BILL HODEL was the first person to identify this Floyd County mystery farm published in the First National Bank advertisement last week. He recognized it as the home of W. A. (Whiz) Cox and his mother, Mrs. I. H. Cox, four miles east of Lockney and three miles south. Other persons correctly identifying the place were Alton Noland, Paulette Kropp, Mrs. Frank Dodson, Mrs. W. B. Sandefur and Mrs. Dowell Brewer.

It has 114 acres and is a dry-land farm. Wheat and feed stuffs are the main crops and the Cox's also raise a few cattle and Berkshire hogs. "Whiz" and his father, the late I. H. Cox, bought the farm in 1946. Mr. Cox passed away in 1952. "Whiz" and his mother continue to make the place their home. They bought the place from the Bailey estate.

Recent changes in the farm home include the addition of a concrete foundation under the house, asbestos siding and a front porch. Another son, James Cox, lives in Plainview.

Watch for another Floyd County mystery farm in the First National Bank advertisement next week.

Library Notes

By Mrs. Roy Hollar

Your correspondent is glad to be back in Floyd County after a most enjoyable two weeks away. Thanks are hereby sent to everyone who helped out during the vacation period.

The growth of interest in libraries and library buildings is to be noted all over the State of Texas. Dallas with its most interesting survey and planning commission seems on the way to a functional building that will be a credit to "Big D." Uvalde, miles to the south of Dallas and in the "little city" bracket has long nurtured a library. It was founded and operated by the El Progreso Club many years ago and has been a literary landmark almost as long as Uvalde has been known as the honey capital of the state. The El Progreso Library has a new home. After a good many years of being crowded, it is now housed with the County Museum in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Nance Garner which the former vice-president has given to his home town as a memorial to Mrs. Garner. It is on a shady street and near enough to downtown Uvalde to serve the public well and still allow for parking and quiet. Just driving by it, one salutes the El Progreso Club which through all the years built for the future.

Another interesting library in South Texas is Bee County Library. For a good many years it struggled with many problems and was for a long time a WPA project. Back of all that one recalls pioneer Bee County and the list of books which Ella Byler Dobe kept pasted inside her wardrobe door as a purchasing guide for her children's reading. You know her son's books, perhaps you do not know that her daughter operates a book store in Kerrville in partnership with the daughter of another pioneer South Texas family. Both partners are a wonderful influence on book selection and reading of all kinds in Hill County. But back to Bee County library and the present time. Bee County library was reorganized in January of 1953 and now reports 4,000 books. It is not so fortunate as Floyd County in appropriation and serves a large Latin population. There have been very large gifts to offset the small approriation.

This sounds like a busman's holiday. But I did get to Corpus Christi and eat on the bay and time prohibited my visiting La Retama Public Library or the Nueces County Library located at Robstown. Nueces County is one of the early county experiments in bookmobile service.

Recent out-of-town visitors to Floyd County Library included Neta Carol Hillburn and Mrs. Garnet Hillburn from Lubbock.

The Library acknowledges gift books from Mrs. Edna Mae Honca of Lockney, Mrs. Guy Ginn of Floydada and Mrs. Pearl Fagan.

Note the new location of the biographies in the Central Library. Our biography collection is a source of pride and joy. There is a growing number of standard biographies which have been appreciated for many years. New biographies are also present and in both categories you will be pleased a great deal that it is most enjoyable reading.

Paper cutters were unknown in the early days of Texas newspapering. Editors placed the pages along a straight edge somewhere and cut the paper with a pocket knife or a half moon knife such as saddlers used.

Napoleon died on the Island of St. Helena.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Husky and family of Dallas spent Monday afternoon and Monday night visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sparkman and family.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Spradlin and relatives are the Spradlins' granddaughters, Charlotte and Sandra Bench from Dallas.

The Oberammergau Passion Play is produced every ten years.

Church Rites Unite Glenda Readhimer And R. L. Rhoten

The sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Lockney, was the scene for the wedding ceremony uniting Glenda Ann Readhimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Readhimer of Lockney and R. L. Rhoten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Rhoten of Littlefield Sunday, June 27 at 3:00 p. m.

Rev. Allen A. Peacock, pastor of St. John's Methodist Church, Waco, Texas, and uncle of the bride, read the vows. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed before a white arch enwined with jade and emerald greenery flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli, blue Marconi daisies and baby breath, and candelabra holding blue tapers. Centering the arch and an arrangement of greenery back of the arch were white wedding bells tied with blue and white bows centered in a cluster of blue Marconi daisies and white gladioli. Aisle markers were blue tapers with blue and white bows.

