Neutrality Repeal Is Urged

The U. S. today pushed twin drives aimed at taking the profit out of war and repealing the Neutrality Act, while huge Russian and Axis forces swayed in indecisive combat around Leningrad and Odessa.

Neither Reds or Nazis reported on the central front or on operations east from Kiev and in front of Kharkov and the Donets Basin. Reds yesterday claimed progress with their central front counter-attack aimed at clipping the arms of the German pincers east from Kiev. Marshal Budyenny yesterday reported erection of a new Soviet defense line in front of Kharkov and the Donets area.

There are continuing evidences of a serious German labor shortage. Observers now believe that Germany is pressuring Bulgaria for labor rather than for active participation in the war. They say Hitler's labor problem has been acute for a year, and that he now has 1,500,000 aliens at work. He needs more to replace vital munitions and agricultural workers sent to the Russian front.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau revealed today that his aides are drafting legislation to limit corporation profits to six per cent for the duration of the emergency. He recommended this step yesterday before a House committee holding hearings on a proposed price-fixing statute.

The New York Stock market reacted strongly to Morgenthau's disclosure. It had run up in the first hour but in the second and third hours dropped sharply. At the end of the third hour industrialials in the Dow-Jones list were off $1.24; rails were down 48 cents; utilities off 19. Fourth hour volume was 340,000.

New York cotton was 2 to 13 points lower. Grains led by soy beans, which made a 2 to 3 cent advance, were all higher.

Senator Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee today introduced a bill to repeal the Neutrality Act. He said it was a mistake and merely muddled further a condition that was already bad. He said it also was in direct conflict with the traditional U. S. policy of freedom of the seas.

If the law is repealed U. S. merchantmen can be armed and U. S. ships can go to any port. They are now barred from combat zones designated by the President. Several GOP Senators indicated their ranks would support repeal. They blamed enactment of the act on the Administration.

Oil Coordinator Ickes said a 100 octane aviation gasoline shortage is imminent. He said he and Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones are working on a $150,000,000 plan to boost output of this gas from 40,000 to 120,000 barrels daily.

Unrest, sabotage and guerrilla warfare raged today through Nazi conquered lands. Twelve thousand rebellious Serbs, it was revealed, have fought a pitched battle with pro-Nazi Serbs, German regulars.

Panhandle Moves Back To Normalcy

Rock Island main line schedules will be restored through Dalhart tonight, officials said at noon. The Beaver river bridge, east of Guymon, that went out early Tuesday, is expected to be in place this afternoon.

The Dalhart and Herington pile drivers, working there, will immediately be sent to Hardesty, Okla., where more than 20 panels of the Beaver bridge are washed out.

A third pile driver, ordered out of El Reno, will be at work tomorrow on the Canadian river bridge at Sanford, where four bents are gone.

Denver schedules were restored yesterday.

U. S. Highway 87 has been open since Tuesday. Water in Rita Blanca draw which has blocked U. S. Highway 54, a mile and a half west of Dalhart, since Sunday, dropped to about three feet at noon today and Texas highway department trucks started pulling cars across.

Secondary roads are drying fast. Streams and draws mostly have run down and travel can make its way around flood-wrecked bridges.

Soil Conservation Service workers, led by Jimmy Caserta, Amarillo, superintendent of the SCS lakes program in this five-state area, started today in real earnest on repairs to the big cement spillway at Rita Blanca dam three miles southeast of Dalhart.

The Rita Blanca, Sand Arroyo and Carrizo creeks, which join forces a short distance above the dam, rolled a 14-foot head of water into the lake Tuesday morning, and for the first time in history pushed the lake above spillway level. At one time water was four feet deep in the overflow, though the emergency spillway was never called into use.

However, the churning waters had torn out, up to last night, 45,000 square feet of floor in the cement spillway, and ripped down about 200 feet of 12-foot wing wall.

Caserta, who took charge yesterday, said there is absolutely no danger to the dam yet. But another big headrise would menace it so he will block the 225-foot mouth of the cement spillway to a depth of five feet with 2600 sandbags, backed by whaling board.

Because of the banner row crop harvest in which a shortage of 300 men already exists, Caserta was unable to get men so 25 CCC boys were ordered in from Perryton to be added to 15 SCS workers. The CCC boys arrived at noon today and set up barracks in the bathhouse at the lake.

This crew will also make a cut 7 feet wide and 11 feet deep in the emergency spillway so that in event of another rise it will take all the load off the cement overflow. Estimates last night were that this emergency work would take 10 days. No one knows how long it will be before the miniature lake in the spillway break can be drained or will dry up to permit repairs to start.

In an effort to halt the spillway flow as soon as possible, the big flood gate 12 feet below the bottom of the huge earth-filled dam was half opened at noon yesterday and probably will be closed late today as the spillway flow was down to a trickle at noon. The half-opened flood gate has a flow of 800 second feet.

