

TAX MEASURES THE MAN

The man who is careful, keeps down expense,
Who uses in business good common sense,
May never be rich as they call men today,
But he never misses to have tax to pay.
The man who to business pays little heed,
Keeps buying things he does not need,
Is a man very likely pays little tax.
He accumulates nothing; his methods are lax.
The FIRST NATIONAL BANK would advise that man
Who pays no tax better change his plan.

THE WATER SITUATION

still calls for attention. True, Bronte has no water shortage now, but one may remember that during the summer months water was scarce. Do the wells have to go dry before action is taken? Now is not too soon to plan for an enlarged and adequate water supply for Bronte, secured with the aid and help of competent engineers who can advise on the basis of facts.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish. . ."

THE COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

is scheduled to meet tonight. It can be no stronger than the individual members of whom it is composed. Membership is not restricted to Bronte people alone, but includes those living in the Bronte community. Much has been done, more is needed.

Bronte needs an adequate water supply, improved roads, additional trade and travel, a locker plant, more business, a clean-up drive, a retail credit agency, and city-wide advertising and boosting, to name but a few details.

You, and you alone, acting within and through the Bronte Community Service Club, can help to make Bronte a better place in which to live.

Care to accept that challenge?

COLUMBUS DAY

will be observed tomorrow. A courageous man, brave, daring, and like the turtle, not afraid to stick his neck out. Columbus set his course, trimmed his sails, and advanced. Let his example be followed — let us dare to do that which is just, that which is right, and that which will help us all.

WTCC MEETS AT COLEMAN TUESDAY

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce district meeting will be held at Coleman on Tuesday, October 15, starting at 2:00 P. M., and members of the Bronte Community Service Club have been urged to attend, according to a letter from B. P. Bludworth, District Director.

An open forum will be held to discuss planks in the referendum ballot, and the 1947 district meeting place will be selected.

Questions to be considered include the following:

1. That need be prescribed as the sole basis for eligibility for old age pensions; that old age and survivors insurance be liberalized; that the WTCC oppose the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill; 2. that the motor vehicle tax law be amended; 3. that the ad valorem tax for state general revenue fund be permanently abolished; 4. that the WTCC campaign of industrial advertising be continued, the West Texas Industrial Development Bureau be expanded; that the WTCC foster a self-liquidating campaign of national industrial advertising through state financing; 5. that a research program be concentrated on Texas agricultural products; 6. that the so-called lateral road formula be completely nullified and farm-to-market roads be allotted by giving equal weight to other factors; 7. that "Taxpayer's Code of Ethics" be approved; and 8. that the WTCC oppose any constitutional five cents ad valorem tax to create a building fund for state colleges; and that the University Land Fund revenue be divided between the University of Texas, A. & M. College, and the state colleges.

John Clark was an office visitor last Wednesday, as well as Mrs. Maurine Stuart of Blackwell, most able and gracious postmistress. C. R. Smith dropped in for a bit, as did Haywood Springer and H. O. Whitt. Several officials of the West Texas Utilities Company of Abilene, by the way, told the writer Tuesday that they thought a lot of Haywood up that way, and considered him a fine manager. A posey for you, Haywood.

NORTON NOTATIONS . . .

By Betty Jo Shelburne

Bro. and Mrs. Clinton Eastman of Maverick visited here recently, preaching for the Baptists on Sunday night.

Visiting in the home of the Kemper Shelburnes, Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shelburne of Rankin and Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick Shelburne and Ellen of Ballinger. Also a guest in their home is Charley Berry of Crews, who is helping with the building of their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Davis are happy parents of a son, Curtis Wayland, born October 2. Mrs. Davis' sister, Charlene Carlton, is staying with her.

Everybody was thrilled recently when the Norton Eagles beat the Miles Bulldogs by a score of 13-6. You see, it was the first game the Eagles had won in several years, and for a treat, Juannelle Chatman gave a party.

Several folks went to the Youth Rally at Winters last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hambright, Robert, and Charlene Carlton spent the day recently in the Carl Lewis home.

The 4-H Club girls recently had a slumber party in the home of Mrs. Kirby Robinson. Those attending included: Jeanna Simpson, Audine Curry, Ollie Pearl Tinney, Lounette Stubblefield, Nell Hambright, Ray Nell Stark, Patsy Sharpes, Patsy Mackey, June Hensley, Mary Louise Ellis, Wynonne Robinson, Peggy Cope, Jacqueline Cope, and Dorothy Wertemberger.

J. L. Perry honored the football boys with a steak supper in his home as a reward for their victory over Miles.

Cecil Patton and Mrs. Joe Hambright entertained the Intermediate Baptist boys and girls with a party in the latter's home recently.

The Crews and Maverick outsiders came over last Tuesday night and played ball, with Crews coming out ahead. Crews girls also won over the Norton girls, as did the boys' team and the Norton outsiders have now changed their name to the "Gooks."

