CIVIC LEAGUE TO ORGANIZE NEXT THURS. EVENING—MASS MEETING

ALL LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS, AND EVERY BRADY CITIZEN IS URGED TO BE PRESENT AT COURTHOUSE AT 8:00 P. M., JUNE 16TH TO HELP BUILD BRADY.

For the purpose of building, boosting and beautifying Brady, there will be called a mass meeting on next Thursday evening, at the court house at 8:00 o'clock, at which every Brady organization is urgently requested to have representatives, and every Brady citizen is especially invited to lend his or her presence. Men and ladies, young and old, are urged to come, join hands and help form the best and most active Civic League of any city in the Central West.

The need of a Civic League in Brady has long been apparent, and now that the ladies of Brady are taking interest in the matter, there is every reason why the citizens should join hands and make of next Thursday's meeting a great success, thereby assuring a Civic league that will be truly representative of the Brady spirit for bigger, better and a more beautiful city.

It is the plan of those fostering the organization of the league, to devote their efforts, first of all to the beautifying of Brady. Among other things, the converting of the court house square into a park and play grounds. Then the fostering of a Brady band, followed by the erection of a band stand on the square and the arranging for band concerts at stated intervals.

To advocate more and better paving; more and better walks; more and better shade trees, beautiful homes, attractive surroundings—these and many more are the objects that the Civic league expects to advocate and devote its efforts towards.

An especial invitation is extended the ladies of the Tuesday club, the members of the city council, the county commissioners, the board of directors and every member of the Brady Chamber of Commerce, the Brady Volunteer Fire department, the members of the Parent-Teachers association, and every citizen not included in the above organizations.

In hearty co-operation lies the road to success. We are all working for Brady; let all unite their efforts through the Civic league.

SHOOTING AFFAIR AT MILLERSVIEW—BILL BRYANT, KILLED BY TOM BENGE

The Standard is in receipt of information regarding the shooting affray occurring near Millersview yesterday morning, June 9th, in which Tom Bengé is alleged to have killed Bill Bryant, mail carrier between Eden and Paint Rock. The report as received from Eden of the affair is as follows:

Bill Bryant, the mail carrier between Eden and Paint Rock was killed by Tom Bengé near the Bengé home about 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. According to Vance Williams, a hand on the Bengé ranch, he saw the mail man coming and went and told Bengé, who was lying on the bed that the mail carrier was at his front gate. Bengé got up and called Bryant back. At this time Williams started on to the barn which was only a short distance from the house and in a little while, he said, he heard two shots fired. He rushed back to the house and got there in time to catch Bryant before he fell. When he dropped he was about 20 or 30 feet from the car.

There was no direct witness to the shooting, but according to men who went from Eden, he had been shot while in the car. After he was shot he got out of the car and wrestled with Bengé and succeeded in taking the gun away from him. After this, he was so exhausted from the loss of blood that he was falling when Williams caught him. There was only one shot that took effect, it going in just below his right collar bone and ranged downward, coming out about a half or one inch from his backbone, about four inches lower than where it entered.

The sheriff was immediately notified and he and other men from Eden went to the scene. Officers from Millersview got there first and Bengé surrendered to them. They carried him on to Ballinger where he was placed in the Runnels county jail.

Mr. Bryant is survived by a wife and two children, father and mother, and by several brothers. He was the son-in-law of R. M. Miller, sheriff of Corcho county. Mr. Miller said that it was himself that Bengé wanted, "But that he did

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL WINDOW IN RICHMOND CHURCH GIVEN BY F. W. HENDERSON

No more beautiful memorial could have been placed in the new Presbyterian church so soon to be dedicated, than the large window over the main entrance, the gift of Mr. F. W. Henderson, of Brady, Texas, in the memory of his wife, Margaret Miller Henderson, youngest sister of Mrs. Robert Miller and of Miss Mary Belle Miller, and Mrs. Lucille Miller Wooten, of Winchester, Ky. The subject is the Annunciation of the Nativity of Christ by the Angel of the Lord to the Shepherds keeping watch over their flocks by night. "And lo, the Angel of the Lord came upon them and the Glory of the Lord shown round about them, and sore afraid; and the Angel said unto them, 'Fear not, for behold I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.' For unto you is born this day in the City of David a Savior which is Christ the Lord."

The Star of Bethlehem shines over the scene and casts its golden rays on the upturned faces and richly colored robes of the Shepherds. The flocks huddled together in sleep, guarded by the faithful shepherd dog, the City of David dimly seen in the distance, the larger and wondering faces of the Shepherds are clearer revealed by the radiant presence of the Angel of the Lord who with outstretched wings stands over all ready to join with the multitude of the heavenly host, praising God, saying Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace and good will to men.

This inspiring subject has been skillfully executed by the Louisville Art Glass Company; the painting is the work of J. B. Alberts, well known portrait painter of Louisville, and the church at Richmond is certainly to be congratulated on possessing a window of exquisite and artistic. —The Daily Register, Richmond, Ky.

not have the nerve to come to me." Miller was the mail-carrier himself, and had Bryant hired to drive on the route.

No definite account leading to the cause of the tragedy has been received at this time by The Standard.

FINE RAIN FALLS PAST FEW DAYS IN BRADY VICINITY

A splendid rain was had in the Brady vicinity, Tuesday night, Wednesday night and Thursday morning. The rain started falling Tuesday night at about 1:00 o'clock and Wednesday morning the gauge at the Commercial National bank showed three-quarters of an inch precipitation for the night before. Cloudy weather prevailed all day Wednesday, and Wednesday night the rain began anew, continuing at intervals throughout the night, the gauge registering nearly an inch.

Melvin reports a heavy rain; Rochelle, light showers; Lohn, good rain; Peg Valley, good. Vocca, light rain. Hext and London came in for a good rain, while a light one fell around Mason. A heavy downpour is reported west of Mercury Thursday morning, and rain is reported to have fallen heavily in the Dodge and Nine communities.

MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TUESDAY NIGHT MARKED SUCCESS

U. C. V. RE-UNION DATES SET FOR AUGUST 3, 4 AND 5.—ENDORSE ORGANIZATION OF BRADY BAND—HIGHWAY SIGNS TO BE REPAINTED ON ALL ROADS.

A meeting of much enthusiasm and interest was had by the Brady Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night, June 7th, which was called by President Wilson Jordan for the purpose of discussing matters of importance and interest to citizens of Brady and McCulloch county. The meeting was held in the courthouse, with about seventy-five in attendance. Numerous subjects for discussion were brought up by the Chamber and in each instance committees of citizens were appointed to work out the details.

Organization of Local Band.

