

Voters to rule in seven races Saturday

The voters will be the dealers Saturday, and the hottest games in the county will be the Dimmitt mayor's showdown and the three school district elections.

SEVEN BOARDS and commissions will be determined, with contested races for four of them.

Every qualified voter in the county will have the chance to ante-up in at least three races. On tap are elections for Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth school district trustees, county school board members, hospital district trustees, Hart mayor's and commissioners' posts, and the Dimmitt mayor's chair.

Most of the elections will involve back-to-back ballot boxes, with only four polling sites being used for the seven races.

Voting booths will be located in Dimmitt Junior High School, Dimmitt City Hall, Hart City Hall and Nazareth Community Building.

TO VOTE in the school district and hospital elections, you must be a registered voter and be listed on the appropriate tax roll. To vote in the Dimmitt and Hart city elections, you need only be a registered, resident voter.

All polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Here are the seven elections to be decided Saturday:

DIMMITT MAYOR
Food store manager Mackey Oldfield is attempting to unseat Mayor George Bradford, who has held the city's top post for eight years. (See related story, this page.) The winner will join Troy Kirby and Noel Gollehon on the three-man city commission.

Balloting will be at the city hall. To cast a ballot, a person must be a registered voter with at least six months' residency in the city.

DIMMITT SCHOOL BOARD
Six candidates have filed for two available posts on the Dimmitt School District's board of trustees.

Balloting will be in Dimmitt Junior High School, and the two winners will join John Merritt, Frank Wise, Melvin Barton, G. L. Willis and Clyde Damon on the board.

The terms of Board Chairman Ward Golden and Jack R. Miller have expired. Miller is seeking re-election, but Golden isn't.

CANDIDATES for the Dimmitt school posts are:

—Jack R. Miller, 38, who is seeking re-election. He's an attorney with children in all four of Dimmitt's schools. A Dimmitt native, he attended Abilene Christian College, holds a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from Texas Tech and a law degree from the University of Texas.

—Charles Nutt, 34, who has children attending both elementary schools and junior high. He's a farm operator and attended Texas Tech three years.

—Charles Wales, 35, who operates a farm in the Bethel community. He has two children in North Elementary School and one in South Elementary. A native of New Deal, he holds a bachelor of science degree from Texas Tech and a master of science degree from Michigan State University.

(For the candidates' views, see Page 12.)

HART CITY COMMISSION
Three candidates, including two incumbents, have filed for the three posts open on the Hart city commission.

Seeking re-election are Mayor E. E. Foster and Commissioner Buster Avon. Tom McLain is running for the commission post now held by John Holloway, who is not seeking re-election.

All the Hart city posts are for two-year terms.

Balloting will be in the Hart City Hall from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

HART SCHOOL BOARD
Six candidates have filed for four available posts on the Hart School Board.

They are Vernon Mapp, W. T. King, Deryl Clevenger, Bill Rich, Dwight Miller and Preston Upshaw. Mapp and King were appointed to the board of trustees earlier this year to fill out the terms of Dean Sanders and Bob Bennett, who resigned.

Balloting will be in the Hart City Hall.

NAZARETH SCHOOL BOARD
To fill three available places on the Nazareth School Board, voters will choose between six candidates Saturday.

The candidates are Robert Huseman (incumbent), Cyril Brockman, Hubert Backus, Luke Acker, Leonard Schulte and Edwin Schacher.

All three available posts are for two years.

Voting will be conducted from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. in the Nazareth Community Building.

Baker and Brady named all-state

The "impossible dream" came true this week for Dimmitt's Bobby Baker, 6-1 junior guard, and Jerry Brady, 6-4 senior post forward, when they were named to the Class AA all-state basketball squad.

DIMMITT'S was the only team in the state to place two boys in the 15-player all-state selections.

Baker, who averaged 15 points per game from out front for Coach Kenneth Cleveland's Bobcats, was named to the all-state second team.

Brady, who averaged 16 points and 12 rebounds per game to help pace the Bobcats to the regional finals, was named to the Texas AA third team.

HERE ARE the all-state selections:
First team — Tommy Jones, 6-0, of Crane; David Jones, 6-2, of Stanton; Robert White, 6-8, of Hearn; Curtis Robinson, 6-3, of Fort Worth Kirkpatrick; and Juan Escobar, 6-1, of Roma.

Second team — BOBBY BAKER, 6-1, of Dimmitt; Harold Bridges, 6-4, of Klein; Robert Jeenischkies, 6-7, of Yorktown; Harry Johnson, 6-5, of Teague; and Jim Pillsbury, 6-3, of San Antonio Cole.

Third team — JERRY BRADY, 6-4, of Dimmitt; Andre Tillman, 6-5, of Richardson; Lewis Villarreal, 6-4, of Zapata; Boone McMurry, 6-0, of McCaney; and Jerry Alexander, 5-7, of Brady.

Children's safety worries workers at building site

Mothers, if your children are playing around the new First Baptist Church construction site in West Dimmitt, they're risking a serious accident.

ALL YOUNGSTERS enjoy pottering around a building site — and around small jobs, it's sometimes okay — but workers on the huge church construction project are concerned for the safety of children who have been playing there late in the afternoons.

"I don't think the parents are really aware of how dangerous it is on a large commercial construction job like this one," said Harold Hacker, project superintendent for Gordon & Wortham Construction Co.

"We're pouring concrete now, and we have a lot of steel rods sticking up out of open ditches, and we have a large basement hole that is very dangerous," he said. "And it's going to become more dangerous here when we start going up with the high walls."

HE ADDED, "There are thousands of ways a grown man can get hurt on a job such as this, much less a child who doesn't understand the danger. We've had quite a few children playing here in the afternoons, and for their own safety, it would be better if they didn't play here."

Chamber members to meet tonight

Chamber of Commerce President Jimmy Ross has called a meeting of all chamber members for tonight (Thursday) as the first of four general meetings to be held during the year.

TONIGHT'S meeting will begin at 7:30 at the Castro County Country Club.

Explaining that the CoC charter calls for quarterly meetings of the general membership, Ross said tonight's meeting is "for the express purpose of getting ideas from the general membership as to the program of work desired by the membership for the coming year."

He said he feels the quarterly meetings "will give better communication between the chamber members and the board of directors, particularly as to what projects should be initiated by the chamber."

PUBLIC SERVICE MANAGER RALPH GLOVER (LEFT) SIGNS 6,000-HP CONTRACT With DWG Board Chairman Frank Wise, Secretary Jerome Brockman

Mill's power contract signed

Southwestern Public Service Co. signed a 10-year contract with Dimmitt Wheat Growers, Inc., Friday to provide all the electrical power needed to operate the co-op's huge corn wet-milling plant.

SIGNING the 6,000-hp electrical contracts were Ralph Glover, Dimmitt SWPS manager; Frank Wise, chairman of the Dimmitt Wheat Growers board; and Jerome Brockman, DWG board secretary.

Glover said Southwestern Public Service will build a power station on the northeast corner of the plant site to serve the mill complex. The station will be a 7,500 kilovolt-ampere transformer, and will reduce the company's input voltage from 69,000 to 12,500 to serve the mill's various load centers.

The primary power source will come from the SWPS Castro County Interchange located southwest of Dimmitt, Glover said. The power will originate principally at Plant X, with a standby power source tied in from the north.

ELECTRICAL power for the corn mill became the object of a hotly contested municipal power company idea.

When the new power station goes into operation, the Dimmitt Wheat Growers installations will be the largest industrial load served by SWPS in Castro County, Glover said.

"We're pleased at this expansion of one of our local industries, and happy that our own expansion program makes it possible for us to provide the electrical power needed by the plant," Glover said.

CLASS FOR adults starts again here
The adult basic education class has been reorganized in Dimmitt's schools, and is meeting every Monday night at Dimmitt Junior High School.

SUPT. CHARLIE WHITE said anyone interested in taking the course — which is mainly designed to develop English reading and writing skills and basic mathematics — should report to the junior high school at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Teacher of the class is Mrs. LaVerne Bates.

Mayor cites record as Oldfield presses

The Dimmitt mayor's race has developed into a lively battle between challenger Mackey Oldfield, who says it's time for a change, and Mayor George Bradford, who is fighting back on his eight-year record.

