MEAT CANNING AS NATIONAL RELIEF MEASURE

To date 137 Texas counties of the 254 have been placed in the drought area by the federal government relief set-up. There is a Texan, Col. Lawrence Westbrook, assistant federal relief administrator. He has drafted a program in a booklet. Its distribution to state emergency relief administrators has begun. News of the proposed relief plan followed a report that a corporation empowered to establish factories for the relief of the unemployed was to be formed for the District of Columbia by the government. Indeed, it is said the relief administration has had under consideration for months the leasing of idle factories to produce or process both goods and food for distribution to the needy. Federal Relief Director Harry L. Hopkins is absent on a European trip, but federal officials in the City of Washington said it was unlikely the Westbrook canning plant plans had been distributed without the administrator's approval.

Texas has a federally-aided meat canning chain where 19 such plants have been operated in state relief work. Texas blazed the way in working arrangements between relief and extension agents in Texas in relief canning. "Therefore, the Texas plan for co-operation and the plan for meat canning were accepted in Washington to be recommended to other states in the drought relief meat canning program," according to Miss Mildred Horton, Texas state home demonstration agent, who has just returned from Washington where she was called by the Hopkins relief commission set-up to draft the national plan. It is said that officials finally passing on the plans represented the FERA, AAA, the bureau of home economics and the extension service, after which Col. Lawrence Westbrook, director of rural rehabilitation and assistant director of the FERA, formally accepted them for the relief administration and had them issued to relief agencies throughout the nation.

Commenting, Miss Horton emphasized the fact that the plans which worked so well in the Texas relief meat canning last winter and which she had adapted to use in the nation are the product of experience. Texas conducts extension work on a demonstration basis, the idea brought into agricultural teaching by Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, the founder of the extension service. Rural homes in Texas carrying on the pantry demonstration, have been growing centers of meat canning since 1918, when Miss Horton herself, then home demonstration agent in Jasper county, canned the first whole cow ever to go into cans.

Based on Texas relief commission figures, Col. Westbrook has estimated that the cost of equipment in a small plant would be $1000 to $1500; in a medium sized plant, $2000 to $2500; and in a large plant, $2500 to $4500. Yes, "Texas blazed the way in the working arrangement between relief and extension agents long before the Texas plan for co-operation was adopted by the Washington officials—since rural homes in Texas carrying on the pantry demonstration have been growing centers of meat canning since 1918." It pays to be prepared. The most disastrous drought in years has come in the wake of the depression years and when summer goes out winter will come in.

The motorist is paying his gasoline tax, as well as many other taxes relating to motor vehicles, but the money collected from this source in many instances is diverted into channels that have nothing to do with the building or maintenance of roads.

BOY SAVES MOTHER FROM NEGRO'S GRIP

KILGORE, Aug. 2.—A nine year old boy today saved his mother, Mrs. May Johnson, from attack, possibly death, at the hands of a negro housebreaker.

The negro entered the home while Johnson, oil field worker, was away. The boy awoke to find the negro holding Mrs. Johnson on the floor with his knee while he choked her with his hands. The lad took a rifle from a closet and held the muzzle against the negro's back. The negro released Mrs. Johnson and fled.

Ranger George Johnson and local officers were conducting an intensive search for the negro.

Poultry And Egg Shipments Down

AUSTIN.—Shipments of poultry and eggs from Texas to interstate points during June were considerably below those of the similar month of last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Total shipments amounted to only 87 cars, against 131 cars in June, 1933, a drop of 34 per cent. Poultry shipments totalled 51 cars, compared with 84 last year, and egg shipments 36 cars, against 47 cars respectively for the two corresponding periods.

Receipts of eggs from outside states totalled 28 cars, compared with 18 cars in June of last year. The origin of these receipts for this June were: Kansas, 25 cars; and Missouri, Nebraska, and Iowa each one. In June last year seventeen cars were brought in from Kansas and one from Oklahoma.

Pea Seeds From Tut's Tomb Grow

EVERETT, Mass.—Seeds taken from King Tut's tomb are responsible for the attractive sweet pea plot in Charles W. Benton's back yard.

A relative in Sweden, fearing to plant the seeds because of the "curse of the Pharaohs," sent them to Benton.

It is estimated that the seeds are at least 4,000 years old.

DESDEMONA Made Big Effort To Increase Oil Production Without Receiving a Flood of Protests

