THE HEART OF TEXAS WANTS TEXAS TECH

RAIN TUESDAY CAUSES RISE IN BRADY CREEK

The heaviest rain of the year was had Tuesday night, when one inch of precipitation fell in the immediate Brady vicinity. Practically all parts of the county and throughout this section report much heavier rains, the total running between 2 1/2 and 3 inches. A light hail and some wind accompanied the rain here, but along the Frisco rightofway in the vicinity of Brownwood, the hail was reported Wednesday morning as so heavy as to pile up in drifts.

Brady creek came down on about a five foot rise Wednesday, most of the water coming out of Bowie and Live Oak creeks. Live Oak, which had been lower than for many years, lacked about one foot of reaching the high water mark of last year, although the volume of water was, perhaps, greater than in 1922 because of the dry holes that consumed much of the flood. The San Saba river was reported on a seven-foot rise.

Another big rise was looked for late Wednesday as a result of reported three inch rain at Melvin, but the rise was evidently absorbed in great measure before reaching here.

Following upon Tuesday night's rain, a drizzling rain fell again Wednesday evening late, increasing in volume during the night until six-tenths inch was recorded by morning.

Last night another heavy shower, totaling one-fourth inch was had.

Upon the whole, the rains were very beneficial, inasmuch as stock water was low in most parts of the county, and as a result of the rain all tanks, water holes and hollows are filled to overflowing. The washing out of the creek and river beds will also add immeasurably to health and sanitary conditions.

The snows and rains of the early part of the year have mulched the fields and plowed ground as fine as a garden, and the heavy dashing rains have put the finishing touch on the finest prospects had in McCulloch in many a year.

COUNTY ORDERS LIGHTS TURNED ON COURT YARD

The McCulloch county court yard is again to be illuminated by the ornamental lights surrounding the plaza, and the lights were last night once more turned on after being discontinued for the past month or two. According to the present agreement between county officials and the Brady Water & Light works, the lights will burn for a period of five hours each night, from 8:00 to 12:00 p. m.

The commissioners in their regular monthly session this week also awarded to Will Turner and Ed Rivenburg the contract for erecting a fence around the county jail, the contract price being $125, and the court to furnish all material.

The sum of $447 was ordered paid the McCulloch County Wolf club as the county's pro-rata of bounty paid for wolf and wild-cat scalps.

The returns of the special election held in Camp San Saba school district on March 31st, for the purpose of voting an increased school tax in that district, was declared defeated, the vote standing 30 votes in favor and 31 opposing.

The county occupation tax charged against the local post of the American Legion on account of Copeland Bros. show, was ordered remitted.

Official bonds of O. C. Waddill, sheriff, in the sum of $5,000, and Evans J. Adkins, county judge, in the sum of $1,000, were examined and approved.

The sum of $100 per month was ordered paid Miss Mae Smith for her services as home demonstration agent.

Routine business occupied the balance of the time of the county commissioners.

SILVER TEA.

The Brady Music Study club will give a Silver Tea Saturday, April 14th, at 4:00 o'clock. Hostess, Mrs. J. A. Maxwell.

SPLENDID PROGRAM MARKS LAST MEETING FOR TERM OF PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N

A very interesting meeting and a good attendance marked the last regular program meeting of the Parent-Teachers association, held Wednesday at the Central school building.

The meeting was opened with prayer, following which a short business meeting was held. The program was had in two parts, and elicited much commendation. The primary pupils of Miss Rawlings gave a play, following which Master Paul Mann gave a little story and Master Wayne Sellers gave a reading, all of which were appreciatively received.

The pupils of Miss Eubanks' class gave a play and also readings by Masters Granville Bryson and Bill Moffatt.

Very interesting papers were read, the first by Mrs. F. R. Wulff dealing with "Parents as Educators," and the second by Mrs. Knox, entitled, "The Right of a Child."

Superintendent J. B. Smith concluded the program with a splendid talk.

Our Error Again.

Sometimes, it appears, a jinx hovers over our best efforts, and throws a monkey-wrench into the usually well-oiled, ball-bearing machinery of a newspaper. Such seems to have been the case in our efforts to report the returns in the special election for city alderman, which were omitted last Friday, and incorrectly given last Tuesday. If we fail to give the report correctly this time, we suppose it will be necessary to call on the fire boys—they always put things out right, right now:

Death of John Rice.

The death of J. N. Rice, pioneer settler and early-day ranchman of Brady and McCulloch county, occurred Wednesday morning at 2:00 o'clock at Terrell, Texas, where he had made his home the past twenty-three years. Death followed an illness of several weeks with influenza, hardening of the arteries being the immediate cause of his demise. Word received by the family last week told of his illness, but the message stated that everything possible was being done for him, and was most reassuring in nature.

John N. Rice was born in Alabama January 21, 1855, and was, therefore, past 68 years of age. Leaving that state when a boy, he located in Jacksonville, Texas, following the death of his parents, and where he spent his early youth, making his home with his sisters, Mrs. Jim Turner and Mrs. Bob McGlathery. He came to McCulloch county in the late '70's, engaging in the stock business, and becoming one of the leading and most prominent ranchmen of this section. His ranch covered a large part of what is now the Carrol Colony community, including Bluff Pens, and what is locally known as the K Cross ranch.

Mr. Rice was married in 1880 to Miss Ida Donathon, and to this union there was born nine children, seven of whom, with the widow, survive. The children are Marion, Jim and Ed Rice; and Misses Bess, Gussie, Irene and Nell Rice. The only surviving brother of deceased is W. R. Rice, with whom the family has been making their home.

The body was shipped over the Frisco, arriving at 8:30 yesterday morning, and was carried to the residence of his son, Marion A. Rice, where funeral services were conducted at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the Rev. S. H. Jones being in charge. A large concourse of mourning and sympathizing neighbors, friends and old-time acquaintances, were present to pay their last respects to the dead and to offer consolation to the bereaved. Interment was made in Brady cemetery. The floral offering completely covered the grave in silent testimony to the respect in which deceased was held.

Pall bearers were Messrs. J. H. White, G. R. White, J. C. Wall, J. B. Lockhart, J. R. Winstead and F. M. Richards all old-time friends and associates of Mr. Rice.

J. D. BRANSCUM COMPLETING ATTRACTIVE ADDITION TO SOUTH BRADY RESIDENCE

J. D. Branscum is now completing an attractive addition to his south Brady residence, and which serves to make the home most distinctive in appearance. The addition comprises a dining room, 12x14 ft. in dimension, on the southwest corner and a 14x18 ft. porch on the northwest corner, both built of concrete and with concrete floors. Connecting the two is a recessed space providing flower beds. Mr. Branscum plans to have the new addition pebble-dashed with white quartz rock secured from the Katemey community, and which has been especially crushed for the purpose in mind, and which is certain to make for a most unusual appearance. Incidentally, Mr. Branscum expects to do considerable repainting of the various buildings on his premises, thereby making his one of the neatest and most attractive home places in Brady.

solation to the bereaved. Interment was made in Brady cemetery. The floral offering completely covered the grave in silent testimony to the respect in which deceased was held.

Pall bearers were Messrs. J. H. White, G. R. White, J. C. Wall, J. B. Lockhart, J. R. Winstead and F. M. Richards all old-time friends and associates of Mr. Rice.