The meeting was called to order by W. D. Jordan, President of the Chamber of Commerce, at 8:15 p. m. Discussion of plans for the organization of a Brady band was in order, and after putting the proposition before the members, Mr. Jordan called upon various speakers to voice the opinion as to the practicability of such an organization. Everyone spoke in highest terms of appreciation of the idea and expressed themselves as being willing to stand behind the proposition, lending every assistance possible. Dr. Jack Ragsdale was then called upon to state the requirements needed to get the band upon a sound foundation. The proposition as stated by Dr. Ragsdale met with approval by all, in which he said, in part: "We have discussed the matter over with local band members, citizens and former band men, and have decided the one way in which to organize would be for each member to purchase his instrument, devote his time for practice and work untiringly for the results to be obtained. We have a list of about 35 members who have agreed to do this; upon the part of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens, we ask for the furnishing of an instructor for a period of 12 months, whose duties would be entirely for the instruction of the local band members." Dr. Ragsdale then mentioned several instructors of prominence, who are known over this section of the state for their ability as leaders, and whose services could readily be secured. He also called attention to the fact that heretofore local bands had been organized, but failed to materialize, because they had not been brought up in the right manner. Dr. Ragsdale is a bandmaster of much experience, and no one doubts in the least but what his ideas of band organization are first-class. Dr. Ragsdale stated that the band instruments for the 35 members already had on the list would be approximately $100 each, which represents $3500 and furnished by the members, against approximately $1800 for instructor's salary. A committee was appointed by W. D. Jordan for working out the details, composed of Duke Mnan, chairman; Dr. Jack W. Ragsdale, Howard Broad. This committee is at present working upon the matter and results are practically assured.

Set Dates for Reunion.

Setting the dates for the Union Confederate Veterans reunion was next to be taken up. Adjutant General L. Ballou, of the U. C. V. stated that heretofore the dates of the reunion had always been the first Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in

RED CROSS TO HELP FLOOD SUFFERERS IN COLO.

The chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, has received the following appeal from American Red Cross headquarters, asking aid for the sufferers in the recent Colorado flood districts:

June 6, 1921.

To Chapter Chairmen:

"In line with the letter issued to you under date of June 5th in regard to the Colorado flood disaster, it has now become necessary, since the extent of the disaster has been determined, to make a general appeal to the American people for funds to aid the sufferers.

"To make this appeal as comprehensive and far-reaching as is possible and to insure its reaching the ears of all individuals whose sympathies may have been stirred by the suffering brought about through this disaster, we are appealing to you to inform the people of your community of this need and to bring to their attention the fact that through its Congressional charter the American Red Cross is authorized to receive and administer funds collected for disaster relief.

"To this end will you at the earliest possible moment see that full publicity is given in every paper in your county that donations for the Colorado sufferers should be sent either to your Chapter headquarters or to James L. Fieser, Manager of the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo., or to James L. Fieser, care of the American Red Cross, Pueblo, Colorado. All funds received by the Chapter should be transmitted at once to Division headquarters.

"In addition to publishing this appeal in all papers, this information should be brought to the attention of the Mayor of your city, Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, Kiwanis, the ministers of your churches, and all organized groups of either men or women.

"It is probable that within a day or two a National Proclamation will be issued by President Harding calling upon the entire country for its aid and a similar one by the Governor of Colorado. Will you time your appeal so as to get the full effect of one or both of these Proclamations in order that the appeal may carry every possible authority. These proclamations will be issued by press agencies and should, therefore, appear in all of the larger newspapers. A copy will also be mailed to you from the Division Office.

"The need for these funds is great and immediate and it should be considered the paramount duty of Chapter officials to give to their community a knowledge of this need in order that it may contribute to the full extent of its ability.

"In the entire conduct of this appeal it should be clearly and definitely understood by all Chapter officials that while the Chapter will act as an agent in the receiving of the funds, there is to be no direct contribution from Chapter funds.

"Yours very sincerely,

"JAMES L. FIESER, Manager, Southwestern Division." The local Chapter will take care of any donations anyone wishes to make. Brady and McCulloch county citizens have always been liberal to help in such matters of this kind, and this call for the stricken people is urgent. So let everyone do what they can to help in this hour of need.

WONDER WORDS.

Predicts Rain to Have at Last Reached Stopping Point in Oregon.

Wonder, Or., June 1st.
Editor Brady Standard:
There was a Dutchman come along the other day and told me about being at another Dutchman's house and he saw four little children. He asked the name of the oldest and they told him "May;" he then asked the name of the next one and was told "June," and the third was "Julia" (July) and the little boy was "August." Well, said he, I guess if you got another von, you call it "September!"

Then thins, decreases, stops,
Yes, and the first cutting of alfalfa is lying on the ground all over the country. But the benefit to be derived is perhaps greater than the injury sustained. For other crops will be better and the next two cuttings will be in real dry weather. This is likely to be the last rain we will get till September.

PEAR VALLEY WHISPERS.

George Rogers Passes Away at Temple Sanitarium Friday Night.

Pear Valley, Texas, June 6.
Editor Brady Standard:
Here I come with a bit of Pear Valley news after such a long time.

Bro. Ferguson filled his regular appointment here Sunday.
Our boys went to Rochelle Saturday afternoon and defeated the Rochelle baseball team. The score was 12 to 11.

Houston Bullock was in Brady Friday and Saturday taking the state examinations for teachers.

A dark gloom was cast over our entire community Saturday, when we received a telegram stating that George Rogers had passed away at the Temple sanitarium Friday night at eleven o'clock. George had been a cripple for about nine years, and went to Temple some three weeks ago for an operation. The operation was performed successfully and he seemed to be doing splendidly, but later, developed pneumonia. All that skilled doctors, nurses and the loving hands of relatives could do was done, but to no avail, for God had said, "George, come up higher and rest after so many years of pain and suffering," and he obeyed, passing away peacefully and quietly as if in natural sleep. Bro. Cobern, pastor of the Methodist church at Rochelle conducted the funeral service and interment was made in the Pear Valley cemetery Sunday afternoon at five o'clock. George leaves two sisters and five brothers to mourn the loss of a dear brother, his father and mother having preceded him to the Great Beyond. To you, dear sorrowing sisters and brothers, the community extends sympathy, for we, too, loved George and grieve with you and shall all miss his smiling face and cheery words, oh, so much.

Willis Faulkner left Friday for Llano. He has been suffering a great deal with rheumatism and we truly hope that the change will benefit him.

Bro. Cobern of Rochelle and Bro. Woods of Junction will begin a M. E. revival here Wednesday night. Your presence, co-operation and prayers are needed. Will you not lend a helping hand in showing the lost souls of our community where they stand?

Mr. Rogers was a well known citizen of this place, having spent the greater part of his life here. He is survived by several brothers and sisters, all of Editor Brady Standard: Had a good rain this morning and in fact, have had abundance of rain; have had three rains in a week, plenty to insure a corn crop for all early corn.

The earliest planting of corn is now just getting in roasting ears. The later plantings of corn will depend on some more rain.

All the folks on the farm here are now living at home, with an abundance of vegetables, of nearly all varieties and roasting ears and fruit, although the fruit crop is not so good as it should be.

By the way, I am just a little late getting in my report, but I must mention that just recently quite a bunch of our folks spent the day on the river, and in case we did not get plenty of fish, had prepared a fat goat, which was barbecued on the hot coals, while the fish was being caught. So we sure had a good day, plenty fish and barbecued goat.

