4-H Club Camps Planned For Summer

Floyd County 4-H Club members are helping to plan two camps for this summer. Donita Milton, member of the South Plains 4-H Club, is on the Recreation Committee for the Girls' District 4-H Camp which will be held at Lubbock May 31, June 1, and 2. Donita has attended two district planning meetings at Lubbock and one at Plainview. Last Wednesday afternoon her committee met at the Extension office in Floydada. Other members attending were Delores Duerksen of Hale County, Chairman; Mrs. Elmo Ellis, Adult Leader from Plainview; Miss Wanda Greenhill, Assistant Hale County Home Demonstration Agent and Miss Leila Petty, Floyd County Home Demonstration Agent.

One girl from each 4-H Club in the district will attend the girls' camp at Lubbock. One Adult Leader and the Home Demonstration Agent from each county will also attend the camp which is an annual affair.

Representatives from Hale, Lamb and Floyd County 4-H Clubs have had two meetings to plan a summer camp for older 4-H Club boys and girls from these three counties. Meetings were held at Plainview on April 9 and April 29. The tentative dates for this camp are July 2, 3, 4, and it will probably be at the Ceta Canyon Methodist Camp near Happy.

In making plans for the camp it was decided that only 4-H club members fourteen years of age and older might attend. Adult Leaders (men and women) and the county Extension Agents in the three counties will also attend.

Officers for the proposed camp were elected at the last meeting. Nancy Smith of Floydada, member of the County-Wide 4-H Club, was elected Chairman. Eugene Griffin, Littlefield, was elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Attending the meetings at Plainview from Floyd County were Nancy Smith, Nelda Jean Pate, Bo Dean Pate, Marceleta Green, Christine Brints, Bobby Green, Norman Brints and Jack Covington, also Miss Petty and Mr. Rodgers, Extension Agents.

Mrs. W. N. Jones, 82, Dies at Waco

Floydada. — Funeral services for Mrs. W. N. Jones, 82, who died at noon Friday in Waco were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at the Floydada First Baptist Church. Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery with Harmon Funeral Home directing.

Mrs. Jones died after a long illness, having been hospitalized more than eight months. She was a longtime resident of Floydada before moving to Waco about five years ago to make her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Mitchell.

Born and married in Missouri, Mrs. Jones moved to Electra near the turn of the century. She moved to Floydada about 1910. Her husband, a land owner in Floyd County, died about seven years ago.

Mrs. Jones is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Mitchell; one son, Lovell Jones of Floydada; three grandchildren, of which one is Mrs. Lane Decker of Floydada; one great-grandchild; one brother, Otha Fickes of Buffalo, Wyo., formerly of Floydada; and three sisters, Mrs. Lessie Hayes of Independence, Mo., Mrs. Nancy Purinton of Albampra, Calif., and Mrs. Nettie McClure of Kansas.

County 4-H Girls Win At Lubbock

Sherry and Meldo Jo Ramsey of the Harmony 4-H Club were first place winners in the district 4-H contest on Farm and Home Safety. "Safety in the Kitchen and Laundry Room" was the subject of their demonstration.

District elimination in certain 4-H Club contests were held at Texas Technological College at Lubbock last Saturday. Contests were Dairy Foods Demonstrations, grass judging, poultry judging, Farm and Home Electric demonstrations, rifle contest, garden demonstrations and Field Crops. The winners in all contests will attend the 4-H Round-Up at College Station June 8, 9, 10 where they will compete with other district winners from over the state.

Sherry and Meldo Jo will also be delegates from Floyd County to the Round-Up, according to the regulations set up this year, and will participate in the activities of that meeting. About 800 4-H Club boys and girls will attend, along with Adult Leaders and some Extension Agents.

Sherry and Meldo Jo are students at the Petersburg schools. David Mount and Norman Brints, both members of the County-Wide 4-H Club and students at Floydada High School, were second place winners in the Field Crops contest. They had a lot of competition in their contest.

Demonstration Agent, was one of the judges in the Junior Dairy Foods contests. W. G. Rodgers, County Agricultural Agent was in charge of the Entomology contests.