Mrs. Henry... had... her... orders for Texas oil fields set... new high for something, although production was reduced... Late one Thursday afternoon, the commission issued its state-wide orders with a statement that looked sugar-coated. Digging deep for ungarish facts, newspapermen ran into a curious contradiction... "What reduction in East Texas production was ordered?" a railroad commissioner was asked. The statement didn't say... "Oh, we raised the allowable for East Texas from 4.5 per cent of the hourly potential to 5 per cent. Didn't you read it?" came the answer... "Nevertheless, isn't it true that the August order proposes to reduce East Texas production from around 475,000 barrels to approximately 400,000 barrels daily?" persisted a newspaperman... It was admitted... "We wished to avoid glaring headlines about East Texas oil production being cut," explained the commissioner. "We didn't want a lot of people down here on our necks..." A moment later the newspaperman remarked about the commissioner's courage in issuing an oil reduction order two days before an election... "We do our duty regardless of elections and consequences," the commissioner said... Telephones buzzed the following day. From Kilgore came instructions to hold up the East Texas order. A mimeographing machine clattered to a stop. Printed copies were junked. It had been learned that if the commission really wanted to reduce East Texas production to 400,000 barrels daily, the specified 5 per cent of the hourly potential wouldn't do it... At evening the correct percentage figure still was not known in the Austin office... Came election day, but no order for East Texas... "Oh, men at the last statewide hearing who bet a couple of barrels or so that East Texas production would not be cut until after the election, set out to collect their winnings... The commission made a real effort to curb East Texas production to 400,000 barrels daily, the figure set by its petroleum engineer, Gordon Griffin, as the maximum point of efficiency for field operation. Reason: potential declines... Griffin testified the top allowable of 60 barrels in the north government field should be reduced to 35, involving a decrease in the field's production of approximately 6,922 barrels daily. Reason: potential declines... Griffin recommended also that new Hull field's allowable be reduced from 7,521 barrels daily to 4,362. Reason: potential declines... The commission accepted Griffin's recommendation for East Texas, but did not reduce allowables in north government and new Hull fields... Why? The East Texas operators will want to know... A gangster in Cleveland, O., committed suicide because of ill health, although... CARBON... Special Correspondent... Rev. A. A. Davis closed his two weeks meeting here Sunday night. Rev. Davis did some good preaching and closed the meeting with six baptized and three candidates waiting for baptism... Mrs. S. T. Oliver and daughter are guests of her daughter, Mrs. M. A. Walker, and family... The election here Saturday was rather "warm," but all went off smoothly and everybody same old friends... J. S. Lomax and wife, John Crenshaw and wife and son of Meridian, W. G. Frazier and wife and two children, Mrs. Jennie Mae Morgan and daughter, and Miss Laister Gilmp, all of Levelland, Howard Reed and family and Miss Gertrude Lomax of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hazle and Mrs. Douglas Kilgore of Cisco were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reed... W. S. Houck has returned from Galveston, where he went for examination at the government hospital. Mr. Houck was doing NRA work last fall and received serious injuries and is now on crutches after the X-ray examination at the hospital. He was sent home with promise of compensation... Mrs. W. M. Burns and daughter, Miss Opel of Dalhart, are guests of her sister, Mrs. W. W. McNeese and family... Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Myrick of Longview are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin... Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Lampkin and son of Avalon are guests of Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Walker... Henry Peterson of Stamford was visiting his sister, Mrs. Bub Thurman, and family, last week... Ernest Reese has his mother from Peacock as guest in the home... Marvin Guy and his grand-mother, Mrs. Brummel, went to Fort Worth last week to visit Mrs. Brummel's daughter, Mrs. Roy Camp, and family... G. C. and Ted Adkins and Red Traylor are in South Texas after three truck loads of peanuts, but heavy rains delayed the loading out for several days. The peanut plant is ready to begin shelling immediately upon the arrival of the peanuts... Mr. and Mrs. George Galloway of San Diego, Calif., were last week guests of her cousin, Mrs. Devore Dover, and family, and her uncle, W. A. Robertson, and family... Mrs. Clark and Wilson with their families attended a family reunion at the home of their father, J. L. Brown, at Sabano, Sunday... Mrs. D. C. Brazell of Albany is the guest of her sisters, Mmes. Clark and Wilson... Mrs. Verna Mae Thurman of San Angelo is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Tucker... Mr. and Mrs. Hayland Arnett and Miss Gladys Palmer of Abilene were visiting friends here last week-end. Mr. Arnett and Miss Palmer came over to cast their votes but got here three minutes after the polls had closed. Miss Palmer was the guest of Miss Blanche Yarbrough... W. J. Greer and family spent Sunday in Comanche, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dock McNeill, and bringing their daughter, Joydene, home, who had been visiting there... Mr. and Mrs. Willie Garrett of Gladewater were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Reese Wednesday... Rev. A. A. Davis is now in a meeting at Hillan. Mrs. Davis will leave Wednesday to take her niece, Miss Elnora Hastings, home to Italy, Texas, and will return to Hillan for the meeting.

CARD OF THANKS... I am thankful from the depth of my heart for the splendid vote that Eastland and surrounding country gave me in the election Saturday. A last report was circulated in every voting box in the county that I had no chance to be elected, that I was opposed to the common schools and that my home-people would not support me. Such a report, circulated to late for people to investigate, lost hundreds of votes for me. The report came to Cisco early Saturday morning but it had no effect on the people of my home box. The vote in Cisco indicated that the report was false and untrue and given for no other purpose than to get votes... I am not opposed to the rural schools and reports to that effect are given out by people who are looking for votes. I am in favor of the people having the say about their schools and being given a chance to build up their schools instead of tearing them down. Some people misunderstood my idea about placing the children above the fifth grade out of the small schools. My idea in this statement is simply to place the children of the upper grades in crowded schools where the teacher is unable to teach all, in the larger school. Not require this in all schools but only in those schools where conditions demand some grouping. If a school is able to teach these upper grades permit them to do so... I am very happy indeed to be in the finals in this race and I hope that each of my friends will become active in my behalf from now on until and on election day to offset any last minute campaign rumors such as was circulated the last days before election in the first primary. I want to again thank my friends from the depths of my heart for that whole-hearted support given me last Saturday... T. C. WILLIAMS

Big Foot' Wallace Had Small Feet Woman Recalls

FORT WORTH, Tex.—The feet of Big Foot Wallace, famous Texas Indian fighter, were not big, according to Mrs. Annie Grimes of Fort Worth, who knew Wallace.

Popular conception for nearly a century has credited the big fighter, whose battle with an Indian in a West Texas canyon is a gem of Texas history, with wearing shoes size 14.

"Big Foot used to visit in our home a great deal and his feet really were small for so tall a man," Mrs. Grimes said. Mrs. Grimes is the widow of Ranger Lieut. A. C. Grimes, who served in the old Frontier Battalion.

There are two conflicting stories of how Big Foot got the name. Mrs. Grimes said that Big Foot once explained to her how he came by it. Down near Austin an Indian with record-breaking feet was killed. In some way Wallace was given credit for the deed. Afterwards he was labeled "Big Foot."

Another oft-told explanation is that Wallace was captured by Mexicans during the War of Texas Independence. He drew a white bean and was spared facing a firing squad. He was sent to Mexico City as a prisoner. There were no shoes in the city large enough for him, so he had to go barefoot until a pair was constructed.

Regardless of how Big Foot obtained the title, it is one of the most famous in Texas annals, ensnared by his own account of a picturesque but bloody fight with an Indian of equally bulky size.

In 1842 Wallace was with a pack of the Frontier Battalion hunting Indians on the head waters of the Llano river. One evening the smoke of an Indian camp was sighted. Wallace obtained permission of the captain to scout the camp.

Two hours before dawn the next day, Wallace was making his way alone up a narrow canyon. Head bent low, he rounded a corner in the canyon and bumped heads with an Indian evidently bent on scouting the Frontier Battalion.

