LAKE CLUB ORGANIZED TO DEVELOP RECREATION AND OUTING RESORT

DAM ON J. E. SHROPSHIRE RANCH WILL PROVIDE LAKE COVERING 35 ACRES—CLUB HOUSE, BATHING PAVILIONS AND MANY OTHER IMPROVEMENTS.

The Shropshire Lake club is the newest of Brady's pleasure and outing organizations, the club having just been formed for the purpose of creating an outing and recreation grounds on the Shropshire ranch, 3 1/2 miles east of Brady. The new club proposes to build a dam across a draw on the Shropshire place, thereby creating a lake of water covering approximately 35 acres. A club house, bathing pavilions and other improvements for pleasure seekers are also in contemplation. The new club has a charter membership of forty-five, and will be limited to a membership of 52. Messrs. J. E. Shropshire and son, Gus, are honorary life members of the club, Mr. Shropshire having donated the land for the club and lake site to the organization.

While the project of a lake club has been under consideration for a number of years by several of the leading spirits in the project, it was only the latter part of last week that any real effort was made towards organization. The proposition, as presented by Edd Broad, leader in the move, proved so appealing that forty-five citizens were signed up before the first meeting was called Monday, at which time the organization was permanently effected with officers as follows:

J. E. Shropshire, president.
Edd Broad, vice-president.
B. L. Hughes, secretary.
W. H. Ballou, treasurer.

Directors of the club are: W. N. White, W. F. Dutton, J. H. Hill, S. W. Hughes, W. M. Bryson

As before stated, the new club lake will be located on the ranch of J. E. Shropshire, 3 1/2 miles east of Brady. The proposed dam will be 200 yards in length, 85 ft. at the base, and 16 ft.

at the crown, and will be built across a great draw which has its source in the East Sweden community. The dam will confine a body of water covering 35 acres, and will serve to back the water of the lake up for a distance of fully half a mile. At its deepest point, the lake will be fully 25 ft. Mr. Shropshire donates the 35 acres covered by the lake, also one acre of ground for the club house, and camping privileges to the club in perpetuity, providing the organization is maintained as a fishing and outing club. Should the club ever be dissolved, or cease to be, the land, together with improvements, reverts to Mr. Shropshire. Mr. Shropshire's contract limits the membership in the organization to 62, but the club itself proposes to limit the membership to 52.

The enthusiasm of the new organization is attested to by the fact that no time has been lost in setting the

COLD SNAP, FOLLOWING EASTER, CAUSES DAMAGE TO GARDENS BUT NOT FRUIT

Easter Sunday was a distinct disappointment to the general citizenship. Although the day promised fair and pleasant, following the pre-Easter spell, a blizzardly norther sprang up shortly after dinner, and caught many citizens quite unprepared. Several parties, camping or fishing on nearby streams, had left their coats and heavier clothing at home, and some had even gotten their clothes water-soaked and all but froze coming home facing the norther.

Sunday night the thermometer lacked but a degree or so of reaching the freezing point, the high wind and partly cloudy skies evidently preventing a freeze. Monday night, however, with clear skies and calm weather, a heavy frost fell damaging gardens and early vegetables considerably. It appears the general verdict, however, that by reason of the heavy foliage and the fruit being well-advanced, the damage done to the fruit crop will be slight.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION FOR BRADY INDEPENDENT DISTRICT NEXT SATURDAY

Next Saturday, April 2nd, the election of school trustees will be held in the various school districts of the county. For once, there appears to be some interest taken in the election in Brady Independent school district, and the voter will have the opportunity of selecting the four trustees to be named from among quite a list of candidates. The four trustees whose term of office is about to expire are J. B. Whiteman, Lee McShan, Henry Samuel and Dr. J. S. Anderson.

Mr. Whiteman, who was appointed trustee to fill the unexpired term of the late H. P. Roddie, is the only trustee it is understood, who will offer for re-election. In addition, there will be the following names offered the voters, as so far announced: R. B. McClure, Edd Broad, A. J. Ricks, Roy Wilkerson, C. A. Trigg, and the following ladies: Mrs. Edd Bryson, Mrs. C. A. Trigg. The naming of the ladies as candidates is in accord with the principles of the Parent-Teachers association, which has consistently endorsed the move to place ladies upon the board of trustees. The Ladies Tuesday club has also placed itself on record as favoring women candidates for the position of school trustee.

Lee Jones, president of the local board, states that the ticket will be held open until Thursday night to give opportunity for any other names to be placed before the voters upon the official ticket.