Church Ads To Be Run In Beacon

In this issue of The Lockney Beacon you will find one in a series of advertisements, sponsored by local business and professional people, and designed to stimulate church support and attendance.

We think you will find these advertisements appealing and attractive. It is the hope of the sponsors and this newspaper that these ads will accomplish much in behalf of the many fine churches of this area.

Support of churches is sound business. It takes no oracle to note the stability of a community with strong churches. The more pronounced the influence of churches, the less cost and difficulty in governing the populace. For all the good other agencies do toward better citizenship, none makes the contribution that may be attributed to churches. Their program is fundamental.

Those sponsoring this weekly series, however, have more in mind than simply gaining goodwill from identifying themselves with an unquestionably righteous cause. There is in the messages a touch of evangelism — an appeal to the unchurched to come near the places where they can hear the word of the Lord preached and perhaps be converted to a better way of living.

Last year was the fourth consecutive year of increase in the traffic death toll.

Now it costs less to "talk it over by long distance"

Long distance telephone calls have always been a real bargain.

Now that Congress has reduced the excise tax on those calls, it costs even less to "talk it over by long distance."

No part of the tax reduction goes to the telephone company. You get the full benefit — so most long distance calls now cost you 12% less than they did.

Next time ... why wonder or worry? Talk it over by long distance and be sure.

NOW... AN EVEN BIGGER BARGAIN

Local service also costs less. Excise tax cut reduces your cost approximately 5%.

Reese AFB Will Present Show On Armed Forces

The Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force have combined to present a variety of displays and demonstrations representing the military power of the Armed Forces at the Reese Air Force Base "Open House" on Armed Forces Day, Saturday, May 15.

Although the observance is being staged at Reese AFB, it is by no means a strictly Air Force show. Reese happens to be the largest military installation in this vicinity and holding the observance here is more practical for participation of the various services concerned.

On May 15 the main gate at Reese will open for visitors at 11 a. m., although the day's events will not officially get underway until noon.

Every effort is being made to provide South Plains residents an opportunity to see modern aircraft, both on static display and in flight. Flyovers of Lubbock and Reese will consist of the latest jet aircraft to include the B-47 Stratojet and B-36 intercontinental bombers.

Other events on the schedule include demonstrations by the Fort Sill, Okla., artillery team, mass flyovers, and entertainment by Reese personnel. Among Reese entertainers are "The Trojans", a top-notch hand balancing, acrobatic team, which recently returned from a world-wide tour of military installations with the "Tops in Blue" stage show. Also lined up is A-1C Gus Mitchakes, popular vocalist, who will sing popular numbers. Music will be furnished by the Texas Tech band.

Visitors in the home of Mrs. E. L. Woodburn during last week end were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dunn of Kermit and Mr. and Mrs. John Stapleton and family of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wofford spent Sunday in Claude, Texas with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Waggoner and family.

... but I'm just bustin' my buttons over the fact that my fellow employees at the Public Service Company have worked one-million man-hours without a lost-time accident.

They've been striving for this goal for a long, long time, and have been mighty close to making it before. Yes, they made more than 600,000 hours one time, and 910,000 another, but they never quite hit the magic million. This time they have!

This safety record is, of course, very important to you. The safe worker is the dependable, productive worker, and the one that makes possible the most economical, as well as the best, electric service.

Making a million man-hours without a lost-time accident is like making your first million dollars—it's the hardest million. We're shooting for two, now, and hope to make it, for safety makes your service better.

