

THIRD INSTALLMENT BILLION DOLLAR RAIN IN McCULLOCH CO.

GENERAL RAINFALL COMES MOST OPPORTUNELY IN McCULLOCH CO.

INCH AVERAGE RAIN VISITS ALL SECTIONS OF COUNTY RAIN REPORTS SAY MOST GENERAL RAIN EVER HAD—CORN GREATLY BENEFITED.

"Just as the doctor ordered," is the general verdict upon last Saturday's rain. In fact, a better rain could not have been wished for. It was the first really general rain of the year—in fact, according to press reports, it was the most general rain on record, one daily paper reporting that the rain extended from West Texas to Atlanta, Ga., and from Mexico to Canada. All sections of McCulloch county were visited, and everywhere the rain was welcomed. From 4:00 o'clock until 6:00 o'clock Saturday morning the downpour was heavy, and the total precipitation was an inch upon the average. A high wind accompanied the rain, and blew down corn in many places, but did no material damage, since the corn will straighten up.

While another rain in a couple weeks' time will come in good turn, yet the moisture just had is sufficient to assure the making of at least a fair crop. Corn, which was just in roasting ear, will be filled out by the moisture, and should make as good as has ever been had here. Cotton, while not in actual need of rain, will nevertheless be greatly benefited.

There is much acreage laying out in McCulloch county this year, due to the fact that farmers got such a late start with this year's work. However, it is thought that while the grain acreage is much smaller than last year, the cotton acreage has not been materially reduced, and much of last year's grain land is this year in cotton.

Every indication points to the making of another bumper crop in McCulloch county. The splendid season will do much to overcome the lateness of the crops, and the reduced acreage will give opportunity for more intensive cultivation.

TEMPLE TELEGRAM'S REPORT ON THE TRADE EXCURSION TRIP OF TEMPLE BOOSTERS

The following is the Temple Telegram's report on the second days' trade excursion trip of Temple boosters:

Welcomed at Brady.
The second day of the trade trip opened at Brady with even greater enthusiasm than characterized the first day out. After the parade had encircled the McCulloch court house to the strains of martial music, the boosters drew up under the shade trees on the lawn where a large crowd of Brady citizens had gathered.

Dr. T. P. Grant delivered the address of welcome, placing the resources and hospitality of the city at the disposal of the Temple troopers. H. L. Dailey then introduced Andrew McBeath, a member of the Temple Telegram staff, saying that the Telegram was the best newspaper in a town of Temple's class in the United States. Mr. Dailey announced that Mr. McBeath was also secretary of the Lions club and the president, secretary, treasurer and only living member of the "Flowers of the Living Club."

Cheering for Speakers.
Mr. McBeath said in the outset that it was time to start some cheering to the speakers. Abundant applause followed at intervals. He disposed of the advantages of Temple by telling of the little girl who upon seeing the Niagara Falls remarked that their creek at home could do it if it had a place. Temple has a place, he said. Brady citizens must come through Temple.

He spoke of co-operation, stating that the visit would benefit Brady as much as Temple.

P. L. Downs Jr. was then introduced and after a few words of appreciation of Mr. McBeath's activities in the way of flowers for the living, unwrapped and presented him (on behalf of the women's federated clubs of Brady, he said) a small cabbage head on the end of a stick.

McBeath and his bouquet were photographed at Richland Springs.

During the speaking at Brady the airplane "Temple Telegram" did the nose dive and other acrobatic flying stunts over the city.

So hospitable was Brady that the train had to stop for Messrs. P. L. Downs, H. L. Dailey, W. K. Wingfield and G. V. Brindley.

FIRST ANNUAL BARBECUE OF BRADY FIRE DEPARTMENT RED LETTER DAY

ENTERTAIN IN ROYAL FASHION OVER 125 GUESTS—DINNER, ORATORY, SWIMMING PARTIES, ETC., FEATURE OF DAY—SERVICE OF FIRE BOYS EXTOLLED.

