McCULLOCH COUNTY DRIVE FOR SALVATION ARMY FUNDS IS ON

MATCHES IN COTTON CAUSE FIRE AT PLANTERS GIN

Matches in a load of seed cotton caused a bad blaze at the Planters gin just about noon Tuesday, the matches becoming ignited in the cleaner, located just over the gin stands. For a time it appeared that the blaze would sweep the entire gin plant before it could be gotten under control, but quick work upon the part of gin employes and customers, together with the prompt arrival of the Brady fire department, alone prevented a disaster.

The loss to machinery is estimated at about $100, and something like 500 lbs. of seed cotton were destroyed. Both the machinery and the cotton losses were fully covered by insurance. An even greater loss resulted, however, in the gin having to shut down a half a day for repairs.

N. A. CLEVELAND BUYS CHAS. TUPMAN RESIDENCE - S. C. THORNE TO RANGER

N. A. Cleveland, superintendent of the Brady schools, has already fallen in love with Brady and the Brady people. So much so, that he and his estimable family have decided to become permanent residents. Mr. Cleveland has just concluded the purchase from S. C. Thorne of the Chas. Tupman residence on the north side, which he and his family are occupying. Mr. Thorne and family have moved to Ranger, to which point he was transferred by the Walker-Smith Co. The consideration for the property was $3,000.

The Tupman residence is one of the neatest, prettiest and best-cared for cottages in Brady, and comprises a four-room house with bath. Mr. Cleveland is adding materially to the comforts of the home by building a kitchen and sleeping porch, the new additions including built-in conveniences. Mr. Cleveland is doing the work of improvement himself, and is proving himself an expert in the profession. As a matter of fact, Mr. Cleveland has, at various times, built three complete homes, and in addition to his practical experience, has taken a course in manual training. One of the homes built by him, was for use as a teacherage at the Falfurrias school, and was modern in every particular, with built-in features and every convenience.

A few Wagons left. No wagons better than the Springfield and Weber, and we are priced right on Wagons. BROAD MERCANTILE CO.

When you see your property going up in smoke, isn't it a comforting thought to know that you are fully protected by reason of a fire insurance policy? We represent some of the strongest companies in the U. S. We want to write your insurance for you. Better today, than tomorrow. "Better safe, than sorry." Anderson & Carrithers.

COUNTY-WIDE DRIVE FOR FUNDS FOR SALVATION ARMY—QUOTA IS $15,000

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FOR McCULLOCH STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS—CHAIRMEN FOR VARIOUS DISTRICTS IN COUNTY ARE NAMED—MUST GO OVER.

The county-wide campaign for funds for the defraying of operating expenses of the Salvation Army for the ensuing year is to be inaugurated at once, and McCulloch county's quota of $1500.00 is to be raised in the shortest possible time. The local campaign is getting a late start, due to the fact that it was postponed until after the McCulloch County Exhibit. Many other points in the county have already gone over the top with their quotas and have brought their campaigns to a successful conclusion. McCulloch county's quota is not large, and for this worthy object, this amount should be easily raised. The campaign committee is expecting every district to do its full part, so that the campaign may be concluded at once, and McCulloch county's name be included among those who did their part for this great organization.

Every soldier boy who has returned from overseas will attest to the great work accomplished in France, Belgium and other war-torn countries by the Salvation Army—and as well for the soldier boys themselves. The battle never raged too fiercely; the fighting line was never too hot for the Salvation Army—their representatives were everywhere, scattering cheer, aiding those in distress and providing comforts for all.

The war is over—but not the work of the Salvation Army. The work they accomplished during time of war, is to be continued in time of peace. The sick, the poor, the needy, the distressed—all these are to receive ministrations from the Salvation Army. When floods destroy homes and property; when fire disasters sweep cities and towns; hurricanes, storms and flood waters bring death and disaster—then and there you always find the Salvation Army ready and on the job to alleviate the suffering and distress. Theirs is a great work for humanity—a most worthy and ennobling cause that should appeal to every citizen.

The Campaign committee appointed for Brady and McCulloch county some weeks ago, is as follows: J. H. White, A. H. Broad, Jas. T. Mann, Oscar Sellers, J. A. Maxwell, George Scott, W. M. Deans, Wilson Jordan, F. M. Richards, W. J. Yantis, H. F. Schwenker, M. S. Sellers, Mrs. W. N. White, Mrs. S. J. Howard, J. E. Shrophire.

Chairmen of the various districts in McCulloch county, have been named as follows: P. W. Appleton, Camp San Saba; J. E. Spiller, Voca; S. A. Brewer, Calif Creek; Paul Allen, Whiteland; Oscar Sellers, Melvin; M. Shields, Doole; Marion Holland, Waldrip; J. H. Snodgrass, Stacy; Jas. Finlay, Fife; W. F. Roberts, Jr., Lohn; M. C. Ludwick, Pear Valley; T. J. Beasley, Mercury; J. R. Gault, Placid; W. D. Price, Rochelle.

Each and every district chairman is urged to lose no time in getting this campaign before the people of his community. The late start urges immediate action. Each district chairman has been notified of his appointment by the county chairman, and this article will serve to acquaint the citizens of the county with the plans and purposes of the campaign. Every citizen should co-operate to preserve McCulloch county's good name, and to help in this most worthy of all causes.

OSCAR HURD MAKES A RECORD PRODUCTION OF SYRUP OFF HALF ACRE

One of the most interesting facts developed at the McCulloch County Exhibit the past week was the record production of syrup made by O. E. Hurd of the East Sweden community. Mr. Hurd made 110 gallons of ribbon cane syrup off a half-acre cane patch. At $1.50 per gallon, and anybody will concede that is a low price, that half-acre tract produced $165 worth of syrup.