In the narrowness of the canyon, their guns were useless. They engaged in a hand-to-hand combat, each trying to get to his knife. The Indian was Wallace's match in stature. His body was covered with grease, giving him a dead-end advantage.

Finally Wallace knocked him against a canyon wall. The Indian's head struck on an outcropping rock and for an instant he was dazed. Wallace thrust his knife into the Indian.

The moment he felt the cold steel, he threw me off as if I had been a 10-year-old boy," Wallace wrote years after the incident. "He sprang upon me before I could rise and drew his own knife."

"I tell you boys, I often see that Indian in my dreams, grasping me by the throat with his left hand, his glittering butcher knife raised in his right, his two fierce eyes gleaming like a panther's in the dark."

The Indian swung his knife. It whistled past Wallace's ear. The big Indian slumped forward with the knife-thrust, a death dealing blow. But the blood had blinded the Indian. His aim was amiss and the knife sank in the ground beside Wallace's head.

"I threw him off of me and he tumbled to the bottom of the canyon, stone dead," Wallace wrote. "I looked at him for sometime and said to myself: 'Well, old fellow, you made agood fight and if luck had been with you, you would have taken my sign. I'm going to give you a decent burial.'"

Then Wallace did a thing rare to the frontier. He buried the Indian.

ROAD SINKS FROM SIGHT
ST. WEDEL, Wis.—A section of road between Centerville and Mee-me running through a gumbo bog two miles west of here, which has settled about two feet yearly, suddenly sank from sight recently beneath 14 feet of water and sludge. The weight of many tons of gravel dumped on yearly to maintain its level heaved a grove of elm and...

JUDGE, 95, FLEW 1,500 MILES
JEFFERSON, Mo.—95 year old John Ferguson, county justice of the peace, covered more than 1,500 miles in an airplane while taking part in Missouri's second annual air tour of the state.

COW HUNG SELF
FOREST GROVE, Ore.—A cow belonging to Carl Johnson died by hanging herself in the croch of a cherry tree. It was believed the animal lost her footing while reaching for berries.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD, By William Ferguson

The FLICKER IS THE REALTOR OF THE BIRD WORLD. HIS HOLES PROVIDE HOMES FOR DOZENS OF KINDS OF BIRDS, AS WELL AS MANY SMALL MAMMALS.

THE WORM-LIKE PERIPATUS ENSNARES INSECTS BY SHOOTING STICKY THREADS AT THEM.

LARGE FIRES SOMETIMES CAUSE CLOUDS TO FORM, WITH ENOUGH RAIN TO EXTINGUISH THE BLAZE.

CLOUDS frequently form over forest fires, and are identical in character with those clouds which form on summer days when currents of moist air rise from heated ground.

One Important Cotton Problem Is Cleared Up

AUSTIN.—One important point in the cotton situation has been cleared up during the last month, and that is the acreage planted to cotton in the United States, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research in his monthly report on the cotton situation. According to the Federal Crop Reporting Board the number of acres in cotton June 1 was 28,024,000. This is the smallest acreage planted to cotton in the United States since 1905.

"The big IF in the cotton situation now is, what will the government's estimate of yield be Aug. 8?" Dr. Cox explained. Consensus of opinion now is that the crop will be under ten million bales and some place it as low as eight and a half million. The prospective low yield is due partly to excessive moisture in some eastern states, especially North Carolina and Alabama, but more especially to one of the severest droughts and periods of high temperatures in Texas and Oklahoma in the history of these states.

"All information coming in from foreign countries confirms earlier indications that foreign cotton-producing countries are taking advantages of United States forced reduction of acreage to increase their acreage. As a result, world acreage will be increased this year over last."

"Prospective shorter supplies of American cotton continues to widen the parity between American middling and No. 1 Oomro. Two years ago the price of No. 1 Oomro was about 90 per cent of the price of American middling in Liverpool. Last year it declined to about 80 per cent, and now it is about 70 per cent. This increasing spread between the price of American cotton and foreign cotton, especially Indian and Egyptian, is causing widespread substitution of other growths for American cotton. This is especially true in the Orient where Indian is taking the place of American cotton."

Candidates Ran for Jobs Back in 1892

STEPHENVILLE, Texas.—Candidates this year who have a tendency to complain about the hard work in running for one office, probably would not even have tackled the job if it were the same as in 1892.

In that year candidates in this county ran for two offices at the same time. Isaac Fulfer ran for justice of peace in precinct 7 and for county commissioner in precinct 4.

Another candidate, B. F. Flinn, ran for constable in precinct 5 and for county commissioner in precinct 3.

SAD NEWS AFTER 16 YEARS

WARREN, Idaho.—Mrs. F. E. Johnsen of Boise, Idaho, at last received the sad news. A new postmaster here was cleaning up his office and found a letter addressed to her, dated March 29, 1918. It said her mother was seriously ill.

TOWN PUMP POPULAR

REDFEY, Ind.—The old town pump may be forgotten equipment in some communities, but it has come back to Redfey in all its glory. The town council has installed two pumps. Bright, new tin cups dangle from the handle.

NIGHT HAWK LAID EGGS ON ROOF

LEWISTON, Me.—The gravelled roof of Kate Anthony's home was selected by a night hawk as its summer residence. It laid two eggs. One failed to hatch, but from the second came a young night hawk which is thriving in its "penthouse" home.

RODE IN BIRTHPLACE

EUGENE, Ore.—Queen Mother of Eugene, Oregon Trail sageant this year, Mrs. Blanca Reed Hill, Dixonville, Ore., rode in the parade in the wagon in which she was born 84 years ago. Mrs. Hill was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Reed, Oregon Trail pioneers of 1850. She was born in the wagon box at the foot of Mt. Hood, Oct. 2, 1850. The "linchpin" wagon, with many other pioneer relics, is now owned by Cal Young, of Eugene.

WANTED PAY FOR RAIN

TOPEKA, Kan.—Scarcely had the debris from a recent wind and rain storm been cleared away when a Kaw Indian chief called on the secretary of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, seeking remuneration for bringing rain. Landon held the shower was not sufficient to warrant a special appropriation for his services.

