Hammond Asks Higher Support Price On Grain

Waco — The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has asked the United States Department of Agriculture to give grain sorghum producers comparable price supports to those announced for producers of non-allotment corn.

In a letter to Marvin L. McClain, director of the USDA grain division, TFB President J. Walter Hammond said the announcement of corn support levels "has created a storm of protest in this area."

Hammond referred to a USDA directive released April 25 setting a minimum support price of $1.25 per bushel on corn grown without allotments in commercial areas. Support price on corn produced under allotments has been placed at $1.50 per bushel.

"I do not have the official announcement of the support price on grain sorghum and neither do I have the official announcement of support level on cotton, but these prices have been reported to be $1.80 per hundred weight on grain sorghum and $2½ per cent of parity on cotton," Hammond wrote McClain.

"If the reports are true," Hammond continued, "corn produced out from under allotments would be supported at $1.25 per bushel, or $2.21 per hundred weight. Then it would seem that corn, where produced in excess of allotments, should be placed in the category of feed grain. If that assumption is correct, then corn produced with no regard for allotments would be supported at 41 cents per hundred weight lighter than grain sorghum."

Hammond said that, in the case of cotton, where a farmer fails to stay within his allotment, he not only loses the entire support price, but in addition, is penalized 50 per cent of the support price for overplanting.

"There is a feeling among the cotton growers that since there are tighter restrictions and controls on cotton, that crop should at least get the same support price percentage as does corn," Hammond said.

In the case of grain sorghum, the Texas Farm Bureau president pointed out, it is generally recognized that grain sorghum has 95 per cent of the feed value of corn and that the producer, to receive equitable treatment, should be provided a support price within 95 per cent of the corn produced in commercial areas without allotments.

"It may be that it is your intention to increase the support price on cotton and grain sorghum in a like manner to that of corn," Hammond told McClain. "In any case, will you please carefully consider the disparities that I have pointed out?"

Prison System Needs Guards

Austin — O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System, has asked the Texas Press Association for help in locating 40 urgently needed guards.

"Mounted guards for the Texas Prison System are desperately needed," said Ellis. "At this time of the year, when prisoners should be in the field at work, we only have 609 guards available. Our regular staff totals 649."

"The Texas press can render a wonderful service to the State by publicizing our needs—and our problem is serious," Ellis emphasized. "No previous guard experience is necessary as we train our own men. Therefore we will be happy to interview all physically sound men who are interested in joining our staff."

Men with good names and who want to work are especially desired. Preferred age is 40. But men from 21 to 55 are acceptable. Room, board, laundry and uniforms are furnished, along with a $2,700 annual salary.

"There is not a man in the Texas Prison System that is not short of guards at the present time," said Ellis.

Greatest need at the moment is primarily, in the farm units. Here all guards ride horseback.

READING LESSON

Dr. Standish has had years of experience reading X-Rays like this one. To his trained eyes, each light and shadow means something, and this understanding has given new health and new life to countless persons.

But to most of us, this X-Ray is undecipherable. To understand its message, we would have to take a new kind of reading lesson; we would have to spend long hours at study.

Like the X-Ray, many of life's questions seem at first glance unanswerable. Indeed; some are beyond man's understanding. But in Church, we can be taught a new way of reading that makes mysteries far greater than that of this X-Ray seem suddenly, miraculously clear.

If you are interested in the meaning of life for yourself and your children, then profit by the teachings of the Church that have stood the test of centuries for millions of people.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

900 HELPERS—It takes $1,250 to get your name on the ballot for Governor of Texas. And Democratic candidate Ralph Yarborough (right), shown paying his fee in cash to George Sandlin, Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, almost didn't make it. He paid on the last day, telling Austin reporters that three days earlier he didn't have the money. He said some 900 supporters contributed for the fee, in $1, $5 and $10 bills. Yarborough said if present trends continue he will win in the first primary July 28. Among his first official acts, he said, will be a recommendation for raising Texas' "shamefully low" old age assistance payments.

Dead Spots In Your Lawn? Here's Why

College Station. — The lawn is a favorite spot for beetles to lay their eggs and for their young to hibernate over winter. The effects of their eating during the winter will show up in the lawn as patches of dead or dying grass now that warmer weather has started plant growth, says C. F. Garner, assistant extension entomologist.

If the lawn has a ragged appearance and is brown in spots and handfuls of dead or dying grass can be pulled up by the roots, better check for white grubs, says the specialist. White grubs, he explained, are the larvae of beetles which spend the early stages of their life cycle underground and are not visible feeders.

