ELIJAH F. ALLIN POST NO. 327 CON-DEMNS PARDONING OF EUGENE DEBS

PASSES RESOLUTIONS DEPLORING GRANTING OF CLEMENCY TO NOTED DRAFT OBSTRUCTIONIST, AND ADDRESSES SAME TO PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES.

Brady, Texas, December 29, 1921.

His Excellency, the President, White House, Washington, D. C. We do not endorse the pardoning of Debs, after his conviction for trying to obstruct the execution of the plans for the defense of the principles for which Americans were fighting.

ELIJAH F. ALLIN POST NO. 327, American Legion.

The above is a copy of the telegram sent to Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, and which embodies the resolutions of protest against the pardoning of Eugene V. Debs, adopted by the local American Legion post at its regular meeting Thursday night.

The granting of Executive clemency to Debs by President Harding on Christmas day, has aroused a storm of protest among Legion men, and the local resolution is typical of the indignation the presidential act has created. Debs, several times a candidate for the Presidency of the U. S. on the Socialistic ticket, was convicted of obstruction of the enforcement of the selective draft during the war, and was sentenced to a ten year term in the Federal penitentiary. At the time of his release, he had served about two years and nine months of his ten-year sentence.

While the prison sentence has been commuted by the presidential act, restoration of citizenship rights has so far been denied Debs.

ROBERT A. KING, JR., WINS FORD CAR FOR A CHRISTMAS PRESENT

The following report, reprinted from the Eldorado Success, tells of the good fortune of Robert A. King, Jr., former Brady boy, in winning a Ford car offered by a mercantile concern of Eldorado in a contest:

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. King held the number (15448) which won the new five-passenger Ford touring car given away by Bush-Smith Co. Friday, December 23rd. Little Miss Victoria Jones drew the number from a barrel, containing all the tickets, after they had been thoroughly mixed up by Sheriff Lueddecke. A large crowd was present, each expecting to get the car, but all pleased and satisfied with the results.

"PACK OF CARDS" WILL, ODDEST ONE YET TO BE PLACED ON RECORD

One of the oddest wills on record was that where a wealthy woman made her will after the following fashion:

She took two packs of cards. On one she marked the names of the friends and relatives she wished to remember. On the other she wrote different articles of value she had to leave. She called in her attorney and giving him one pack of cards told him to start playing with them. The attorney threw down a card and she threw one from the other pack. This went on until every person was remembered and the will was drawn up so that the person remembered secured the gift that was taken with the card on which his name had been written.

NEW POSTMASTERS TO ATTEND SCHOOLS AND LEARN NEW METHODS

Washington, Jan. 2.—Beginning with the new year orders have been issued by the Postmaster General to all newly appointed postmasters that they be required to attend schools where they will be taught among other things how to meet the public in their places in the community through publicity to educate the public in the use of the mails, how to handle the ails and how to guard the mails.

NOVICE STATE BANK CLOSED DOOR SATURDAY—MAY PERMIT IT TO RE-OPEN

The Novice State Bank at Novice, Coleman county, closed its doors last Saturday on account of shortage of ready funds.

A State bank examiner who was called to examine the accounts and funds of the Novice bank is quoted as saying that the bank is solvent and may reopen its doors Thursday or Friday this week. The bank is said to have deposits of approximately $45,000, and assets aggregating $80,000. The bank is declared to be solvent but short of cash. Stockholders, it is said, are taking steps which will result in the bank being reopened for business before the week is out.—Coleman Democrat-Voice.

NEW SILVER DOLLAR WITH PEACE EMBLEM TO BE READY TODAY

Washington, Dec. 31.—The new silver dollar of 1921 design, the "peace dollar," will be ready for distribution Tuesday, it was said at the Treasury today. The first dollar of the new series struck off has been presented to President Harding.

There will be about one hundred and eighty dollars of the new design coined, officials said, unless further authority is given the mint to purchase and coin silver.

The Everlasting Bonfire.

A colored citizen of the South was recently asked by another colored gent if he knew how hot hell was. "Does it" was the reply. "Ah suah do! Des' take all de wood in Maine, all de coal in Pennsylvania and all de oil in California and set 'em afiah. Den take a man out o' hell an' throw him in de middle ob de mess an' date man would freeze to deff. Dat's how hot hell am."

