

THE LOCKNEY BEACON

Dedicated to the Interests of This Section, That No Good Cause May Lack a Champion

VOLUME 35

LOCKNEY, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCT. 17, 1935

NUMBER 6

Interesting things you might like to know about Texas: There are 265,896 square miles in Texas; it is 825 miles wide and 740 miles long; Guadalupe Peak in Culberson County, rising to a height of 9,500 ft is the highest mountain in the state and is higher than any other in the United States east of the Mississippi River; there are four state forests in Texas east of the Mississippi River; there are 254 counties; census of 1930 gives the state a population of 5,824,715; there are 1,656,875 men (over 21) and 1,564,205 women (over 21) in the state; David G Burnett was the first president and J Pinckney Henderson was the first governor; Texas has the only Embassy building ever erected by a foreign government. The building is now privately owned and is located on East Eight Street in Austin. It was erected by France as the residence for Charge d'Affaires to the Republic of Texas; the capital has been changed thirteen times; St. David's Episcopal Church in Austin was established in 1847 and is one of the oldest churches in Texas outside of the Missions; the state motto is "Friendship"; Texas is from the Indian word "Tejas" meaning friends or allies; there are 180,000 miles of roads in Texas, or more than seven times around the world at the equator; Stephen F Austin "Father of Texas" died in 1836 and was buried at Peach Point, near Velasco, Tex. but in 1910 his body was removed to the Texas Cemetery at Austin.

605 BALES COTTON GINNED IN THIS COMMUNITY

In checking up on the number of bales of cotton ginned here in Lockney and Aiken we find the number to be 605, an increase of 440 bales over last week. At the present price of cotton and cottonseed, a bale brings about $70, so 605 bales means an outlay of $42,350 new money for this community so far. That should mean an increase in business.

The weather is not favorable for gathering cotton this morning clouds are hanging heavy over intervals, but if the weather should clear up cotton will roll in mighty fast this next week. Picking is just beginning on some of the irrigated farms, which will turn out heavy yields.

LOCKNEY-TURKEY GAME CAME OUT 6-7 LAST FRIDAY

Lockney beat Turkey here last afternoon making their score 6-7.

During the second quarter H. Brotherton was taken out and Billy Ed Whitfill went in for the local team. Leland Turner went in for John Alexander. During the third quarter the pigskin was in the hands of the opposition most of the time with most of the playing taking place on Lockney's 15 and 20 yard line. Captain Collier made a beautiful tackle on his own 30 yard line during the third quarter. Allen replaced Pope in the last few minutes of this quarter. The fourth quarter saw the yellow and purple Turks make their first and only touchdown during the game but they failed to kick the goal for another point. Lockney made another touchdown by passing to No 15 behind the goal line but it was no good because of offsides. During this quarter George Taylor made several good tackles.

Coach Cooper believes the boys played the poorest football they have ever exhibited this season. The penalties broke about even, but Lockney intercepted more passes than the opposition.

LONGHORNS WILL GO TO MATADOR FRIDAY FOR SCRAP

With three victories behind them the Longhorns will go to Matador Friday afternoon along with their coach, Leo Cooper, to display their power on the gridiron in the second conference game of the year.

"Its gonna be a tough game, but I believe my team can come out winners if they go into the game with a determination to win." Coach Cooper told the reporter this morning.

Here is how the Matador team does out. They beat Silverton 63-6; Silverton and Turkey tied Flomont and last week the Longhorns only beat the Turks one point. According to the reports Matador has sure "nuff sompin' in the way of a tip short-in' team, and the local lads are going to have to play a lot better ball than they did last week or else their record of winning a game this season will be 0-1. Get that old Longhorn spirit going and lets 'em see what the boys from West Fashin can do.

LOCKNEY TO DEDICATE POLO FIELD SUNDAY

The Lockney Polo Club will dedicate their polo field, one mile north of town Sunday afternoon, to H M Mason by playing the star players of Plainview, beginning at 3 o'clock.

