creek. Included in the party were the families of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fuller, Ben, Louis, Claude and Ed Baker, Oscar Squyres and Tom Elliot—totaling 31 individuals. Not only did they cook a whopper of a pan full of fish every meal, but they caught all the fish they wanted or could consume—but they didn't have a single one left over to bring home.

BOYS AGRICULTURAL CLUB MEETING AND PIG SHOW HELD LAST SATURDAY

Last Saturday the boys in the agricultural clubs met in the court house and received their third lesson in stock judging. The boys all had a good time and received some wholesome instruction in stock judging. A part of this lesson was judging and scoring several pigs that were on exhibit at the big show. The boys voted to have the next meeting in the afternoon instead of the forenoon. So don't forget to be at the next meeting July 10th at 2:00 p. m.

There were twenty pigs exhibited and all who saw them were unanimous in their praise of this better stock. A good sized crowd was around the pens most all the day. We hope this show will be repeated again and on a larger scale.

TEMPLE BOOSTERS--200 STRONG--TO DESCEND ON BRADY THURSDAY MORN

THIRTY-SIX PIECE BAND TO MAKE MUSIC--PLENTY LIVE WIRES TO MAKE NOISE--A THREE-QUARTER HOUR STOP IN BRADY--THAT'S THE SCHEDULE.

Temple boosters, 200 strong—announce their intention of visiting Brady in the cool of the morning of Wednesday, June the 17th. They are scheduled to arrive in Brady at 9:00 a. m. and to take their departure at 9:45 a. m. The interim will be spent in getting acquainted, boosting trade and saying, "Don't you remember the time we came out here and you Brady folks served us that chicken dinner? Yum! Yum!!"

But, said to say, there will be no repetition of that famous chicken dinner. The train schedule puts the boosters in Brady too early for dinner and too late for breakfast, and they couldn't very well delay their stay in Brady until dinner hour because they want to be home in Temple by 9:00 p. m. (Evidently the curfew rings in Temple).

But, speaking about chicken dinners, that was some feast Brady served the Templeites when they came to Brady some seven or eight years ago. Mine Host H. N. Cook, of the Queen hotel, had charge of that chicken dinner, and he left nothing undone towards making it a complete success. F. M. Campbell was placed in charge of the barbecuing of the 175 fat, juicy, toothsome "yaller-legged" chickens, and he browned them to a queen's taste. F. M. is still hereabouts, and could duplicate the performance, boys! Then G. R. and Willie White and a whole bunch of our own epicures, served that afore-said chicken dinner. My! My!! "Them were the happy days!"

Temple folks won't get to smack their lips over Brady chickens this trip! Instead they are going to give us Brady folks a treat. They are bringing with them a 36-piece band which will furnish joyous music upon their arrival and play a dirge as they take their departure. They are bringing with them buttons, badges, streamers, banners, flags and what-not souvenirs—just as mementoes. Not that we will need mementoes to remind us of their visit here, but just as a sort of an "Ain't you glad we came" token.

Too, the Temple Telegram's airplane is expected to escort the boosters, and pilot them on an "air-line" to the best city side of Temple. Incidentally E. K. Williams of the Temple Telegram will distribute copies of the Telegram from the airplane.

Bradyites will be out in force to meet the boosters. We'll have to ask them to pardon our appearance, for Brady's building activities have cluttered up some of our main thoroughfares, and given Brady a "sorter" Overall club appearance—but we are coming out of it nicely, thank you, and are getting bigger, better and more good-looking every day.

So welcome to Brady, Temple boosters. We're glad you came! Here is the schedule of the Temple "Get-Together Excursion" for the two days, June 16-17th:

LYRIC THEATRE BOOKS SOME GREAT FEATURES FOR PRODUCTION SOON

Julius Levy, proprietor of the Lyric theatre, announces having been successful in booking some of the greatest features and best-advertised productions on the market, and these great productions are to be shown at the theatre within the next few weeks.

Mr. Levy has definitely decided to make Brady his permanent home, and will, as usual, use his very best efforts in making the Lyric the best theatre of entertainment the movie screen has to offer.

