LIVING COSTS MAY NOT GO TO EXCESSES

By WILLIAM A. BELL Jr.
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Surveying their graphs and charts and a department of agriculture crop report predicting the smallest grain yields in more than 30 years, economists said the nation was not in for a long period of high living costs but undoubtedly would experience some higher prices during the next year.

Unless thwarted at the start, selfish interests may spring up like mushrooms to grow fat on the country's misfortune, officials feared. There is enough and more for all to eat, they announced, and raids on the "consumers' pocket-book, with shortage as an excuse, will be considered unwarranted. Some food price increases will be condoned. To a limited degree, the agricultural adjustment administration contemplated higher retail meat prices long before the drought struck. It planned to dispose of a 6,000,000-head cattle surplus. Exigencies of the drought produced the emergency slaughter program which will wipe out the extra numbers and more during the next six months. Prices of meat and dairy and poultry products may be expected to increase noticeably next spring. Bread prices should not, officials said.

Records showed retail food prices still are much less than in 1929, when a pound of steak cost 85 cents and was worth its weight in gold because the United States was on the gold standard.

Emphasizing stored supplies, added to what the drought has left, were ample for human and animal needs, officials listed the following methods which could be used to thwart profiteers who say it isn't so:

1. Publicity services employed by the AAA consumers' council.
2. Licensing powers incorporated in the adjustment act.
3. Federal participation in commercial food distribution.

If food hoarding ever becomes a serious menace—and this was not anticipated—supplies could be rationed as in war-time. It is easy to discover profiteering, officials declared. Their day-to-day reports reveal the margins of "middle-men, processors and retail dealers. When the margin gets out of line with what the farmer is receiving and what is justified by manufacturing and processing costs, the government will prepare to "crack down."

Quick warning to the consumer that he is being cheated can be given by the consumers' council, which reports regularly on food prices and often notes where are justified and where not.

Significant control over distributors is contained in existing AAA marketing agreements and licenses and additional licensing may be invoked. The government could set maximum prices to afford a "ceiling" beyond which the licensee could not go unless they cared to risk revocation of their permits to do business.

Unless profiteering sweeps the land, the government will not go into the meat business. It could, of course, cook, can and sell to the public some of the beef and mutton buying on the hoof in drought territory and giving to poor families on relief rolls. The threat is of itself an effective preventive, officials pointed out. In one way, the emergency cattle slaughter tends to keep prices at equitable levels, it was explained. That packed between now and Jan. 1, 1935, "will come pretty close to providing a year's supply for the relief population," they said. So that portion of the population is out of the market and so much more is to be had for the others.

WOMAN IS HELD IN SLAYING OF BANK CASHIER

SEYMOUR, Tex., Aug. 16.—Ruby Britain, about 40, was held here today under $10,000 bond charged with murder in connection with the slaying of H. E. Nichols, Seymour banker.

Nichols, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, was shot to death last night as he sat in a parked car on a country lane with Willie Mae Couch, 19, Portales, N. M., high school girl.

Miss Britain was arrested about two hours after her car was found in a ditch near the shooting. She refused to make any statement.

Miss Couch said while they were parked a second car driven by a woman, drove alongside. The woman fired several shots from a pistol, killing the man.

Officers said they could find no motive for the slaying.

Man May Be Elected Without Making Race

SAN ANGELO.—Harry Earls may find himself elected public weigher of Tom Green county—without making a race.

His friends wrote his name in on the ballot at the last election. Returns gave Earls the democratic nomination. He was not a candidate. Earls announced that if he were finally elected and duly installed as public weigher, he would donate the revenues to the community chest.

Once one of the most remunerative offices in Tom Green county, public weigher's revenues last year were not sufficient to justify a fee report to the state.

A famous movie star couldn't get into an airplane, to fly east recently, because her hat was too big—her hat, not her head.

A survey shows more than 7,500,000 persons on Uncle Sam's payroll, which is quite a big handicap for the republican party.