McCulloch county offers wonderful inducements to the farmer who wants to get away from cotton raising. At various times The Standard has reported record breakers in the way of peanut production, oat yields, tomato crops, peach and fruit yields, and innumerable other products. McCulloch county's opportunities are unlimited.

PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATE IN BRADY OCT. 22

The Standard is requested to announce that Jas. Ferguson, candidate for President on the American Party ticket, will speak in Brady on next Friday, October 22nd, at the court house. Mr. Ferguson will review the acts of the Democratic party during its term in office, and promises to give some startling facts and figures. A general invitation is extended all citizens of McCulloch and surrounding territory to hear Mr. Ferguson.

READ THE FOLLOWING NEWS REPORT ON THE FAMOUS MAYO BROS.' SANITARIUM AT ROCHESTER, MINN.:

The Mayo Brothers in Rochester, Minn., now make a complete radio-graphic examination of the teeth of all patients and have a large dental department fully equipped. Their idea is to clean up any bad dental conditions before proceeding to operate upon the patient. This, of course, does not apply to emergency cases, where haste is a matter of life or death.

FIFE FINDINGS.

Boost the Fair for Next Year—and Count Fife In Strong.
Fife, Texas, Aug. 12.
Editor Brady Standard:
The continued pretty weather is causing the farmers much joy and some uneasiness. Cotton is practically all open and should a storm hit it would cause thousands of dollars damage. About 200 bales have been here so far.
Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bradley of El Dorado visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Tom Bradley is at San Angelo this week on a prospecting trip.
Several of our people are attending the show at Brady today.
Nearly all of our population turned out to the fair last week at Brady. We have failed to find anyone who did not think it was A1, and those who attended the fair at Coleman last March say we had better agricultural exhibits than at Coleman. The people of this community are doubly proud of the success of the fair, first because the Co-Operative Council here was the first to take an interest in it and second, because of the hundreds of compliments handed us on our booth and exhibit of agriculture, horticulture and textile products. We have already applied for space in next year's fair and will have a better exhibit than ever. We have not heard who was awarded the prizes in the county as yet, but whether Fife wins any or not we are in again next year.

Boost the Fair!

ROCHELLE RUMBLINGS.

New Arrival Delights Three Generations—600 Bales in One Week.
Rochelle, Texas, Aug. 11.
Editor Brady Standard:
I guess you think your correspondent from this place is dead, as it has been so long since you have had a letter. Not quite dead, but almost; too busy to gather news—so if the letter is a little short this week you need not be surprised.
Farmers are delighted with this fine weather and are making use of it, too, for as scarce as labor is, there was over 600 bales of cotton ginned here last week and not half gathered yet. And if they could get what they should have for it, there would be something left for their labor—but the present price won't pay the cost of production. If, on the other hand, we could buy what we need at pre-war price, this would be a fair price; but so long as the farmer must pay more than double for what he has to use and get half price for cotton, they will not build up very fast financially.

The most of the feed crop is harvested and suppose that will have to remain in the farm, as it is not worth on the market a living price—so, pray tell me, what is the farmer to do? But they are still hopeful that better prices will prevail.
From the account given in The Standard the fair must have been quite a success. This correspondent failed to get there and consequently must take the other fellow's word for it. But I know it was fine and well attended.
Mr. Naith Sellman sold his home in town to Mr. Bill Davenport and moved to the country to farm another year, and don't you think this a splendid example for others to follow? Instead of reversing it and leasing the farm, to take chances in town.
Miss Ruth Sellman visited in the home of her brother, Willie Sellman one evening last week.
Mrs. Mina Floyd of Eden was a visitor in the Rochelle community a short time back. She was a resident here for several years and just can't keep from coming back home for a visit occasionally and we are always so glad to have her come.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Waddell are rejoicing over the arrival of their first great-grand-child, little Miss Hilbred Lucille Haley. Her mother being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Wicker, former citizens of this county, but now of Wilson, Lynn county. The little lady is the first child and the first grand-child, and also the first great-grand-child. Her arrival was on October 5, 1920. Mother and daughter both doing nicely.

George Shafer has gone today to Fredonia after cotton pickers. It is to be hoped he gets a good bunch as they are badly needed here. We are also needing rain now but hardly know which would be the best, to get it and plant grain or to not have it and save damaging the cotton; but suppose we will take just when it comes. Don't you think so, Mr. Editor? Wonder if O. I. C. U. R. Right will remember we correspondents again this fall? But think that too liberal to be repeated.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as the same do not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

McCULLOCH CO. CLUB BOYS VISIT FAIR THIS WEEK

Twelve McCulloch County Club Boys are attending the Boys and Girls' encampment at the State Fair at Dallas this week, where they are in attendance upon an educational campaign directed by the State Department of Agriculture (co-incident with seeing the sights and exhibits at the fair grounds). The encampment began Wednesday, the 13th and will continue over Saturday, the 16th.

The boys left for Dallas on Tuesday night's train, in charge of Edd Bryson. Two of the boys will be guests of the State Fair, while the balance of the party are having their railroad fare and all expenses paid by the McCulloch County Exhibit committee. In addition to the twelve boys going from McCulloch county, three boys from Brown county joined the party at Brownwood.

Numbered among the boys taking the trip, were:

Loftin Penn, Mercury.
Vaughn White, Brady.
Jim Hill, Waldrip.
Otis Young, Lohn.
C. M. Tucker, Calf Creek.
Ray Crawford, Fairview.
Arthur Awall, Brady.
Elmer Taylor, Dodge.
Leslie Barnes, Melvin.
Eugene Samuelson, East Sweden.
Edwin Childers, Calf Creek.
Truman Joyce, Brady, (Substitute).