The club met last Sunday afternoon for practice games and elected H M Mason as manager of the club. About ten came out for the practice.

The star players of Plainview include Marvin Shurbet, Bob Crenshaw, "Button" Stevenson, and Lloyd Phillips.

This dedication game is expected to draw a good crowd from all over the South Plains.

LOCKNEY STUDENTS ELECTED TO OFFICES IN W T S T C

Several Lockney young men have been elected to different offices in the W T S T C.

Is 82.5 Degrees Below Zero Cold To You?

In reply to the first question people asks, "Was it cold at Little America," Joe Hill jr, youngest member of the Admiral Byrd second Antarctic expedition, refers you to the reading of Byrd's thermometer at 82.5 degrees below zero. If you think that is cold, then it was cold at the South Pole as explained by Hill in a lecture here Monday night at the grade school auditorium under the auspices of the P. T. A.

It was so cold that the men wore clothing weighing from twenty to twenty-seven pounds, and were required to keep clean shaven to prevent icicles from forming on the face and particularly about the mouth. In extremely cold wet weather the fur coats were worn next to the under clothing, otherwise they were worn on the outside. Ice particles would form on the fur during the wet weather if on the outside.

Hill had with him Neeka, a mask face malmute dog, given to him by Admiral Byrd upon their return to the states. Neeka spoke to the audience as commanded by his master and nonchalantly strolled across the footlights. Hill said Neeka was 2 years and 9 months old and ate 1-2 lbs. of meat a day when at the Antarctic. The sled dogs are fed only once a day there and that is at the end of the day's work.

Hill was selected out of 10,500 applications as Byrd's personal aid and as a tractor driver on ice.

It took 450 tons of material for the expedition to stay at the South Pole for two years. The men went in one boat and the tractors, airplanes, sleds, food and housing material were in another. The boats sailed for their destination Sept. 25, 1933 going via the Easter Islands and New Zealand. "Contrary to the usual idea of New Zealand's weather, it is a semi-tropical country and is settled principally by the Scotch and English," Hill said in explaining conditions as he found them.

"The thing that worried me most about New Zealanders is the fact that they eat from five to six meals a day. The business men take off in the middle of the afternoon and go home for tea," the adventurer remarked to the audience. The company stayed there for two weeks and then continued their voyage.

"The main purpose of the expedition was to open up new territory already discovered by Admiral Byrd on his first trip and for scientific discoveries," he revealed during his lecture. Little America is about the size of America and only 2-5 has been explored.

In arriving at the Antarctic the main problem to decide is whether to tie the ships up to bay ice or bearer ice. During certain seasons of the year the bay ice melts considerably, drifts out to sea, and endangers the expedition ships and supplies. If the bearer ice is used it often times caves off. They finally decided to tie on to the bay ice after attempting the other unsuccessfully.

The West Texan explorer said the main purpose of Admiral Byrd established a station at the base of the Antarctic for two months in exile was done in the belief that all of the temperatures effecting the south originate at this point it is the farthest south a weather station has ever been established. After Byrd became ill from the poison of his stove and was reached after four attempts, he remained for another three months with two other men.

"Either one or three men are sent out from Little America on adventures and never two," Hill said this was done for psychological reasons. And since they could not transport sufficient supplies Continued on Back Page.

Miss Mildred Rives left Monday morning for Clovis where she is spending the week as a guest of her aunt. Miss Rives is stenographer for the Perkins Insurance Company.

Miss Roy Riley, who teaches school in Pampa, was here Saturday and Sunday as the guest of her parents, Mr and Mrs Zack Rife.

THE LOCKNEY BEACON

Established 1902

Published Every Thursday

J. L. SUITS, PUBLISHER
JEANE SUITS, EDITOR

Entered April 14, 1902, as second class matter at the postoffice at Lockney Texas, by act of Congress, March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Beacon will be corrected gladly upon its being brought to the attention of the publisher.