LINCOLN GUARD DEAD

PAINESVILLE, O.—George Watkins, 92, for three months special guard at the White House during President Lincoln's regime died recently in a hospital here. Watkins served with the First Ohio Regiment in the Civil War. His home was in Madison, O., near here.

150-YEAR-OLD FLAG FOUND

MANCHESTER, O.—An old Colonial flag, believed at least 150 years old, was found in the musty loft of an abandoned log cabin at Tranquility, near here, by Edward Palmer. The flag contained 13 stars and 13 bars.

To Run Bus Line

Board and room or rooms for light house keeping may be secured much cheaper than in most places. But in order to serve even greater numbers and to extend the advantages of staying at home and attending college to neighboring towns and communities and thus make it possible for many students to attend college that otherwise could not otherwise do so and for all to attend more economically, Ranger Junior College is planning to operate busses from Gordon by way of Carbon, Eastland, and Olden and from Breckenridge by way of Parks to Ranger.

These busses would charge only a small amount monthly, depending somewhat on distance; so that the maximum cost for transportation, tuition, and fees would come to less than $160.00 for the year. This is less than half the cost of tuition and living expenses at almost any other college in Texas, and the students have the advantage of staying at home while attending college.

Bankruptcies are Down by One Half

HOUSTON.—The number of bankruptcies filed during the past fiscal year in the southern district of Texas was only a little more than half of the number filed during the preceding years, according to the federal district clerk's annual report filed to the attorney general.

Between July 1, 1933 and July 1, 1934, there were 134 bankruptcies filed in Houston, Galveston, Laredo, Corpus Christi, Victoria and Brownsville. During the preceding year there were 270 cases filed.

Boy Goes Guaranteed Catches Beer Shop

FORT WORTH.—Ten's Cafe, 12, went fishing. He came home with a baby crane.

Seated under a tree on the bank, Roy was growing a bit tired of waiting for a fish to pull at his line. He was half dozing when he felt something hit in his lap.

It was a baby crane which had fallen from a nest on a limb of the tree.

EXHAUST SPARK INJURES GIRL

FRESNO, Cal.—Sparks from the exhaust pipe of an automobile put Evelyn Gooch, 20, of Fresno, in a hospital. The girl, riding with friends, became alarmed when she saw sparks flow from the pipe, thought the automobile was afire, and leaped out, injuring her head.

What College Should We Choose?

WHY PEOPLE OF THIS SECTION SHOULD PATRONIZE RANGER JUNIOR COLLEGE

By H. S. Von Roeder, Dean

Each year the question comes up for high school graduates and their parents as to choice of a college.

Texas itself has thirteen senior colleges and two junior colleges controlled by the State, eighteen independent senior colleges and seventeen independent junior colleges, besides five colleges of special subjects, such as musical conservatories, schools of fine arts, and theological seminaries, thus making a total of thirty-one senior and thirty-six junior colleges and five special schools that are rated as accredited colleges by the State Department of Education.

Naturally, with such a splendid array of good colleges in Texas and a vastly greater number of approved colleges in other portions of the United States each offering their various inducements and advantages to the high school graduates, the choice of a college to mold their futures, so to speak, becomes somewhat perplexing. By far the majority of high school graduates have not decided upon their life careers and perhaps can't decide before their second or third year in college.

Happily, however, there is enough standardization among the college as to curricula that the students all get a more broadening general training in the first two years of college work, so that they will lose little if any credits or time regardless of the college they attend. In other words, the basic requirements for various degrees and pre-professional courses in different colleges are pretty much the same and the credits made in one first class college are transferable at full value to other colleges.

Hence, the choice of a college for high school graduates develops upon other points.

Facilities For Learning

One of the chief items of consideration, of course, should be the facilities for learning and standards of instruction offered by the college. Many false notions prevail in this connection. Of course, there are good and had instructors in every institution perhaps, but again the standards as to qualifications of instructors are regulated by the State Department of Education and by the Association of Texas Colleges and Universities.

The standard set up is that the heads of departments must have M. A. degrees or have attained eminence in their particular line of teaching. Since the heads of departments in Ranger Junior College do practically all the teaching in the College, the students in this college get the benefit of better trained teachers than they do in many of the larger and particularly the senior colleges where they are often in classes under tutors and instructors who do not possess these qualifications.

The head of the Science department for Ranger Junior College the coming year has his Ph. D. degree and several of the others have done considerable work beyond their M. A. degrees. Furthermore, the opportunities for study and learning are far superior in smaller institutions with smaller classes under home conditions.

Much more individual attention is possible and is given and the instructors can and do show a more personal interest in the welfare and progress of students in Ranger Junior College than they do

MRS. COOPER APPRECIATES SPLENDID VOTE RECEIVED

TO THE VOTERS OF EASTLAND COUNTY:

I wish to express to you my grateful appreciation for your splendid support given me in the July 28 primaries, which enabled me to be one of the two to contest the election in the August run-off election. I am appealing to you for your continued support and pledge you a faithful discharge of the duties of the office of Treasurer of Eastland County should I be nominated and elected to the office. My one aim is to serve the county in a manner that will reflect credit upon my administration of the office, thereby proving myself worthy of the confidence you have reposed in me by your splendid support.

Sincerely,
Mrs. (Frances) Thornton Cooper

Civil War Park Memorial Planned

WASHINGTON.—As a memorial to one of the most strategic battles of the Civil war, Monocacy National Military park has been established on the site of the conflict which saw Union forces repulse a Confederate drive to capture the nation's capital, Director Arno B. Cammerer, of the national park service, announces.

President Roosevelt has signed a measure authorizing development and preservation of this historic area for park purposes. Besides its historical features, however, the new park possesses considerable scenic charm. It is flanked by the Catoctin mountains, while the Monocacy river flows directly through the battlefield.

The park is located on the Frederick-Washington boulevard, about three miles south of Frederick, Md. It is expected that land will be donated by patriotic organizations and individuals.

The Battle of Monocacy began on the morning of July 9, 1864, when a contingent of 7,000 Union men under Gen. Lew Wallace encountered 14,000 Confederate soldiers commanded by Gen. Jubal A. Early.