Mrs. C. L. Record, organist, played as pre-nuptial music, "Thine Alone" by Victor Herbert, "Oh Promise Me" by De Koven, "I Love Thee" by Greig, "Indian Love Call" by Friml and accompanied Mrs. Millard Word of Canyon as she sang, "Always" by Berlin, "One Alone" by Hamburg, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte as a benediction. Musical background for the ceremony was "I Love You Truly" by Bond. The traditional wedding marches were used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in elegant star white Chantilly lace and imported tulle over white shimmering satin. The gown was fashioned with a scoop portrait neckline edged with a lace fold. Lace sleeves tapered to petal points over her hands. The figurine bodice of lace, frosted over satin fashioned down the back with minute buttons. Lace insets cascaded over the bouffant skirt of layers of tulle over satin, and drifted down the back, flowing over the formal train. She carried a white pearl back prayer book topped with a white orchid showered with white satin ribbon.

Imported French bridal illusion fell from a matching lace Marie Stewart headpiece edged with pearls, and fell in misty tiers to her finger tips. Her shoes were white satin pumps.

For something old the bride carried her Grandmother Readhimer's wedding ring tied in her bouquet, new was a pearl necklace, gift from the bridegroom, borrowed was a prayer book belonging to Gail Kellison, blue was a garter belonging to Mrs. Alfred Smith. In her shoe she wore a penny for luck.

Her attendants were gowned alike in waltz-length princess style dresses fashioned of pastel blue embroidered organza. The bridesmaids wore white flowered hats, white shoes and white nylon gloves and carried Colonial bouquets of blue daisies embedded in lace and mulline. Junior bridesmaids carried identical miniature bouquets. The flower girls wore headpieces of ruffled blue nylon tulle and carried baskets of lace and satin tubing.

Maid of honor was Paula Barbee of Phillips, Texas; June Wiley of Lockney and Joy Johnson of Abilene were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaids were Jo Readhimer, sister of the bride, and Jackie Lou Frizzell. Flower girls were Sherry Foote, niece of the bridegroom, Borger; and Mary Amber Frizzell, Lockney.

Mrs. Readhimer, chose for her daughter's wedding a beige cotton lace dress, pink hat and gloves with beige shoes and bag. She wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

Mrs. Rhoten, mother of the groom, was dressed in pink linen with navy accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Jerry Foote of Borger served his brother-in-law as best man. Ray Lee Foote, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Ushers were Douglas Higgins, Springlake, Texas; Jerry Rowell of Plainview, cousin of the bride; and Joe Pat Hart of Littlefield. Candlelighters were Dan Rowell of Plainview and Larry Jarrett, Lockney.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parlor of the church for the bridal party and approximately 100 guests. Covered with a white linen cut-work cloth the bride's table was centered with blue tapers in crystal holders surrounded by the bride's and attendant's bouquets. The three-tiered cake iced in white, was topped with a miniature bride and groom and decorated with blue flowers and white love birds. Blue ruffled mulline circled the cake and crystal punch bowl. Mrs. Jerry Foote, sister of the bridegroom, from Borger poured punch and Mrs. Johnny Truelove cut the cake.

Alternating at the register were Miss Elizabeth Handley, Miss Inell Cox, Clarendon; Mrs. Bill Sherman and Mrs. Alfred Smith. Others assisting with the hospitality were Mmes. M. W. Wiley, Sid Thomas, V. H. Kellison and Harold Griffith.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, El Paso, Texas and Juarez, Mexico the bride chose a light blue weathervane suit by Handmacher with Peter Pan collar and push-up cuffed sleeves. She wore white lizard shoes with a matching bag. Her hat and gloves were white and her corsage was a white orchid. After July 4 the couple will be at home in Littlefield where the bridegroom is associated with his father in farming during the summer.

The bride is a graduate of Lockney High School and has attended West Texas State College, Canyon the past two years. She was named football queen last season for the West Texas State Buffaloes. The bridegroom attended WTC last year and played on the football team. This fall the couple will return to Canyon to continue their education.

THE CHRISTIAN PLATFORM

A political party has its platform, which is a statement of its rules and policy, and so does the church of the Lord. A brief outline of this platform is found in Paul's letter to the church of Ephesus. After exhorting them to "keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace," he proclaims the oneness of God's plan. He said, "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling, one Lord, one faith, and one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all." (Eph. 4:3-6.) Men have not been satisfied with this platform, and have sought to modify it; yet it remains the same and will judge us in the last day.