SHOOTING SCRAPE IN SAN SABA RESULTS IN ONE DEATH

In a shooting scrape in Negro town late Christmas afternoon, Andrew Washington, alias Smokey, was fatally shot and died Wednesday evening. George Williams, alias Slim, is charged with firing the fatal shot. The negroes became involved in a row and the shooting followed. Williams is said to have used an automatic pistol and fired eleven shots, emptying the magazine, reloading and continuing to fire. All the shots went astray except one. This shot entered the hip, passing diagonally thru the body and coming out in the groin.

Williams made his get-away and has not been heard from after leaving the place of the shooting. Both parties were new comers and had been here not more than a year. Williams is said to have come here from Navasota.—San Saba Star.

DID YOU FORGET---

To pay that past due account and resolve to meet your obligations promptly every thirty days during 1922?

No man is big, rich, powerful, small, poor or weak, only in proportion to one standard: "Does he pay promptly?"

To the average credit man there is but little difference between the man that would if he could, but can't, and the man that could if he would, but won't. Let's get square with the merchants of Brady and McCulloch county by paying our bills promptly this year.

COLEMAN MAN KILLS NEPHEW EARLY MONDAY

Norman Weaver was shot and killed by his uncle, John M. Elkins, Jr., at 11:15 o'clock this morning in the Coleman county court house, Elkins being taken into custody immediately following the shooting. One shot, apparently from a .32-calibre pistol, passed through Weaver's heart and death was instantaneous.

Information this afternoon to The Bulletin indicated that trouble had been brewing between Elkins and Weaver for six months or more. Weaver a young married man, had been living on the old family homestead of John M. Elkins, Sr., on Jim Ned creek, taking care of his mother and looking after the administration of the place, and it is indicated that Elkins had endeavored to cause him to leave the place. Weaver was unarmed when shot this morning, and a search of his car revealed that there was no gun in that vehicle. A few loose cartridges are said to have been found in the pockets following his death.

John M. Elkins, Jr., who did the shooting, is a son of one of the pioneer settlers of this section of the state. His father, John M. Elkins, Sr., was formerly in the Ranger service years ago, and a frontiersman of the old school. For some time he has been receiving a federal pension, in which young Weaver is said to have shared while living on the Elkins homestead.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Milton Pharis McKee.

A message received here yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. June Coopender brought the sad news of the death of their grandson, Milton Pharis McKee, which occurred at 2:00 o'clock, Monday. The little lad was about eight years old. In company with his parents, he had been spending the holidays on a visit to his paternal grandmother at Lavon, Texas. He was stricken with pneumonia and passed away after only four days' illness.

Milton Pharis was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKee, and had been making his home with his parents in Fort Worth. Besides his parents, one brother, June McKee, who makes his home with his grandparents here in Brady, survives. On account of illness, Mr. and Mrs. Coopender were unable to attend the funeral services. The heartfelt sympathy of all is extended the bereaved relatives.

CHEERING REPORT FROM BALLINGER—DROUTH KILLING MANY RABBITS

Says the Ballinger Banner-Ledger: Rabbits are dying in different sections of the county by the wholesale, according to reports received in Ballinger, and their feeble condition makes them easy prey for dogs.

According to reports received here dead rabbits are found along the creek banks, and over the prairies, and while the mule-eared rabbits are ordinarily swift on foot and can not be caught by dogs, they are now easy to catch, and for some cause are not able to get away from the dogs in a short race.

Some have advanced the opinion that the rabbits are starving to death, due to the scarcity of vegetation—weeds, etc. In many places the rabbits are eating the bark on mesquite brush, and this is something unusual in this country.

The old saying that "it is an ill wind which does not blow anyone good" may prove true as a result of the prolonged drouth, and if the country is freed of the rabbit pest it will be a blessing to the country. Unless the rabbits are exterminated the farmers will suffer heavy loss from their ravages on small grain crops next spring, as it is declared that there are more rabbits in the country than ever before known.

HE'S GRANDFATHER THREE TIMES IN HALF AN HOUR

Polar Bluff, Mo., Jan. 2.—Eugene Oaks, of West Plains, claims to be the champion grand-dad in the country, and he bars none of them.

Just a few days ago he was sitting by his fireside reading when his telephone rang.

"When he took the receiver down a voice at the other end of the wire informed him that his daughter, Mrs. Orpha Robinson, had given birth to a baby girl.

Oaks ordered a box of cigars from the corner drug store.

