County Demos Go For Johnson

A well-oiled county Democratic convention took just 30 minutes Tuesday afternoon to elect delegates to the State Democratic convention on May 22, instruct them to support Lyndon Johnson to head the state delegation to the national convention, and as a favorite-son candidate, and to vote as a unit.

Although there was other opposition in the county, West Lockney voting precinct was the only precinct which managed to send a delegation to the convention supporting Governor Allan Shivers. This delegation cast 9 votes in opposition to the delegation named and to the resolution supporting Johnson.

County Democratic Chairman Ben Ayres called the meeting to order and called a list of qualified delegates from each voting precinct. Most precincts were represented at the meeting and voted their delegates as a unit.

With District Attorney John Stapleton as floor leader the Johnson forces quickly elected Ayres to act as permanent chairman of the convention and Jimmy Willson Jr. as permanent secretary.

Stapleton then nominated the delegates and alternates to the state convention. They were W. G. Collins, Jimmy Willson Jr., R. H. Ford, and John B. Stapleton, delegates; B. A. Robertson, W. L. Davis, Sid Thomas and E. L. Thomas, alternates. These were elected.

Stapleton then proposed a resolution instructing the delegates to support Lyndon Johnson to head the state delegation to the national convention and to also support him as a favorite son candidate for the office of president of the United States. After approval of this resolution, he proposed the usual unit rule resolution which passed without opposition.

West Lockney Contest

Most voting precincts passed "support Johnson" resolutions without opposition but there were contests in West Lockney, Southwest Floydada and North West Floydada conventions.

The largest crowd to ever attend a precinct convention in West Lockney gathered at the high school auditorium Saturday afternoon. A total of 70 qualified voters were present.

Precinct Chairman E. R. Harris called the meeting to order, prayer was offered by Rev. H. B. Coggin, and then the meeting opened for nominations for permanent chairman of the convention. R. E. Patterson and R. H. Ford were nominated with Patterson winning. Edgar R. Hays was nominated as permanent secretary and was

Committee Is Named To Study School Problem

A committee composed of a representative from each of several organizations and civic clubs has been named to study the problem of the location and improvement of the local colored school, Supt. H. H. Nicholas said Wednesday. The appointment of the committee, came out of a meeting Monday night between members of the local school board and various citizens to consider the same problems.

The committee will be composed of Claude Brown, chairman, representing the Park Committee; Mrs. Burl Holt, representing the Parent-Teacher Association; M. L. Brewer, representing the Lions Club; Arthur Barker Jr., representing the Rotary Club and Mrs. Wanda Ecker, representing the Lockney Business & Professional Women's Club. This group will report their findings to the school board who will approve any action to be taken on the matter.

A suggestion that the school use the present city auditorium to house the colored school created quite a stir among local citizens recently and some opposition developed to the situation. As a result the school board asked a number of people to meet with them Monday night to consider the matter.

Some 25 people, including members of the board, attended the Monday night meeting. Supt. Nicholas gave a review of the situation concerning the negro school, giving figures as to the increase in average daily attendance and explained some of their needs. He pointed out that the average daily attendance had increased from 29.8 in the 1952-1953 term to 46 plus for this year. He said that the building has only two rooms and when the ADA reaches 47 the school will be entitled to another teacher which will necessitate another room. He pointed out that the two teachers presently employed try to teach 11 grades.

Mr. Nicholas explained that equipment is badly needed in the Lockney High School now and if the board is called upon to expend a considerable sum of money to improve the colored school, they will not have money to make the needed improvements at high school. For this reason, they considered using the city auditorium because they felt they could make it useable at very little expenditure.

He said that it will be necessary to add to the present colored school building; if it is to be used in the future and also the board needed to provide living quarters for the principal of the school.

Several people present expressed sympathy with the board in their problem but opposed the use of the auditorium. Claude Brown, president of the park committee, said that he feared it would bring abandonment of the park as a place of recreation. Mrs. George Webster Jr. also spoke opposition to the idea. E. C. Stapp and R. C. Wilson, representing a group of people living near the auditorium, said that the people of that area opposed the idea strongly.

Others present made suggestions for new location for the colored school building or ideas for improving the present location and equipment.

The meeting was very harmonious throughout, the board explaining that it did not want to take any step which most of the people would oppose and others present expressing their willingness to help work out the problem if the board needed their assistance.