ACCORDING to Oldfield, it's strictly a two-man race, with no "third man" at issue. He said the open rumor that he would fire City Manager E. B. Noble if elected is "p-p-p-p-c-o-o-k."

"I have not said that I would make any changes in the city hall staff," Oldfield told the News. "That charge has hurt me more than anything else. Nobody's job is in jeopardy if I'm elected mayor."

However, he added, "The city's business will not be conducted in the town's coffee shops if I'm elected. The city hall is the place to conduct the city's business."

Bradford says that during his eight-year administration — during which time the city has grown from 2,900 to 4,500 — many major projects and improvements have been accomplished without a tax increase.

CITING the city's main accomplishments during his eight years in office, Bradford said Dimmitt has annexed 30 tracts of land, purchased land for a waste disposal system, obtained water rights for the city's future needs, codified the city's ordinances, developed a Master Plan program for future growth, spent $151,137 for water system improvements, $109,879 for sewer system improvements, $302,458 on streets and alleys, $31,842 for new fire-fighting equipment, $200,000 for construction on Dimmitt Airport and $35,790 for garbage collection equipment.

"All this has been done without a tax increase in the eight years," he said. "In fact, there has been no city increase in taxes since 1956."

The mayor added, "The city is in good financial condition. While other cities of comparable size are searching for new revenues, Dimmitt plans no new tax increase."

Oldfield said his main goals are to establish "a closer tie between the commission and the people," to change the city government charter as soon as Dimmitt reaches 5,000 population, and to expand the city's sewer and paving services.

ON HIS "closer tie" proposal, Oldfield said his main goals are to establish "a closer tie between the commission and the people," to change the city government charter as soon as Dimmitt reaches 5,000 population, and to expand the city's sewer and paving services.

Easter egg hunt Saturday, kids!

Kids, mark 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon on your calendars — that's when Dimmitt's annual Easter Egg Hunt will begin at the city park.

SPONSORED by the Jaycees, the hunt is for all area youngsters up to 12 years of age.

Jaycees will divide the city park into four sections so different age groups can look for candy eggs together. There will be a section for those 5 and under, one for those 6 and 7, one for those 8 and 9, and one for 10 and 11-year-olds.

Quintred Oakley, chairman of the hunt, said each of the park's four sections will contain a golden egg, and that the youngster finding it will receive a certificate for a prize to be donated by the TG&Y Store.

Church to conduct special services

Dimmitt's Presbyterian Church will conduct special Holy Week services tonight, and Friday in an effort to make Easter more meaningful.

TONIGHT, a special Maundy Thursday service will be conducted to celebrate the Last Supper. Communion and baptism will be included in the service.

Good Friday services will see the church's altar, lectern and pulpit bare of their traditional scarves as those attending meditate on the Crucifixion and the last words of Christ.

Both services will begin at 7:30 p. m. "We have planned these services for the congregation and the community at large," said Rev. C. Mitchell Kennedy, pastor.

THE CHURCH'S Easter Sunday morning worship service will begin at 7 o'clock instead of the usual time.

Any lady wishing to take the free course may attend one of the first classes April 9 or 10, or call 647-3437 or 647-3455 to enroll.

Mrs. Cartwright dies in Amarillo

Mrs. Lela Nannie Cartwright, 79, former long-time resident of the county, died Sunday afternoon in an Amarillo convalescent home.

FUNERAL services were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Dennis Memorial Chapel. Rev. Frank Pollard, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tulsa, officiated, assisted by Dr. Raymond Perkins, pastor of Dimmitt's First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Castro Memorial Gardens, under the direction of Dennis Funeral Home.

Mrs. Cartwright was born Oct. 23, 1889, in Cisco, and brought her children to Castro County after her husband, Edwin, died in 1915. She moved to California in 1933, and returned to Texas four years ago.

Any lady wishing to take the free course may attend one of the first classes April 9 or 10, or call 647-3437 or 647-3455 to enroll.

SPELLING BEE CHAMPS — Bonnie Wagner, 14 (left), and Lori Hustman, 11, show the lucky words they spelled to win the Castro County Spelling Bee championships last week. Bonnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner, repeated as the senior champion by spelling down Mark Brockman on the word, "ambitious." Lori, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Huseman, captured the junior championship by spelling "pennant" after Patricia Hochstein had missed it. The annual Bee turned out to be an all-Nazareth contest, with Hart and Dimmitt not entering teams.

Bible Thoughts

ALMOST A CHRISTIAN

By Ronnie Parker

When Festus became governor of Judea, Herod Agrippa and his wife, Bernice paid him a complimentary visit. Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, "There is a certain man left a prisoner by Felix; about whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and elders of the Jews informed me, asking for sentence against him." (Acts 25:14). King Agrippa then wanted to hear this Paul who was imprisoned for preaching Christ. Paul's defense was a simple one relating his own personal conversion to Christ. After listening, Agrippa said, "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian" (Acts 26:28). But almost is not enough. Agrippa came near the kingdom . . . but only near. Others are like Herod Agrippa. Some have been religiously educated, admire and even conform to the morals of Christ, but they are camping outside the gate. They have not risen in full surrender to Christ through a change of heart, of will, and of relationship. Faith changes the heart, repentance changes the will, and the new birth brings one into a new relationship with God. Have you been born again?

"Almost cannot avail; Almost is but to fail; Sad, sad, that bitter wail — Almost, but lost."

— P. P. Bliss

EASTER DAY OF TRIUMPH

"He is not here: for he is risen, as he said."

Thus, on the third day our Lord rose and conquered death, fulfilling his promise. There are many other promises of wonderful things that our Lord has made to us. These are given to us in the Holy Bible. Enter his house this week, on the day set aside for celebrating his triumph, and hear the full story of this great victory. Make this a new beginning in your life too.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

50 Texans drown so far in 1969

Texas has had 50 drownings so far this year, according to figures from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. FOURTEEN of these victims were boating for pleasure. Of these, six did not have Coast Guard approved life preservers on board for each person in the boat. "All of those drowned violated the spirit of the Water Safety Act, a law designed to save lives," says Robert G. Mauermann, deputy director of the Department. "Life preservers should not only be on board the boat but should also be worn. If they are not worn, there is little likelihood they will be of any use in case of an accident."

There are several ways to detect counterfeit bills. First, learn what portraits are displayed on various bills. Always remember that: Washington is on one dollar bills; Jefferson on twos; Lincoln on fives; Hamilton on tens; Jackson on twenties; Grant on fifties; Franklin on one hundreds; McKinley on five hundreds; Cleveland on one thousands; Madison on five thousands; and Chase on ten-thousand dollar bills.

On all genuine bills the printing must be perfect. Counterfeiters invariably get tripped up by poor reproductions. The portrait may be flat and spotty, the background smudged and dark, while fine lines of the border are not distinct.

Little League board hopes for six teams

Adult leaders of the Dimmitt Little League are working to expand the league from four teams to six this summer so more boys can play.

CHARLES NUTT, newly elected Little League president, said local officials have applied to national headquarters in Williamsport, Pa., for a six-team charter, "and we should be hearing from them pretty soon."

Meanwhile, new directors of the league have signed up sponsors for the two proposed new teams, as well as all the sponsors needed for the Minor League.

"We have plenty of boys for a six-team league, and we need to let more boys play Little League ball," Nutt said.

COACHES and managers for all LL teams will be named after the local board hears from national headquarters on its six-team application.

Little League is for boys 9 through 12, and Minor League accommodates boys 8 through 12. A boy must go through try-outs before being assigned to a Little or Minor League team.

Tryouts will be held Saturday, April 19, at 2 p.m. at the Little League Park in West Dimmitt.

"All boys and their parents should mark this date on their calendar," Nutt said. "It's important that every boy who wants to play, attend tryouts so we can get our teams organized."

EACH LITTLE League squad will include 13 boys, Nutt said, so if a six-team league is okayed by national LL headquarters, 78 Dimmitt area boys will be assigned to Little League teams this year, with the "overflow" going into the Minor League.

All boys 8-12 who want to play junior baseball will get to see action in one league or the other, he added.

If national LL headquarters authorizes only a four-team league — as in the past — then only 52 boys will be assigned to the Little League, and the Minor League will be adjusted to take the larger overflow of players, Nutt added.

In addition to trying to expand the junior baseball program here, the Little League's new board is trying to get the area all-star tournament in Dimmitt this year, to be played in the new park.