The first annual barbecue of the Brady Fire department was a red-letter event. With over 125 guests in attendance, the occasion was unanimously declared one of the most enjoyable ever held here, and as hosts, the fire boys were given rank with the cleverest and best in the land. Five barbecued goats furnished the mainstay of the dinner, with unlimited quantities of bread, pickles, pies and cakes to add relish to the occasion, and with an abundance of Budweiser, La Peria, Southern Select, soda water, lemonade and hot coffee to slake the thirst.

The entertainment was staged at the Country Club house, use of which had been kindly loaned the fireboys, and the guests assembled early in the day to meet with one another and to watch the preparations being made for the big dinner. Tables were spread in the shady pecan grove, and with customary chivalry, the fireboys announced "ladies first" would be served. Over sixty ladies and children were assembled at the first table, and there was no lack of enjoyment of the dinner apparent. Hose Company No. 2 furnished real "service" and acquitted themselves with utmost credit, being solicitous as to the welfare of every diner. If there was anyone who failed to get his fill it was not due to the negligence of any member of this company.

Following the dinner, and while the gentlemen present were enjoying their cigars, M. P. Wegner announced himself as orator of the day, and, to the delight of all, acquitted himself in most creditable manner. His review of the Brady Fire department and its activities dated back to the time of its organization in 1904—16 years ago. A resume of his address appears elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. Wegner was followed by J. B. Whiteman, chief of the Brady Fire department. First of all, Mr. Whiteman expressed, upon behalf of the fire department, appreciation of the generosity of Brady merchants and business men in their efforts to make the barbecue the success it was. He explained that this was the first time in their history the fire boys had ever asked for donations, and the response accorded them was most gratifying. To Messrs. John Hill, G. B. Await, J. E. White and Matthew Capps went credit for the contribution of four goats, the fifth having been purchased by the company. To the Rhode bakery was due thanks for the donation of bread; to Radford Grocery Co., Knox-Johnson Co., Walker-Smith and Brady Bottling Works, for the cold drinks; to Myers Bros. and Moffatt Bros. & Jones, for pickles; to F. R. Wulff, for the sugar, and to Mann Bros. for the ice. Appreciation was also expressed to the members of the Country Club for the use of their grounds and club-house, and also to H. P. Jordan for the proffered use of his summer camp. Especial thanks were due the ladies for their generous supply of pies and cakes. Mr. Whiteman then called to attention the need of a permanent home for the fire boys and the fact that the fire department was acting as sponsors for the more to build a city hall. He asked the citizens to co-operate with them in their efforts, and stated that he was becoming more optimistic every day upon the matter, and that the building of a city hall now appeared virtually assured. Defining an optimist, Mr. Whiteman said, in his opinion, an optimist is a man who wore both belt and suspenders. H. P. Jordan responded with his broadest smile and best bow to the laughter and applause that greeted the definition.

Mayor J. E. Shropshire then gave an illuminative talk upon the proposition of the building of a city hall, stating that not only was the proposition feasible, but the time had come when Brady must make permanent arrangements for the accommodation of the various departments of city government, chief among which were the fire department and department, city secretary and city marshal's offices, and the city council. After looking up the matter from a legal standpoint, Mr. Shropshire had reached the decision that the plan of building the city hall upon the courthouse square was not practical, since this ground could not be diverted to such purposes. In this opinion, various other Brady attorneys had coincided. He stated that the city council was ready and willing to do everything in their power to help the matter along, and suggested that the fire department, since they sponsored the move, appoint a committee to secure proposition for the location of the city hall, and lay such propositions before the council at an early meeting. Mr. Shropshire stated further that in order to place itself in financial condition to make the improvements, the city council had decided to raise the property assessments of the city of Brady from its present valuation of 61% to 80%, explaining that the law contemplated that all property should be rendered at its full market value, although Brady valuations heretofore had been placed at only about 61%. Mr. Shropshire also paid tribute to the fire department, and the great work they had done in saving Brady property from destruction, and as well in the reduction in Brady's key rate, as a result of the efficiency of our fire department, which had resulted in the saving of thousands of dollars to Brady business interests.