Aviation Investment Discussed By Babson

By ROGER BABSON

LA GUARDIA FIELD, NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Readers ask me, "Why do not the stocks of the airplane companies, which have such tremendous backlogs of unfilled profitable orders, sell at higher prices?" Well, if you would like my frank answer and will not hold me or this newspaper responsible, here it is:

Tremendous Expansion

Closely approaching the fabled reproductive capacity of the housefly, production of United States aircraft has zoomed skyward in recent months. From a dollar value below fifty million annually six years ago, it is estimated that 1941 aircraft production will set a high mark not far from two billion dollars.

It is only natural that such growth has attracted a flock of admirers from the investment public. There has been so much talk about the expanding market for these war birds that investors and speculators, who do not know a prop from a tail fin, are buying these aviation securities.

Permanent or Temporary?

Public interest is directed especially toward the manufacturing end of the aviation industry. The big figures refer to the production of airplanes and engines. These, of course, are the things which go to build a military battle force. They are the immediate and visible results of a war of movement.

Those who are rushing to buy the securities of airplane manufacturing companies should focus their minds on the important fact that these companies are experiencing a temporary spree. The TEMPORARY nature of this spree should not be overestimated by anyone who takes his investment problems seriously.

When Will the War End?

It is true that production of aircraft and engines will probably not reach a peak until July, 1942 or early 1943. It is true that these companies are priority-proof and the Government is giving them every consideration, including great depreciation allowances. Every effort will be made by the Government to quickly settle their labor disputes. Yet, all these favorable factors cannot black out the TEMPORARY nature of the aviation boom.

In any consideration of the future, we should assume certain things: (1) War is not the ordinary pursuit of man. The present war may come to an end sooner than most people think—possibly in the winter of 1942-43. (2) We must be so bold as to assume that England and her allies will win the war. (3) A large airforce will be maintained after the war in order to assure a keeping of the peace; but it will be much smaller than that which is currently being amassed.

Earnings in 1944?

Therefore, I say, "Watch out for a topping off of earnings of manufacturing companies during the year 1942." I do not deny that they are in the clover now, but where will they be AFTER the war? At the best, there will be a period of readjustment after the armistice. At the worst, many reorganizations and consolidations will be necessary in order to adjust production to a new peacetime basis. Thus, although a company may earn $5 this year and $7 next year, what will this company be worth if it is able to earn only $1 in 1944?

This leads to the conclusion that investing in the manufacturing companies can be, at best, only a temporary speculation. It is true that much money may be made in these stocks over the next few months, but such profits as accrue to the investor will be the reward for nimbleness rather than for clear-thinking.

More Railroad Men Offering Farm Aid

An increasing number of Rock Island and Denver railroad men, working nights, have offered to get up a few hours early and help farmers whose places can be reached quickly.

Farmers who have used these men report splendid success. Farmers who want them are asked to contact the chamber of commerce which is in touch with the railroads.

The chamber reported this morning that a farmer in the shallow water area, near Texline, wants 14 to 16 white ensilage workers immediately. The chamber has details.

Stevenson Coming To Texas Plains

Gov. Coke Stevenson made plans in Austin today for a busy weekend in the Panhandle.

He will speak at Pampa Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon at 5:00 business and industrial leaders of Hutchinson, Gray and Carson counties are giving a barbecue at Borger for Stevenson and David M. Warren, Borger, president of the Texas Press Association. It will be on the Huber golf course and several Dalhartans will attend.

Gov. Stevenson will be in Amarillo Sunday and that afternoon will address a labor meeting. He will be on hand for opening of the week-long Tri-State Fair in Amarillo Monday morning. That afternoon between 4 and 6 he will be honor guest at a barbecue on the Jack Hall ranch.

Green Is Charged With Car Theft

Framp Green of Dalhart was arrested yesterday at Olney, Texas, on a charge of car theft in Dallam county, Sheriff H. D. Foust said today.

Green is accused of taking a 1939 Hudson coupe belonging to Harvey Hibler of Hartley from the street in front of a Dalhart cafe Tuesday night, it was reported.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Randolph left last night to return Green to Dalhart.

Chevrolet On Display Friday

The 1942 Chevrolet will be shown for the first time tomorrow at Edwards Chevrolet Co., where the public is invited to inspect it.

President McCormick Says:

Plowshares ARE Swords!

Modern war is a battle for materials. To check the life-giving flow of materials, British warships ring the European continent while German bombers and submarines encircle Britain.

Beyond comparison, the most vital of materials is food. Unlike steel or copper, aluminum or rubber, food has no substitutes. We have it or we do not have it. With it, all things are possible. Without it, tanks and planes can give no security. If the defense of America is to be certain, food for 130,000,000 Americans, and those who stand with us, must come regularly to market.