The boys were selected according to grades made in their club work, and, in all, some eighteen were named to go. However, seven of the number were unable to take advantage of the trip, and Truman Joyce of Brady was named as substitute. Those entitled to the trip, but who failed to go were: Alvin Ince, Claxton; O. H. Gray, Davis; Roy Doyle, Fife; Erel Henderson, Lost Creek; Milton Sansom, Milburn; Sidney Coonrod, Fife; Sammie Kirkpatrick, Waldrip.

Not only were the expenses of the trip taken care of by the McCulloch County Exhibit committee, but each of the boys was provided with a handsome badge reading "McCulloch County Club Member."

Without question, the boys will give McCulloch county much favorable publicity, and, in return, will receive much benefit and knowledge as a result of the trip, to the ultimate good of McCulloch county.

"TEXAS AND OTHER POEMS" BY MRS. B. G. SMITH. INTERESTING VOLUME.

The Standard editor is just in receipt of an attractively designed little volume entitled, "Texas and Other Poems." The work comes to hand with the compliments of the authoress, Mrs. Bettie G. Daniel Smith, former resident of McCulloch county, and who, for some years past, has made her home in Austin, the while retaining her property interests here and making frequent visits back to her old home in McCulloch.

Besides the title and the author's name, the volume has inscribed on the front cover the five-pointed star of Texas, surrounded with the words, "The Lone Star State, 1920."

The contents of the book are indeed most interesting, comprising, as they do, a collection of poems dating back some as long as thirty-eight years ago, while other are of recent date. The authoress prefaces the work with several well-chosen verses from Dryden, Spencer and other favorite American authors. The poems have a peculiar interest to West Texas folks, as they recount impressions of West Texas, her people, her scenery, her glories and her every-day life. Of especial interest are the poems dedicated to Brady and to Lohn, the former homes of Mrs. Smith.

The work is attractively embellished with photo-engravings of the State Capitol building at Austin and other scenes about Austin; also of the court house at Brady and the new school building at Lohn. Pictures of A. J. Smith, deceased husband, and Floyd Smith, son of the authoress, at the age of 13, are also contained therein.

One of the poems entitled, "The Beautiful Sunshine," written in the style of "The Beautiful Snow," was printed in The Standard something like a year ago, but all the others have hitherto been unpublished.

The Standard takes the liberty of quoting the following bit of verse, entitled "The Wrens," from the volume:

Two little wrens
Slipped in just through the blind,
And made a nest—
And soon wee wrens we find.

And now I hear
All day so merrily
A short, sweet song
To these wee wrens—and me.

HEAD-ON-THE-HAND PICTURE.

When he had his picture taken with his head upon his hand. We were good and proud of Billy—he was looking something grand! He had started in to college and was tagged for father's frat. Or some other great achievement quite as wonderful as that. So we were impressed with Billy, and were proud to beat the band. When he had his picture taken with his head upon his hand. That is, all we kids felt that way. For he said, "Good Lord!" when shown it, and he seemed in deep distress. Mother grinned a bit and giggled, and somehow it wasn't joy. Or of the kind we had expected, for the honor of her boy. And she said, "Remember, father?" "Yes," he said, "I cannot stand to recall my picture taken with my head upon my hand!"

About Advertising.
Advertising is what nothing was ever sold without.

If a loaf of bread is sold to a tramp who managed to climb onto a trolley, it had been advertised by the tramp's hunger and by somebody who told the "bo" where the bakery was. Or by the window of the bakery itself.

There isn't a human being who doesn't believe in advertising. If he really doesn't, he had better commit suicide.

And that will give him a lot of publicity that nobody can cash in on.

The man who claims not to believe in advertising is a—well, let somebody else say it.

This boob is anxious for everybody to tell other people that his place is a good one to trade.

But he won't give the advertiser anything for telling the other folks. He is a something-for-nothing tightwad.

The man who puts on good clothes advertises his own respectability, and expects results in the shape of the respect of others.

The man who dresses poorly because of necessity or purposely, advertises his poverty and expects results in other people's help or contempt.

In fact, every honest person wants advertising.

Only dishonest people are afraid of it, and they get it anyway.

HONEST INJUN.

What'll you have?—rain or a dry norther?

LENDING A HELPFUL HAND.

The Standard hears much favorable comment upon the action of the Brady Chamber of Commerce in coming to aid of the McCulloch County Co-Operative Exhibit, both with its moral and its financial assistance, and is glad to learn of this recognition of the Chamber of Commerce's efforts to help in all things that are aiding in developing, advertising and building McCulloch county. As a matter of fact, that is the primary object of the Brady Chamber of Commerce—it is a builder of McCulloch county progress and an abettor of all moves that tend in that direction.

But the Standard believes it proper to let its readers know that the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce have not been confined solely to the donation of funds to the exhibit committee in order to assure the sending of boys' club members to the Boys' and Girls' Educational encampment at the Dallas Fair. The Chamber of Commerce has further lent its efforts to McCulloch county progress in having The Standard print some 5,000 pamphlets boosting McCulloch county's resources and opportunities, for distribution by County Demonstration Agent B. D. Black, who is in charge of the McCulloch county booth at the State Fair. The Sentinel has printed a like number of pamphlets boosting other resources of the county, and it is certain that several thousands of visitors at the fair will read and learn of and about McCulloch county by reason of the action of the Brady Chamber of Commerce.

The Brady Chamber of Commerce speaks and works for all the citizens of McCulloch county, and the entire citizenship may well endorse this body and the good work it is doing.