Following Mr. Shropshire's address Dr. Marion Rice was called upon for an address, and made what was undoubtedly the shortest speech ever delivered upon so momentous an occasion. The meeting was then adjourned, in order to permit the fire boys and guests to join in the swimming party and other various pastimes decided upon. Before adjournment, however, M. P. Wegner was unanimously elected annual orator for the firemen's barbecues, an honor, which, he acknowledged, would give him free rein to unbosom some of the weighty thoughts which he expected to accumulate between now and one year hence.

BRADY CITY HALL

Brady, Texas, June 17, 1920.

To the Public:

Since our former statements with reference to the building of a city hall, to accommodate the fire department, city council, water and light offices, etc., I have been approached by a number of our citizens advocating the scheme. Now, the only way that I know of to raise the means to accomplish the end, will be by a small bond issue to create a fund for interest on the bonds and a sinking fund, with which to pay the principal of the bonds. This can be done by an increase of the valuations in the assessments for the city government. Property heretofore has been assessed at about 61% of its market value. The law contemplates that it be assessed at its full market value. The city council have decided to raise the assessments to about 80% of the market value of the property, in order to be in financial condition to make the improvements referred to. I am giving this public notice to the end that the people may know what is being done, and why. So do not be surprised when you get notice of a raise in the assessed value of your property.

Respectfully,

J. E. SHROPSHIRE, Mayor.

PRINT PAPER 12c—BUT NO PAPER

New Orleans, June 5, 1920.

Mr. H. F. Schwenker,
Brady, Texas.

Dear Sir:—Referring to your inquiry to our Dallas office for Newsprint.

Our price today is 12c per lb, net f.o.b. New Orleans, but, of course, is not guaranteed, and is subject to change without notice. As a matter of fact we have none of this paper in stock at present, and therefore would not have a price on same. We expect a car to arrive in about a week or ten days, and while we cannot guarantee to give you a ton, we would endeavor to give you as much as we can, dependent upon circumstances, and at the price prevailing at time of shipment.

We believe you are familiar enough with the circumstances to appreciate that we are obliged to distribute the stock on the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number, and as the demand is usually always twice as great as the supply we receive, this necessitates trimming each order down to the minimum quantity.

We shall be pleased to have your order and will take care of it to the best of our ability.

Yours very truly,

HONEST INJUR.

If the party who is responsible for McCulloch county's latest and best rain, will make himself known, we can assure him of a lifetime job and pension.

CLEAN-UP.

This morning started the clean-up week in Brownwood, and if the people respond during the week to the appeal of Mayor Looney the work will be completed long before Saturday night rolls around.

Brownwood has not been thoroughly cleaned in years. It is now no more unsanitary than the average town, but Brownwood doesn't measure itself by average standards. None but the very best of sanitary conditions are good enough here, and it is for the purpose of again attaining these standards—set long years ago—that the Mayor has asked the entire citizenship to devote this week to cleaning the whole town.

Trash that can be burned should be destroyed on the premises. Cans, bottles and other rubbish that can not be burned should be raked up and placed in barrels or boxes near enough—not in—the alleys or streets that the trash wagons can pick it up and haul it away.

One week of hard work by everybody will give Brownwood a right to again claim to be the cleanest town in Texas. And when it is the cleanest town it is the most beautiful town in the South.

Everybody together. Make it snappy. Do it thoroughly. A clean town, a beautiful town, a healthful and happy town.—Brownwood Bulletin.

What applies to Brownwood, applies equally to Brady. Just the other day, a Brady lady remarked to this editor, "Why don't you get the Brady citizens to clean up? An out-of-town visitor told me Brady has as beautiful homes as any place in Texas, but that the town itself was, generally speaking, filthy." So the facts are becoming apparent even to visitors. Perhaps even to greater degree than to home folks, because constant association sometimes dulls a person's keenness of perception. There are a number of Brady citizens who have cleaned their places and put them in spic and span condition. They are to be warmly commended. But those folks who neglect to follow the good example are bringing censure upon our city. As in everything else of public nature, someone must start the ball rolling. Cannot some city official or civic organization take the lead in this matter and enlist every Brady citizen in a "Clean Up" move?