Today, as always, the production of that food is the task of American farmers. Today, more than ever, American farmers are relying on the farm equipment industry to provide them with the mechanized tools of agriculture. For, while the need for farm products rises, the supply of farm labor constantly dwindles as men are diverted to the Armed Services and the factories.

This Company and the industry of which it is a part have the factories, the trained employes, the engineering skill, and the distributing organizations to get these vital tools to the farmers of America where they need them and when they need them—subject only to the allocation of materials.

Swords are beaten into plowshares when peace follows war. Today, throughout the world, plowshares are beaten into swords. . . . In America, greatest food-producing country in the world, it is well to consider that PLOWSHARES ARE SWORDS!

Yep, Buddy, Truth Is Really Strange

Yep, buddy, here's the proof that truth is indeed stranger than fiction.

For years the pulp magazines have been inventing all kinds of plots for bringing a boy named Jones and a girl named Smith together so that they could satisfactorily work out some kind of a problem and foil the villain.

This mid-week Principal Eddie Jones of the Kella Hill school late in the afternoon found a blonde, 5-year-old tot crying broken-heartedly in front of the Queen building on Third St.

The villain in this case was the fact that the little girl, who said her name was Jackie, was lost. She and Jones set out to foil him.

"What's your daddy's name?" Jones asked. "Smith," she said. "I know," he answered, "but is it Joe, Jack, Jim, John—?"

It was John, she said. The girl, assured that Jones would find her mother and fortified with a confection, stopped crying and the hunt started. Jones drove around over town, but the streets looked pretty much the same to Jackie.

Finally Jones asked her about the picture show. Yes, she had been there, that afternoon. So Jones inquired there. Soon thereafter a frantic mother—Mrs. John Smith—also inquired there. So soon a happy little girl was back in her

She appreciates the courtesy but there's the reason; "62, please" can be easily mistaken for "623".

SOME PEOPLE NEVER LEARN... but most of them do!

There are always a few "smart alecks" who want to stand up and rock the boat. But most people try to keep out of trouble.

The same sort of thing happens in the retailing of beer. The great majority of beer retail establishments are clean, law-abiding and wholesome. But occasionally you may find a "smart aleck" retailer who violates the law or permits anti-social conditions.

We of the brewing industry want these anti-social retailers wiped out! Because they imperil your right to drink good beer...and our right to make it.

We want to protect the benefits that beer has brought to Texas—employment for 31,165 persons since relegalization, an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and taxes of $2,273,968.64 paid to the state last year.

This state, too, has an important stake in Beer's purchases from over 100 industries supplying the brewing industry with materials, equipment and services.

You can help us in our public-spirited program by (1) patronizing only reputable and legal beer establishments and (2) by reporting any irregularities you may see to the proper authorities.

DON'T BELIEVE ALL YOU HEAR

These are the times when business men must listen to amateurish lectures on their duty to the nation. Every strap hanger strategist and tabloid economist can tell the world just where the real "bottlenecks" are.

"Now, there's the car shortage that's tying up transportation"—that's a line as familiar to Main Street as Broadway. "Why didn't the railroads get ready for this situation? Anybody with eyes to see might have known it was coming." How godlike, how splendidly perfect hindsight can be!

An incident related in Nation's Business helps to assay the proportion of dross in this "beef" against the railroads. A Washington newspaper man went to the Association of American Railroads to inquire about a "car shortage," which was preventing the United States from shipping millions of cans of tomatoes to Britain. He had the story from someone in the O. P. M., he said, and before printing it he wanted to check its accuracy.

The railroad people hadn't heard anything about such a "shortage," but together with the reporter they phoned the government agency which was supposed to have lots of tomatoes and no cars.

"No cars!" the responsible official snorted. "Got all the cars we need, and more, if we have to have them. What we haven't got is the tomatoes."

SEE WITH YOUR EXPERIENCE

A NATURALIST in Bryce Canyon, Utah, gave some sage advice to those who are out to see things. "See with your experience, not just with your eyes," he said. "If you just see with your eyes you may come home and remember that you've seen some trees, some rocks, a bear, and a squirrel, but what you've seen will have little significance."

How many different kinds of trees can you identify? How many different colors can you see in the rocks and what creates the colors? What is the history of the section? What are the names of the wild flowers? Reading up on the section you are traveling through adds interest to the trip. Keeping a little notebook enables you to relive your trip when you return.

The old rancher saw with his experience when he looked down into Bryce Canyon with its maze of buttes and towering rocks and exclaimed: "What a hell of a place to lose a cow."

And the poet standing in the same spot saw with his experience and imagination when he said: "Surely, this is God's Rock Garden!"

Those who look, and think and meditate, see much more than those who just look.—The Silver Lining.

MERRY-GO-ROUND—

vice president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Company, and he brought in another ex-vice president of Bethlehem, E. B. Germain, now head of the Dunlop Tire and Rubber Company.