Although outnumbered two to one, Wallace's men fought doggedly and succeeded in holding their ground until 4:30 p. m. However, Wallace retreated only after the Confederates were delayed in their March on Washington and Union reinforcements could be dispatched by boat from Grant's army at City Point.

General Early and his troops actually reached Washington about 11 o'clock, July 11. They immediately began reconnoitering the city's defenses, preliminary to penetrating them.

Meanwhile, however, General Grant's troops reached Washington and a battle ensued at Fort Stevens, on the outskirts of the city. Following this engagement, General Early withdrew into Virginia.

TO ALL THE VOTERS OF EAST-LAND COUNTY, MY FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

From the bottom of my heart I want to thank you for your expression of confidence given me in the primary election Saturday, July 28.

I shall always cherish this devotion of friendship and assure you that I shall never knowingly, commit an act that would cause you to feel otherwise.

I feel like the principles of right and justice to all alike, are bound to prevail and when one has rendered a service to his community it is a lot of satisfaction to know that his friends approve of him.

My sister joins with me in sincerely thanking you.

UNION BANS SINGING WAITERS

CLEVELAND.—There were no singing waiters at Cafe Monaco when George Fox, Cleveland stage director, opened his "Barbary Coast." Fox had planned to have them. But the waiters' union said singers could not wait on tables and neither could waiters sing. So Fox solved his own problem by hiring union waitresses to wait on tables and his own waiters to fill among the tables.

White Shirts Plan Crusade Against Reds

By ED WERKMAN
ATLANTA, GA.—George W. Christians shouts for Americans to arise and destroy the gold standard, replacing it with a monetary system based on human effort so that economic liberty may be gained.

With headquarters in Chattanooga, Tenn., Christians, one-time successful engineer, has organized the Crusaders for Economic Liberty, known as the White Shirts, or White Crusaders.

Word of Caution
If necessary, Christians advocates force to gain the Crusader's patriotic-economic program of destruction of the gold standard, non-inflation, and repudiation of the public debt. In a general order to his White Shirts, however, he cautions no positive action should be taken until the units have been drilled and officered perfectly.

After this, preparations should be made for the march on Washington. This should not be undertaken, however, until generous donations, obtained from most people by appealing to their patriotism, have equipped the Crusaders. Fully outfitted, the Crusaders are to report to the Chattanooga headquarters, but are not to move until ordered.

The greatest strength of the Crusaders is in the northwestern states of Washington, Oregon and Idaho. The membership has been estimated at 35,000 although Christians, who sports a Hitler mustache, claims several times that number.

Program of White Shirts
The organization's program opposed to Socialism and republicanism have been established if Congress had passed "H. R. 4747, a bill to establish Economic Liberty in the United States of America, and for other purposes."

But despite a bombardment of letters and telegrams, Congressmen weren't interested in the bill.

The White Shirts is steadfastly opposed to Socialism and Communism. Christians feels the "socialistic program of the Roosevelt administration will regiment out people and finally take away their freedom, eventually leading to Communism which is tyranny in its worst form."

He advocates a subtle way of dealing with the Communist. He has an organization for them—the American Reds. This, he says, is a "real, live American organization under capable leadership and with a definite constructive patriotic program. Once we get the Communists in the organization we give them plenty to do and handle them easy."

Federal Funds For Ranger Jr. College

Supt. R. F. Holloway of the Ranger schools has been notified by the Educational Department at Washington of the continuance of student aid in the college for another session.

The amount will equal $135 for the session per student, those to receive this benefit will equal 12 per cent of last session's enrollment. Students will be employed in the college in specified types of work including secretarial, library and other phases of work which will be valuable experience in addition to the scholastic training. From 10 to 12 students may thus be benefited.

Fifty per cent of those to receive this assistance must be students who did not attend college last year.

You can't increase the comfort of your home by just rearranging the furniture, says a Cornell University report. But be sure to keep the couch handy for dad, if you also want to keep the peace.

Structural Steel For Observatory Now On Location

AUSTIN, Tex.—Information has reached here that the first of twelve to fifteen cars of structural steel for the dome of the W. J. McDonald Observatory of The University of Texas, to be erected on the summit of Mt. Locke, near Fort Davis, has arrived at Marfa and has been transported by truck to the site of the Observatory. The other cars will arrive at intervals as the work of assembling the steel progresses.

Alfred Craig, superintendent of construction, and his assistant, Harvey E. Shoups, are on the ground, having arrived from Cleveland, where the steel was fabricated. They were accompanied by Tom Peterson, son of C. J. Peterson, president of the company which fabricated the steel. About four months will be required in erecting the dome and the supporting structure, it was stated. The dome itself has been put together at Cleveland and will reach the site with every part in place.

During the progress of this work the construction of a caretaker's residence and homes of other employees adjacent to the Observatory will also be under way under the direction of Hugh C. Yantis of Austin, superintendent of construction of University buildings.

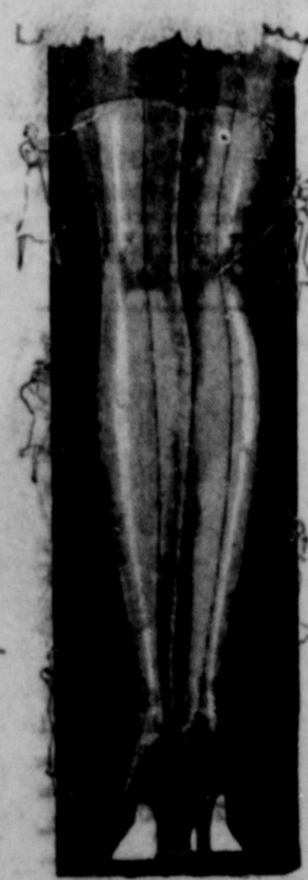

Cotton Textile Industry Suffers Severe Decline

AUSTIN.—The Texas cotton textile industry suffered a severe decline during June in comparison with both the previous month and June, 1933, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Consumption of cotton by Texas mills totaled only 3,771 bales, a drop of 38 per cent from May and 51 per cent from June last year. The usual seasonal decline from May to June is 4.5 per cent. Production totaling 3,927,000 yards, was 36 per cent less than May and 44 per cent below June last year. The usual seasonal decline is 5.4 per cent.