Clearing up some misunderstanding, they found that it has title to two acres of land on which the colored school now stands. Members of the board were of the opinion that they did not own the land but it was discovered that they have the deed to the land in their possession.

"STEAM-ROLLER TACTICS"

In precinct and county conventions have come in for quite a bit of discussion this week among those attending these meetings. However this method of operation in a political convention is not unusual, in fact it is the usual procedure. Those attending these conventions realize this but when the new comer attends he receives a rude jolt, especially if the voting goes against his ideas. Regardless of who is right or wrong, the group who has the most present at the meeting runs it to suit themselves and that's standard practice in Democratic party conventions. If you think otherwise you just haven't attended any political conventions.

STATISTICS released this week by the Texas Department of Public Safety show that in auto accidents happening in rural areas 62% were caused at least in part by excessive speeds and 37% were caused by drunken drivers. That 99% of the accidents, if we figure right. Most of us, of course, violate the speed laws at times. We suggest a revision of these laws allowing speeds up to 70 miles per hour in certain areas and speeds at less than 60 miles where driving is more dangerous. We believe that a speed zone system would be a realistic approach to the speed problem along with stricter enforcement of the law. As for the drunken driving part, we believe that heavier penalties, including longer jail terms, might be effective in curbing this vice.

THE BEACON has received a leaflet titled "An Historic Moment for The South" in which the writer proclaims the Supreme Court's ruling on segregation, bemoaning the lower standard of living in the South, saying that segregation has made the South poor and criticizing southern congressmen who uphold the South's "way of life." The statement further says "Throughout the whole world the right of all nations and peoples to equality and dignity is more and more being recognized." The leaflet further suggests several steps which the South can take to free itself of "poverty and oppression," among which is to reduce the number of representatives to the national Congress from Mississippi as punishment for their attitude toward the segregation issue. Can you guess who this leaflet came from? It is signed by the "Southern Regional Committee of the Communist Party, P. O. Box 464, Saint Louis, Mo." We're wondering if that statement about "throughout the whole world" includes Russia.

A SUMMER recreation program for boys and girls is certainly a worthwhile thing in any community. We believe that the work of the Lions Club in sponsoring the Little League and possibly the Rotary Club in sponsoring a Pony League is certainly commendable activities on the part of these clubs. These activities deserve the support of parents, club members, the public in general. It takes a lot of work to run a baseball league, even one for small boys. The people of the community must do that work. It takes some money and we must also furnish that. But whatever the cost, the results will no doubt prove it worthwhile.

"A GOOD STAND" is heard often in describing cotton that has been planted in this area lately. Cotton is still the "money crop" for this part of the county at least, and what happens to the crop this year will affect all of us economically. The law of averages would seem to favor a good crop this year since the 1955 crop was so poor. The progress of the crop will be watched with interest.

With Our EXCHANGES

The bulletin states in a table on page 9 that the Ogallala formation is the "principal source of water in the High Plains." Further: "Water cannot enter the Ogallala formation in the South Plains from the Rocky Mountains, the Pecos River, or the Canadian River, they are cut off in all directions from any underground connection except thru the underlying older rocks which contain highly mineralized water entirely unlike the fresh water in the Ogallala."

Okay, so, we're committed to the idea that water must be recharged into the Ogallala sands by rainfall.

Now, the Sand Hills, which extend eastward from Roosevelt county, New Mexico, across Bailey and Lamb counties and a small part of Hale county, Texas, "The principal areas," and we quote, "in which direct sandy zones of Bailey, Lamb, infiltration can occur are the Lubbock and Hockley counties."

Plains farmers never intended to cultivate these Sand Hills areas. They were put there by Providence to be our principal sources of recharge for our underground water reservoirs; but if Lubbock takes this water out faster than nature can recharge it from rainfall, and they can, from whence will come the replenishment that we must have going on continuously?

Seems to us that the High Plains Water Conservation District was set up to take care of such matters. — Scoop in Muleshoe Journal.

TEENAGERS

Notice where two of our weekly editors are crosswise with some of their teenage readers over Elvis Presley and "Rock and Roll." These editors seem to have forgotten that in their teens, instead of "Rock and Roll" it was "Rock and Rye."

Our social culture is such that certain deep emotions are forced into dormancy for the teenager at the height of their psychological and physical development. From this dormancy each generation has sought to express these emotions in other forms bringing them to the borderline of morality. This causes the tilted eye-brow of the adults who have forgotten that they once sought such experience. From this comes the old adage that each new generation is "going to the dogs."