L. Ballou, who will have charge of the election, urges a full vote of both men and women voters. Poll tax receipts should, in all cases, be presented by the voter.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE EVENTS WITNESSED BY LARGE ATTENDANCE

ROCHELLE APPARENTLY WINS FIRST PLACE, ALTHOUGH BRADY ALSO CONTENTS FOR FIRST ON EVENTS NOT SO FAR CREDITED—MEDALS ARE AWARDED.

From a comparatively inauspicious beginning last year, the Interscholastic League events held in Brady last Saturday, jumped into prominence by reason of the large attendance from all over the county, the great interest displayed in all the events and splendid showings made by the various athletes and schools. Several thousands of citizens witnessed the track and field events on the Brady high school athletic grounds, and a large crowd also was in attendance upon the finals in declamation and debate held at the Methodist church Saturday night.

Gold medals were awarded Raleigh Neal of Rochelle and Miss Velma Burk of Rochelle as the best debaters. Miss Birk's medal having been offered by the McCulloch County Red Cross.

The Standard has, so far, been unable to get a complete report on the various events, but is promised the same as soon as the director-general can gather all the data. The following list of winners in the various events is subject to correction:

Junior Girls' Declamations.
Juanita Joyce, Brady, 1st.
Alice Horn, Lohn, 2nd.
Alpha Amarine, Waldrip, 3rd.

In the foregoing, Thelma Phillips of Rochelle was awarded first place by the judges, but her declamation was ruled out as the rules called for standard poems from junior declaimers, and Miss Phillips' offering was standard prose, which made of it a senior declamation.

Junior Boys' Declamations.
John Kinney, Melvin, 1st.
Chas. Jones, Brady, 2nd.
Melvin Ludwick, Pear Valley, 3rd.

Senior Girls' Declamations.
Miss Edith McShan, Brady, 1st.
Miss Maud Ryan, Waldrip, 2nd.
Miss Opal Turner, Calf Creek, 3rd.
Miss Nellie Doyle, Fife, 4th.

Senior Boys' Declamations.
Howard Aycock, Rochelle, 1st.
Houston Bullock, Pear Valley, 2nd.
Abbey Carson, Melvin, 3rd.

Debates.
The debates upon the subject: "Resolved, That the Movement for an Open Shop in Texas Should Be Supported," was won by the negative side in both the boys and the girls' debates. In the boys' debate, Dan Epps and Carlos Harris of Lohn composed the team winning over Raleigh Neal and Archie Gainer of Rochelle. In the girls' debates, Misses Velma Burk and Annie Roper of Rochelle were judged winners over Misses Lurlene Carroll and Vida Carroll of Lohn.

In the preliminary debates, held in the morning, the Lohn boys' team won from Pear Valley and the Rochelle boys from Brady. No preliminary

COMING FRIDAY, APRIL 1ST

The Great 7-Reel Feature "BEHOLD MY WIFE"

One of those rare photoplays that you recognize instantly as far out of the ordinary is coming Friday, April 1st, and it is "Behold My Wife!" Produced by George Melford. "Behold My Wife!" is his latest and best. The picture was adapted from a great novel of the Canadian Northwest by Sir Gilbert Parker. A hot-headed younger son of an aristocratic English family and the pretty Indian girl whom he marries at a Canadian trading post in a moment of blind rage because he learns that his parents have caused his fiancée back home to jilt him are the central figures in the story. A gripping photoplay of the Canadian Northwest with a story as appealing as the majestic background. You'll never see a picture that "gets you" like "Behold My Wife!" The story's about a crude young Indian girl who became a lady and a fallen Britisher who became a man. It's a Paramount picture with an all-star cast. Come see something new in a motion picture—a tale of Canada's frozen wilds, society's drawing rooms and the biggest, deepest things in human hearts. Only one show given on this night, starting promptly at 7:45 p. m. Come early and get good seats.

5-Reel WESTERN DRAMA

A rousing tale of love and a Western feud. "Two Moons" is a story of a great love that developed from bitter hatred during the feud of the cattle barons and sheep men of Wyoming. This picture is generally conceded to be the best that this cowboy daredevil and finished actor has made. It is a rousing tale of love and Western feud. There is said to be some brand new thrills in the picture. One of the moments of white hot interest is when "Original," with a mockery smile dares the girl to shoot him. A Western photo-drama of mighty thrills.

SILENT BARRIERS

The pictorial values in the "Silent Barrier" from the novel of the same name by Louis Tracy, Hodgkinson's release, are unusually effective and striking representing scenes from the street, and drawing rooms of London to the snow-clad heights of the Alps. This picture presents the true atmosphere of the different locales of the story. The winter sports; Swiss chalets and shelter; huts in the mountains, where some of the most dramatic action is located, are interestingly portrayed. A story that takes you from luxurious London drawing rooms to the highest Alpine peaks.