AN OPPORTUNITY LOST.

Brown county has a small exhibit at the Dallas Fair, and it is attracting a great deal of attention. But, due to a lack of foresight, the exhibit is not going to be of lasting value to Brown county. It is not accompanied by literature of any kind. The man in charge has not a scrap of paper to tell visitors anything about Brown county—and all the other exhibitors are armed with tons of attractive literature descriptive of their counties.

It is too late to worry about the matter now. But isn't it time for Brownwood and Brown county to realize the enormous losses that are being sustained each year because of inactivity and lack of interest—Brownwood Bulletin.

BOLSHEVIKI VANDALS.

The Standard is not an advocate of the Lynch Law—but something closely akin is needed to stop the outrageous acts of those fiends who are destroying gins and compresses in the name of aiding the farmers in getting a better price for their cotton. Most every day the daily papers contain accounts of the burning of gins or compresses or cotton by fires of incendiary origin. The worst of all was the fire at Anson, where the gin was destroyed after warning had been given to close down and do no more ginning until cotton had reached a price of 30c per pound.

The utter folly of such means to force a better price for cotton is apparent to any person in his right mind. In the first place, there are comparatively few farmers who have storage for seed cotton on their farms, where the cotton can be protected from the elements. Even if the farmer does have such storage, it stands to reason that he could more easily store one, or ten or a hundred bales of cotton than he could store one, or ten or a hundred loads of seed cotton. Why, then, should the gin be destroyed and the farmer thus deprived of its use in helping him store his cotton? In the second place, should the price of cotton tomorrow go to the required 30c, what could the farmers do with their gins destroyed?

The conclusion one must reach is that these deeds of incendiarism were the acts of persons of unsound mind, or else the work of bolsheviki, whose only idea is to destroy regardless of who or what suffers.

Should justice overtake these fiends in human form, then let us hope that justice will prove itself swift, and sure and certain.

"EGG CRATE WALLOP" CLEARS UP MYSTERY OF THEFT OF $2,000.00

Charles Ray will pleasantly surprise even his most ardent admirers in his latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "The Egg Crate Wallop" to be shown at the Strand theatre next Wednesday, October 20th.

The story opens in the kind of atmosphere the youthful star can make live before your eyes—the little country town. Mr. Ray is the assistant express agent in love with pretty Kittle, his boss's daughter. Then Fate, in the shape of the theft of $2,000 from the express office, dashes him out of his rural surroundings, and into the "studio" of a prize fight promoter.

The climax of the story is in the prize ring—an honest-to-goodness ring, with resined canvas, preliminary bouts between regular pugilists, and five hundred frenzied fight fans in the bleachers. Here Ray goes five furious rounds to a knockout with an experienced opponent, who, according to the story, is the real thief of the money.

Manager Weaks also announces having again booked that thrilling Western drama, "Bullet Proof," in which Harry Carey features. This picture will be shown on Saturday, October 23rd. Watch for announcement next week and don't fail to see this thriller.

McCULLOCH EXHIBIT COMMENT OF DALLAS NEWS

The following highly complimentary write-up of McCulloch county's exhibit at the Dallas State Fair is reprinted from the Dallas News, date of Monday, October 11th:

"One of the few mineral exhibits of the individual counties in the Agricultural building at the State Fair of Texas is handled by representatives from McCulloch county in Southwest Texas. McCulloch county adjoins Brown county, Concho and San Saba counties. It contains many minerals which are as yet unexplored. The oil industry is in its infancy there, according to B. D. Black, county agent in charge of the exhibit. Sheep and goat raising is one of the chief industries of the county. A sheep and goat association has been formed and the industry is being improved by the introduction of new grasses and feed-stuffs and blooded animals."

The sheep raising and goat herding work has been pursued indifferently or prodigally for a long time in this county. But actual organization for production of mohair and wool is only three years old there. Natural grazing itself is good, as the hills and valleys provide a large variety of grasses and herbs. Last year about 300,000 pounds of wool and mohair were stored for sale. This production represents about 80,000 head of sheep and goats, according to Mr. Black.

"Cattle raising is continued in this county also. Blooded cattle are the pride of its stock raisers and ranchmen. The sheep and goat industry is growing, Mr. Black said, since organization of the owners, and a few years will see the county one of the chief wool growing counties of the State."

"The county has seven producing oil wells and a number of test wells being put down. Drilling in this county is very recent, Mr. Black said."

"One of the treasures of the county which is yet undeveloped is the coal veins. Coal in good condition for burning has been found in digging a thirty-foot well. The vein was found to be thirty-two inches thick. Minerals used in making paints are also to be found in great abundance in McCulloch county. The paint exhibit of the county was delayed in shipment and the booth had to be fitted up without one of the principal exhibits."

"Nor is McCulloch county lacking in agriculture. Irrigation is done along the San Saba river. Mr. Black said, and vegetables of all sorts are grown. Cotton and sorghum grains are the chief commercial products. One of the new vegetables in the county put on exhibit this year is the guinea butter bean. It is shaped like a long squash and is prepared like a squash."

"The cotton and grain crops this year are extensive, Mr. Black declared. Fruits are scarce this year and the exhibit of canned fruits includes only a few plums and grapes. Preserved peas and beans are exhibited. The pecan crop, usually prolific in the county, is negligible this year, according to Mr. Black."

"The exhibit is arranged before a back drop of white with two oil derricks outlined on each side and a sheep and goat made from the wool exhibited in the center."

