Play Equipment For the Pre-School Child Important

By CARRIE GRAIN
Play, to the child, is more than what we call a means of keeping him out of mischief. It is his business, just as is the office his father's business, and it is his work. The family should consider it so.

In regard to proper place and equipment, the family should consider very intelligently. A carefully planned playground is the development of a child both mentally and physically.

The two, three, and sometimes the four-year-old likes to play with blocks. The younger will place the blocks together and try to walk them. The older ones will try to bring definite designs into the blocks. This is more of an inside play.

Children from two to five and even older need a back-yard playground. These are very simple, and if the person is smart, cost very little. For instance, a packing box stood on end and a plank inclined against it offers much pleasure. A sand box is every child's delight. He can make mud pies, fields, mountains, and make lakes. The sand box is composed of a square, built of boards, about five feet long and a foot high, filled with fine grain sand. It may have boxes or boards on ends for seats. Ladders and acting bars establish self-confidence in a child.

Often ladders have to be moved, which requires co-operation, an important factor in a child's life from two to five.

A pool just deep enough to wade in and half mud, is of great pleasure to the child. He also needs a place to get water to make his pies in the sandpile.

Little girls from two to five would like a house, just like mother's. One could be built very easily. A large packing box, with a door and a window fixed in with hinges, is very simple and cost little. Boys want houses, too, but they are usually older and can build them themselves. They like old shacks for clubhouses or hide-outs when playing robbers and police. All this equipment need not be expensive to be educational and pleasing to the child.

A.C.C. Establishes Education Center At Ranger College

By H. S. Von Roeder

Unusual opportunities are offered teachers and students of this section to get either advanced or non-advanced courses in college this season and for the future. President James E. Cox of Abilene Christian College together with other members of the faculty met with members of the faculty of Ranger Junior College and a group of interested teachers and others and organized classes in the History of Education, Advanced American History, English Literature, and other work to be given on Saturday morning from 8:00 to 12:00.

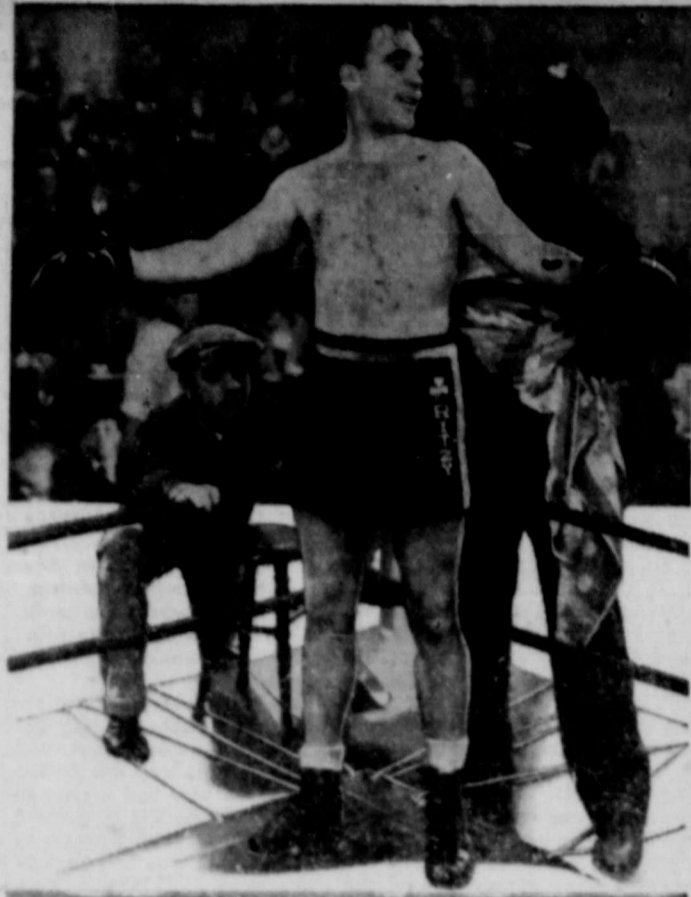

It was assured that other work will be organized in English, Physical Education, Education and Social Science. Some of these courses will be offered at night sessions to suit the convenience of the group. Any one interested in Saturday classwork is urged to be present Saturday morning at R. J. C. The schedule is outlined for this coming Saturday, Sept. 29, as follows:

8:00 to 10:00 English Literature and History of Education.
10:00 to 10:30 Assembly to organize other courses.
10:00 to 12:00 American History and Problems in Curriculum (Ed.)

Anyone interested in Chemistry, Mathematics, Foreign Language, Government, Economics, or first or second year education to be given either on Saturday morning or some night in the week is also urged to be present at the meeting Saturday morning or notify H. S. Von Roeder, Dean, regarding their preference both as to courses and time of meeting.

All of the courses offered are to be given under regulations of the Association of Texas Colleges governing such work and give regular college credits which are transferable at full value to other colleges and universities.

Skidding—cause of 5½ times more accidents than blowouts—becomes more dangerous as winter approaches. For quickest stops buy "G-3" Good-years—proved safest by 8,400 tests.
When you must suddenly jam on your brakes, averting an accident often is a matter of inches. Well, stop tests on slippery pavement show: on smooth tires you slide 77% farther, on other new tires you slide 14% to 19% farther than on new "G-3" Good-year All-Weathers. That's the Goodyear Margin of Safety—a big reason why more people buy Goodyears than any other tire. Since it costs you nothing extra, why not have this margin of safety on your tires?

Eastland Mavericks Friday night at 8 o'clock under the lights at John Tarleton athletic field will play their second game of the season when they meet Stephenville high school Yellow Jackets.

Pep squad members will for the first time in a body witness the Mavericks play. The Lions club for the most part will furnish transportation for the group.

Bill Bagley, D. C. Frost and Truman Brown, bruised up in the Fan Anveto game, will be ready to play in the game.

Coach Petty this week has been accentuating aerial combat and further improvement in that line, it is thought, will make for a better showing than that displayed against Anveto.

Made Counterfeit Money In Infirmary

EMBREEVILLE, Pa.—Two men were inmates of the Chester County Infirmary, but they did it a thriving—counterfeiting business. Arrest of the pair followed an investigation of more than two months. Officials said the men left the home early in the morning, presumably to work in the fields, but went to a hide-out instead, where they moulded the bogus coins—nickles, quarters and half dollars.

More than $5 in bad coins were found in their possession, officials said.

State Democratic Chairman's Error Had Hickman's Name Off State Ticket

Eastland county democratic chairman Earl Conner Jr., Thursday vanished the idea that Judge J. E. Hickman, chief justice 11th Court of Civil Appeals and unopposed for that position in the July primary was not certified in the county and stated that Hickman's name had been left omitted from the state ticket because of an inadvertent error.

Information to Conner a few days ago from the state democratic chairman stated that Hickman's name had been omitted from the state ticket because of an inadvertent mistake in the state chairman's office, but had been corrected.

Hickman polled a vote of 5,699 in Eastland county in the July primary.

France Happy Over Unusual Wine Crop

PARIS.—Expert statisticians are agreed in forecasting an enormous wine crop. They make this year's harvest 300,000,000 to 400,000,000 liters larger than last year's. The harvest, already begun in the Midi, will continue into October in Bordeaux and Burgundy regions.

There are several factors which obviate the danger of overproduction. Vagaries of the weather last year resulted in a short crop—between six and seven billion liters.

Against the shortage was a gain of 100,000,000 liters in the consumption of French wines. Meanwhile the stock on hand in the vineyards was reduced by 200,000,000 liters because 1933 wine was exceptionally good. There are expectations that this year's wine will be as good as the quantity is large.

Mrs. Eugenie Ford, clothing co-operator of the Romney home demonstration club adds to her wardrobe by making hats for the different stresses. These hats are made of corn shucks, the natural color and colors to match the dresses. The shucks take dye, as well as material. To make the hats, she soaks the shucks in water until they are soft and pliable, cuts in strips and braids. The braids are then sewed together, fitted over a hat crown or mold to fit the head and the brim added. Large or small braids can be made, the strips cut for the small or large according to what the individual wants. When the hats are completed, bands are added or other trimming. Mrs. Ford recommends the corn shuck hats for long wear and says they are light and cool. She has made fifteen hats and sold all but three for an average of seventy-five cents each. It takes approximately twelve hours time for making a hat, this time is that she has nothing else to see to and does this work as much for recreation as for work. She has made one man's hat.
Rid Dried Fruit of Moths and Worms
Home dried fruits can be kept free of worms if the following method is followed, states Mrs. H. A. Bowers of the North Star home demonstration club. After the fruit has dried, place it in the sun, better to cover with glass, and keep for one hour or more. Experiments have shown that the heat will be as much as one hundred and ninety four degrees F. at times and it takes temperature of between 120 and 130 degrees F. to kill the insects or the eggs. Mr. R. R. Reppert, Extension Entomologist sends the following information on storing the fruit after heating the hour or more in the sun. "Immediately after the fruit may be placed in some tight container. I am sure that a tight wrapper of cellophane would do if all seams were carefully sealed or folded to prevent adult insects from gaining access.

Mountain Girl Mother at 11; Child's Father Only 14

A mother at 11, his mountain girl lies in Jefferson City, Tenn., hospital, with her 7 1-2 pound daughter beside her, play days and school days over. Father of the baby is a 14-year-old boy. When the little mother leaves the hospital, she will return to her cabin home in the Great Smoky mountains, near Kodak, Tenn., where the grandmother says the infant will receive the best care they can give it.

in a water bath. If there is too much oil in the butter, it will separate and the nuts will rise, leaving the oil in the bottom of the jars. The Spanish peanuts contain a larger amount of oil, therefore it is necessary to mix the variety with the Virginia peanuts in the proportions given above.
The butter should be brought to a fine, granular form rather than to a smooth, pasty consistency. The aim in grinding peanuts for making butter should be to break the oil cells apart rather than to crush them. With a pasty product, the oil is likely to settle out, which will detract from the appearance of the product and make it necessary to stir it well each time before using in order to mix in the oil again.