Other factors, including the amount of cloth sold, unfilled orders, and spindle hours, showed similar declines, the bureau's report said.

Spinners ratio margin declined three points from 164 in May to 161, according to the bureau. The decline in the ratio margin was due to the general rise in prices, for the pence margin increased from 3.94d (pence) in May to 4.01d (pence) in June. During June, 1933, the ratio margin averaged 160, and the pence margin 3.67d (pence). These figures indicate a relatively strong position for spinners.

JACK CARTER WAS DROWNED IN A CREEK

HOUSTON, July 31.—Two of nine convicts who escaped Sunday night from the No. 2 camp of the Marlem state prison farm were captured near Hot Wells, 20 miles northwest of Houston.

Weak from hunger and exertion the men were picked up by Deputy Sheriff Joe Trapolino and H. B. Shipley of Houston as they were about to board a freight train.

The convicts were G. F. Houston, 44, serving a four-year term for burglary at Longview, and J. L. Frame, 39, serving a two-year term from Dickens county for the same offense. They surrendered without a struggle.

A third member of the band which sawed its way to freedom through a barred window, Jack Carter, 26, serving a 99-year sentence from Dallas for robbery with firearms, was drowned when he attempted to swim Oyster creek to throw bloodhounds off their trail, Houston and Frame told officers.

MEXICO, Mo., July 31.—Two of the five convicts who escaped from the Indiana state prison at Michigan City, Ind., last week, were captured by local officers today after a gun fight on the campus of the Mexico High school.

Long Romance Will End Soon

TOLEDO, O.—A romance that has endured through long years of suffering and patience will have its happy reward Aug. 9 when Dorothy Christine Moeblus and Paul Metzger are married in St. Catherine of Sienna church.

The moment when Dorothy walks down the aisle of the church with only a scarcely noticeable limp, will be one she has looked forward to from an invalid's bed and a wheelchair.

In 1923, when the girl was 12, she received a serious injury. Riding on a bicycle, she was struck by an automobile conveyer—an immense trailer carrying nine auto bodies.

The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Moeblus, began a long struggle to restore their daughter to health.

The romance between Dorothy and Paul began six years ago, when Dorothy was still in high school and walking on crutches. Young Metzger, whose home is in Delphos, O., came to Toledo to work for Moeblus, his fiancée's father, operator of a vegetable greenhouse.

The two have gone together steadily, working and planning for Dorothy's recovery. As soon as she would be recovered sufficiently they planned to wed.

Cattle Buying In Eastland County Will Start Soon

Eastland county has been designated as an emergency drought relief county and the purchase of distressed cattle will begin within the next few days. County Agent J. C. Patterson and Administrative Assistant R. F. Lawrence will attend a meeting Saturday in Mineral Wells and receive instructions for handling the purchasing of cattle.

It is presumed that the work will begin immediately thereafter. There is no limit to the number of cattle that may be sold by any one farmer nor any definite information as to how long the purchasing will continue.

Those wishing to sell cattle under this plan should inform the county agent's office as soon as possible listing the number of cattle owned and the number desired to be sold. This listing places the producer under no obligation to sell in case he does not care to accept the appraised value.

Prices to be paid including the benefit payment are $12 to $20 for cattle two years of age and over, from $10 to $15 for ones two, and from $4 to $8 for cattle under one year of age. The minimum price in each class is paid for condemned cattle. The purchase price is paid to the holder if there is one, otherwise to the producer. All benefit payments go to producers. Cattle are appraised on the farm and delivered to shipping pens by producer when notified of shipping date. Condemned cattle are killed on the farm by veterinarian, producer being given the hide for destroying the killed animals. It is said that payment for cattle will be received in about two weeks after delivery.

R. F. LAWRENCE, Administrative Assistant.

Ranger Junior College to Have Its Own Bus Line

Quite an interest has been manifested on the part of students and parents who are seeking college opportunities for another year in the matter of the operation of a college bus from different sections of the county.

The Ranger school board has signified its willingness to operate a bus from the extremes of the county if sufficient guarantee can be had that the patronage for the college will justify it. Looking to that end a canvass is being made both in the north and the south sections of the county and in the Breckenridge territory to determine the demand for transportation to the college.

It is contemplated that a bus would start at Gorman each day and come to Ranger by way of Carbon, Eastland and Olden, reaching Ranger in time for school. Anyone interested in this proposition should communicate with Supt. R. F. Holloway, who will look after this territory. Dean Von Roeder is making a canvass of the north territory. It is hoped that many students of the outlying territory will thus be able to attend the college that otherwise would be deprived of college advantages.

During last session a number of students received aid from the federal government in paying their way through Ranger Junior College and application has been made by the school authorities for a larger amount of federal aid for another year and it is hoped that this will be secured. Those desiring to take advantage of this fund should make application to R. F. Holloway, president of the college.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrected His Constipation

If you are troubled by common constipation, read this letter: "Just a word in appreciation of what your ALL-BRAN has done for my health. For years, I had been dosing myself with pills and other dopes for constipation."

"I decided to try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Now I am in good health, and haven't taken a drop of medicine for six months."—Thos. F. Little, 564 E. Wheeling St., Lancaster, Ohio.

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness—any one of these may be caused by common constipation. Yet this condition can be corrected, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to help promote regularity. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much safer than patent medicines! Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal.

"If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all." Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Get ALL-BRAN, and not a part-bran product. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Federal Funds Aid Gettysburg Tourists

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—Approximately $50,000 in federal funds will be spent in the near future on a building program for the convenience of tourists who visit the historical Gettysburg battlefield.

The program includes the construction of five buildings, two of which will be entrance buildings, something new at the battlefield, in which guides will be stationed. Officials said if these buildings for guides prove of sufficient convenience to visitors others will be built later.

Bankruptcies Filed Show Big Decrease

HOUSTON.—Bankruptcies filed during the past fiscal year in the southern district of Texas were only half the number filed during preceding years, according to the federal district clerk's annual report filed to the attorney general.