STATE PRESS COMMENT.

"When it became necessary for Uncle Sam to raise the billions of dollars against Germany, the first thing our leaders did was to enlist the help of the country newspapers," says the Spearman Reporter. "The weekly papers throughout the land printed page after page of free matter and thought nothing of it. The government is still sending out enough matter, which it expects printed free of charge to fill every weekly paper in the land every week. But now the weekly papers are at war—fighting for their very existence. The print paper situation brought this war. Jobbers can no longer fill orders for print paper, and without it the country papers must suspend. The big daily papers send their representative to the mill and buy the entire output. The country papers depend on the jobbers for their supply, and when the jobbers can not fill their orders they are down and out. The country papers—the boys in the forks of the creek—came to the front loyally and without a murmur and helped raise the money and army which defeated Germany. Now it is up to Uncle Sam to come to the rescue of the country papers. Something can and should be done. If something does not happen to relieve the situation the days of the old home paper are few. The Reporter is supplied for possibly four months. Af-

INCREASE IN SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Effective July 1st next, the yearly subscription price of The Brady Standard will be increased to $2.00 per year. To points more than 50 miles from Brady, subscription will be $2.50 per year.

The increase is made necessary on account of the increasing abnormal condition of the print-paper market.

Earlier in the year, The Standard secured enough paper, as it thought, to run us through the year. The steady increase in our subscription list, together with heavy use of our stock of print paper for other work, has practically depleted our stock. We have requested quotations from half a dozen different supply houses, and the best quotation we have been able to get is 12c per pound—and, at that, they did not have a sheet of paper on hand to sell. Another house advised that they would make us a shipment of a fraction of a ton at whatever price market conditions demanded at time of shipment. Before the war print paper sold for around 3c per pound.

The Standard has delayed making an announcement of increase in price as long as possible, but must now submit to the inevitable. Should the price of print paper ever again return to anything like normal, we will be just as eager to announce a reduction in the subscription price, as we have been reluctant to announce an increase.

THE BRADY STANDARD.

ter that—without something happens—is, we don't know what."

THEN AND NOW.

The most succinct comparison of "then" and "now" in print paper prices is from the Marshall Messenger, which is quite superfluous, indeed—the following:

"New Orleans, Aug. 31, 1912. 'Messenger Co., Marshall, Texas.

"Dear Sirs: We can ship you car of roll paper, net 30 days, $2.80 delivered in Marshall.

"E. C. PALMER & CO."
"New York, May 13, 1920.

"Dear Sirs: For immediate shipment subject to prior sale, car of roll paper, is $14.50 f.o.b. mill. Wire if interested.

"MAURICE O'MEARA CO."
In other words, in 1912—and those prices or even less continued up to at least as far as 1916, with 2 per cent off for cash—a 50,000-pound car of paper cost delivered $1,400; in 1920 a 50,000-pound car of paper costs $7,805. 'Tis no wonder a lot of the boys' hair is getting gray and thin. At present prices, the Record-Chronicle is using almost $1,200 worth of paper a month; if all its 1,928 paying subscribers pay 50c every month, without any reduction, the total subscription receipts would be only about $200 less than the cost of the blank paper.—Denton Record-Chronicle.

GOING A LONG DISTANCE.

The camel can go eight days without a drink, but—

The Brady Standard's Classy-Fi-Ads get results more than a year after their publication.

Going some!

When Mrs. J. F. Biggs lost a valuable brooch over a year ago, she advertised for the missing article, without getting results—immediate results. In the meantime, the family removed to Sweetwater where they are making their home. Just the other day, the missing article was returned to them through the medium of that almost-forgotten want ad. And thereby hangs a tale.