PEANUT PRODUCTS

The Carbon Home Demonstration club exhibit at the county fair shows what can be done with peanuts. The peanuts were shown on the vine, peanut candy, peanut butter, peanut salad dressing, peanut pies (peanuts substituted for pecans) and peanut butter. The different steps in peanut butter making were shown. Mrs. Lon Bedford, farm food supply demonstrator of the Carbon club gives the following information on making and canning peanut butter. This recipe was given through the club work and tried out by the members.
2 quarts Spanish peanuts, 4 quarts Virginia peanuts, 2 ounces salt. Roast the peanuts uniformly brown. Cool, remove the red skins and tiny hearts or germs (if the germs are not removed they may impart a bitter flavor). Grind, add the salt and grind twice more so as to have the salt well distributed throughout. A good type of meat grinder is satisfactory for grinding peanuts provided the burrs are not worn. The finest burrs should be used and the machine should be set to grind the meat as fine as possible. If the butter is not fine enough, after grinding it through the machine once, it should be passed through again. Pack into small jars. It is important to fill the jars as full as possible, pressing the butter in on the bottom first and filling so as to remove air bubbles as the packing is done. Care should be taken not to leave any air space between the top of the peanut butter in the jar and the lid. The airtight or vacuum sealing process is considered the best method of sealing nuts or nut butters, in either glass or tin containers. In case a vacuum sealing device is not at hand, heat should be used in the process of sealing the jars to drive out any air which might be in the product, and to seal it so no air can enter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PICTURES OF SILVER
By BEULAH K. HICKS

Review: God in Hebrew History
From Abijah to Isaiah
This study of ancient leaders or prophets under divine guidance has been a series of pictures of God's love and grace and also of His wrath on His disobedient children. All of these lessons are applicable to our present time. The promises given then can also be claimed today.
Though many of the scenes are dark and stormy there is a beautiful rift of color, a scarlet thread, a promise of the coming Messiah, which runs through it all, brightening it with hope.
These lessons are taken from seven books: 1 Kings; 2 Kings; 2 Chronicles; Amos; Hosea; Micah and Isaiah. We are promised that the lessons next year will be taken from Isaiah through Malachi, finishing a wonderful course in old Bible study.
Abijah was a very dramatic prophet, tearing his garment into twelve pieces to teach Jeroboam the lesson of the twelve tribes. Here God promises judgment on rebellious people, but warns Jeroboam to be patient with Solomon. He would punish Solomon, "but I will make him prince all the days of his life, for David my servant's sake, whom I chose."
Azariah the next prophet appears only one time in the scripture, "and the spirit of God came upon Azariah, the son of Obed; and he went out to meet Asa." He gave Asa his commission and warned him, "Jehovah is with you while ye are with Him; but if you forsake Him, He will forsake you." Asa was a good king and relied upon God, reigned for forty-one years. He led the people rightly. "And they entered into the covenant to seek Jehovah, the God of their fathers, with all their heart and all their soul."
Elijah brings us beautiful lessons of God's care. God sheltered Elijah by the brook Cherith where the ravens fed him. But Elijah forgot in a measure and became discouraged. God brought the storm, the earthquake, and the fire, to teach him the great lesson of the still small voice. "And after the fire a still small voice."
Micah, a strong and courageous country boy, was caught in a great political turmoil that reads very modern. When he was bidden to speak to please the king of Israel, he replied, "What the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak."
Jehoshaphat was king of Judah at that time.
Elisha was ordained a prophet by Elijah. He was of a gentle, kind nature. His youth was spent alone to a great degree, but he became a man of the city and worked in all directions from that place. He brought us the beautiful lesson of capacity illustrated by the story of the widow's oil. God will fill with the oil of His grace all the vessels of study, meditation, prayer and obedient work that we set before Him.
Amos was a prophet who loved justice. He warned them of riches gained by oppressing the poor. Riches such as great houses of hewn stone, being able to lie upon beds of ivory, to sing idle songs, to drink wine and false worship were abominable to God. "But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream."
Hosea preached God's love and the keynote of his pleadings were "Return to the Lord."
Micah was a champion of the oppressed.
"Ye hath showed thee, o man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?"
Hezekiah was a great king who led his people back to God. Asah his father, had closed the temple and erected altars to heathen gods. Isaiah was a brilliantly educated and of royal blood prophet. His prophecies are woven richly with the scarlet thread of the coming Christ. His writings are written in many styles and are beautiful and brilliant when he contrasts true and false worship and counsels the rulers of the one God. "Thou wilt keep Him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because He trusteth in thee."
How much can the Lord trust His people as a nation to care for His work, in each individual to look to Him in love for peace of heart?

We learn that it depends upon us if God be with us. He will not forsake us unless sin separates us from his loving care. Through the turmoil and rush of our modern life while "Time" is the cry, we can stop in some quiet place and listen for the still small voice which is not heard in strife.
This still small voice can teach us the truth, give us courage to go on at all times, to love justice for all, to gain perfect peace in our hearts and at all times to realize that—
The Kingdom is an everlasting Kingdom.—Psalm 145:14, Golden Text.

For bilious attacks due to constipation, thousands of men and women take Theford's Black-Draught because it is purely vegetable and brings prompt, refreshing relief. Silent Campaign For Speakership Started in House

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—James V. Allred, nominee for governor, has expressed hope for a "co-operative" legislature in January, and let the speakership race go at that, so far as the visible record is concerned.

Members of the present legislature said letters from back home were beginning to flow in, to them and to new nominees to house seats, in support of Representative J. H. Ford of McLennan county for speaker.

They carefully refrain from ascribing this incipient campaign to Mr. Allred personally; but one or two out of half a dozen who have commented upon the letters, expressed belief that they came from citizens friendly to Mr. Allred.

The speakership race promises to shape up between the present speaker, Coke Stevenson, and Representative Ford. Several other tentative candidates may stay out if Stevenson goes through with present plans to seek a second term. Representative Albert G. Walked of Vernon is reserving the right to decide whether not to make the race or stay in it, regard- less of Speaker Stevenson's course.

Mr. Allred has been asked by newspapermen several times whether he will take any part in the speakership race, as did Mr. Ferguson in support of Stevenson. Allred's reply uniformly has been: "It is not my purpose to undertake to dictate to the legislature or tell it what to do. I have no concern in the matter except that of course I hope for a friendly, co-operative legislature with which the govern- ment's office can work for the welfare of Texas."

The back-home letter-writing campaign on behalf of Mr. Ford is a definite fact: Whether it comes from friends of Allred, or those associated with him, or whether it would not exist if he were not the nominee, has no further evidence than his explicit disclaimer.

This speakership race promises to be as close and exciting as that of Stevenson and A. P. Johnson two years ago, whose outcome was not known until within the final 10 names of the vote counting.

Races for speaker uniformly are surrounded with more buncombe and exaggerated claims of definite pledges and commitments than any other phase of public life.

Two McLennan county men in 1933 were managers of the rival campaigns: W. M. Harman for Stevenson and Mr. Ford for A. P. Johnson. This did not disturb friendly relations in the house.

World Favors a Calendar Reform

VIENNA. — Miss Elizabeth Achelis, of New York and president of the World Calendar Reform Association, is confident the world soon will junk its cumbersome and antiquated calendar.

Visiting Vienna on a trip through Europe to whip up enthusiasm for a reformed calendar, Miss Achelis interrupted her business conference long enough to tell the press she thought "both America and Europe are beginning to come around to our side."

Miss Achelis doesn't expect her twelve-month perpetual calendar to be universally adopted tomorrow, but she sees signs of encouragement.

The League of Nations, she said, is doing yeoman work to get the nations together on this subject. The various national committees of each country, she said, are slowly persuading the clergy of the necessity of reforming the calendar and stabilizing the date of Easter.

Miss Achelis was accompanied on her European tour by Charles H. Morris, editor of Journal of Calendar Reform. They visited London, Copenhagen and Berlin before coming to Vienna. From there they went to Athens, Istanbul, Rome, Geneva and Paris.

ONLY A PART ARE OFFERED ON FIRST CALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—The state bond sale commission today called for bids to be opened Saturday, Oct. 6, on the first $1,000,000 worth of relief bonds issued by the recent session of the legislature.

Relief bond bidders were asked to bid in the interest rate, provided the amount does not exceed 4 1/2 per cent, the rate limit set by the legislature.

The board of control was asked to advertise for bids on printing the bonds.

At the same time the board of control demanded efficiency and harmony in the state-wide relief setup.

County board members and relief employees whose usefulness has been caused by friction, inability or misunderstanding, should graciously patriotically retire, the board declared.

Former Mayor of Olney Files Appeal

AUSTIN, Sept. 27.—Charles S. Richardson, former mayor of Olney, today appealed from a 99-year sentence for the slaying of his son, Elga, 20, last Jan. 1.

This is the second time the case has been carried to the court of criminal appeals here. A life sentence was assessed at his first trial. The appellate court reversed the case. The second 99-year sentence was assessed by a Willbarger county jury to which the case was taken on a change of venue.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

HOW about borrowing an idea from the tearoom and serving your family with tasty double-deck sandwiches for luncheon or a supper snack?

If the materials are thoughtfully selected, this type of sandwich may provide an entire, well-balanced meal with the addition of coffee, milk or other beverage. Protein may be supplied in the filling, fat in the form of butter or mayonnaise and carbohydrates in the bread.

Open sandwiches offer special opportunity for preparing combinations for hot days in early autumn. Toasted or untoasted bread may be used for the foundation. Nut bread might be covered with fruit salad. A fruit bread is particularly good with a cheese and nut mixture.