If white grubs are suspected, it is easy to make a check. Garner suggests taking a sharp shovel and cutting around three sides of a block of turf. Run the shovel under the block and turn it back on the uncut side. If grubs are present, the soft-bodied, wingless, wormlike grubs will be apparent. If six or more grubs are found in a one foot-square area, better apply an insecticide.

Chlordane has shown promise for treating lawns as have aldrin, dieldrin and heptachlor, says Garner. All these materials are poisonous and should be handled and applied according to the manufacturer's directions. They are available as wettable powders or emulsifiable concentrates which can be mixed with water and used as a spray. Dust forms may be applied directly to the lawn.

It is a good practice when treating for white grubs to sprinkle the lawn after the insecticide has been applied, says Garner. This will wash the poison down into the soil where it can reach the insects.

Garner says local agents can supply L-199, "Guide for Con-

Modern Cotton Gin Methods Control Pink Bollworm

College Station. — The value of the modern cotton gin as one of the effective means of controlling the pink bollworm has been pointed up by research done by the USDA's Pink Bollworm Research Laboratory at Brownsville.

Undertaken three years ago, the investigations in Texas and parts of five other states demonstrated that most commercial gins can be relied upon to reduce pink bollworms to such a low level as to be of very little, if any, importance in relation to ginned seed that is to be planted or otherwise used within the infested area. This fact is important in formulating quarantine regulations.

Gins which utilized elaborate equipment in the ginning process showed the best results, averaging better than a 99 percent kill of the pink bollworms with both hand-snapped and picked cotton. Many of the individual ginning tests resulted in 100 percent mortality for the dreaded insect.

CHICKEN GRAVY

Cream of chicken soup, right from the can (undiluted) makes smooth, delicious chicken gravy. Bake or broil chicken parts in the oven or broiler. When done, lift the chicken pieces from the pan and keep warm while you stir soup into the pan drippings. Add 1/4 cup of sherry if you wish. When the mixture bubbles, gravy is ready to serve.

SAVE OILCLOTH FINISH

To remove a plate that has been stuck to oil cloth, pour hot water around the plate before lifting it. Then it will come away without removing finish from oilcloth.

To cleanse wood floors of marks made by rubber heels, crayons or composition casters, wash first with warm sudsy water, then use a liquid wax that cleans and polishes in one step. If the spots are stubborn rub the wax in with fine steel wool.

Appeals Court Rules Out Election Code

Austin — The Court of Criminal Appeals recently threw out the penal provisions in the Texas Election Code which limited expenditures by individuals toward the election or defeat of a candidate for public office.

In issuing its opinion the court dismissed charges against Vern Sanford, general manager of the Texas Press Association, who had been indicted by a McLennan County Grand Jury on the charge that he had spent $76 for political advertising with two Waco newspapers during the 1954 campaign.

Pointing out that one state law makes excessive expenditures by individuals a felony, while another law makes such expenditures both a felony and a misdemeanor, the court held that this direct conflict between the two laws rendered both laws invalid.

Thus, in the absence of any applicable law on which to base the indictments, the court dismissed the charges against Sanford.

The question of constitutionality of the limitation of expenditures, a point which had been raised by the Texas Press Association on the grounds that it infringed upon freedom of speech, was not decided by the court's ruling. In order to rule any law unconstitutional, it is necessary first to have a law. Under the court's opinion, there is no valid penal law on the Texas statute books which governs a person's right concerning such expenditures.

Minute Editorials

And He said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort; thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace. Luke 8:48.

A LOT OF HAPPINESS mingled with a little tinge of sadness marks graduation time for the high school graduates especially. We, along with a lot of other people, extend our congratulations and best wishes to the graduates. Perhaps this will be the happiest, most care-free time of their lives. Many of them are wise enough to know that and therefore they seek to make the best of it. To use an old phrase, graduation is a milestone in the lives of the young men and young women who have completed their high school work. To date they have been looked after, cared for and supported by parents or other relatives. But from now on most of them will be, to some degree at least, on their own. Success or failure, happiness or unhappiness, depends upon the quality of the individual. We would say to the graduate, do your best, give all you have, work hard and wait for the knock of opportunity. It will come and if you are prepared then all will be well.

ROOM TO GROW is a problem in many cities in Texas we presume. Lockney is no exception and for that reason the opening of the Gentry property in West Lockney for development and sale to individuals will prove to be very beneficial to the city. Already several of these lots have been sold. Others will be sold and nice residences will be erected in that section of town. This extension along with the city's recent installation of sewer lines in that area should prove to be a "shot in the arm" as far as building within the city goes. Lockney has been growing steadily since World War II. The sewer line extension and the opening of this new area to development will help to assure a continuation of that steady growth.