NEW OFFICERS of the league, elected last week, are Nutt, president; Travis Hampton, vice-president; Jack Patton, player agent; George Howell, chief umpire; and Bob Dulaney, purchasing agent.

MRS. DENNIS HOWARD DALE
... The former Sandra Virginia Dieter

Dieter-Dale vows read; Maryland is new home

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Howard Dale are now at home in Frederick, Md., following their March 24 wedding in the Seventh Day Adventist Church in Hereford.

MRS. DALE is the former Sandra Virginia Dieter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert W. Dieter of Hereford, former Dimmitt residents.

Dale's parents are Mrs. Miyoe Dale of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Neal W. Dale of Tacoma, Wash.

The groom, who is now stationed with the US Army at Fort Detrick, Md., attended Pacific Union College at Angwin, Calif., and Loma Linda University in Loma Linda, Calif., where he majored in physical therapy.

The bride attended Southwestern Union College at Kerne and Southern Missionary College at Collegedale, Tenn.

Before her marriage she worked as a secretary at Loma Linda University.

ELDER Hollis A. Morel conducted the wedding ceremony in the Hereford church. The sanctuary was decorated with two candelabra entwined with greenery, and two large bouquets of gladioli.

Maid of honor was Jeanette Carruth of Loma Linda, and bridesmaid was Sharon Moore, also of Loma Linda.

Serving as best man was William Rasmic of Loma Linda. Groomsman was Robert Carmen, also of Loma Linda.

Phillip Dieter was the head usher, assisted by William Rasmic and Robert Carmen.

Mrs. Phillip Dieter performed traditional wedding music at the organ. Soloists were Mrs. Melvin Weber, who sang "O Lord, Most Holy," with a violin obbligato by Mrs. L. N. Ochander; and Mrs. Phillip Dieter, who sang "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length white linen dress with French embroidery along the neckline, on the long pointed sleeves, at the Empire waistline and on the skirt and hemline. The dress featured a cathedral length train with French lace embroidery and pearls, and the bridal veil was a Spanish lace mantilla with matching French embroidery.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of white carnations and a white orchid.

The maid of honor wore a light pink floor length dress with an Empire waist, elbow length sleeves and lace-trimmed train. The dress of the bridesmaid was of the same design but was dusty rose in color.

A RECEPTION in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Building followed the ceremony. The reception hall was decorated with pink bells and white streamers. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with the bridesmaids' bouquets.

For her wedding trip to Frederick, Md., the bride chose an aqua A-line knit dress with white accessories.

No longer need you be sans rafraichissoir!

By IRENE KEATING

Last week was full of activities. Thursday I attended a meeting on food preservation in Amarillo. Miss Hattie Kilgore, head of Kerr Canning Co. test kitchens, gave the program. It was such a helpful meeting. I'll give you some of the information from time to time.

SATURDAY I was in Vega judging their 4-H Food Show. It is always fun to see what other counties are doing.

It is hard to realize that Easter is already here. Max and I have taken advantage of the long weekend to go see my folks and sister, Nelle, in Arkansas. I'm always refreshed and ready to work after a vacation — even if it is short.

Here's some interesting news about furniture with surprises. Today's imaginative designers frequently tuck away a little surprise in furniture that makes it useful and a delight to own, and that adds excitement to furniture shopping. Look for these items.

One manufacturer has adapted the design of a London writing table to make an octagonal lamp or end table. There are the lift-lid openings that concealed the writing compartment in the original piece, but now hide a divided well lined with gold velvet. It is an unsuspected place to hide jewels and keepsakes. The table is available in either solid wild black cherry or in solid mahogany at a cost less than $160.

EVER HEARD of a rafraichissoir? A Holland, Michigan furniture manufacturer has an original in its museum which was used in France in the 18th century.

A rafraichissoir is a small table once used to chill wines in the dining room. The top pulls forward to reveal metal liners which keep wine cold or hold plants. Lower shelves may be used to store glasses and other items. A small drawer at the top holds bottle openers and other tools. A portion of the top is raised and it is leather lined. The reproduction sells for around $420.

Career girls, hobby enthusiasts, bachelors or college students will find many uses for a combination bookcase and table which one company recently introduced.

THE MAPLE table slides out to make a 68 inch surface for dining, homework, sewing, games, using the four lower shelves of the bookcase for leaves.

A moveable library book stand is another innovation. It's concealed casters enables the student or author to move the stand. The top raises to hold a dictionary or reference book in open position and there are shelves for additional books. The moveable stand is crafted in a dark-toned maple and sells for around $130.

On the Go

VISITORS in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tex Conard over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wanamaker of Mission Hill, Calif. The Wanamakers were en route to Miami, Fla., for a free trip to Jamaica aboard the new liner, "Starward," which Mrs. Wanamaker named in a national contest. Mrs. Wanamaker and Mrs. Conard are sisters.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Catoe announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patty, to Ron Lohr, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lohr of Chester, Va. The couple plan an early June wedding.

Miss Lane honored with tea shower

Sammie Kay Lane, bride-elect of Jerry Don Lance, was honored at a tea shower March 21 in the home of Mrs. R. O. Nelson.

MRS. RONNIE NELSON registered the guests, and Mrs. Henry Russell and Mrs. Ronnie Andrews served cake and fruit punch from a table centered with a miniature bride and groom, before a large heart surrounded by pink roses. The table was covered by a white lace cloth over pink.

Assisting with hostess duties were Mmes. Charles Doss, Bill Kitchens, Marvin Anderson, Ronnie Nelson, Ray Chambliss, Edd Brock, Henry Russell, Wayne Dyer, Ronnie Andrews, Carl Bolton, Merton Powell, James Slough, Frank Latimer, Al Gibbs, P. O. Goodwin, Fred Dunn and Jim Hays.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Earl Lance Sr., Mrs. Reese Dowson, Mrs. Larry Lance, Mrs. Earl Lance Jr., Mrs. C. J. Lance, Mrs. Bill Lane, and Mrs. Billy Harrington and Jenine.

Flagg HD ladies will meet Friday

Flagg Home Demonstration Club will hold a casserole luncheon Friday at its monthly meeting in the community building.

EACH MEMBER is to bring her favorite casserole and the recipe for it. Mrs. Sue Tischler presented a program on "Insurance and Legal Matters of Concern to Women" at the club's March meeting.

Also, Mrs. Irene Keating, county HD agent, reported on the activities of the Home Demonstration Council, and Mrs. Mary Lou Smithson summarized the club tour held March 14.

Mrs. Wanda Nelson resigned as secretary, and Mrs. H. E. Vaughn was elected to replace her. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Donnie Nelson was honored with a baby shower.

Dimmitt coed is Delta Zeta pledge

Sue Lust, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Lust of Dimmitt has pledged Delta Zeta National Social Sorority at West Texas State University.

Miss Lust is a freshman, majoring in business education.

On the Go

MEMBERS of Mrs. Sam Maynard's family gathered at her home Sunday to help her celebrate her birthday. Visitors included her father, G. E. Phillips and Mrs. Phillips of Amherst, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phillips of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Phillips of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Memphis, Mrs. Annie Strohmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Wade Maynard.

JESS TAYLOR
 ... Operates nursing home — and a juvenile division

Nursing home owner is youth worker, too

Jess Taylor's profession is service, and few people have a more varied clientele.

TAYLOR, the new owner of the Golden Spread Nursing Home, is also the juvenile officer of Hutchinson County (Borger).

He is dividing his time equally between his juvenile department in Borger and his nursing home here, but says, "I think the nursing-home business will become my full-time career."

Taylor, 42, bought the Golden Spread Home recently from Mrs. Viola Griswold, who is remaining here to perform relief service at the home as a licensed vocational nurse.

A native Oklahoman, Taylor is so quiet and mild-mannered that he'll fool you. He's actually a veteran of 15 years in law enforcement, and was the assistant police chief of Borger for five years before becoming the Hutchinson County juvenile officer in 1960.

HE RECEIVED a law degree from Cumberland University shortly after World War II, but instead of taking his bar exam he decided to go into police work.

"I had wanted to be a criminal lawyer," he explained. "No other phase of law interested me. But suddenly there were too many criminal lawyers, and they were all starving, and I had a family to feed."

He started as a rookie policeman, but quickly solved several crimes that were on the books, and earned a reputation as a top investigator. He was transferred to the criminal investigation division, then moved into police administration.