The rabbits are sure bad here; they are doing lots of damage, cutting down cotton and destroying gardens and sweet potatoes. Some are fencing their melon crops rabbit-proof. It may cost more than the melons are worth, but it's worth something to have the satisfaction of seeing the rabbits walking around the fence, and then the ground is fenced for another year.

SAYS IT NEVER

FAILS TO GIVE NEEDED RELIEF

"Tanlac has relieved me of a bad case of stomach trouble that made my life miserable for fifteen or twenty years," said Mrs. Margaret C. Crider, 906 Elgin Ave., Muskogee, Okla.

"Nothing agreed with me, and the gas which formed on my stomach bloated me up so that I suffered agony for hours. There was a pressure around my heart that almost took my breath away. I was so nervous and restless any unusual noise almost drove me distracted and I scarcely ever got a good night's sleep. I was so weak and run down I could not do anything hardly, but would just move about the house like I was half dead. I used every medicine I ever heard tell of, but nothing did me any good and I had almost given up hope of ever getting well.

"But after I got Tanlac I began to mend from the very start. My appetite soon became ravenous and I began to eat things I hadn't dared touch in a long time. I have just finished my sixth bottle and haven't felt better in years. I sleep like a child, wake up refreshed and have strength to do my housework with ease. I always keep Tanlac on hand to take when I get to feeling a little bad, and it never fails to give me the needed relief."

Tanlac is sold in Brady by Trigg Drug Co., in Mercury by J. T. Matlock, in Rochelle by C. W. Carr, and by leading druggists everywhere.

HONEST INJUN.

It's worth your while to write a personal letter to the State Senator and Representative of this district protesting against the unjust truck tax law. Have you done your part?

MILLION DOLLAR PLANT PRINTS GIANT PAPER.

A sensation was created here Sunday, May 29th, when the Fort Worth Star-Telegram of that date was circulated. The West Texas people's favorite newspaper came out with a three-pounder in commemorating the opening of its million dollar home. The paper was made up in 196 page form and was brilliantly colored throughout its feature sections.

No man would undertake to read a three-pound paper in one day, but there was a scramble for the big journal when the local news dealers opened for business, and the entire quota allotted to this city was sold and many calls came later.

The Star-Telegram has been catering to West Texas for the past few years, and as a result it leads the state in circulation and has set a new mark in journalism in the Southwest. The Star-Telegram is backed by men with big ideas, and they have been successful in putting their big ideas over. 200,000 copies were circulated.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

J. E. Lyckman of the Dodge community was in the city Wednesday and reported that the farmers out his way were feeling good over the fine rain they had Tuesday night. About one and one-fourth inches fell there.

Scoutmaster Clarence Snider, who took the Brady Boy Scouts to Junction a week or ten days ago, returned Wednesday. The troop reports a great time, having spent the greater part of the time on the Llano river, where fishing and hunting was enjoyed. Each summer the local Scouts spend a vacation in this manner.

The Sheep and Goat Growers association held their annual barbecue at the Jordan summer camp west of town Wednesday. A splendid barbecue dinner was enjoyed by all those attending, there being something like 250 present. Other features of the day were talks made by sheep and goat raisers and experts from A. & M. college. B. D. Black was in charge of the meeting and everyone present report the affair an enjoyable one.

The Firemen's Benefit Night on last Monday, at the Lyric theatre, was a success in every respect. The house was well filled, a good program was had which was enjoyed by everyone present, and the ticket sales amounted to something like $90. An estimate by Frank Ogden, secretary of the Brady Volunteer Fire department, is that after all expenses are taken up, the firemen's fund will have cleared about $40. The fireboys are well pleased with the results of Monday night's show, in view of the fact that after paying all expenses the previous month, the boys were in debt. However, the benefit show of this week more than made up for last month's loss.

MRS. PRICE DIXON OF DALLAS, PLANS TO ORGANIZE CHORUS HERE

Mrs. Price Dixon, of Dallas, who is spending the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bellamy, has plans under way for the organization of a chorus. This would, indeed, be helpful to Brady and McCulloch county citizens, and with the talent to be found here, it should be an easy matter to successfully bring such plans to completion. Mrs. Dixon is a talented singer, who thoroughly understands the art, having done choir and concert work for the past four years, and at present is contractual soloist at the Central Congregational church of Dallas.

The chorus is open to everyone, and those interested should lose no time in phoning Mrs. Dixon at 395, where she would be glad to fully explain all details. Her plans also include the giving of a concert sometime during the summer. This is an opportunity not to be overlooked by the music lovers of Brady.

Catholic Church.

Mass will be said on the third Sunday of each month at 10:00 a. m. by the Rev. Francis Hudon.

Children's Service Next Sunday.

Next Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, we will have our usual Children's Service and our subject will be "Jonah and the Big Fish." The pastor will not only preach on this subject, but in part will vividly demonstrate some of the very important lessons for both young and old. Why not attend church next Sunday at each the morning and evening hours? There are enough people in Brady to three times fill each church in town, at the same time. We are expecting a crowded house. Bring your whole family, and if company comes in, "fetch" them along with you for luck.

At the evening hour, 8:30, our subject will be "Men or Monkeys, Which?"

Now if you stand on the ground that your great, great, great "gramppa and gramma" were coconut-headed monkeys, and climbed grapevines with mouth, feet, claws and tail, in the jungles of prehistoric days, then we don't care whether you come or not; we want men and women, boys and girls with, not only flesh and meat on their bones, but with minds to think and wills to do something worth while. We want people, who are made in the image of Our High, Holy and Eternal God. If you read this you are the one we want to come; if your neighbor fails to read it tell them about it. We want them to come with you.

Epworth League at 6:00 p. m. Don't forget the important work of the league. The service for our splendid young men and women. Come and join us, we will do you good.

Sunday school at 9:45 and the contest is still on for a few more Sundays. It's a close race; come, lift with your side. May next Sunday be a great day. Church-going in Brady.

C. DUNN, Pastor.

CLOSE TO HORRIBLE DEATH

Youth Will Long Remember How Near He Was to Being Trampled Under Hoofs of Cattle.

A yarn which may be branded as "pretty fair" comes out of the West, remarks the Philadelphia Ledger.

A young man named Barker had taken his bicycle to make a journey of several hundred miles to inspect some land. In the course of his trip he crossed a large prairie field, broken near the middle by a high transverse ridge.

When he had climbed the ridge and mounted his wheel to proceed he noticed what the rise of ground had obscured—that the field was filled with Texas cattle grazing in little bunches of ten to fifty. Just as he started one of the "long horns" caught sight of him and the bunch followed its leader to investigate. The young man naturally quickened his pace and the cattle took after him.

The trail was straight and level, leading to a big gate. The boy bent over his wheel and pedaled for his life. He could hear the bellowing of the cattle and the pounding of their hoofs behind him, but he looked neither to right nor left. What should he do when he reached the gate?

No matter. All his mind was fixed upon the necessity of keeping ahead. He neared the gate and it was open. He dashed through like a flash of lightning, lost his pedals, struck a rock and was pitched off and lay senseless on the ground.

It had happened that the man who owned the range was visiting it at that moment. He had seen the boy race for life and had opened the gate to let him pass through. Then, with two or three attendants, he rode in and headed off the herd.