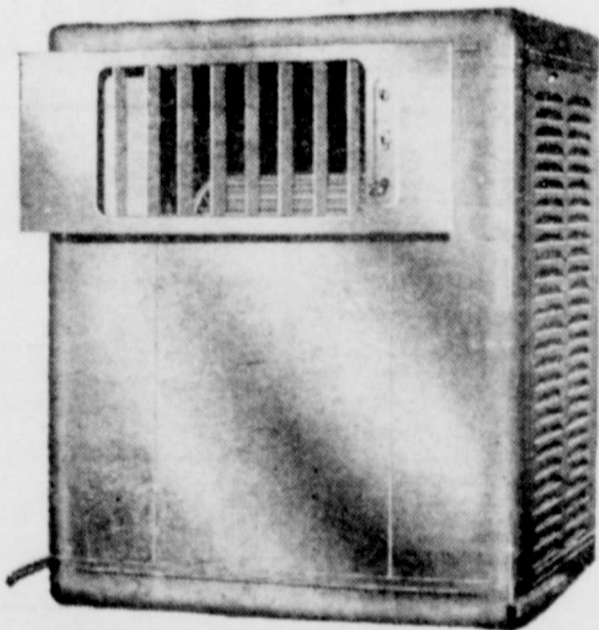

The word "one" occurs seven times in this quotation. We hear no dissenting voice as the apostle affirms that there is "one God." Yes, there are "Lords many, and Gods many." In the city of Athens there were hundreds of Gods, yet there is only one true God who created us and made provisions for our salvation. All accept the statement that there is "one Lord." According to Jesus there were some among the heathen who sought to exercise lordship, but He said to the disciples, "so shall it not be among you." (Mk. 10:42, 43.) Some in our day are guilty of "lording it over God's heritage"; but there is one Lord Jesus Christ who is able to save, and guide us to Heaven. There is "one Spirit." We read of "evil spirits" and "spirits of demons"; but there is one Holy Spirit the third person of the Godhead, and the revealer of God's plan. There is "one faith." This part of the platform is confusing to the mind that has been lead to believe in a multiplicity of faiths. There are creeds many, yet there is one true faith, the embodiment of the doctrine of Christ, revealed in the New Testament. There is "one baptism." When we look away from God's word, we see baptisms such as sprinkling, and pouring, oftentimes administered to infants without faith. But there is one true baptism for people today. It is immersion of the believer in water, for the remission of sins. (Acts 2:38; Rom. 6:3, 4.) There is "one hope." This is the expectation and desire of the heart based upon the promise of God.

In brief, the movement toward God is as follows: 1. Away from idols to the "one God." 2. Away from all ecclesiastical potentates, to the "one Lord." 3. Away from hunches and urges or presentiments; and back to the will of the "one Spirit." 4. Away from human creeds, to the "one faith." 5. Away from substituted baptisms, to the "one baptism" authorized by Christ. 6. Away from denominations to the "one body." 7. Away from all human expectations based on material powers, to the "one hope" of the heavenly calling.

WRITING "FOR FUN" SHE ACHIEVES FAME

By R. E. Fitz-Gibbon

Wichita, Kans.: Minnie Jane Forster, 1425 Park Place—an amateur—has finished her fourth novel and is writing another! Two previous books—"Lost Creek" and "Was The Hill Barren?"—already are available, nationally, through book-sellers; a third—"Love's Intern"—is to be serialized by regional magazines; the latest—"Ozark Fiddler"—is being offered by her writers' cooperative in San Antonio.

Minnie Jane Forster

"Writing is fun," she states, "and the good, the true and the beautiful still are basic to life in America. My characters—all normally vital and interesting—never become violent nor involved with the police; I intend to keep them that way!"

"Lost Creek," an example of her unblemished story-telling, is a romance—not a war story—of the days when Lincoln and Davis represented the North and the South of a divided Republic. Even though cannon may be heard in the distance, it is a saga of two young people who surmount almost insurmountable obstacles ultimately to find that tranquility to which all lovers should be entitled.

It begins and ends in a valley of a little stream emptying into the Neosho River in Southwestern Missouri in the Ozarks. Its humanitarian hero, later involved in the War Between the States as an aide to President Lincoln, is taken prisoner by the Confederates; eventually is released; leaves for India (thinking that his beloved has married) from whence he travels to Burma.

Meanwhile, the heroine—whose rugged and headstrong father has intercepted the "young renegade's" letters—successfully finds the school which together they had planned, and each is busily happy in his or her own remote corner of the world until thought of the other intrudes. Eventually, of course, they come together: John returns, through nostalgia, and learns the truth . . . The telling—in which there are glimpses of mountains and unforgettable characters—is so well paced that no brief review can convey its vibrant life to those who prefer wholesome reading. In it—as an enduring contribution to Americana—is implicit that understanding, that "deep and abiding faith," which marks those who themselves are "true and good and beautiful" and who understand (and, consequently, forgive) the rest of us.