HOG PRICES AGAIN SOAR ON MARKETS

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Hog prices boomed on the livestock markets of the nation today. A combination of light receipts and the drought started the sensational advance more than a week ago. Today the markets continued strong with no prospects of a break.

Best hogs sold for $6.40 per hundredweight on the Chicago market today. That was about $1.65 higher than last month and was 25 cents higher than yesterday.

FORT WORTH, Aug. 16.—Hog prices continued record-breaking advances on the Fort Worth market today, reaching a top of $6.25 a hundred, 25 cents above yesterday's high. Today's advance marked a net gain of 75 cents a hundred for best butcher hogs in the last three days.

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—When it comes to whooping cough, chimpanzees are just like children—once afflicted they are generally immune from a recurrence of the disease.

Nearly two years ago, Dr. Gerald S. Shibley, at Lakeside hospital, began exhaustive research on the causes of whooping cough. He sought evidence on whether the "whoop" was caused by a germ or a filterable virus.

He bought four chimpanzees for his experiments. "Susie," the eldest, was exposed to whooping cough and came down with a mild case, proving, first, that chimps can get whooping cough.

"Mary Jane" then was given the hacking disease under controlled conditions, while "Tommie" and "Gandhi" were isolated, with every precaution taken to see they did not catch the disease from Mary Jane.

Tommy's and Gandhi's whooping cough, Dr. Shibley planned, would come later. But they fooled him, began to whoop.

Now, since Tommy and Gandhi have jumped the gun on their whooping cough, and Dr. Shibley is at last ready to use them in the research, they are all over the "whoops" and the doctor can't give them the cough again. Having had it once, they seem immunable. To continue his research, Dr. Shibley either must trade Tommy and Gandhi for chimps who have zees cost about $350 apiece, or not had whooping cough, or three new animals. But healthy A. No. 1 chimpanzees cost about $350 apiece.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes of filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 5 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, a doctor's prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with string drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS—the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS your druggist. © 1934, Foster-McBarn Co.

IF YOUR BREATH HAS A SMELL YOU CAN'T FEEL WELL

When we eat too much, our food decays in our bowels. Our friends smell this decay coming out of our mouth and call it bad breath. We feel the poison of this decay all over our body. It makes us drowsy, groggy and no good for anything. What makes the food decay in the bowels? Well, when we eat too much, our bile juice can't digest it. What is the bile juice? It is the most vital digestive juice in our body. Unless 2 pints of it are flowing from our liver into our bowels every day, our movements get hard and constipated and 1/2 of our food decays in our 28 feet of bowels. This decay sends poison all over our body every six minutes.

When our friends smell our bad breath (but we don't) and we feel like a whipped cream, don't use a mouthwash or take a laxative. Get at the cause. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills which gently start the flow of your bile juice. But if "something better" is offered you, don't buy it, for it may be a calcium salt which causes tooth, gripes and scalds the system. Get Pills by name. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Get what you ask for—25c. ©1934, C.M.C.O.

CISCO ADOPTS REFINANCING OF CITY DEBT

CISCO, Aug. 15.—With a few scratches of a pen, the municipal manager and commission offered to the bondholders of the city of Cisco a proposition that means a saving of $4,700,000 from the $5,200,000 city debt and refunding it on a basis upon which for the time being at least, it would cease to be a city nightmare.

The pen scratches were caused by the signing of a resolution which formally accepted for the city a proposition worked out between representatives of the municipality and a representative of the Bondholders Protective committee of New York, otherwise and legally known as Charles P. Bulfinch et al.

The proposal provides: 1. Refunding of the city's debt with refunding bonds issued in an amount of 24 per cent of the total debt, $1,598,335, to be payable in 40 years and to bear interest on the following schedule: 1 per cent for the first year; 2 per cent for the second; 3 per cent for the next four years; 4 per cent for the next four years; 5 per cent thereafter until maturity.