Meanwhile Commander Bryan, the man who had originated this submarine-proof ship, suddenly found himself euchred out of the Navy. First he was retired, and then detailed to the office of the Secretary of the Navy, where he could help with the plans of his mystery ship. This meant that the Navy could get his services at retired pay instead of full pay.

Since then, Commander Bryan, though almost ignored by Navy brasshats, has been working faithfully at Orange, Texas, to construct the first trans-Atlantic scow. At one time, just as the vessel was about to be launched, he and Burgess were even told to stay away from the shipyard.

NO THANKS TO INVENTORS

Shortly after the vessel was launched, the Navy issued a very heavily larded press release, part of which read: "The ship was conceived by DARING MINDS and was carried to completion with the active, insistent help of President Roosevelt."

This veiled and highly remote reference was the only piece of Naval credit given to Bryan and Burgess. Not only were they excluded from the Navy's publicity, but the Navy set up its own corporation, with money advanced by the RFC, to take over their invention. The corporation includes: E. B. Germain, as president and general manager; J. W. Powell, assistant to Knox; and Admiral Emory Land of the Maritime Commission, who had vigorously opposed the boat.

Thus those who opposed, rather than the inventors who fought to get the "Sea Otter" constructed, will be in charge of constructing this vital bridge across the Atlantic.

ROOSEVELT AT PRESS CONFERENCE

Washington newsmen, after seeing Roosevelt twice a week for eight years, have only dull impressions when they walk into a press conference. A fresh impression comes from Jack Moffitt, ace Hollywood reporter, who saw the President the other day for the first time.

"There was charm in the meeting," Moffitt said. "The momentoes on his desk indicate a man of imagination who can extract pleasant memories from past experiences. . . . He costumes well. Hoover's choker collar became a symbol of Tory America. Coolidge dressed like a small town banker. Roosevelt avoids the foppish, but hits a certain suburban ease in his dress which sells quickly to the public."

"He was impressive in handling himself. There was ease and frankness, and a quickness in response to questions. He was at all times master of the interview."

"I was struck by his paleness and the lines in his face, contradicting the smirk I've seen in a thousand cartoons. If I were a casting director, looking for an actor for this part, I'd cast him as a man who is working hard under great strain."

UNDER WAR SECRETARY

Newsmen sat three deep around a long polished table in the new War Department building. They fired questions at the man with a sun-tanned face sitting at the head of the table. He was the Under Secretary of War.

What's the T-6 tank like? . . . Are M-3 tanks available for the maneuvers? . . . Did the French find the 75 mm. tank gun effective? . . . What is the altitude range of the 90 mm. anti-aircraft gun? . . . Is the Army in Iceland? . . . What do you think about the Russian resistance?

He ducked the last two questions, but answered all the technical questions with the assurance of a soldier trained all his life in ordnance.

But he isn't a life-long soldier. He is a lawyer, an ex-circuit court judge, who scarcely a year ago was concerned with such non-military subjects as the reorganization of the New York subway.

This was a press conference with the Under Secretary of War, Robert P. Patterson. A judge in 1940, he is a soldier in 1941, with a complete grasp of the technical information of his job.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The President is wearing a black four-in-hand tie these days, as well as the black armband. . . . Latest addition to Roosevelt's trinket-laden desk is a white porcelain figure of Churchill with a cigar in his mouth. . . . With instructions about the aluminum campaign, a letter went out from the OPM over the signature of Thornton R. Smith, which referred to "The Conservation Department of the OPM." . . . The priority jam in OPM has led distressed businessmen to call the office "Oh

Maybe the grasshoppers have been reading The Texan about the need for harvest hands here. A few million of them would go a long way toward harvesting our feed crop.

But Dr. E. U. Johnston says there's not enough hoppers in the world to gather one field of Dallam County maize.

S'funny how Europe had to kill some two million men before Americans learned the pledge of allegiance.

Since writing that column about my birthday I've been surprised to learn how many folks drink a glass of warm water before breakfast.

Herbert Spencer said, "We do not

STAND-IN SIDNEY WEINBERG

Thirty-four years ago, Sidney Weinberg quit a $2,50-a-week job as janitor's assistant to work as a stand-in, in the lines before one of the New York banks. It was the panic of '07, and depositors were paying as high as $10 for a place well up in the line, near the teller's cage. Young Sidney used to get up early to snag a good spot.

Today, Sidney Weinberg, nobody's stand-in, holds down the important Washington job of Chief of the OPM Industry Committee, Wall Street knows him still better, where he is a board member of so many big corporations that he can't recite them all himself.

Chiefly he is senior partner and director of Goldman Sachs & Co.; but there was nothing "senior" about his first job with that company. He was assistant to the negro porter, and his work was to shine the directors' high silk hats before they left, the directors' cuspidors after they left.

Goldman Sachs does the money business for Sears Roebuck, and ten years ago Weinberg, of Goldman Sachs, got to know Donald Nelson of Sears. They became close friends, and they are still close, both working in top jobs in OPM.