In spite of her writing activity, Mrs. Forster travels widely, still finds time for church work, charities and assistance to struggling authors. Upon request, she will donate copies of her books to and school libraries.

Thirty Million Boosters

Thirty million chiropractic patients can't be wrong in their praise because they and they alone are responsible for chiropractic's position today as the second largest healing profession in the world.

Ask the man or woman who has visited a chiropractor and he will tell you that these men in white are blazing a new trail in restoring the sick to good health.

Why? Because chiropractic disregards the symptoms of disease and deals with its cause — a cause traced directly to improper functioning of the glands and other organs of the body.

Because chiropractic operates on the undisputed theory that all function is directed and controlled by the nervous system—the brain the directing center, the spinal cord the main cable.

Like a telephone system, the nerves reach out to every part of the body and it must be obvious even to the lay person that these delicate nerves must not be disturbed.

Chiropractors locate disturbed nerves quickly, without pain and minimum expense to the sick.

Visit your chiropractor and join the parade to good health.

Farm Safety Week July 25-31

President Eisenhower has proclaimed the week beginning July 25, 1954, as National Farm Safety Week. His proclamation calls attention to the vital importance of the farm safety campaign.

The National Safety Council and the Department of Agriculture are again sponsoring National Farm Safety Week in cooperation with the States and counties, farm organizations, farm press and radio, and many other groups interested in agriculture. The united action of all these groups has done much to effect a substantial reduction in farm injuries. There are still far too many farm accidents, however. Many of them can be prevented by developing awareness of hazards and habits of carelessness.

The number of fatal accidents to farm workers is greater than in any other occupation in the United States. Serious injuries are nearly 85 times as many as the fatalities. Last year there were 59 deaths for each 100,000 farm workers, as compared to 14 deaths for each 100,000 workers in manufacturing, and 44 deaths in transportation. Seven hundred of the fatal farm accidents involved wheel tractors. One-third of the fatal tractor accidents reported involved persons under 20 years of age. One case in ten was a child under five years of age.

Modern insecticides are powerful. Read the labels carefully and follow instructions to the letter.

Work around the barns may be hazardous as work in the fields.

Remove these hazards and avoid risks to reduce accidents in farm work.

Motor vehicles are responsible for the greatest number of accidents to farm people. There were 26.7 deaths per 100,000 farm people in 1952, as compared to 15.5 deaths in the home, and 16.9 deaths at work. Accidents to farm people caused by motor vehicles account for nearly one-fourth of all deaths and injuries that occur on rural highways.

Total deaths to all farm workers was about 3,800 last year, with some 320,000 total injuries. Let us therefore develop habits of extreme carefulness and "farm to live and live to farm."

Floyd County's Onion Crop Is Reported Near Harvest Stage

Floydada. — Floyd County's onion crop, totaling some 90 acres, is believed to be near the harvest stage, and operators are preparing to begin the harvest.

Floyd County farmers growing onions on a commercial basis are Arlon Miller, Kenneth Probasco, L. D. Simpson, Rafe Ferguson, W. H. Simpson Jr., and Jim Simpson.

Ten thousand onion sacks arrived here this week preparatory for the harvest, and clipping of the onions is now underway. Following the clipping, onions are dug and allowed to remain on the ground three or four days before sorting and sacking for shipping.

The producers will see through Brann and Griffin, who handled the sixty acre crop grown last year by the Simpson brothers and Probasco.

Patsy Bybee returned Monday from a visit of several days with her sister, Freda, in Dallas.

So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes; and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed Him.—Matt. 20:34

WE NEVER SAW it so quiet before an election. Apparently there is little interest in the first Democratic primary, either county or state-wide. Not that there aren't some contested races. The sheriff's office, the county judge's office, the county treasurer's office, the tax collector's office in the county are all being sought by more than one person. State-wide, practically all offices are being contested, but some not very seriously. The governor's race will probably draw more interest than any other.

It's a great life!
A great life, that is, for chicks that get Ren-O-Sal in the drinking water. Such birds are really living. It's great for a chick to grow faster than the average, to feather earlier and to look better. With Ren-O-Sal in the water a bird is better at any age -- from baby chick to old hen. Chicks on Ren-O-Sal get to laying or market age sooner and that's great for the boss because it means more profit. Ren-O-Sal is a product of...

his interest then the political office is apt to be filled with an unfit person. If you don't know who is the best fitted for what office, better start a little inquiry and try to find out for your self. And don't listen to a lot of tommyrot. There are more untruths and half-truths told, and then repeated in newspapers, during a political campaign than at all other times combined. Some people seem to think that entering a political campaign gives them license to tell anything under the sun, regardless of its truthfulness. It is sometimes hard for the common man to tell the differences in truth and fiction during a campaign but a close reading of facts from the unbiased person (if you can find one) and then use of one's own judgment may bring the right answer.