At the same time, he earned a reputation for community service. He was named the Borger Jaycees' "Key Man" in 1966.

THROUGH the police department and the Jaycees, he became involved in youth activities, helping with such projects as the Golden Gloves boxing tournament and a youth home that now is part of Girlstown.

For his work on behalf of the area's youth, he received the Distinguished Service Award from the Borger Jaycees as the city's "outstanding young man" in 1961. The following year the Altrusa Club presented him its Outstanding Service award.

He left the Borger Police Dept. in 1960 to become the county's juvenile officer.

TAYLOR first went into nursing-home administration in 1966, when he bought part interest in the Magic Plains Nursing Home in Borger, of which he became president and administrator.

He has become well-known in the nursing home field also. He is third vice-president of the Texas Nursing Home Association, and last year he was president of the Golden Spread Chapter of the TNHA, which includes Castro and 20 other counties with 27 nursing homes. He also has been a member of the TNHA's audit committee.

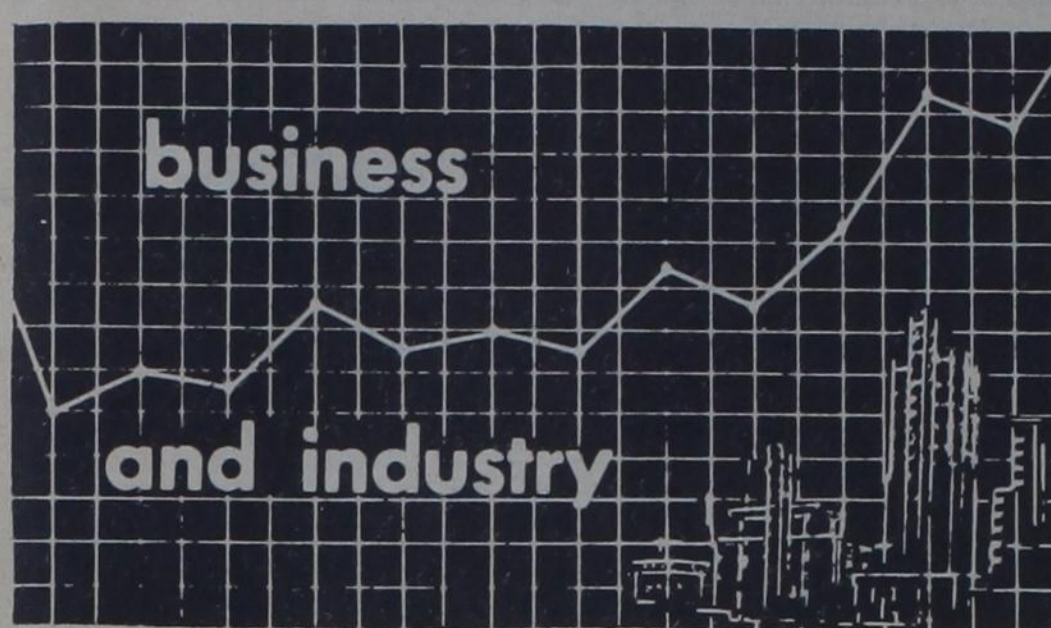

Taylor sold his interest in the Magic Plains Nursing Home in Borger shortly before buying the Golden Spread Nursing Home from Mrs. Griswold.

He and his wife, Lillian, have two sons and three daughters who range in age from 3 to 18. The Taylors plan to continue to live in Borger "because we have some strong ties there," he said.

"I CAN think of few things more important than teaching both children and grown-ups the value of the soil. The good earth is not only the foundation of a nation's economy; it is the basis of civilization itself. It is a simple matter to trace one after another the histories of those nations whose power, prosperity and culture declined when their soil became impoverished.

"To no nation has the earth been more important than to our own. Out of it has grown our wealth and our power. Man's greed and carelessness have done much to destroy it by cutting down forests and farming recklessly. The task of our generation is to undo that evil and restore the foundation of our prosperity. It requires a new generation of pioneers equipped with spirit and devotion and patriotism."

Clayton urges unity in accepting key post

"I have one interest and one purpose in mind in accepting the executive directorship of Water, Inc. That is to guide and direct the people of West Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico toward one common objective — water importation into the area."

THAT'S HOW State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake defined his new professional mission after being named last week as the top executive of Water, Inc.

His appointment was announced by K. B. "Tex" Watson, president of Water, Inc. At the same time, Watson announced that L. Dean Rea of Tulsa has been hired as associate executive director of Water, Inc.

Clayton, known as "Mr. Water" in the Texas House of Representatives, said he will continue to serve in the state legislature, "where I feel my services will be of great value in helping to implement the Texas Water Plan," which provides for water importation to the High Plains as well as water diversion to other parts of the state.

"WEST TEXAS, Oklahoma and New Mexico stand to gain much by working together, united, for the implementation of the Texas Water Plan," Clayton said. "Looking at our problems from a political standpoint was one of the determining factors of my signing with Water, Inc., at this time. We cannot afford the luxury of division among the people if we are to accomplish our goal."

The Springlake legislator added, "It is our hope that Water, Inc., will be the melting pot for all our ideas, thoughts and actions, and that from all the divergent views and needs we may speak with one voice for all our people. Until this end is accomplished in the area serviced by Water, Inc., we can kiss import water goodbye."

"However," he said, "I am confident that all people in the area who are sincere in purpose can speak with unity. The organization is big enough, and there is enough work to do, so that everyone can play an important role in the job to be done."

"AS MAJOR objectives," he said, "I would like to see Water, Inc., work with the county water organizations in reaching more people, and in turn getting a better grass roots participation. One of the first jobs should be the promotion and passage of the $3.5 billion bond constitutional amendment. After this is accomplished, work should begin on trying to pass a conformation election to create a Master Water Authority in the area. We would solicit the support of all concerned so we may speak with unity for the area."

Clayton, who has been in the farming business in the Springlake area many years, was elected to the House of Representatives in 1963. He has served on several leading House committees, including the Water Committee for several sessions. He was chairman of the House Interim Water Study Committee which held hearings throughout the state last summer and fall and recommended the $3.5 billion bond proposal as a constitutional amendment to implement the Texas Water Plan.

REA, the new associate executive director of Water, Inc., was the production manager and sales coordinator of Taylor-Evans Seed Co., and has been an advisory board member of Water, Inc., since its organization.

Rea also is executive manager of the West Texas Grain Elevator Association, a trustee of the High Plains Research Center, and a director of the Grain Elevator and Processor Superintendents International. He is a graduate of Amarillo High School and holds a bachelor of science degree in agriculture from Texas Tech, where he was president of his senior class.

In announcing Clayton's and Rea's hirings, Watson said, "We are proud of this excellent staff who, along with Tom Williams, director of field services for Water, Inc. will carry the organization toward its goal of bringing supplemental water into our area."

New Jaycee officers take over

PRESIDENT — Don Nelson and his wife, Verbie, receive the charges of office from State Director Bob Stovall Saturday night as Nelson prepares to take the oath as president of the Dimmitt Jaycees for the coming year.

DIRECTORS — Taking the oath of office as directors of the Dimmitt Jaycees are (from left) David Springer, Wade Maynard and Jack Clark, past president. Not pictured is Bobby Murdock, newly elected director, who was ill and unable to attend. Clark presented special awards during the banquet to David Springer and Curtis Christopher as the top first-year members, to Wade Maynard as the club's most valuable worker, and to Harley Daniel, outstanding project chairman.

Square Dance Tips

By BILL HARMAN

Twenty-five Dimmitt Promenaders traveled to Plainview Friday night to a special square dance called by nationally known caller Don Franklin. The host club for the evening was the Belles and Beaus. The dance was held at the armory and it was filled with square dancers from around the area.

THE REGULAR Tuesday night square dance of the Dimmitt Promenaders was well attended. Host couples for the evening were Wes and Helen Brown and A. V. and Mildred Barnes. The door prize, a western tie with miniature square dancers was won by Shirley Hall.

Larry Medders, a Promenaders and a guest caller, is moving to Ruidoso, N.M. The promenaders will miss Larry as a caller and square dance friend.

Graduation for the 34 students is being planned for Tuesday night, May 6. Our caller, Sid Perkins, has done an excellent job teaching these new square dancers. The club is looking forward to the new graduates becoming dancing Promenaders.