The finder chanced to be a visitor here, and shortly after finding the little bit of jewelry returned to her home in South Texas. Quite recently a friend from Brady visited her, and the subject of the finding of the brooch was brought up. The Brady visitor recalled having read the Classy-Fi-Ad for the lost brooch, and to her was entrusted the pleasure of seeing it returned to its rightful owner.

The Standard editor was called in to service in the matter of furnishing the address of Mrs. Biggs, and the trinket was sent on its way to bring pleasure to Mrs. Biggs over her long-lost treasure.

The moral is obvious! The man who counts the value of advertising merely by immediate results, rates it entirely too low. Advertising pays—in the long run it pays big dividends.

CHEER UP.

FOR THREE MONTHS HE COULDN'T WORK

Back On the Job Making More Money Than Ever in His Life, He Says.

"For the first time in fifteen years I can sit down and eat a big beef-steak supper and go to bed afterwards and sleep like a log all night long," said George Sanderson, a well-known miner living at 1616 Smith St., Peoria, Ill.

"This Tanlac has overcome a mighty bad case of stomach trouble and rheumatism for me," he continued. "My legs ached and pained so bad I couldn't sleep at night and my hands were so drawn I couldn't use my pick half the time. Everything I ate bloated me up with gas for hours afterwards and I would have the worst cramps in my stomach you ever heard of. Sometimes a cramping spell would hit me when I was in the mine at work and I would have to run out and lie down until it passed off. I finally got in such bad shape I had to quit my job and for three months I was not able to hit a lick of work."

"I saw in the paper where Tanlac had relieved our State Mine Inspector of troubles just like mine, so I decided to try it, too, and sir, it was simply amazing the way Tanlac put me on my feet. I haven't a trace of rheumatism or stomach trouble now and actually believe I am stronger than I ever was in my life. You would think so, too, if you could see the tons of coal I pile up every day—and I am making more money than I ever did. Tanlac is certainly a real medicine and I boost it every chance I have."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Mercury by J. T. Matlock and in Rochelle by C. W. Carr.

The Fuller & Johnson FARM PUMP ENGINE is the most widely known, generally used and highly thought of pumping engine in existence. Users everywhere endorse it as the one dependable pumping plant which supplies the farm with an abundance of water for all purposes at all times and regardless of any and all weather conditions. Its record and reputation is actually made by years of service. The Engine and Pump Jack are combined into a single unit. It sets firmly on any well platform and connects directly to the pump—it fits them all. It will not interfere with the operation of a windmill—in fact, farmers who have windmills welcome and recommend the engine as a most valuable and necessary addition to their pumping equipment.

Kindergarten Helps for Parents

This is No. 42 of a series of articles issued by the National Kindergarten Association. They will appear weekly in these columns.

By MRS. JEAN N. BARRETT.

Dear old Mother Goose, the patron saint of children's music! How much the children of our family owe to her jingles. I can very distinctly remember my father playing with us and trotting us to the rhythm of "Ride a trot horse," "To Boston, to Boston, to buy a penny bun," and "Little bow-wow to the mill."

No child, thoroughly imbued with these rhymes, will have any trouble in comprehending three and four part rhythms, with their varied subdivisions and accents. How much more delightful to have all this rhythmic instinct grow up unconsciously from happy playtime than to have it left until a child is old enough to be conscious of his lack in this respect and has to go through exacting and tiresome drills to overcome it.

Happy the child whose lot is cast in a joyous musical atmosphere! There is thus implanted in his inner being a something which will help him to go through many trials with a brave heart and an unconquerable hope and faith that this is after all a good world.

We constantly hear mothers say, "No, my children have no talent for music and I shall not bother to have them learn anything about it."

"If I could feel that I had in all my life made a few mothers, a few teachers, understand the difference between music as a performance and music as a life element, and thereby gained for a few children this power which more than any other stirs the vital forces by which we live, I should feel that my share of life's troubles were a small price to pay.

A like misapprehension in the domain of art would banish from home all the beautiful pictures and art forms which awaken a love of all the wonderful world of beauty revealed to the seeing eye and the appreciative mind because, perforce, so very, very few children have any talent for drawing, painting or modeling.