The American Medical Association comes out now scolding the polio and cancer foundations because they haven't been consulted in every step of the two organizations take in fighting of the dreaded diseases. To us it seems just a matter of petty jealousy. To us the AMA is not the law and gospel as far as anything medical goes and that the two foundations have done a great job in fighting polio and cancer is something everyone will admit. We believe that the AMA's jealous attitude in the past may have at times even hindered research and the development of new methods of fighting disease. Better that they should combine their efforts and offer co-operation and help in this great fight rather than stand to one side and criticize. A critical attitude in these cases will cause the AMA to lose the confidence of the public, it seems to us.

THE COTTON CROP is doing good. That is the information we get from almost every farmer. A trip north of town Sunday revealed that much cotton is up to a good stand and is looking good. It is clean of weeds and is growing. In a few fields the cotton is just coming up and some of it is weedy. But for the most part we have a good crop. South of town has even better crops. They haven't been hit by hail or storms and have more old cotton. Barring further disasters, north Floyd County gins will be busy this fall and the size of the crop may surprise the pessimists.

THE BRITISH-AMERICAN talks now in progress are extremely important to us. American diplomats can't understand the British attitude of recognition and trading with the Reds even though the British treat the British diplomats contemptuously. The Americans, according to Senator Lyndon Johnson, are not receiving the co-operation they want from the British, in trying to prevent the spread of Communism. It may be this is the beginning of a split between America and Britain.

LET 'EM KNOW ABOUT IT

Forbes Magazine reports that in America "brand names" in modern times have become all-important. Throughout history pre-eminent names have garnered fortunes. About 250 years ago Antonius Stradivarius, an Italian, made violins. Today you can buy a violin for a few dollars, but if you want one made by Stradivarius, you must pay thousands of dollars. The name Tiffany on a piece of jewelry is highly cherished. A car made by Rolls-Royce is in a class by itself, last for a generation —

These patients, past and present, compare notes and sometimes argue about the methods and approaches of the analysis and counselors working on them.

It's considered good, clean fun to bare one's soul with stories both real and imaginary, so the analyst may decide whether an unsympathetic grandmother, or a tipsy nursemaid was responsible during formative years for the patients adult inability to stand on his own hind legs and slug it out with life.—The Plains in Lubbock Avalanche.

IT'S ALL RELATIVE

A few days ago, a cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at College Station told Lubbock County farmers about a new method of killing Johnson grass, long a problem for farmers in many parts of Texas.

The method described by the specialist, Fred Elliott, involves spraying the grass stalk with naphtha will counteract the growing ability of the root system, thus killing the plant. He put the cost of the entire operation at about $12 an acre.

Farmers at the meeting probably listened attentively to Mr. Elliott, because they continually are seeking ways to get rid of grass and weeds. It seems to the farmer that you have to water and pet and work diligently with cotton to get it to grow, but that the blankety-blank weeds and grass would grow right out of a flat rock.

It's not a funny matter to South Plainsmen. Yet we wonder sometimes if farmers wouldn't swear there would be no way to keep cotton from growing, if the cotton killed the weeds and grass and the later brought in $150 a bale! — Lubbock Avalanche.

Long Ago In Lockney

Items of interest from the files of The Lockney Beacon.

June 30, 1916

It has been proposed that Lockney build a water system. And since we have suffered three costly fires in the past five years everyone should be willing to vote a bond for adequate water supply to combat fires and reduce our insurance rates.

The six months old baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitfill died Tuesday evening at nine o'clock at the home of Mrs. Whitfill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Potts who live seven miles north of town.

Lockney has let contracts for more brick business houses this summer than any other town on the Plains.

The wheat harvest is now on in Floyd county, mowers, headers, binders and threshers can be seen at work in every direction. Mr. Huffman averaged 29 bushels to the acre, however most wheat is averaging 12 to 15 bushels which isn't bad considering this has been the driest year in a long time.

Robert Alford, seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alford died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Alford Thursday night at 12:00 o'clock. He had been in very bad health for about a year. Bro. Tollie Corder conducted funeral services at the grave site.