GOOD IDEA ALWAYS WELCOME

Incident Proves That Invention That Has Merit Will Secure Appreciation at Any Time.

"A good thing will always succeed." Charles M. Schwab was talking in Loretto about the remarkable popularity of a new steel.

"Let me tell you," he went on, "a story about a shovel. Just a hundred years ago a number of men were digging a line of railway between Birmingham and Manchester. The shovels they were using had square-cornered blades about fifteen inches long.

The digging was hard and slow, and one of the workmen suggested to the boss that if he would grind off the corners of the shovels they would cut into the earth more easily and the day's output would be bigger.

"The boss ridiculed the idea, but the workman later on persuaded an ironmonger in Sheffield to make him a couple of dozen round-cornered shovels as an experiment. These shovels were submitted to the scolding boss for trial. The boss reported at the end of a week that his diggers were all turning up 10 or 15 minutes ahead of time in the morning so as to get hold of one of the new round shovels.

"The boss, the ironmonger and the workman-inventor patented the new shovel between them and proceeded to manufacture it in a small way. In a few years they were all millionaires."

Childish Imagination.

"It is difficult to learn to know child nature, since it is continually in the act of becoming different," says V. Rasmussen in his work on child psychology. This remark applies to the development in the first four years of child life. The author is emphatic in his opinion that little children should, as far as possible, be allowed to follow their own way. Don't distract their attention unnecessarily, he says; rather come to their aid when they are particularly attracted to any one thing. Let them develop their imagination in their own kind of play.

It might be natural to think that the child's imagination is most healthily and powerfully developed if it is fed from an early age with tales of wonder and fantastic adventure. But this is a misunderstanding, says Mr. Rasmussen.

Read Construction in China.

The central government of China is evincing considerable interest in road building, and the ministry of the interior, which has charge of highway projects in conjunction with provincial officials, is said to have prepared a bill recommending highway development for presentation to the new parliament, which is expected to meet in Peking at an early date. Considerable road construction is being conducted in connection with the famine relief work whereby the recipients of relief are enabled to render compensation for the food furnished them and thus contribute to the permanent betterment of China's transportation facilities, which will tend to minimize such catastrophes in the future.—Scientific American.

Edu Chaves, Brazilian aviator, recently flew from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, to Buenos Aires, Argentina, in less than five days. Flying a Curtiss Oriole with K-6 motor, the pilot covered 1,735 miles on his route in 20 hours and 20 minutes. Several previous aerial efforts to link the two capitals had failed.

Ogden-Thaxton.

The many friends of the couple will be interested to learn of the wedding of Miss Dolly Ogden to Mr. Olin Thaxton, both of this city, which was celebrated Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage, the Rev. J. H. Taylor officiating. The wedding was a quiet and simple one, only a few relatives and intimate friends being present. Following congratulations and best wishes, the happy couple went to the Holland residence on North Bridge street, where they have taken apartments, and where they will make their home for the present.

Mr. Thaxton has been making his home in Brady the past two years, while employed at the painting trade. He is a young man of pleasing personality, and has made many friends during his stay in Brady, all of whom speak of him in highest terms. The young lady of his choice is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Geden, and is a popular member of the younger set. She was reared in Brady, attending the Brady schools, and her winsome manner and many sweet womanly qualities have made her a popular favorite in a large circle of admiring friends. Mr. Thaxton is to be congratulated upon having won her heart and hand, and a host of friends join in wishing for the newlyweds every happiness in life.

Clark-Awalt.

The marriage of Mr. G. B. Awalt and Mrs. Rosa Lee Clark was quietly celebrated Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride in South Brady, the Rev. S. C. Dunn officiating. Only a few relatives and intimate friends were invited to be present to witness the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Awalt are numbered among Brady's most highly esteemed citizens, and have a host of friends throughout this section who are delighted to learn of their happy union.

and whose good wishes accompany them in their journey upon the matrimonial seas. Mr. Awalt is one of McCulloch county's leading ranchmen, and has extensive cattle interests in the Camp San Saba neighborhood. For the past number of years he has made his home in Brady, where he has proven a progressive and useful citizen. At present he is serving as alderman for the city, and his colleagues speak in terms of highest praise of the efficient and conscientious manner in which he carries out the duties entrusted to him. His bride is a talented and charming lady, who has endeared herself to neighbors and friends by her womanly grace and accomplishments. In winning her as a companion in his home, Mr. Awalt is to be sincerely congratulated.

Mr. and Mrs. Awalt are now at home to their friends in his residence on Crothers avenue.

Brady Young Folks Married.

Word has been received here by members of the family of the marriage of Miss Clara Sheppard to Capt. V. D. Roth of Camp Normoyle, San Antonio, which was celebrated the past week at that place. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sheppard of Brady, and made her home in Brady for about a year, during which time her cheerful disposition and winning ways established her in the affections of a large circle of friends. About two years ago she went to San Antonio, where she took up stenographic work. It was during this time she was wooed and won by Capt. Roth, who has been stationed there the past eighteen months.

Co-incident with the marriage of Miss Sheppard was received news of the marriage of her brother, Louie, to Miss Mollie Craddock of Norfolk, Va., the marriage having been celebrated at that place. Louie Sheppard is well remembered by Brady folks, having made his home in Dallas on July 11th, and the bride number of years, and his habits of industry and his excellent character made him one of the most popular of the younger generation. Some three years ago he enlisted in the navy, and was assigned to the pharmaceutical department at Norfolk, where his services have become so valued that the officers in charge have persisted in keeping him stationed there despite his desire to see the world from aboard ship. Following the spending of a short furlough in a visit to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard will make their home in Norfolk.

The best wishes of all their friends are extended these Brady folks in their new-found happiness.

SUSIE IN THE CITY

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS.

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Susie stood gazing at her vines that already had trailed their green way to the tops of her window frames. A slight pucker formed between her brows as she tried to solve the problem of their further ascent. She did not know who lived in the studio above. Had she known who was up there she could easily have gone up with her string and tied it to the rusty nails which she had seen from her own window. But Susie feared for her quiet, restful evening, should she become acquainted with near neighbors.

However, she did want her string wound over those rusty nails in the window ledge above and, as her vines began to plead desperately for support, Susie determined to find a way of giving it to them.

She decided to tie a string to the pole, and hoist it to the window above. She realized that her act was a trifle unconventional, but her vines were perfectly conventional vines and needed support just as any vines need it. So she scribbled a few lines on a bit of paper and tied the note to the end of her flagpole. When she heard footsteps near the window above she put her pole outside and hoisted it, after having tied a ball of twine to the note.

Susie called up a soft "Thank you, very much," when she knew the string had been tied and the ball came tumbling down to her. She knew no more about the person above her than she did before.

It was a man, however. Capt. McGill of the Gordon Highlanders, returned to his adopted home in America, and he was much amused at the request to tie the string for the tiny burden to climb on.

Vacation time arrived for Susie. She worried about the care of her little garden and realized that she would have to be at the mercy of God's good rain just like all farmers if her garden was to remain green.