In 1932, after helping to elect Roosevelt, Weinberg was offered the ambassadorship to Russia, but didn't take it. He remains a strong Roosevelt man, but also a champion of the capitalist system, which allowed him, the son of Pinus and Sophie Weinberg, to come far after starting in life selling newspapers at the entrance to the Brooklyn ferry.

stop playing because we grow We grow old because we playing."

By that slogan I'm still a child.

I've got the doggonest thing on my desk today that I ever saw. B. McNickle, who raised it, says a pear but I never in all my life saw a pear that would weigh TWO POUNDS, and this weighs exactly one and three quarters pound. Worse than Mr. McNickle says he did have a few big ones on his trees but the boys beat him to them.

Along with my advanced age comes a deeper appreciation of my ty girls. No interruption is so nice as to have one of them come into the office, greet me with a smile, sit down on my lap, throw her arms around my neck, etc. Maybe I am pretty old, but not past the age to enjoy pleasures.

One of my best girl friends to come in more often than any other. Think maybe she has become interested in someone else, because she had a swell time before so much competition. One day she slipped out of the office and out on the post office lawn where we had more room but we don't have much privacy so we've had to confine our courting to the office.

Here's a picture of my friend. She's probably not as cute as some of the girls that mother when I'm around. She's smiling and comes right up to my desk, passing up such young ideas as Albert Law and Admiral and Bill Autry. Gary and (former Neil Williams) live with and for her. Pretty isn't she?

You ladies who wish to see Jordan Comes to Town" free day at the Mission just remember to come to the Texan office at one o'clock. The first ten ladies here who agree to act as chaperones in this much discussed picture will be given free passes.

Along with some twenty or thirty people yesterday morning saw a preview of Clark Gable's "Honky-Tonk", a picture that the maker is figuring on bringing to the screen. If he does you'll enjoy it. Different from most all Gable pictures, has lots of action in it in addition to his usual love scenes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Jones and children were visitors here yesterday. The family has recently returned to Amarillo to live for several months stay in Christ.

AVIATION—

What Air Stocks to Buy?

There is, however, a group in the aviation field which may well benefit from the plight that the manufacturing companies will find themselves in after the war is over. I refer to the air-transportation companies.

A great part of the technical advance made during the war-time will accrue indirectly to the benefit of the air transportation companies after the war. Manufacturers with dwindling contracts on their hands will be forced to seek business on a profitless basis in order to keep the plant operating.

Some day the Government will offer the very best of transportation planes to the airlines at sharp price reductions. I further predict that the post-war transport planes will be as different from those in use today as the present streamline coach differs from the Stevens "Rocket." Besides, these companies, after the war, will get most of the first-class mail and much express business.

Final Advice

Another reason why I like the commercial air transportation companies is because the smallest investor can buy a stake in the entire industry. Although you must invest in over 500 railroads to get a proper share in 95 per cent of the railroad business, you need invest in only six air transportation companies—properly diversified—to have an ownership in 95 per cent of the air transport industry. These companies are: American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines, Transcontinental & Western Air, United Air Lines, Pan American Airways, and Pennsylvania-Central Airlines.

Therefore, I say to those who are willing to look beyond tomorrow to the day after tomorrow: "Hold a diversified group of the best air lines in the country. Leave the manufacturing companies to the nimble speculator. Have not more than 10 per cent of your savings in any one industry."

Cows on Marijuana Spree

York, Neb. (UP)—Farmers in this vicinity were puzzled when their cattle began to stagger. The animals apparently were without sense of sight or balance. A veterinarian cleared the mystery with the explanation that the cattle had eaten marijuana weeds in the fields.

Wolves Polish Attack to Humble Tucumcari

Dalhart Wolves yesterday evening perfected their plan of attack for the game at Tucumcari tomorrow night at 9:00 (Dalhart Wolves have changed their tactics considerably from those used in the 26-0 curtain-raiser win over Stinnett here last Friday night, because Coach Jimmy Stinnett and two of his Tucumcari players scouted that game. Tucumcari is playing its assertive line over Dalhart for all it's worth, but it is apparent that either Rudd or the Rattlers are depending on the hex to win for Rudd left the Dalhart coaching post in 1935 and took the job at Tucumcari he and his club won all the annual games but for a 33-0 shellacking the team handed them at Tucumcari last year. The game tomorrow night will be the first battle in Tucumcari since that time. Last year's game was played here, Dalhart lost 27-0. The Rattlers opened their season two weeks ago with a 14-0 loss to Fort Sumner at Fort Sumner. Since they've been working on offenses that showed up in that game and have been doing general ground polishing. They didn't play last weekend.