THE DIMMITT Promenaders dance every Tuesday night at 7:30 at the American Legion Building. Visitors are welcome to come, watch and enjoy square dancing at its best.

Square 'em up! Square dancing is fun, ask any Dimmitt Promenader.

Letters to the Editor

Commissioners Court draws praise on courthouse plan, building fund

Dear Editor:

First, may I express my appreciation for the manner in which the Castro County Commissioners Court has handled county finances in past years, in order to have accumulated a permanent improvement fund of $150,000, which the court now expects to use toward the much-needed expansion of the courthouse.

Children's home needs a piano

Do you have a piano that you'd be willing to give up so the children at the Christian Children's Home in Portales could take piano lessons?

Or would you be willing to donate money to help buy a piano for the youngsters?

IF YOUR answer is yes, you should contact Mrs. Leon Sanders, 608 SW Fourth St.

Mrs. Sanders is one of a group of Dimmitt people working to get a piano for the Christian Children's Home, which has 78 youngsters.

"A music instructor from Eastern New Mexico University has volunteered to give piano lessons to the children," Mrs. Sanders said, "but they need another piano so the children will have one for practice. Anything you can do to help toward this would really be appreciated."

On the Go

MRS. ETTA BRASHEARS visited Mr. and Mrs. Gus Barron in Tulia last week. They accompanied her home Thursday and spent the day.

officials will be readily available to those who are continually in need of them; office space will be adequate for those persons (district judge and district attorney) who help conduct county business and enforce state laws; jury room and rest room facilities will be considered proper; offices of state and federal agencies can be centrally and easily located; and much-needed additional library space will be available.

Third, it is to the credit of the commissioners that they have properly cared for the taxpayers' money in the past; that they see the immediate need of expansion and renovation of the courthouse, which was built for a much smaller county population in the late 1930's; and that they are projecting the expansion to care for county needs for several years in the future.

Dimmitt School Board candidates express opinions

Five of the six candidates for the Dimmitt School Board responded to a News questionnaire this week, giving their opinions on four questions concerning the local schools.

THE SCHOOL board election will be Saturday, with two trustees to be elected from the six-man field. Purpose of the questionnaire was to give voters an insight to the candidates' views on board-level issues and problems.

In submitting the questionnaire, Managing Editor Don Nelson told the candidates, "These aren't easy questions, but the problems you will be called upon to solve if elected won't be easy, either. I have attempted to make the questions both fair and relevant."

Responding to the questionnaire were Fred Kuntz, Ellis Mayberry, Jack R.

Miller, Charles Nutt and Charles Wales. The other candidate, John Gilbreath, chose not to answer.

HERE ARE the questions, and the candidates' answers. Candidates are listed in alphabetical order:

J. Last year, Dimmitt's elementary schools finally met the rigid requirements for certification by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, which establishes the standards for educational excellence in this region of the U.S.

However, our junior and senior high schools still don't meet SACS requirements, and will not until certain academic programs are added and others are upgraded or expanded. These upgradings will cost money.

Do you favor increasing the school district's tax income as much as necessary to enable our junior and senior high schools to qualify for SACS accreditation?

FRED KUNTZ

"No. I think we are already taxed at a dangerously high level. I think every citizen should pay his school tax first, county, road, state and federal tax, in that order. All excess taxes should be allotted to the school. Every citizen should support the school first."

ELLIS MAYBERRY

"At the present, I do not favor a tax increase."

JACK R. MILLER

"As the question is expressed, I would have to answer 'No,' since money alone does not guarantee educational excellence, and SACS accreditation is not the only standard for a good school; but I will continue to do what I can to make the junior and senior high schools a credit to our community and capable of properly educating our children."

CHARLES NUTT

"Dimmitt's junior and senior high schools do meet these requirements with the exception of one of the personnel, and I would not be in favor of replacing a person simply to gain SACS accreditation when that person is doing an excellent job. I do not feel that it is a matter of upgrading and expanding that will require additional tax income, but simply a matter of reasoning."

CHARLES WALES

"We want our schools to have the highest educational standards possible. SACS accreditation is a goal worth working for. However, there are other areas that need improvement more. The money would be better spent for things other than accreditation. We can upgrade our standard as we are able while taking care of the most pressing problems first."

verted into a junior high building, thereby leaving an elementary school building that could be built at a great savings to our taxpayers. With the construction of the starch plant in Dimmitt, I feel sure we must face expansions in the future."

CHARLES WALES

"The recommendation of the Texas Education Agency for a new football stadium, more land for additional growth and others, are certainly desirable. These programs should be accomplished in an orderly fashion as the school district can reasonably afford to do them. I also believe they should be done as economically as possible in regard to construction costs, maximum utilization of facilities and long range needs of the school system."

3. What is your opinion on consolidating Castro County's three school districts into one?

FRED KUNTZ

"I'm against it. There is no future in bussing children so far. If they can get this teaching in the local community, there is no need. But I think we should have consolidation for a technical high school and junior college."

ELLIS MAYBERRY

"I do not believe we should consolidate our schools, because this would mean additional cost for transportation and additional personnel to operate that transportation. Also, this would put all our schools in one district, which I do not believe is a good idea. I am sure we are aware of the fact that the larger the school, the more it will cost to operate it. The taxpayers can only do so much."

JACK R. MILLER

"At this time I do not favor consolidating the three school districts. If at a later time the state law requires consolidation, or if the two smaller districts request consolidation, I would not oppose it."

CHARLES NUTT

"The consolidating of the three Castro County school districts will not be a school board decision, but will be the decision of our state government. Frankly, I am opposed to the plan and have written to both Rep. Bill Clayton and Sen. Jack Hightower expressing my opposition."

CHARLES WALES

"I do not believe consolidation of Castro County's three school districts is at present feasible or desirable. Not enough work has been done on the mechanics of consolidation. The problems of building use, bussing of students, consolidation of teachers — to mention a few — have not been adequately considered. Consolidation would also be accompanied by a substantial rise in taxes."

4. Is there any special phase of the school operation in which you are especially interested? Is there any school policy, personnel or program that you are concerned about, or that you would attempt to change if elected to the school board? (This is your "open" question, to enable you to tell why you are running for the school board — answer it any way you like.)

FRED KUNTZ

"If this is an open question, I will load it. I think every child in the Dimmitt schools should have a working understanding of math, physics, English, art, public speaking, etc."

"I think the Head Start program is a wonderful program."

"Summer school would be fine for on-the-job training and a working knowledge of agriculture and practical training as clerks, typists, stenographers, salesmen and the like. I think each child should have a feeling of accomplishment, dignity and direction when he leaves his home school."

"I wish to say thanks to Ward Golden for his many years of service to our schools."

ELLIS MAYBERRY

"I am not interested in changing any phase of the school operation, but there are those which I would endeavor to improve. I would like to see a closer relationship between the home and the school. Also, I am concerned about the qualifications of our teachers, the students' attitude toward the teachers, and the teachers' concern for the students."

JACK R. MILLER

"It is only natural that I am vitally interested in all phases of our school operation as I received my public schooling entirely in the Dimmitt schools; was employed as a teacher at one time, and next year will have one child in each of the four buildings."

"We have an excellent school system with competent teachers and administrators who are dedicated to providing each child with a well-rounded education academically, vocationally, socially, athletically and in the fine arts."

"My main objective will be to improve our weaker areas while encouraging our stronger departments to excel to their fullest extent. Our greatest need is to draw truly dedicated and qualified teachers into our system and retain them over the years."

CHARLES NUTT

"I am interested in all phases of education. Our young people of today face a greater challenge than any previous generation. I believe all people should work to better prepare our young people for this challenge — whether it be mental, physical or emotional — through our schools and churches."

CHARLES WALES

"The primary function of any school system is education of the students. Good teachers and administrators are the backbone of any school. We have been troubled by a high teacher turnover rate and have lately lost some qualified and experienced personnel. We need to attract and retain the best teachers we possibly can."

More about:

Mayor cites

has helped initiate the plan, and Oldfield says it is needed.

"I think we ought to do something also about the conditions in East Dimmitt," Oldfield said. "We need to see what's needed, and what the city can do."

Oldfield said the city also needs more paving.