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Oscar Willison, who is drilling in the Florence oil field, near Eldorado, Kans., is here for a visit with Mrs. Willison and daughter, Miss Queen. He reports the Florence field as a most profitable one, there being comparatively few dry holes, and the production ranging from 700 to 1500 barrels per well.

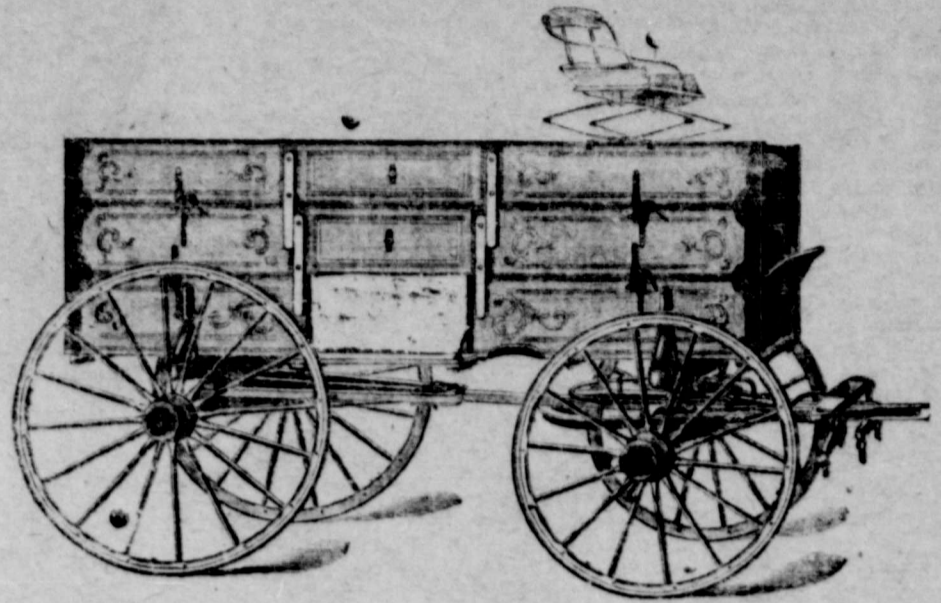

The McCulloch county jail is once more for rent, according to Sheriff J. C. Wall. Jim Miles, negro, convicted at the recent term of district court of murder of a negro woman, and who was given a life term in the pen, was carried off the first of the week by the penitentiary transfer agent, and has begun his long sentence.

F. E. Aschbacher returned today from Corsicana, Texas, where he attended the annual session of the Grand Encampment, I. O. O. F. Mr. Aschbacher represented Golden Rule Encampment No. 14, Victoria, Texas, where he still holds his membership. The meeting was a big success. Next year's meeting goes to Stamford.

It now develops that in the bout between Alvin Hall and Tommy White, on the closing night of the County Exhibit, Hall received a blow in the face that broke his nose and temporarily blinded him. This accounted for his novel method of defense in the seventh round, when Hall contented himself with protecting his face and body, and his opponents blows rained harmlessly about Hall's head and shoulders. Considering the broken nose and broken hand, Hall's record in the fight was a splendid one. He came up stronger than ever at the end of the fight and his admirers here are ready and willing at any time to back him against the Richland Springs boxer.

THE OLD RELIABLE Peter Schuttler Wagon

HAS STOOD THE TEST FOR 76 YEARS.

Schuttler wood parts weigh much heavier in comparison than other parts which look twice as massive.

Piece for piece, the bare wood parts of a Schuttler will weigh 30% more than similar size parts in an ordinary wagon.

Every part of a Schuttler gear is given a heavy coat of pure linseed oil, which is the only way to obtain a perfect foundation for paint. The gear is then hand-painted with two full coats of 100% pure lead paint. "Schuttler red" is a famous paint. A quart measure of "Schuttler Red" weighs double the same quantity of ordinary wagon paint.

ARE YOU GOING TO LET A $10.00 BILL STAND BETWEEN YOU AND A SCHUTTLER WAGON?

We believe you will agree that the extra $10.00 represents ten years more wagon service.

We recommend that our customers buy the gears only and build their own beds. We also recommend that you buy wide track gears.

"Tempis Fugit"

He complained that he frequently had to wait as long as five minutes for "Central" to answer his telephone—
 But a series of tests on his line showed that his longest wait was 19 seconds—which happened in an unusual rush of calls during the busy "peak load" hour. His average waiting time was much less than that.
 He meant the operator no injustice, because the wait actually seemed like five minutes to him. "Time Flies", they say—but they should have added "excepting when waiting at the telephone." And, even then, it isn't nearly as long as it seems!
 The average year around "answering tin." of the operator on a telephone call is six seconds or less!

ADDITIONAL FUNDS NEEDED FOR SOLDIERS TUBERCULAR SANATORIUM

GOVERNOR WM. P. HOBBY MAKES APPEAL TO CITIZENS OF TEXAS TO AID IN RAISING $350,000 NEEDED TO COMPLETE HOSPITAL AT KERRVILLE.

An earnest appeal has been sent out to the patriotic citizens of Texas by Governor Wm. P. Hobby, requesting them to come to the aid of the building fund for the sanatorium at Kerrville for tuberculous soldiers and nurses. Something like $350,000 is needed to complete the construction of the buildings and to equip the sanatorium, and Governor Hobby appeals to the citizens of Texas to subscribe this amount so that this haven for our soldier boys and their gallant nurses may be completed at once and begin its great work of bringing back to health and usefulness those brave men and women who have sacrificed their all for us.

The letter from Gov. Hobby to a number of our citizens reads as follows:

"The intense circularizing, the efforts of communities and other efforts put forth to raise the $500,000.00 to build the Sanatorium at Kerrville for tuberculous soldiers and nurses, produced up-to-date $150,000.00. The expense of construction of the buildings have now exceeded the income. The need of the balance of the money ($350,000.00) is imperative.