The Wolves will go through a workout this afternoon and probably leave about noon tomorrow for Tucumcari. They will leave via U. S. Highway 54, direct to Tucumcari is still muddy, forcing them to go around by Amarillo. Captain Gallett, two-year letterman and halfback, got a right knee injury in practice Tuesday, but it is not severe and he is among the starters tomorrow night. Payne, a rookie end, won his spurs in the Stinnett game last Friday, got a left knee injury in the game but is improving and will be in the lineup against Tucumcari. Coach E. A. Stinnett said.

The lettermen likely to start tomorrow night are Martin and Mason, backs; Bearden, Jen-Proffit and French in the keyser, back, and Ogle, a fullback, are squaddies, while Ken-Ed is a lineman, is the other rookie.

ante a train for the purpose, all hopes for a special train to Tucumcari Friday night for the annual Dalhart-Tucumcari football game were gone today. Agent R. M. Thompson advised that under present conditions it was not possible to guarantee that the train could be run even though sufficient tickets were sold in advance.

Considerable interest on the part of students and fans was shown in the possibility of a train but a sponsoring organization was lacking. A large number of fans expect to follow the team to Tucumcari provided road conditions permit.

Dalhart Boy Will Be Among Starters In College Battle

E. J. (Cotton) Young, son of Mrs. Eva Young, Dalhart, will be among the starters tomorrow when New Mexico State College at Silver City meets the Las Cruces gridders at Las Cruces it was learned today.

He is a junior at Silver City and plays tackle. His mother said he was a little puny, his weight being down to 238.

BARRED (7) SEVENS

SYNOPSIS

On his way to Haverstraw to visit his fiancée, Jane Rider, David Farland prevents a young woman from jumping off a ferry. She entrusts him with an envelope, requesting that he deliver it to the socially prominent Richard Garrison, if she doesn't call for it in a week. The girl's eyes dilate with fear as she sees a certain couple watching them. "I knew he wouldn't play fair!" she exclaims and rushes off, dropping a compact initialed "C.B." and a pamphlet reading "Americans Warning!" On the train, David discovers the envelope is gone! At Haverstraw, he again sees the mysterious woman. Jane and he follow her taxi but it disappears. Stopping at a gas station, they meet Mat Breanu, wealthy Broadwayite, and his friend, Fan Rubley. David drops the compact. Mat Breanu recognizes it. When David refuses to reveal where he got it, Mat tells him to "Give me or Garrison a ring Monday!" What did Breanu know about the whole affair? Shortly after, in a railway station store, David and Jane encounter the couple who had frightened the girl on the boat. A fight ensues but the couple escape. Returning home, David and Jane are met by Mrs. Rider and Kurt Helm, a writer, who lives in a nearby cabin. Kurt is infatuated with Jane and has threatened to win her from David. As the latter goes to take his baggage from the rumble seat, he pulls back in horror. Stuffed into it is the body of the girl David met on the ferry. Breanu drives up with Fan and Dick Garrison, his lawyer, and identifies the body as that of his wife, Carlie. When state troopers arrive, Kurt has disappeared. Later, he warns Jane against David talking too much about Carlie's murder or the propaganda pamphlet. Next morning, Breanu's thoughts go to the quarrel which had broken up his marriage. He had been jealous of a tall, blond man who appeared most attentive to Carlie at a dance. Mat had remonstrated with his wife and she left him. Breanu only vaguely remembered the man, as a reputed "patrioteer". Fan hysterically bursts into Mat's apartment claiming a blond man had deliberately tried to have her run over. At the Rider home, they are being hounded by curiosity seekers. As Dave and Jane are breakfasting, a dapper young man dashes into the kitchen, Ed Blagden, the trooper, at his heels.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

"D'you know this guy?" Ed grunted, towering above the stranger. "He jumps out of his car—says he's an old friend of the family, and hot-foots it in here."
 "A distant cousin," the young man brightly remarked. He held his brown felt disarmingly in his left hand, his right straying across his belt to the felt brim.
 Mrs. Rider set David's scrambled eggs on the table, and turned. "You're mistaken—"
 "No you don't, mister!" The tall trooper swooped upon the hat. A candid camera plopped from under the crown to the floor. He rammed the small "snapper" in his pocket. "Want me to throw him out, Mrs. Rider?"
 "Have a heart!" the young man begged. "All right, I'm not your cousin. I'm a special writer, a free lance. No harm meant." His beguiling glance went to Jane. "I thought a write-up on the family and romance end might help—understand? You're Farland, aren't you?" He addressed himself to David. "Miss Rider's fiancé? They didn't do you credit in the tabloids."
 Mrs. Rider came forward quietly. "I'm sorry, Mr.—"
 "Bill Wright," the young man answered.
 "I'm sorry, Mr. Wright," Jane's mother said quietly. "We're not that kind of people. All this publicity is most distressing. Our home is free only to our friends. Would you mind—" Bill Wright knew when he was beaten. "Okay, Mrs. Rider, I'm sorry." He laid his card on the table. "If ever you need a friend—"

 David followed him out of the kitchen, as Wright noped he would. They walked together across the lawn. David said in his impulsive way, "I've always thought you special writers were good pals to have in a case like this. I work at Sagan's—you know the big sports shop on Madison. If I can be of any assistance, believe me I'm as keen to solve this mystery as you are."
 Wright climbed in his car, his gaze shrewdly turned on David's frank blue eyes. "Thanks, Mr. Farland," he said. "I'll look you up."
 David flushed. "That'll be fine."
 "By the way," Wright remarked casually, "Who's the chap living over there?" This was one of the questions he had come to ask. He months ago. Cut up now an' daid! Fan splashed brandy into a wine-glass and drank thirstily. What an escape she'd had!