Several kinds of breads often are combined in layer sandwiches. Whole wheat, white and raisin are delicious with two kinds of fillings. For instance, you may combine marmalade and chopped nuts for one layer and a mixture of cream cheese and chopped sweet pickled watermelon rinds for another, or use cucumber rings instead of the watermelon pickle. DON'T think just because summer has gone its way into the limbo of nearly forgotten things that you must stop serving salad. Autumn offers materials as luscious for the salad maker's art as spring or summer. There are apples, for instance, ripened now to the perfect crisp, firm texture, juicy pears, tomatoes at the best, round, red and superbly-fleshed, celery, the new crop of nuts, turnips, cabbage, all to be used in endless succulent combinations.

In fact, here's an autumn salad that uses several of the lot. For it, take 2 ripe pears, 2 tart apples, 4 teaspoons minced candied ginger, 4 tablespoons diced celery, 2 tablespoons chopped walnut meats, 4 cups shredded cabbage, 1 tablespoon blanched and shredded almonds, 1-2 cup seeded Tokay grapes.

Fare and dice pears. Dice apples without paring if you have those with bright red skins. Mix pears, apples, ginger, celery and walnut meats. Mix with French dressing and let stand on ice for 30 minutes. Shred cabbage very fine and let stand in cold water for 10 minutes. Drain and mix with almonds and enough mayonnaise to make moist. Make nests of cabbage on individual salad plates. Fill each nest with fruit mixture and garnish with seeded grapes.

NRA BOARD PERSONAL IS BEING NAMED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt will announce within 24 hours the personnel of a board of five to head the revived NRA, the White House announced today.

It was possible that the announcement would be ready before he left his desk late today.

Observers of the reorganization situation expected the board would be charged with other phases of the recovery picture.

No indication was given as to the men the president has in mind for the five jobs. The questions as to whether Bernard Baruch, New York financier, would be a member it was said that such an appointment appeared unlikely.

The same applied also to Donald Richberg, chief NRA counsel.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—President Roosevelt's address before the conference on current problems tonight will be broadcast over a national radio hookup.

Cleburne Man Is Given 27 Years In Tolar Bank Theft

STEPHENVILLE, Sept. 27.—Stine Weathered, 28, of Cleburne, today faced a 27 year prison term for robbery of the Continental State Bank of Tolar, Hood county.

A district court jury late yesterday found Weathered guilty of the $4,400 holdup after eye witnesses identified him as one of two men who robbed the bank last July 16.

The defense moved for a new trial and announced it would appeal if the motion was not granted.

President Frank Curl of the bank, the assistant cashier, and three other witnesses pointed out Weathered as the man who entered the bank with a sawed-off shotgun. An alleged accomplice, not yet indicted, is in custody in Fort Worth.

Streamlined Toys Favored by Santa

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA.—Streamlined skates, with a spare roller and a tail light—that is what Santa Claus is going to bring many good kiddies this Christmas.

Toys, according to a preview the United Press had at Santa's workshop at the North Pole, will be more realistic and more durable.

Toy automobiles will have streamlined effects, "Pants" over the wheels and really be a miniature model of the real thing.

Little Sister's dolls will not be so large, but will have real human hair, flirting eyes and smooth, flesh-colored bodies. Some will eat and drink. Her stove will be electric and there will be a separate switch for the coils in the oven.

Bicycles, scooters, wagons and velocipedes, too, are following the trend of streamlined-lines. In addition to all those improvements, the new wagons, scooters and other toy vehicles will have pneumatic tires.

The toy makers have done big things for the kindergarten youngsters. Toys this year will have more educational features than ever. Small dumbbells have just enough weight to give the youngster good muscle building as he swings them.

Several new adult games are being brought out. One of the most popular is expected to be "Monopoly" in which four to 14 may play. "Sorry" an English game, "Igo" from Japan and "Harems" are other adult games on the market. Backgammon is due for a comeback.

Due to changes in the money exchange, there will be fewer imported toys. Christmas tree ornaments may cost more because few are made in the United States. The same holds true with miniature glass dolls, according to workers in the North Pole Toy Shops.

Shoeless Quarter Star at Pecos

PECOS, Texas.—Now comes a rival to the famous "Shoeless" Joe Jackson, former major league baseball star who in his amateur days played barefoot.

Jackson's rival is diminutive Quarterback Kelton of the Pecos high school football team. And Kelton does a good job of it. In a game with the arch-rival McCamey team, Kelton weaved his way through a broken field 32 yards for his team's winning touchdown.

Tourist Call In Canada Succeeds

OTTAWA, Ont.—Efforts of Canada's newly-formed Canadian travel bureau to stimulate an increase in the tourist traffic to the dominion this fall met with an unqualified success, according to Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals.

"Our advertising campaign in the United States has been productive of a considerable potential tourist travel to Canada this fall," he said. "In fact the response to appeal which Canada made for autumn tours and big game hunters far exceeded our expectations, judging from the number of inquiries that have come to the Canadian travel bureau within the last few days. The inquiries point to a greatly increased tourist travel to Canada during the months of September and October."

The Canadian travel bureau's campaign for tourists was carried on in newspapers published in 23 different cities in the United States, and it is estimated that the Canadian tourist appeal reached some 30,000,000 readers in these cities.

LINDBERGH SOLUTION A MORAL VICTORY

Most Americans undoubtedly feel that the best news of the fall is the news that a break has finally come in the Lindbergh kidnaping. This is the one crime above all others which the American people want to see avenged. The combination of its singular brutality and its tragic effect on the nation's most popular hero has had an emotional effect on the nation as a whole unlike that of any other case in modern times.

Yet the emotional satisfaction we get out of the solution is, after all, the least important part of it. Far more weighty is the fact that it restores to us a measure of our national self-respect. Considered from all angles, the Lindbergh kidnaping was about the severest indictment of modern American civilization ever made.

Here was a young man of tremendous personal popularity; a man whom everyone in the country knew and liked, and wished well, a man of wealth and position, who had founded a family and taken a home in the country to get a little of that privacy and happiness that every man wants. Out of a clear sky, then, this man was struck by the most despicable of all crimes—the one crime that can be common only when society is helpless in the face of lawlessness.

The crime was committed and it went unpunished. The best-loved man in the nation had found that this was not a safe country in which to rear a child. Our grief and anger were impotent. The thing could not have happened in England, or France, or Germany; it was typically, terribly American.

Now, at last, comes retribution, and the fact is of tremendous importance, aside from the way it satisfies our desire to see a foul wrong avenged. It shows that we have, after all, the kind of social organization which can do the hardest kind of protective work—getting on a cold trail following a hundred worthless leads, keeping eternally vigilant, never forgetting or going to sleep, striking finally and effectively after a lapse of years.

In other words, we are not quite as disorganized as we were a few years ago. The Lindbergh case was our national low-water mark. Since then we have somehow managed to take a brace. We are not, any longer, the country in which the worst of all crimes can be committed with impunity.—Brownwood Bulletin.

Fifteen years ago employers, as well as the government, were promising Heaven and earth to the men who followed the flag in the World War. Today they have forgotten that debt, those promises, and nobody knows how many of our war veterans have found a last refuge in a poor house.

A number of our statesmen are going to face facts some day as they really exist and cease seeking the Utopia for which this imperfect world is far from ready to receive.

CALIFORNIA

Citrus Fiesta to Be Held at Mission

MISSION, Tex.—The second annual Texas Citrus Fiesta, a non-commercial celebration which has as its sole purpose the "glorification of Valley citrus," will be held December 6 and 7, Paul Ord, chairman of the general Fiesta committee, has announced.

The Fiesta is divided into three phases—the Parade of Oranges, which opens the celebration; the coronation of King Grapefruit and Queen Citrus with colorful ceremonies; and the Pageant of Citrus, to be superseded this year by the "Glorious Years of Texas," a pageant inspired by the Centennial plan.

First presentation was in 1932 when Mission citizens raised more than $2,500 to completely finance the celebration before actual arrangements started. The September 1933 hurricane prevented presentation last year.

Arthur Hayes, Mission High School dramatics instructor again will prepare and direct the pageant. "The Glorious Years of Texas" will trace Texas history from the occupation of the state by Indians to the present time, and will close with a spectacular scene to be called "The Spirit of Texas Today." This pageant is expected to be the first Centennial celebration in Texas.

Several hundred persons will participate. Principal characters will be Stephen F. Austin, General Sam Houston, David Crockett, Col. James W. Fannin, and "Three Fingers Willie."

The two-day Fiesta marks the opening of a 90-day citrus display during which Valley cities will be decorated with growing citrus trees lining the sidewalks, show windows in store buildings displaying fancy citrus, and the streets themselves festooned with thousands of individual fruit.

Company is Sued For Alleged Mistake

WACO.—Walter S. Stewart, of this city, has filed suit for $50,000 against the Texas Cities Gas company, in district court, alleging that employees while installing a refrigerator in his home contacted, without his consent and knowledge, a water pipe to a sewer line.

Kingsford Smith Seeks Air Record On a Long Flight

MELBOURNE.—Sir Charles Kingsford Smith, the Australian air racer, will try to make a double job of the England-Australia speed record between now and the end of October.

Not content with matching himself against some of the world's best pilots in the London-Melbourne race, he is setting out to halve the record for a flight in the reverse direction just as a muscle loosener before the race begins. The east-west record he is hoping to smash in his Lockheed Altair machine is the 8 days, 20 hours one set up by James A. Mollison in 1931.

Special Plane
Kingsford Smith bought the Lockheed Altair specially for the London-Melbourne race. It is mainly to test the efficiency of the plane and the system of controls in the race that he is planning the flight from Melbourne to London in September. The actual date of his departure from here is not yet determined.

