As evidence that the Orient railroad is getting back to normal in its finances and operations and that it really now wants to render service as a railroad, the management has signed a contract with The Enterprise for a year's contract of advertising It is always an evidence that any nstitution which seeks to serve the public in any capacity really takes its field seriously and really is trying to fill the purpose of its existence when it begins to advertise for business.

Mesdames Vina Palmer and Ellen Walker were San Angelo visitors Monday

citement in Bronte Wednesday over a search in Mexican quaters for a Mexican wanted for the killing of the sheriff of Howard county and a deputy sheriff of Taylor county, near Merkel Tuesday.

The Mexican was wanted at Big Spring for killing a man Monday. The Howard county sheriff traced him to near Merkel and with the aid of the deputy sheriff there located the Mexican in a Mexican camp. When the officers approached he killed the deputy and the sheriff went to call a physican. The Mexican followed the sheriff to farm house and killed him.

The sheriff of Jones county came with his blood hounds and trailed the Mexican in this direction, coming to Black well When the news reached here there was quite a little excitement. Led by Sheriff Hawley Allen and a posse of men searched out the Mexican quarters but did notfind the man. It reminded one of war days to see so many men going around with guns buckled around them.

An Appeal to Our Subscribers at a Distance

Dear Friends:

There are quite a few of you who live at a distance bezond the Bronte section of country. This is to ask you to please remit for all you owe the paper. If you don't know how you stand send us a dollar and we will give proper credit and then receipt you showing just how you stand. For us to go to the expense and time of sending a personal letter to each one will be a tax on me. We take it if you want the paper to continue to come, you will write us without further delay. The prices of printing material. labor and every thing that goes into the publishing of a paper is so heavy that we must keep the sunscriptions collected.

The subscription price of The Enterprise has been kept at $1 per year while almost all other country weeklies have gone to $1 50. We appreciate the loyalty of our subscription family. Hence we feel sure that all we have to do is to remind those not residing in the Bronte section to remit and those who wish the paper to continue will do so.

Of course, if you know your subscription is any thing like paid to date this does not apply to you. But otherwise, please, give it your immediate attention and it will be much appreciated.

The meeting at the Methodist church, which began Sunday morning, is making satisfactory progress to Pastor W. E. Anderson and the leaders of the congregation.

Dr. A. D. Porter, presiding elder of this district, from Brownwood, is directing the meeting. Dr. Porter was present Sunday morning for the first service and has preached morn ing an evening throuhout the week to large and appreciative congregations. The attendance from the adjoining communities s large and there's a wholesome, happy, religious spirit that prevails in each hour of worship.

Dr. Porter was already wel known before the meeting began as a preacher of splendid ability and every message he has brought so far has been so uplifting and helpful to the hear ers that the appreciation of him has been contirmed.

There is nothing that is such a valuable asset to every interes! of the community as a sure enough revival of genuine religion.

You will get instruction and inspiration such as rarely is gathered from a series of dis courses from the messages be ing brought by Dr. Porter.

One fire thing about the protrac ed drouth is that these farm ers who really take their task of farming seriously have had ample opportunity to thoroughly cultivate their land before planting. Hence many farms are already cultivated now and i the rains come in time for planting, the farmers will make a crot with less labor after planting than possibly was ever done in the history of the country.

The "fool's notion" that is gaining currency in the minds of some that prompts them to kill afficted relatives to relieve the aufferers of their pain is an indication of the growing tendency of thought which should slarm all sober thinkers -especially those who love the good old fushioned orthodox religious teachings regarding life and death -that life is so secred it should never be taken except in the case of criminais, who are to be executed according to the strictest laws of justice and parely for the sake of society. If the above sentiment is allow ed to go uncurbed, the next step will be to teach that the government should destroy all physical and mental defectives. And when that comes to pass the weakling will have a mighty slin chance even of getting any attention whatever.

Dig for Hidden Gold

in City of Jerusalem

A search for gold that rivals some of the expeditions that have sought the buried treasures of Captain Kidd, is in progress at Jerusalem under the direction of the Palestine government.