Capt. McGill, the man in the studio above, happened by lucky chance to see Susie descend the steps with her suit case and in a flash realized that he wanted very, very much to know her.

He didn't know for a second whether or not to make a most perfect idiot of himself and rush out, follow her, purchase a ticket to the same place to which she went and track her to the very hotel in which she expected to spend her vacation. But McGill decided to keep his head on his shoulders and just trust to fate. Consequently he remained at the window while Susie disappeared toward the stage that carried her to the railway station.

He felt decidedly lonesome when Susie had gone from the studio building, even though he had never spoken with her. He looked down each day at her small garden and it was only a few days after her departure before he realized that if the products were to be saved for her return he must find some way of watering them.

So after deliberate thought the hero from the battlefield contrived an extended watering can by means of his bath spray and a long-nozzled can. The rubber was sufficiently long to all but reach the garden roots. Each night after dark McGill watered that small garden as if it were the fodder for an entire army of cattle or men. He waited for dark lest any passer-by see him and laugh at his folly.

When Susie returned, browned and feeling greatly benefited for her holidays, her first glance upon rounding the corner of her street was for her garden's fate. She knew from reports that scarcely a drop of rain had fallen in the neighborhood. When she saw her precious beans, peas and flowers green and blooming she was seriously puzzled, but delighted in no small degree.

It so happened that McGill again stood at the window when Susie came homeward and his Scotch heart rejoiced. He knew that by fair means or foul he was going to become more than merely acquainted with that small neighbor of his.

It was toward evening when he heard a soft knock at his door. He opened it and there stood Susie herself with a dainty and very tiny basket of fresh pulled peas and beans and a few colorful flowers on the top.

She blushed beautifully when she saw that her upstairs' neighbor was a man and she felt a quick pity when she saw that he had lost one leg.

"Oh," she said swiftly, "I brought you up these vegetables from my tiny garden, but being a man I suppose you can't cook them. I somehow fancied a woman lived up here," she added.

"How did you know I cared for your garden?" McGill asked, by way of detaining her a moment longer.

"I saw the long rubber tube and watering can out of your window," she promptly replied; then, throwing convention to the proper place for silly convention, she said, "I will cook the vegetables for you and you may come down and have dinner with me tonight—if you like. I see you are a wounded soldier and all women should do all they can for the men who have fought for them."

McGill laughed quickly and most happily. All was going well with his heart beats and he knew that all would continue well.

"I am glad to have fought for you," he said, "and you had won

GIPSY-JESS

By MOLLIE NEATHER.

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

The sewing circle sat in Tilly White's neat living-room busy with scissors and needle. Various articles of cast-off clothing were being ripped and repaired for the poor and needy, while tongues flew fast as fingers.

"It's always been my opinion," said Mrs. Rawlins "that 'birds of a feather flock together' and that's all I've got against this newcomer. If she wanted to get in the town's good graces, and be taken up by respectable people, why did she pick up with a harem-scram nobody like that Walrus girl? See 'em together most every place I go, and they are at the movies besides—chair by chair."

"I know it," answered Mrs. Cummins, "and evenings boys that the school principal can't do a thing with are over there in her house singing songs, and anyway, what's a young strange woman mean by rentin' a house alone?"

"If you mean Miss Jessie Bonnie, who has moved into the Walcott house," the minister's mother said gently, "I believe she is here to rest from her musical studies before going abroad to enter upon a concert career. And I understand that she does not live with her folks because she has none. The girl is alone in the world."

Members of the sewing circle exchanged meaning glances. It had been noted that the earnest young leader of their parish paid open attention to the new and unwelcome stranger.

"He's probably trying to convert her," Mrs. Rawlins had suggested, "but I reckon she's poor material."

"They say," snubbed Tilly White, that the Walrus girl and them boys are calling her Gipsy; that is when they ain't calling her Jess. But I'll admit she's not far from lookin' a gypsy with her dark eyes and tangled curly hair. And them red beads and dangling things that she wears, did you notice 'em?"

"I thought," the young pastor's mother said patiently, "that Miss Bonnie was a bright, pretty creature, and it's natural for the young to like pretty things. I thought that it might be a good thing for us to befriend the girl."

"She's chosen her friends," Mrs. Cummins sharply remarked. "Did that Walrus girl ever want to come in among us? And could we ever bribe those rollicking young men into our entertainments? No, they'd rather be on the streets. It's plain the Gipsy person ain't our kind."

The pastor's mother sewed on vaguely troubled. Were they right after all? Well, she knew her fine, honest son, his interest in this gay little stranger was deeper than others could realize. She alone could read that interest in the tone of his dear voice, the shine of his eyes.

The success of Paul's life and calling meant much to her. She and the father gone had sacrificed for it through many years. An outer door opened into Tilly White's sitting room and a girl's piquant face showed smilingly.

"I did not knock," said the girl, "for I knew you were busily assembled. I could see you through the window. I came—" she paused abashed before the forbidding silence.

"Gipsy Jess!" ejaculated Tilly White, unconsciously.

Then the girl laughed.

"You have learned my nickname, I see," she said; "young town people are great with nicknames. Well, then, I am introduced. But what I called abashed was this—"

She threw back her dark cloak disclosing its crimson silk lining, the girl's jaunty little turban was crimson, too.

"This," she continued, and placed on the table.

"It's my old winter coat," she explained, "but almost new. I really did not need another, and bought this, I think, because of its pretty lining. Don't you," asked Gipsy generally, "love pretty things? They are so—cheery. Please give my old cloak to someone who needs it."

It was just a week later that the small town was shaken to its depths by a startling announcement. Their beloved and admired young pastor was married. He had gone to the city to have that ceremony performed, and his mother had accompanied him. His bride was Gipsy Jess.

It was unbelievable, it was—alarming. And the pastor's mother, when she returned welcomed no sympathy.

"When you know my son's wife," she said happily, "you will love her, as all do. 'You have to get in touch with people if you want to help them,' Jessie told me one day, and I guess that's her secret. She has given up a promising musical career for love of my boy."

But when the pastor's wife took her humble place before the old piano near the pulpit, there was no smile of greeting on the disapproving faces of the congregation. For the Walrus girl stood in the choir, and back in the seat near the wall stood a row of shuffling boys. But when Gipsy's fingers struck the first chord, the voice of the Walrus girl rang out sweetly and clear, while heartily the young men joined in the chorus. But it was at the last verse, the very last verse, that Gipsy smilingly sought her husband's eyes, for there before her joyously, his people were all singing together.

The Abduction

By MURIEL BLAIR

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

"This is a detective work, pure and simple, Thornton, but I am not even an amateur. Just plain Alex Smith, once a town marshal, now a second-rate lawyer. I am your friend, though, and your wife's friend. And the friend of poor little lost Eddie. Let me show you, out of gratitude for the start you gave me in life years ago, what real, genuine friendship is."

There was nothing heroic in the speech. There was no false note of bombast. Archibald Thornton, sick, disheartened, all at sea, had come up against the dead blank wall of "No clew" in the case where mystery and misery were pretty well commingled, and no visible thoroughfare back to happiness and peace.