For tonight (Tuesday) "The Unpardonable Sin," one of the most widely famed pictures in the U. S. will be shown. It has the endorsement of many of America's greatest citizens, and the late Theodore Roosevelt wrote a strong recommendation of the play.

On Thursday night next, will be seen that great and realistic reproduction of the horrors through which Armenia passed, the "Auction of Souls." This story is reproduced from the book "Ravished Armenia," and tells of the martyrdom of Christian Armenia.

On Tuesday night of next week will be shown "The River's End," a story of the Royal Mounted Police, and one which every red-blooded American will thoroughly enjoy.

Other features which have already been contracted by Mr. Levy include the "Mid-Air Robbery," featuring Omer Locklear, the Texas boy who has achieved world-wide renown thru his marvelous stunts in mid-air; "Right to Happiness," "Blind Husband," "Virgin of Stamboul," that uproarious comedy, "Down on the Farm," Norma Talmadge in "Daughter of Two Worlds," Constance Talmadge in "Love's Express," and "In Search of a Sinner," "Soldiers of Fortune," and many others.

While many of these productions have brought from $2.00 to $10.00 a seat in some of the metropolitan cities, the price in Brady remains the same as always, 15c and 25c, including war tax.

WHITE WELL NO. 4 DRILLED IN LAST SATURDAY MORN

The White Well No. 4 was brought in last Saturday by Driller C. J. Vater at a depth of 381 ft., and gives every indication of equalling in production the other wells already brought in in this field. Well No. 3 has been placed on the pump, and is reported to have pumped twenty barrels last Saturday, and seventeen barrels last Friday.

T. B. ADAMS BUYS OF JOHN D. SHIPMAN WORLD'S GREATEST PIECE OF WOLF-PROOF FENCE

T. B. Adams of Sonora bought the John D. Shipman ranch sixteen miles south of San Angelo in Lipan Flat Saturday, and will turn it into one of the finest stock ranches in West Texas. The consideration was said to be approximately $100,000.

The ranch consists of 5,103 acres, all of which is enclosed by a nine-foot wolf-proof fence. It is said to be the finest piece of fence in the world. There are twelve miles of the fence about the ranch which costs at least $2,500 a mile. It is cross-fenced with lighter wire, into nine pastures. Mr. Adams also bought 800 acres of adjoining land from G. B. Estes at $20 an acre. Possession on both deals will be given November 1.

Mr. Adams expects to move his flock of 1,500 pure-bred Rambouillet sheep to this ranch from his headquarters ranch in Sutton county. He has papers on 500 of this herd and the remaining are subject to register. Mr. Adams has not decided whether he will move to the Lipan ranch.

Vernon Shipman, son of J. D. Shipman, who has been in charge of his father's ranch just sold to Mr. Adams, will go to the Shipman ranch sixteen miles north of San Angelo. This property is to be extensively improved.—Menard Messenger.

INCREASE IN SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Effective July 1st next, the yearly subscription price of The Brady Standard will be increased to $2.00 per year. To points more than 50 miles from Brady, subscription will be $2.50 per year.

The increase is made necessary on account of the increasing abnormal condition of the print-paper market.

Earlier in the year, The Standard secured enough paper, as it thought, to run us through the year. The steady increase in our subscription list, together with heavy use of our stock of print paper for other work, has practically depleted our stock. We have requested quotations from half a dozen different supply houses, and the best quotation we have been able to get is 12c per pound—and, at that, they did not have a sheet of paper on hand to sell. Another house advised that they would make us a shipment of a fraction of a ton at whatever price market conditions demanded at time of shipment. Before the war print paper sold for around 3c per pound.

The Standard has delayed making an announcement of increase in price as long as possible, but must now submit to the inevitable. Should the price of print paper ever again return to anything like normal, we will be just as eager to announce a reduction in the subscription price, as we have been reluctant to announce an increase.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

A New York jury a few days ago pronounced John William O'Bannon incurably insane. The verdict was arrived at, it was said, largely on the manner in which O'Bannon gave his testimony and upon information and expert advice furnished by trained alienists, all of the latter agreeing that the man was crazy and could never be cured. The chief defense of the victim was that he had started early in youth with no capital whatever and through his own efforts had been able to build up a fortune of something like $15,000,000.