HONEST INJUN.

As Mark Twain once said, "There is a lot of talking about the weather, but nothing is ever done about it."

THE SCHOOL ELECTIONS.

Saturday is school election day—the day upon which a set of school trustees to be named in the various school districts. For the sake of the rising generation, the citizens of McCulloch county should take every interest in this event, which should be one of the most important elections of the year.

There is another very pointed article published in this issue. It is from the facile pen of Phebe K. Warner, special writer for the Star-Telegram. Mrs. Warner says that the lack of interest shown in many school elections, might be condoned at a stock law election, but never at an election of trustees who are to guide and direct the welfare of school children.

Turn out and vote Saturday. Make this election one of the biggest ever held in the county. For the good of the McCulloch county schools, and for the benefit of the rising generation, let every citizen take the matter of naming the best qualified people as members of their local school board seriously and do his part.

SCHOOL POLITICS.

It will be an election, all right, but not a political election. To vote for the school trustees is no more a political act than to vote for the president of the Missionary Society or the Mothers' Club. Not one bit. You don't object to saying whom you want for president of the Ladies' Aid do you? Nor whom you want to be president of your club? One is choosing a person for a religious work. The other is choosing a person for social work.

And now in a few days the State of Texas will again choose the men and women whom they want to direct the educational interests of their towns and cities and communities for another year or two. On this particular day about 15,000 new trustees must be elected for a two-year term. But you do not have to work over the whole 15,000. All you have to do is help select one, two, three or four in your own school to take the place of those whose terms have expired.

Now what are you going to do about it? We mean the women of Texas. We know what the man will do. Unless someone is running for the new trustee whom they do NOT want they will stay at home and work and whittle as is their natural custom on school election day.

Last year in our town no one could be located to hold the school election until late in the afternoon and then a gentleman with no family, no interest in the school and nothing else to do that day was prevailed upon the "open the polls" and hold the school election. About that time a fine northern struck town. There were four school trustees to be chosen in an independent district representing 350 school children. There were seven or eight names on the ticket to choose from and there was a grand total of nineteen votes cast. It was so complicated that it looked for a while like another election would have to be called to run off the ties. What a school spirit! What depth of interest! And how proud the new trustees felt, to be elected by such large majorities!

If such a minority vote had been cast on a pig contest or for the prettiest girl in town the whole election would have been called illegal and not representing the will of the people. But it was just a school election. Merely selecting some trustees to keep the school alive, hire the teachers, sign the vouchers, pay the bills, buy the coal, employ a janitor and look after a few more incidentals relative to a town school. That's the idea. Anybody will do that will do it. No experience needed. Qualifications unnecessary.

This has been the spirit of the people towards their schools for years and years, and accounts today more than anything else for the low standards of our schools in Texas.

But there is a different condition of affairs this year. One never known in Texas before. At our next school election women will not only be eligible as trustees but everyone who has performed her patriotic duty by paying her poll tax may have a voice in the school election and register her choice for trustees.

Some of you may not realize what this means to our schools. The giving of the ballot to the thousands and hundreds of thousands of ex-women-teachers of our State and Nation was one of the greatest educational moves ever made. Almost 90 per cent of our teachers today are women. More than 75 per cent of our past teachers are women. But not until this year could these women with years of school experience have the right to help build up the very schools they created. No, sir! Women by the thousands who understood all the trials of a teacher; knew the needs of our public schools from the primer to the graduating platform; had studied for years to prepare themselves for school work; had made a study of child life and understood the boy and girl problems; knew how to appreciate a good teacher, and sympathize with the poor teacher, because they had been both. All such women were barred from our schools the hour they left the schoolroom and took up the work of a home and a family. But anything, anybody, just so it was a man, would do for a school trustee.

But that day is past. The school training of all the years is open now to the schools. Women and men alike may use their ripened experience to correct the mistakes of the past rather than duplicate them generation after generation, and women with vision as well as men without vision may cast their wishes into our educational affairs and give to our schools the benefit of their long years of school work. Isn't it reasonable to expect some new light and some needed help along our educational lines? —Phebe K. Warner, in Fort Worth Star-Telegram, March 27, 1921.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bevens National bank held last week, Friday, the resignation of R. R. Russell was accepted from the presidency of the bank and William Bevens was again re-elected in his place. Mr. Bevens resigned from this office a few months ago because of ill health, and his many friends are glad to see him back on the job once more.—Menard Messenger.