As long as our adult culture remains wholesome and the homelife of the youngster is secure with love, you will find very few teenagers stepping over this borderline of morality. The "pseudo-experience" is sufficient until the physical and mental are welded into a mature, adult mind.

I do not worry greatly about the new "pseudo-forms" that appear with each generation because they each seek to express the same mores our society has hidden from the youth. You can classify each past generation by the "art forms" they used to express and experience taboo personalities. But when the adult seeks to suppress and wrongly identify these expressions the teenager is forced to take the fatal plunge into immortality.

Proof of this whole "ought to be" simple fact that each generation has produced an excellency of citizenry regardless of the fact that these same generations, in their time, have transgressed the borderline of morality from the blackbottom Charleston and related emotional expressions to our present "Rock and Roll."

So let's not criticize, lets supervise. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

TO NEW MEXICO

About the time I began to wonder what lay beyond the red and purple hills in the west, I used to watch the covered wagons of homesteaders going to the free land in New Mexico. Often a dozen wagons would be in a single group. They moved slowly despite the good teams and wagons. Boys about my own age usually drove the milk cows and I envied them. A few years later the exodus assumed a tragic reverse. Burnses replaced the sleek horses and the milk cows were gone. It has been said that one could follow the homesteaders going to New Mexico by the empty tin cans, and follow them as they returned to the east by the discarded rabbit skins. — Trail Dust in Matador Tribune.

PURINA grows big pullets, gets lots of big eggs

Here's why you can expect an extra basket of eggs per week from each 100 hens, compared to U.S. Average.

How'd you like to get an extra basket of eggs per week this fall from each 100 layers? That's what a nationwide survey indicates you can expect if you feed your pullets on a Purina Growing plan. And remember, that's during the fall and early winter when prices are usually most favorable.

Records from 1,033 farmers showed that each hundred pullets grown out on a Purina feeding program laid nearly 20 dozen extra eggs per week over the U. S. Average flocks during the four fall months—September to December.

THE CHURCH POINTS THE WAY

Thousands of columns have been published in American newspapers about Juvenile Delinquency. Investigations have been held in scores of cities, and many witnesses have been called in an effort to find the cause and the cure.

In all this sudden excitement little has been said about the lack of religion in the homes and hearts of these thousands of unfortunate youths. Far too much emphasis has been placed on inadequate play facilities, too little discipline, too few policemen, etc.

Juvenile Delinquency is primarily a moral and religious problem. Neither jail nor playground, as necessary as they are, will do much to foster love, goodwill, self-respect and charity in the heart of a person. The development of love and charity in the life of a youth needs constant day by day cultivation. But how can a parent properly train a child if that parent has had no religious or spiritual training or background and lives a selfish and faithless life? How can a parent teach a youth the fundamental spiritual values if that parent does not even attempt to live an exemplary life and does not admit his or her dependence upon God, our creator?

Down through the ages the Church has been the bulwark against crime, sin and evil. Those who would solve the problem of delinquency in young or old should seek the way of the Church, for those who need spiritual healing should seek spiritual treatment. The Church stands ready to help parent and youth alike.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The LARIAT

Noisy Halls

La Dora Ayres
 Everyone is very anxious for school to be out. There are many parties and activities going on at the close of school. Spring fever is circulating through the halls of L. H. S. All of these and more factors are adding to the noise in the halls.

Nevertheless, there is no excuse for this extra confusion. We should try to be more considerate of others by being quiet in the halls when others are having classes. In between periods, a little noise is expected, but the whooping, hollering and whistling should stop.

Each of us should think as we walk down the hall, "Am I being considerate of others? Am I making unnecessary noise?"

If we think before doing, our school will become more orderly.

Fashions For Kid Day

Friday, May 4, a strange sight appeared at L. H. S. seniors came dressed as seven year olds.

Clara Lee Smith appeared in a beige jumper and a turquoise and white blouse.

In a black and white sailor suit came Vergil Cline.

Eldora, Ernestine, Betty June and Mary Ann were seen in cute red and white checked dresses, while Doyle and La Dora wore red and white checked sun dresses with ruffled panties.

Luther had on a bow tie and short pants with suspenders and a derby hat.

Barbara Jo and Peggy were dressed as little boys in short pants.

Oddie looked sweet in a blue and white checked short dress.

Vesta Eiland wore an outstanding straw hat.