We have added a new exchange to our list of West Texas papers. It is the Sterling City Record, published by W F Kellis at Sterling City. There is one peculiar thing about this paper, the editor, Mr Kellis, signs all of his editorials as "Uncle Bill." So there is no mistake about who writes the editorials of that paper. Perhaps Uncle Bill is complying with the wishes of a member of the National Congress who threatened to introduce a bill recently compelling all newspaper editorial writers to sign their names to their editorials. Thanks, Mr Kellis for placing the Beacon on your exchange list.

We have received a "news item" from our new Senator, G H Nelson, who is at Austin helping frame new laws at the called session. Senator Nelson says he has only served ten days as a Senator, and I am aware that I will be unable to have everything go my way. Of course the people of this district did not expect Mr Nelson to accomplish anything while at this session. Just all he can do is to sit and vote. This is the lines and vote. This is the lines and vote. This is the lines and vote.

that nothing is being done worthwhile. The House and Senate cannot agree on control of liquor, old age pension and officers salaries of the various counties that have heretofore been on a percentage basis. Senator Nelson states that "the main trouble with the passage of the Old Age Pension Law is that no one wants to be taxed to get the money." So there you are folks, there you are, just a lot of wood-sawing.

Henry Morgenthau, secretary of the treasury, states that "the United States dollar is the strongest currency in the world." He also stated when asked if there had been any speculative attacks on the dollar by other countries he replied: "We are not looking for trouble; we don't want any trouble; but if any nation in the world wants to start something, we are ready for them. Atta, boy, Henry. Mr Morgenthau has been fortifying this country from a J. P. Morgan standpoint for many years. Gold has been stored in the vaults at Washington and elsewhere in the United States, being shipped here from Europe, and now Mr Morgenthau states that the country wants to start something from a money standpoint.

worth a tinkers damn and it cost the tax payers plenty of dough. The first session was over Tuesday night Governor Allred called another session that began Wednesday at noon, and there goes plenty of more good old hard silver for a cat and dog fight. Our law-makers have been doing nothing but wrangling over the liquor and old age pension question. They were supposed to pass laws regulating these two measures. Not one darn thing has been done about it, they are just "politicking" around. The hull cheese should be recalled and a new set of men elected that will do something. When these men come up for reelection this next election this special session should be thrown right into their face and smothered with an avalanche of votes for some other man. Some of them have been members of the legislature so long they think they are drawing a pension, and they are. What the people demand is action and less rag-chewing, get the job done and go home and stop expense. They act like a bunch of school kids. No, on second thought we believe a bunch of school kids would do better.

Well, well, Al Smith has retired from politics, for the time being at least, and is devoting his time to looking for new tenants for the Empire State Building. There is a lot of empty rooms in the building and the people who hold the mortgage want to see them filled up so Al can meet the payments. When those fellows loaned Al the money to build that building they sure pue a loop on him and his activities. It is just like the rest of us poor fellows who cannot call his soul his own. The mortgage hangs heavy on his head.

WHAT WE SEE IN THE PAPERS

holdup in St. not one gave. One would have been more than they were. drinking cause there was a headache or buzz in a carload of that stuff! (so a steward told me!)

Vice President Nance Garner may be the "top" in his native state but in the "bottoms" in Denver, recently he and Mrs. Garner were passing through the city to Seattle and were met at Union Station by a newspaper reporter and a photographer, one a Democrat and the other a Republican. That rather hard to take when one is use to being the cream of the crop and then suddenly changed to nothing but mediocrity. Regardless of how important you are and what you have done for the land of the free and the home of the brave (whatever that means) there is always some wise guy, or guys, who take the wind out of your sails just for the sport of it.