It was brought out during the trial that O'Bannon made about $2,000,000 this year during his stay at a private asylum where he had been sent for treatment. It is said that he continued to direct his enterprises with a very satisfactory degree of success and on the stand evidence was offered to the effect that during his stay at the asylum he showed the proprietors how they could quadruple their profits without increasing their facilities. Another point offered in the case was that he showed the asylum barber how he might add materially to his profits without additional trouble or expense. A New York paper described this strange fellow as "brisk, well groomed and athletic."

With all this evidence on the side of the defense, the erstwhile disinterested observer begins to wonder whether or not the jury did not make a mistake in rendering its verdict. Instead of being incurably insane, as the experts testified, it seems that the defendant is an incurable organizer; for if his ability is what it is said to be many big industrial concerns would be glad enough to put him on the payroll at a fabulous salary.

On the bare face of these facts it appears that if anybody connected with this case is nutty, it must be, not the defendant, but the jury and the experts who testified against him. If lunacy enables the victim to clean up something like $2,000,000 a year in honorable enterprises and quadruple profits without adding to the facilities on hand, there is going to be a mad rush for the bug-house, and soon. The average individual merely wonders how they get that way—not how they get insane, of course; but how they get to where they can claim somebody else is crazy because he manifests great executive and organizing ability.—Temple Telegram.

THE REAL TERROR IN RUSSIA.

A member of a British labor delegation just returned from Russia says that the real terror in that country is not wrought by crimson swords or heartless human butchers and head-hunters, but by hunger and disease.

hungry, he says, and it is but a short and inevitable step from hunger to disease.

For this deplorable and dangerous situation the Britisher is loath to blame the bolshevik, though he has faint praise for the red regime. It will take them at least two generations, he believes, to reach their political and social ideals.

The observation of this envoy, who returns with apparently first-hand information as to conditions in Russia, ought to be very interesting. Still, however, it appears that while in that country he was permitted to view the situation only through bolshevik spectacles, for he returns with the same stories and pleas that dyed-in-the-wool bolshevik agents have been putting up for some time in the hope of bringing about a resumption of trade relations with the rest of the world. It is the same old story of hunger and disease as regards economic conditions; the same old story of a stable and conscientious government just ahead as regards political conditions.

But, shorn of whatever propaganda element these tales coming out of Russia may have, still enough real and trustworthy information leaks through to establish the fact that conditions in Russia must be had. One does not have to have a very vivid imagination or a very keen sense of deduction to know that with all the political and social turmoil that has been going on in Russia for the last several years the plight of the people must be terrible. With such chaos obtaining, production everywhere is handicapped, and in some places it must be wholly demoralized. It is a safe bet, then, that at least half the people of Russia are underfed, and hungry people can never make progress. They are more inclined to tread the wicked paths of life, for their very surroundings tend to tempt them into wrongdoing. They get the idea that government is wrong, that Christianity is wrong, that the world is against them. With such a view of life, crime and terrorism, chaos and famine, are inevitable. If conditions of that sort become widespread, it follows that the people will hardly be able to save themselves. Only a miracle in political and industrial affairs can serve the rescue; for people so burdened and so worried are not inclined to save or help themselves.

In a very obvious way, then, it devolves upon the outside world to render assistance.

We do not mean by this, that the bolshevik regime should be recognized, but we do mean that the present anomalous policy of the allies and the United States is getting nowhere, and will never get anywhere.

We are neither at war with the reds, nor at peace with them. We do not want to see the Russians suffer, but we cannot succor them.

The problem does not affect the United States so vitally as it does the European countries, and it is the allied powers who are responsible for the present policy, not only of Europe, but of the United States, toward Russia.

The allies got off on the wrong foot when they sent forces into Russia to fight the bolshevik, and that should not have been permitted to extend over into peace times, and now the world is groping in the dark as regards dealing with Russia.

The allies and the United States owe it not only to the Russians, but to themselves as well, to hit upon a definite and helpful policy and follow it rigidly. If that means a resumption of trade relations with that country, whatever pangs may come from the knowledge of giving in to the red regime will more than be offset by the knowledge of helping to rout hunger and disease from a suffering people.—Temple Telegram.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bryson upon the arrival of a fine baby girl at their home on last Wednesday, June 9th. The little Miss weighed 6 1/2 pounds upon her advent into this world.