"DAYS OF '49" TO BE RE-LIVED SATURDAY, APRIL 21

The big "Days of '49" celebration, postponed the early part of March, is staging a come-back for Saturday of next week, April 21st—San Jacinto Day—that will make it the most talked-of event in this whole section. The delay has served merely to enable the members of the local post of the American Legion and the Brady Municipal band, under whose joint auspices the big event is to be staged, to make greater preparations and to devise many new and novel forms of entertainment.

The celebration officially opens with a big parade to be staged at 1:00 p. m., and which will be headed by the Brady Municipal band. The committee in charge of the parade has been working persistently and has incorporated many novel features into the big spectacle which will be well worth coming miles to see, and in addition there promises to be many surprise stunts of which even the committee is not fully informed.

The parade will merely be the signal for the starting of a frolic that will carry everyone back into the picturesque "Days of '49," when hospitality, sociability and roaring good times knew no bounds. The old time "saloon" with its bar-room, and old-time dance hall will flourish again, and the sounds of tinkling glasses will mingle with the thumping of booted heels, and the scraping of the fiddle, while the roulette wheel will once more turn on its merry rounds. There will be a big minstrel show come to town for the day, and all the noted comedians of the "Days of '49" will be represented in the cast. Then there will be vaudeville shows, athletic shows, and every manner of entertainment that the old gold-diggers, early-day cowboys and long-horn ranchers craved.

One of the new features will be a "German," the dancing beginning at 2:00 o'clock a. m. Saturday and continuing until 6:00 a. m. with the jazziest of jazz orchestras to furnish the music. This, in itself, is certain to prove attractive to all the younger "Forty-Niners."

One of the biggest features will be the presenting of a handsome new Ford Sedan to some person. All you have to do is to bring your rabbits foot, your horseshoe, your luck-stone, or swastika—and maybe it will work the charm, and you will be able to drive home after the "Daye of '49" in this handsome new car.

Don't forget that Saturday of next week—April 21st—San Jacinto Day—the "Days of '49"—is the time you want to be in Brady and join with all the other "old-timers" in boots and spurs and be-whiskered faces, in having the time of your life.

CALF CREEK NEWS.

Mrs. C. C. Tucker Under Treatment at Sanitarium—Improving.
Calf Creek, Texas, April 10.
Editor Brady Standard:

Well, as I have not written to the Standard in some time, I will send in a few items. All the farmers are getting along fine with their work.

Our Sunday school is getting along nicely. We are going to have an all-day singing next Sunday and everybody is invited to come and bring someone with them.

Mrs. C. C. Tucker has been on the sick list for quite a while. She went to the Brady sanitarium last Thursday. The last report she was some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ewing are the proud parents of a new baby girl, who made her arrival Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Awalt entertained all of the young people with a dance and barbecue Friday night. All report a nice time.

Quite a few of the Calf Creek people attended the show at Brady Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Duncan entertained all of the people Sunday night with a singing.

Miss Ollie Bingham spent Sunday with Miss Delma Childers.

Miss Hazel Awalt spent the weekend at Menard with Miss Nell Tomleson.

Miss Odell Smith spent Thursday night with Miss Delma Childers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Cavin spent Sunday with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bridge.

Miss Eva Heath spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Tempie Petty.

Miss Ople Mae and Myrtle Turner of Brady visited our school Tuesday afternoon.

Well, as news is scarce I will give space for a better writer.

Mr. Bodenhamer of Brady Tells of His Experience.

There is nothing like a talk with one of our own citizens for giving hope and encouragement to the anxious sufferer from the dread kidney disease. We, therefore, give here an interview with a Brady man:

"Some years ago my back began to ache and often I got right down with it," says Mr. Bodenhamer. "My feet and ankles became swollen and my kidneys did not act as they should. These troubles came on in spells and every time I used Doan's Kidney Pills they relieved me. I always have Doan's Kidney Pills in the house."

FOUR YEARS LATER. Mr. Bodenhamer said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as when I first endorsed them." Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

COW GAP GOSSIP.

Three-Inch Rain Tuesday Night—Incubators Drowned Out.
Brady, Texas, April 11.
Editor Brady Standard:

The Gap was visited by a 3-inch rain last night, which will make the corn, maize and weeds grow. Most everyone is about through planting cotton. The rain of last night washed the fields considerably.

Messrs. B. D. Dillard, Jess Bissett, Chas. Hilliard, N. C. McShan, Walter Brown, Mrs. W. A. Newton, and families surprised Mrs. Rosa Newton of Dodge community Sunday by all taking their dinners and going to Bear Creek to spread dinner, it being Mrs. Newton's birthday.

Miss Dewey Brown visited home-folks near Mason from Friday 'till Sunday.

Jess Shaver and family spent Sunday at Mr. Marion Lohn's and enjoyed a birthday dinner, it being Mr. Lohn's 65th birthday.

The heavy rain of last night caused Mrs. Ralph Shaffner bad luck, drowning one incubator hatching of chickens and ruining an incubator full of eggs which was to hatch this week. The high wind after the rain also blew Mr. W. A. Newton's storage tank away.

Cow Creek came down and overflowed, the rain fell so hard and fast.

Editor Brady Standard:

Farmers are very busy planting their crops these beautiful days.

Mrs. John Gormes and sons, also Miss Pauline Gormes were guests of Mrs. Lockett near Eden Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ace Turk were in Melvin Saturday shopping.

Melvin Basket ball team played Lightner team Friday, Melvin being victorious in scoring 13 to 8. Both teams did some hard playing, although we hardly think it fair for a player to referee.

Miss Pauline Gormes' school closed Friday with a very successful term. Miss Pauline will be missed very much for she won many friends and was liked by all.

Mesdames Marvin McDonald, Nolan McDonald and Best Jones of Melvin were the guests of Mrs. Zimmerman Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilkerson were in Melvin shopping Saturday.

The largest crowd that has ever gathered together in Lightner was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John Gormes Friday night with a dance in honor of Miss Pauline Gormes, who will return to her home in Bangs.

Mrs. Zimmerman and children were guests of relatives in Melvin a few days the past week.

Allen McDonald who has been living at Menard passed through Sunday moving to Melvin. We are sure the people of Melvin will welcome them back.

Mrs. Doran of Noyes was the guest of Mrs. John Gormes Sunday.

Ace Turk was elected trustee Saturday by the people of the community.

Ed Hale and family were in Melvin Saturday.

The young people were highly entertained at Mr. and Mrs. Hale's Friday night. Each had a delightful time.

Hubert and Byron Wilkerson motored to Melvin for the show, but Miss Namomia Sillers being ill they did not show.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Talliaferro entertained the young people Saturday night with a party. Various games were played, each having a splendid time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taliaferro were in Melvin shopping Wednesday.

SIGNIFICANCE OF SAN JACINTO DAY

By HENRY C. FULLER, in Brownwood Bulletin.

Saturday, April 21st is San Jacinto Day and the time is appropriate for a brief survey of the period centering around that historic event which took place eighty-seven years ago on the banks of Buffalo Bayou in what is now Harris county. Not one of the valiant men who helped win this decisive battle is now living. The last survivor, Dr. John Pickering, who was a young man when the battle was fought died three years ago near Zavala in Angelina county, in East Texas.