A NEW CASH CROP in the irrigated area of Floyd County appears to be developing. That is corn. County Agent Bill Rodgers estimates that Floyd County will have 3500 acres of corn this year. Of course that will all be in the irrigated area and most of it in this part of Floyd County. Although information on support prices isn't clear here, it appears that in this so-called non-commercial area, the price support will run around $2.00 per hundred on shelled corn. There are no acreage allotments, of course, in Texas but in the corn-producing states there are acreage allotments and the support price is $1.50 per bushel.

THE LOCKNEY AREA has never had better cotton prospects than they do this year. Any direction from town you can see a solid streak of green shining down the rows. Many farmers already have the cotton knifed out and in good shape should heavy rains come. Rotary hoes are being used to keep down the weeds. Of course, we shouldn't count the chickens' too soon but thus far the prospects for a cotton crop looks very good. Barring hail, sandstorms, insects or some other catastrophe, we should harvest some cotton here next fall.

"VOTE FOR THE PARTY instead of the man," is the slogan of some who advocate the theory that the character of the man running for the office is of little importance so long as his party is standing for what is right and beneficial. Perhaps they are right but a majority of the American people apparently don't go along with this theory. We're persuaded that, outside of the rabid party politician, most people look to the character of the candidate as much as they do the party platform. After all party platforms are often changed once the candidate gets into office but the character of the candidate doesn't. If the Democratic party expects to get the full backing of its potential membership in this presidential election year

WOLF AT THE DOOR

The wolf of competition is knocking at the door of one of the county's greatest agricultural industries, and one that is important indeed to the economy of Texas.

Millions of dollars are being spent on research and promotion to capture for synthetics and other competitors the fiber markets traditionally claimed by cotton. The organized cotton industry, through the National Cotton Council, is fighting this threat hard with the same weapons.

National Cotton Week, May 14-19, is sponsored each year by the Council to stimulate the sale of cotton products. Stores throughout the country and communities all over the Cotton Belt join in this celebration. This is one of the Council's many projects aimed at protecting markets and expanding consumption of our most important agricultural commodity.

It means a great deal to Texas. The value of cotton and cottonseed produced in this state in 1955 amounted to $77,081,000, approximately 38 per cent of the total farm income.

We're thinking they had better forget political debts, racial minorities and such and try to nominate a man whose character will stand the close scrutiny of the voter. Otherwise we'll have a repetition of 1952

Cotton is grown on 126,011 Texas farms or 43 per cent of the total farms in the state. Last year they produced 4,025,000 bales and 1,682,000 tons of cottonseed, providing income and payrolls for 1801 gins, 124 warehouses, 81 oil mills, and 53 textile mills in Texas. These dollars circulated many times in the communities of Texas.

This is something to think about when you go to the retail counter and buy clothing, household furnishings or other fiber products. Be sure and pick cotton—Muleshoe Journal.

JUST POLITICS

There is one thing that has us baffled. Up in the corn belt the Department of Agriculture has assured the corn producer or farmer, a guaranteed price of not less than $1.25 per bushel for his corn, and it makes no difference how many acres he plants. In other words it is wide open, while down here in the South and Southwest, we are limited on the number of acres we can plant to cotton, and if a farmer plants an acre or so over his allotment he is not in compliance and will not receive the guaranteed price for his cotton. There is a large surplus of corn just like there is of cotton. Didn't we tell you last week the Mid-Western farmers would receive special treatment in order to quiet them down and hold them in line for the Republicans. They, the Republicans, have already counted the south as out of their control and over in the Democratic range, figuring they can win the Mid-Western vote, and they can, that is the heck of it. We just don't like to be counted until we cast our vote. — Petersburg Journal.

OUT OF STEP?

American conservatives frequently are denounced by liberals, contemporaries as being "out of step with modern progress."

By being "out of step" they mean that the stubborn individualists are not convinced that the Washington bureaucrats know more about how to run the country than the people themselves.

Also, those who fail to become enamored of all current fads; who doubt that everything "modern" is superior to everything developed in the past, and who refuse to yield their principles in deference to expediency, are accused of being "out of step with progress."

Maybe so, maybe so. But conservative thinkers still remain the balance wheel which holds civilization on an even keel. Perhaps they are out of step with some of their contemporaries, but it's sometimes wise to be out of step when the regimented are marching in the wrong direction. — Lubbock Avalanche.