"Would you be one of the 3500 persons to join me in giving $100.00 each, so the Benevolent War Risk Society can push the work to completion in order that our tuberculous ex-soldiers, sailors, marines, and nurses can all be taken care of before winter sets in? Doubtless a few people will join you in making up the $100.00 or more.

"Make all checks payable to Benevolent War Risk Society. An early response to this worthy cause would be greatly appreciated."

As will be noted from Governor Hobby's letter, the Benevolent War Risk society of Texas has this matter in hand, and is now erecting the first unit of the hospital at Kerrville, completion of which is anticipated within the next 30 days. This first unit will accommodate 100 beds. The purpose of the society is to equip 300 beds.

There are in Texas 1100 ex-soldier boys known to be afflicted with tuberculosis. The sanatorium is for these boys. The American Legion seconds Governor Hobby's appeal, and calls attention to the fact that the government is aiding those soldiers crippled in body, but not those veterans who are "crippled in health."

The appeal made to the citizens of McCulloch county should not fall on deaf ears.

McCulloch county raised its quota of $640 last May. However, a great many people did not have the opportunity to contribute at that time. The Standard has been asked to receive contributions, which we gladly do. This is a most worthy and touching appeal. We have one response—W. N. White of Brady heads the list with a $100 contribution—who will be the next? No subscription too large; none too small, to be thankfully received.

THE WORLD SERIES HAS BEEN PLAYED AND WON—BUT SEE "THE BUSHER"

The world series has been played and won by Cleveland, but baseball is still fresh on the minds of every fan, and so the coming of "The Busher," at the Lyric on Saturday night, is a most opportune offering. Charles Ray in the role of the hero, plays a game of ball that rivals Christy Mathewson in his palmist days—and thereby wins not only a thrilling tennis game, but the girl as well. You'll want to see it sure.

And then don't forget "The Servant Question" coming Monday—it's a comedy farce with the most laughable of situations. Five reels of unadulterated fun and comic situations.

Then there are those special features in addition to the regular program to keep in mind—the serials on Wednesday and Saturday nights; Fox-News Current Events on Monday and Thursday nights; Sunshine comedy on Friday night, and Adventure picture on Tuesday night.

TRIGG DRUG COMPANY

A LOYAL GUARDIAN

By EVELYN LEE

Life seemed good all afternoon to Egbert Marston with the strife of the morning over—stately trees to be under, soft turf to repose on. The last load of hay was in loft or stack. Marston lazily stretched himself and rest seemed sweet. Then he arose and advanced toward the broad open doorway of the barn, attracted by the flutter of a dress and the echo of silvery laughing tones.

There hung near an unused stall, a double yoke. Robert Burton had fashioned it himself nearly half a century previous, but oxen had given place to less clumsy and slow going stock, and the old yoke remained in view as a relic of the past. Madge Burton ran toward it and poked her sunny face and head through it.

"Boo!" she cried out, playfully to her adopted father, who was filling a measure with corn for the chickens.

"You need a mate to make the picture complete," declared Burton. "Reckon I'll have to find you one" and the girl flushed, embarrassed as Egbert came nearer.

"A yoke fellow?" he called. "Who wouldn't be glad to be the 'task'?" he was going to say, for they all worked on the farm, Madge as well as the rest, and he supplemented the word "privilege," and then added, with an admiring glance at Madge, "and honor."

Robert Burton left the twin to themselves with a chuckle as a sudden idea flashed into his mind. "I wonder now," he soliloqued, "if I needn't worry any more about Madge being left alone in the world after I am gone?"

Meantime the couple he discussed came out into the yard, strolled in a desultory way and carried on a casual conversation under some restraint. That flash of admiration for Egbert's eyes as she made a pretty picture framed by the yoke had instantaneously enlightened Madge. The responsive glow in her face had, too, enlightened him. Egbert did not keep up his strain of gentle bantering, however.

It was just a month later that Robert Burton died. He had adopted Madge, a little girl, whose his wife died, and an own daughter could not have been more loving, grateful and loyal. She had indeed been to him a helpful, cheerful "yoke fellow." To her work had become pleasure and she never shirked the severest toil.

It was the dead man's lawyer who unfolded the contents of a will recently made by the decedent. It was brief, simple and plain. Jointly all that Burton had to leave was to be inherited by Madge and Egbert, provided they married. Otherwise the main part of it was to go to charity.

"He would have it thus, Madge," spoke Egbert. "Am I to go away, or are we to be the yoke fellows your father hoped we would be?"

Madge said, "Stay," and there was fluttering joy in her tones as she did so. They had a quiet wedding settled down readily and naturally into the new life, and happiness seemed assured.

At the end of a month Madge began to change. It puzzled and then grieved Egbert to note that her entire character seemed to undergo a development that he could not analyze. She was as kindly as ever and as to work bore more than her full share of it. She did not encourage the visits of neighbors, especially of her own sex. She rid the house of liquor, of which Mr. Burton had always carried a stock for harvest use and sickness. Egbert never went to town but she begged to go with him. She became economical to the point of penuriousness, and on an occasion when she and her husband visited the circus, in a sudden and almost frenzied manner hurried Egbert away from a stand where games of chance were going on.

Egbert Marston felt an invisible, but oppressive yoke restraining all the free and varied workings of his mind. He could not account for Madge's ever present watchfulness and her attempts to shut him out from the most ordinary independence of action.