July 3, 1942

Edward Ned (Uncle Ned) Walker, phrenologist, former Texas Ranger, Spanish-American war veteran, and a gentleman of the old South, died at his recently purchased home in Lockney Saturday at noon. Friends say that he was at least 100 years old. At his request his body was cremated and the ashes scattered over the streets of Lockney.

Approximately 210,000 bushels of 1942 wheat has been handled by elevators in Lockney and at Muncy according to a check this week. It is estimated that 80% of the harvest is over. Storage space is nearly completely used. Another week should complete the harvest.

Rev. Jaudon Cobb, who was called last week to be pastor of The First Baptist Church here, will preach his first sermon Sunday morning. Rev. and Mrs. Cobb and two children, Caroline, 4, and Alford Jaudon, 2, moved to Lockney Tuesday from Andrews where Rev. Cobb was pastor two years.

Two hundred and nine men registered in the selective service registration in Floyd County this week. They are being called according to age. Those who were 20 on the date of registration is subject to call. Four men were inducted into the army on June 30 filling a call at that time. The men were Lon M. Davis Jr., of Floydada, Emory Eugene Gilly, Floydada and Lon Herschel Hand, now in Lubbock.

The county sponsored canning plant here will open again July 6. Mrs. T. L. Griffin is supervisor. She states that 60,000 cans were canned last year at the plant.

Billy Ed Whitfill, cashier of the First National Bank and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whitfill, was accepted last week for flight training in the Army Air Corps.

Miss Thelma Jo Shaw, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Shaw of Rochester, and Lt. William Taber Alford of Boca Raton, Florida were married June 17 in the First Baptist Church at Jacksonville, Florida with the bride's father officiating.

The Eagle or the Oyster?

© Fritz Henle—Courtesy Cities Service Company

Now comes the season of the year when the Red, White and Blue is glorified in song throughout the land. Postulates flow, Washington, Lincoln, Franklin, Patrick Henry, and Jefferson are quoted. For speakers bold enough to break with this tradition, we suggest the examination of a speech written by Maria Thorpe, editor of SERVICE Magazine, for the July issue. Theme—"The Eagle or the Oyster?"

For a people . . . who elect opportunism rather than prudence, who dream of security other than success; who believe political charity is a virtue; who mock the frugal and plunder the thrifty; who adopt the rule that if I don't succeed you are to blame, that what you have is as much mine as yours; who contend that property is a shameful sign of success; who whimper that failure is the nobler cause; well-being is wicked; prudence, out-of-date, sacrifice silly—for such a people a fitting emblem is the Oyster.

For a people . . . who faced nature in the raw, with privation the rule and hardihood a virtue;

who endured defeat, disease and disaster for a hundred years in order to get a foothold on the Eastern Seaboard, the white with one eye on the interior, a no-man's land, a cockpit for settling international rivalries and private grudges, disputed by wild animals and wilder redmen; who sacrificed thus for a belief in the worth and dignity of the individual;

who believed that economic freedom was as important as political freedom;

who substituted "In God We Trust," for the Old World motto "In Government We Trust";

for a nation built by men who dedicated their lives to achieve the realization of these beliefs, I give you, fellow citizens—the Eagle!

And I Quote . . .

"The only woman who'll gladly listen to both sides of an argument is the one who lives next door." — Margaret Puchir.

"Somebody has figured out the reason why old folks are quieter—they have more to be quiet about!" — Ina Washout.

"Education pays — unless you're an educator." — Texas

Parent-Teacher:

"A woman who insists upon equality, renounces her superiority." — Dr. Theodore Reik, psychiatrist.

"Some people go to a psychiatrist slightly cracked, and leave completely broke." — Ben Yee.

Urges Help In Prevention Of Poliomyelitis

Austin. — This is the season of the year when an increase in poliomyelitis can be expected and Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer, is urging the public to cooperate in helping to prevent the spread of this crippling disease.

"Children should not visit homes where poliomyelitis or symptoms of this disease are present. Promptness in diagnosing poliomyelitis is one of the most important factors in its control," Dr. Holle declared.

"Direct contact between persons is the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis and since carriers are difficult to determine, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts during any outbreaks of this disease."

Dr. Holle stressed the fact that a rigid program of sanitation is advisable since it has been suspected that flies and other seasonal insects may convey the virus or germ of poliomyelitis. He added that insect transmission has not been scientifically demonstrated but pointed out that sanitation is always advisable in controlling disease and that filth is likely to prove dangerous.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, unusual drowsiness, and irritability, followed by stiffness in the neck and back.

Children under five years are most susceptible and all children under twelve years should be watched for suspicious symptoms. Dr. Holle urged that a physician be called immediately if infantile paralysis is suspected. If the disease is definitely diagnosed, local health authorities should be contacted immediately and patients isolated for at least 21 days.