The city would distribute $48,435 of the $63,000 plus in its sinking fund pro rata among the bondholders, the payment to represent 1 per cent of the principal of defaulted bonds and warrants. The distribution would not be made until 90 days after the agreement is accepted by the committee and the bonds would be presented either at the Underwriters Trust company, New York, or the municipal treasury here for payment of the 1 per cent and endorsement. Of the $47,435, $35,000 would be transferred to New York for service upon bonds in that area and to be presented there, including the $2,700,000 held by the bondholders committee, and the remainder would be held in Cisco banks. The sinking fund above the $48,435 would be retained by the city for distribution after a settlement is concluded or to be paid into federal bankruptcy court in the event application is made thereto to force a settlement.

The New York group would agree to secure consent of all non-participating bondholders to the settlement and if, after 90 days from the time of acceptance, this consent is not obtained, it would agree to join the city in a petition to bankruptcy court at Abilene under the terms of the municipal bankruptcy act, by which holders of 75 per cent of the defaulted obligations could secure an order making a settlement between them and the city binding upon the other 25 per cent or such portion as did not participate. In that case a 100 per cent settlement could be assured.

Because of the fact that certain of the bonds are held by institutions or agencies, such as the state school fund and some counties, which cannot legally agree to a reduction in principal, it is believed certain that resort will have to be made to bankruptcy court in order to effect a settlement in which all of the bondholders will participate, Arthur E. Nelson, St. Paul, Minn., counsel for and representative of the New York committee in the negotiations here, told the commission last night. The committee, first, however, wishes to obtain the voluntary consent of all possible.

The city would agree to keep sufficient money in the sinking fund on hand at all times to pay six months interest on the refunding bonds and to use such amount as may accumulate above this to purchase and retire outstanding refunding bonds at the lowest prices offered. In the event none is offered, the city would be required to call such bonds by lot and retire them at par and accrued interest. The purpose of these is to insure that the finances of the city to be applied to bond service are employed in direct reduction of the debt all along. The practical effect is expected to be that the bonds will be offered the city treasury at such low quotations during low interest years that are principal of the refunding obligations will be retired at a rapid rate.

Funeral Is Held For Thos. J. Lipe, Lacassa Pioneer

Funeral services for Thomas Jefferson Lipe, 86, one of the old time pioneers of the Lacassa community, were conducted at Mt. Zion Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. K. C. Edmonds of Ranger. Burial was in the Mt. Zion cemetery, following the services at the church.

The decedent was born in Illinois on October 22, 1847. He moved to Texas in 1875, settling near Lacassa. For 59 years he had lived on the same farm and in the same house in which he settled when he first came to Texas. He is survived by his widow and four children, two boys and two girls. The surviving children are Lewis Lipe of Mineral Wells, Scott Lipe, Miss Belle Lipe and Mrs. A. W. Sechrist, all of Lacassa.

Mr. Lipe was one of the most prosperous of the stockmen and farmers of the Lacassa community, and was known throughout Stephens and Eastland counties. He had helped many of his neighbors and friends in a financial way on many occasions, and was loved by all who had been associated with him in any way.

Protests May Come Over Eliminating Several Holidays

AUSTIN.—Protest may come from the state legislature against decision of the University of Texas to disregard Washington's birthday, Texas Independence Day, San Jacinto Day, and Armistice Day as holidays. All are designated as holidays by state act.

In place of these holidays the university regents have decided upon a lengthened Easter vacation. It will consist of two days before Easter and one after Easter.

On Armistice Day, classes are to be suspended only to the extent necessary to participate in local celebrations.

PASTOR TWO YEARS LATE

EASTON, Conn.—After the Rev. Carlisle F. Hubbard read from the pulpit a notice of a meeting of the Ladies Aid Society scheduled for July 14, a parishioner discovered the meeting had been held two years ago and the notice, apparently mislaid at the time, had found its place among current announcements.