Bare feet, skinned knees, big bows and cute derbies were seen everywhere.

Boys wore short pants, girls appeared in short dresses, ruffled pants and big bows.

These fashions were seen throughout the day as the '56 seniors had their chance of being kids again.

Fancy Fashions

Wanda Cox looked very attractive in her pink and white sun-dress on Thursday, May 3.

You can surely tell that spring has sprung from all the girls pretty sundresses and ponytails.

Luella Johnson and Glenda Rhoten looked just like a couple of checkerboard signs in their cute blue and white checked cotton dresses.

Did anyone notice Kay Golden and Jean Wofford's black and white blouses trimmed in nylon lace. They looked just like a couple of cute blackbirds.

It seems as if Lockney has also taken up the fad of Bermuda shorts. Those wearing them were Clara Lee Smith, Oddie Rogers, Peggy Epperson, Carolyn Jones and Janis Widener.

Low-necked dresses, with full swinging skirts, seem to be the popular style now.

Peggy Williams gaily displayed a white skirt with aqua, yellow, and black designs. With this, she wore a matching aqua blouse.

A pale yellow cotton dress was worn by Mrs. Cope.

Sunny Lawson looked like an adorable candy stick in her blue and white striped sun dress.

Carolyn Campbell displayed a purple, straight, linen skirt with a pale orchid sleeveless blouse.

Junior-Senior Banquet In Candyland

Friday, April 27, was "Red Letter Day" in L. H. S. for both the juniors and the seniors, because the Junior-Senior Banquet was going to be a reality that evening.

As the doors of the Hilton Hotel flew open, the seniors, juniors, faculty members and board members and their wives walked down Lollipop Lane which led straight to Candyland.

Along the walls stood huge lollipops mounted on broom or mop sticks. Above them were miniature peppermint candy cones. The speakers table was a Candyland special loaded with many goodies.

This head table had the appearance of a brick fence with candy vines winding over it; and, at the top, little candy plants seemed to bud out. On the tables were an assortment of candies and candy holders carrying out the theme. The centerpieces were candyland houses corresponding with the individual miniature candyland nut-cups.

As soon as every one located his place card, Mr. F. M. Smith gave the invocation. A delicious dinner, consisting of chicken-fried steak, creamed potatoes, green beans, hot rolls, pineapple cottage cheese salad, iced tea, and cherry pie topped with ice cream, was served. The welcome was given by Jay Kemp, master of ceremonies, and the response by Derrel Waldroupe, president of the senior class.

Supt. H. H. Nicholas then made a speech. The class will be read by Luther Williams, the class prophecy by Rita Griffith, and the class history by Carolyn Campbell.

Katie Rucker and Donice Casey, accompanied by Margie Sechrist, sang a duet.

Jay Kemp, the toastmaster, recognized the Junior-Senior Banquet Favorites who were: Most popular, Betty June Jackson and Dee Nix; most likely to succeed, Eldora Boone and Luther Williams; most representative, Carolyn Campbell and Weldon Jones; friendliest, Peggy Williams and Doyle McAda.

The junior class then presented gifts to Mrs. Cope and Mercer, their sponsors.

As the school song was being sung, tears welled up in many seniors' eyes, for they realized this was their last high school banquet.

It was all over, and each one waited anxiously for the prom to begin.

Mrs. A. B. Kenady spent last week visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Bley and Mr. Bley in Olton. The Bleys are moving into a new home there.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

GROWERS REPORT INCREASED YIELD WITH "NA-CHURS" SEED TREATMENT AND LEAF FEEDING

The following excerpts from satisfied "Na-Churs" users are typical of the many letters received by the "Na-Churs" Plant Food Company from your own friends and neighbors. These folks have proven to themselves that "Na-Churs" Liquid Fertilizer can help increase yield, give better growth and advance harvest.

"I sprayed 5 gallons of "Na-Churs" on 3 acres of cotton in the middle of a 12 acre field. The increase in yield was at least 30%, compared to unsprayed part. I will use "Na-Churs" again next year." C. C. Swope, Wilson, Texas.

"In 1955 I treated 10 acres of irrigated cotton with 2 gallons per acre of "Na-Churs". This cotton made one bale per acre and was pulled two weeks before the untreated which made only 2-3 bale per acre. All of this cotton acreage had a heavy hail loss on June 26. In 1956 my plans call for seed treatment plus foliage spraying." Theo Campbell, Wilson, Texas.