He had barely gotten seated when there was a confusion at his front door. He went to see what the trouble was and it was the Western Union messenger boy with a wire reading "Congratulations! You are grandfather. Your daughter, Mrs. Roy E. Crone, of Warrensburg, Mo., just gave birth to a son."

He ordered another box of cigars for the celebration, all the time the smile on his face becoming broader.

Thirty minutes later he was aroused from his slumber by the phone again. It was a long distance call from Grinnett, Mo.

"Hello, dad," said a voice. "This is your son, Oscar. You're a grandfather now. My wife just gave birth to a daughter."

ELIJAH F. ALLIN POST PLANS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A membership drive is to be inaugurated by the Elijah F. Allin Post No. 327 of the American Legion, with 100 new members as its objective. The contest will be continued until July 4, 1922, by which time it is hoped to have every eligible man enrolled in the local post. In order to add interest to the contest, prizes are to be awarded the two members writing the greatest and the second greatest number of applications, respectively.

The prize awards are announced in the following resolution passed by the local post at its regular meeting last Thursday night:

Resolution.

Dec. 29, 1921. "Whereas the Elijah F. Allin Post No. 327 American Legion, Department of Texas, desires to have every eligible man in the county, a member of this post by the 4th of July, 1922.

"Be it resolved, that if by the 4th day of July, 1922, the membership of the Elijah F. Allin Post No. 327, American Legion, Department of Texas, has been increased by one hundred members, that the member securing the greatest number of applications is to be awarded by having his expenses paid to the National convention, American Legion to be held in New Orleans, La., and the member securing the second greatest number of applications is to be awarded a solid gold American Legion Emblem ring.

"Be it further resolved that if the membership of the Elijah F. Allin Post No. 327, American Legion, Department of Texas, is not increased by one hundred members, the member securing the greatest number of applications, is to be rewarded by having his expenses paid to the Texas Department Convention, American Legion, to be held in Waco, Texas, and the member securing the second greatest number of applications is to be awarded a solid gold American Legion Emblem ring.

Approved, J. A. HOLTON, Post Commander JOE T. OGDEN, Post Adjutant.

The local post now has an enrollment of 47, and with the beginning of the membership campaign, this number is expected to increase rapidly. The post has comfortable reading and recreation rooms fitted up in the northeast corner of the Gibbons building, above the Hub dry goods store, and its members are actively looking after the interests of fellow-members, as well as ex-service men of this county.

To Organize Ladies' Auxiliary.

A meeting was announced for this afternoon, at which a ladies' auxiliary to the local post was to have been organized. The new order will be composed of mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of ex-service men, and is certain to prove a valuable adjunct to Elijah F. Allin post.

HONEST INJUN.

Here's to 1922. The newest year we yet have seen, Now's the chance to up and do.

No time to mourn what "might have been."

The New Year gives promise of at least one large crop, in spite of the drouth and that crop is to be known as candidates for State and county offices. Conditions contributing to an incentive to hold office are unusual and unique.

Old timers declare that, it was the driest Christmas ever experienced in Ballinger, looking at it from two angles, and old timers are authorities on such matters.—Ballinger Banner-Ledger.

Read it in The Standard.

YOU DON'T KNOW ERICH WEISS BUT YOU DO HOUDINI.

What's in a name? That which we call a rose By any other name would smell as sweet. SHAKESPEARE.

Yes, if we called a rose a cabbage it would still smell sweetly and prick the finger as painfully. But that's only half the story.

A name is the symbol of the object which it indicates. All the character, the value, and worth—all the qualities of the object are associated in the name.

Think of victrola, celluloid, fabricoid, kodak, vaseline, beaver board—and you are thinking, not in terms of common nouns but in terms of proper names! Advertising did it.

If you were told that Erich Weiss from Appleton, Wis., was in your office and wanted to see you to give an example of his skill as a magician, what would you do? Supposing that you did go out and see what Weiss wanted to show you, says Thomas Drier, and found yourself captured by his uncanny skill, would the people to whom you talked about your experience be much interested?

But if a friend came in and said: "Houdini is out there and wants to show you something," what would happen? In an instant the name of Houdini would be flying about, and in a jiffy a crowd would collect to gaze open-mouthed at the exhibition.

Why should there be this difference? Erich Weiss is Houdini. Houdini is Erich Weiss. Therefore, the man named Erich Weiss is just as great a magician as the man named Houdini.

Yet there is a difference. And that difference is the difference created by advertising.—American Press.

PUDDIN' HEAD.