Robert Cummins of Fort Worth arrived Sunday for a visit with his cousin, H. C. Cummins, and family and other relatives. Robert, although but ten years old, is a crack shot and made an initial record of 35 rabbits killed on the Cummins place in Dodge community, missing but two shots, and killing three rabbits at one shot. Mr. Cummins says rabbits are sure to be a scarce article out his way, by the time Roberts' two weeks visit has passed.

Mrs. J. S. Anderson, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Emma Campbell, drove to San Antonio the latter part of last week to be a guest over Easter, of her daughter, Miss Carmen, who is attending Our Lady of the Lake there.

Paul Sheridan was a business visitor from Burnet in Brady Monday. Paul says the Sheridan Mining Co. expects to install a smelter at once, and hopes to see the plant in actual production within the next eighteen months.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glascock, who have just returned from California, where they have been spending the winter, arrived in Brady Thursday for a visit with the lady's brother, Dr. J. S. Anderson, and sisters, here. They left Monday morning for Goldthwaite where they will visit another brother, E. B. Anderson. The Glascocks were at one time engaged in the drug business at Menard, but for several years have had a splendidly appointed drug store at Sherman. Mr. Glascock sold out just before taking the California trip, and is now prospecting for a new location.

NATIONAL RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVE WILL ORGANIZE BRANCHES HERE

Local members of the McCulloch County Red Cross have been advised that a representative of the National Red Cross will be in Brady this week for the purpose of enlisting the interest and aid of all communities in the county in the Red Cross work. It is the purpose of the representative to organize branches at various points in the county, for the purpose of strengthening the McCulloch County Red Cross and to enable it to successfully undertake the securing of a Community Nurse for the county.

Meetings have been arranged at various school houses in the county at 3:00 p. m. on the following days and dates, and with the following named ladies assisting the national representative:

- LOHN - Tuesday, March 29th. Mrs. W. D. Jordan.
MELVIN - Wednesday, March 30th. Mrs. J. A. Maxwell.
VOCA - Thursday, March 31st. Mrs. P. A. Campbell.
ROCHELLE - Friday, April 1st.
MERCURY - Saturday, April 2nd.
NINE - Tuesday, April 5th. 7:30 p. m.

As many Brady citizens as can possibly do so are urged to accompany these making the visits to these points on the dates named.

Card of Appreciation. The Junior Red Cross of Brady desires to heartily thank the citizens of Brady who so generously opened their homes for the reception, care and entertainment of the visitors at the Interscholastic League meet. Due to an unexpected change in the program, no visitors were in Brady Friday night, as had been anticipated, and this accounts for the disappointment of many of our friends. To one and all we are deeply grateful. JUNIOR RED CROSS, Miss Tempa Davis, Chm.

OKLAHOMA MAN NOW ENDORSES IT

Welch, Aged 66, Tells How Wonderfully Tanlac Built Him Up.

"The way Tanlac fixed me up two years ago is something I will always remember," said J. T. Welch, well-known retired business man of Fort Gibson for twenty years, was town marshal at one time and is one of the most prominent citizens of the city.

"I was not what one would call exactly sick, but am getting along in years and felt my usual good health and strength slipping away. My appetite failed and even what little I did eat seemed to do me no good. I suffered from a sluggish liver and constipation, became very weak and nervous; in fact was so weak I couldn't walk a few steps, especially upstairs, without giving out completely. My condition seemed to get worse and I became greatly disturbed about my poor state of health.

"In looking around to find something to set me right I got hold of Tanlac and it struck the spot exactly. My appetite picked up almost from the start, and in a little while my strength and energy came back to me and I was feeling fine. Since then I've been in good shape, and now I can run up the stairway if necessary and it doesn't tire me, either. I don't at all mind walking all day, for I feel good and can enjoy it. I'm in good condition in every way and am glad to say a good word for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Mercury by J. T. Matlock, in Rochelle by C. W. Carr, and by leading druggists everywhere.

School Trustee Election
On Saturday, April 2nd, there should be an election for school trustees held in every school district in the county.

The office of school trustee is one of the most important to be held. Too many times the question is "Who will have the position?" instead of "who is best qualified for the position?"

Too often petty factions spring up in school districts that cause no one to lose except the school. During my experience in school work, I find that we obtain the best results where we do not have these factions, and where all the people work in harmony. We may differ in politics; we may differ in religion, but by all means we should pull together, when it comes to educating our boys and girls.

Too often in some districts, they fail to hold elections and depend on the County School trustees to appoint. This is not a good plan. In the past, the County Board has done its best to select the right person for school trustee. Sometimes it has made mistakes. It should never be called upon to make these appointments, unless a vacancy occurs for some very good reason.

