

Little League Ends Season Saturday Nite

The Lockney Little League will end its regular season Saturday evening. The schedule of play will be completed at that time. Two play-off games will probably be played next week. These are Indians vs. Yankees and Cardinals vs. Yankees.

It is possible an all-star game or two will be played but no announcement has come from Commissioner Tom Moore concerning such games. He has advised that all uniforms be turned in by Saturday, August 1. The uniforms should be left at the local cleaning establishment and the cleaning charge paid for by the boys' parents. He said the Red Sox, Indians and Yankees should leave their uniforms at Beecher's Master Cleaners and the Cardinals, Glants and Dodgers should leave their uniforms at Brennan's Cleaners.

Failure to turn in the uniforms on time may cause the players to forfeit the right to play next year. Mr. Moore said here are the game results of the past week:

Wednesday, Dodgers 11, Yankees 1; Thursday, Indians 14, Cardinals 10; Friday, Glants 2, Red Sox 1; Saturday, Dodgers 15, Indians 4; Monday, Dodgers 12, Cardinals 3; Tuesday, Red Sox 7, Indians 6.

Standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Dodgers	18	1	.947
Glants	11	6	.647
Indians	10	8	.555
Yankees	7	8	.467
Red Sox	4	15	.210
Cardinals	4	16	.200

Another game, vs. Reds, will not be played unless it is necessary to clarify the standings, he said.

The Braves defeated the leading Tigers 7 and 6 Saturday night and the Reds at the Cubs 8 and 7 on Tuesday night to close out the season.

Here's the standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Dodgers	9	5	.642

Former Sterley Man Is Dumas Blast Victim

James L. Rivers, 28, a former resident of the Sterley community, was one of the 19 victims in the tragic fire and explosion at Dumas last Sunday morning. Known at Sterley as J. Lester Rivers, the young man had lived at Sterley and worked on the section there for two or three years some five or six years ago.

He was a nephew of Everett Rivers, who lived at Sterley until recently and a cousin to Louwana Rivers, a student in Lockney High the past year.

Mr. Rivers was an employee of the Shamrock Company at the McKee plant but was not on duty with the company at the time. He was a member of the Sunray Volunteer Fire Department and was fighting the fire as a member of that department when he died in the blast.

His parents are now living at Sunray but the family originally came from Turkey, friends said.

Mrs. L. C. Crader and Mrs. M. O. Buchanan, friends of the Rivers family, attended funeral services for the young man at Boxwell Funeral Home in Amarillo Wednesday morning. He was buried in Memorial Park Cemetery, Amarillo.

Survivors include his wife and three children, a daughter, 8, another daughter, 6 and a son, 4 years old. His parents also survive.

The Cooper family here, Howard, Glen, Melvin, Ross and Mrs. John Chandler, had a distant cousin killed in the explosion. His name was L. A. Blossom. Mrs. J. H. Cooper and Tom Marr went to Dumas Monday and Howard and daughter, Carol, went Tuesday morning to attend funeral services for the deceased man. Also Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cooper attended the services which were held at Sunray.

The Howard Coopers also attended funeral services Tuesday afternoon for a very close friend, Billy Joe Dunn, who was killed in the blast. These services were held at Dumas. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stringer, also residents of Sterley, attended funeral services for a nephew, also a victim of the tragedy, on Monday of this week but The Beacon was unable to find out the man's name.

Elevator Loss Set At $15,000

Loss in the Patterson Elevator fire Wednesday morning is estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000, members of the firm said Wednesday afternoon. Fire completely destroyed the small elevator building setting next to the railroad tracks and heavily damaged some 10,000 bushels of milt stored in the building.

Only valiant work by the Lockney Volunteer Fire Department kept the fire from spreading to another nearby and larger elevator. The fire boys kept three hoses playing water on the fire and on nearby buildings until the fire died down.

The fire started in the head-house of the elevator and the origin is unknown though members of the firm said it may have started from an overheated electric motor or from faulty wiring. The motors were running at the time turning the grain which was stored in the elevator. The fire was first noticed by employees of the firm and by employees of Consumers Fuel Association nearby.