It would take a long time to narrate all the events that led up to the Battle of San Jacinto. The story would be well filled with pathos, tragedy, romance and heroic incident. As the various scenes shift giants stalk across the stage—Houston, Lamar, David G. Burnett, Anson Jones, Lorenzo de Zavala, Archer, Rusk, J. Pickney Henderson, William Barrett Travis, Fannin—and around each and all of them there dwells in a beautiful way much of the romantic and tragic splendor that made lovable and heroic the names of those who fell at Rancesvalles, or Bannockburn, or for that matter helped to hurl back the Moslem from European soil, under Karl Martel at Tours. The Battle of San Jacinto made Texas a free and independent Republic. It was and is today, as a matter of history, the only republic of the kind of which there is any counterpart, except it be the attempt made by Greece to assume and act in this role—that of the populace governing in a direct way in a national capacity. Texas had a congress but no intervening legislatures. The laws as made applied directly to the people, just as laws now made by our State legislatures apply to the people. History shows, too, that the laws made by the republic of Texas were wise, liberal and just.

Republic Short Lived.

The republic of Texas lived only nine years and then of its own free will it was annexed to the United States, becoming one of the United States December 29, 1845. Sam Houston, of Raven Hill, the hero of San Jacinto, and General Thomas J. Rusk, of Nacogdoches, were the first United States senators from Texas and both were great men. David S. Kaufman and Timothy Pilsbury were the first members of the national House of Representatives. There were at that time only a dozen or so organized counties in Texas. Now there are 254.

Great things grew out of the Battle of San Jacinto because the principles enunciated in the Texas Declaration of Independence and enforced by the sword on the 21st day of April, 1836, were just principles. These principles, if traced back to their origin would be found in the ten amendments to the constitution of the United States; they would shine forth in the Constitution itself; they would blossom in the Articles of Confederation; their presence would be manifest in the Declaration of Independence; the Mayflower Pact, entered into by the Pilgrim Fathers before landing upon the rockbound shores of wintry New England, would be dominant with the ideals of local self-government, and were we to take time to trace the principles backward and still backward, through the years—through the centuries—we would traverse war-torn and despot-governed Europe, Asia and Africa and come at last to the Sermon on the Mount—to the story of the Good Samaritan, because after all has been said, after the X-ray of all the philosophies of the ages has been turned upon the true meaning and final analysis of correct and just human government it can mean no more and does mean no less than this: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

It is one of the Gordian knots of the ages and of all time that perhaps will never be cut—the inborn and innate disposition of humanity to lord it over its fellows wherever it is not restrained by law, and it was for the purpose of restraining the strong and protecting the weak, "that governments were instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed and that whenever any government becomes destructive of these ends it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness." So spake the men who framed the Declaration of Independence and the thought and idea was re-echoed in the Texas Declaration of Independence at old Washington on the Brazos, March 2, 1836, and glorified at San Jacinto April 21, 1836. It was there that a vague, far away ideal became an actuality that later became a part and parcel of organic law—the Bill of Rights of our State Constitution, which has been the golden thread pervading all the different constitutions Texas has had from time to time since the days when it became a republic, and on down the line through the years it has grown powerful and dominant as a state until this good hour when the people are talking seriously of writing a new constitution. But when the new constitution is written there will accompany it the inevitable Bill of Rights, which in the organic law of this state is expected out of the usual rules that apply to amendments and has never been changed nor amended.

The battle of San Jacinto, like other great battles that might be mentioned had we the time or inclination to trace the struggles of humanity against the tyranny of the classes who have always sought to thrust aside the rights of the weak, was the culmination of a long series of evils and cruelties practiced by the Government of Mexico, which although only an infant in governmental affairs and still in its swaddling clothes so to speak, having only recently achieved its independence from Spain, was following in the steps of its master, the Dons, in its inquisitorial methods which approached in cruelty the outrages of Torquemada at the peak of his bloody career. But why dwell on these things? Why recall the hideous spectres of a past that is wrapped in the oblivion of dreamless dust, only to have them parade in their sinful nakedness, across the stage of history—apparitions of a period or periods when superstition reigned in the hearts of men and cruelty turned a deaf ear to the doctrine of a brighter and better day and not only turned a deaf ear to the signs of the times that daily become more and more distinct as humanity made progress along the road of destiny and the light of a better civilization, but imprisoned those who were bold enough to preach the doctrine of the new day. After all, history though as old as the eternal hills has but one lesson and one moral, and, after all, humanity travels in a circle; the lesson being that the Golden Rule enunciated nearly two thousand years ago, must lie at the bottom of all government and all true and just government must build or lay its foundations upon this sacred precept. Unless this concept of a great ideal is followed the circle will remain the same—the diameter and circumference the same—and it is only when the Golden Rule as applied to human government becomes potential, actual, virile, that the periphery of the circle begins to widen, to get further and further away from the center, until it embraces in one grand whole the entire universe—touches and affects the heart and better conscience of universal Christendom.

So let us cherish the lessons learned in all the years of the past. Let us occasionally renew our homage to the sacred shrines of our common state by calling in review the events that have made the state famous in song and story, and let us remember and revere always as a precious heritage the Battle of San Jacinto, the lessons it emphasized and is worth as a pearl of great price.

WONDER WORDS.

Drizzling Rains in Oregon the Same As in Texas.

Wonder, Or., April 3.

Editor Brady Standard:

I was just wondering what a Russian bolshevist would think of the state of society over here in the U. S. if he should see one of our daily newspapers, all covered with accounts of all sorts of crime—murders, hold-ups, robberies, divorces and every kind of disreputable act imaginable. I have an idea he had rather stay where he is than to immigrate (or emigrate, which ever you wish to put it). And yet the optimist says that the world is—to use Dr. Coue's phrase—is "getting better and better." I maintain it is growing worse and "worse!" Tho' I am an avowed pessimist where one is supposed to rely upon facts for evidence. The most complete example of optimism is the young bird whose eyes are closed. At every sound above his nest he opens his mouth to receive in perfect confidence whatever morsel may be dropped therein, altho' it may be extremely poisonous. And the radically optimistic man seems to possess the same confidentially abiding characteristics; and is ever ready to close his eyes to facts and open his mouth like the young bird and gulp down any poison dope that may be offered to him. While the fellow who refuses to drift in the popular current to his own destruction and that of others—is called a pessimist, of course!

It has been drizzling for three days. Amount, about one inch, which brings our total precipitation up to about 27 inches, and yet lacks about 13 inches of our average annual complement. If the old saying should happen to hold good only this one time it will be fine. "Rain on Easter Sunday, rain for seven Sundays in succession." Old timers say they never saw the water courses so low at this time of the year and if it doesn't rain more we won't have irrigation water enough to insure a crop. ## STRENGTH AND SAFETY IN THE BODY OF STEEL

If you could see the main body structure of Dodge Brothers Business Coupe before the enamel is baked on, and before the interior is furnished, you would be profoundly impressed by its strength.

You would see that every panel, every pillar, and every rib is steel—that even the door sills and window mouldings are steel.

You would see that all of these parts and sections are electrically welded together into one staunch steel body, with no bolts or rivets to work loose, nothing to rattle or squeak or warp.

And you would realize that, like the all-steel Pullman coach, this unique construction—originated by Dodge Brothers for this car—represents the last word in protection to passengers—the ultimate achievement in closed car sturdiness.