Losses to the nation's livestock industry due to brucellosis amounts to considerably more than $30 million annually.

IT WAS A BOY AFTER ALL

Boyce (Pete) Mosley feels hurt and rightly so after the mistake The Beacon made last week in telling of the new arrival in the Mosley household. The Beacon said it was a girl named Bonnie Inez when it was really a boy named Ricky Boyce. The Bonnie Inez is the mother's name. The mistake was unusually bad because this is the first boy for the couple, and Boyce wanted this one to be a boy. So those cigars he passed out saying, "It's A Boy" were right.

Another error in the hospital news said Mrs. Bobby Carthel was admitted for treatment when it should have said Mrs. Bobby Cantrell was admitted for treatment. We're sorry.

QUESTION-MARK DESSERT

Double up on the flavors of the pudding you plan to have for dessert tonight by combining a package of chocolate pudding with one of butterscotch pudding. Cook the two packages with four cups of milk, cool in your refrigerator, and serve with a question mark in your voice—what does the family want to call it? It's wonderful.

TO THE CITIZENS of Floyd County: If I don't see you personally, accept this as a personal solicitation for your vote and influence. Sincerely, EARL COOPER.

GAS RANGE GRIDDLE SHIELD

Playing short-order cook is easy when you have a new automatic gas range with a griddle top and a vanishing griddle shield that protects kitchen and range from food spatter. The shield lifts out for easy at-the-sink cleaning—when not in use, it folds up and vanishes to become a porcelain enamel cover and an extra work area.

Water Depletion From Income Tax Being Studied

Lubbock, June 24.—The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, with headquarters here, is studying the possibility of securing the approval of the Internal Revenue Service in allowing water users to deduct from their income tax the cost value of underground water depleted through municipal industrial and agricultural use.

District Manager Tom McFarland explains that there is no such allowance now, but that if possible such an allowance will be obtained.

He said that under the existing regulations, the only way a person can deduct the depletion from his income tax is that the said person sell the land and show a loss which concurrently was the direct result of underground water depletion. He explained this by saying that if a person pays $400 an acre for 200 acres of land and if he pumps water from the land for 25 years, thus exhausting his supply to the extent that the land is worth only $100 an acre because of the exhaustion, then the only way he is permitted a deduction, is through the sale of the land.

"There are several problems encountered in securing a deduction permit," the manager said. "First, it will be necessary to establish that the land-owner has a cost in his underground water as distinguished from the cost of his soil. Secondly, it will be necessary to establish that the underground water is depleted through its use, and thirdly, the annual rate of depletion must be established."

"Obviously, he said, 'in areas where pumping does not deplete the underground supply, the landowner would not be entitled to an allowance. However, in areas where it is being depleted by continuous use such as the Hi-Plains, it appears that a deduction should be allowed the landowner as compensation for the asset consumed in the production of income.'

He further explained that a depletion deduction of this nature would be comparable to the present cost depletion allowance made on oil, gas, minerals and timber.

Also, it would be similar to the present allowance for depreciation on equipment used in a trade or business.

"The reason we think an allowance should be permitted," McFarland concluded, "is that many area natural resources are being depleted, whether people know about it or not."

Registrants May Usually Complete One Year College

The following has been released by Local Board No. 45, Selective Service System, for the information and guidance of young men graduating from high school, who may be interested in attending college: The fact that a registrant is classified into Class I-A (A class available for service) does not necessarily mean that he will not be eligible to go to college. Normally a registrant will not be reached for induction before he has completed one full year of college work. After such time he may, if he meets the criteria as set forth in the selective service regulations, qualify for a II-S classification (college student deferment). During the first year (and the summer months preceding) a registrant will probably be classified into class I-A, and, should he be reached for induction prior to completion of said first year he may qualify for a postponement of induction if he is a full time student doing satisfactory work. Contact your local draft board office to ascertain proper procedure necessary to request a student deferment, or a postponement of induction; also, requirements for a II-S classification.

Hot Weather Increases Food Poisoning Danger

Austin. — Dr. Henry A. Helle, State Health Officer, warns that now hot weather is here, everyone should be careful in handling and storing food to prevent food poisoning. The organism grows best in foods that are quite fatty, such as ham, pork, salads or sandwiches with rich dressings, cream pies, cream puffs, or any food with custard filling. Keep this in mind when you prepare a picnic lunch or when anyone in the family takes a lunch to work during the hot months.