One of the first steps in rousing a feeling for music is to lead a child to listen. How much stress is laid in our scheme of education upon teaching a child to observe, to see; how little upon teaching him to hear. The eye is made dominant in all things and we lose much enjoyment which a trained sense of hearing might bring us. God made the birds beautiful, but He also gave them songs, so tender, so thrilling that the very breath stops that we may listen, as we sit at twilight near the home of wood thrush or song sparrow.

To the open ear is not the gentle, silvery murmur of the brook as it calls through the forest as keep a delight as its crystal shimmer in a setting of green, when we have followed its call and found its home?

Let us not forget that the morning stars sang together, and that He who created them meant His children to hear their music in the melodies and harmonies of all His great creation.

The child brought up in the city hasn't the beautiful sounds of nature from which to get his first lessons in listening, but mother and kindergarten can make use of what they have. Even the scissors, grinder and the rag-man help us out here. One of my little pupils, the daughter of musical parents, gained her first idea of imtating sounds correctly from a ragman's call. As we were having our lesson one day we heard this song come, I was going to say float in at the window, but the ragman's tones are rather too strenuous to be called floating tones: "Rags, rags, rags; any old rags or bott's." The tune can be written thus. Do si la sol sol do do, but no words can describe the quality of the tones. At once I imitated the theme and little Frances, to my great surprise, imitated me exactly, whereas before this she had hardly been able to get one single note correctly. His tune was unique and it appealed to her.

Lead the children to listen in every way you can think of. Tap on different substances, wood, glass, silver. You may find a lampshade that gives forth a definite musical pitch. Play tunes on tumblers, tuning them to musical pitches by varying the quantity of water in them and striking lightly with silver knife or spoon. This device I found most useful in arousing interest in music in a boy who seemed to have no musical instinct whatever.

A writer says: "The greater part of children's time is spent in elaborate impersonation and make-believe, and the entire basis of their education is acquired through this directly assimilative faculty." This applies most forcibly to music and gives to those who have the care of children almost unlimited opportunity for developing musical expression.

A lullaby song at the child's bedside at night is a benediction beyond estimate.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

The Noisy Guest.

William Jennings Bryan said at his brother's house in Lincoln:

"It is splendid to see the good order that now prevails at political banquets. There was considerable drunkenness at these banquets in the past.

"At a political banquet one evening the chairman said to a rather noisy guest:

"Excuse me, sir, but may I ask your name?"

"Morgan's me—hic—hic—name," the guest answered.

"I mean your full name," said the chairman.

"The guest hiccupped again.

"It's just the same, he said, 'full or sober.'"

ARREST OF THIEVES WHO GOT RINGS FROM BROWNWOOD STORE REVEALS STRONG ORGANIZATION

The Brownwood Bulletin gives the following interesting account of the capture of thieves who recently stole $8,000 worth of diamonds from the Armstrong Jewelry Co. of Brownwood.

After a chase that led through several cities and oil field towns and became involved in what is apparently a thoroughly organized gang of thieves and thugs, W. D. Armstrong of the Armstrong Jewelry Company today is experiencing the satisfaction of knowing that one of the two people who robbed his store of approximately $8,000 worth of diamond rings is behind the bars with a five year sentence, and the other thief is under arrest and will be brought to trial soon. Earl Matheson, the man in the case, was convicted Wednesday in the Erath county district court on a charge of robbery, and Bassel Smith, a woman accomplice, is under arrest again after having escaped from officers on a train going from Gorman to Dublin.

Mr. Armstrong has devoted much of his time since the robbery of his store to a chase of the thieves, and was personally instrumental in securing their arrest after a number of detectives had failed. The arrest was made at Gorman several days ago, when Matheson and the woman entered a jewelry store. Matheson was carried to Dublin and jailed, but the woman became seriously ill and was not taken to Dublin at once. On the trip from Gorman she escaped from the train by climbing through the small window in the women's toilet room, and was not re-arrested for several days.