The machine in which Mollison established the present Australia-England record three years ago was a small Gipsy Moth, with a cruising speed of less than 100 miles an hour and a range of approximately 2,000 miles. The speed and range of Kingsford Smith's plane will be almost double that of Mollison's.

It is believed, in fact, that Kingsford Smith will have the fastest machine entered in the London-Melbourne race. Its speed can be judged from the fact that

Plans Virility For Courses In Art

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—A drive to put more virility in art courses will be attempted this fall by Philip Elliott, assistant professor of fine arts in the University of Pittsburgh, he announced.

Elliott, who studied at the Yale School of Fine Arts, New Haven, Conn., claims that art is a he-man study, and wants to prove to athletes that "they can study the fine arts without being sissies."

"There is too little interest in art among students not bent in that direction. The commercial student, the athlete, and the so-called red-blooded individual, must be shown there is plenty of red blood in art."

"The average athlete scoffs at an art class as a tea party for lily-white softies. But I recall men who have turned from successful careers in sports to creative art. George Luks was a prize fighter, and George Bellows was a professional baseball player."

A lecture course on "Basic Art Principles" will be given by Elliott, and he will teach a class in methods and materials, which will give the student an understanding of art through working with the tools of art.

Miss Fannie Ratchford, Wrenn librarian, will prepare a book on Texas homes of the days before the Civil War. J. Evetts Haley will continue collection of documents dealing with early Texas history. Incidentally he will write the life of Col. Chas. Goodnight and the history of the Goodnight ranch, one of the last homes of the buffalo.

Panhandle to Stage A Big Celebration

CANYON, Texas.—Plans are being formulated to stage a Panhandle pre-centennial celebration in this section of the state. Tentative plans have set the location for the celebration at the state park now under construction in the Palo Duro canyon 12 miles east of here. Dr. J. A. Hill, Canyon, president of the West Texas State Teachers college, is chairman of the committee in charge of plans for a pre-centennial celebration for the Panhandle.

THERE'S MURDER IN THE AIR!

At least it seems that way, judging by the expression on Dorothy Tree, Warren William and Margaret Lindsay. They appear in S. S. Van Dine's "The Dragon Murder Case," First National picture which plays Sunday only at the Arcadia. Lyle Talbot, Eugene Pallette and Robert Barrat are in the cast.

"Chained" Reunites Crawford and Gable In Tense Drama

In "Chained," Joan Crawford and Clark Gable are co-starred in a story written especially for them by Edgar Selwyn, noted writer, director and producer. They are cast in the kind of roles which each has made famous—Joan as a vivid young lady of Manhattan, and Clark as a young American rancher in Buenos Aires.

With Otto Kruger as the "other man," a rich, gentlemanly, middle-aged New Yorker, also in love with Joan, the story takes on dramatic power. Following the new trend of fast moving locale, the background action which the action takes place is as swift changing as the drama itself. Beginning with a sun-flecked motorboat sequence on New York bay, the locale swiftly shifts to Manhattan, then to a luxurious liner at sea, then to Buenos Aires, South America, out onto a great ranch, back to New York, and thus to a smart mountain resort in the North. The story itself concerns a beautiful girl who deliberately breaks one man's heart to save a man to whom she is indebted from suffering. Then she bravely faces the dramatic consequences, with the surprise ending a happy one for all three.

Philo Vance Takes Place of Shylock Holmes of Old

Philo Vance is rapidly replacing Sherlock Holmes in the national consciousness. For many years, it was Arthur Conan Doyle's famous detective hero who automatically came to mind whenever one referred to mystery thrillers. Sherlock Holmes was the embodiment of all that was brilliant in the way of sleuthing.

But now S. S. Van Dine has come along with his more modern detective, Philo Vance, the erudite collector of fine jade and prints, who solves baffling mysteries purely as a side-line. And Sherlock Holmes is practically forgotten. The newest Philo Vance thriller, "The Dragon Murder Case," First National picture, comes to the Arcadia Theatre Sunday with Warren William making his debut in the role of the suave sleuth. While "to do a Sherlock" automatically means to do a bit of sleuthing, S. S. Van Dine can boast, if he wants to, over the fact that "Philo Vance" is rapidly becoming part of the national idiom. The

August "Congressional Record," no less, reports that one indignant Solon inquired caustically of another if he "thought he was Philo Vance himself?"

Pat O'Brien Given Stiff Ring Training For Fighter's Role

If it's true that the Irish love to fight, then Pat O'Brien is a lucky chap. For O'Brien has the leading role in "The Personality Kid," a Warner Bros. prize-ring romance showing at the Columbia Theatre, Sunday. Pat, who was one of the best amateur fighters at Marquette University, realized that he had softened considerably since he packed a football, or threw the mitts, so he began an intensive conditioning campaign for the role.

He engaged Jackie Fields, former welterweight champion of the world, to whip him into shape, and O'Brien was seen jogging over the Brentwood Hills in company with Fields early each morning. The day included steam baths, gym work, massaging, and as many rounds of give-and-take boxing as the tutor demanded.

Hardeman County Tax Rate Lowered

QUANAH, Tex. — Hardeman county tax rate has been lowered 14 cents for the coming year by the commissioners' court. The court reported plus balances in all funds with no likelihood of having default on any outstanding indebtedness. China produced 561,160 hockey sticks last year. If the Chinese had only used them in their war with Japan, things might have been different.

"Name the Woman" Thrill Newspaper Film at Arcadia

"Name the Woman," the amusing newspaper thrill drama showing Friday at the Arcadia Theatre with Richard Cromwell, Arline Judge and Rita La Roy in the principal roles.

Based on a story by Fred Niblo, Jr., and Herbert Asbury and directed by Albert Rogell, "Name the Woman" presents the dramatic conflict between a young, inexperienced but adventurous newspaper reporter bent on ripping the lid off a corrupt government machine and his political adversaries.

The youth's exploits lead him into a series of circumstances involving a romance, an election, and a number of murders. Starting with his assignment to cover the slaying of the District Attorney, Cromwell continues on his own to unravel the mystery after having stumbled accidentally upon an important clue that momentarily involved the daughter of the reform candidate for Mayor. It is mainly his mission to clear the girl's name that spurs him on until the dramatic climax brings the guilty one to justice.

Stars of 'Cimarron' Now In 'Stingaree'

Richard Dix and Irene Dunne are reunited as co-stars in "Stingaree," RKO-Radio's eventful melodrama. These stars have not appeared together in a talking picture since their sensational success in "Cimarron."

"Stingaree" is a dashing and sympathetic Australian bandit who spends his spare time composing much. The role gives Dix an opportunity to return to the adventurous, twinkling-eyed roles he enacted in the days of his early successes.

Miss Dunne, opposite, has her first opportunity to exploit thoroughly her beautiful voice. In "Stingaree" she sings both popular and operatic songs.

TWO RECEIVE 99 YEARS IN KIDNAP CASE

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24—Joe Burleson, 26, and Homer McCoy, 30, today were each sentenced to 99 years in prison for the kidnaping and robbery last April of C. M. Kella, Jr., Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employe.

The two men pleaded guilty before District Judge Geo. E. Hosey. They each received two 99 year sentences, one each in the robber and kidnaping charges. The sentences will run concurrently.

Kella was held up April 23 by two men who leaped on the running board of his automobile as it stopped at a traffic light. The men later forced Kella to get into the turtle back of the car, where he was held for 18 hours while the men drove about Eastern Texas and Louisiana.

When the car stopped at a filling station at Mt. Pleasant, Texas, Kella beat on the walls of the car. His pounding was heard by Mrs. W. A. McKee, 78, wife of the station operator. She forced the release. Burleson and McCoy attempted to flee but were captured.

Scouts of Ranger To Attend Rally At Parks Friday

A big patrol rally is to be held at Parks Camp, near Breckenridge on Friday night, Sept. 28, at which Ranger scouts are to be represented, it was announced today by Raymond Steele, scoutmaster of Troop 9.

All members of the troop are to meet at the First Methodist church Friday afternoon at 6:30 for the trip to the rally, and all parents of scout members have been invited to attend.

About six automobiles will be needed to transport the scouts to the rally, it was said today, and all who can furnish a car have been urged to notify Walter Harwell by Wednesday if they can aid in getting the boys to the meeting.

The program for the rally has been worked out as follows:

First aid: demonstrate fireman's lift, chair carry, stretcher carry, fireman's drag and artificial respiration.

Signaling: demonstrate signal tower (where there is no hill or tree the scouts just make one); different ways of signaling.

Knot tying: scouts will tie the knots and leave on the floor, running about 30 feet and getting in line. One mistake will eliminate the contestant. The knots to be tied are square, bowline, halter, sheepshank, sheetbend, fisherman, clove and stevedore.

Three legged race: team of two from each patrol.

Fire by flint and steel: as many as want to enter.

Indian leg wrestling: one entry from each patrol.

Material will be furnished for each event by the contestants and the scouts must be prepared when the whistle blows. Every patrol and every troop is expected to be represented at the rally.

Turtle Eggs Hatched And Played Piano

HOUSTON.—Two months ago Mrs. Ethel Reich of Houston and her husband went fishing on a creek near Sugarland, Texas, where they found a soft-shelled turtle's nest and took from it nine eggs.

Against the advice of her husband, Mrs. Reich washed and polished the eggs and took them home where they adorned the piano top as decorations.

Several nights later Reich was awakened by noises emanating from the piano similar to those which might be expected from an unskilled pianist. He found the eggs had hatched nine blinking, but very much alive turtles. They were slowly walking along the keyboard.

Special detectives of the Texas & Pacific railroad were also reported to be aiding in the investigation.

The officers conducting the investigation would not make any statement this morning, but indicated they would have reports on the deaths later in the day or Wednesday.