I noticed in the papers where the paintings of Vincent Van Gogh of Holland are now worth $1,000.00. During his life time he never received over $100 for his art and his later years were spent in the insane asylum. He killed himself in 1890. Not being satisfied with his mental condition, he had to commit suicide and fertilize the soil for 45 years before fate would reward his efforts. What price glory! There are artist and scientist today who spent their entire time with their chosen work that will not be recognized until they are dead and no longer able to paint the scenes as they see them or mix chemicals in test tubes for advancement of science. They are working without encouragement and maintain only a ray of hope manifested by the glory received by the dead! Is it worth it? Some seem to think so.

Another slip-knot was tied in Englewood Cliffs, N J, last Friday for Franchot Tone and Joan Crawford according to reports. For the past two years Tone has wooed Joan on and off the screen and finally received her consent to become his lawfully wedded wife. Life is just one long honeymoon for most of the stars in Hollywood. As soon as one is over they start another—"I'll take her this year and you can have her next." "Holly-would" either drive a person conformed to right nertz or change his meaning of the word, Right.

It looks as if President Pat N. Neff of Baylor University is employing a bit of the "old school" psychology in publicly dismissing three co-eds from the Baptist institution, two for conduct allegedly unbecoming to students and another for the good of the university. Tactics of this sort have been discarded by most of the colleges and universities today and more modern psychological discipline applies. Neff started the idea a year ago of announcing in chapel the names of those students who are dismissed from the roll or given demerits for misconduct. His idea is to establish fear of the jeering public into the hearts of the student body to such an extent as to prevent misbehavior. College students are just like you and I, they can't be forced to do anything successfully.

The death of Mrs Lena Johnson in Dallas Monday was the 93 automobile accident victim in the city for the current year. And then we speak of gangsters as public enemies. Maybe they are, but the biggest public enemy in the United States today is the automobile accident which claims thousands of lives every year. Does the underworld cause that many loss of lives? No. Does the United States spend as much money to prevent accidents as she does in capturing criminals? No. Then what do you get? A public enemy at large that lurks on every highway, street, and avenue in the United States simultaneously without any G-men on the trail!

LOCKNEY MEN APPOINTED ON MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

Leaders Credit Association in January and a tentative educational program for prospective members were discussed at a meeting of the local board of directors of the association held in Plainview, Monday.

One of the important actions at this meeting was the appointment of membership committees in the several counties composing the territory of the association. These committees will function to develop greater interest in the association among the members and assist in informing non-member farmers and stockmen about Production Credit services. The committee members also expect to stimulate interest in the annual stockholders' meeting in January when officers and directors of the association will be elected. Committeemen in this territory include the following: H A Brotherton, C P McPherson, J J Smith of Lockney, and

E W Tibbets of Quitaque, and C J Parr of Floydada.

Charles Devenport, son of Mr and Mrs Davenport of Plainview, had his tonsils removed at the clinic this morning.

Mrs Harry Hartman of South Plains had a tonsilectomy at the Lockney clinic this morning.

Verner Dillard of Lubbock was in town on business Sunday and Monday.

Tech Checker Star Wins Plains Title

V C Stanphill, former checker champion, won over twenty players at the Hotel Lubbock this week-end to retain his Texas plains checker championship.

Leroy Kelting, Borger, quickly lost a 10-game match to the Tech, star in the final. Stanphill only lost four games in sixty-two played in the tourney.

W H (Rice) Johnson, E H Rankin, and C S Colson of Lockney entered the tournament which was held Saturday. Though neither of them entered the finals they put up a good fight.

Stanphill was to have played Newell W Banks, former United States champion, in a match last night. Fans expected Stanphill to win.

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time until bowels need no help at all.

ANY mother knows that when her child stops eating little, is hard to manage. But what a pity some know no sensible way to set things right. The ordinary laxatives, even ordinary strength, destroy all hopes of restoring regularity.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help. This treatment will succeed with a child of any age with any adult.

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.