Part of "Organization."

The man and woman both admitted to the officers that they were connected with an organization containing more than fifty professional thieves and pick pockets operating in western and northern Texas. Telegrams and letters seized by the officers disclosed their methods of operation, and may lead to the recovery of much stolen property. So far no trace has been found of the diamond rings stolen from the Brownwood jewelry concern. Matheson has been identified as the man who committed robberies in Dublin, Stephenville, Gorman and other points, and was positively identified by Mr. Armstrong.

The thieves usually operate in parties of three or four, not more than two appearing in any robbery while the remaining two receive and conceal the stolen property. The "system" is said to be complete, and it has been baffling police and sheriffs' departments of several counties because it permits the rapid disposal of stolen goods and makes it well nigh impossible to catch anyone with the stolen goods on his person. Even after the arrest of Matheson and the Smith woman at Gorman, Mr. Armstrong says, there were many evidences of the operation of confederates in hiding away the luggage of the arrested couple, and in assisting the Smith woman in making her escape.

How Robbery Was Effected.

The robbery of the Armstrong store here was effected in a very ordinary way, according to Mr. Armstrong, who recalls that on the day of the robbery Matheson and the Smith woman came into his store and asked to see articles of jewelry. The tray of diamond rings was produced during the deal, but no sale was made. Just before leaving the store the woman called to Mr. Armstrong, who was at the front of the store, and he came back to where Mrs. Armstrong has been displaying the goods. The woman engaged Mr. Armstrong in conversation as though he were an old friend, and in the meantime the man walked out of the store, followed in a moment by the woman. For some reason the loss of the tray of rings was not noted immediately, and the couple had ample time to get away, the supposition being that the man walked out with the rings while the woman made conversation with Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong.

"I may never get my rings back," Mr. Armstrong said this morning, "but I have the satisfaction of knowing that those two crooks won't steal any more for a while."

HISTORY OF BRADY FIRE DEPARTMENT MAKES INTERESTING STORY

FADED AND TORN RECORDS SHOW ORGANIZATION TO BE OLDER THAN THAT OF CITY OF BRADY—DEVELOPMENT INTO ONE OF THE BEST IN TEXAS.

The Brady fire department is older in organization than the City of Brady itself, the records showing that it came into existence at least two years before Brady was incorporated on March 24, 1906, with W. D. Crothers as mayor. The organization of the Brady fire department dates back to 1904, when W. S. Shropshire was elected fire chief and a bucket brigade fire department was organized. Mr. Shropshire served as chief for about eight years. A little later, according to the records, hand chemicals were purchased. These were a peculiar apparatus, no longer manufactured, and but few of which are still in existence. They were designed to be hung upon a nail and when jerked down in case of emergency, would project a steam of chemicals upon the danger point.

This interesting bit of information was dug up from the old fire department records by M. P. Wegner, and formed the basis of his address Sunday afternoon at the first annual barbecue of the Brady fire department. The records further show that fire department in 1905 bought a hose cart, to be pulled by six to a dozen men to the scene of a fire. The money for the purchase of this cart was raised by public subscription. On September 4, 1906, F. M. Richards and John Rainbolt, representing the Brady city council as fire and water committee, bought the second hand hose cart, which was used up until the purchase of the auto fire truck and chemical engine in 1914.

On January 28, 1908, the city council ordered the purchase of a fire bell for the sounding of an alarm, and the bell still hangs in the court house cupola, although its use has long since been discontinued.

From this period up until 1912, the records of the fire department have been lost, but in 1912, on account of disagreement between the department and the city council, the former was reorganized, and while it continued to serve the citizens when occasion demanded, no record of meetings is had.

The reorganization of the fire department was placed in the hands of S. M. Richardson in the early part of 1913. Mr. Richardson being elected fire chief. Through his efforts, the Brady city council became interested in the purchase of one of the latest model auto fire trucks and chemical engines. Mr. Richardson representing to the council that the purchase of this fire-fighting apparatus would serve to reduce Brady fire insurance key rate to such an extent as to pay for the fire truck in the course of some six or eight years. Accordingly the council purchased a LaFrance fire truck at a cost of $8,500, and which has since proven one of the best investments the city has ever made.