Patrol Measured For New Uniforms

Ernest Daniels and Morgan Myers, state highway patrolmen stationed at Eastland, two of the 120 men employed in that capacity in the state, attended a two-district meet of the body in Abilene Saturday and were measured for their new uniforms.

A distinctive dress has been adopted instead of the former gray shirt and trousers because of the ease of impersonation. The men will wear a medium blue shirt, with shoulder straps of tan piped in red, and tan trousers with a one-inch stripe of blue piped in red down each side. The caps are a combination of the blue and tan materials with blue visors.

The annual district report of the thirty men of the Abilene and Wichita Falls districts was outstanding, Judge W. R. Ely, member of the state highway commission told the "cycle mounties."

Announcement was made today by W. N. McDonald, exalted ruler of the Ranger Elks lodge, that a play-by-play report of the Ranger-Lubbock game, to be played in Lubbock Friday night at 8 o'clock, would be received and announced at the Elks arena.

Arrangements have been made to have a direct wire installed from the press box at the field at Lubbock to the Elks arena in Ranger, where the entire game can be heard just as played. An admission charge of 25 cents per person is being made in order that the cost of the hookup can be defrayed and all money taken in over the actual cost of securing the report of the game will go to the Elks' charity fund for use among the needy of Ranger this winter.

The game is to start promptly at 8 o'clock and the first reports on the game should come in within a very few minutes after that time.

Last Rites Tuesday For R. F. Lawrence

Funeral services for R. F. Lawrence, about 35, who died in Bryan Monday morning, were conducted at Luther, Howard county, Wednesday.

He had been administrative assistant in the county agent's office, and was in charge of the Bankhead bill work in the county. The A. & M. graduate who came to Eastland after employment as appraiser for the Federal Land Bank, worked in Eastland for four months before his departure for College Station.

J. C. Patterson, Eastland County Agent, and other former co-workers attended the funeral Tuesday.

STATE RELIEF IN COUNTY TO BE DELAYED

According to a letter received from Austin Monday by the Eastland county general relief board, state funds for October if granted by the legislature, would not be available for thirty days.

H. E. Driscoll, county administrator in telling of the contents of the letter said the following:

"Monday the Eastland county relief board received from Austin an estimate for October on which is placed the figures showing total funds required to cover the needs of the county for the month of October. We are also advised due to the fact that the legislature has not acted concerning relief measures at time the letter was written.

"Austin could not definitely tell us any funds would be available for October and states that when they have acted it would be at least 30 days before any state funds would be available.

"To date we are not promised any federal funds but it is required we submit our estimate promptly, and we are also advised accordingly to conserve our present unobligated funds as much as possible."

Funds for the last half of September amounting to $17,500 arrived at the Eastland county general relief office in Eastland last week.

Rose Festival to Be Held on Rim Of Great Oil Field

TYLER, Tex.—A Rose Festival on the crust of the world's greatest oil field. A Rose Festival in the midst of a great pine forest.

Thus will East Texas show her disregard for notions that a locality favored by nature in one way should stick to its knitting.

For East Texas has a variety of knitting.

On October 11 and 12 Tyler will play host to the second annual East Texas Rose Festival, which last year drew attendance from 75 cities in 15 states. This year the celebration will be on a larger scale than before.

There will be a mammoth floral parade, selection and coronation of an East Texas Rose Queen, a rose show, tours of the rose nurseries in the Tyler area, and a reception and dance for the queen and her attendants. In addition, Dr. J. Horace McFarlane, editor of the American Rose Annual and president emeritus of the American Rose Society, will present an illustrated lecture on the newer varieties of roses.

It is near the heart of an oil field that produces more than 400,000 barrels of black wealth daily, that a rose industry blooms—an industry producing more than $1,000,000 worth of fragrance and beauty each year. Most of it is centered in Smith County, but rose cultivation has extended to Van Zandt, Harrison and other counties. From these counties, over the same rails that carry cars of rich oil, go myriads of rose bushes annually to all parts of the nation.

And over all the territory, draping rose bushes and oil derricks alike with shadow, stand the pines—part of an estimated 14,020,000,000 board feet growing timber.

Weldon Needham of Ranger sustained a concussion and had one ear torn off, but doctors said they would be able to save the ear and that his injuries would not prove dangerous.

Mrs. Evelyn Houston of Cisco received cuts about the head and arms, which were not dangerous. Jimmie Tolon of Ranger had a wrenched back and was given medical attention.

A Parrish boy received cuts about the legs and feet, but was not badly injured.

The accident occurred at the top of a hill on the Ranger-Olden highway shortly after midnight, according to reports, and both automobiles which were in the crash were completely demolished.

No cause for the accident was given by those who were in the two automobiles, one of which was an old model Ford touring and the other a 1934 model Chevrolet coupe.

Bruce had been to Ranger and was returning to Cross Plains and the other party was going to Ranger from Cisco at the time of the accident.

EIGHT INJURED IN ACCIDENT EARLY SUNDAY

Two persons were seriously injured and six others were less dangerously hurt in an automobile accident between Olden and Ranger early Sunday morning when two cars crashed head-on in one of the worst automobile accidents in this part of the county in some time.

Tom Bruce, 48, of Cross Plains, who is the most seriously injured of the eight, sustained a fractured skull, one eye was cut out, his jaw was fractured and several ribs were broken in addition to other less serious wounds, including cuts and bruises. At the West Texas Clinic and Hospital, where he was taken for treatment, it was said Wednesday that he was in a critical condition and some doubt was expressed as to whether he would recover.

Tod Needham of Ranger received a fractured skull and a broken leg and his injuries were also reported to be grave. He also had a bad cut on one leg.

Weldon Needham of Ranger sustained a concussion and had one ear torn off, but doctors said they would be able to save the ear and that his injuries would not prove dangerous.

HOUSE VOTES SENATE BILL FOR NEW BONDS

AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—The Texas house of representatives voted to accept the $6,000,000 relief bond bill which it had rejected yesterday.

The house vote was 120 to 18. The senate had previously voted for the bill, 21 to 6. The bill therefore can become effective as soon as it is signed by Governor Ferguson.

Final passage of the relief bond bill was believed to have lessened likelihood of another session being convened tomorrow.

The bill provides for issuance of all but $3,500,000 of the possible state relief bonds, budgets them so that not more than $1,500,000 shall be used in any one month and pledges all state funds for retirement except funds put into other channels by the constitution. The bonds may bear 4 1/2 per cent interest.

The existing relief setup is discarded. The state board of control is placed in charge of administration with full power to remove county boards and all administrative officials including the state director.

The bill will probably reach the governor's desk late today.

Alleged Remover of Mortgaged Goods Returned to County

O. J. Taylor, formerly of Rising Star, who is charged at the Justice of Peace Court in Rising Star with removing mortgaged property, was returned from Palestine to the county Friday by Deputy County Officer Steele Hill.

It is said Taylor, who Saturday was in the Eastland county jail, left Rising Star some months ago taking along a car which was unpaid for.

ROCKEFELLER NEPHEW DIES OF OPERATION

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Percy Avery Rockefeller, 56, nephew of John D. Rockefeller Sr., who built up his own family fortune to tremendous proportions, died today in Doctors hospital of a stomach disorder.

Accompanied by Mrs. Rockefeller and members of the family the millionaire stock market operator whose name was listed on the directory of half a hundred companies, came here from Connecticut last Friday. He underwent an operation for stomach ulcers but failed to rally.

The least known member of his famous family, Rockefeller made his financial power known through subsidiaries. Even his control of the National City bank, second largest in the country, was disputed through employees.

The wealthy heiress who married the hitch-hiker should have been more considerate of the motorists. The highways will be cluttered with hitch-hikers now.

New Lights Put in Lighting System on Derrick on Main St.

New lights were installed on the derrick at the foot of Main street Tuesday, after several weeks during which most of them had been out.

A new type of light bulb was used in replacing the lights, which are more rigidly constructed and are supposed to withstand vibration. In the past ordinary lights were used and the heavy freight trains and the wind caused so much vibration that filaments would be broken.

The "mill type" globes have been tested out locally and have been found to withstand vibration and to last longer, and will be used entirely in lighting the derrick in the future.

News of Interest to the Farmers of Eastland County

Dr. Hodges is Made Veterinary for A Large District

Dr. R. H. Hodges of Ranger has been notified of his appointment as government veterinarian in charge of a 10-county district extending from Eastland county to the Oklahoma state line.

Dr. Hodges has been working for the government ever since the appraisal and examination of cattle was begun, having been stationed in Southwest Texas a greater part of the time. His appointment as a district supervisor came in Saturday.

The new territory, which has been turned over to him includes a district of 10 counties, including Eastland, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Jack and other counties from there north to Oklahoma.

Corn-Hog Program Exceeds 78 Million

WASHINGTON—Producers operating in the corn-hog program were paid more than two and a quarter million dollars a day on their adjustment contracts during the last week, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today.

A preliminary report shows that up to Sept. 14, payments totaled slightly in excess of $78,500,000. This amount represents nearly 60 per cent of the total first installment of approximately $133,000,000 now being paid to farmers participating in the 1934 corn-hog adjustment program. Thus far checks have been mailed to over 800,000 contract signers in 39 states. Approximately 1,200,000 corn-hog contracts were signed by farmers.

From Sept. 8 to Sept. 14, inclusive, corn-hog adjustment payments approximated $15,867,259, the preliminary report shows. In one day, Sept. 12, checks totaling over $3,700,000 were mailed to more than 38,500 producers.

Up to Sept. 14 a total of 829,641 contracts had been received and release for payment by the rental benefit audit section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Of this total number, 129,516 were early payment contracts received from 514 counties, and 700,125 were of the regular payment type approved for payment in 1,619 counties.

The 829,641 contracts received and released for payment up to Sept. 14, represent about 70 per cent of the total of approximately 1,200,000 contracts signed by corn-hog producers in the 1934 program.