The price of the Business Coupe is $1115.00 delivered

Richard Lloyd Jones Says

BE A PATHFINDER

CULTURE often makes cowards of the best of men. It tends to blind their thoughts to the triumphs of the past rather than to the possible achievements of the future. It makes them slaves to established codes. It throws a cloud of suspicion over innovation. It makes them afraid of a new idea.

They were the scholars of Athens who fed Socrates poison. They were the scholars of Italy who lit the fagots at the feet of Savonarola. The wise men of Spain jeered at Columbus. Cultured England laughed at Darwin. Schooled scientists scoffed at Harvey's theory of blood circulation, at Watt's tea kettle engine, at Whitney's machine that could sew, at DaZuerre's sun picture, at Well's anaesthetics, at Morse's telegraph, at Bell's telephone and at Edison's talking machine. A quarter of a century ago a professor of physics at the University of California "proved absolutely" that it was a physical impossibility for man to fly. But the Wright boys showed that this professor was a slave to his culture.

Every great triumph in the world's history has fought its way over the boundaries of temporary failure and gained its goal in spite of the scoffs of the "cultured."

Society's pet is seldom a prophet. True talent is discovered tardily. To possess all its accumulated knowledge of the past does not make a man great. We are measured not by our accumulations but by our contributions. The brains that are remembered are those which had not knowledge but the patience and the confidence to pursue unabated a great plan or purpose and create knowledge.

Because a fellow is doing something different from what has been done, don't be too quick to call him crazy. Time may make you the bigger fool of the two for having rejected his idea before understanding it.

It's the fellow who sails a new sea who discovers a new shore. It is the fellow with originality whom the world most needs.

If a man's faith in his new scheme can stand the acid test of the unthinking sneer, he may live to benefit the world. The fellow who is afraid to depart from convention, and who is afraid to do something different for fear he may be laughed at, is a craven no matter how much he may know.

The men and women who acquire knowledge that they may be respectable, who look to the past that they may be comfortable in the present, without any thought of duty to the future, who study merely for the mental gymnastics of training their minds and who are afraid to use the mind when trained, are about as effective as an army which has learned to march by marking time.

Learn not only to fill your head but to use your head. Don't be afraid to test out a new path. The beaten paths are overcrowded.

The pioneer's path is always hard but it is the pioneer who finds new fields and new benefits and whom in the end the world most honors.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY for 1923

WE are getting close to the Paint Up and Clean Up season, and soon everyone will be thinking how the house looks. Wonderful how bright and cheerful a coat of paint makes a place, how it increases selling values, how it preserves the wood. What's the matter with the house we really live in and for which we pay no rent! Why not a little paint up and clean up for that? Of course the flappers will attend to the paint up, but a more general survey won't harm any of us. Cleaning out thoughts of evil and feelings of animosity, and painting the mind with good cheer and human kindness, patching up the faults we have and starting out in a new mental dress for spring will spell happiness and happiness always means greater prosperity.

POEM by UNCLE JOHN

Among the disappointments that accrue to mortal men, there's some that's greater'n others,—see' the way it's allers been . . . the deaths of disappointments is dependent on desires. . . . They're purely unavoidable, as DISAPPOINTMENT. . . . As far as I can see, when I finger disappointments that has spent their force on me. . . . And I've tried to bear up un- . . . em, with- out an outward sign. . . . We can't expect the sweetest grapes, unless they trim the vine. . . .

The trouble is, with most of us, we don't control our greed; we're allers thristin' after things our system doesn't need. . . . So, it's nothin' more than human, nor none the less divine, that I've suffered disappointments in this mundane life of mine!

And I try to think they're blessin'—though it's some- times hard to do, when, I set my heart on somethin' an' I fail to put it through. . . . So, if fever-disappointments is what my soul requires, I do my best to expurgate unposs- ible de- sires. . . .

HONEST INJURY

Little as most folks realize it, there is a wide difference between policy and politics.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE

This is the age of modern miracles, as everyone must agree when we are told that now sounds of the voice are being photographed by means of a wonderful machine called the oscillograph. And, yet, when one reads the explanation, it all appears reasonable and feasible enough. In the Southwestern Telephone News there recently appeared the photograph of a man's voice saying "Bell Telephone." The photograph shows a straight white line on a black background, representing the electric current carrying sound. When the voice breaks in on this current with the word "Bell" it shatters the current, apparently, and causes the current to appear as diffused light. The word "Tel" causes a similar diffusion of light, although not so extensive, and the vowel "e" causes a still smaller diffusion. The word "phone" again causes a great diffusion tapering off into the resumption of the original straight line, representing the electrical current.

That sound is carried by means of waves, every school child knows, but that it would ever become possible to photograph these same sound waves, few of us ever dreamed.

AD VALOREM TAXES

In the discussion, pro and con, of the "tax inequality" matter, which has been agitating the state for the past several months, it has generally been admitted that inequality exists, as between counties, in their renditions to the State, largely because of the varying needs of the counties. Those counties that are new, or progressive, or at large expense to provide for their own needs, because of the State ad valorem tax, contribute much more heavily to the State than do those counties who can meet their own needs by a lower rate of taxation.

The following article, reprinted from the Brownwood Bulletin, gives the views of State Comptroller Terrell upon the subject, and appear to offer a way out of the difficulty, simply by removing the state ad valorem tax and substituting a tax on incomes and inheritances. The Bulletin, however, dissents, and shows the dire results of such action. The article is worthy of careful reading and study by the citizenship:

State Comptroller Terrell, in an interview given the press Monday, stated his conviction that the only solution of the state problem is to remove the ad valorem tax from all property, as a means of raising revenue for the state, and to "collect state taxes from incomes and inheritances." The Comptroller admitted "that under the present system there exists gross inequalities of taxation.

as between counties as well as between individuals, but claimed that there is no way to remove such inequalities so long as State ad valorem taxes are levied.

"There is but one logical solution of tax problems," Mr. Terrell said, "and that is the separation of the sources of taxation for State and local purposes, and levy no State ad valorem taxes upon the counties, permitting them to levy an ad valorem tax for all local purposes, fixing the rate and values to meet local conditions. The counties now fix values to suit local needs, and that is why there is such a difference in values in the various counties of the State. It will require constitutional amendments to separate the sources of taxation and to lend State aid in securing homes for tenants, and both of these amendments were defeated in the regular session of the Legislature, but they will be submitted and adopted two years from now.

"Texas has 232,309 farm tenants, or 53 per cent. and only 301,210 farm home owners. There are also more tenants than there are home owners in the cities. Something must be done by the State to relieve this situation. Home owners are the safety of the State and Nation.

"Patriots are going to meet the politicians in the next campaign on the paramount problems of an honest system of taxation that will collect State taxes from incomes and inheritances, and relieve the people from the unequal system of State ad valorem taxes, and raise the revenue from profits and not from liabilities. The State must aid tenants to secure homes."

Mr. Terrell's plan of levying state taxes only upon incomes and inheritances, or "profits," would exempt from state taxation the land cultivated by the 232,309 tenants of Texas, and would levy a tax against the earnings of the tenants. It would exempt from taxation the stocks and bonds of the rich men and women of the state, and would levy a tax against the wage of the school teacher, the preacher and the merchant whose labors for their community are essential to community life. It would make it possible for the land-grabber and the speculator to hold without taxation great bodies of land while others surrounded them with improvements to increase their valuations. It would make it more difficult for tenants to secure homes, because it would make tax-free farm lands more valuable and more unattainable for the tenant who must buy on long time terms.