Nearly $500,000 in gold is alleged to have been buried in Palestine by members of the Turco-German headquarters staff before they fled from Jerusalem before the advance of General Allenby's forces, the Toledo Blade announces.

German officers reported the burial of the treasure, according to reports, and the German government knew that it would be seized as a prise of war, if found, so a private German group was formed Berlin, including some of the men who helped to bury the gold, to set out and rediscover the treasare and remove it from Palestine.

The German group purchased a ette in Jemin, near the monument which has been erected to the fallen German soldiers, and was about to start work when British authorities learned of the venture from a Germen informant.

The Palestine authorities are understood to have detained the search-

The government has now announced that it has ordered excavations in the Jemin area, in search of the treasure; but thus far none of the gold has been discovered.

Approximately $40,000,000 came into the province of British Columbis in the last 12 months from tourfats, according to the report of the Vancouver publicity bureau. Of this about $10,000,000 was from the motorists alone during the summer. The result of this influx of tourists is noticeable in the bank clearings and the retail trade during the summer months, usually a period of inactivity.

Half-Clothes

There is a clothing store on Broadway which specializes, among other things, in suits for theater treasurers by selling the top half of evening dress. The public sees only the head and shoulders of the average box office attendant, so these gentry do not have to don complete evening dress. As only the upper part of their get-up is visible, lightcolored trousers and tan shoes are often worn with their tuxedos .-New York World.

Theory Interests Many

More than 3,700 books have been written on the Einstein theory of relativity, it is said. Germany holds the record with 1,435 publications, followed by France, Italy, Holland and America, the last numbering 128. This does not include newspeper and magazine articles on the subject.

Seventy-five women have been ordained as ministers in the Congregational church of the United States. and of this number nearly one-third are in sole charge of churches.

Colorado Bug Invades

German Potato Fields

An invasion of the potato fields of Germany is threatened by the Colorade potato beetle. This destructive insect pest has found a foothold at | various times and places in eastern ! Europe but has hitherto been held in check or driven out by energetic measures.

Since the war, however, it has invaded and established itself in a large area in France and threatens to extend its invasion into central Europe. Once well established in the potato fields of Germany, it would cause great losses to one of that country's most important food

An expert declares that the beetle was brought to Bordeaux, France. in ships bringing troops from America. This recalls the fact that American entomologists believe that the hessian fly, one of the worst pests in America, was first carried to that country from Germany in the straw taken by Hessian troops with their horses to America during the Revolutionary war.

Fox Rode Deer

A remarkable story of the rescue of a young deer has come to the fish and game department at Augusta, Maine. As it is reported, says the Portland Press-Herald, three men who were fishing at a lake in the vicinity of . Mattawamkeag heard something cry out near at hand. At first they thought it might be a child, but presently something dashed through the bushes out to the shore with a fox on its back, and they saw that it was a small deer. The fishermen drove the fox off and rescued the deer. The back of its neck was bitten, and so were its hind

The little animal is now recovering from its fright and injury and is as playful as can be. The men who rescued it have received a temporary permit to keep it until the department can make arrangements to put it in one of the parks.

"Beauty Spot" Old Idea

European beauty experts are engaged in an animated discussion as to where the beauty spot, which is now being used so generally by women given to heavy make-ups, was invented. The Dutch claim the honor of having originated the use of bits of various colored plasters on the face nearly five centuries ago, when plasters were put on the temples to cure headaches.

Women of fashion saw the fine contrast offered to a fair skin by dark patches and inaugurated the use of black court-plaster cut in the shapes of stars, half moons, full moons and crescents.

· Carthaginian Relics

Count Byron Khum de Prorok, who is a young French archeologist, is soon to bring to Washington two clay urns containing the ashes of young children, sacrificed by the Phoenicians to their sun-god Moloch. The Count de Prorok has been working in Africa and has discovered many priceless relics in Carthage, the city destroyed by the Roman legions in 146 B. C. The urns probably will be placed in the Smithsonian institution at the national capital.