Ben Moffatt, who was elected assistant chief, succeeded Mr. Richardson as chief in 1915. Mr. Richardson removing from the city, and Mr. Moffatt, upon being called into service in 1917 was succeeded by his assistant, Doc Strickland. When called to the colors in 1918, Strickland had as his successor Frank Hurd, who continued as chief until the early part of this year, when the present incumbent, J. B. Whiteman, was elected to office.

Throughout the 16 years of its history, the Brady fire department has had a record of building and achievement. Now they sponsor the move to build a permanent city hall and fire station, and in their efforts to give Brady a monument that shall endure for years to come, they are deserving of the hearty co-operation of the Brady citizenship.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned committee of the 19th Club, wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation in behalf of the colored people of Brady for all courtesies and kindnesses shown us which helped to make our day of celebration a success in spite of a few unscrupulous persons who tried to hinder us in every way.
 (Signed) J. S. SHAW, J. N. STANFIELD, WILLIS GOODE.

We, the colored base ball players of Brady have tried to give satisfaction to the public in playing ball. J. F. JOHNSON, better known as "Peg," Manager; JACK MINER, Captain and Pitcher.

WM. GRAHAM, PREMIER HOTEL MAN OF BROWNWOOD, MAKING NOTABLE SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

"No man can make a great success in life unless he reads The Brady Standard," quoth Wm. Graham, Brownwood's premier hotel man and proprietor of the New Graham hotel, "and the more he reads The Standard, the more successful he is certain to be." Whereupon Mr. Graham renewed his subscription to The Standard up until 1922.

Practically everyone in Brady and McCulloch county knows Mr. Graham—if not personally, at least by reputation. For several years he was engaged in the restaurant business in Brady, and to him goes credit for having established here the swellest cafe that the town has ever boasted. When he removed to Brownwood, because he foresaw greater opportunities there, he picked upon the old Crown hotel, which was admittedly a "dead" piece of property, upon which to try his energies. What success attended his efforts may be summed up in one short but pithy paragraph, viz:

The New Graham hotel is today one of the leading, best-advertised, best-known and most popular hotels in the state of Texas. The addition of a fourth floor, now nearing completion, will give the hotel 50 rooms, everyone an outside room, and each and everyone furnished in AI style. The Graham cuisine is regarded the acme of perfection and is the best to be found in any hotel in the Southwest, and is not only adding to the fame of the hotel among the traveling public, but is responsible for a large clientele from among the citizenship of Brownwood.

Featuring the recent improvements made in the New Graham is the breakfast room, an exceedingly attractive place where the morning meal is served, and which is also available for banquets, parties and special occasions. The regular dining room has accommodation for about 50 guests at a sitting, and is established in a light, airy room. The lobby of the hotel has been enlarged, making a most attractive lounging place. Elevator service to all floors is a recent innovation and an important factor in the improved service to be had at the hotel. Most notable of all, however, is the complete renovation of the hotel. From cellar to garret, the walls have been covered with beaver board and redecorated in harmonious and attractive colors. Running water has been installed in every room, and Mr. Graham boasts that his is the only hotel in the world where cold water, warm water, ice water and hot water may be had at all the guests convenience.

The rooms on the new fourth floor will be arranged in suites, and will afford every accommodation, including shower baths. New and sanitary mattresses and pillows, as well as bed clothes, have been provided for all the rooms.

Throughout, the New Graham is immaculate in appearance, and Mr. Graham leaves nothing undone towards maintaining it so. Add to this service of the highest order, and little wonder can there be at Mr. Graham's success.

Although Mr. Graham is permanently established in Brownwood, he nevertheless maintains the greatest of interest in Brady and Brady citizens, and vows that he stands ready at any time to take $40,000.00 worth of stock in a company which will give to Brady a new and modern hotel, such as the town deserves and should have.