A man in Spokane, Wash., made a violin out of 39,000 toothpicks, yet he'll go on picking the strings with his fingers.

Quite a number of friends have received picture post cards from Mrs. Mattie Henry, who with her son, Walker Henry, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mendenhall, is touring California. ## Farmers Warned Not to Sell Their Cotton Certificates

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 13.—Cotton farmers who hold government participation trust certificates were cautioned today not to dispose of them to speculators for less than they are worth.
G. E. Adams, assistant state agent of the extension service, said the certificates were about $15 a bale.

"Some farmers who do not know their value are reported to be selling them to speculators for practically nothing," Adams said. The warning applies to farmers who chose the option plan when they entered the plow-up campaign last year, accepting part cash and a part option as payment.

UNCLE SAM WILL NOT PERMIT DUMPING OF COTTON

Secy. Henry A. Wallace has notified the farmers and the cotton trade that cotton consigned to the producers pool and eligible for sale upon approval of the department of agriculture "would not be dumped or permitted unduly to disturb the market."

Texas producers have been hard hit by the drought. Texas has produced many bumper crops. Now many of the wise ones of the industry, growers as well as exporters, predict that the yield of 1934, speaking of bales, will not go beyond 2,500,000.

The time has come when people must face the situation squarely and realize that the blame for a lot of conditions rests on themselves, for so long as they listen with rapt attention to the "spell-binders" who tell them that they are being robbed and all they need is legislation to cure all their troubles, just so long will they suffer.

It is indeed impossible to survey the resources of this country without wondering how it comes about that a country holding so much of the goods of the world in its hands and being in such a high degree self-contained could continue to meet with such difficulties which are being described by our statesmen.

The Chinese have an ancient proverb: "The Gates of Money are hard to Open." If reports from various sources are to be relied upon, many people are experiencing the truth of this adage.

It is said that a strong man well armed is less likely to meet trouble than a weak man unarmed and many maintain as they always have, that a strong Army and Navy are the best safeguard any country can have.

They are going, our politicians tell us, to give us security, prosperity and freedom from heavy taxation. But when are they going to do it?

Endorsements of Political Leaders Shows Close Contest In Governor's Race Between Allred and Hunter

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Aug. 13.—What part the Ferguson endorsement of Tom Hunter for governor will have in his run-off with Attorney General James V. Allred is puzzling politicians.

A former state official, who has polled big votes, says that Allred would seize upon the endorsement as the main issue of the run-off campaign. He would have the attorney general devote his time to warning the state against a "Ferguson puppet-candidate."

Another widely experienced official gave just the opposite advice. He would have Allred ignore entirely the Ferguson endorsement of Hunter and bore into Hunter's platform.

Allred's own decision seems to be to ignore it.
Regardless of how it should be treated, none denies it is a factor in the race and a considerable one. Already employes in administration-controlled state departments are being given pep talks to brace them up from C. C. McDonald's defeat.

"Don't worry about your job," they were told in one department. "We have the balance of power." McDonald, announcing Hunter as second choice of his followers, gave a hint along the same line. "He will not in any way discriminate against us when he is governor," said McDonald.

Hunter denied any trade. Allred commented: "It was to be expected."

Farmer Jim Ferguson's "microscope selection" of Hunter likely will be followed by more enthusiastic support in later issues of the Forum.

A few examples will show that leaders are picking a choice regardless of Ferguson.

Editor Marcellus E. Foster (Mero of the Houston Press) lists former Governor Ferguson as one of Texas' greatest men, but he is supporting Allred in the run-off.

Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, who was for Ross Sterling against Mrs. Ferguson, is for "anyone but Allred."

T. N. Jones, Tyler, once berated in the state capital by Gov. Jim Ferguson, has not let the Ferguson support swing him from Hunter.

Former Gov. Dan Moody, arch foe of the Ferguson, refuses to say how he will vote. "Yes, I have made up my mind," he said.