There will probably be some salvage from the grain but just how much is unknown. The loss was partially covered by insurance. The elevator building was built in 1943 after another building was destroyed by fire on the same location.

The company will have to replace the elevator or build something on the location since this elevator was their device to load railroad cars from a nearby warehouse, it was said. Just what will be done to replace it hadn't been decided Wednesday afternoon.

J. R. Cole Buried Here Friday

Jessie Robert Cole 74 years of age, was buried in the Lockney Cemetery Friday afternoon following funeral services at the Carter Funeral Chapel at 3 p. m. Cole died sometime during Wednesday night and was found in his bed Thursday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Hutton.

Rev. L. A. Blair, local Baptist minister, conducted the services and Carter Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Cole was born December 13, 1881, at Damascus, Virginia. The family moved to Vernon, Texas in 1889 and came on to Lockney a few years later, homesteading some land in this area. He moved to Portales in 1901 where he filed on a claim but returned to Lockney in 1904 and was married to Miss Leta Belle Zion in Floydada on September 20 of that year. They made their home in Portales until 1909 when they returned to Lockney. The couple had three children, two of whom are surviving. They are Mrs. Mary Hutton and W. M. Cole, both of Lockney. The deceased had made his home with his daughter here since 1949.

He was converted under the ministry of the late Rev. C. A. Joiner and joined the Baptist Church at Currie, an early day settlement in this county.

In 1920 he was married to Miss Anna Lee Bennett in Tennessee and the couple had three children, who survive. They are Erma Jean of Colorado Springs, Colo., Robert Lee and Ruby of Great Bend, Kansas.

Also surviving are four grandchildren, one great-grandson, one sister, Mrs. Martha Al-

Roy Thornton, moving here from Phoenix, Arizona, will open the Plains Hotel and coffee shop on August 15 if renovating and repairing is completed by that date, he said Tuesday. Mr. Thornton is a former resident of Lockney, having been reared here. He moved away about 20 years ago.

C. F. suffered two broken ribs, bruises, cuts and a few burns, but isn't seriously hurt. The light plane he was flying caught fire at about 300 feet soon after he had taken off. He landed the plane in a field and it flipped over on its back. He is doing fine and expects to be released from the hospital soon.

Onion Growers Get Their Money

Onion growers of this area who recently harvested and marketed their onion crop for this year, have received their checks, M. W. Wiley, local representative of the F. H. Vahsing Company said this week. Mr. Wiley displayed several checks ranging in amounts from approximately $5000 to more than $7,000 as final payment on the onion crops. Some money had been drawn previously by the growers he said.

Wiley reported that 11 farmers of the area grew and harvested 12 1/2 acres of onions this year. Their returns on the total acres was $101,688.40 after harvesting expense had been deducted. From this, however, will come 20% to the shipper, leaving some $80,000 over harvesting and marketing expenses.

At least one farmer netted over $700 per acre over harvest expense, Wiley said. He had 10 acres in onions.

In addition the Vahsing Company paid out some $25,000 to labor in this area during the harvest operations. Mr. Wiley said.

No Run-Off Races Left In County

The first Democratic primary last Saturday wiped the slate clean as far as county and district candidates are concerned and left no run-off races for the second primary except state races.

County Democratic Chairman Ben Ayres said Tuesday that only three contested races would appear on the second primary ballot, these being for the three highest offices in the state: Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and Attorney General.

Despite an apparent lack of interest in the first primary voters went to the polls in much larger numbers than expected in this county, the total vote exceeding that of two years ago by more than 300 votes. Although the exact total vote wasn't available, the most votes cast in any one race was that for sheriff with 3236 votes being tallied in that contest.

Returns came in quickly Saturday night and totals were completed on all the races in the county by 9:30, in spite of the heavy voting. The big board in front of Pinner Insurance carrying box-by-box returns was completely filled in and totals listed by that time.