Payments up to Sept. 13 were made to producers in 39 states as follows: Alabama, $183,604.90; Arizona, $17,168.00; Arkansas, $301,156.30; California, $709,160.60; Colorado, $138,178.46; Connecticut, $2,001.75; Delaware, $12,883.85; Florida, $117,257.15; Georgia, $63,526.95; Idaho, $34,819.10; Illinois, $3,107,859.05; Indiana, $6,427,190.80; Iowa, $20,541.32; Kansas, $4,404,335.00; Maryland, $119,290.60; Massachusetts, $160,678.60; Michigan, $153,849.45; Minnesota, $5,072,151.55; Missouri, $7,771,464.08; Montana, $86,513.65; Nebraska, $7,177,712.80; Nevada, $25,079.95; New Hampshire, $1,468.00; New Mexico, $83,342.10; New York, $5,217.80; North Carolina, $26,398.60; North Dakota, $259,331.65; Ohio, $6,862,953.80; Oklahoma, $245,239.65; South Carolina, $152.50; South Dakota, $4,198,942.00; Tennessee, $151,330.80; Texas, $743,210.55; Utah, $61,801.85; Vermont, $3,698.00; Virginia, $610,132.70; Washington, $285,193.40; West Virginia, $69,810.60; Wisconsin, $2,330,863.05.

HARVEST FIRST OHIO GRAPES SANDUSKY, O.—The first carload of rich grapes from the 1934 harvest in the Lake Erie belt has just been shipped to a southern Ohio winery. The fruit was picked one day and brought from the lake islands here by special boat the next day for shipment.

AGRICULTURAL BREVITIES

Texas farmers received $11,562,394 in 1934 AAA cotton reduction payments to Aug. 16, or approximately 33 per cent of the $38,114,245 paid out in the entire cotton belt to that date, according to official announcement by agricultural adjustment administration officials. These payments comprise the bulk of $50,000,000 first rental installment to be paid cotton growers, of which Texas farmers will receive about $14,000,000. Another payment is due to be paid co-operating producers in September, when proof of compliance with the AAA program is established, and a final parity payment of $25,000,000 to all states affected is due after Dec. 1.

The Texas cotton crop for 1934 is estimated at 48 per cent of normal, or an average indicated yield for the state of 108 pounds per acre, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. The estimated yield of approximately 2,382,000 bales will be the smallest crop since 1921. Because of the drought, boll weevil infestation is reported to be lower than average this year.

Cotton prices continue strong in the United States despite marked restriction in domestic cotton consumption, somewhat unfavorable demand conditions in Europe, continued small domestic sales of cotton goods, and reports of increased acreage and production of cotton in foreign countries, according to the bureau of agricultural economics. The strong market is attributed to reduced cotton acreage in the United States and unfavorable weather conditions, especially in Texas and Oklahoma.

The world wool industry has dropped from the peaks of a year ago. Prices have weakened in foreign markets as a result of uncertain conditions in European consuming countries, and direct sales of Texas wool have been reported recently at 8 to 10 cents a pound (scoured basis) below spot quotations on similar wool held at Houston, says the bureau of agricultural economics, reporting currently on the situation.

Sharp decrease in the Texas lamb crop was offset by larger lamb crops in the 11 far western states, according to bureau of agricultural economics reports. The drought is blamed for the short crop in Texas, about a million less lambs being dropped in 1934 than in 1933.

Estimates set the 1934 wool clip in Texas at about 60,080,000 pounds, somewhat under the last year's clip of 74,800,000 pounds. The United States wool clip for this year is predicted to run in the neighborhood of 354,533,000 pounds, or 2 per cent less than 1933 and 1 per cent more than the five-year average from 1920 to 1933.

A new high for the season was reported in the sale of 75,000 pounds of kid mohair at a price of 60 cents per pound by a Bandera grower. Bulk of the spring mohair clip is being held by growers and warehouses for prices better than those generally prevailing, it is reported.

Gross farm receipts in June, 1934, totaled $440,000,000, compared with $439,000,000 in May, 1934, and $423,000,000 in June, 1933, according to bureau of agricultural economics reports. This year's June total included $111,000,000 from sales of farm products, $28,000,000 in rental and benefit payments by the AAA, and approximately $1,000,000 from government purchases of cattle in drought areas. The bureau reports that cash income from the sale of farm products during the first six months of 1934 showed a 19 per cent increase over the same period in 1933.

Drought conditions are not confined to America, according to reports. Conditions are reported to be especially severe in the Danube Basin and bureau representatives estimate that the Danubian wheat crop has been reduced by dry weather to 100,000,000 bushels below the 1933 harvest of 370,868,000 bushels. Such a crop would be one of the smallest on record for the basin and would allow little or no exporting.

Crops in almost all countries of the Northern Hemisphere have been damaged and parts of the Southern Hemisphere, particularly Australia and Argentina, have been affected by drought. Rains came too late in Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Austria to offset damage to bread and feed grains. Large stocks of 1933 bread grains crops will prevent a shortage of bread but live stock feed will be short. Russia has had a severe drought and short grain crops are indicated.

The bureau of agricultural economics reiterates earlier statements that the national food supply has not been reduced significantly and that the principal effect of the drought is in a reduction of feed and forage for livestock. Local shortage of certain food crops will be met by shipments from surplus producing areas. However, the drought has been particularly severe on bread grains, principally wheat. The wheat crop is estimated to be the shortest in 41 years.

Other predictions presage the smallest hay crop in 40 years, a decrease in the number of milk cows, and a resultant reduced milk production. Good fall rains still can make winter feed in Southwest Texas but in other areas prospects are not so favorable.

Decreased slaughter of cattle in the first half of 1935 is predicted because of the present heavy slaughter and that which is expected in the next six months. Supplies of pork will be considerably smaller next year on account of the large reduction in this year's pig crop.

Outstanding loans of the regional agricultural credit corporation will be liquidated and no further applications for loans will be received by the corporations, it was announced by Gov. W. I. Myers of the farm credit administration. Production loans will be made by production credit associations, through a nation wide system of more than 600 such associations.

McLENNAN COUNTY FARMERS WILL GET $1,700,000 FROM COTTON

By United Press
WACO, Tex.—McLennan county farmers will have been paid a total of $1,700,000 when total cotton checks from the government are in, according to County Agricultural Agent R. S. Miller. This total represents the amounts received from both the plow-up program of last year and the payments under the Bankhead law of the current season.

The government cattle buying program has placed an aggregate of $140,000 in the pockets of McLennan county farmers, Miller stated, a total of 14,000 head of cattle having been sold by 1,200 farmers of the county.

Texas Farmers are Making Payments On Production Loans

Texas farmers are making an excellent record in paying their production credit crop loans when due, according to Tully C. Garner, president of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston. In spite of drought and, in many cases, poor crops there is every indication that most of the loans made to Texas farmers will be paid when their crops are sold this fall.

For example, in a report received from the Austin Production Credit Association, H. H. Onstot, secretary-treasurer, says: "At this early date, (September 15) 75 per cent of the total amount of our crop loans are paid. More than 50 per cent of our crop loan borrowers have paid their loans in full. About 35 per cent of our unpaid balances are covered with ginned cotton which will be sold within the next few days. There are only 14 of our borrowers who have made no payment and most of these have enough cotton picked but unsold to pay their loans."

"Our borrowers seem well pleased with the handling of our loans this year and with very few exceptions, they will be borrowers next year. Some of our crop loans are being paid from the sale of cotton allotment tickets where practically no crop at all was made. The morale among our borrowers is excellent and we expect to carry over into next year's crop program less than five per cent of this season's loans."

County Agents Sent Cotton Pool Forms

Forms are being sent to county agents in the cotton belt to enable 455,000 members of the cotton producers pool holding certificates covering 1,950,000 bales of cotton to obtain an additional advance of two cents a pound or to offer their certificates to the pool for sale, it was announced today by Oscar Johnson, manager of the Cotton Producers Pool of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Mr. Johnson stated that under the procedure that has been developed, together with the government's offer to lend producers 12 cents per pound on low middling cotton at interior points, it is not believed that the transaction with reference to the pool cotton will have adverse effect upon marketing of the 1934 crop or such of the 1933 crop as is still in the hands of the producers.

Mr. Johnson further stated that in his opinion, the majority of the certificate holders will take advantage of the offer of two cents per pound and retain their interest in the pool, thus obviating the necessity of the pool manager disposing of a large quantity of the cotton held in the pool. He stated, however, that there would be some pool members who would be desirous of immediately disposing of their certificates at the present market level, and that it would therefore be necessary for the pool manager, from time to time, to sell so much of the cotton under his control as may be necessary to meet the demands of certificate holders whose certificates are purchased.

As previously announced, Mr. Johnson pointed out, arrangements have been completed for the sale of all low grade, non-tenderable, cotton in the pool to the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation for use in relief activities, this being the character of cotton required for the manufacture of mattresses and for similar purposes. This sale, he stated, will reduce to that extent the quantity of cotton which may become necessary to market. It is not contemplated, that in addition to this, there will be a very great proportion of pool cotton offered to the market.

Buy Duck Stamps Now, Urges The Biological Survey

With seasons opening in many states early in October, the Bureau of Biological Survey reminds all waterfowl hunters over 16 years of age that they must carry a migratory bird hunting stamp affixed to the state license or to a federal certificate. The new so-called "duck stamp" sells for $1 at post offices in all county seats, in all towns with populations of 2,500 or more, and in certain waterfowl centers.

Emphasizing that the money collected from the duck-stamp sales will be used by the Federal Government to increase the supply of waterfowl, the Biological Survey also urges all conservationists to cooperate by buying stamps. Of the total proceeds 90 per cent will be spent in acquiring and administering waterfowl sanctuaries, and the remaining 10 per cent will be used in administering the act.