If those appointed by the local trustees, fail or refuse to hold the election, then the voters who gather at the polling places may select three of their number, to hold it. Every voter should consider it his or her duty to go to the polls and vote for trustees, and after they have been elected, they should stand by, and assist them in every way to have better schools.

Signed, W. M. DEANS, County Superintendent.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 50c per bottle.

CHAPTER TWO

The Founding of the Phyllittes.
One little word largely accounted for the success of J. Patterson Bing.
It was the word "no." It saved him in moments which would have been full of peril for other men. He had never made a bad investment because he knew how and when to say "no." It fell from his lips so sharply and decisively that he lost little time in the consideration of doubtful enterprises. Sometimes it fell heavily and left a wound, for which Mr. Bing thought himself in no way responsible. There was really a lot of goodwill in him. He didn't mean to hurt any one.
"Time is a thing of great value and what's the use of wasting it in idle palaver?" he used to say.
One day, Hiram Blenkinsop, who was just recovering from a spree, met Mr. Bing at the corner of Main and School streets and asked him for the loan of a dollar.
"No sir!" said Mr. J. Patterson Bing, and the words sounded like two whacks of a hammer on a nail. "No sir," he repeated, the second whack years of age, who presided in the kitchen of the Reverend Otis Singleton; the two others were Susan Crowder, a woman of sixty, and a red-headed girl with one eye, of the name of Featherstraw, both of whom served the opulent Bings. Some of these hired girls ate with the family—save on special occasions when city folk were present. Mrs. Collins and the Gilligans seemed to enjoy this privilege, but Susan Crowder, having had an ancestor who had fought in the Revolutionary war, couldn't stand it, and Martha Featherstraw preferred to eat in the kitchen. Indeed there was some warrant for this remarkable situation. The Gilligan sisters had a brother who was a magistrate in a large city and Mrs. Collins had a son who was a successful and popular butcher in the growing city of Hazel-mead.

That part of the village known as Irishtown and a settlement of Poles and Italians furnished the man help in the mill, and its sons were also seen more or less in the fields and gardens.
Ambition and education had been working in the minds of the young in and about Bingville for two generations. The sons and daughters of farmers and ditch-diggers had read Virgil and Horace and plodded into the mysteries of higher mathematics. The best of them had gone into learned professions; others had enlisted in the business of great cities; still others had gone in for teaching or stenog-raphy.

Their success had wrought a curious devastation in the village and countryside. The young moved out heading for the paths of glory. Many a sturdy, stupid person who might have made an excellent plumber, or carpenter, or farmer, or cook, armed with a university degree and a sense of superiority, had gone forth in quest of fame and fortune prepared for nothing in particular and achieving firm possession of it. Somehow the elective system had enabled them "to get by" in a state of mind that resembled the Mojave desert. If they did not care for Latin or mathematics they could take a course in Herology or in the Taming of the Wild Chickadee or in some such easy skating.
Bingville was like many places. The young had fled from the irksome tasks which had roughened the hands and bent the backs of their parents. That, briefly, accounts for the fewness and the sniffliness above referred to.

Early in 1917, the village was shaken by alarming and astonishing news. True, the sinking of the Lusitania and our own enlistment in the World war and the German successes on the Russian frontier had, in a way, prepared the heart and intellect of Bingville for shocking events. Still, these disasters had been remote. The fact that the Gilligan sisters had left the Crookers and accepted an offer of one hundred and fifty dollars a month from the wealthy Nixons of Hazel-mead was an event close to the footlights, so to speak. It caused the news of battles to take its rightful place in the distant background. Men talked of this event in stores and on the street corners; it was the subject of conversation in sewing circles and the Phylomathian Literary club. That day, the Bings whispered about it at the dinner table between courses until Susan Crowder sent in a summons by Martha Featherstraw with the apple pie. She would be glad to see Mrs. J.
Patterson Bing in the kitchen immediately after dinner. There was a moment of silence in the midst of which Mr. Bing winked knowingly at his wife, who turned pale as she put down her pie fork with a look of determination and rose and went into the kitchen. Mrs. Crowder regretted that she and Martha would have to look for another family unless their wages were raised from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars a month.

"But, Susan, we all made an agreement for a year," said Mrs. Bing.
Mrs. Crowder was sorry, but she and Martha could not make out on the wages they were getting—everything cost so much. If Mary Gilligan, who couldn't cook, was worth a hundred dollars a month Mrs. Crowder considered herself cheap at twice that figure.
Mrs. Bing, in her anger, was inclined to revolt, but Mr. Bing settled the matter by submitting to the tyranny of Susan. With Phyllis and three of her young friends coming from school and a party in prospect, there was nothing else to do.