The Kilgore News, published in the great East Texas oil field, says that the "best Jimmie" Allred combination was what made him lead in the first primary and predicts that it will elect him Aug. 26.

How well Hunter will weather the broadsides being poured at him and his "trot line" platform by the attorney general is the other big question of the campaign. With a comfortable 50,000 lead, Allred seems to have decided on a battle plan of keeping Hunter from getting converts. For the opening week of the run-off campaign he seemed to be pretty successful in keeping Hunter on the defensive.

Concrete advantages for each since the July primary are: For Allred—His 50,000 votes lead; support of powerful West Texas papers that were for Small; support of the energetic and resourceful Houston Press; gains from those who view with askance the Ferguson-McDonald-Small embrace of Hunter after hard attacks on him in the first primary.

For Hunter—The Ferguson-McDonald-Small endorsement; aid of the Ferguson sections of the state administration; help of senators aggrieved by Allred; victory over Allred in their home precinct; gain of anti-Allred votes that went to Small, Witt, Hughes and McDonald in the first contest.

Novel Is Included With Magazine

A new novel by Vina Delmar, author of "Bad Girl" and other best sellers, published in book form for the first time, is being distributed by Cosmopolitan to the people of this town. A copy of the book is given away with each copy of September Cosmopolitan bought at the newsstands.

Vina Delmar's novel, "The End of the World," is a romance of stage life, and is described as that rarest thing in the world, "a perfect love story."

September Cosmopolitan, "Lady Without a Past" is the story of a simple, unsophisticated 18-year-old business who returns to America after 12 years of sojourn in Switzerland to find that instead of an unchallenged social position she has inherited a society feud.

"The Hand of God," a complete short novel by Louis Bromfield, tells the story of a pair of international swindlers and blackmailers—Monsieur Onspenski and his greedy, vulgar wife.

Another complete short novel makes September Cosmopolitan a vacation issue. Charles G. Norris tells a fascinating tale of a girl who discovers in time the difference between vacation love and true love. It is called, "The Beach."

Damon Runyon in "Sense of Humor" tells a sardonic tale of rival Broadway gangsters; and O. O. McIntyre writes a profile of Damon Runyon, whom he calls his favorite sports writer and America's most interesting newspaperman.

Herbert Corey and George Holmes, Washington political writers, give a detailed account how the Secret Service guards the President, in their timely article, "When a President Travels."

Maury H. E. Paul, better known as "Cholly Knickerbocker," has a fascinating article, "Feuds Over Fifth Avenue," in which he tells of old feuds involving the Astors, Vanderbilts, Harrimans and Stuyvesant Fishes right up to the recent Astor-Gillispie feud.

Louella O. Parsons, best-known film commentator in America, begins the inside story of the film colony in her series "Hollywood Is My Home Town." Among the topics she discusses in her first article are the Pickford-Fairbanks separation, and the real personality of Joan Crawford and her friendship with Franck Tane.

Texas Wholesale Trade Report Made For the Year 1933

HOUSTON.—There were 6,876 wholesale establishments in Texas during 1933, with net sales of $1,048,131,000, it is revealed in the Census of American Business conducted by the Bureau of the Census, according to Chester H. Bryan, acting district manager of the Houston office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, United States Department of Commerce. These businesses employed 38,140 men and women on a full-time basis and 5,266 as part-timers. The total payroll distributed by the wholesale establishments in Texas during the year amounted to $52,327,000, of which $2,165,000 was paid to part-time employees. The same trend as shown in previous releases for other States concerning the improvement in wholesale trade employment during 1933 is revealed by the preliminary figures for Texas. Based on the average number of full-time employees engaged in the wholesale trade of the State, Dec. 1933, showed an improvement over the beginning of the year by 15 per cent, and October and November registered a similar improvement over the first quarter of the year. The peak in part-time employment was reached in December, 1933, which was 66 per cent higher than in April of that year and 83 per cent higher than in July.