"I've had several property owners tell me they would be willing to be assessed if it would get their paving done," he said. "We've had a good paving system, but we should do more."

HERE'S WHAT the two candidates had to say about their reasons for seeking the city's top elective post:

Oldfield: "I have no ax to grind. What I want to do is win the election and serve the people fairly. The question has come up about whether I have the time to serve as mayor. A certain amount of time will be necessary, and this time will be taken. I feel I have a real good chance of winning, but if I do not win, I think the campaign will have done a lot of good for the city."

Bradford: "I feel I have represented all the citizens of Dimmitt fairly and honestly over the past eight years, and the city has made many improvements during a growth period, without any tax increase. I would appreciate being re-elected to the office of mayor. I have the time, desire and experience."

Moist rangelands call for seeding

With an adequate supply of soil moisture in nearly all areas of the state, now is the time to be seeding rangelands to restore forage production, says Dan Rodgers, Extension range specialist at Texas A&M University.

The Trans-Pecos region is about the only area that is now short of soil moisture, he adds.

GOOD GRAZING management alone can make little progress usually, without a seed source of good grasses. Thus, new seeds must be planted and the area deferred to assure seedling establishment, emphasized Rodgers.

The range specialist pointed out the importance of observing certain, well-established principles to assure successful grass seeding.

He said the use of good quality seed, planted at the proper time and depth, are among the most important considerations. Controlling competitive plants and planting on a weed-free, firm seedbed also help improve the chances of a successful stand establishment.

Deferring grazing until seedlings are well established is important to insure restoration of the rangeland, he said.

Broadcasting of grass seed following rootplowing can be a successful method of seeding, especially if the land is dragged, chained or raked to prepare a proper seed bed, Rodgers said.

Turkeys lead April list of 'plentiful'

Turkeys, perhaps America's most festive birds, are featured on the April plentiful foods list, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

CURRENT COLD storage holdings are large and prices are reasonable, according to the US Department of Agriculture, so you'll find it a good time to include turkey on your shopping list.

Other items on the April "plentiful" list of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service include prunes, canned and frozen green beans and sweet corn, onions, rice, dry beans, and peanuts and peanut products.

Last year's rice production broke all records and ran 18 percent above 1967. Estimated dry bean production figured at 17.7 million hundredweight, or 16 percent more than last year. At present, pinto beans are in best supply but others include pinks, blackeyes, and baby lima beans.

On the Go

MRS. SARAH NORTEN of Amarillo visited her mother, Mrs. Etta "rashears" and her sister, Mrs. Dewey Wright and family recently.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow, and centered with an arrangement of yellow daisies in a basket.

The hostesses presented Miss Burress with an electric skillet, electric can opener and the daisy centerpiece.

Special guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. H. H. Burress; her grandmothers, Mrs. Ivy Stanton and Mrs. Henry Burress; her aunt, Mrs. O. D. Spain; and her cousin, Marsha Spain.

ASSISTING with hostess duties were Mesdames Jack Dyer, Robert Brooks, DeWayne Brown, L. J. Rice, Joe Newman, Tump McLain, Homer Hill, D. A. Bass, J. M. Kendrick, Bob Bennet, W. H. # Cable TV adding two more channels

Cable TV viewers started receiving a seventh television station last Thursday, and an eighth station is scheduled to be added soon.

THE "NEW" station here is Lubbock's KKBC-TV, a UHF station whose Channel 34 signal is being received here and rebroadcast on VFH Channel 9.

Officials of Dimmitt TV Cable Co. said that another Lubbock UHF station, KSEL-TV (Channel 28), will be seen soon on Channel 3 here.

Addition of the two new channels means that every commercial and educational TV station in Lubbock and Amarillo will be available to Cable TV's 2,800 local viewers, with reception on Channels 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, 9, 11 and 13.

ALSO received on Cable TV here is a weather-gauge channel (6) plus several FM radio stations.

KKBC-TV and KSEL-TV are both independent stations.

Policy proposals show 'opinion gap' between cotton producers, shippers

The "opinion gap" cotton producers and some cotton shippers with regard to the loan and sales policies that should be followed by Commodity Credit Corporation continues to widen.

PRODUCERS, organized in the Belt-wide Cotton Producer Committee, for the past month or so have been conferring with the US Department of Agriculture about instituting changes in CCC policies they believe would greatly reduce the much-maligned "catalog cycle" of recent years and allow producers to market each year's crop with a minimum of interference from government-owned cotton.

The producers proposal calls for a loan that would not mature until 14 months after it was made to a producer, plus changes in CCC pricing policies that would take the marketing advantage away from CCC and return it to producers.

Those who speak for the shipper segment of the cotton industry have voiced violent opposition to the producer plan. And the Southern Cotton Shippers Association, at its annual meeting March 13-14 in Memphis, Tenn., launched what has all the earmarks of a counter-attack.

Delegates at the meeting not only passed three resolutions opposing the changes favored by producers but adopted as well two resolutions calling for CCC changes of their own which implied a "hit 'em back" attitude.

The three resolutions opposing the producer position on CCC policies asked that no extension of the loan on 1969 crop cotton be made, that no "anniversary type loan" be put into effect for 1968 or subsequent crops of cotton, and that CCC sales continue to be made on a competitive bid basis at market or loan price, whichever is higher.

The opinion differences lie in the fact that the producer proposal would help give producers an incentive to raise adequate supplies of cotton for maintaining or expanding markets, while the SCSA proposal, producers feel, would substantially reduce or remove that incentive.

According to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the SCSA plan would have the effect of reducing the 20.25 cent middling-inch loan rate for cotton on the Plains by an average of about 1.6 cents per pound.

CCC currently is paying 6.625 percent interest on the money it borrows, most of which comes from the US Treasury. Storage costs are running about 50 cents per bale per month.

PGC figures, based on cotton that enters the loan Dec. 15, show that the deduction for interest from producer proceeds would come to about $4.20 (56 cents per month interest on $101.25 loan value times 7½ months to July 31) on a 500-pound bale of middling-inch cotton. This figure would be greater on cotton which entered the loan at an earlier date.

Storage charges for 7½ months would be $3.75, bringing the total deduction on the bale to $7.95, or almost 1.6 cents per pound.

The effective loan to producers then, under the SCSA proposal, would be 18.65 cents per pound instead of the 20.25 cents announced for this year. And for all intents and purposes the producer under normal circumstances would be forced to base his selling decision on the lower figure, PGC says.

Pesticides are like fire - helpful, but deadly if you aren't careful

Today is not only the Space Age; it is also the Chemical Age.

ONE OF the main benefits of living in this chemical age is the availability of numerous pesticides. They have been useful for the improvement of our agricultural output and therefore for raising our standard of living. Also, these pesticides have been helpful in the control of many insect-borne diseases.

Unfortunately, the most effective pesticides are often the most toxic, and precautions against them the most difficult to enforce.

With the increased use of these highly toxic materials, both at home and in industry, it is essential that we stress safety measures at every opportunity.

HERE ARE some important State Health Department recommendations to remember when handling and using toxic insecticides.

- Follow the instructions on the manufacturer's label to the smallest detail.
- Store toxic sprays and dust away from children and irresponsible individuals, as well as livestock, foods and animal feeds.
- All regular handlers of phosphorous insecticides should have cholinesterase tests at intervals not greater than 10 days during the periods they are working with the materials.
- All applicators should avoid breathing dust, vapors, or spray from the insecticides.
- DESPIRATORS which meet the specifications of the US Bureau of Mines or Department of Agriculture should be worn when handling or working around highly toxic insecticides.
- Freshly laundered protective clothing and gloves should be worn when sprays and dust are being applied.
- If toxic insecticides are spilled on the skin or clothing, work should be suspended and the person involved should bathe and change clothes.
- Individuals handling toxic insecticides should bathe and change clothes immediately after completing jobs or during an extensive break.

Texas yields two world record fish --or is it three?

Texas' fresh waters have yielded some world record fish on rods and reels, according to figures compiled by Field and Stream magazine and the American Museum of Natural History.

THE RECORD holders are a 279-pound alligator gar caught in the Rio Grande in 1951 and a 50-pound, five-ounce long-nose gar caught in the Trinity River in 1954.