Symptoms of food poisoning usually strike quickly and explosively, and those who do not eat the contaminated food do not become ill. Usually from one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of food poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to 12 hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, and weakness. Whenever you feel these symptoms, be sure to call your physician. Do not wait, hoping it will wear off. Sometimes food poisoning causes death. Careless handling of food before cooking or serving, improper home canning, storing food too long at room temperature, and improper heating of leftover foods are the main cause of food contamination. So, in order not to endanger your family's health, be especially careful in preparing and storing food. Never let a cut or sore place on your hand come into contact with food. Remember, don't take on a picnic or pack in a lunch, fat meats, salads with egg dressings, cream pies, cream puffs, or any food with a custard filling, unless you can keep them properly chilled until serving.

Many farm animals, especially cattle, will die this year from what is commonly called "hardware disease." These losses can be prevented by making sure that nails, pieces of wire, scrap and junk don't get into the feed or animals are kept out of lots where the metal may be picked up.

State Fair To Open Oct. 9th

Fort Worth. — Opening day of the 1954 State Fair of Texas, Saturday, Oct. 9, has been designated as Press, Radio and Television Day, it was announced here at the annual convention of the Texas Press Association.

More than 2,000 newspaper publishers and radio and TV executives with their families are expected for Press, Radio and TV Day this year.

The opening day program of the fair will be highlighted by the Texas-Oklahoma football classic in the Cotton Bowl.

The Pan-American Livestock Exposition, one of the major features of the fair, will be in full swing on Press Day and the barns will be crowded with champions representing all the major breeds of beef and dairy cattle, swine, sheep, Angora goats. There will be judging of quarter horses in the roping and cutting divisions in the morning and afternoon.

Headling the entertainment program of the 1954 fair will be "The King and I" Broadway hit musical which will be staged in State Fair Auditorium. The show is only one of a host of varied attractions to be presented by the nation's largest annual exposition, which last year drew 2,382,712 visitors in 16 days.

At the Fort Worth convention the famous golden, diamond-studded key to the Texas Treasure Chest was passed on by the retiring president of the Texas Press Association to his successor for the 16th time.

The key will be used in 1986, the fair's 100th anniversary year, to open the chest which was embedded in a monument to the founders of the fair in 1938. The chest contains historical documents and copies of more than 100 Texas newspapers. The key remains in the possession of the TPA president for safekeeping.

Swisher County's 64th Annual Reunion Set

Plans are now being completed for Swisher County's 64th Annual Old-Timers Reunion, and this year's program promises to be one of the largest celebrations since the war years. The celebration will run for four days, July 14-15-16-17, and will include an interesting combination of events.

A street carnival will be held on the square during the week and will include five carnival rides and a number of locally sponsored booths and games. The National Baseball Congress has granted a franchise which has made possible an eight-team semi-pro baseball tournament, games being played each night with the finals on the 17th. The rodeo club is holding their annual amateur rodeo also on the 14th-17th with the final performance on Saturday night. Saturday will be the big day with a series of children's events in the morning, free barbecue with all the trimmings for everyone at 12:00 and a giant parade at 4 o'clock p. m.

The rodeo will include all the usual events plus a barrel race for the young ladies and a wild mule race, and is open to any amateur performer. Prospective contestants should contact the Tullia Rodeo Club, $200 in prizes will be given away to the winning floats. They will be entered in the commercial and non-commercial classes, the two classes not competing against each other.

Any riding clubs are cordially invited to attend the parade.

A CLEAN CITY IS A SAFE CITY

EASIER TO WASH DAILY

It's true that you can wear out clothes faster by laborious scrubbing than by quick washes. With your own washing machine and automatic clothes dryer, it's easy to accumulate clean clothes rather than dirty ones. Do this by washing one load of soiled clothes each day. Use plenty of hot water and an all-purpose soap or detergent with bluing. You'll need fewer clothes for the whole family, fewer towels and less bedding.

KEEP COOKIES CRISP

As soon as you've removed your baking sheet of crisp, perfect cookies from the evenly heated oven, lift the cookies from the sheet with a spatula. Cool them on a cake rack, giving each its own place without touching or piling.

To prevent and control screw-worm infestations the use of smear Eq-335 is recommended.

BUDDIES

It was Jackie who hit that home run this afternoon, but Butch is just as proud as if he'd been the one out there swinging. That's the way these boys are. They share their experiences, both the good and the bad . . . for they are buddies.

Another thing they share is going to Church school regularly. Here they learn about another kind of friendship, the warm, all-encompassing friendship of Christian love.

It may be that in the years ahead the paths of these two buddies will take different directions.

No doubt they will have different vocations, and perhaps live in different parts of the world. But wherever they may be, we can be sure that each of them will have the Church as their guide and inspiration . . . forever.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