It is right and proper that the state should levy an ad valorem tax for the support of the government. It may be that income and inheritance taxes may also be levied, but no practical plan, free from inequalities and injustices, has yet been devised for a state income tax. The inequalities that now exist in the collection of ad valorem taxes can be removed by simple action of the Legislature, making provision for carrying out the mandate of the Constitution as to the levy and collection of the tax. When every dollar's worth of taxable property in every county is rendered for taxation at a dollar's valuation, the tax inequality will disappear; and not until then.—Brownwood Bulletin.

KIND WORDS ARE MORE THAN CORONETS

The Standard editor has John E. Cooke, versatile editor of the Rockdale Reporter, to thank for the following kindly mention upon the occasion of The Standard's birthday anniversary:

The Brady Standard enjoyed its fourteenth anniversary recently, and in entering upon its fifteenth year sounded a note of optimism as to the future outlook entirely characteristic of its able editor, H. F. Schwenker. Schwenker is nothing if not an optimist. No one but an optimist would have entered the Brady journalistic field at the time he entered it. No one but a dyed-in-the-wool optimist would or could have picked up the load that Schwenker picked up at the far end of a typical West Texas "dry year," and carried that load to a successful—not to say, glorious—conclusion. And not even an optimist could have done what Schwenker has done without possessing real ability in large measure. Schwenker has made of The Brady Standard one of the foremost semi-weekly newspapers of the state. And in so doing he has brought his town and county into prominence. By reason of his persistent and intelligently directed energy Brady has reaped many returns. Brady has ample reason to feel proud of The Standard, for no town ever had a more loyal supporter than the editor of The Standard has been for his town.

A BUNCH OF VIOLETS

Editor, The Standard, Brady, Texas. Dear Sir:—May we congratulate you on the make-up and general merit of your paper? It is a credit to your organization and to the city you represent. Yours very truly, E. R. WAITE, Secretary Shawnee, Okla. Board of Commerce. Shawnee, Okla., April 9, 1923.

The Texas Legislature will convene in called session on Monday, April 16, so Governor Neff announces from Austin. The governor has not issued the call yet, but gives this preliminary announcement in order that the members may have time to shape their business affairs accordingly. NO SUBSTITUTE YET.

Radio is about fifteen years old; the telephone is about forty years old; the telegraph is about sixty. All are methods of instantaneous communication, but none of them has shown any signs of displacing Printing.

The typewriter is just fifty years old; the multigraph is much younger. Both are methods of communication on paper, but instead of displacing real Printing, they have simply increased the demand for it.

The railroad displaced the ox-cart; the automobile has already made a big dent in the railroad; perhaps the flying machine will do something to the automobile. But Printing, which is older than any of the things just mentioned, goes on better than ever because it is fundamental to every business and to almost every human pursuit. Art, science and industry depend upon it, literature could not exist without it, and advertising, which is the literature of business, was created by it.

In four and a half centuries the methods, the technique and the auxiliaries of Printing have been improved and elaborated, but the base of the craft—type and presses—still hold to the original ideas. You may look and wait, but as yet there is no sign of a substitute for real Printing.—Ward's Words.

Hakeem answered: "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contains that which cannot be bought or sold. Look for the Priceless Ingredient."

"But, what is this Priceless Ingredient?" asked the young man.

Spoke then the Wise One: "My son, the Priceless Ingredient of every product in the market-place is the Honor and Integrity of him who makes it. Consider the name before you buy."

AVERY-Champion Harvesting Machinery First Choice With Farmers BECAUSE of all 'round excellence, Avery-Champion Binders are the first choice of most of our customers. They do their work perfectly, regardless of kind of grain or condition of crop. All the grain is put into the bundle with no loss from shattering or clogging. This saving alone soon pays their first cost. Avery-Champion Binders are built in the Avery factory at Louisville. The finest and most complete facilities for scientific precision are thus available. Only highest quality materials are used. Whether the platform is set high or low, the binder is always in balance. This eliminates neck weight and assures lighter draft. The force-feed elevator, the knottor, the binding attachment, the driving mechanism and other parts are positive in action, simple and sturdy. Roller and ball bearings are liberally used. All adjustments are easily made. Frame and other load-carrying parts are strong and well braced. We will be glad to explain these and other Avery features—tell you why they assure years of good work and an absence of trouble. Ask us also about Avery-Champion Mowers, Hay Rakes, Tedders, Side Delivery Rakes and other haying and harvesting machinery. We will demonstrate at your convenience. There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows, tillage implements and Champion harvesting machinery. "We Appreciate Your Good Will as Well as Your Trade." O. D. Mann & Sons

Informal Tea.
The Domestic Science class of the Brady High school entertained with an informal tea on Wednesday, March 28th, with Hattie Wilensky and Vivian Smith acting as hostess and host. The decorations and the menu were carried out symbolizing Easter.

Friday Forty-Two Club.
The Friday Forty-Two club met on Friday of last week with Mrs. O. F. Bates for a very pleasant afternoon.

Wild flowers were used in house decoration. The hostess served a salad course.

Members present included Mesdames J. E. Shropshire, H. R. Hodges, A. B. Cox, Edd Broad, W. J. Day, F. M. Richards, Chas. Gray; Miss Mozelle Glenn. Guests included Mesdames J. C. Hall, M. A. Rice, C. Crawford, Evans J. Adkins, Clyde Hall, Alice Smith, J. F. Schaege; Miss Ruby Granger.

Forty-Two Club.
Mrs. V. R. Jones entertained on Thursday afternoon of last week with five tables of "42," the occasion being the regular meeting of the Forty-Two club. Pot plants and flowers added a decorative motif to the Jones home, and the afternoon was most pleasantly spent. At the close of the series of games, the hostess served a salad course.

Members present included Mesdames N. A. Collier, C. Crawford, M. A. Rice, W. D. Jordan, N. G. Lyle, Jr., B. L. Hughes, J. B. Granville, Evans Adkins, Clyde Hall; Miss Mozelle Glenn. Guests included Mesdames Henry Tipton, L. Y. Callihan, Gibson Roberts, Henry King, Jack Wigginton, A. B. Cox, R. T. Trail, Ed A. Burrow, J. A. Maxwell, Will Allen Jones, A. B. Stobaugh of Ballinger, Joe Baker.

Bridge Luncheon Club.
Miss Lucille Benham entertained for the Bridge Luncheon club on Thursday afternoon of last week with an Easter party. The Easter spirit found expression in the Easter lilies, which formed a centerpiece on the dining table, and in the lily compute nut cups and hand-decorated lily place cards. Peach blossoms were used effectively in the living room.

Members and guests of the Bridge club held an enjoyable meeting last Saturday afternoon, at which time Mrs. Wm. D. Cargill was hostess. Five tables of "Bridge" afforded diversion for the afternoon, Mrs. W. D. Crothers receiving club prize and Mrs. Harry F. Schwenker, guest prize.

Members present included Mesdames B. L. Malone, J. G. McCall, Edwin Broad, W. D. Crothers, G. V. Gansel, Bailey Jones, Sam McCollum, D. J. Wood, R. W. Turner, H. E. Ogden; Miss Lucille Benham. Guests were Mesdames G. C. Kirk, G. R. White, C. T. White, Herbert L. Wood, P. B. Melton, H. M. Brannum, Jas. Brook, Dick Winters, Harry F. Schwenker.