Thornton had befriended Smith fifteen years previous, and the loyal fellow had never forgotten it. Thornton had married Winifred Walter. A child was born to them, and when Eddie was five years of age, a baseless disagreement had come about. They had separated, Thornton taking the child in his keeping. The abyss broadened. They did not meet again.

Thornton went West with Eddie and acquired a small fortune in Idaho lands. His wife he seldom heard from. She was heiress to a large estate, he learned. Too proud to meet her half way in a reconciliation, she seemed to have completely shut him and the child out of her memory. She led a hard, lonely life at the secluded country home of a stepbrother. All that kept Thornton in touch with his old life were occasional letters from the loyal Smith. The latter knew that the estranged wife was a sore subject to his friend, and rarely alluded to her. At length, however, a letter came that brought Thornton East post-haste with his son.

"I have learned," Smith wrote, "that you have misjudged your wife, just as she has misjudged you. She pines for you and the child. I find, too, that Herbert, her stepbrother, spread all the lies that separated you. He will do all he can to keep you apart, for by doing so he hopes finally to control the estate to which she is heiress."

Thornton had come to Edgeville at once. Eddie slept in the room adjoining that of his father at the hotel. In the morning he was missing.

"I am going to find your boy for you," declared Smith.

"I can never go to Winifred unless he is with me," said Thornton.

Four hours later Smith was resting under a tree near the bench of a little lake about ten miles from Edgeville.

"Only one thing I am certain of," he told himself. Herbert is behind this kidnaping."

The speaker just then noticed a little red toy balloon sailing out over the lake. A second followed, a third, and then as many more in succession.

"Shoot—shoot!" he heard a hoarse voice call just then, and came upon a noisy group of lads chasing another of the toy balloons.

One of the boys had a bow and arrow. He aimed aloft. The shaft sped from the bow, pierced the balloon, and the deflated globe came to the ground. There was a scramble over it.

"Here, I'll pay you for that," he said, extending a coin to the boy who had rescued the object. Then eagerly he inspected the card. It was one of his own. It had, however, got trampled in the mud. He made out these words: "In a lion's cage—send word—Thornton—hotel—Edgeville."

He remembered that he had given Eddie some of the cards to draw on. The words "lion's cage" in connection with the spangles found in the room at the hotel suggested—a circus!

"And say!" ejaculated the second-rate man, "I recall now that Herbert owns a half interest in a traveling show. Why, find a circus, and I find Eddie!"

Four hours later Smith stood by the side of one of a dozen tents at the outskirts of a county seat town.

Smith had just heard a circus peddler complain of losing his balloons. He also learned that there was a cage wagon inside the tent.

Fifteen minutes after that Smith was leading from the place the recovered boy. He had found him locked in the cage wagon and had opened a way to freedom.

Eddie told of two men kidnaping him. He had overheard them say that a man named Dunbar had ordered them to lose him in some distant part of the country.

A circus peddler had tied his string of toy balloons to the wagon. A bright idea came to Eddie. He reached out, drew the balloons towards the bars, attached what cards he had to them, and let them go up. There was an opening at the top of the tent, and they sailed away.

It was after restoring Eddie to his father and hiring a man to guard against a new abduction, that the lawyer took a train direct for the home of the mother and wife.

He had sure evidence that Herbert was a wicked villain, and of this he convinced the amazed stepfather.

Mrs. Thornton met her husband and son for the first time in ten years. There were explanations, forgiveness, awakened love, and the modest lawyer blushed when the reunited pair tried to tell him how much they owed him.

TO ERECT MONUMENT TO MEMORY OF CYNTHIA ANN PARKER, WHITE MOTHER OF FAMOUS CHIEF QUANAH PARKER

By W. D. DORNADAY, In Dallas News.

When Governor Pat M. Neff a few weeks ago placed his official seal of approval upon the bill passed by the Legislature appropriating $3,500 for the erection of a monument to the memory of Cynthia Ann Parker there was called to mind one of the most tragic and remarkable events in the early history of Texas. The proposed monument will be erected upon the spot where the Parker woman lies buried near Groesbeck, Texas.

This woman who is to be thus honored by the State after a lapse of eighty-five years since she was captured by Indians was the mother of the late Quannah Parker, famous chief of the Comanche Indians. For a quarter of a century Cynthia Ann Parker lived the life of an Indian.

Parkers Moved from Illinois.

In the fall of 1833 the Parker family moved from Cole county, Illinois, to Texas. The elder Parker was a Virginian by birth. He lived for a while in Georgia, but raised his family principally in Bedford county, Tennessee. It was from this country in 1818 that he moved to Illinois, then a country far West. To speak of Texas even in the 80s was but to mention the land towards the setting sun. It had a far, far-away sound. But the elder Parker and his sons dreamed of the distant lands on the frontier. An they came to build their altar fires in a howling wilderness. And what is more strange, they came to be massacred by the Comanches, whose savage braves were destined to be ruled over by the blood of the very family they sought to wipe out in that terrible raid.

These pioneers built Parker's fort on the headwaters of the Navasota and about sixty miles above the settlements. It was a blockhouse, built about a mile west of the river and about two and one-half miles northwest of the present site of Groesbeck. The fort was established in 1834. At the time the Indians made their deadly raid, May 19, 1836, the following were in the fort: The Parkers, Plummers, Nixons, Kelloggs, Frosts, Dwights and the Faulkenburgs, Mrs. Duty, Silas Bates and Abram Anglin, representing twenty-two adults and some fifteen or more children. They were all in the fort on the night of the 18th, the night before the raid.

An old and until now forgotten newspaper account of the tragic chain of events, published many years ago, says:

Tearful Tragedy.

"It was 9 o'clock on the morning of May 19, 1836, that tragic day, like so many others that have made Texas a soil redeemed by her martyrs' blood. James W. Parker, Nixon, the two Faulkenburgs, Bates and Anglin were off to the fields some distance in Navasota bottom. Suddenly, as if rising from the very dust, hundreds of Indians were seen riding towards the fort. They came within 300 yards and, having halted, raised a white flag. Benjamin Parker went out to treat with them. He came back and said that he believed the Indians intended to fight, but that he would treat with them again. He went, but he never returned. Pandemonium set in. Amid savage screeches and blood-curdling war whoops the whole band charged the fort, now defended only by two men. Execution was speedy and horrible. It was the common story of an Indian massacre. There was a mother who was compelled to lift her 9-year old daughter, Cynthia Ann, and her little boy, up behind a warrior. The Indian turned his pony's head to the far-away Comanche land. As he faded from view Cynthia Ann was torn from her mother's arms only some day to rock on her own bosom a baby born to rule the warriors who stole his mother from the whites in the years of the long ago.

Sam Houston Paid Ransom.

"Mrs. Kellogg was taken captive and fell into the hands of the Creechis. Six months thereafter some Delawareans bought her from these Indians for $150. They carried her to Nacogdoches, where General Sam Houston paid them a ransom of $150—all they paid and all they asked. One of the most revolting crimes at the fall of the fort was the murder of the elder Parker. Having surrounded him with his own family, they stripped, tomahawked and scalped him before their sight. On the way to Nacogdoches one of Mrs. Kellogg's rescuers slightly disabled a skulking slayer of the elder Parker. Without charge, Judge or jury, the redskin was given quick passage to his happy hunting grounds.