Stapleton Wins Dist. Attorney

Minute Editorials

I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me. —Philippians 4:3.

THE NEGRO SCHOOL question is not settled in this district. With or without the threat of integration hanging over our heads, we must still provide an adequate school for the colored students of this district—more adequate than we have been providing. Negro students should have an opportunity to get an education and it is the duty of the taxpayers of the district to provide that school. As The Beacon has contended all along, the best way to a void integration is to provide adequate school facilities for the Negroes. It is an unavoidable obligation.

WE ARE GLAD to see the school board make considerable improvements at our white school. Certainly they can only do as much as the available money will allow but improvements have been coming year by year and gradually the school buildings are being put in top shape. But it seems the problems of operating a school never end. Just this week The Beacon received a news release from the University of Texas concerning the salary its graduates draw. The article said that UT education graduates this year will average $945 monthly compared to $431 for engineering-science graduates.

HIDDEN DOWN in the center of the news release was this sentence: "Almost all University graduates are going to schools where salary schedules are above the 'minimum foundation' the state requires." That means that the school districts which can afford to pay teacher salaries above the state salary schedule are getting the choice of teachers naturally. It also means that districts which merely pay the state salary schedule will find it difficult to fill its teaching vacancies and also find it difficult to keep teachers. The Abernathy school district has been paying $300 per year above the state salary for several years. Other districts in this area are doing almost as well. The Lockney district must make plans to raise its teachers salary schedule or face a serious problem in keeping its teaching staff complete.

A SHORTAGE of teachers continues to face the schools of Texas. From the Texas State Teachers Association comes a report saying that on July 20 there were 7,165 teaching positions still vacant in Texas with only 1,310 teachers available to fill them. The TSTA says that almost 4,000 teachers were completely lost from the profession last year.

LOCAL FARMERS do not appear to be very interested in the proposed agricultural research station for the Plains if it is to be located in a sandy loam area. They point out that the experiment station at Lubbock is located in sandy soil and can furnish farmers with data and information concerning all kinds of crops grown in that type soil. They contend that the proposed station should be located in an area where tight, dark soil is prevalent in order that farmers of Floyd, Hale and other counties with this type soil might have access to information that would be beneficial on their particular situation.

DESPITE FINE crop prospects Floyd County cannot expect to produce its usual per acre average yield of cotton this year. The county has in good years approached a bale per acre average but they cannot do that this year because much of the county's cotton acreage has been switched from irrigated to dry land farms and much of the dry land cotton acreage has gone into the soil bank. We note some estimates of the county's cotton yield to run as high as 75,000 bales this year. We hope it reaches that total but we're thinking that the estimate is a little optimistic. Remember that many irrigated farmers have lost 40% of the allotted cotton acreage in the past two years. That's bound to make a big dent in the number of bales the county produces.

CURBING THE COURT

The Congressman from the ninth district of Alabama, George Huddleston Jr., last week introduced a bill in the House to limit the appellate jurisdiction of the U. S. Supreme Court.

This move stems from a general uneasiness over recent decisions of the court that point to increased centralization of government at the expense of the long-honored doctrine of states' rights.

Here is the bill as introduced by the gentleman from Alabama:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That it is the purpose and intent of this Act to reestablish and reaffirm the basic Constitutional doctrine of separation of powers between the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of the Federal Government.

Sec. 2. The established law of the United States shall be revised or changed only by legislative enactments or by Constitutional amendments.

Sec. 3. The Courts of the United States and the Courts of the several states of the United States shall not be bound by any decision of the Supreme Court of the United States which conflicts with the legal principle of adhering to prior decisions and which is clearly based upon considerations other than legal.

We doubt seriously that the bill will be passed. Probably it should not be passed. But the very fact that it was introduced is significant. The fact that the Supreme Court is creating, more and more, a justification for such legislation, is the quieting thing about it all. The fact that Congress is considering seriously certain curbs on the highest court in the land should give the nine gentlemen in the black robes pause in what seems to many Americans to be a campaign to siphon off the rights and privileges of the states into the brimming reservoir of a central government. — Amarillo Daily News.