Herbert Marshall who has recently received his B. A. degree in Electrical Engineering from State university left Thursday night for Pittsburgh, Pa., where he has accepted a position with the Westinghouse Electric Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Steffins and son, Karl Keller, arrived Sunday from Ranger on a two-weeks vacation trip, which they expect to spend here and at Brownwood, visiting friends and enjoying some fishing and camping. Karl is looking fit, and says that although he has been working mighty hard as express agent at Ranger, the work has evidently agreed with him.

B. A. Hallum left Sunday night for Brownwood, enroute to Flint, Mich., where he hopes to be able to secure at least enough Buicks to fill the orders already booked for these popular cars. Mr. Hallum was one of a considerable delegation of Texas dealers going to Flint, advice having been received by Texas representatives from the factory that the only way to secure cars at present would be to make personal representation at Buick headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ramsay and son, Edwin, are here from Eastland looking after business matters, while guests of friends. Mr. Ramsay states that he has been doing a splendid business at Eastland since opening his planing mill there, and, in fact, has worked so hard that he feels the need of a rest. He expects, shortly after his return to Eastland, to complete preparations for a trip with his family to California, where they will visit his children. He will leave the planing mill at Eastland in charge of J. E. Snavelly, while W. J. Blair will continue to look after Mr. Ramsay's local affairs.

Guy Bourland arrived Saturday from Fort Worth, and will be in charge of the cleaning, pressing and altering department at G. C. Kirk's. Mr. Bourland has been engaged in this line of work for a number of years, and for the past four years has been with Washer Bros. at Fort Worth. He is a young man of pleasant address, and his experience and knowledge of the tailoring business will make him a valuable acquisition to the Kirk store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Marshall and daughter, Janie, returned last week from Austin, where they attended the commencement exercises at State university. They made the trip in their car, and upon their return were accompanied by their sons, Herbert and Sabine, who have been attending State. Herbert, who has been taking a course in electrical engineering, has received his degree of Bachelor of Science. After a visit here for a couple days, he left Thursday night for Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will be employed with the Westinghouse Electrical works during the vacation period. He expects to return to Austin next term to take 5th year work and qualify for the M. A. degree.

B. B. Gabbert is here from Corpus Christi on a business visit and is incidentally greeting his many friends here. Baxter has been at Corpus Christi the past seven years, and says they have as fine land there as can be found anywhere. However, he says no place on earth will beat the Brady county, and that he and his family miss their good old McCulloch county friends more than anything else. He and his family have been enjoying good health during their residence on the coast, but the cool Brady breezes felt better to him than any salt sea breeze. He reports having had plenty rain this season, and, if anything, too much rain. Their crops are fine, and prospects the best ever. He brought with him a couple bolls of cotton which show almost matured. Mr. Gabbert says Corpus Christi is rising from the storm ruins a better and more attractive place than ever. Most of the resident district was located upon the high bluff, and was practically undamaged by the storm. The North Beach suffered most heavily, being swept almost clean. The main business section has been restored and everything is back to normal, with scarce a trace of the great disaster that befell the city and surrounding country.

CONSTIPATION

And Sour Stomach Caused This Lady Much Suffering. Black-Draught Relieved.

Meadorsville, Ky.—Mrs. Pearl Patrick, of this place, writes: "I was very constipated. I had sour stomach and was so uncomfortable. I went to the doctor. He gave me some pills. They weakened me and seemed to tear up my digestion. They would gripe me and afterwards it seemed I was more constipated than before. I heard of Black-Draught and decided to try it. I found it just what I needed. It was an easy laxative, and not had to swallow. My digestion soon improved. I got well of the sour stomach, my bowels soon seemed normal, no more griping, and I would take a dose now and then, and was in good shape. I cannot say too much for Black-Draught for it is the finest laxative one can use." Theford's Black-Draught has for many years been found of great value in the treatment of stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Easy to take, gentle and reliable in its action, leaving no bad after-effects, it has won the praise of thousands of people who have used it.

This is No. 41 of a series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association. They will appear weekly in these columns.

By MRS. ISABEL S. WALLACE.