In case you're wondering if that "granddaddy" fish you once caught is a record, here is the world-record list of fish commonly found in Texas:

- Largemouth Bass — 22 pounds, four ounces, caught in 1932 in Montgomery Lake, Ga.
- Bluegill — four pounds, 12 ounces, caught in 1950 in Ketona Lake, Ala.
- Carp — 55 pounds, five ounces, caught in 1952 in Clearwater Lake, Minn.
- Blue Catfish — 97 pounds, caught in 1959 in Missouri River, S.D.
- Channel Catfish — 58 pounds, caught in 1964 in Santee-Cooper Reservoir, S.C.
- Black Crappie — five pounds, caught in 1957 in Santee-Cooper Reservoir, S.C.
- White Crappie — five pounds, three ounces, caught in 1957 in Enid Dam, Miss.
- Redear Sunfish — two pounds, 15 ounces, caught in 1965 in Ponte Vedra Beach, Fla.

AND IN case you're going after the newly stocked walleye in Lake Meredith, you must exceed the record of 25 pounds, caught in 1960 in Old Hickory Lake, Tenn.

Field and Stream lists the record white bass as five pounds, four ounces caught in 1966 in Toronto, Kan. They must not have received word of the white bass caught in the Colorado River just below Longhorn Dam in Austin in 1968. It weighed five pounds, 4¼ ounces on certified scales before witnesses.

Food costs climb by 14 percent, but cost of living is up by 20.4

Texas consumers and producers of agricultural products closely parallel the national picture, Charles K. Baker, Extension general marketing specialist at Texas A&M University, notes.

A NEW report, issued by the US Department of Agriculture's Economic Research Service, summarizes recent trends in farm and retail costs, marketing costs and the relationship between what people earn and what they pay for food.

There has been a rise of 14 percent during the 1960's in the cost at the grocery store for US farm foods. The largest upswing in cost has been since 1964. During the same period the consumer Price Index rose 20.4 percent.

The standard used to measure changing cost, called the Market Basket, is a fixed amount of food produced on US farms that is bought by an average household in a year. This gauge shows food costs rose at an annual average of .6 of a percent between 1957-59 and 1964. The increase averaged 2.5 percent every year between 1964 and 1968.

HOWEVER, the food costs did not rise as much as the wages of food buyers. Percent of income spent by average Americans for food declined from 20.7 percent to 17.4 percent from 1957 to 1967.

Both US and Texas farmers received about 39 cents from every dollar spent for food in 1968. This, Baker noted, was an increase of one cent over 1967. The farmer's share, arranged by food groups, varied from 19 cents out of the dollar for bakery and cereal products to about 55 cents for poultry and eggs.

Animal products usually return more to the producer than any other because of the increased cost input.

Processors, packagers, transporters and all other persons involved in bringing the food from the farm to the retail store check-out counter divided the remaining 61 cents.

Grain sorghum chaff

By WES ANTHONY
Aren't we about the luckiest people in the world?
OUR NEW potato shed is fast becoming a reality. And isn't it good to know that it is owned by local people?
It is a sight to go down and see the onion sets, onion seed, carrot and corn seed that are stacked up in the local warehouses, waiting for weather suitable for planting all of them.

I'll bet it won't be long until we will have a vegetable canning plant right here.

OUR WET milling plant is very fast becoming a reality. The near future will be seeing us ship train-loads of starches and syrups.

And another good thing is that it is practically home-owned. Did you ever see so small a place with so much industry owned by home people? Looks like a great future, doesn't it?

But just think, folks — if we didn't have the water, we couldn't have all these good things. Join your Castro County Water Association TODAY. Let's prepare for the coming generations, as our forefathers did for us.

A FARMER and a banker were boat-riding when suddenly the boat turned over. The farmer was very excited. He called to the banker, "Jim, can you float alone?"

The banker replied, "John, don't you think this is a queer time to talk business?"

Quail population declines with food

The physical condition and population of bobwhite quail are determined to a great extent by the availability and nutritional values of wild game foods, according to Horace Gore, wildlife supervisor in Waco for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

GORE SAYS food habit studies for quail indicate that as long as good quality food is available, quail maintain or gain weight. But when these foods disappear, the weights decrease accordingly. Forage with less nutrition might sustain life, but usually results in a less vigorous bird.

In a bobwhite quail study conducted in Hill, Baylor, and Throckmorton Counties, the November average was one quail per five acres. The coveys averaged 13¼ birds.

The following February averages for the same counties were one quail per nine acres and the average covey contained 10 individuals. This represents a population decrease of 45 percent.

Egg men brighten nature's package

An egg carton's artistry can influence the customer's decision of whether or not to buy the eggs.

COLORS, picture of hens and farm yards and psychedelic designs appear on today's egg cartons. What type do homemakers prefer?

Dr. David Mellor, Extension poultry marketing specialist, and Dr. Fred Gardner and Lionel Lane of the poultry science department, conducted surveys to find the likes and dislikes of consumers toward egg packaging.

They found that 43 percent of those questioned preferred a plastic foam type carton. Other choices included the standard molded pulp, paperboard cartons, a new see-through carton and a sleeve type carton. Homemakers chose the foam carton because it was new, different, eye appealing, strong, easy to open, easy to remove eggs from and for overall cleanliness and freshness.

A majority of the consumers said they opened their egg cartons in the store before buying to check the number, soundness of shell and uniformity of eggs.

CONSUMERS also were asked their preference on carton decorations. The winning carton showed a kitchen scene of eggs in a basket and copper tea kettle on a table. A colorful modern new design followed closely.

Many consumers indicated carton decorations did not make any difference and therefore they chose a plain carton with the mod design egg on it.

Price reports:

From telegrams to bra straps, space program aids all of us

By REP. BOB PRICE
(District 18, Texas)

The highly successful flights of Apollo 8 and 9 are ample proof of the careful research, planning, management and training that have gone into the space program. One more Apollo 9 flight is scheduled before the actual moon landing planned for next summer.

AS A NEW member of the House Science and Astronautics Committee, I have had the benefit during recent weeks of extensive briefings and a committee tour of NASA installations including Cape Kennedy, the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, the Marshall Space Flight Center, and other installations where plans are being projected beyond the moon landing.

What I have seen and heard seems almost fantastic. Ten years ago, I wouldn't have believed it, and have some difficulty now in realizing the accomplishments, values and benefits of the space program.

A study made by the Subcommittee on NASA Oversight, to which I have been appointed indicates that the space program, has had a profound impact upon the lives of all Americans and that the United States can look forward to increasing applications of space-developed research in the future.

MANY spin-off applications of the program are already in various stages of development and application. One of the projects the Apollo 9 astronauts undertook was a multispectral photography experiment, and one of the areas photographed was Arizona farm lands.

The US Department of Agriculture and NASA want to know if orbital photography can detect signs of drought and plant disease. Success could mean, when experiments such as this become operational, they could provide information that would afford farmers time to save their crops.

Already, of course, we are utilizing the communications capabilities of COMSAT from the orbiting satellites launched by NASA and others will be launched this year. The use of satellites for the transmission of telephone calls and telegrams between North America and Europe has been highly successful as has been the instantaneous TV broadcast of important news events such as President Nixon's recent trip to Europe. COMSAT plans to extend commercial satellite communications to more than two-thirds of the world.

Weather satellites, coupled with recent advances in high-speed computer technology, promise for the first time accurate meteorological prediction, both short and long term. At present, the United States and the rest of the world are still a long way from an accurate five-day forecast, much less a two-week forecast, but NASA and the Weather Bureau, under the Environmental Science Services Administration, are working on it. The results look promising, and perhaps the day of accurate weather forecasts is not too far distant — Possibly we will eventually be able to actually modify and control the weather.

ANOTHER promising program now under development, and one which offers great potential to the entire world, is the earth resources program. NASA's meteorological satellite and manned space flight programs have demonstrated that certain phenomena can be better understood when viewed from a great distance. These programs have demonstrated that it is possible to observe from space such things as sea ice fields, geological and geographical formations and boundaries, and to determine ocean surface temperatures and temperature gradients.

Also, man for the first time has the ability of seeing beneath the surface of the water and soil cover and of surveying large sections of the earth and its environment, repeatedly at various times and seasons, by the utilization of remote sensors in satellites.