MAKING CAREERS

Texans are progressively losing a battle to tax our natural resources like natural gas that is being mined and shipped through pipelines to other states without the payment of a small tax that would be only a tiny part of the cost to the ultimate consumer and would build more roads than the whole eight cents a gallon would build if all of it could get out on the roads and none was lost in "administration." But the multimillionaire pipelines make a career of the pipeline business and that includes the prevention of all taxation possible. The average motorist has to make a career of trying to make a living and naturally there is nobody to keep him from being taxed. In fact that must be what "average" motorists, or average anything else, is for. To pay taxes. — You be The Judge in Crosbyton Review.

WHEW! — I've had a very busy day. Today my heart beat 103,389 times, my blood traveled 168 million miles, I breathed 23,040 times, I inhaled 438 cubic feet of air, I ate 3 and a quarter pounds of food, drank 2.9 pounds of liquid, I perspired 1.43 pints, I gave off 85.6 degrees of heat and I generated 450 tons of energy. Stapleton In Closed Circuit TV Meeting

Lubbock. — John B. Stapleton, Floydada, a delegate to the 1956 Democratic Convention to be held August 13 to 18 at Chicago, attended a special closed circuit coast-to-coast telecast designed to acquaint delegates with convention procedure at the Television City studios of KDUB-TV, Channel 13, here recently.

The Columbia Broadcasting System's closed circuit telecast marked the first time in history that a National Democratic Chairman has conducted a pre-convention caucus with delegates. Demo Chief Paul Butler was highlighted during the program.

Delegates and alternates, assembled in the KDUB-TV Conference Room, were welcomed to the program by Dr. Frank Stanton, CBS President. CBS Vice President Sig Mickelson explained the mechanics of television and radio coverage of the convention.

Mickelson explained that Columbia would utilize 54 microphones, a total of 22 cameras, and an amassed total of 22 tons of electric equipment.

Popular CBS news commentators who will assume herculean duties of actual on-the-spot coverage were introduced to the delegates. They include Walter Cronkite, Douglas Edwards, Charles Collingwood and Robert Trout.

Butler told the closed circuit audience that the entire convention program would be streamlined to facilitate electronic journalism coverage. He said speeches would be held to 30-minute maximums and that demonstrations would be likewise curtailed.

A potential audience of more than 100 million Americans will watch the convention via their television sets.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Determining Time Of Irrigation
 The irrigating farmer is faced with the problem of deciding when to irrigate the various crops grown in this area. The number of calendar days between irrigation varies, of course, from one crop to another. Cotton, for instance, uses about 25 inch of moisture per day after blooms appear. If a farmer applies about 4 inches per irrigation, then another irrigation would be needed in 16 days. Corn and grain sorghum use about 30 inch per day during peak consumptive use. These figures are, however, subject to change due to weather conditions.

A more dependable method of determining when to irrigate is the "hand-feel" method. To use this method a farmer should dig 12 to 18 inches into the soil for a soil sample. He then estimates the per cent of readily available moisture remaining in the soil. A soil that has no remaining moisture is hard, baked, cracked, and sometimes has loose crumbs on the surface. A soil with 50 per cent or less remaining moisture is only somewhat pliable, and will form a ball when a handful of soil is squeezed very firmly with the fingers. A soil that has 50 to 75 per cent remaining moisture forms a ball and will ribbon out between the thumb and forefinger. A soil that contains 75 to 100 per cent remaining moisture easily ribbons out and has a slick feeling. These characteristics hold true for the tight, heavy soils found in this and surrounding counties.

Experiment station tests indicate that 50 per cent readily available remaining moisture is the best time to irrigate. The irrigator should remember that several days will elapse from the time water is applied to the first rows until the field is completely irrigated. Therefore, he should make plans to begin early enough to cover the field before serious damage occurs.

Additional help and information are available through the local Soil Conservation Service.

which this knowledge can be extended. Reports of findings will be made to the Rhine Laboratory.