When both full-time and part-time employment are considered, it becomes clear that the improvement during the year 1933 was substantial and more than seasonal. According to the 1929 census of distribution, the seasonal variation in such employment for Texas is about 13 per cent for both full-time and part-time employment combined, the peak being reached about December. If it is assumed that 1929 was fairly typical in this respect, it would appear that the last few months of 1933 showed more than seasonal betterment.

In spite of the improvement shown during the last few months of 1933, the year as a whole does not compare favorably with 1929. In 1933 the volume of business was 62.6 per cent below that of 1929, salaries and wages were 45.7 per cent lower, and the number of employees decreased 26.4. Since payroll decreased much more than the number of employees, it would appear that the average earnings of employees engaged in the wholesale trade of Texas in 1933 were about 26 per cent less than in 1929. The average annual sales per employee in the State of Texas showed a reduction of about $25,398 (from $47,545 to $24,147 per employee) partly because of the lower prices prevailing in 1933 which necessitated handling a larger physical volume per dollar of sales.

While these comparisons are interesting and significant, it must be remembered that the two censuses are not exactly alike, at least in some respects, due largely to difficulties in the canvass, coverage and classification. Just whence the differences in the number of establishments and volume of business come will be apparent as soon as data are published by kinds of business and types of establishment.

The census of American business was conducted by the Bureau of the Census with funds supplied by the Civil Works Administration, furnishing temporary employment for more than 15,000 persons for the field canvass. Every city, county, and state has been covered since January collecting data for the year 1933.

SEATTLE.—Despite fish curtailment due to the longshoremen's strike, Seattle halibut fishermen increased their returns 25 per cent as compared to last year's returns. Veterans Warned To Stay at Home To Get In the CCC

DALLAS.—The regional office, veterans' administration, Dallas, Texas, through which enrollments for the veterans' contingent of the civilian conservation corps are made in 150 counties serving north and east Texas, has received the following information from the administrator of veterans' affairs concerning transient veterans who have been proceeding to Washington in the hope of securing enrollment when they have been unable to secure enrollment locally in the civilian conservation corps due to the limited quota assigned to the territory in which they reside.

"Veterans throughout the country have apparently gained the impression that by coming to Washington they can obtain authority for immediate enrollment in the civilian conservation corps camps. This impression is erroneous. While exceptions have been made in the past, definite advice has been received from the director of emergency conservation work that, in the future, no more special enrollments of transient veterans congregated in Washington will be authorized. From now on all veterans chosen for assignment to the civilian conservation corps camps will be selected locally by the regional offices of the veterans' administration located in the several states. Only those veterans whose homes are in the District of Columbia will be selected by the veterans' administration at Washington, D. C., for this work. There are no vacancies in the veterans' quotas for the eastern states in which veterans from other states may be assigned. Veterans should be advised not to come to Washington with the expectation of obtaining special authority for enrollment."

Youth Is Pretty Much the Same As 50 Years Ago

FORT WORTH.—Social customs change rapidly, but the idea back of it all not so fast. Which is another way of saying that youth is pretty much the same now as 50 years ago. Now a youth gets his kiss in an automobile. Then he played "post-office"—object the same. Social methods now are different from those when she came to Texas in 1870. Mrs. C. C. French recalled. The house party was the chief social function of the old day. Now it's the night club, public dance hall, or the private club. Modern youth wouldn't think of taking a girl on a street car or for a walk.

Nor would modern youth think of dancing the Virginia Reel, Heel and Toe Polka, the Schottische or the Gallop and the Maraviana. But the old days had their compensation, to wit:

There was, for instance, the game of clap-in, clap-out. Mrs. French remembered. The game still exists but only among children and even among children is not over-used.

In ye olden days it was the favorite of the social set. It went something like this:

Stiffly dressed young men formed a circle in a room at the house party. In front of each youth was a vacant chair. The gaily bedecked maidens stood longingly in another room.