Between July 1, 1933, and July 1, 1934, there were 134 bankruptcies filed in Houston, Galveston, Laredo, Corpus Christi, Victoria, and Brownsville. During the preceding year there were 270 cases filed.

H. V. DAVENPORT THANKS VOTERS IN SUPPORT GIVEN

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the voters for the splendid vote given me in Saturday's election. I want to assure each and every one, whether you voted for me or not, that it is my earnest desire to serve you all and that I will give you the best administration that it is in my power to do.

I promised you two years ago that if you elected me your commissioner that I would give you an economical administration. This I did, and from the endorsement of my platform two years ago am going to keep my expenditures within the bounds of the income of this precinct for the next two years.

Again assuring you all that I appreciate the confidence reposed in me and assuring you that I will do my best.

Very sincerely yours,
H. V. DAVENPORT.

Border Patrol May Work with Mexico

JUAREZ, Mex.—Leopoldo Verdujo, customs collector, has devised a plan to divide border patrol work between Mexican and American officers to reduce smuggling and border killings.

Verdujo suggested that Mexican and American customs officials reach an agreement on dividing the work to provide more vigilance along the Rio Grande.

At present, patrols on both sides of the river often guard the same sections, while other sections go unguarded. He suggested that American officers guard one section, while Mexican officers guard another.

CANADA TIMBER SALES INCREASE

MONTREAL, Que.—According to statistics from the Montreal Board of Trade, Canada sold more timber to Great Britain in April than did any other country. At the same time a year ago, Canada supplied only one-eighth of Britain's timber requirements.

You'll Save on a FORD V-8 from the day you buy it

LOW FIRST COST!
$508 and up, F.O.B. Detroit. Ford V-8 prices are at their 1934 low.

LOW UPKEEP COST!
The new Ford V-8 is the most economical car to run that Ford has ever built.

HIGH TURN-IN VALUE!
Year after year the record shows that Ford cars retain an unusually great per cent of their original value.

THE Ford V-8 would be a great buy even at a much higher price. It's the only V-8 selling for less than $2500. Ford alone has been able to put a V-8 engine in a low price car.

The first cost of a Ford V-8 is decidedly low. But that saving is only the beginning... Ford V-8 valves seldom need grinding. Carbon removal is virtually eliminated. The new Ford V-8 consumes less gasoline and oil than last year's economical Ford. And Ford V-8 parts cost very little.

In addition, on that disaster day your Ford V-8 earns its honorable retirement, you'll find that it has a high trade-in value. The record of years proves it.

Tasmanian Beans Now Growing In Eastland County

L. V. Ford of Olden is raising the first Tasmanian beans to be grown in Texas, according to all advice now available. More than a year ago, he received the seed from the American Consul in Hobart, Australia, for a trial growth in the climate of Texas.

These seeds were planted the 6th of May, this year and in the first 30 days the vines showed a remarkable growth. A number of the beans on these vines now measure two and a half to four feet in length.

In Tasmania, these beans constitute the principal food stuff. They grow to an average of from four to six feet in length there. The bean is sliced crosswise in sections about half an inch thick, which are rolled in batter or meal and fried in the manner in which egg plant or summer squash are cooked. In fact, the flavor is quite similar to that of egg plant.

The beans are highly nutritious and one bean will serve a number of people.

Any one interested in seeing these remarkable beans, are invited to do so at any time.

Montgomery Ward Producing New Electric Washer

Montgomery Ward & company today announced that large scale production will begin immediately on a new type electrical washing machine, designed to combine simplicity of line and mechanical utility.

The machine represents a radical change in washing machine design. Intended to match the most modern refrigerator and other household appliances in beauty, the new washer was designed by Laurelle Guild, noted industrial designer, and is the product of more than a year of testing and research in Ward laboratories.

A square, white lacquer cabinet encloses all mechanical parts except the wringer, thus serving the three-fold purpose of improving appearance, facilitating cleaning and providing a greater degree of safety. A simple, smoothness of line is achieved by rounded corners of chromium on the cabinet.

One push-button, located at the front of the cabinet, starts a trivane agitator which swirls soapy water through clothes 128 times a minute, washing a tubful in less than five minutes. Another control starts the drain. A lever at the side of the wringer sends the balloon rolls in forward or backward motion, as desired.

Distribution of the machines to the 500 Ward retail stores located throughout the country will begin next month.

Sale of liquor is legal in 29 states and the District of Columbia, so the bootleggers haven't got it so bad, after all.

LIQUOR REVENUES BRING GOVERNMENT HALF BILLION ANNUALLY

WASHINGTON. — Mounting beer and liquor revenues, which promise to reach the $500,000,000 a year mark, are supplying the federal government with one out of every eight dollars of its $4,000,000,000 income, Internal Revenue Bureau statistics showed today.

Government revenue from the liquor traffic in June rose to a new post-prohibition record of $36,251,672, or at the rate of Utilize Green Tomatoes In case you have not been able to pickle the desired amount of cucumber pickles, use green tomatoes. The sun is baking the tomatoes before they ripen and you can take care of two canning problems by pickling the tomatoes, states Mrs. J. D. Morrow, farm food supply demonstrator of the North Star home demonstration club. The following recipe has been used and is good for those who like dill pickles.

Select firm, green tomatoes of uniform size, wash and place grape leaf in bottom of jar, put in a layer of tomatoes, then a layer of dill and so on until jar is filled. Place thin slice of onion and one slice of garlic, one bay leaf and about one inch of horseradish, (can use grated horseradish, if do not have root). Fill jar with boiling liquid made up as follows: 1 gallon water, 1 cup vinegar, three fourths cup salt. Seal and let stand for two weeks before using.

Prepare for School Lunches Green tomatoes make a good sandwich spread to be used in the school and other lunches. Tomatoes are not ripening because of the dry hot weather and can be preserved in this way and gives a variety in the lunches and on the pantry shelf. I have used this recipe and find the sandwich spread a desirable one and liked by the family says Mrs. J. E. Holding, farm food cooper of the North Star home demonstration club.

One pint of green tomatoes, grind and drain; 3 green sweet peppers; three red sweet peppers, grind and add to tomatoes. Add 1 tablespoon salt and allow to stand fifteen minutes then drain. Add one cup water and cook slowly until tender. Six cucumber pickles ground and added. Put the mixture in a bowl or pan and set in another pan of hot water to keep warm until dressing is made.