Maggie Collins, who was too old and too firmly rooted in the village to leave it, was satisfied with a raise of ten dollars a month. Even then she received a third of the minister's salary. "His wife being a swell lady he had no time for wurruk, sure the wife was no sooner married than he was deluged for help," as Maggie was wont to say.

This had a decided effect on the life of the village. Indeed, Blenkinsop, the village drunkard, attended to the lawns and for a number of people, determined an increase of a dollar a day in his wages on account of the high cost of living, although one would say that its effect upon him could not have been serious. For years the historic figure of Blenkinsop had been the destination and repository of the cast-off clothing and the worn and shapeless shoes of the leading citizens. For a decade, the venerable derby hat, which once belonged to Judge Crooker, had survived all the incidents of his adventurous career. He was, indeed, as replete with suggestive memories as the graveyard to which he was wont to repair for rest and recuperation in summer weather. There, in the shade of a locust tree hard by the wall, he was often discovered with his faithful dog—Christmas—a yellow, mongrel, good-natured cur—lying beside him, and the historic derby hat in his hand.

He had a persevering pride in that hat. Mr. Blenkinsop showed a surprising and commendable industry under the stimulation of increased pay.
He worked hard for a month, then celebrated his prosperity with a night of such noisy, riotous joy that he landed in the lockup with a black eye and a broken nose and an empty pocket.
As usual, the dog Christmas went with him.

When there was a loud yell in the streets at night Judge Crooker used to say, "It's Hiram again. The poor fellow is out a-hiraming."
William Snodgrass, the carpenter, gave much thought and reflection to the good fortune of the Gilligan girls.
If a hired girl could earn twenty-five dollars a week and her board, a skilled mechanic, who had to board himself, ought to earn at least fifty. So he put up his prices. Israel Sneed, the plumber, raised his scale to correspond with that of the carpenter. The prices of the butcher and grocer kept pace with the rise of wages. A period of unexampled prosperity set in.

Some time before, the Old Spirit of Bingville had received notice that its services would no longer be required.
It had been an industrious and faithful Old Spirit. The new generation did not intend to be hard on it. They were willing to give it a comfortable home as long as it lived. Its home was to be called The Past. There it was to have nothing to do but to sit around and weep and talk of bygone days. The Old Spirit rebelled. It refused to abandon its appointed tasks.

The notice had been given soon after the new theater was opened in the Sneed block, and the endless flood of moving lights and shadows began to fall on its screen. The low-born, pur-blind intellects of Bohemian New York began to pour their lewd fancies into this great stream that flowed through every city, town and village in the land. They had no more compunction in the matter than a rattlesnake when it swallows a rabbit. To them, there were only two great, bare facts in life—male and female. The males, in their vulgar parlance, were either "wise guys" or "suckers!" The females were all "my dears."

Much of this mental sewage smelled to heaven. But it paid. It was cheap and entertaining. It relieved the to-dium of small-town life.

Judge Crooker was in the little theater that evening that the Old Spirit of Bingville received notice to quit. The sons and daughters and even the young children of the best families in the village were there.
Scenes from the shady side of the great cities, bar-room adventures with pugilists and porcelain-faced women, the thin-ice skating of illicit love succeeded one another on the screen. The tender souls of the young received the impression that life in the great world was mostly drunkenness, violence, lust, and Great White Waywardness of one kind or another.

Judge Crooker shook his head and his fist as he went out and expressed his view to Phyllis and her mother in the lobby. Going home, they called him an old prude. The knowledge that every night this false instruction was going on in the Sneed block filled the good man with sorrow and apprehension. He complained to Mr. Leak, the manager, who said that he would like to give clean shows, but that he had to take what was sent him.

Soon a curious thing happened to the family of Mr. J. Patterson Bing.
It acquired a new god—one that began, as the reader will have observed, with a small "g." He was a boneless, India-rubber, obedient little god. For years the need of one like that had been growing in the Bing family. Since he had become a millionaire, Mr. Bing had found it necessary to spend a good deal of time and considerable money in New York. Certain of his banker friends in the metropolis had introduced him to the joys of the Great White Way and the card room of the Golden Age club. Always he had been ill and disgruntled for a week after his return to the homely realities of Bingville. The shrewd intuitions of Mrs. Bing alarmed her. So Phyllis and John were packed off to private schools so that the good woman would be free to look after the imperiled welfare of the lamb of her flock—the great J. Patterson. She was really worried about him. After that, she always went with him to the city. She was pleased and delighted with the luxury of the great hotels, the costumes, the dinner parties, the theaters, the suppers, the cabaret shows.
The latter shocked her a little at first.

They went out to a great country house, near the city, to spend a weekend. There was a dinner party on Saturday night. One of the ladies got very tipsy and was taken upstairs.