Weather Affects Wires

The average copper telephone wire is four and three-quarters feet longer to the mile in summer then in winter. This is because the copper contracts with the coming of cold weather, and so telephone wires have to be secretally strung to allow for this expansion and contraction Otherwise if they were tightly strung in summer they would break when cold weather set in. Most of the wintertime breaks in phone wires are caused by elect storms. A half inch of sleet on one mile of tole phone wire weighe about one one-half tons.

Plg Uncovered Gold Mine A wounded pig led to the dieserery of a potential gold field near Mt. Tarawers, New Zeeland.

A man shot the pig; the pig fell down a small weterfall, disledging a piece of stone, the glitter of w attracted the hunter's attention. He examined the stone and then contained silver, se submitted it to the mines department. The stone was assayed and found to contain gold and other minerals, including silver. The find may mark the discovery of a large gold-bearing roof. -Detroit Nows.

Many Precious Stones

Found in California

For Californians realize that within the boundary of the state are precious and semi-precious stones as fine as any found elsewhere in the world. C. C. Kinrade. who has searched for precious minerals the world ever, has in his collection jade from Siskiyou county as beautiful in color as the jade used in the loveliest of oriental objects of art. He has chrysoprase, clear and brilliantly blue-green, which is found in a single outcropping near Porterville, and rose tourmaline, said to be of the finest variety native to Americe, which comes from the region near San Diego. Mr. Kinrade, now in his seventy-eighth year, and long a resident of San Francisco, recenty discovered a strange bit of stone on one of the Marin beaches, which ad been washed up from the bed of Golden Gate. He was unable to etermine its origin and sent it on o the geological department of the mitheonian institution. The stone, hen polished, shows a beautifully ariegated yellow, red and green urface, and the Smithsonian instiution has named it "Kinradeite" in onor of the finder.—San Francisco Argonaut

DIVIDING PROFITS

O. D. Spoonts of Fort Chadbourne is known all over this section already as a merchant who is always in the forefront when it comes to pushing his business and of taking advantage of every situation to keep the neople constantly impressed that he is not in business purel to make every cent possible. but also to meet a necessity in the life of people of his section in the way of selling seasonable merchandise at a price that will benefit the people.

To show the people who have been his patrons and all others who wish to take advantage of he opportunity, that he is with them and wants to aid them in very emergency, he has put on 'Drouth Profit Division Sale" In this sale he announces he is lividing his regular profits with his friends and customers. It is no wonder that his home town people believe in him and give him the patronage they do Last year he sold $50,000 worth of merchandise. Remarkable don,t you think, for a town no larger than Fore Chadbourte? But there is a reason and that reason is that O. D. Spoonts pushes his business by advertising, by keeping a fine stock of seasonable merchandise and treating the people so generously and fair that he has their con fidence and go to him rather than to larger places to do their trad-

NORTON,

To Buy Historical Letter

Nine letters, signed and subarribed by the ill-fated Mary queen of Scots, are shortly to be offere the British nation, and, in order to obtain them, together with 91 other doruments connected with the queen, a fund of $11,000 is being raised by popular subscription.

The documents come from the erchives of the family of Mure of Rowalan. They have never been offered for sale before, few of them have been published, and all throw fresh light on one of the most keenly debated episodes in British history.

Czeche Learn Dressmaking

Continuation schools for dress makers' apprentices are maintained by the ministry of education of Czechoslovakia, says a United States consular report. Students may choose one of three courses, each of which requires eight hours a week. All of these courses include drawing and other technical subjects related to the dressmaking trade. Other subjects taught in these courses are hygiene, arithmetic, bookkeeping and civics.

He Said Too Much

"Have you anything to say?" "I have, your honor, most assuredly a desire to state without reserve or circumlocution that the penalty imposed should be in keeping or, as it were, commensurate with my station in life, which has hitherto been one of no inconsiderable importance."

"Well, you seem to have a liking for long sentences. Ten years."-Louisville Courier-Journal.