DRESSING: 1 cup sugar; two tablespoons mustard (either dry or prepared) may use half of each. Two tablespoons flour. Blend together and then add one cup sour cream, one cup vinegar and three well beaten eggs. Cook until thickens. Better to use double boiler. If you do not use the double boiler be sure to stir the mixture constantly. When dressing thickens add vegetables. Mix well, put into hot jars and seal.

Cattle Shipments To Markets Show Decrease in June

AUSTIN—Livestock shipments from Texas during June to Fort Worth and interstate points were slightly below the corresponding month last year...

During the first six months of 1934, shipments aggregated 28,228 cars, against 30,014 cars during the corresponding period last year.

"The decline in shipments probably reflects government activity in the purchase of cattle for destruction and relief purposes, for such cattle are not included in the above totals," the bureau's report said.

"Hog shipments during the month deserve special notice," the report pointed out. "In June 1933, shipments of Texas hogs to out-of-state points exceeded receipts from interstate points by 86 cars."

More Rivers at Low Levels Than In Past 75 Years

WASHINGTON—More rivers have shrunk to abnormally low levels this month than in any other July since the U. S. Weather Bureau started its records of river stages nearly 75 years ago.

The streams of the west and middle west, says M. W. Hayes of the Weather Bureau, got off to a start because of the exceptionally light snowfall last winter. And with no heavy, continuous rains to make up the early deficiency...

Unprecedentedly low stages have prevailed since December, 1933. The lowest of record—4.6 feet below zero and in February it was 1.3 below zero...

ELISHA HELPS THE NEEDY

2 Kings 4:1-7; 42-44. A poor, distracted widow, in debt and with the creditor coming to claim her two children as bondsmen...

Fearlessly in her great grief for her husband and anxiety for her children, she spoke very plainly to the prophet.

"Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear Jehovah, and the creditor is come to take unto him my two children to be bondmen."

Joseph tells us that she was the widow of Obadiah, who hid the prophets from Jezebel in a cave and contracted this debt in buying food with which to feed them.

Elisha, also a poor man, and perhaps to test her faith, asked, "What shall I do for thee? What has thou in the house?" Her answer was, "Thy handmaid hath not anything in the house, save a pot of oil."

Then Elisha told her to do a seemingly foolish thing. She must borrow empty vessels, many, not a few, and take her sons alone in the house and pour the oil into the different vessels.

She did not murmur but did as the prophet told her. The vessels were all soon full and remained so.

In deep gratitude, "she came and told the man of God." Elisha told her to go and sell the oil and pay her debt and that she and her sons might live on the further income from the sale of the oil.

In verses 42-44, we find a picture like unto the one in the life of Christ, where he fed the multitude with the loaves and fishes.

A certain pious man following the mess of poison pottage which had been made harmless by Elisha, brought him a gift of loaves of barley and fresh grain.

"For thus saith Jehovah, they shall eat and leave thereof." The servant set the food before the men and saw them eat and leave scraps of food.

loved to be with his fellow-man. He built his home in Samaria but worked in all directions from that place.

Elijah, a type of John the Baptist, loved the wilderness, the free air of the desert; the shade of the wild broom of the wadis and the deep ravines far from the abode of men.

But Elisha, of the type of Christ, with his kindly friendliness, tolerance and patience made effective in the political and social life of Israel the fundamental principles taught by Elijah, and fulfilled that mission.

Elisha as a true prophet of God is noted for his miracles. In this entire chapter, four, he presents five examples of his kindly work—multiplied the widow's oil, promised a son to the good Shunammite, raised the son dead from sunstroke and fed a hundred hungry men with twenty loaves of bread.

The beautiful life of Elisha needs to warn us in these days of drought and even famine that we need to be about our Master's business daily.

We need new vessels to hold the oil, which Jehovah is willing for us to have if we will but look to him and claim the promises of His protection. God is ready to give but not to waste His gifts.

The oil filled just the number of vessels the widow had. Could we not borrow many more vessels by relying upon God instead of self?

People should turn to the Lord and fear Him in love. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.—Malachi 3:10.

A gladseme word or smile of encouragement often lifts a soul from deep despondency. No kind deed escapes the eye of our Saviour.

Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these My brethren, even the least, ye did it unto me.—Matthew 25:40.—Golden Text.

Chases Longhorn For Several Years To Obtain Horns

FORT WORTH—It took C. E. Autrey the better part of 29 years and a chase half way around the world to get a prize pair of horns from a steer, but he finally was successful.

Autrey, who makes his business collecting horns from Texas Longhorns, now is busy polishing and mounting the set. As he went about the task, he related the story.

This set of horns was well worth a long chase, Autrey believes. They measured eight feet from tip to tip, a rare trophy since the Longhorn steer is disappearing rapidly from the plains of the Southwest.

In 1915, Autrey heard of a promising young steer in the herd of the Dun Bar Ranch on the Mexican border. He investigated. The report was true. The steer's horns were outstanding for a three-year-old.

The collector carefully noted the animal's markings for future references—red in color, one white foot, a white spot on the flank.

Autrey made this notation for several days with his aunt, Mrs. Sid Tackett and family.

Miss Isabel Centry is visiting relatives in Huckaby this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitworth had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Odie Freeman and sons of Hoberts Camp and Mr. and Mrs.

he intended to camp on that steer's trail until it died—and then obtain the horns. That is his regular procedure, he explained. Because of the scarcity of Longhorn steers, collectors trail a steer something like a book collector pursuing a rare volume.

A set of six-foot horns, polished and mounted, sells for $45 to $50, making the chase remunerative as well as adventurous.

In 1918 the Dun Bar steer was sold to the San Antonio Park Board. At intervals Autrey checked to see if the animal was there. A few years later it was sent to Florida and then to Spain for exhibit. The horns by now had reached eight feet.

Autrey then lost trace of the steer. Finally through many letters he learned the animal had died in Spain and its carcass placed in a museum.

He bought the horns and had them sent to Fort Worth. His chase around the world—all by mail—cost him $5, he said.