Soil Conservation News
Irrigated Land Preparation
Field Leveling
 Field leveling is the placing of a plot of land (varying in size) to a uniform slope in one or two directions. The Government pays half the cost of a field leveling job, up to $15.00 per acre, if the plot is leveled to within a grade of 1/2" per 100 feet in one direction. More slope can be put into the plot in the other direction provided the farmer agrees to run his rows in the direction of 1/2" fall per 100 feet. The average field leveling job costs from $20.00 to $30.00 an acre. Where a deep fill is made in a lake, it should be recognized that there is a possibility that the fill area will settle enough the first year to make it necessary to do a small amount of retouching the second year.
 Some excellent reports have been received from the Floyd County Soil Conservation District's operators, who have completed field leveling plots. Lon Davis Jr., who farms a place in the Harmony community, has field leveled a 35 acre plot. He had approximately eight acres of this plot that was in a shallow lake and drowned out each year. Lon has increased the efficiency of his irrigation water, in addition to getting eight acres into top production. Lon can water this plot either in rows, or in borders, if he decides to place the plot in a broadcast crop.

 Paymaster Farms located 1 1/2 miles north of Aiken has field leveled a 30 acre plot and Bob Gibson, farm manager for Paymaster, reports that he has sown the plot to alfalfa and watered it efficiently by the use of small borders approximately 75 feet apart. Prior to leveling this plot, the field had a ridge through the middle and sloped off rather fast on one side. After leveling, the plot has a uniform slope from north to south, and is level from east to west.
 For the best use of your cropland and irrigation water, plan to field level that plot of land that does not irrigate satisfactorily.

a good growth of the crop, you have gained no nitrogen. However, you have helped yourself some because you have grown organic matter, which has left your soil in a better condition for plant growth.
 Most of our soils need nitrogen. So! With very little effort the seed can be inoculated.
 According to information from "Farmers' Bulletin No. 2003," if properly inoculated, alfalfa will fix 194 pounds per year, sweet clover 119 pounds per year and vetch 80 pounds per year. These are estimated figures and they may be more or less, depending on the growth the respective crop makes.

of the American Heritage Group. Dr. Stensland of Texas Tech will serve as a resource person next time and we will have a film at that gathering. We have been glad to have the women representing home demonstration clubs to study the constitution with this group.
 Come in and have a look at our reading room. Perhaps you might like to spend a little time there while you are in town? Any number of people and organizations have contributed to this room in some way.
 The rate of farm accidents usually follows closely the stepped up tempo of farm activities. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Committee urges rural residents to stop, look and be cautious . . . a life is in your hands.

Library Notes
 By Mrs. Roy Hollar
 Mrs. R. C. Henry sponsored the story hour Saturday. Barbara Perry came to tell the stories to twenty-six interested listeners. Mrs. R. M. Stovall brought a treat to the group.
 Memorial books presented in honor of Mr. J. G. Martin are: "Light from Many Lamps" by Watson given by Mr. and Mrs. Hollis R. Bond; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBrien gave "The Water Situation in Texas" by Walter P. Webb; Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Liebfred with Mr. and Mrs. Jiggs Jackson and children presented "No Life for a Lady" by Agnes Morley Cleveland; Mrs. John Farris with Mr. and Mrs. Kinder Farris chose "Paul's Epistle to the Romans" by Ernest Finway Scott and the High School committee chose as their memorial "Prehistoric World" by Carroll Lane Fenton.
 559 books were checked out in April in the Lockney Branch. Total for the county was 1926. This includes some excellent research work on the part of high school students particularly one group working on oral reports of places of interest in the United States. This report called for a bibliography of several readings and was an excellent library project.
 We had some time ago a request for "Norfleet." We did not have the book and had not expected to be so fortunate as to find it since it was published a good many years ago. A copy has just come our way in gifts and it will be ready for the shelf about the time you read this in the paper.
 Check with Mrs. C. E. Mayo if you are interested in the last of a series of meetings on the constitution. We have been having most interesting group sessions

Cowpeas Planted With Grain And Sorghums
 After checking with the equipment and seed dealers, it is determined there will be several thousand acres of cowpeas interplanted with grain and forage sorghums.
 If you are planning to use cowpeas, be sure to inoculate the seed before seeding if this is the first time cowpeas have been grown on the land. However, if you grew cowpeas on the same area last year and had good inoculation on the peas, it will not need to be inoculated.
 Why inoculate? If legumes (alfalfa, sweet clover, vetch, cowpeas and many others) are not inoculated, they are no more beneficial in building fertility than any other crop. This is because they have no ability to fix the nitrogen from the air in the legume plant. If all the nitrogen has to come from the soil, although you turn under