The others repaired to the music room to drink their coffee and smoke. Mrs.
Bing tried a cigarette and got along with it very well. Then there was an hour of heart to heart, central Euro-

Say! Oh, Boy!

Tell us, why is it that "Irwin's" cooking always has that "just right" flavor and taste that makes one's appetite keen, and the dish thoroughly enjoyed?

That's not so hard to answer! "Irwin's" is operated by people who know how and where to buy the best, and who understand the cooking and serving.
They possess the art of seasoning, and the garnishing of dishes that whets the appetite.

You'll always have your appetite with you when you come here, because you will always find them

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS FOR BRADY INDEPENDENT DIS-TRICT NEARLY COMPLETED

W. G. Joyce, who is taking the scholastic census for Brady Independent School district, has practically completed his work, and will total close around 750 scholastics this year.
Brady citizens are urged, should they know of any child of scholastic age who has not yet been enumerated, to advise Mr. Joyce at the City Secretary's office before Thursday night, as that will be the last minute in which to enroll any child in the census. The importance of having every child enrolled lies in the fact that something like $14.50 of state funds is apportioned the district for each child of scholastic age shown on the rolls.

According to Superintendent Cleveland, Brady is also entitled to credit for junior events, in which Brady won sufficient points to place her in the lead of all the schools. These events included the 50-yard and 100-yard dashes in which Calf Creek, Brady, Lohn and Rochelle took part. Also the girls' events in 50-yard, 100-yard and 1-6 mile dashes in which Calf Creek, Brady and two other schools participated. Mr. Cleveland has directed the attention of the judges to these events, and expects Brady school to be credited with them.

Winners in various events are expected to take part in the district meet at Comanche on Friday and Saturday, March 8th and 9th. According to the rules of the interscholastic meets, the winning teams in debating and in tennis, singles and doubles, and the Boys and Girls, are entitled to participate in the district meet. PERSONAL MENTION Messrs. W. B. and Ernest Beakley were business visitors in Brady from Mercury today.

The Rev. S. C. Dunn left Monday for Midland, where he will be engaged the next two weeks in holding a revival meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Birk and daughter, Miss Myrtle Mae, were visitors Monday in Brady from the Fredonia section.

The many friends of the venerable D. Doole, will learn with a great deal of regret that he is growing quite feeble and that his condition is considered critical. This esteemed gentleman passed his 85th birthday on the 25th of last November.—Mason News.

R. Ed Neal and Lonnie Cates of Rochelle, students in Howard Payne college at Brownwood, were among the visitors at the track meet Saturday. R. Ed was also a guest at the Ogden home in Brady over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Steffins and son, Karl Keller, accompanied by Mrs. A. W. Keller and Cecil Striegler, drove to Brownwood this morning, where they will spend the day with relatives, and incidentally see the ball game between the Chicago White Sox and the Brownwood Elks.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall were business visitors in Brady from Rockwood Monday. Arthur reports enjoying a splendid business at Rockwood since the Hall Telephone Co. took over the long distance connections at that place, and says that Rockwood is one of the busiest and best towns on the map.

LITTLE DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. CHAS. HILLIARD DIES AT LOHN FROM BURNS

After lingering for over two weeks, bravely fighting for her life, Lena B. the 2½-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hilliard of Lohn succumbed last Saturday at 12:00 o'clock to burns sustained on the 9th inst. The shocking tragedy, as mentioned in the Cow Gap news last Friday, occurred when the little one's clothes caught aflame from a match which she had kindled at the fire in one of the rooms of the Hilliard residence. The mother was engaged in washing in the yard, and the little child ran to her for aid, its clothing a veritable torch of flame. The mother dashed the child into a tub of water, thereby extinguishing the flame, but not before the little one had been burned from knee to ear on the right side. The grief-stricken parents, aided by loving and sympathetic neighbors and friends, tenderly nursed the little child, hoping against hope for its recovery. In spite of all their efforts, however, the Death Angel came, bringing surcease, from pain to the patient little sufferer.

Funeral services were conducted at the Lohn Baptist church by the Rev. J. H. Taylor of Brady Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, and interment was made in the Lohn cemetery. A great concourse of friends was in attendance upon the funeral, sorrowful at the passing of this sweet little child, and yet having their sorrow tempered by the thought that the tortured body had been released from pain and suffering.

Besides the parents, two other children survive little Lena B.

tion to all who attended the contests at the Methodist church Saturday night, serving punch throughout the evening and in general, making everyone feel at home and glad they came and stayed.