EASY TO DO — SMALL COST PER ACRE

Treating seed with "Na-Churs" is easy. Simply sprinkle "Na-Churs" over the seed, mix until thoroughly moistened, and allow to dry. One gallon of "Na-Churs" will treat 8 bushels of seed and the cost is only a few cents per acre. Only a half bushel increase in yield will more than pay for "Na-Churs" seed treatment.

FOR MORE PROFIT — TRY LEAF FEEDING

Used as a companion with "Na-Churs" seed treatment, foliage feeding with "Na-Churs" can help your grain and cotton develop stronger roots. Application can be made with any type sprayer or by airplane. It's fast acting. Don't let this season go by without giving "Na-Churs" a try on your farm.

CALL US TODAY!

We have "Na-Churs" available for immediate delivery in 5, 30 and 55 gallon drums. Try "Na-Churs" for yourself. You be the judge.

Progressive Dinner A Highlight Of Entertainment

Friday, May 4, will long be remembered by L. H. S. seniors. It was not only Kid Day, but it was also the evening of the Progressive Dinner.

Seniors and their dates, in semi-formal attire, motored to the homes of R. H. McLaughlin, Gerald Sams and R. L. Smith to feast on food fit for the gods or a king.

The appetizer, consisting of fruit juice and crisp crackers, was served at the McLaughlin residence. At the Sams' home, delightful pineapple, peach and pear salads were enjoyed. The main course of ham, baked potatoes, fruit, hot rolls, butter and iced tea afforded the seniors quite a treat at the Smith residence. The seniors ended their progress at the Legion Hall where Mesdames George Myers, Robert Ayres and Miss Emma Staibard served them homemade ice cream and delicious cake.

Others attending the Progressive Dinner were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nicholas, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson, Mrs. F. M. Smith and Mrs. Ruth Carpenter.

The Junior-Senior Prom

Immediately following the delightful Junior-Senior Banquet on Friday evening, May 27, an enjoyable prom was held in the Hilton Hotel Ballroom in Plainview. Music was furnished by the Scotsmen, a four piece orchestra, consisting of an organ, a trombone, a guitar, and drums.

As the prom commenced, both the juniors and the seniors began to swirl, sway and swing to the orchestra music. Graceful dancing couples, enjoyed the waltzes, fox trots, two-steps, sambas, rumbas, and "hop." Cameras snapped and flashbulbs flashed as the dancers glided by and smiled.

Beautiful, glittering formal and dazzling white dinner jackets adorned both the wearers and the ballroom. The aroma of fragrant flowers and enchanting perfume filled the air. Refreshments of delicious cookies and pink punch were served all during the dance.

The prom was also enjoyed by many juniors and seniors' mothers and dads, faculty members and members of the Board of Education.

At 12:30, the prom ended while the band played their dreamy, enchanting theme song, "Goodnight, Sweetheart."

The seniors, both happy and sad, walked out with their heads high and with "Moments to Remember."

Senior Kid Day

On "Kids Day," all seniors appeared at school dressed in their first grade duds. It was quite hilarious to see the girls in short skirts or ruffled pinafores and the boys in short pants or sailor suits. There were pigtails dipped in ink, black eyes, freckles and a-bow all—stumped toes. Dig those crazy hats, satiny bows, ties, and old suspenders.

The girls carried dolls or furry, stuffed animals while the boys had little trains, cars, yo-yos, squirt guns, nigger-shooters and fishing poles. All of them had big suckers and bubble-gum.

The seniors were dismissed ten minutes early at noon so that they could congregate in front of the high school building and have their pictures

Ann Davis — I remember when I was three or four years of age that I liked to find mud-puddles and jump into them. Every time that I did this my aunt would get me out of the mud and clean me up. This went on until mother began wondering why I had so many dirty dresses in the weekly wash. One day after a hard rain had ceased and mud puddles were almost everywhere, I went out to enjoy splashing around. Mother saw me, and I was so severely punished that I have not gone near a mud-puddle since.

Nelda Rhea — While I was vacationing in Arkansas the past summer, a boy friend invited me to a barbecue. There, I saw a rather tall man and casually remarked to my date, "Look at that tall man; he looks as if he is from Texas." The surprised boy replied kindly, "Well, he is not from Texas; that's my father."