THE RADICALS

Sam Houston said the Civil War was a needless catastrophe. He said it was fanned by hotheads on both sides. He had no patience with John C. Calhoun and his fire-eater coterie in the Congress and just as little with Abraham Lincoln and his abolitionists. The in-between people fought the war and the losers are still suffering its ill effects. But states rights is a very real issue still. It is accentuated by the recent activities of the supreme court. A loud minority is entreating the president to intervene in and establish law and order in the South. "People were ever thus. You can't talk states' rights without the racial problem being injected. Perhaps the supreme court will finally go far enough that the people of the nation will realize the seriousness of their plight and get hot under the collar about something besides how awful is the South — Floyd County Hesperian.

 Of course, the senior class's main attraction in Shreveport, Louisiana will be the "Louisiana Hayride."
 The seniors are sure there are other points of interest that are unknown as yet.
 The group intends to make the best of this trip and see it all. Its scenic and educational values will provide them many pleasant memories, so it's Florida or bust!

A Few Places Of Interest On Trip

Of course, the seniors are all excited over their extensive class trip into Louisiana, Florida and Mississippi. They plan to leave after the reception following graduation exercises on Thursday evening, May 24th.
 New Orleans is a city of old French charm with the new effect of modern streets and skyscrapers. As the seniors will probably want to make a thorough tour of the city, they will probably start with the oldest and the most attractive part, the French Quarters. Here they will find ancient cathedrals and many mansions formerly owned by pirates who lived there and plundered ships out in the Gulf of Mexico.
 Lake Ponchartrain, on the northern rim of New Orleans, provides facilities for swimming, water-skiing and boating.
 After leaving New Orleans, the group will tour down the west coast to Miami. Here they will visit the beach and view some of the most luxurious hotels and motels in the world.
 The class also plans to visit Fort Lauderdale in Key West, Florida.
 Florida has the "Fountain of Youth," the world's largest sponge market, and the greatest tourist trade east of the Rocky Mountains. Tourists provide a greater income than that from farms, factories and mines put together.
 On the return trip, the party plans to stop off at Pensacola.

Fun And Sunburn On The Senior Trip

On Friday, May 11, the approaching seniors loaded into cars, accompanied by several adults, and began the long ride to Roaring Springs. The seniors were celebrating the annual senior day.

When they arrived they immediately jumped into their bathing suits and hit that ice-cold water like a flock of ducks. Those who did not go swimming also put on their swim-suits and began trying to get a beautiful summer tan. Boy, did they get it, too. For some queer, unknown reason, most of them came home red instead of tan.

Well, they swam and sunbathed until lunch time, then the mothers spread sandwiches, fried chicken, potato salad, deviled eggs, cold cokes and many other delicious edibles before them.

After having eaten and rested awhile, the seniors splashed back into the water and continued swimming until three o'clock.

It was then time to return to L. H. S. They arrived, tired and blistered, but very happy over such a delightful day.

Principal And Sponsors Entertain Graduating Class

On Tuesday evening, May 8, the senior class was given an enjoyable lawn party by Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson and Mrs. Ruth Carpenter.

The party was held at the F. M. Smith residence, in their beautiful back yard shaded with large trees and bordered by a spring garden and fragrant flowers. The lawn was well lighted and had chairs to accommodate all. The grand entrance into this backyard extravaganza was made at 7:30 and all the seniors and their guests registered in Mr. Smith's annual.

Then each one went for refreshments of strawberry ice cream, lime punch and Mrs. Smith's delicious cake. There were several who could not resist second and even third helpings.

After refreshments, the group played "Grandma McGinnis", "Fish, Bird and Beast," "Daisy Mae and Lili Abner and Dagwood and Blondie," and "The Prince of Wales Has Lost His Hat."

After having spent a hilarious, delightful evening, the seniors dispersed at ten o'clock.

Installation Of Student Council Officers For '56-'57

At 1:30 on Monday, May 14, a special assembly was called to install the officers of the student council for the coming year, 1956-1957.

Mr. Michael Chumrey, vice principal and student council sponsor of Plainview High School, helped with the installation. Mr. Chumrey was also accompanied by four student council members from Plainview High School. Each officer for next year, with the exception of the treasurer, Joe Rigby, who was ill, repeated the pledge after Mr. Chumrey. The officers for next year are: Rita Griffith, president; Katie Rucker, vice-president; Lajuana Henderson, secretary; Joe Rigby, treasurer.