The bureau expects the stamp will have an unusual appeal for collectors. It is the first waterfowl stamp and is the work of J. N. Darling, Biological Survey chief, well-known as the cartoonist "Doug".

Stamp purchasers are not hunters, the Bureau advises, should fill out the Federal certificate, stating that they are not required to have a state game license. The postmaster will affix a stamp to each certificate filled out.

To correct a widespread misunderstanding, the Biological Survey explains that every purchaser may buy as many stamps as he desires. Mr. Darling opened the nation-wide stamp sale with a purchase of 25 stamps.

Postmasters, according to instructions recently issued by C. B. Eilenberger, Third Assistant Postmaster General, are permitted to affix adhesively to the state game license of the applicant as many stamps as are desired, and only one to application need be filled out by an applicant. Purchasers who are not required to have state hunting licenses may buy any desired number of federal certificates, but only one stamp will be affixed to each certificate.

Missouri Farmers Sent Old Cow Bell To The President

HOUSTON, Mo.—Texas County farmers have sent an old cow bell to President Roosevelt in appreciation of benefits received under the drought cattle buying program. The token of good will was donated by W. L. Light of Willow Springs, and was sent by David F. Luckey, inspector for the Bureau of Animal Husbandry, Department of Agriculture, in charge of cattle buying in Texas County.

Tax Collections Up at Perryton

PERRYTON, Tex.—Tax collections in Ochiltree county are the best since 1929 according to reports of the county tax collector. Only $6,000 have been entered on the delinquent tax rolls this year, compared to $21,000 in 1932.

WHEN YOU'RE TOO TIRED TO GO ON...

Get a LIFT with a Camel!

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

ANY TOBACCO MAN WILL TELL YOU:
"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

In light of the recent scientific confirmation of the "energizing effect" in Camels, note what Miss Engelhard, champion woman mountain climber, says:
"Mountain climbing is great sport, but don't try it unless you have plenty of energy. Many times up there above the timber line, within a short climb of the goal, I have thought 'I can't go another step.' Then I call a halt and smoke a Camel. A Camel lifts me up in just a few minutes and gives me the energy to push on to the mountain top!"

People in every walk of life have found that Camels increase their energy. Perhaps you have observed this among your own circle of friends.
You'll like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more, so go ahead! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

SALESMAN E. W. Davis says: "I'll say this for Camel's costlier tobaccos—they taste better! And when I'm tired a Camel revives my energy!"

MOTOR-BOAT RACER Florence Burtham says: "For a long time I have been a Camel fan. . . Camels, being so much milder, never disturb my nerves. I smoke them all I want."

Camel's Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves!

NEAR UNEQUALLED CROWDS SEE FAIR; IS CALLED A BIG SUCCESS

Winners of Exhibit Awards in the County Fair Announced Saturday By County Agents J. C. Patterson And Miss Ruth Ramey

Crowds near unequalled in the history of the county were present Saturday night at the close of the Eastland county fair, H. C. Davis of Eastland, general chairman for the fair said Saturday, and added that it was a tremendous success. Friday night crowds, larger than those of the preceding days, witnessed the various entertainments and inspected exhibits of which Miss Ruth Ramey and J. C. Patterson, county agents, announced the winners Saturday. The ducking stool was erected Friday night and R. L. Ferguson of Eastland was soured completely into water by an all too accurate thrower. Joe Jones Denies He Offered Job For Man's Support

Joe Jones, assistant United States Attorney of Dallas, and formerly of Eastland, has written this paper a letter denying that he offered patronage to Frank A. Jones of Eastland in return for support he might receive from the paper, as indicated in a letter in pointing F. A. Jones of his appointment as postmaster of Eastland.

The letter from Joe Jones reads as follows: Gentlemen: In your issue of Friday evening, August 31, 1934, there appears a letter from Thomas L. Blanton, Abilene politician, to Frank Allen Jones, Eastland, Texas. The sixth paragraph of this letter reads as follows: "My friends there have brought it to my attention that you have actively supported me in every election there since I entered public life; that in the 1932 campaign you heartily supported me in your publications, notwithstanding that my opponent offered to make you postmaster if you would give him your support, and that you refused to consider his proposal, and also refused to consider a subsequent proposal made jointly by him and a candidate for Congressman at large that if you would support them they would make you postmaster, and that in addition to your support personally and through newspapers, you wrote many letters for me, and published and distributed many circulars advertising my speaking appointments;..."

Inasmuch as the writer was the only opponent Mr. Blanton had in the campaign of 1932, the above paragraph of his letter to Frank A. Jones would infer that I had promised to appoint Frank A. Jones postmaster if he would give me his support. This statement is entirely false and untrue and was known to be false and untrue by Frank A. Jones at the time he received the letter from the Abilene politician and at the time it was published in your paper. I never promised Frank Jones to appoint him to any position, and if I had been the successful candidate for congress he would not have been appointed. I had other plans for the patrons of the Eastland postoffice and they were not based upon politics. The truth of the matter is that the Abilene politician has displaced his constituents in making appointments at a large number of places, such as Breckenridge, Gorman, Stamford and other places, and he is at this time merely editing some of his political "boob" so that he can put it in the Congressional record for campaign purposes two years hence, showing the background and endorsement of his appointments.

No, I didn't promise to appoint Frank Jones postmaster. I have a different idea about the distribution of Federal patronage. I don't agree with the Abilene politician that government positions, which still belong to the taxpayers and not to Congressmen, should be traded for campaign publicity and political support. Since I am away from home at work I think it was very unfair that the false paragraph was published in your paper, and I appeal to your sense of fairness to give this letter the same publicity you gave to it. Yours very truly, JOE H. JONES.

Centennial Plans Many Exhibitions DALLAS, Sept. 24.—Plans for financing the state's share in the centennial to be staged in San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, Breckenridge, Nacogdoches, Huntville, Dallas and other points in the state in 1936 in commemoration of Texas independence were considered at a meeting here of the Texas Centennial executive committee, which completed its organization by adding to its membership Fred F. Florence and R. L. Thornton, both of Dallas.

Plans are being formulated by the members to enable the state to do its part without burdening the general fund and they decided to take immediate steps to have the question of appropriations and appropriate legislation considered by the state legislature. Should the legislature in its present special session, owing to insufficient time, be unable to take definite action in the matter, centennial leaders hope that another special session will be called at an early date in order that legislative action regarding the centennial's financing may be taken. The initial work done toward launching the centennial movement was approved by the members of the executive committee.

Several plans for raising necessary revenue are being considered by the committee. Both of the new members of the committee were nominated by the Dallas Centennial executive committee of which Mr. Florence is chairman and of which Mr. Thornton heads the ways and means committee. Both are heads of national banks in Dallas. Mr. Thornton is president of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and, for several months, Mr. Florence served as chairman for Dallas county relief work.

Missouri Tries Segregating Its Motor Traffic By RICHARD L. HARKNESS United Press Staff Correspondent JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The Missouri public service commission, in an experiment believed unique in the United States, is attempting to segregate truck from motor car traffic on state highways. Commission Chairman J. A. Caskey Collet is attempting to bar commercial trucks from a new cut-off built into St. Louis from Highway 66, forcing operators to use the old road and leaving the new concrete slab free for the public.

Successful Collet plans to separate commercial and public automobile traffic wherever possible and where alternate routes are available. The move is primarily an attempt to reduce automobile deaths in Missouri. Figures show that an average of slightly more than two persons are killed every day in highway wrecks, many of them involving trucks that crowd roads because of their large size. "It is the belief of the commission," Collet said, "that the use of Missouri highways for commercial purposes increases the hazards of those engaged in their use for private purposes." The commission, Collet said, also believes the highways, financed by gasoline and license taxes, "were not constructed for the purpose of advancing commercial interests but were primarily for benefit of the traveling public."

Black Widow Spiders In Kansas For Years MANHATTAN, Kan.—While the "black widow" spider has achieved a wide degree of ill-fame only recently, Dr. R. S. Smith, department of entomology of Kansas State college here, says the insect has been more or less common in Kansas many years. The bite of the "black widow" or "hour-glass" spider, as it is properly termed, rarely is fatal, Smith says, adding that he never has heard of a victim who received prompt medical attention dying. Smith says the hour-glass spider is not aggressive and that few persons bitten by spiders are victims of this variety. Bites of any spider should be treated with antiseptics, he says, and in case severe pain develops a doctor should be called at once. Both the male and female hour-glass spiders are poisonous, and have a distinctive reddish hour-glass marking on the abdomen.

Judge Sold One Defunct Bus Line KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Judge Merrill E. Otis of federal district court, interested in getting as much money as possible for creditors of the defunct St. Joseph and Excelsior Springs bus lines, of a bankrupt interurban company, threw open the bidding on the property and virtually turned the proceedings into an auction. In so doing he secured $53,000 for the bus franchise and the out-moded rolling stock, which was $30,200 above the original offer. In opening the bidding Judge Otis pitted against one another such interests as the Union Pacific and the Missouri Pacific and Van Swearingen companies. The Union Pacific's bid finally prevailed. As the time for closing the bids neared representatives of the companies interested stepped up the tempo of their offers. "Here's a bid of $45,000," said the Burlington representative. "And here's one of $45,000," snapped the Missouri Pacific and Van Swearingen spokesmen. Union Pacific men hurriedly conferred and then hiked their bid. "Thus the offers went until, with a minute to go, the Union Pacific went to $53,000 and the others dropped out.

Joe Jones Denies He Offered Job For Man's Support

Joe Jones, assistant United States Attorney of Dallas, and formerly of Eastland, has written this paper a letter denying that he offered patronage to Frank A. Jones of Eastland in return for support he might receive from the paper, as indicated in a letter in pointing F. A. Jones of his appointment as postmaster of Eastland.