"Among the first tests in which Wayland students will assist are some on clairvoyance, which some people mistake for mind reading," Dr. Freeman says. "Actually, clairvoyance is an awareness of an object without the use of senses. Another phase we will explore is precognition, or knowledge of an event before it occurs. We hope to enlist a lot of people in our research. We are particularly interested in having persons who have had psychic experiences come to the laboratory, which is already established in Administration Building, and report personally to me. Their experiences might prove valuable in our research. Appointments may be arranged by telephone or through correspondence after Sept. 10."

Psychological Lab Planned At Wayland

Plainview, Texas. — Have you had any dreams lately? Are you one to argue about a woman's intuition?

Then you will be interested in the psychological research laboratory that Wayland College is opening in the fall semester, which begins Sept. 10. President A. Hope Owen is announcing its establishment through the gift of an anonymous donor and Dr. John A. Freeman's appointment as head of the department of psychology and the research laboratory.

Dr. Freeman expects at the outset to have his Wayland students verify some of the findings of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Rhine, who 25 years ago established what is today the famous Parapsychology Laboratory at Duke University in North Carolina. At Oklahoma Baptist University, from which he came to Wayland College in June, Dr. Freeman's students conducted some experiments in extra-sensory perception for Dr. Rhine. From the basic experiments at Wayland, Dr. Freeman expects his students to proceed further in helping determine practical uses to

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY

Words are inadequate to express the appreciation I have for those that went to the polls and cast their vote for me last Saturday.

I took an oath when I went in as your sheriff to enforce the law without favor to anyone. I have tried very hard to keep some of your boys out of trouble, such as trying to kill themselves, or some innocent person, with an automobile, or tearing up our school buildings, stripping cars of hub caps, fender skirts or anything that can be removed easily. They are being stripped at peoples homes, hospitals, church and school affairs. We have recovered a lot of these things and have had several of the boys and their parents before the courts. It's hard for some of the parents to believe their boys will do these things. Instead of helping and cooperating with the officers they get mad because they are caught stealing or destroying property. One Hallow'e'n before I was Sheriff, Floydada reported a $3,000 damage to property. That has not happened since we have been here. We do not encourage this sort of thing. I feel sorry for the parents that take a stand, along with their children, against officers of the law when the laws of our land have been broken. It may seem to some that we don't like our young people. We think more of them than some of their parents do. We spend an awful lot of time trying to keep them out of trouble. I was taught to respect the law and I haven't forgotten my teaching. To some people you are a good officer —but don't bother me and my friends. I have heard and seen a lot of things since becoming an officer and I am inclined to believe, as my ancestors did some people talk with very crooked tongues.

The greatest trouble to peace officers today is not juvenile delinquency. It's our adult delinquency. That causes juvenile delinquency.

I have no apology to make. If I had been elected again you would have gotten the same kind of law enforcement. Again, let me say that I am proud of my friends and the votes that I received.

Cats Come Home

with Dividends

but ... scattered dollars don't

You might broadcast a sack of cats . . . and find them all back home in a couple of days . . . plus some extras. But DOLLARS don't have much in the way of a homing instinct.

Take DOLLARS and sow them in the City . . . or send them off to some mail-order concern . . . or hand them to some hit-and-run salesman, and they are LONG-GONE DOLLARS.

IF YOU DON'T THINK SO . . . try to get some of these left-town dollars back home to help fill our Red Cross quota . . . or to buy new suits for the school band, or a new fire engine, or to hire a preacher, or some more school teachers for your kids, or to pave more streets.

BUYING WHERE YOU LIVE supports more people — and more prosperous people — in the neighborhood. People who can save you money by helping you carry the load of time and expense that goes with any community that is fit to live in.

Don't Carry It Off...Keep It at Home and Use It Again

It Pays to Buy where you Live

YOU get everything that your money pays for . . . merchandise AND a trade-invigorated community to live in . . . when you buy from your home town merchants . . .