Like it? Might As Well Have you ever tried liking something which you particularly detest almost to the degree of violence? I don't mean things to eat, but those little occurrences and duties which impose upon our good natures an unpleasant effect. In school there are those preparations and study to be made just when something else has succeeded in claiming our interest enough to suspend our thoughts just half way between realization and unconsciousness, even though our interest absorber may be only the catalogue. Then how provoking it is to have someone tap you on the shoulder and say, "Don't forget your algebra, dear." And after you finally settle down to work, two hours and three minutes are consumed in the unusually long lesson. Then would it not rumple your feathers a little the wrong way to have your teacher the following morning reprimand you, however gently, for doing the wrong exercise or for using an old complex method of solution? Grinning and being pleased isn't so easy.

You pick up a lively, interesting story or novel to read and the English teacher hands you a dull classic! Then say, "I don't mind. Really I rather like it! What a falsehood! Life could be so pleasant if you didn't rob yourself of three-fourths of the time, which could be so enjoyably spent, to while away dully in school. There are always interesting things to do at home. When aunt and uncle from Louisiana come, everybody at home can take a holiday, but school always interferes. And can we like that?

Every day during practice you play you level best with the team, and when finally the time arrives for the selection of the team you have to suffer the humiliation of being only substitute! Then, I ask you is it possible to keep your chin up and like it all?

Yes. The happiest person in life is the one who is willing to be guided by rightful authorities, and who, after doing the best he can, accepts the outcome with a cheerful attitude.

In school and out there will always be those things which turn up our noses, put a frown on our brow, and while we are unaware steal some of life's pleasure. Even though we may never really like many things that come our way we can accept them as necessary parts of our existence, and mentally disguise them into forms of pleasure.

other. It took ten days to dig a hole for their largest airplane for at the conclusion of each day's work a blizzard would sweep down and cover it up. Four months out of the year is darkness. The group saw the sun for 15 seconds on April 19 and did not get another glimpse of it until August 15 when it appeared again for another 15 seconds.

All of the men were required to work 8 hours a day and any time thereafter was their own. They had a 3000 book library radio communications, and 40 moving pictures. Hill claims he saw "Forty-Second Street" seven times. If one did not have a working knowledge of the radio, tractors, or airplanes, they were enrolled in classes dealing with these subjects.

While at the base Byrd kept in daily contact with Little America by radio, and when they failed to hear from him for two weeks a group attempted to reach him by tractor but lost trail 93 miles out. It took them ten days to return and three other attempts were made before he was reached. "Byrd's hair, which was doubly grey, was down to his shoulders when found in a weakened condition by the group," the lecturer remarked.

The expedition did not receive any mail from home for 14 months and each one was given at least a third of a sack at the end of that time by one of the incoming ships. Hill showed hundreds of slides of the South Pole which were interesting to the spell-bound audience. In giving you some idea of the prodigious ice bergs he showed a picture of one that was 200 miles long and 20 miles wide.

The South Pole adventurer performed like a veteran in presenting his descriptions of the fascinating Antarctic and was thoroughly enjoyed by a good crowd. The lecture Monday night was his 61st since returning last May.

Z T Riley was in Lubbock Friday and Saturday to see his son J L, who was injured in an automobile accident Sunday, Oct. 6. J L returned home for the weekend and returned Sunday night to resume his work as a filling station attendant. He was dismissed from the Lubbock Sanitarium after the accident. American OIL BURNING HEATER

It is a beauty to look at... and it is a dandy for heating. Built like a furnace with giant heating surfaces. Burns low priced distillate or fuel oil and will give you care-free healthful heat. The American Oil Burning Heater requires practically no attention except to fill the fuel tank once a day, and it also saves you from the dirt and drudgery that comes from using wood or coal as fuel. Styled by Walter Darwin Teague, America's foremost industrial designer, this heater will prove a source of pride in your home no matter how fine its other furnishings. Don't fail to see it. It's the heater you have been looking for. We have a size and type to suit your needs and a price that is right.