These sensors can be used for the discovery, inventory, evaluation, development and conservation of natural and cultural resources. The resources which can be studied in this manner include minerals, water, soil, crops, timber, housing and transportation networks. Instruments appropriate to this work in earth orbital spacecraft possess a number of distinct advantages — rapidly and continuity of observation, greater freedom from weather disturbances, synoptic views for regional synthesis, reduced data acquisition times, reduced costs and better quality data. Facts acquired from these sensors can be used for regional and continental long-range planning.

THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture and NASA have signed a contract for the use of remote sensing equipment to make larger area surveys of land use, detect forest fires, assist in predicting future crop yields, wa'n of insect infestations, determine specific locations suitable for growing certain crops, locate potentially reclaimable land, and monitor wildlife migrations. Other commercial applications of orbital data include ocean shipping, commercial fishing, oceanography, water resources, and mapping.

The program has also had a significant impact upon modern day medical practice as well as the computer industry. Space suits created for the Apollo project are being tested for use in foundries and other industries where protection is needed against extreme heat or cold, and the suits might be adapted for use in firefighting and rescue work in toxic environments.

However, males are not the only beneficiaries of space-suit technology. Laminating techniques for mending linings and outer material and advanced filament-winding techniques have been applied to brassiere supports. And, many other spin-off benefits are being applied commercially.

'Mind control' talk set tonight

How much of your mind do you use? Scientists say perhaps 10 to 20 percent of it.

IN A free lecture tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in Plainview's Holiday Inn, psychologist Harry McKnight will tell area residents how to use simple mental exercises "to open the door of your mind to new experiences and opportunities."

McKnight has studied mind-control techniques at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala., Tulane University at New Orleans, in Rome and at the University of Texas.

The purpose of mind control is to improve skills within your intellectual potentials such as concentration, memory retention, creative imagination, and verbal and artistic motivation.

"MIND CONTROL" as taught by the sponsoring Institute of Psychorientology, Inc., was developed by Jose Silva of Laredo, who in 1944 began his study of all areas of psychology. His main interest was in the "psi" factor, and he has done research in the field for 24 years.

Mind control is a form of concentration similar to that used in Yoga, but the teaching method developed by Silva is designed to create heightened awareness in a shorter time.

The Silva method is aimed at helping a person adapt his body to modern stress and protect it from emotionally and psychologically caused illnesses. It also is designed to help persons correct such disturbing habit patterns as excessive drinking, smoking, over-eating, nervous tension, shyness and insomnia.

Easter Seal Society is conducting annual appeal to maintain services

"Do you know a handicapped person who needs help and isn't getting it?" is the question being asked by Mrs. Walter Maynard, who is Castro County's Easter Seal representative and the person to contact for services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

THE EASTER Seal Society offers rehabilitation services to help disabled persons and their families to find and make the most effective use of resources which will be helpful to them in developing their abilities and living more purposeful lives, Mrs. Maynard said.

This is accomplished through direct treatments, services, education, research, and cooperative efforts with all other health agencies, private, state and federal. The Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services, but strives to fill all unmet needs of the disabled, she added.

The Texas Easter Seal Society is carrying out its 40th annual Easter Seal Appeal to finance a program of rehabilitation services for crippled children and adults. The Texas Easter Seal Society helps support 21 treatment facilities where children and adults are treated regardless of ability to pay. Physical therapy and speech and hearing programs are offered to help the disabled make their lives fuller, despite their handicaps.

MRS. MAYNARD urged all Castro County residents to increase their support of the Texas Easter Seal Society and its program of services to the crippled children and adults.

Anyone who could benefit from rehabilitation services should contact Mrs. Maynard at the First State Bank of Dimmitt.

Tony Haberer, 23, rodeo performer, killed in crack-up

Tony Haberer, 23-year-old professional rodeo performer who was well known in southern Castro County, was killed March 21 when his private plane crashed in rugged mountain country 25 miles southwest of Fort Stockton.

ALSO KILLED in the crash was Haberer's passenger, Tom Moews, 27, of Portales, N.M.

Haberer's Mooney Mark 21 crashed while en route from Carlsbad to McAllen. A Civil Air Patrol pilot spotted the wreckage at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday of last week, ending a five-day search for the missing plane.

A search party reached the wreck scene at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday and recovered the bodies of the two young rodeo performers, taking them to a funeral home in Odessa.

Funeral services for Haberer were held at 3 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church of Earth. Burial was in Earth Cemetery.

A LIFETIME resident of the Earth community, Haberer was named the all-around cowboy in the American Junior Rodeo Association in 1963 and 1964, and later turned professional. He was a member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association, and traveled to rodeos by plane.

Moews was a sophomore at Eastern New Mexico University, attending under the GI Bill, and was a member of the college's rodeo team. He is survived by his wife, Virginia, of Portales.

Haberer was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie M. Haberer of Earth. His other survivors include his wife, Sharon, and daughter, Ronda Gale, both of Sonora; a sister, Mrs. Jerry Tunnell of Littlefield; two brothers, Ronnie of Hugo, Okla., and Gary Don of Earth; and his grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Cantrell of Amherst.

Price tells why he fought raise

Congress passed a big pay raise for itself recently, but Congressman Bob Price has let it be known that he didn't go along with it.

PRICE LAST week issued a statement to his local contacts telling of his opposition to the "unwarranted increases" for Supreme Court justices, cabinet members, congressmen, and other high ranking officials.

Here is Price's statement:

"The authorization for the proposed increases were included in the Postal Revenue and Federal Pay Act of 1967, which included a three-stage salary increase for civilian federal employees that was intended to close the so-called 'comparability gap' between salaries of private employees and government workers. Another provision of the act was the establishment of a commission to recommend rates of pay for judges, administration executives and members of Congress.

"In a roll call vote I opposed the establishment of the commission but the proposal carried and was enacted into law.

"THE COMMISSION, known as the Kappel Commission, made its report to the President, who in turn scaled the recommendations down considerably and submitted them to Congress on Jan. 15. In accordance with provisions of the act, the increases became effective after 30 days unless disapproved by Congress.

"I and several other members introduced resolutions to disapprove the increases and to bring the issue to a vote on the House floor. But the House Rules Committee, by a vote of 12-3, refused to send the proposal to the floor so the House membership had no opportunity to vote at all. The Senate did bring it to a vote but voted against disapproving the pay raises.

"I also voted against the resolution to recess Congress from Friday, Feb. 7, to Monday, Feb. 17, during which time the pay increase would become effective. That resolution was offered by the House Democratic majority leader and was objected to by Rep. H. R. Gross, a Republican of Iowa who also opposed the pay raise.

"Actually, 199 members, including myself, voted against establishment of the Kappel Commission on Oct. 11, 1967, when the bill was passed.

"On Feb. 4, I introduced the two resolutions to disapprove the pay increase and bring it to a vote on the House floor. On Feb. 5, I voted against the resolution to recess Congress for the period during which the increase would automatically become effective. A total of 25 members opposed that resolution."

Your heated home - drier than desert?

Just by heating your home in the winter, you may be creating air conditions drier than the desert.

AND, ACCORDING to W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer at Texas A&M University, such dry conditions in a home can lead to respiratory problems, high heating bills, and extreme drying of furniture and floors.

When the humidity is low—and it can drop as low as five or ten percent in your home—the moisture on your skin evaporates rapidly and you feel chilly. So you turn up the heat and the air gets even drier.

To solve this low humidity problem, Allen suggests these several solutions:

IN HOMES with hot air heating systems, an automatic humidifier unit can be fitted into the furnace air ducts. These units must be cleaned occasionally and hard water can be a problem in some areas, but the result is better health and more comfort at a reduction in heating costs.

Where there is no hot air systems, freestanding humidifier units can be purchased. Some of these force water vapor into the air with a heating unit. But new, improved units now can put out moisture without heat by means of a centrifugal atomizing unit.

The engineer also suggests another less formal and more old-fashioned method of humidifying a house. It's a steaming tea kettle. Not only does it add considerable amounts of moisture to the air, but it's particularly good, he adds, when your family is suffering from colds.

On the Go
MR. AND MRS. Ray Bearden visited relatives in Oklahoma City last weekend.

ONE OF two remaining five-cent items, the chocolate bar, may be doomed, according to Extension home economists. In the past three years, the chocolate cravers have gobbled up all the world's yearly production and most of the reserves. The result: increase in prices from 17 cents a pound in 1965 to 49 cents. Other factors which may jeopardize the nickel candy bar are the higher manufacturing and distribution costs.