"William Donohoo, a big-hearted American merchant in Santa Fe, N. M., aided by some traders on the old Santa Fe trail, redeemed Mrs. Rachael Plummer from an unspeakably brutal captivity. These traders found her in the wild fastnesses of the Rocky Mountains so far north of Santa Fe it took seventeen days to reach that frontier town. After a year and six months of captivity she was given a royal reception. In a short while Mr. Donohoo and his wife carried her to her brother-in-law, a Mr. Nixon of Independence, Mo. In 1858 Mr. Nixon took Mrs. Plummer to her father's house. Twenty-one months of captivity had worn away. During all this while she did not know the fate of her baby from whom she was separated, and the child born six months after her capture was cruelly murdered in her presence. There is a remarkable thing about Mrs. Plummer's history. She was born on the 19th, married on the 19th, captured on the 19th, ransomed on the 19th, reached Independence on the 19th and died on the 19th. Her baby, lost in the fall of Fort Parker, was ransomed and carried to Fort Gibson late in 1842. His grandfather reached home with him in February, 1843. He grew to be one of the most respected citizens in Anderson county. This leaves Cynthia Ann and John Parker, who were held in captivity by different tribes, the girl by the Comanches, the boy probably by the Kiowas.

Love and Romance.

"John Parker reached manhood and became a noted warrior. His tribe planned a campaign beyond the Rio Grande. On their raid John captured a beautiful, dark-eyed senorita and made her his wife. While yet a captive she fell madly in love as only a Spanish maiden can. John became desperately ill with smallpox. The whole tribe fled in consternation, leaving him to die alone, and took his side. He got well and in perfect disgust quit his tribe to make his home forever with the people of this faithful captive-wife.

"At the fall of Fort Parker on the morning of May 19th, 1836, Mrs. Parker was forced to lift her little 9-year old girl, Cynthia Ann, up behind a heartless savage. He rode away to the hunting grounds of the wild Comanches. Twenty-four long years and seven months rolled by until she was captured Dec. 18, 1860. In other words, Cynthia Ann was 34 years old when seen again. No word was had from her in this lapse of a quarter of a century. Long, long before her recovery she was given up as one dead.

"It was in 1858 that Major Earl Van Dorn, with some United States dragoons, was preparing to leave Fort Belknap. The famous Van Dorn campaign against all the hostile tribes was now opening.

Sul Ross Commanded Indians. "Sul Ross, afterward Governor of Texas, was only 18 years old and on his college vacation. He took command of 135 friendly Indians—Wacoas, Tehuacanoes, Toncahuas and Caddoes. Van Dorn readily accepted their services when tendered and they entered on the famous campaign. Ross and his command took the lead, Van Dorn with his dragoons and supply trains brought up the rear.

"The sun was just rising on the first day of October. Van Dorn, with his 135 redskins, struck the Wichita village like thunderbolts out of a clear sky. Buffalo Hump and his powerful band were almost wiped off the face of the earth. In the first assault Van Dorn's command fought like demons, for they saw afresh the scenes of old Fort Parker. Many prisoners were taken. Among them was 'Lizzie.' She was a white girl, for whom no relative was ever found nor a solitary soul that could give the faintest recognition. General Ross adopted, educated and reared her with all the tenderness of a father. She reached a graceful womanhood, married and died in California. The next great epoch in frontier history was the battle of Pease River.

Comanches Raid.

"When the leaves began to fall in 1860 a powerful band of Comanches made a terrible raid through Parker and adjacent counties. Under the leadership of Chief Nocona they spread ruin and disaster along the war trail. Sul Ross, a Captain of Texas Rangers, with a force of forty rangers, twenty dragoons from the regular army and seventy citizens out of Palo Pinto county, took the Indians by complete surprise at their camp near some cedar mountains on the headwaters of Pease River. They were packing horses preparatory to the desertion of the camp when Sul Ross and his command swept down on them like a whirlwind. In a short time he had killed or captured everything in sight save Nocona, who, with an Indian behind him, broke for the mountains six miles away. On a swift pony, the chiefs' squaw, with a papoose in her arms, rode beside him. Ross and Killiker pursued them like devils. Ross soon came within range and killed the Indian riding behind Nocona. It proved to be a woman hidden by a great buffalo robe. In her fall she unhorsed her chief by a death grip. A deadly combat was drawn between Sul Ross and the Comanche chieftain. At last a shot from his revolver broke the Indian's right arm and he could no longer pull the bowstring. The ranger then shot him through the body. Walking deliberately to a tree he leaned against it and began to sing his death chant—the only privilege a redskin ever begs of his foe. Rangers having arrived, Nocona was commended to surrender. He answered by a vicious thrust of his lance. A rifle ball brought the death song to an abrupt close. Nocona's lance, shield, quiver and war bonnet were hung among the trophies of the State Capitol.

"The squaw and the child captured by Lieutenant Killiker proved to be Nocona's. The trained frontiersmen at once discovered that she was a white woman bronzed by the winds and the suns of the plains, that her eyes were blue and that she was weeping. They told her not to cry, for they would not hurt her. For twenty-five long years an unbroken search had been made for the missing girl of old Fort Parker. Somehow it dawned upon them that they had found the white squaw in the fallen chieftain's wife. The Indian neither weeps nor laughs. He is stolidly indifferent to any emotion that stirs the white man's breast. But she said she was crying not for herself, but for her two boys, as she thought, slain in battle. She was carried to the settlement and readily identified as the long lost Cynthia Ann Parker. A quarter of a century in the wigwams of the Comanches had made her as perfect an Indian as if she had been born around their camp fires. Civilization was so unbearable to her that she sought every chance for escape. A close watch had to be kept over her for days and days. Slowly the recognition of childhood scenes stole in upon her savage sense. At last she became contented in her brother's house. Her little 'Prairie Flower'—the baby who rode with its mother alongside Nocona's fatal flight—died. In less than two years Cynthia Ann Parker was tenderly laid beneath the flowers that bloomed on the grave of her little barbarian.

"Her two sons did not fall in the battle of Pease River. Several years afterward one died on the great plains of Texas. The other son lived to become the famous Comanche chief, Quannah Parker. He was born in Wichita Falls in 1854."

PARROT GIVES POLICE CALL

Useful Bird Owned by English Hotel Proprietress—How King's Pet Saved Royal Property.

The proprietress of a hotel in Hertfordshire owns a parrot which she has trained to whistle in exact imitation of a police whistle, London Answers states.

The bird's accomplishment has come in handy on more than one occasion when rowdy customers have started to make a disturbance.

To King George belongs a parrot which on one occasion saved York cottage from being burgled. The royal family were at dinner, when suddenly loud cries were heard coming from an upper room where the bird was kept.

"Look out!" it screamed. "Look out! Look out!"

A hurried rush upstairs resulted in the discovery that one of the bedroom windows had been forced open, the burglars having secured access to it by means of a ladder brought from a neighboring outhouse. On the alarm being raised by the parrot they promptly bolted.