Lynn Jolly — I recall an interesting incident on a farm about twelve years ago. Naturally, I was always at Daddy's heels; but this was one time that I should have been tied to mother's apron strings. Daddy and one of my uncles were tending the livestock. Of course, I had to be right in the middle of things; so I stood very erect in the middle of the lot. Unfortunately, a fat, fast pig ran between my legs. I clamped on to the pig and rode around the lot at least ten times. I finally got off, climbed through the fence and ran home. This experience convinced me that daddy does not need any assistance with the pigs.

Oddie Mae Rogers — When I was three years of age, I just happened to sit down near a bucket full of water while daddy was washing the car. As father was busy at his work, he did not pay much attention to me. I had to be "snarly" and look in the bucket to see what I could find. Suddenly I fell in, head first. I was gurgling, spluttering and gasping when daddy grabbed my feet and shook breath back into me. Believe me, this experience taught me to beware of full buckets of water.

Jay Kemp — When I got my first car, I decided I really would renovate it. I bought a set of wrenches and began to work. Underneath, I found a very tight bolt which fitted the wrench I had in my hand. Well, at least, now I know where the crank-case drains.

Alta Williams — One day as brother and I were walking home from school we began having a rock fight with two little girls. All of a sudden, one of the girls picked up a big rock and threw it. Pow! Right over my eye it landed. In fact, I still wear a scar as a reminder of this incident.

Doyle McAda — One night brother came in late and turned on the light and I opened my eyes just before he turned it off. After he had flicked off

Immediately afterwards, all the seniors and Mrs. Carpenter went to Mrs. George Myer's house to enjoy their picnic lunches on the lawn. Mesdames George Myers and Doyle Harrison, the hostesses, served them ice cold Coca-Cola, Dr. Pepper and Orange, along with pink lemonade and delicious fried fruit pies.

After having thanked the hostesses, the seniors and Mrs. Carpenter returned to school as the 12:30 period bell was ringing.

found it dark. I then began screaming and hallooing because I thought I had gone blind.

Rita Griffith — When I was three or four years of age, I decided to make some cornbread. I put in six eggs and almost a sack of sugar. Fortunately, daddy appeared as I was ready to add other ingredients and stopped me. My punishment was to sit in a chair for an hour.

Barbara Savage — When I was quite young, I liked to climb trees and swing on the limbs. One day as I was happily swinging, the limb broke. The fall did not injure me, but I was terribly frightened.

Mary Myers — Years ago when I was six, our family lived on a farm where we had a few cows and horses. Daddy had trained the four dogs to round-up the cattle. Around the pasture in which they stayed was an electric fence. I wasn't afraid of the electric fence, but the dogs didn't like it. So — I took them one by one, and held their paws on the fence just to hear them yell and howl. Afterwards, the dogs were so scared of the electric fence that they would not go near it; therefore daddy had to round up the cattle by himself. I am sure he wondered why all of a sudden the dogs refused to go out into the pasture where the electric fence was.

Veda Elland — At the age of five I was given my first kitten. Upon hearing it purr, I ran to my mother shrieking, "Mama, it runs, it runs."

Bettie Mae Sams — When I was almost three years of age, my older cousin would often provoke me by asking what mother washed my hair in. As I could not pronounce the word sink, I would always answer, "The stink."

Nelda Widener — I shall always remember one of the most delightful events of my life. I was very young at the time, and we lived on a farm. My daily chore was to gather the eggs from the hen house. As I was going about this task, I looked to see what it was. I reached into a nest and touched something very slimy and queer feeling. I knew this couldn't be an egg, consequently I jerked out my hand and enjoyed gathering eggs since.

Little Change In Farm Real Estate
Despite Lower Price

College Station. — Farm real estate values in Texas dropped slightly during the latter part of 1955, according to a report just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
During the four-month period from July 1 to November 1, farm real estate values increased from 2 to 4 percent in 31 States and remained essentially unchanged in 16 States. In Texas the decrease was 1 percent.
Compared with a year earlier, farm real estate values in the state were up 3 percent as of November 1. This compares with a nationwide rise of 5 percent during the same period. Values last November averaged higher than a year earlier in all but two States—Nevada and Utah.
and strong demand by farmers for additional land to enlarge their farms have helped to offset expected effects on land values of lower prices for farm commodities, according to the USDA report.
Many farmers and non-farmers continue to view farmland as a safe and desirable investment despite current lower returns. Present owners anticipate share this view because the number of farms for sale continued at a low level.

Stapleton Asks—

 day for reelection to the office of District Attorney. For some time now my application has been on file with all the county Democratic chairmen of the district, and I take this method of making such fact public.