One day Madge had gone over to nurse a sick neighbor for the afternoon and Egbert, ransacking the room for a razor he had mislaid, chanced to open the drawer of a desk that had always been Madge's own property. He did not locate the sought-for article but chanced to come across some loose papers which he discerned at a glance had belonged to Mr. Burton.

One showed a crumpled soiled condition, as if it had been read a great many times. It was in Mr. Burton's own handwriting and it told of an investigation he had made. Its subject was a person he had thought of employing, but the reports he had received made out the applicant as a drinker, a gambler and undesirable generally.

"I've solved it!" almost shouted Egbert in a transport of glad enlightenment, and so satisfied was he that he had discovered a clue to Madge's strange action that he at once went back to the neighbors to see her.

"Madge," he spoke, when she joined him outside "has that paper anything to do with the way you have acted?" "Yes, everything," came the truthful reply. "My heart's one thought has been to keep you from becoming what you once were."

"Oh, you foolish, mistaken little fellow," cried Egbert. "Mr. Burton read that paper to me once and told me it showed a man he came near hiring, but before he found the happiness of his life in meeting you."

THE SANDMAN STORY

MR. FOX THE WINNER

BLACK FOX who has been having some interesting experiences with an old witch, to which his desire to be changed into a turkey at will got him into some bad predicaments, one of which resulted in his being changed into a frog, is happy once more now that he is a fox again. He had promised the witch to bring some stones from a pool; he forgot to make good his promises; seeing there was no other way out of the muddle he concluded it was best to do as he promised and he brought the stone to the witch, carrying it in his mouth.

The Witch smiled when she saw the stone. "This is one of many which I want," she said. "Hop away for another if you wish your own form again."

Back and forth, back and forth each day went the poor Frog, hopping all night for a long time, and then one night just as the Frog was taking a stone from the pool up came from the bottom a terrible rumbling noise.

Up to the top of the pool went the Frog, but he held the stone, although he was badly frightened, but when he saw the head of a big Dragon, with two tongues and four eyes, loom up from the middle of the pool, "splash!" went the stone into the water, and Froggie hopped behind a stone more dead than alive.

"My son, my son," said some one, and when the Frog looked out there was the old witch holding out her long, lean arms to the Dragon, who still stood in the pool.

"Mother!" bellowed the creature.

"You have saved me," and out of the pool he jumped right on the bank beside the Witch.

"Now, where is that ungrateful creature who helped me, I wonder?" said the Witch. "I promised to give him back his shape again, but, perhaps he would rather be a Frog than a Fox, so let us go home."

It did not take the Frog long to hop out and show himself, though he took good care to keep out of the Dragon's reach.

"Madam Witch, I have kept my word this time; give me back my own shape!" he pleaded.

"Oh, there you are, you miserable little cheat," said the old Witch. "You shall have your wish, for you have saved my son, who was imprisoned under the pool by an Ogre and could not be released until one by one the stones of his prison were removed."

"If you had kept your promise the first time you came to me you would have had your first request granted and been able to change yourself into a turkey and back to your own form when you wished, but you tried to deceive me and I used you then to gain my ends."

"But I was afraid of being drowned," whined the Frog. "I would have been obliged each day to dive for the stone you wanted."

"You could have asked a frog to bring it to you," said the Witch. "I could not get a real frog to do that for me, because they all are in the power of the Water Ogre, who lives down deep in the pool, but for you they would have done it and not asked questions."

"I did not think of that," was the reply.

"No, you thought only of getting something for nothing," said the Witch. "Let this be a lesson to you and do not try to be sly and deceitful with a Witch again."

She touched the Frog with her cane, and, without stopping, Black Fox, who appeared at once in place of the poor, suffering frog, ran off through the woods with leaps and bounds.

Never again did he seek out a Witch or think about the Fairies. He was satisfied with his own shape and never wished to change over for a minute.

PROFILES

WHEN a girl tells me her profile is bad looking, I usually tell her to change the way she does her hair. This is the simplest, easiest way to improve the appearance of the side face. Indeed, the way the hair is arranged makes a tremendous difference in the profile. A thin face can be made to seem more rounded if the hair is pulled over the face, a high forehead can be eliminated by pulling the hair down nearer the brows, a prominent nose looks best if the hair is fluffed softly around the face, a small nose is made to seem larger if the knot of the hair comes opposite it.

By studying various arrangements, using the hand mirror and dresser mirror to get the side view, you can find for yourself the best way of fixing the hair for your own profile. Only a perfect face can stand the severe style, while a fat face needs the hair soft around the edges and fluffed only a trifle.

Of course, a deformed face can be improved by neoplastic treatments. And a profile that shows the month line out of harmony, can be improved by dental treatments. But a rearrangement of the hair will do wonders in many cases.

Good Will Triumphant Under Test

As this message is being written, Dodge Brothers' daily, weekly and monthly production, is at the highest point in its history. The most casual sort of inquiry will satisfy you that this production is being absorbed as it is delivered.

Within sight and sound as we write, a great addition to Dodge Brothers' immense works, is being rushed to completion.

The interesting thing about this situation is, that it is not likely that a half a hundred people have ever bought Dodge Brothers Motor Car just because they wanted a motor car.

Of the more than half a million who have bought it—the overwhelming majority did so because of the name it bore.

It has always been treated, by the American people in particular, as an exception—always set apart, and singled out, and never judged by ordinary standards.

It has always been thought of, and is still thought of, first, and foremost, and all the time, only in terms of its goodness, and the results it gives.

All of this is wonderful, in one way, and quite natural and logical in another.

It all dates back to the day when John and Horace Dodge conceived and designed and finally built the car—after warning each other, and their associates, not even to think of it in any other terms than the best obtainable value.