One swain would select a girl to enter the room. Her object was to take the seat in front of the youth who called her name. If she missed, all hands clapped. She was clapped out. If she sat in the right seat, it was her privilege to go for a walk with the youth.

The same might be reversed with the girls standing behind the chairs. The outcome the same. It was amazingly uncanny, or maybe premeditated, how often the one called sat in the right chair, Mrs. French said. Sometimes parties were virtually disrupted by so many couples having gone for walks.

Services For All On Relief Rolls Are Being Planned

Rev. H. B. Johnson, chairman of the Ministerial Alliance of Ranger, has called a meeting of the pastors of Ranger, to be held in the Methodist church next Monday morning at 10 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing plans for a non-denominational church for those on direct relief or anyone who is not attending church.

The object of the church services will be to reach those people who would like to attend church, but due to unfortunate circumstances might hesitate to attend services at one of the regular churches.

Tentative plans call for an open-air meeting each week until the weather gets cooler, at which the men may wear their overalls or the women their house dresses and feel perfectly at home. No particular denomination is to be advocated, the sermons to be based on the Gospel alone, and no collections will be taken up.

The meetings will allow those who are not attending church for any reason to meet and join in the singing and worship.

Definite plans for the services will be made at the meeting at the Methodist church Monday morning and announcements concerning the services will be made later.

Scouts of Troop 9 Will Meet Friday

All members of Boy Scout Troop No. 9 are asked to be present at their next meeting place in the basement of the Methodist church Friday night at 7:30.

According to Scoutmaster Raymond Steele, a special entertainment is to be presented and a business session will be held. It is especially important that each member be present for this program.

A dam-minded U. S. is predicted for the near future by President Roosevelt. A good many republican ex-office holders have been minded that way ever since last election.

Bullets Whine Last 'Get Along, Get Along' to 'Dogies'

Here are three "dogies" that never more will hear the mournful refrain of the cowboy, two dead by bullets and a third about to meet a like fate, among the thousands that have been slaughtered on western plains to relieve them of the agonies of hunger and thirst. They are part of a herd shot by government marksmen on a farm near Arapaho, Okla., because they were too weak to be shipped here freed and water could be provided for them.

Ad Valorem Tax Revenue Estimated At $13,820,834.09

AUSTIN.—The net amount required to be raised by the state's ad valorem tax for the general revenue fund has been estimated at $13,820,834.09.

The computation was made in figuring the state's new tax rate of 77 cents per $100 valuation.

Statutes require that 20 per cent be added to that sum in figuring the state's budget. Actual experience, a sterner teacher, caused the state's bookkeepers to add another 5 per cent in addition, making the total amount to be raised by ad valorem $17,276,042.

To raise that much revenue from taxable valuations aggregating $2,872,926,818 would require a tax rate of 60.1 cents per $100 valuation, exclusive of the levies for schools and confederate pensions.

The state constitution, however, limits that rate to a maximum of 35 cents.

The state's bookkeepers re-sharpened their pencils, figured that if 20 per cent would cover the cost of collecting those taxes and delinquencies also, the probable deficit of the general revenue fund on Aug. 31, 1935, would be $5,526,815.

If 20 per cent of the taxes are delinquent, and the cost of collecting the rest amounts to 5 per cent, the state's deficit would be $6,329,577 on Aug. 31, next year.

The state's total obligations from its general revenue fund during the next fiscal year will approximate $25,895,236.

Farming Pamphlets Received In Ranger

P. A. Tankley, vocational agricultural teacher of the Ranger high school, has announced that 2,500 pamphlets, published by the department of agriculture, have been received in Ranger and can now be obtained at the office of the Chamber of Commerce by anyone interested in their contents.

The pamphlets cover a wide variety of subjects pertaining to farming and will be available at all times as long as the supply lasts.