I deeply appreciate the privilege of having served you in this important office and the cooperation which you have given me and all the officers of the district. Together we have all made a record of which we can be proud: crime has not increased these last few years in the four counties of this district as it has throughout the rest of the State and the nation. For a number of years now crime has been at its lowest level of history in our district, and I think that is a record in which we can all take pride.

I admit to you in complete frankness that I have tried harder to salvage young men and boys and make good citizens of them than I have to make convicts of them. That is a policy which I know you have wanted me to follow, and that is a policy which I shall follow if re-elected. I am happy to report to you that in almost every case we have succeeded; in a few cases we have failed, of course, and those cases have broken my heart, but I am still glad that we have tried. The many, many cases where we have succeeded make the effort more than worth while. But I have prosecuted vigorously where the circumstances demanded it, and I shall continue to do so.

I feel that I am now in my prime as a lawyer and that that fact, together with the experience I have had in the office, will enable me to serve you better in the future. I shall appreciate from the deep of my heart all that you may do in my behalf.

Sincerely,
 John B. Stapleton.

RELATIVES HERE

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wood had as guests Sunday her mother, Mrs. W. C. Cooley of Plainview, a brother, Klyce Cooley and family, Providence; sister, Mrs. Jack Dunlap, Whittier, California; and two cousins, Mrs. Josie Wright, Plainview and Mrs. Anthony Latta and children, Crosbyton.

Data Given On Wheat Allotment

Information from the County ASC office say that the final date for filing requests for 1957 new grower allotment on wheat is July 16. Wheat allotments are now being worked out and will probably be mailed the first part of July.

The county office has completed measurement of the 1956 wheat crop. Excess acreage over the individual allotment should be destroyed before May 15 and the county office notified. It was explained. The office will check all destroyed acreage.

Any farmer who wishes to have his 1957 wheat allotment increased or decreased should contact his community committee man not later than May 19th, the office said. The committee man will have the proper form to fill out and sign in making the request. Unless the farmer signs with his community committee his allotment will not be cancelled.

Members of the county committee suggested that farmers should check the provisions of the proposed soil bank plan before making a request for a change in their acreage allotment.

County Demos—elected.

With Mr. Patterson presiding the convention voted to conduct the meeting according to Roberts Rules of Order.

Motion that the chairman appoint a committee on delegates and one on resolutions was carried. These were T. B. Mitchell, E. R. Harris and Leslie Floyd as committee on delegates and F. L. Brown, Chester Mitchell and Tom Rankin, committee on resolutions.

Following a brief intermission the report of the committee on delegates was adopted by a vote of 30 to 17. The precinct was allowed 9 delegates.

The resolutions committee then offered a resolution endorsing state rights, opposing Federal control of schools, natural resources and opposing socialized medicine and Federal infringement on state laws relating to employment.

The second resolution praised Governor Allan Shivers for his fight for state rights and instructed the delegates to work for the election of a delegation who would support him to head the state delegation to the Democratic National Convention. The vote on this resolution was 33 for and 21 against.

The third resolution, on relating to the unit rule, passed without opposition.

Vegetable Council Representative Is Named For County

Floydada. — Gene Probasco was named Floyd County representative to the West Texas Vegetable Council at a meeting of some 30 vegetable farmers and business men held here Thursday night. Named alternate was Dick Whiteley of Lockney.

The group voted to become a member of the council. A special guest at the meeting was Ronald Davis of Lazbudie, president of the council. Davis spoke to the group concerning progress made in the vegetable program and gave instructions to the representatives as to their duties in the organization.

The vegetable growing program has definitely taken hold in Floyd County, with more than 2,000 acres expected to be planted in vegetables this year.

according to Bill G. Rodgers, Floyd County agricultural agent.

Following a recent survey made by Rodgers and members of his office, the following estimate of crop acreage for Floyd County's 1956 crop has been released: Onions, 500 acres; tomatoes, 250; cabbage, 400; cucumbers, 125; peppers, 200; carrots, 200; soybeans, 500.

To make a good policy a better one

What is "extended coverage?"

The usual fire insurance policy does not protect you against loss by windstorm, smoke, explosion, hail or the less common dangers of riot, falling aircraft, vehicle crashes.

For a small additional premium (in most places) you can protect your building and its contents against losses by these disasters.

Let's talk about this matter of "extended coverage."