Grow Nitrogen To Decay Crop Residues

When large amounts of small grain straw or sorghum stubble are turned under, yields are sometimes lower for the crop that follows. This has led farmers in some instances to burn off crop residues instead of turning them under. But this is a serious mistake when we consider how low our soils are in organic matter and humus. The right answer lies in correcting the conditions which cause the lower yields. The best ways are to grow soil building crops in a rotation with cash crops, or use a commercial nitrogen fertilizer. Some of the best crops to add nitrogen to the soil are alfalfa, sweet clover, vetch, winter peas and cowpeas. A good possibility in this area are cowpeas, as they may be grown interplanted with grain sorghums. Nitrogen is necessary in the soil to make the stubble rot. It will not decay without nitrogen.

Wheat straw and sorghum stubble contains some nitrogen and lots of carbon. When organic matter becomes soil humus, there should be one part of nitrogen to every 10 to 12 parts of carbon for best crop growth. This is called the nitrogen-carbon ratio. Organic matter from legumes has a ratio even closer than one to 10, which is ideal. But sorghum stalks or wheat straw have so little nitrogen and so much carbon that when turned under the ratio in the soil may jump to as much as one to 60 or 80. When this happens, bacteria which cause the stalks and straw to decay, draw on nitrogen in the soil. These bacteria hold the nitrogen and the amount available for a crop is limited. Eventually the organic matter will decay and the one to 10-12 nitrogen-carbon ratio will be restored.

But until this happens, crops suffer from lack of nitrogen. Also, because the bacteria are starved for nitrogen, they cannot do their job quickly and effectively.

This is one of the reasons that it is so essential to use a soil building (nitrogen adding) crop in the rotation, or use a commercial nitrogen fertilizer. Many of the farmers in this District know that they can grow their nitrogen cheaper than they can buy it. Besides nitrogen, these legume crops also are a good source of organic matter. They also make the soil mellow so that water intake is much faster, especially the deep rooted legumes. They also protect the soil from wind during the winter and spring. Crop yields have been increased following these nitrogen crops. It will be to every farmer's advantage to grow a soil building crop in the crop rotation.

Out-Of-Town People At Cole Funeral

A number of out-of-town relatives were present here last Tuesday for funeral services for Johnny Franklin Cole, killed in a mine accident at Jefferson City, Tenn., on April 28. They were Mrs. Paul McRea and Frankie of Fort Sumner, N. M., Mrs. Jim Lusk and Leslie of Lawton, Okla. Also friends from Carlsbad, N. M., Hereford and Lubbock were present.

Cole, only 22 years of age, died of injuries suffered when he fell down a mine shaft. He was swung shift foreman and he and a workman were coming out of the mine at 11:55 p. m. The bucket in which they were riding was stopped at a landing and he stepped out. It was supposed that he stepped on a light cord, which threw him off balance. The workman caught him but couldn't hold him because his slicker was wet. He fell 130 feet, suffering internal injuries that caused his death. He died at 2:55 a. m. April 29.

Funeral services were held here Tuesday of last week with Rev. R. E. Wiley officiating. Burial was in the Lockney cemetery.

Included in his survivors are his grandmother, Mrs. W. F. Faggard of Lockney; his grandfather, J. R. Cole of Lockney; two aunts, Mrs. Tom Hutton and Mrs. Albert Oden.

They're always talking about me! They say all sorts of things I can't understand: Isn't she cute? Just a year old. Looks like her mother, doesn't she?

I wish I knew what it all means. But they always smile when they talk about me—so it must be complimentary.

Frankly, I haven't a worry in the world. My Mamma and my Daddy always seem to know what's best for me. I'm sure they want to do everything possible to make mine a wonderful life.

I just hope they realize how important it will be for me to go to Church School. But, of course, being the wonderful parents they are, they'll realize that little souls must grow up just like little bodies. And they'll not only provide for my religious training—they'll set the Christian example that a little "princess" like me simply has to have.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