Miss Benham entertains at the next meeting of the club.

Birthday Party.
Master Paul Mann was eight years old last Tuesday, which was a most appropriate occasion to invite a number of his boy friends to come and spend the afternoon in celebrating the happy event.

Musical Treat Next Wednesday.
A rare musical treat is promised Brady citizens in the entertainment to be given Wednesday night at the Methodist tabernacle by Miss Jewel Ray, instructor of the Brady Choral club, assisted by her sister. The Misses Ray are accomplished musicians and soloists, and their entertainment is certain to be highly appreciated. In connection with the entertainment by the Misses Ray, several home talent numbers will be offered, the entire program being presented under auspices of the Parent-Teachers association, and the public being cordially invited to attend.

BENHAM THE SHOP OF QUALITY

FOR BEAUTY'S SAKE.
By JANE HILL

Every real woman wants to be beautiful, so those who are not born so must use whatever means and artistry are at hand. Complexions, are, of course, of primary importance. But the woman whose skin isn't in good condition, and who refuses to deny herself sweets or meats, or whatever it is that experience proves is not kind to her—that woman has disqualified herself for instruction at the very start. Drinking water might clear her complexion—glasses and glasses of water, one every time she thinks of it. But this, too, takes patience in keeping it up. Exercise will work wonders, particularly if taken under a trained instructor. But some women have so little will-power, even in pursuit of their own ends, that a course of action of any kind seems impossible to them. And yet, nothing in the way of cosmetics, colors, or well chosen clothes will disguise fundamentally unhealthy skin conditions. Do for beauty's sake, attack your problem strenuously, if strenuous methods are needed!

Little Things About the Complexion.
Cold cream at night, well massaged in (a thin film in the daytime as a basis for powder) rouge of the right shade, well placed, so as not to spoil the curve of the cheek by coming too far forward or emphasize high cheek bones by a spot at the top—the right powder to blend with the natural tint of the skin—these may all be worked out individually, and are well worth the effort. The powder question, by the way, is not only very important, but much neglected. Half the women who use white powder should substitute brunette; almost all of the remainder should declare for flesh color unless, in individual cases, it is found better to blend one's own powder, using a little of this and a little of that

Death of Mrs. Frans Johnson.

The death of Mrs. Frans Johnson, one of McCulloch county's early-day settlers and most beloved women, occurred Sunday at her home in the East Sweden community, where she had resided the past 35 years. Death followed an illness which had confined her to her bed for a number of months past, and came at the age of 70 years. Mrs. Johnson was known far and wide as a noble Christian woman, a faithful wife and a kind and loving mother, and she will be sorely missed by the great circle of friends with whom she had surrounded herself during her long residence here. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of East Sweden, and a great throng was assembled there Monday in attendance upon the funeral services, the Rev. L. M. Wood conducting. Interment was made in the East Sweden cemetery.

Surviving are the aged husband, and two sons, F. O. A. of Melvin, and Chas. A. Johnson of East Sweden; and three daughters, Mrs. F. W. Hurd and Mrs. O. E. Hurd of East Sweden and Mrs. Joe Gwin of Oregon. Two brothers, John and August Munson of Sealy, Texas, also survive, but were unable to be present at the funeral, as was also Mrs. Gwin.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. A. Holton left Monday night for Fort Worth to make his future home. Albert Behrens was here Wednesday from Voca and reported a big rain in his section Tuesday night. Jas. T. Ballou left Thursday for his home in Lordsburg, N. M., after a month's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ballou. "Uncle Billie" Floyd has accepted a position with the American Cafe, and will assist John Robertson, who has charge of the kitchen. J. M. Ables and daughter, Miss Mamie, of Melvin, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Day of Brady, left Saturday for New Orleans to attend the great U. C. V. reunion, and at which Miss Ables will represent the local camp as sponsor. W. M. S. to Serve Dinner. The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church has arranged to serve a dinner in the former Hub building Saturday, April 21st, upon the occasion of the Legion-Band celebration in Brady. Everyone is invited to eat dinner with the ladies.

Texas Woman Finds Health

Mrs. W. H. Strawn, of Dallas, Who Tells How to Have Perfect Health.

"There were times when I felt so bad and skinny, I was ashamed to go out and meet my friends," says Mrs. Strawn, popular resident of Dallas. "I weighed only 108 pounds. But now I am taking on weight and new life. Ironized Yeast did it. It is amazing what it has done for me. I now weigh 126 pounds. It means so much to me, because 127 pounds was my weight before I married. My husband says I am now more like the girl he married eight years ago, and my lost strength of six years standing is coming back."

No discovery in the field of medicine has aroused more comment than that of the principle embodied in Ironized Yeast for building firm flesh on thin, anemic people and restoring the strength and vigor of health. Ironized Yeast will calm your tired nerves and nurture your shrunken tissues; you will soon know the joy of a hearty appetite, good digestion, rosy cheeks, plump limbs and buoyant spirits. These are the things Ironized Yeast has given to thousands of others, and is guaranteed to give to you. Get it today from your druggist. A ten-day treatment costs only a dollar. WATCHING RAIN GAUGE
FASCINATING SPORT ON RAINY DAYS IN BRADY

There's a brand new sport in Brady—a sort of a rainy-day game, that is mighty interesting, if not exciting, and occasionally quite remunerative. For want of better name, it might be called "Watching the Rain Gauge," for that is what it literally is. The watchers gather around the official rain gauge in the Commercial National bank when the clouds begin to drip rain, and wonder if—and wish that—it will rain as much as one-tenth of an inch by 6:00 p. m. There is a reason, as the late-lamented Post was wont to declare. For if it does rain so much as one-tenth of an inch, it means $25 rain insurance on that day's business.

Of course it is heart-breaking sometimes, as, for instance, Wednesday evening, when at 6:00 p. m. the rain gauge lacked just about the width of a pencil mark of reaching the one-tenth inch mark. After six p. m. it rained a full half inch, but that availed nothing.

Quite a number of Brady merchants have been taking out rain insurance the past several months—and some have gotten good returns, especially since this rainy spell has been on. Most take out a policy for $25 per day payment if one-tenth of an inch of rain falls between 8:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. The cost per month varies according to the season; thus, whereas a policy last month cost something less than $25, this month it costs around $60—the difference being in the greater possibilities for rain this month over last.

AMATEUR HUMAN FLY SCALES
COURT HOUSE WALL AND ROOF
—FAILS TO REACH PINNACLE

While a crowd of hundreds of Brady citizens and visitors gazed aghast at his daring, a young man giving his name as J. B. Tomlinson, and hailing from Denton, made a desperate but futile attempt Wednesday to reach the pinnacle of the court house. Tomlinson's action was the result of a wager of a malted milk with his associate, Earl W. Tittle of Brownwood, the two boys working this county in the interests of a Chicago portrait concern.

Tomlinson first attracted attention when he began scaling the south wall of the court house, making his way upward with rapidity and comparative ease. Reaching the third floor, he walked along the ledge to the rain spout, by means of which he climbed over the eaves onto the roof. On hands and knees, he scaled the tin covered roof of the courthouse, and made his way to the belfry, which he surmounted with the aid of a rod he found at hand. Once on top the arched openings of the belfry, he was unable to get either foot or hand hold on the sharply inclined roof leading to the pinnacle, and after walking around on the four sides and making several attempts to reach the goal either by climbing or jumping, he gave it up as a bad job and descended to the ground in reverse order to his ascent.