After prayer meeting last Wednesday night, several young people and adults gathered to have a party honoring Mrs. Jim Hambright. She had taught the class for several years and Mrs. Roy Roper is to have it now. Those present included the honored guest, Rev. and Mrs. Corley, Mrs. Clifford Murphy, Mozelle Martin, Juannelle Chatman, Betty Sue Willis, Charlene Carlton, Neil Stewart, Keith Corley, Lowell Corley, Herbert Martin, Weldon Willis, Nealon Carter, and Betty Shelburne.

The outsiders played basketball at Crews, Monday night, and both teams were defeated.

Grass is on the Move

Out of the sandhills of Nebraska, up from the Chama country of New Mexico . . . all the way from the state of Washington to Texas, there's a flood of livestock on the move. Feeder cattle and lambs raised in the great grass-growing regions of the United States are flowing into the feed lots of the nation. This movement reaches its peak each October, and its significance is of great economic importance to all of us in the livestock-meat industry.

These millions of head of feeder cattle and lambs are nothing more than grass turned into meat. True, these feeders will require a certain amount of grain to finish them as satisfactory meat animals. That's why they go into the feed lots. But were it not for these grazing animals, 779,000,000 acres of the land area of the United States would produce little, if any, human food. In other words, 41% of the total land of our nation consists of grass land which cannot be used for producing other feeds and foods. Also taking into consideration the plowable land used to produce pasture, hay and other forage crops, approximately half of our land would produce no food of human value, were it not for livestock.

Of the total feeds consumed by beef cattle, 78.7% is grass, hay and dry roughages. With lambs, it is 95.6%. These are official figures of the United States Department of Agriculture. Thus, the grain that goes into feeder cattle and lamb rations is but a relatively small part of the feed that makes our meat. A minimum of corn is needed to bring feeder steers from 700 to 1,000 pounds when the principal part of the ration is made up of fodder, corn silage, other available roughages and some concentrates.

In addition to utilizing grass which otherwise would be wasted, the production of livestock furnishes the nation with its finest nutritional food—meat. In the great movement of meat from the Western range to the kitchen range, the stop-over in the feed lots increases the amount of meat. It also levels out the fall flood of livestock into a more even year-round marketing. Thus seasonal price fluctuations are not so marked. In the production of livestock, the majority of America's 6,000,000 farmers and ranchers find the chief means of marketing their grass and other home-grown feeds.

TEAMWORK

While we were preparing the "Grass is on the Move" article for this page, a cattleman friend from one of the western range states called to see me. I told him about the article. "It points out," I said, "that lots of food for humans is produced from areas that otherwise would be waste land if it were not for meat animals." He said, "That's good! There are always misguided people who complain that it's a waste to feed corn and other grains to livestock. They say people ought to eat the grain, instead of turning it into meat. They forget that most of that meat is made of grass, hay and other roughage that people can't eat." "Another thing too many people forget," he went on, "is the important job you meat packers do in getting meat to the people who want it. I understand that meat travels an average of more than 1,000 miles from producers to consumers. That must be so because we fellows west of the Mississippi raise two-thirds of the livestock. But two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of the Mississippi, where most of the people live. In a way, we who raise and finish the animals are like manufacturers. And you are our sales and distributing departments. Believe me, we need an organization that covers the nation to get our product into every market in this big country. It seems to me that you and we are in this business together, and neither could get along without the other."
It seems to me that he's right!
F.M. Simpson

MANY ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED
Every three minutes there is a farm or ranch accident. Unless something is done, 19,500 people may be killed in such accidents this year. Another 1,800,000 may be injured. We at Swift & Company want to help cut down this accident toll. That's why we print the pictures and the questions which follow. Little chances not taken, little repairs made, can prevent big accidents. Do you take the chances shown below? Check yourself.

Do you have a strongly built bull pen? Do you lead the bull around on a rope because you do not have a bull-staff? Do you approach horses from behind without speaking and patting their rumps to warn them? Then watch yourself . . . one out of four fatal farm accidents occurs in handling livestock.

I never handle animals carelessly I approach animals without warning

Do you leave safety shields off power shafts, gears and chains? Wear loose-fitting clothing that may catch in machinery? Operate the tractor on dangerous inclines or banks? Mishandled machinery and equipment are involved in nearly one out of three fatal farm accidents.