 It all fitted: the well-groomed blond man strolling after her in the Park at a discreet distance so that she couldn't see his face; his peculiar whistle like a signal when she glanced back at him before crossing Fifth. Then, as in response, the car had borne suddenly down upon her. Leaping aside, she caught only a brief glimpse of a crouched figure at the wheel. There was something familiar about the driver's shoulders. She had seen him before.
 Her mind skipped back to the old farmhouse in the glare of tragedy last night. Jane and her redheaded boy friend probably didn't even know what they were up against. Even after the inquest tomorrow, they'd never be quite rid of the Carlie Breanu case.

 The world was cruel, once you got tangled in any mess, however innocent you were, Fan thought cynically. Your private life was plastered on billboards for all to see. Though the picture faded, some smart guy would come along every ten years or so, and slap a bright new story over the old one.
 Would they ever discover who killed Carlie? Ever discover the missing knife?
 Her teeth plucked at her under lip. That Farland kid was a live wire, at least he was stalwart and handsome. She could fall for him hard.
 It was like Carlie, even in death, to implicate others in her complicated affairs. Fan's eyes filled with tears of self-pity.
 She had been so proud when Carlie Swift, a social headliner, rebel deb, had singled her out one day three years ago, while they waited on a bench outside a theatrical manager's office. Lovely, selfish Carlie, suggesting that they share an apartment together. So she, Fan Rubley (few indeed knew her as Fenia Rubinoff), came to room with a girl who soon showed that she was afraid, terribly afraid of something—someone. Fan found that out the first week. Queer things happened. The queerest of all was Carlie's eloping with Breanu. Oh, Carlie managed that all right; under Fan's nose.
 "She used me," Fan mumbled bitterly, tilting the bottle toward the glass. She swallowed the last drop.

By Maryze Rutledge Fans Divided On Tucumcari Battle

First guesses in The Texan's annual football contest started coming in Wednesday and by Thursday noon most of those who have participated in these contests for the past several years had already selected ten teams for winners out of the list of fifteen games that appeared in The Texan Tuesday. Those who expect to be in the race for the grand prize of $25 for the season's best average reminded that they do not receive scores of any kind if they miss week. Sometimes one week's entry may be made up by exceptionally high averages for the remainder of the season, but this seldom occurs.

 A quick check of guesses that have already come in shows that fans are about equally divided their guess as to the outcome of Dalhart-Tucumcari game.

The Game Is A Matter Of Coach

win or lose, take it and like the advise being given the Wolves. Coach E. A. Kimmins members of the Lions club in a program presented by Homer Jones and Henry Kimmins spoke briefly on the present football team and its prospects for the season. This year's squad is both on reserves and equipment lent out by the new coach. He predicted the outcome of the season, particularly the Tucumcari game, but said he had a group of boys who were playing the game and will do well. Moore played two piano pieces that were well received. Ben Richards called on the members to the Lions Club magazine, the publication received by the members. The carnival committee was announced as composed of Dr. Victor P. J. Tuggle, Herman S. E. Brown.

Ranch Needs Ball Material

for help in securing material for their football team from Boys Ranch at Tascosa. At the suggestion of members of The Texan, Athletic Director Clarence Perry, Jr. requested for equipment. The boys are in need of all athletic equipment, especially shoes. The coach stated, "The boys are busy every afternoon with enthusiastic workouts looking forward to their game of the season which will be played at Boys Ranch on Oct. 3." The boys will return to the game and have two dates scheduled with the Kella but dates have not yet remained. People who desire to help equipment for the boys are either bring such equipment they desire to contribute to The Texan or take them direct to Boys Ranch.

Big Tax Savings Are Now Possible

If a property owner has taxes that were delinquent on or before July 1, 1940, he can save up to 44 per cent of interest and penalties by paying them before November 1, 1941, H. D. Foust, Dallam county sheriff, tax assessor and collector, reminded today.

The legislature last mid-summer passed a law releasing all interest and penalties on state and county ad valorem taxes, on both real and personal property, delinquent for the year 1939 and prior, provided such taxes are paid before Nov. 1, 1941.

