FRANK STOVALL

Frank Stovall Announces For Representative

In announcing my candidacy for State Representative for the 89th District, I do so with full realization of the many problems that will confront the next Legislature. Though I do not claim to know the answer to all these problems, I do believe that I understand the connection between the needs and welfare of the people of the 89th District and the duties and responsibilities of the office.

If Frank Stovall is to be your Representative, you are entitled to know where he stands. First of all, Frank Stovall stands for the people of the 89th District. Secondly, he believes that it is time we stop giving lip service to economy in government and start practicing economy. Further, he is fully aware of the benefits which the REA has brought into our communities, and as your representative, Frank Stovall pledges to support legislation that would facilitate the continued growth and expansion of rural electrification in this area. He is unalterably opposed to a State Sales Tax or a State Income Tax. He is for the basic integrity and progressive development of our public school system; for continued improvement of our farm to market roads, and for the development of a stable water conservation program.

As to his qualifications, he has a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from the University of Texas and currently is completing his junior year at the University of Texas Law School.

There is a tremendous job for your next representative. Frank Stovall, with your help, is capable of doing that job. Your advice, support and influence will be deeply appreciated.

RICHARD F. (FRANK) STOVALL JR.

Easter Parade Will Be Held Friday Night

Lockney Bond Parents Club is sponsoring an Easter Parade Friday night at 7:30 in the High School Auditorium featuring children of all ages who want to participate. Many entrants have been received and interest is very spirited on the eve of the unique event.

The children will wear whatever they choose, that pretty little dress mother has designed just for her own little girl, or the dress or suit she has chosen from her favorite store. Girls and boys of all ages are expected to participate and model whatever they have selected for their Easter costume. They will be given a chance to speak briefly over the microphone if they wish as the narrator interviews each one as they cross the stage. No rehearsals are planned but those who plan to be in the parade, are asked to be on hand thirty minutes before starting time for instructions.

Those who have not registered to take part in the event may still do so, or they can still be included in the performance by being at the high school at 7 o'clock and reporting to Mrs. Geo. Webster Jr., or a member of her committee.

Mother Goose School students will give the opening song and the "Bunny Hop" will be presented by several pre-school children in Easter bunny costumes. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Miss Barbara Carruth, public school music teacher.

Proceeds will be applied to the Longhorn Band suit fund. Admission for adults will be 50c, students 25c. Children under age will be admitted without charge.

Trustee Vote Is Saturday

Two trustees will be elected for the Lockney School District in voting next Saturday. Terms of Melvin Potts and John T. Carthel expire.

As is the custom, four names have been petitioned on the ballot with voters having a choice of two men for each position. Potts has agreed to run for re-election and opposing him will be Tommy Duvall.

Carthel declined to run again and from his area the names of Charlie Boedecker and Gene Belt will appear on the ballot.

Voters of this area will also vote on the county trustee-at-large. The name of Tom Porter, the incumbent will appear on the ballot. The county trustee from this precinct, Ewald Quebe, is a hold-over and his term does not expire this year.

Reecer Boys Buy Midland Cleaners

Paul and Ronald Reecer have purchased the ABC Cleaners in Midland and are now operating that dry cleaning shop. Ronald has been in Midland about two years working with a cleaning shop and Lloyd has been working here with Recers Master Cleaners.

Ed Sursa has been employed to work in the local shop. He and his family, wife and son, have moved here from Crosbyton and are living in the Huff place on Highway 70. They are members of the Church of Christ.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICES TO BE PRESENTED BY LUTHERANS

A cast from the Trinity Lutheran Church at Providence will present an Easter Sunrise Service at the Seale Drive-In Theatre starting at 6:30 a.m. Sunday morning. It was announced this week by Rev. C. A. Windecker, pastor. The theatre is 2½ miles west of Lockney on Highway 70.

Music for the service will be the Trinity Lutheran Church choir and the male quartet from the First Methodist Church of Lockney.

Arrangements have been made so that the audience may park their automobiles at the usual place in the theatre parking area, remain in their cars and hear the service over the drive-in speaker system.

In case of rain or snow, however, the service will be presented in the Trinity Church at Providence, Rev. Windecker said.

The Providence church has extended an invitation to all other congregations in the area to attend the sunrise service.