Tomlinson's stunt was all the more remarkable since, instead of tennis shoes worn by most climbers, he made the attempt wearing regular street shoes.

58-Day Run of 26,165 Miles Without a Stop Proves Hupmobile Staunchness and Reliability

High Opinion of Hupmobile Stamina and Durability Justified by Its Splendid Condition after Gruelling Test

Perhaps no motor car ever before was given such a reliability test as this.

Day and night for 58 days, without the engine being stopped once, and without the official seals on its hood being broken, a stock Hupmobile was driven 26,165 miles by drivers working in three shifts about Salt Lake City and over a maze of Inter-Mountain highways in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

The starter was removed before the run began. Oil was taken on through a special tube in the side of the sealed hood. This intake for oil, as well as the intakes for gas and water, were all securely sealed, and were broken and re-sealed only under official inspection.

The route of the car, for the most part, was over a maze of mountain highways. Part of the course led the car into the precipitous mountain canyons of Heber, Provo, and Farleys, in the Wasatch range.

The "high spots" of the test included trips into many of the steepest canyons of the west, including Brighton, at the head of Big Cottonwood and American Fork Canyon, generally conceded to be the steepest incline in the west. During the last 14 miles of this trip cars are forced to climb from a 4400 to an 8700-foot elevation.

The engine was brought to a stop only after the fan belt had broken, at 26,165 miles. The car then completed its 60th day with a mileage of 27,096.

It was immediately torn down and inspected under direction of Prof. A. LeRoy Taylor of the Automotive Department of the University of Utah. He reported that the engine—with 33,000 miles to its credit—showed only slight wear; that the life of this stock Hupmobile had only just commenced.

Prof. Taylor's detailed report contained the following significant statements:—The amount of carbon deposited on the pistons and cylinder block was surprisingly small. The pistons showed, by micrometer caliper measurements, the maximum "out of round" of .0005 (five ten thousandths) inch. The second and third rings showed practically no wear. The first rings on three of the cylinders had worn .002 (two thousandths) inch. The crankshaft bearings were in excellent condition and showed practically a perfect fit.

The qualities revealed by the car in this test—its economy records—the way it stood up in continuous service such as not one motor car in ten thousand is asked to give—these things are not remarkable or unusual for the Hupmobile.

They are the daily portion of every Hupmobile owner. He counts upon them confidently. They are his interpretation of reliability.

The Reliability Record

Days without Engine Stop.....58
Total non-stop mileage.....26,165
Average Miles Per Day.....449
Gas—ave. miles per gal.....21.5
Oil—ave. miles per gal.....1,218

Replacement

At 22,106 mi.—Brake lining
At 24,955 mi.—Head lamp tie rod
At 26,165 mi.—Fan Belt

The first engine stop was necessitated by the breaking of the fan belt. The run was then continued two days, the total mileage at the end of 60 days being 27,096, on which the daily average is computed.

MAKING PICTURES OF NOISE—THE STORY OF THE OSCILLOGRAPH

The following is a story of how sounds are photographed, as told in a recent issue of a telephone journal called "Long Lines."

Taking a picture of a noise sounds about as reasonable as picking up a handful of shadow. It can be done, however, and is being done, at the A. T. and T. Company's laboratories at 24 Walker street, and at the Western Electric Company's New York experimental work shop at West street. The work is carried on for the purpose of improving the transmission of the human voice by telephone, especially over long distances. The machine that takes the photograph is called an oscillograph.

All of us recognize that our business is different from any other industry. We do not sell any tangible commodity, as stores do. We do not transport a person's property from place to place, as is the case with railroads, steamship lines and express companies. Our work consists in enabling our patrons to exchange ideas by carrying their speech. The more clearly we can carry the tones of their voices, so much better can they exchange ideas. And in order to improve the quality of the transmission, the Bell System is constantly making tests and trying out new methods.

To understand how this particular testing is done, it is necessary to know how sound is photographed. Without diving into a technical explanation, the method is briefly this: The electrical current carrying the voice, or some other sound, is sent through two very fine wires, to which is fastened, between the wires, a minute piece of looking-glass. An arc light is focused on the mirror so that the reflected beam is thrown on a strip of photographic film that is wound on a drum. As the drum revolves, the light beam appears as a long, regular white streak on the film.

These fine wires pass through a magnetic field, and when the sound-frequency current passes over the wires it pushes them back and forth. This makes the looking glass wiggle, which in turn causes the beam of light to move back and forth across the film, and photographed as a jagged line instead of a straight one.

Other sounds besides voice tones are photographed by the oscillograph. Oscillograms have been made of street noises, as an example. A transmitter of the type used by President Harding at the Armistice Day celebration was set up in an open window on the Washington street front of the Western Electric Company's building in West street. This was connected up to a vacuum tube amplifier of several stages, which enabled it to operate a specially designed oscillograph.

When all was ready, the observer at the window waited until a steel-tired dray was about to rattle by, and called through his telephone line, "Shoot." Upstairs the operator started the apparatus and as the sound waves struck the transmitter they were recorded on the film.

A record was made of the observer's voice, and when the next truck was passed its noise was mingled with the word "Four-score." Then a record of a pure musical tone at about an octave above middle C was taken—500 cycles, to be exact—as a record of the speed of the film.

When the records were ready to be shown the Western Electric Company's engineers commented on them thus:

"The regularity of the musical sound is an invariable sign of a tone that is pleasant to listen to. Regularity is seen also in the voice record, but of course, not to the same degree, as there are many tones present in speech. But in the noise record there is no regularity whatever, which means that your ear is assailed by irregular blows. These are just as unpleasant to it as the rough jolting of a farm cart in comparison to the smooth swaying of a fine automobile.

"As to the intensity of the two sounds, it must be remembered that the noises were produced at from 15 to 20 feet from the transmitter, while the voice spoke directly into the transmitter. If someone spoke directly into your ear, you would find it unpleasantly loud—almost as loud as a passing wagon.

"Researches into the transmission of speech have shown that good quality—that is, distinctness and the ability to distinguish one voice from another—requires that all the fine vibrations be transmitted as well as the heavier ones. In the speech record you will see that the fine swings occur equally up and down. But when noise is added, many of these swings are obliterated. This means that the speech sounds have become blurred. In your ear the speech sounds will also be blurred, because your ear is also overloaded by the loud noises, and so any further sounds produce merely a rattle in the ear instead of a recognizable sound.

"Since it is upon these finer sound waves that we depend to understand many words, when they come in indistinctly we make a mental effort to recognize so much of them as we can hear and to guess the others. This effort is one of the principal causes of nerve strain."

The facts contained in the above interesting article from "Long Lines" were made the basis of a booklet, which is now being used in our Long Distance Campaign.

This booklet is entitled "Your Voice Is You." It describes the first appearance of Patti, the great singer, before the Academy of Music, New York, November 24, 1859.

It also contains a description of the oscillograph, which proves that no two voices are the same.