If the taxes are not paid by November 1 the usual penalties and interest will apply. These amount to 44 per cent on taxes delinquent for 1934 and prior years; 38 per cent for 1935 delinquencies; 32 per cent for 1932; 26 per cent for 1937; 20 per cent for 1938 and 16 per cent for 1939.

Foust, in a circular letter to all delinquent taxpayers, is reminding them that "our commissioners court is demanding that I collect this tax or cause suit to be filed after November 1."

His office also reminded this morning that the remission law does not affect 1940 taxes which are now delinquent and which already carry 12 per cent in penalties and interest.

The office explained that an 8 per cent penalty is added as soon as a delinquency occurs; and that interest then starts at the rate of 6 per cent per year.

Taxes, the office said, become delinquent at midnight each January 31 unless a half payment has been made prior to November 1. In that case the taxpayer has until the following June 30 to pay the second half.

Christian Church To Have Revival

Kella Hill Coyotes To Meet Dumas Here Tonite

The Kella Hill junior high school Coyotes will blast open the six-man football season in Dalhart tonight at 8:00 when they entertain the Dumas junior high gladiators.

The game will be under the lights on the turf field in Rita Blanca stadium.

The Coyote starting line-up, announced this morning, averages 100 1-3 pounds. Coach Elmer Kuper said, "I don't have any dope on the Dumas club," he said, "but we understand they will be heavier than the Coyotes."

Three of the starters tonight will be two year lettermen, the others rookies. The lettermen, their positions and weights are: Captain Albert Christian, qb, 106; J. A. Ring, c, 90; H. C. Donahoo, hb, 85. Rookies: L. B. Romero, le, 115; Junior Romero, re, 103; Julio Mirales, fb, 103.

Eddie Jones, Kella Hill principal, inaugurated six-man football in Dalhart two years ago. eH had two very successful seasons. His club last year won 50 per cent of its games, and at that time the Dalhart chools had the 11-grade system so that Jones had to take players from the seventh grade down. This year the club has eighth grade players, Dalhart having gone to the 12-grade system. Jones this year is club business manager.

Kuper, brother of Carl Kuper, widely known wheat farmer of near Dalhart two years ago. He had two perience. He developed conference winning basketball and grid clubs at Hollister and Loveland, Okla. before taking over the Kella Hill coaching job this fall.

Coach E. A. Kimmins of the Dalhart Wolves will referee tonight. Bill Bearden, Wolf center, will be head linesman, Kuper said.

New Chevrolets Will Be Offered Public Tomorrow

The new 1942 Chevrolet will be placed on display tomorrow at the Edwards Chevrolet Co. According to Edwards engineers, it will be presented in three lines ranging from an economy model that incorporates unusual refinements to a luxury line surpassing all previous presentations.

Chevrolet is to be presented in the Master DeLuxe and Special DeLuxe series. The Fleetline series will again be represented by a sedan and also the new Fleetline six-passenger Aerosedan.

Wheelbase on all models will remain at 116-inches with the overall length at 195 7-8 inches. The grille is lower, wider and more massive. It also will feature a blunter, deeper hood, front splash shield and more widely spaced Sealed Beam headlights. The front fenders flow back into the doors, swinging with the door as they open.

Only minor refinements have been made in the engine. Axle ratios and tire sizes also remain unchanged. Among other features are: Stabilized front end mounting, hydraulic brakes, with new mechanically operated stop-light switch, vacuum-powered gear shift, new two-tone finish on steering wheel and new wheel disc.

Policeman Tells Of Relief Found In Modern Hoyt's

Officer Thomas of Amarillo Says Hoyt's Proved To Be Right Treatment for Indigestion, Sourness and Dizzy Spells.

"For a long time I had severe spells of indigestion," says Police Officer W. R. Thomas, of 2303

MR. W. R. THOMAS

West Second St., Amarillo, Texas. "After each meal, my food soured in my stomach, and there was a sour taste in my mouth. Gas caused terrible pressure around my heart. My stomach felt like there was a big, solid lump in it. I had frequent dizzy spells, and my knees, arms and shoulders pained me terribly.

"Immediately after I started Hoyt's Compound, I was feeling better. Now indigestion is gone. I eat as I want to. Hoyt's is a wonderful medicine, and the results it gave me are almost unbelievable. My kidneys are normal. I rest well. I feel like an entirely different person."

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Wolf Drug Store and by all leading druggists in this entire area.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NEUTRALITY—

Norway was tense on the first anniversary of the Nazi conquest.

More anti-Hitler Frenchmen were sent to prison. A Czech arms plant, assertedly the Skoda works, was dynamited. An arms plant at Bordeaux, France exploded. Italy belatedly announced that its Florence-Bologna line had been tied up by trouble.

The Leningrad battle is unabated. Reds claim successful counter attacks. Nazis say the city's defenses are gradually being shattered. Russians said they had hurled back Rumanian attackers at Odessa.

Miss Rosamond Jarvis, Clayton, was a visitor here this week.