Comment by us would be superfluous on the following little editorial, entitled "Puddin' Head" from Entertainment News issued by the Publicity Department of the Cosmopolitan Magazine.

For twenty years two chess players met daily at Brown's Chop House, took their places silently, silently played their game, and silently departed. For twenty years a third party sat by and silently looked on.

Then one of the two players failed to show up—for the first time in twenty years. After waiting a few minutes, his partner said to the on-looker: "I guess he isn't coming today. Will you play his men?"

"Sorry" was the answer, "but I don't know the game."

He had followed every move for twenty years but he didn't know the game. He had watched the drama of king and castle for two decades without sensing a single undercurrent of strategy, speculating on a single motive, or anticipating a single coup.

He had displayed infinite patience in looking at the game, but he couldn't be bothered looking into it. He showed every symptom of life except its first symptom—curiosity.

He belonged to that listless army of passive observers who clutter up the side lines of business—men who look without seeing, listen without hearing, do without understanding.

Placed in an office—at a bench—he would remain twenty years ignorant of his neighbor's job, his superior's problems, his own significance. When the opportunity for advancement came, he would have to say, "Sorry, but I don't know the game."

"Every citizen of the town, little, big, old and young, should exercise the greatest care during this dryness while in any way using fire. Thousands of dollars worth of property might go up in smoke by just one careless act or unintentional oversight, with everything as dry as it is at present. Smokers should exercise double precaution in seeing to it that the discarded match is really out before leaving it. More fires are caused by the careless tossing down of matches that are still burning than perhaps any other cause. We should all be careful at all times when using fire, but more especially when everything is dry almost to the bursting point as at present."—Carlton Citizen.

"It is my belief that we have 20,000,000 pecan trees in Texas, which, as soon as they are properly grafted and budded, will make more clear money than the cotton crop," said Dr. A. C. Ellis, professor of education in the University of Texas, in discussing the possibilities of pecan grafting. Some years ago Dr. Ellis became interested in the production of fine pecans. He introduced a method of grafting by which he proved that the large paper-shell pecans of the Gulf coast, which are very scarce, could be successfully produced in the great pecan belt of Central West Texas.

Dr. Ellis presented his new process before the Farmer's institute, which convened in Austin a few years ago, and used some pecan trees on the campus for illustration. By top-grafting worthless native trees which bore every three years a quality of nuts worth 10c a pound, Dr. Ellis made them take on a variety which bears pecans worth from 50c to $1 a pound. The length of time it takes for the Sentiment has been against a constitutional convention for Texas, but there are strong indications of a change. Amendments that are really of merit are voted down indiscriminately, and the state is loser on account of their failure of adoption. It is almost impossible for officials and courts to obey some parts of the constitution since its adoption in 1876. In fact, we might say our state constitution was adopted in 1854, since the convention of 1876 was so bitterly opposed to the reconstruction constitution it went back to the old one adopted before the civil war and adopted most of its provisions, many of which all recognize as being out of date.—Granbury News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The Standard's good friend, S. W. Turnell, was in Brady today and reported that he was planning shortly to leave with his good wife for Portland, Ore., where they would probably remain until next fall, if not longer. Mr. Turnell says the main reason for their going to Oregon is that they have four sons and three daughters there, besides one son in California. He has sold his 320-acre ranch, located ten miles north of Brady, and on which he has lived the past four years, to P. C. Dutton, the deal having been closed November 1, and the live stock being included. While The Standard, in common with McCulloch county friends of Mr. and Mrs. Turnell, regret their departure from our midst, we are glad to know that their return here is assured by the fact that they have two sons and several daughters living in Texas, whom they will, of course, have to come to see. Mr. and Mrs. Turnell have two sons in the mercantile business in Oregon, and he will assist them in their business during his stay there, and in the meantime they will keep house for two single sons.

Polly and the Profiteer.

The parrot had frequently heard the dealer quote his price to customers and had added the words to his vocabulary. One day a lady customer stopped in front of his cage and said: "I like the looks of this bird. What is your price for him?" The dealer noticed the lady's rich apparel and he raised his price to match. "Ten dollars, madam," he said. "Five dollars, madam," croaked the parrot. The lady looked at the proprietor, who had turned a deep red. "He certainly is a good talker," she said, "and seems to have good sense. I am willing to take him at his own valuation. Do I get him?" "You do," answered the man sadly.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

DEC. 24th WAS RESULT OF