The education of young girls should prepare them for the greatest work in the world—wifehood and motherhood, and I wish they could all have courses in home-nursing, domestic science and kindergarten training.

My training as a kindergarten taught me many things, among them keeping strictly to a schedule; so my baby was fed, bathed and put to bed regularly. Habit is formed early in life, and can help to make or mar character, depending on whether habits are good or bad. This carrying out of a regular schedule was not always easy, for it meant sacrifice of many pleasures. But I wanted to be a good mother first of all, and I was rewarded by having a happy, good baby. Even now at six years old there is no fuss at nap time or bedtime. One of the things taught unconsciously in the kindergarten is regularity and promptness, and these can be taught in the home just as well.

Long before baby could talk she knew the little play for the fingers, "Here's a ball for Baby."

Here's a ball for Baby—
Big and soft and round!
Here is Baby's hammer—
O, how he can pound!
Here is Baby's music—
Clapping, clapping so!
Here are Baby's soldiers,
Standing in a row!
Here's Baby's trumpet,
Toot-too-too. Toot-too!
Here's the way that Baby
Plays at "Peep-a-boo!"
Here's a big umbrella—
Keep the Baby dry!
Here's the Baby's cradle—
Rock-a-baby by!

—Emillie Poulsson.

The ball is made with the two hands rounded together; the hammer by doubling up the hands and pounding, one to top of the other. Baby's soldiers are made by holding all the fingers up straight. The hands are clasped together for the music, and doubled up, one in front of the other for a trumpet. For peekaboo the fingers are spread in front of the eyes so that baby can see between them. The umbrella is made by placing the palm of one hand on the index finger of the other, and the cradle by putting the two hands together, inside of the palms touching and outer sides open.

As I said the words of this little play and made the motions, baby would try to make the motions, too. She also knew "Five Little Squirrels," "Good Mother Hen" and "Little Squirrel Living Here." Of course she could not play them perfectly, but she loved them and wanted me to play them for her over and over.

Baby also loved music and even when very tiny would stop crying to listen to soft music. She has always loved stories also. First we took up "Mother Goose Rhymes." I would repeat them over and over to baby as I sat sewing and she played on the floor, and before she was two years old she knew a great many of them. She also knew the words of several little songs, such as "Rock-a-bye Baby." It was enchanting to hear her say them in her sweet baby way. I never actually taught her the songs, however, simply singing them over and over again.

Baby played with two other little girls from the age of three until over four. One was younger and the other older than she. The two little girls did not have much home training, as their mother was a society woman and left the children to the care of a maid. They almost lived at our house. When the children grew quarrelsome, I usually suggested a party. The little table and chairs were gayly set on the piazza, weather permitting, and milk, graham biscuits and dates were served or grape juice and arrowroot biscuit. Sometimes an apple or an orange was carefully prepared for the occasion. Such a party always stopped the quarreling. Sitting down rested them and eating quieted them. Then after they had finished I left my work and told them a story. Oh, how eager their little faces were!

One day, the younger visitor, who was spoiled and selfish and consequently quarrelsome, was making things unpleasant for the other two. I entered the room and quietly took her on my lap. She knew she had been naughty and was a little afraid of me and also curious as to what was going to happen. The other two children watched with awe and wonder on their little faces. Very quietly I told a story my grandmother used to tell me about "Naughty Spotty." It made a great impression on them all, and, as I had foreseen, it was not necessary to say one word of direct censure to the naughty child.

Both of our little visitors were story hungry. Their mother said she could not tell stories. By reading a story over several times and getting its meaning and spirit, anyone can tell a story. Don't be afraid to put expression into your voice and face. No stories should be told which may frighten a child. The children may dream about them or lie awake in fear; such stories also make them afraid in the dark.

Then there are pictures. Good pictures and picture books are very necessary for children. One or two pictures that are worth while are better than many poor ones. Since babyhood my little girl has known and loved pictures. She learned nearly all of the animals in that way. She has also learned how to handle a valuable book and now she can be trusted to go to the bookcase and take out and replace a book after looking at the pictures, and asking about them. Good pictures are an education to all children and they love them.