Parrots, however, are not invariably on the side of the police. Frank Woodstock, the famous "king of the colwers," evaded arrest for years owing to one he possessed.

His "mimi" was situated at the bottom of a blind alley in the borough, and the bird, whose cage was placed in such a position that it commanded the entrance to the court, had been trained to give instant warning of the approach of strangers.

MANY BIRDS AVOID IRELAND

Species That Are Common in England Are Not to Be Found in the Emerald Isle.

One of the curious features of wild life in Ireland is the absence of some of the birds best known in England. The nightingale, for instance, is never found in Ireland, while the wood-warbler, the redstart, all the species of woodpecker, the wryneck, the nut-hatch and several other kinds are so rare that they are unknown to the great majority of the people. There seems to be no very obvious reason for the absence of these birds. It may, perhaps, be found in the lines of migration along which the birds travel, for most of those mentioned above are not resident in Britain all the year. But it is certainly strange that such a bird, for instance, as the common whitethroat, should thrive everywhere in Ireland, while the lesser variety is unknown, and that while the willow warbler is one of the commonest of summer birds its larger relative, the wood warbler, is found in only a few places and in very few numbers. Ireland can only boast of one bird, the hooded crow, which is not a regular visitor in the neighboring island.—Christian Science Monitor.

Four Colors Are New.

What is a season without a few new colors?

Thus we have them—forward comes some fashion authority and announces in our midst that the four newest and most popular colors of the present moment are rosewood, chow, aztec and humming bird.

With rosewood we're more or less familiar—we've met it in pianos, spinet, desks and so on.

But chow! 'Tis a different story—it might be anything from a pet pup to the food your doughboy existed on in those mad days of memory.

Aztec—ah! There's something to conjure with! The name brings visions of bright shawls, beads and painted feathers in which we might array ourselves and bedeck the Sunday landscape.

As for humming bird—the subtleties of that are left to your imagination.

Giant French Machine.

From France it is reported that the Ettablissement Schneider of Creusot, manufacturers of guns, armor, locomotives and other steel products, are hard at work on a new four-engined military airplane in which the four engines will be arranged in tandem inside a central fuselage. The wing span will be about 100 feet, and the power plant is to consist of four engines of 400 horsepower each. The machine will be designed for bombing work, and will carry several machine guns. The Farman "Goliath" pilot, Lieut. Gonin, has been engaged to test the first machine, while it is possible that Casale, who has already tested the Bleriot "Mammouth," will test the second machine.—Scientific American.

Snow Geese.

The only known flock of snow geese in existence, containing more than 5,000, weighing an average of eight pounds each, arrived recently at Cape Tourmente, Quebec, on its usual northern migration from the Southern states. Each year the birds make this a stopping-off place on their way to the Labrador coast, and have been known to do so for more than forty years. The flock has been closely protected, and this year moving pictures were taken of them by the moving picture service of the Dominion parks branch, Ottawa.

Sea Serpent Proved Hawser.

The first sea serpent tale of the season was brought to New York by the liner Munamar, from Antilla, Cuba. On Sunday Captain Andrew Osborn saw something off the port bow. Passengers lined the rail and the Munamar was headed for the object. When alongside, seamen reached down with boathooks and grabbed it. They drew up a 34-foot length of a ship's hawser with a wooden keg on one end.

An Announcement by The Studebaker Corporation of America

Eight months ago, when the costs of material and labor appeared to have reached their peak, we made substantial reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars. These reductions were in anticipation of our ability, after the turn of the year, to purchase materials and to fabricate them at lower costs. The expected savings have been realized. With them, other savings have been made, as a result of the greatly increased volume which Studebaker has this year enjoyed.

During the first five months of 1921, our volume of business has exceeded that of any other automobile manufacturer except Ford.

The Studebaker plants are running at capacity with unfilled orders on hand for over 7,000 cars.

In this quarter we shall produce 21,000 automobiles against 11,000 in the corresponding period of last year. This is an increase of approximately 100%.

No other automobile manufacturer is making a comparable showing.

We believe that the confidence of the buying public, which has made and is making this record possible, will continue, because it is supported by the quality and value of our products, and these we shall uphold.

We expect that as a consequence the present economical and efficient production basis can be maintained and that we are justified in making further reductions in the prices of Studebaker cars.

MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TUESDAY NIGHT WAS MARKED SUCCESS

August, and in order to prevent a change from this set rule these dates were named for the holding of the reunion in Brady. President Wilson Jordan named as a committee on this event composed of Sam McCollum, chairman; H. R. Hodges, S. A. Benham, F. W. Lazalier and Lee King. The chairman of the committee was also empowered to conscript anyone or as many sub-committees as he saw fit to execute the duties and preparing for the biggest and best reunion ever to be held in Brady. According to estimates furnished by L. Ballou, there will perhaps be 150 old soldiers present, including wives and widows of the Confederate Veterans. Much interest is being taken in the matter by the citizens of this section and a great time is anticipated. Mr. McCollum mentioned the fact that the old soldiers were dwindling in number and Brady may not have the honor of re-union here many more times. For this reason arrangements are being made for the greatest of all events in the history of Brady.

Mrs. R. D. Dyer, representing the Daughters of the Confederacy extended their assistance in the matter of carrying out the re-union successfully, and in this the Chamber of Commerce gladly accepted.

Painting of Highway Signs.

F. R. Wulff, secretary of the Puget Sound to Gulf High association of this district, stated he had a letter from T. F. Owen, general manager of the association, requesting that all highway signs in the state be repainted during this year. The movement is to be statewide. Mr. Wulff expressed his willingness to repaint all the signs on the Puget-Sound-to-Gulf in the county from one end to the other, while Burl Wiley agreed to do his part on the other highways, in McCulloch county, and stated he was sure the other garages in Brady were willing to assist in this work. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to furnish the paint. Since it has been about three years since these signs were painted, some of them have become weather beaten and this is, indeed, a timely act.

Suggests Tourists Camp Grounds.

An idea of much importance and one due for consideration was brought to light by Wilson Jordan in course of the evening's meeting. Mr. Jordan pointed out the fact that Brady was losing thousands of dollars annually by not having prepared a free camping ground for the thousands of tourists who come from all parts of the world seeking recreation on the rivers and sporting grounds of this vicinity. Mr. Jordan stated Brady was a gate-way to a wonderful fishing and hunting territory; that the volume of transients increase yearly, and these transients were invariably prominent families from the cities who were vacationing in these parts. He suggested that Brady should convert one of her beautiful sites into such a camp, electrically illuminated, free water, etc., which no tourist could pass up. The plan is now being adopted by all the larger cities, Lubbock, Amarillo, and other towns in the Panhandle district finding them profitable, as well as a convenience and necessity. Such a park should be in Brady!

The Truck Tax Law.

In conclusion of the meeting the Chamber of Commerce appealed to the citizens to stamp out the "Truck Tax Bill" and President Jordan stated that petitions had been sent out to different communities in the county asking for its repeal. Also a petition would be circulated in Brady within a few days and asked that every citizen in the county place his signature upon said petition in order to kill or amend the law.