The letter from Joe Jones reads as follows: Gentlemen: In your issue of Friday evening, August 31, 1934, there appears a letter from Thomas L. Blanton, Abilene politician, to Frank Allen Jones, Eastland, Texas. The sixth paragraph of this letter reads as follows: "My friends there have brought it to my attention that you have actively supported me in every election there since I entered public life; that in the 1932 campaign you heartily supported me in your publications, notwithstanding that my opponent offered to make you postmaster if you would give him your support, and that you refused to consider his proposal, and also refused to consider a subsequent proposal made jointly by him and a candidate for Congressman at large that if you would support them they would make you postmaster, and that in addition to your support personally and through newspapers, you wrote many letters for me, and published and distributed many circulars advertising my speaking appointments;..."

Inasmuch as the writer was the only opponent Mr. Blanton had in the campaign of 1932, the above paragraph of his letter to Frank A. Jones would infer that I had promised to appoint Frank A. Jones postmaster if he would give me his support. This statement is entirely false and untrue and was known to be false and untrue by Frank A. Jones at the time he received the letter from the Abilene politician and at the time it was published in your paper. I never promised Frank Jones to appoint him to any position, and if I had been the successful candidate for congress he would not have been appointed. I had other plans for the patrons of the Eastland postoffice and they were not based upon politics. The truth of the matter is that the Abilene politician has displaced his constituents in making appointments at a large number of places, such as Breckenridge, Gorman, Stamford and other places, and he is at this time merely editing some of his political "boob" so that he can put it in the Congressional record for campaign purposes two years hence, showing the background and endorsement of his appointments.

No, I didn't promise to appoint Frank Jones postmaster. I have a different idea about the distribution of Federal patronage. I don't agree with the Abilene politician that government positions, which still belong to the taxpayers and not to Congressmen, should be traded for campaign publicity and political support. Since I am away from home at work I think it was very unfair that the false paragraph was published in your paper, and I appeal to your sense of fairness to give this letter the same publicity you gave to it. Yours very truly, JOE H. JONES.

Distribution of Mattresses to Be Begun By Oct. 1

AUSTIN. Distribution of mattresses to destitute families of Texas likely will be started by October 1, officials of the Texas Relief Commission said today.

Seven hundred mattresses were manufactured in Texas plants last week and production will be increased as all of the designated plants begin operations.

First to receive the benefits of this commodity distribution will be those families actually without mattresses. A survey by case workers to determine the number of such families in each county will be taken and orders will be placed with the state commission on this basis.

It will be impossible to reach all of the counties at the same time due to the slow production but we expect to reach them all before winter," C. Z. Grain, in charge of production, said.

County administrators have been instructed to see that all old mattresses do not get back into circulation. Clients will not be allowed to sell old mattresses to second hand stores and administrators were urged to burn them as a health measure.

Aged Dentist is On Job at 76

HUMBOLDT, Ia.—Dr. T. E. Devereaux, 76, dentist for more than half a century, still is active and does not intend to retire.

Coming from a long line of dentists, Dr. Devereaux started his career in the office of his uncle, Dr. J. C. Anthony, more than 50 years ago, in Wisconsin.

His three brothers also are dentists, two practicing in Wisconsin and one in California. A nephew is a dentist at Madison, Wis., and three cousins are members of the profession at Boston, Mass.; Denver, Colo., and Omaha, Neb.

When Dr. Devereaux first was building up his clientele, he discovered a unique way of easing the suffering of his patients. One day he was drilling the tooth of a highly nervous woman, who kept pulling his hand away from the drill. To remedy this, he grasped her left hand and found it had a wonderfully soothing effect on the nerves of the woman.

Dr. Devereaux puts the minds of cynics at rest by stating that the plan works equally well for men.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks yucky, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and a new movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stays in the bowels. Gas builds up, your stomachs, you have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your liver action and you feel down and out. Your waste system is jammed.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't get for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, on the red label. Remember, a Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remember, a Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remember, a Little Liver Pills on the red label. ©1934 G. M. Co.

Retail Sales in August Above the Peak of Year 1933

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 24.—Retail trade in Texas during August made a favorable showing both in comparison with August last year and with July of the current year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"Reports from 95 department stores and specialty shops show total sales 5.3 per cent in excess of August last year," the Bureau's report said. "This situation has added significance from the fact that a year ago in August industrial activity reached its peak for the year whereas this year it reached its low point. Moreover, inventories are believed to be relatively low compared with last year. Sales in August were 18.6 per cent greater than in July, against an average seasonal increase of only 6 per cent.

"Considerable variation is to be noted in the comparative showing of the different types of stores. Men's clothing stores headed the list with a gain of 23.3 per cent over August, 1933 and 45 per cent over July of the current year; dry goods and apparel stores gained 21 per cent over August last year and 4.2 per cent over July; small department stores were up 13.2 per cent from August a year ago but 2 per cent below July; large department stores were up 2.3 per cent and 19 per cent respectively; women's specialty shops declined 2.3 per cent from August last year but gained 32 per cent over July.

"Similarly there was considerable variation in the relative showing of the different cities. Gains in excess of the average for the State were reported in Beaumont, El Paso, Galveston, Houston, Lubbock, Port Arthur, Waco, and in the group consisting of smaller cities listed in the Bureau's index as "all others."

"Collections of outstanding accounts amounted to 36.7 per cent in August against 27.3 per cent in the corresponding month last year."

Government Buys 'Chevon' Not Muttons

AUSTIN, Tex.—It's "chevon," not goat meat that the government now is buying and distributing as a part of its surplus commodity distribution. It may be goat meat to most of the recipients but any Texas goat raiser will tell you it is officially "chevon."

Raisers are asking government agents to so label it in distribution.

"Chevon" was officially adopted as the proper name for goat meat in 1922. Goat raisers then offered a prize for the most suitable name. It was suggested by Mrs. E. W. Hardgrave of Sanderson, Texas.

Railroad diners and many hotels and restaurants now place "chevon" on their menus. It is a combination of the French "chevre" (goat) and "mouton" (mutton).

Health Meeting To Be Held Oct. 3 At Abilene Hotel

AUSTIN, Tex.—The Twelfth Annual Meeting of the Texas Public Health Association will be held at the Wooten Hotel in Abilene, October 3-5, stated Dr. T. J. McCamant, President. The meeting is open to physicians, health officers, nurses, sanitarians, and others interested in public health.

Besides the general meeting, there will be special sections for nurses, laboratory workers, and full time health officers. Among the speakers will be Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer; Dr. Lewis C. Crabbe; E. A. Baugh; Senator J. W. E. H. Beck, M. D.; and representatives of the United States Public Health Service, State Medical Association, Agricultural Department, American Public Health Association, and State Medical Association.

The program will consist of discussions of health work possible with relief funds, milk sanitation, water and sewage, public health nursing, health legislation, and communicable disease control.

Many cities send their health workers to this meeting so that they may keep up with the new developments in their field. This will be especially true this year as much health work may be accomplished with relief funds.

City Dads Mourned When Oil Was Struck In Water Well, But Later Rejoiced In a Paying Industry

DALLAS, Tex.—Seventy-five years since oil was found at Titusville in Pennsylvania where oilmen met last month to celebrate the industry's Diamond Jubilee. Thirty-seven years later while drilling a water well oil was struck at Corsicana, Texas. The city dads were disappointed when their water well was spoiled, for the drillers of the Southwest's first producing oil well did not dream that some day petroleum would supplant cotton as Texas' most valuable product.

Another thirty-seven years, all in the life of a middle-aged man, and that first showing of oil at Corsicana has spread out to change the destiny of a Nation. Oil is King—the Southwest leads, and in recognition of this fact the oil capital of the world moves to Texas in November for the fifteenth annual convention of the American Petroleum Institute. Five thousand oilmen from every corner of North America will gather in Dallas November 12-15. They will disperse to all parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and New Mexico to visit and inspect the cities and oil fields which they know by reputation.

Today the Southwest is the greatest oil producing region in the world, giving annually over 500,000,000 barrels of its stored treasure to the people scattered over the globe. The oil alone is valued at over $400,000,000 each year, and when production costs, refining, transportation, and marketing are added to the list, the value of the states increases several times. Populations depend upon the industry for their livelihoods, for in Texas alone it is estimated that over a half million people are directly supported by it. An annual payroll in the Southwest of over $400,000,000 keeps these people with a sustained buying power. No industry, no person is untouched by the benefits.

As a taxpayer the industry stands alone as the greatest contributor to public welfare. In the Southwest something like $125,000,000 are paid each year by the industry to the local and state governments. This money has gone to build schools, roads, public buildings, and in every way contribute to the development of the region. The development of the Southwest has gone hand in hand with the industry, without whose benefits a decade might have been lost.

The oil industry claims no special place in the sun, oil leaders say. The only recognition it wants is that given to any large business that develops within a given territory. It has contributed its share toward progress as has other industries, and it asks only to be understood. When it is realized that the interest of the industry and the public is a common one the steps toward future progress become ones of mutual confidence and mutual helpfulness.

Snake Bite Not So Fatal Doctor Finds in Survey

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Snakes in the United States kill only about 10 per cent of the persons they bite, says Dr. John A. Stanfield, Fort Worth, in a recent issue of the magazine, Sports Afield.

In the first place there are only four varieties of poisonous snakes in the United States, he said; the rattler, copperhead, cotton-mouth moccasin and coral snake.

The greater percentage of those persons dying of snake bite succumb because of inadequate or delayed treatment, he continued. With adequate treatment probably not more than two per cent would die.

That many snake bites do not prove fatal, he said, is due to diminished venom when the snake is feeding, miscalculation of striking distance, interposition of clothing, bites in fatty areas where there are few blood vessels, and bites in areas having little connective tissue, such as toes and fingers.