REV. A. R. TOBY ARRIVES IN BRADY TO BEGIN WORK AS MISSIONARY BAPTIST ASS'N

The Rev. A. R. Toby arrived the first of this week from Brownwood to take up his permanent residence here while serving as missionary for the Brady Baptist association. Rev. Toby is a most pleasant and affable gentleman and promises to become one of the most popular evangelists with the members of the Brady association. He enters the local field with the greatest of enthusiasm and expressed his conviction that during the coming summer the association will be placed among the leaders in evangelistic work.

Rev. Toby's family will remain in Brownwood until the end of school, when they expect to join him here. Pending the securing of a suitable residence, he is located at the Taylor boarding house.

Rev. Toby has served as pastor in the Baptist church for a number of years. For the past two years he was located at Brownwood, where for some time he has had charge of local work.

Brady citizens, as well as members of the Baptist denomination, are glad to have Rev. Toby with us, and will extend cordial and hearty welcome to his family upon their arrival.

EYE AFFECTS WHOLE BODY

Why Routine Examination of School Children is Imperative is Explained by Authority.

Dr. de Schweinitz, in Hygeia, first points out that only about 4 per cent of eyes are entirely normal according to optical standards. At birth nearly all eyes are far-sighted. Near-sighted eyes most commonly make their appearance from the sixth to the tenth year of life, that is to say especially during school years. Such errors when marked give rise to eyestrain or "weak eyes." While it is true that few eyes are absolutely normal, many approach it so closely that for all practical purposes they may be considered normal. They do not give rise to discomfort, and correcting glasses are not required, at least, in younger years. But it must be realized further that good vision and painless eyes do not necessarily exclude eyestrain; and eyestrain may cause headache, pains in various parts of the body, twitching of the face, night terrors, nervousness, indigestion, and many other symptoms. The need for the routine examination of the eyes of school children is therefore clear, and the possible effects of failure to recognize the fact of eye trouble are pointed out. These effects are not limited to the eye itself. "The eye is not confined, as it were, to a little area of its own, subject to diseases and defects unconnected with the rest of the body. Quite the contrary. It is most intimate in its relations to the rest of the body." "The problems which surround it, whether they relate to optical faults or to disease, are medical problems, and must be solved with this fact always in view."

"LADY BRADY" CONTEST OPENS —12 ENTRIES

The contest inaugurated by the Brady Chamber of Commerce to designate by popular vote the Brady Miss who will represent Brady at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at San Angelo, May 21-22-23rd, as "Lady Brady," promises to be a most interesting one. An even dozen contestants have been entered by friends and admirers, and much interest is developing in the race. The trip to the convention, with all expenses paid, and with courtesies and receptions to be showered upon the fair young ladies all during their stay in San Angelo, is a prize well worth trying for, and not only should the young ladies be active, but all their friends should work for their favorite contestant to assure her receiving the trip.

For every dollar membership dues paid to the Brady Chamber of Commerce, 100 votes will be allotted to the young lady of the contributor's choice. This will then serve the double purpose of helping such contestant and will help the C. of C. secure funds for further boosting Brady and McCulloch county.

Standing of the contestants Thursday morning was reported as follows:

Frances Samuel	3500
Katharine Ballou	2250
Marjorie McCall	500
Lucille Benham	500
Odyne Beaver	500
Edythe Reed	500
Gertrude Trigg	500
Mary Campbell	500
Grace Sheppard	500
Cora Snider	500
Hattie Wilensky	500
Florence Bates	500

LOCAL BRIEFS

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Hurd upon the arrival of a fine son at their home on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Matthews and son, Norton, were visitors here last Saturday from Peg Leg ranch.

Messrs. Jas. T. and O. Duke Mann have purchased from J. A. Holton his new and attractive bungalow home located in the Crothers & White addition.

Members of Elijah F. Allin camp of the American Legion were treated to quite a pleasant surprise when they found their club rooms upstairs in the Syndicate building adorned with window curtains and draperies. The boys have members of the ladies auxiliary to thank for this thoughtful and highly appreciated gift.

Melvin this week has contributed largely to the number of patients at the local sanitarium, Mrs. Bob Hardin and Mrs. Oscar Sellers both undergoing operations, Jim Lackey being under treatment for injuries received in a runaway, and Manuel Mares, prominent Mexican citizen, undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Oscar Sellers, genial druggist of Melvin, is spending the week in Brady attending Mrs. Sellers, who Monday underwent an operation for appendicitis at the local sanitarium. Their many friends will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Sellers is doing nicely, and are anticipating her early recovery. Mrs. Bob Hardin who underwent an operation on Tuesday, is also reported getting along as nicely as could be expected.

Jim Lackey, prominent farmer of the Salt Gap community, is a patient at the local sanitarium as a result of being the victim of a runaway late Tuesday evening. Mr. Lackey was operating a cultivator, when his team became frightened, and in their mad dash he was thrown beneath the plows, two of which cut bad gashes on his leg above the knee. Mr. Lackey's injuries, fortunately, were confined to the gashes, which should heal in the course of the next few weeks, providing no unfavorable complications develop.

SELF-PITY SHOWS WEAKNESS

Can Properly Be Set Down Not Only as a Bad Habit, but a Poisonous One.

Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves? If so, you can set them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity saps one's self-reliance. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self-help that they have no time to waste on self-pity.

Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit. It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements; we all have ambitions thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streaks of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't flinch. We don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have troubles enough of their own.

We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the white feather. We strive to be men. We become men. We are men.—Forbes Magazine.

Clerk's One-Cylinder Mind.
"I usually know what I want and when I do I ask for it explicitly," said the Man Who Grumbles. "Yesterday I entered a paint store and to the clerk who offered to wait on me I said: 'I want a quart of white paint, best quality, for wood to be used outside.'"
"The clerk seemed puzzled. He studied a moment and asked: 'How much do you want?' I told him. He seemed satisfied and after a brief pause asked: 'Interior or outside?' I again supplied the information. He made no objection but still sought information. 'Going to use it on wood?' he suggested. I assured him that I intended to smear it on my window frames and they are of wood."
"I thought the transaction was about to be closed, but the clerk was still in doubt on one point. 'What color?' he asked cheerfully. I satisfied his curiosity and he got the paint for me. Stupid? Not a bit. He simply had a one-cylinder mind. I had supplied too many facts for him to assimilate at once."—New York Sun.

Sociability an Asset.
A political candidate, on paying a second visit to the house of a doubtful voter of the agricultural class, was very pleased but somewhat surprised on hearing from the elector that he would support him.
"Glad to hear it," said the candidate. "I thought you were against me."
"I was at first," said the other. "The other day when you called here and stood by that pig sty and talked for half an hour you didn't budge me an inch."
"But after you had gone away, sir, I got to thinkin' how you'd reached your hand over the rail and scratched the pig's back until he lay down with the pleasure of it. I made up my mind then that when a man was so sociable as that with a poor fellow creature I wasn't the man to vote against him."—Harper's Magazine.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Never Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. L. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Word received here this week from C. C. Dawson, who has been back in East Texas on a business trip, is that Mrs. Dawson was taken suddenly ill with acute appendicitis at their old home at Dawson, Texas, and was taken to Waco where she underwent an operation Sunday night. As a consequence, their return to Brady will be delayed something like two weeks. Mr. Dawson has been making arrangements to build two more houses on his ranch north of Melvin, together with barns, sheds, fences, etc., and which will give him three complete sets of improvements on his 351-acre tract.