Ranger Schools to Open On Sept. 10

R. F. Holloway, superintendent of the Ranger public schools, announced today that the local schools would open on Sept. 10 this year.

Announcement concerning registrations, both for the high school and junior college will be made in the near future by H. S. Von Roeder, dean of the college and principal of the high school, Mr. Holloway stated today.

Indications point to a large enrollment for the junior college. Mr. Holloway stated today, with inquiries being received almost daily concerning the work that can be received in the college.

Expectations are that the high school registrations will also be large this year, he stated.

Cattle Killing In Ranger Territory Started Monday

P. A. Tankley, vocational agricultural teacher of Ranger, announced today that the purchase and slaughter of cattle began in the Ranger territory Monday morning and would continue until all cattle unfit for consumption purchased by the government had been slaughtered.

The purchase of cattle for canning purposes, which will constitute the real cattle buying program of the government, has not started as yet, it was stated, and would probably not start until the condemned cattle were killed.

J. C. Patterson, county agent, and a veterinarian and appraiser, started out Monday morning, and were getting rid of the cattle as rapidly as possible. The cattle are being killed on the farms and are not being shipped.

The minimum price is being paid for the stock killed, which is $12 for cattle two years old or over, $10 for yearlings and $4 for calves.

FETE TO DRAW 100,000 CLEVELAND, O.—An all-day "Young Cleveland Day" festival, Aug. 25, is expected to bring 100,000 persons into Cleveland stadium for parades, athletic events and fireworks. Several thousand children will participate.

Talk of the geysers in Yellowstone National park losing power, says the former director of that park, is just so much gush.

Confectionery In Post Office Opened

Price Crawley has taken over the Post Office Confectionery, formerly operated by Bill Allen, and has re-opened it for business.

The place has been thoroughly cleaned and restocked and will have a complete line of confectionery sundries to offer to the public.

The friends of Price Crawley have been cordially invited to visit his new place of business when they go to the post office for their mail.

While livestock is dying of thirst in the midwest, there's no report of a drought in Wall Street. They know there how to keep their stock watered.

BANISH COMMON CONSTIPATION WITH DELICIOUS CEREAL

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Look out for headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sallow complexions, sleeplessness. Frequently, these are warning signs of common constipation. If neglected, your health may be impaired.

Today, you can rid yourself of common constipation by eating a tempting cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that found in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes. How much better this is than taking patent medicines!

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal, or use in cooking. At all grocers. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Motor Patrol Will Get New Uniforms More Distinctive

AUSTIN.—Highway patrolmen no longer will suffer the indignity of being asked "When does the next bus leave?"

Chief L. G. Phares has picked new uniforms for his staff of 110. Early in September they will ride forth in a swanky combination that features both the blue of the French infantry and the tan of Uncle Sam's soldiers. Their heads will be cocky with a Pershing cap, minus the wire expander, so that the top will flop in the breeze. The caps will combine the colors of the shirt and breeches. Its black patent leather peak will harmonize with the black shoes and leggings.

The trousers will have side stripes in the same material used for the blouses. The stripe will be piped in red. Red piping also will set off the pockets of the blouses. Shiny brass buttons with the Texas lone star insignia will be used. Chief Phares says frankly the uniform has been changed in order to be distinctive. The present gray uniform is just what the law says a city motoreop, a sheriff of deputy sheriff must wear to make traffic arrests. It also is remarkably like that used by the bus drivers for most motor lines. But when the patrolmen come out in the new uniforms they will look like nobody else.

Couple Is Married While On Horseback

SAN ANTONIO.—Al Johnson went "to Heaven on a Mule," but Eula Upton of Wichita Falls, and Albert Richardson of Beaumont, were married on horseback.

Because both are fond of riding, the bride and groom thought it would be a good idea to stage the ceremony aboard horses. The wedding, performed here, also saw the minister, the Rev. Will Anderson, and all attendants on horseback.

The happy couple went for a canter in the park after the ceremony.