They began with a few almost absurdly simple principles, bluntly expressed and rigidly executed, about decency and honor and integrity—such as most of us wrote in our copy books at school.

They reduced these old copy book maxims to a splendid and scientific system, pouring more, and more, and still more value into the car, and then marshalling all the resources of modern massed manufacture to get their product into the hands of the people at an honorable and an honest cost.

These policies and principles have never been changed, and never will be changed, by so much as a hair's breadth; and they have come to be recognized and accepted as Dodge Brothers principles wherever motor cars are driven.

It has all happened as John and Horace Dodge planned it—quite simply, naturally, and automatically all over America and all over the world.

People do discriminate, as Dodge Brothers contended they would; people will find out when a motor car is well built and gives good service and great good value.

Dodge Brothers market today is where they planned to locate and establish it—in the mind and the heart of every man and woman who admires good work, well done.

It will last, and it will keep on growing, as it has kept on growing for five years (faster than Dodge Brothers works could keep pace with it), as long as the number of those who believe that a manufacturer should build to serve and not merely to sell, continues to increase.

All is well with Dodge Brothers today, because John and Horace Dodge build well in the beginning, and because their business will continue to build well until the end.

DAY WELL GIVEN
 80-QT. SHOT FRI-
 DAY--CLEANING

Day well No. 4, which was drilled in the past week, was given an 80-quart shot of nitro-glycerine last Friday, with very beneficial results, according to Mr. Day, and the well is showing up as one of the best in the field. The drillers are now engaged in cleaning out the well.

Quite a party of Chicago capitalists, members of the Day-Daley Petroleum association, which is developing the Day field, are here this week on an inspection tour, and are noting the progress being made on the new well. The party was also greatly impressed with the showing made by Day well No. 3, which has been flowing oil from the casing head the past several months.

J. E. McGinley, president of the Douglas Oil Co., is here this week from Douglas, Neb., looking over the field, with the purpose of reporting to his associates upon the advisability of further drilling. Mr. McGinley is very favorably impressed with the developments in the three producing fields in the county, and if arrangements can be made without doubt, recommend further operations by his company. Scarcity of water is one great obstacle just at the present, and Mr. McGinley is making efforts to see if this difficulty cannot be overcome. The Douglas Oil Co. has a 2200 ft. hole five miles northwest of Brady, the well being in shape to drill deeper and a full equipment of tools being on hand. The company drilled through 30 ft. of oil sand at 660 ft., with gas under the sand. It is thought this is the same sand as had in the Day field. A second showing of oil was had at 860 ft. It is not at all improbable but what the company will undertake to develop these shallow sands.

MERCURY OIL FIELD TO WITNESS PUTTING DOWN
 MANY NEW WELLS SOON

F. F. Shafer, of the De Soto Petroleum Company, of Memphis, Tenn., was in Brownwood Tuesday. The company which Mr. Shafer represents is preparing to put down ten wells near Mercury, twenty-six miles from Brownwood and will begin spudding in within the next day or so, according to Mr. Shafer. Mr. Shafer has made Brownwood his headquarters and will bring his family here in the near future. He is delighted with the town and says in his opinion it is just the place he is seeking as the altitude is ideal and the climate dry and healthy. Other companies are sinking wells in the vicinity of Mercury and a real oil boom seems to have made its appearance. Mr. Shafer says tanks and loading racks are in course of construction, and a large quantity of the oil from the Mercury field has been brought to Brownwood in order that rigid tests might be made. It is believed that the grade of oil in the new field will take very high rank, if not the very highest of any oil in the southwest.—Brownwood Bulletin.

MOUNTAIN REMNANT BRIGADE NOW CONSOLIDATED WITH TEXAS DIVISION

L. Ballou, who was one of the number of ex-Confederate veterans attending the state reunion at Houston the past week, returned Monday, bringing with him a glowing tale of the hospitality and entertainment shown the veterans by the citizens of Houston. Mr. Ballou also reports that the resolution introduced by him at the reunion of the Mountain Remnant Brigade held at Mason in August, and calling for the consolidation of the Mountain Remnant Brigade with Texas Division of ex-Confederate veterans, was acted upon favorably by the Houston convention, and that in future the local body will be known as Mountain Remnant Brigade, 5th Texas Division.

Other veterans, or members of the families of veterans who attended the Houston reunion, included F. M. Jackson, I. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, J. M. Able, Mrs. W. H. Ballou and daughter, Miss Katherine, D. C. Randalls of Waldrip and Olfert Striegler of Menard.

MERCHANTS CAR-
 NIVAL BIG suc-CESS 1ST NIGHT

For the first time in the history of Brady the U. S. Postoffice has entered the list of advertisers. Postmaster A. B. Reagan had Uncle Sam make a personal appearance before the people of Brady in the interests of the local postoffice, and give the audience in facts and figures the growth of the business accorded him here. The act was one of the best and cleverest representations at the Merchants Carnival and Style show, staged here. Mrs. J. D. Branscum personified Uncle Sam, and appeared in full red, white and blue garb—hat and all, and carrying Old Glory over her shoulder.

The Merchants Carnival, Style show and Concert is a home talent performance, staged under direction of Prof. Graves, and given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers club for the benefit of the Brady schools. Last night was the opening night's performance, the second performance being scheduled for tonight. The entire play has already been pronounced a complete success, some 94 local merchants being represented by young ladies either in dress, or by song, verse or recital.

About fifty of the merchants were given representation last night, every character playing her part remarkably well, and being deserving of highest credit. The characters were well-chosen, and some splendid representations were given.

The program for tonight is promised by Prof. Graves to be even better than that of last night.