In kindergarten children play with blocks among other things, at first with the simplest kind, then with more complicated and larger sets. They are directed and taught how and what to build, and it trains the eyes and hands, teaching accuracy and construction. At home most children have blocks and can build on the floor and love to build for hours. My husband builds castles and all kinds of wonderful houses with our little girl, and in this way the building becomes more and more instructive and worth while.

Crayons have played a large part in our daughter's life. She loves to draw and can really draw well. I have drawn simple things for her and she tries to copy them. She also tries to draw what she sees and thus in these two ways she is acquiring another medium of self-expression.

EARLY MORNING CROW OF A ROOSTER IS BEYOND THE PROVINCE OF ALL COURTS

Minneapolis, Minn., June 12.—The rooster's early morning crow cannot be restrained by a court order.

Such was the decision of Judge W. W. Bardwell, in district court here, after hearing a petition from Dr. C. F. Dight, a former alderman of this city, seeking an injunction to restrain sleep disturbing noises which, he said, came from his neighbor's house and yard.

In his complaint, Dr. Dight alleged his neighbor has a squeaky pump which was operated during slumber hours; that dancing was going on at his neighbor's house at all hours of the night and morning; that a phonograph was being played when its hearers should have been in quiet repose; that pots and pans were thrown maliciously about the kitchen, creating an irritating din, and last but not least, residing in the backyard of said neighbor was the owner of a disturbing crow, all of which curtailed his sleep.

The court, in an opinion from the bench, said it would issue a temporary restraining order requiring that the neighbor not make unnecessary noises at unseemly hours, but that it was beyond the power of the court to repress the rooster from his crow or restrain him from using it at certain hours.

SWAT THE ROOSTER—IN-FERTILE EGGS ASSURE YOU A BETTER MARKET

The rooster makes the fertile egg. This fertile germ in hot weather quickly becomes the blood ring, which spoils the egg for food and for the market. Summer heat has the same effect as the hen or incubator does on the fertile egg. Kill, sell, or pen your rooster. Hens not running with a male bird will produce eggs that keep best and market best.

If you want to keep your eggs till prices are better you can easily do so. Put the fresh eggs in water glass and they will keep eight to twelve months. Water glass, or sodium silicate can be bought at drug stores. Mix one quart with nine quarts of boiled and cooled water. Place this solution in a five gallon crock and place in dark cool place. Eggs can be gathered daily and put in the solution. Caution should be used to keep at least two inches of the solution above the water and be careful to allow no evaporation. Keep well covered.

"How We Cleared Our Summer Home of Rats," by Mrs. Perry

"When we opened our seaside home last May, it was alive with rats. They'd gnawed all the upholstery. We cleaned them out in a week with RAT-SNAP. I prefer this rat killer because it comes in cake form, no mixing. Saves dirtying hands and plates." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by O. D. Mann & Sons, and Trigg Drug Co.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

FOREMAN SAYS IT SAVED HIS LIFE

Mahoney Never expected to Get Out of Bed Again—Now Back at Work.

"It was talked among my friends that I was going to die and I don't believe any one ever had a much closer call," said James Mahoney, a well-known foreman of the Richard-Naustadt Construction Co., living at 22 East 15th St., Los Angeles, Calif.

"Closely following an injury to my back, my whole system seemed to give way," he continued. "There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and I could not eat a thing without intense pain afterward. My appetite left me completely and I got so weak I could not even lift my feet to go up the steps. I was in misery all the time and could not straighten up for the pain in my stomach. Then I became constipated and my kidneys began troubling me so I could not sleep sound at night. Before these troubles started I weighed a hundred and forty-five pounds but dropped off until I actually did not weigh but sixty-five, but if there was ever a living skeleton I was. I could hear my friends who came to see say: 'Poor Jim! he can't last much longer,' and I had no hope of ever getting up. Finally I was told that nothing more could be done except to operate and I was too weak to stand that.

"A friend urged me to try Tanlac and agreed to slip me a bottle as my wife objected to anything but prescribed medicines. Well, to make a long story short, I soon improved so much that I quit taking everything but Tanlac and now I am back at work feeling as strong and fit as I ever did in my life. I weigh one hundred and thirty pounds and I haven't an ailment of any kind. My wife now thinks as I do, that Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Store, in Mercury by J. T. Matlock and in Rochelle by C. W. Carr.