Candle Industry Hurt

Because of the introduction of electric light the candle industry of Austria faces destruction, the output having dropped within a decade from 10,000 tons to less than 8,000 tons a year.

Horticultural Triumphe

Some remarkable new flower were introduced at the autumn show of the Royal Horticultural society in London. One gladiolus produced in Scotland contained a single spike with seventeen orange scarlet blossome and about a dozen buds ready to open. Another novelty was a mammoth salmon-pink chrysanthemum. Perhaps the most valuable new offering was a heliotrope and rose carnation which can be made to flower outdoors for six months, or until a severe frost. This flower has recovered the famous musk perfume of early carnations which has been largely lost with the intensive development of the flowers. The gladielus exhibit was especially remarkable. Some gladioli were brought from Germany by airplane especially for the exhibit.

A Rare Sight

William A. White, the humorous Kansas editor, said at a wedding breakfast in Medicine Lodge:

"Some folks claim that a deed donkey is a rare sight, but let me tell you of a rarer one.

"You and I, friends, have seen girls so timid that they were afraid to go bathing for fear they might drown, afraid to go rowing for fear the boat might upset, afraid to go driving for fear the horse might ran eway, and even afraid to help their mothers with the housework for feer they might injure themselves internally-but, friends, have any of ne over yet seen a girl who was afraid to get married?"-Detroit Free Press.

Towline Shock Absorber

A patented towline with a strong spring section in it has been designed to take up the shock of starting and stopping during the touring of a motor vehicle. The spring, which forms part of a line with a book at each end, causes less strain on both cars, lessens the danger of the line enapping and reduces the possibility of "killing" the engine of the forward car.

Man Raolly Superior in Power of Endurance

A few weeks ago the respective powers of endurance possessed by a man and a horse were put to an in-teresting test in London. A man who is fifty-nine years of age engaged in a six-day contest against a race horse, each to run ten hours a day. The man made $45 miles, but the horse had done only $87 when it broke down and had to be with-drawn. It is probable that a horse might easily be found that could do better than that, but, on the other hand, a man who is nearly sixty years old can hardly be considered as the best physical representative of the human rece. It is true, and has often been proved, that a really strong and well-trained man can tire out the best and sturdless of horses in a long contest—just as he can run down the speediest deer if he keeps inflexibly upon its trail-Youth's Companion.

Effective Demonstration

An American cowboy, John Swain, in Paris with a rodeo outfit, saked a policemen where he could buy blank cartridges. The gendarme didn't understand and the cowboy didn't know a word of French.

Swain took out some money with one hand, his revolver in the other and tried the sign language. The cop didn't get him. Then to demonstrate it was blank cartridges he wanted the cowboy fired directly at the policeman with a blank. Spectators screamed and scattered. Recovering from his fright and finding himself alive the cop merched Swain to the station, where, an interpreter explained the business, and the French police who are rarely surprised at anything Americans do.

He Understood

Buster Keaton tells this one. In e recent picture he employed 800 "cannibals." In one scene they were supposed to jump from the deck of the ocean liner chartered for the picture.

Buster divided them into five classes and, when the signal for class B came to jump, one lone California cannibal remained on the

"Don't you know what class I means?" asked Buster.

"Yes, sir, I does," came the reply. "It meens I'ee goin' to B here when the others dive, and I've goin' to B here when they comes back."

Hidden Chests of Gold Lure Treasure Seeher

Two chests of Spanish gold said to have been hidden 100 years a in a cave in the typhoon-swept hills of Claro Bebuyan, one of the northernmost islands of the Philip group, are challenging the spirit of several venturesome Manilians who are preparing to go in search of the treasure. The gold, according to the natives, was secreted by an women who sought prote ber treasure from the frequent earthquakes on the island. The crew of a coastguard cutter which recently visited the island brought word that two bress cannone about five feet long and a ship's bell taken from a British warship wrecked there many years age were found. The bell is used to summon worshipers to a dilapidated chape which is without a priest. There are two volcanoes on the island.