The Rev. H. B. Coggin, pastor of the Methodist Church, then gave a short talk. Luther Williams, our outgoing president expressed his gratitude to both the faculty and the student body for their hearty co-operation. Rita Griffith then gave a short talk which was followed by the benediction by Rev. Coggin.

Pioneer Round-Up Set At Plainview

On Saturday, May 19, the town of Plainview will go all out to make the 28th annual Pioneer Round-Up a true Pioneer Day. This year, as in the past 27 years, Pioneer Round-Up Day will be sponsored by the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club.

A full day spent in recapturing a bit of the spirit of the Old West, will be mainly for the enjoyment of the pioneers. As in years past, however, this celebration draws thousands of visitors to the city of Plainview, not only oldtimers, but true lovers of the Plains and its heritage.

The miles of floats depicting days of the old West, the hundreds of horses and an unusually large number of horseless carriages is expected to make this year's parade one of the best. The great interest now being shown in the old automobiles, will be greatly enhanced by the large number of vehicles expected this year. Horse lovers will thrill at the sight of hundreds of horses and riders in this year's parade.

The old timer's Chuck Waggoner supper will be prepared this year by one of Plainview's best known chefs. There will be the barbecue, red beans, onions, stewed fruit, in fact, the whole meal will be one eaten by the cow boys of the true West.

The program is drawing an unusually amount of attention this year. Its title is "This is Your Life." Many an old timer is casting a quick eye, trying to pick the Pioneer of Pioneers, to be honored during the night's program. It can be any one of the hundreds of pioneers. Only the night of May 19th, will the true identity of the person or persons be made known.

Following the program, there will be the Square Dance that will end the 28th annual Pioneer Round-Up Day of activity.

To make a good policy a better one

What is "extended coverage?"

The usual fire insurance policy does not protect you against loss by windstorm, smoke, explosion, hail or the less common dangers of riot, falling aircraft, vehicle crashes.

For a small additional premium (in most places,) you can protect your building and its contents against losses by these disasters.

Let's talk about this matter of "extended coverage."

Field Trip Enjoyed By Biology Classes

At seven o'clock on Wednesday May 2, the first and third period biology classes, accompanied by Mr. Babitzke left on a field trip to Linguish Falls.

They arrived at 7:45 and began their hike down a mountain and through a narrow canyon to the Falls, about a mile away.

Pupils carried jars, cans and boxes in which to put the specimens found. On the way to the Falls, the class collected fish, frogs, snails, spiders, insects, plant leaves, bird eggs, water grass, beautiful rocks, and wild flowers.

About 10:30 a. m. the group returned to the bus and enjoyed a delightful lunch of sandwiches, cookies and fruit. A few pupils brought whole cokes, others had cold water in thermos jugs.

After having eaten lunch, a few returned to the Falls for a swim in spite of the fact that the water was quite cold.

The return signal was given and the swimmers came back to the bus for the return trip to school. Three boys had hiked down the side of a steep hill and could not climb out in time to catch the bus; however, one of them had his car along.

The pupils, tired but happy, arrived at school at 12:20, just in time for fourth-period class.

Magazine Drive A Big Success

In the magazine drive for the library, Mrs. Carpenter's tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade English classes contributed 2177 magazines and pamphlets. Some of the magazines brought were "Readers Digest," "Seventeen," "Good Housekeeping," "Bedbrook," "Glamour," "Home Life," "Look," "Woman's Home Companion," "Ladies Home Journal," "Parents," "Today's Woman," "Time," "Cosmopolitan," "Charm," "The American," "Colliers," "The National Geographic," etc.

Magazines from each class were stacked according to titles and then counted. Class winners were determined by dividing the number of pupils in each group into the total number of magazines brought by them. The first winners of this library drive were the third period seniors, the second period juniors took second place, sixth period sophomores fourth place, and first period seniors, fifth.

Mrs. Carpenter will give the third period seniors a party soon.

Both Mrs. Zeigler and Mrs. Carpenter appreciate the pupils response and co-operation in this drive.

Gems Of Life

Luther Williams

Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

1 John 4:5.

The gospel is the good news that God has made himself known in Christ. Because it is such a familiar story to most of us, we do not realize what it means to those who hear it for the first time.

When Helen Keller, deaf, dumb, and blind, learned the story of the love of God as revealed in the life of Christ for the first time, her face lighted up and through her interpreter she remarked, "I knew all the time there must be one like that, but I didn't know his name."

God and Jesus to teach us his will show us his love and make himself known to humanity. Until we become acquainted with Him, our lives will be sadly incomplete, not only in fullness but also in love.