At the close of the exercises at the Methodist church, Mrs. James T. Mann made an appeal to all for membership in the Red Cross, stating that it was only through an active Red Cross membership that the Junior Red Cross could be maintained, and also briefly outlined the many other good results that would come to the county through the Red Cross, chief among which was the employment of a Community Nurse. Efforts will be made at once, stated Mrs. Mann, to organize branches of the Red Cross at all points in the county. The sum of only $1.00 per year pays for membership in the Red Cross.

same in motion. The first assessment of the membership fee has already been paid in, committees have been appointed to look after the contracting of the desired improvements, and work on the same is to be begun at the earliest possible date. Preliminary to the building of the dam, the 35 acres to be given over to the lake, will be cleared of all timber and brush. A large silo containing about 165 tons of silage will also be moved, and the water line staked out by an engineer. Immediately upon completion, the lake is to be stocked with game fish.

The location is a most advantageous one, being close to Brady, and the fact the lake will be undisturbed by creek overflows and washes will serve to make it a popular gathering place for members and their out-of-town visitors.

ELEVENTH GOLD MEDAL CAPTURED BY "STUDENT BODY" OF ROCHELLE FAMILY

The Malone & Ragsdale medal given to the debater winning first place in the Interscholastic League meet debate was won by Raleigh R. Neal, Rochelle, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Neal of that place, and makes the eleventh medal captured by that family's "student body."

Earl S. Neal, who is now Labor supervisor for Hart-Schaffner and Marx, Chicago, Ill., having three to his credit; Mrs. A. V. Yeager of Brownwood, nee Miss Ethel Neal, winning four in her college career; R. Ed Neal student of Howard Payne college in his freshman year has already carried off three medals, the last one being the State Federation medal, and was contested for by the leading colleges and universities of the state. Raleigh, having succeeded in his first effort, bids fair to also become a medal winner of the "first water."

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in the Brady Independent School District on the 2nd day of April, 1921, the same being the first Saturday in said month, for the purpose of electing four (4) trustees for said school district to serve for a period of two years.

L. Ballou is hereby appointed manager of said election and he is directed to appoint such assistance as is necessary to aid him in holding said election, and shall hold said election in accordance with the laws of Texas governing elections and shall make returns of said election to the Board of Trustees of the Brady Independent School District within the time prescribed by law.

Dated this 2nd day of March, 1921.

N. A. CLEVELAND,
Secretary Board Trustees, Brady Independent School District.
E. L. JONES,
President of Board.

Titan Tractor
Back to the Old
Rock-Bottom Price

WE have reduced the price of the Titan 10-20 Tractor to its former low figure. This is the same Titan tractor which 75,000 farmers have put into remarkably successful service—the same standard power, plus 1921 improvements and additions.

International 8-16 and 15-30 Tractors
Also Reduced in Price

A full set of removable extension angle lugs sold as extra equipment under the former low price is now included without extra cost. Fenders, Platform, Angle Lugs, Throttle Governor, Friction Clutch Pulley, Wide Range Adjustable Drawbar, Water Air Cleaner—all are included without any extra charge.

Farmers who want a lighter tractor, built like a high-grade automobile but with the same sturdiness and reliability of the Titan, can now get the International 8-16 also at a much lower figure. We have long restricted the sale of this model to a limited territory, but increased production enables us to release it to all sections of the United States. The International 15-30 tractor has been reduced along with the others. Bear in mind that we give unequalled service, made possible through 92 branch houses and thousands of local dealers, to every International tractor owner, no matter where located.

Prices of Other Lines Reduced

Prices have also been reduced on chilled plows, tractor plows, cream separators, kerosene engines, seeding machines, International threshers, harvester-threshers, wagons, hay presses, and a number of other lines on which your dealer can give you full information.

The Best Liked Paste

—Carter's Cico-Liquid Paste has won its way because it has every superior quality expected in an adhesive of any kind with a few additional ones of its own.

—Cico is always ready for instant use and remains ready as long as there is a drop in the jar. It never needs water.

—Cico cannot become hard or lumpy nor can it get stiff and crumbly; it is always of a smooth consistency that grips evenly and firmly.

—Cico is economical because the thinner you spread it the better it sticks—little goes far.

For Office and Home; Store and Factory—CICO.

"Give Me An Ink That Will Write a Real Blue."

—That is equivalent to saying—"Give me CARTER'S WRITING FLUID and no other."

—There is so much watery ink around that when there is a chance to insure one's getting the good old pre-war BLUE by insisting on Carter's don't let anything else be seen on the desk or shelf.

—A good blue color with absolute permanence is demanded of an ink by the careful business man and these two elements, coupled with a delightful free-flowing quality and entire lack of sediment are best combined in Carter's Writing Fluid.

A Good Line—Carter Ink