I am never careless around machinery I sometimes take chances with machinery

SELECTING JUNIOR CLUB STEERS
by W. H. Peters
University of Minnesota

Every boy and girl who enters a junior feeding contest would like to secure a feeder steer good enough to become a champion. In selecting calves with this high aim in mind, the "satisfactory prospect" must be a purebred or high-grade one of the recognized beef breeds, Short-horn, Hereford, or Angus.
The calf or yearling steer in thin condition must appear short in legs in proportion to his depth of body, or to put it the other way around, he must appear deep in body in proportion to his length of legs. He must then appear to be wide in his body and thickly covered with muscle, especially over the loin and down through the thighs.
The feeder calf should have a short neck and a short, broad head. He should appear moderately fine or small in the legs and head as an indication that he will fatten smoothly and show quality when fat. Large, coarse-appearing calves and small over-refined ones seldom develop into winners. Calves that appear nervous and easily excited or frightened should be avoided as they are likely to not do well and to be hard to train to lead.

Martha Logan's Recipe for DEEP DISH MEAT PIE
Yield: 6 Servings
2 cups diced cooked meat (beef and pork) 2 medium sized onions
1 cup cooked diced potatoes
Salt, Pepper 1 cup cooked peas
2 tablespoons flour 1 cup cooked diced carrots
2 tablespoons lard
BISCUIT TOPPING
1/4 cup lard 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups sifted flour 1 cup milk (about)
3 teaspoons baking powder
Season meat. T dredge in flour. Add minced onion and brown in hot lard. Add vegetables and hot water to cover. Pour into a deep, wide casserole or baking dish. Heat. Make drop biscuits by cutting fat into flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Add enough milk to make a very soft dough. Drop by tablespoons on top of the meat mixture. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) about 20 minutes or until the biscuits are well browned.

Cattle grubs collect a heavy toll from livestock producers each year. Paul Gregg, entomologist with Texas A. and M. College, estimates that grubs cause approximately five million dollars' loss in Texas alone. Cattle grubs are an expensive pest throughout the Gulf Coast states, all the range country and everywhere cattle are produced. They can be controlled. Gregg advocates rotenone and sulphur, applied either as a dust or spray. Consult your county agent about the best time for treating your animals.

Meat Buying Customs is the title of a new animated sound cartoon movie, filmed in color. It's a fast-moving chapter of our fast-moving industry. We'll gladly send it to you for group meetings. All you pay is express one way. It's in great demand, so please allow several weeks for delivery. It's a 16-mm. sound film and cannot be used on a silent projector. Other films available on the same basis are "By-Products," "Livestock and Meat," "A Nation's Meat," "Cows and Chickens . . . U. S. A." Write to Department 10A, Swift & Company, Chicago 9, Ill.

Marketing Dairy and Poultry Products. The same nationwide facilities which are used to distribute meat are ideal for the distribution of dairy and poultry products. All these products are perishable and require refrigeration. Many consumers buy their butter, cheese, eggs, poultry and meats from the same store. So, as you can see, it is more economical to have one Swift & Company salesman who sells 16 or more products than 16 salesmen each selling one product. Further, costs are reduced by having the same trucks deliver these products at the same time to the same dealer.
By preparing, handling and selling dairy and poultry products, as well as meat, distribution costs are reduced on all these foods. Our objective is to provide wider outlets for the products of America's farms and ranches. We have a booklet entitled "Dairy and Poultry Products" which we will gladly send you. Just write to Swift & Company, Department A-3, Chicago 9, Illinois.

By Mrs. Charles Ragsdale

Mrs. C. H. Bolin is visiting in Fort Worth this week.

Jack Youree, Arnold Richards and children, all of Abilene, spent the week-end in Blackwell.

Mrs. R. V. Copeland visited her daughter, Miss Mary Nell of Sherman.

Mrs. Austin Jordan and her five sisters are having a reunion at Texarkana.

Mrs. Roy Sanderson has been visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert English and their new daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Alderman and sons and Ramona Alderman were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Alderman, Jr., last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan McDonald and daughter of Dallas came through here Friday on their way to Los Angeles, California, for a visit and business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hanna of San Angelo spent the week-end in Blackwell.

Agent, gave a demonstration on mending. Refreshments were served to the following: Mmes. W. Leach, T. A. Carlisle, Bob Ratliff, D. T. Hunt, Earnest Ware, Lon Smith, R. H. Reaves, R. Lanier, and the speakers on the program.

Donald Childers left Monday for Long Beach, California, where he will visit his brother, Vernon.

Frank Keeney, so we hear, is becoming a newsboy. Seems he was in Mac Rippetoe's the other morning, and laid down his paper when he went in. Getting ready to leave, Frank took not only his own paper, but all of Mac's as well. On arrival at the store, Charlie asked where he got all the papers. In the meantime, somebody (name withheld on request) asked Mac for a morning paper, only to be told they'd sold out. About that time, Frank returned with a big supply, just in time to make the sale, we're told. It was fun, too, said Frank.

Bob Whitehead and his better half were Bronte visitors Saturday from our neighboring town of Blackwell. Bob's the Santa Fe agent there, and they came down to do a bit of shopping, buying from the Enterprise advertisers.