The Lockney High football field is undergoing an extensive improvement program this week, much of it done by volunteer labor and machinery. Several hundred loads of top soil are being dumped on the field to build it up. Members of the school board said that they expected it to be some 10 inches higher in the center and about four inches higher on the sides when the job is completed.

Football Field Being Built Up, Grass Planted

When the fill is completed, the field will be smoothed down to slope to each side from the center so that it will drain well. Grass will be sowed and it is expected that the field will be in good shape by fall.

The board is also constructing practice fields adjacent to the football field on the west. The playground equipment which was in this area has been moved and will be installed near the Scout huts. Also a line of light poles will be moved. This practice field will be for the use of the football team and the marching band, it was said.

Other improvements include a sprinkler system on the main field, and the installation of a fence around the field.

Among those who have contributed labor or machinery to the improvement project are: B. B. Wilkes, Ernest Tannahill, Gene Belt, Charlie Boedecker, Melvin Potts, Johnny Race, Leon Wofford, Patterson Grain Co., Forrest Mickey, Baxter & Smith, Jim Bert Bobbitt, Tommy Duvall, Harold Duvall, Walter Taack, L. B. Braedens, W. B. Cates, Clark Harris, Oscar Golden, Hammond & Company, Lockney Implement Co., Handley Shop & Pump Co., J. R. Belt Jr., Leslie Ferguson, Also Commissioner Hugh Counts has been very helpful in furnishing machinery for taking up trees and loading the dirt onto the trucks, it was said.

EDITORIAL

My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth — Psalm 121:2.

THE HIGH PLAINS counties contribute more than their share to the minimum foundation school program, according to the opinion expressed by many school people of this area. Probably a recommendation to change the method of determining the economic index, from which the foundation assessment is made, will come out of the present Hale-Aiken committee studies in this area. One determining factor in the economic index is total income in a county. It takes more money to make a bale of cotton in the irrigated area than it does down in East Texas, even though production is higher. So why not let the determining factor be net income instead of gross income, the school people say.

THIS WRITER has never been an admirer of Elvis Presley, though we have nothing against him. But we must admire his attitude toward military service. Presley has never done anything to avoid service and has apparently been willing to do his hitch any time the government and his studio could agree upon. A hitch in the Army will cost Presley a lot of money and possibly his sensational popularity will be dimmed forever before he finishes his enlistment but he has never complained. Just goes to show there is some good in everything.

NO NEED to get sore if you owe someone and that someone keeps wanting his money. It is happening all over the country and is the result of tightening up on credit. Business men are having to operate on a closer margin now. They can't be as liberal with open accounts as they have been in the past. It is not a good practice for either the buyer or the seller and most everyone is beginning to realize it. But installment buying will probably continue as liberal as in the past or more so. Credit is a good thing if used wisely, the economists say.

THE HIGH PLAINS area probably hasn't felt any effect of the recession as yet. The effect we're feeling now is a poor crop year in 1957. If crops had been normal last year economic conditions in this area would be little different from the year before. And with higher prices and better yields in prospect this year, perhaps we can miss most of the recession if it is as short-lived as some tell us.

THERE MUST BE some new state taxes raised from some source, we are told, and the decision as to the source will face the next session of the legislature. For a long time most of us have been opposed to a state sales tax as a source of revenue but more and more people are coming around to the thought that it may be the best. Ye editor was in a group recently which discussed this matter and 11 out of the 12 present favored a sales tax though most had not previously been in favor. One thought expressed was that it was the most universal tax plan available. It brings in taxes from some that never pay any other tax of any consequence. The opposition pointed out that it might be construed as a tax on poverty. One thing we have noticed: New Mexico and Oklahoma, both of which have a general sales tax levy, are able to pay their school teachers much higher salaries, up to $1,000 more per year, than Texas pays. And lots of that New Mexico and Oklahoma sales tax is paid by Texans.

Reduce Delinquency

XIII
MORE SEVERE PUNISHMENT?
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

In the face of shocking crimes and a wave of vandalism a 1 1/2 m throughout the country, the cry has gone up for tougher laws to punish teen-age delinquents.

But treating young offenders like criminals isn't the answer. It has been tried before and it has failed.

Less than 150 years ago all children over 7 were held responsible for their crimes. Severe punishment, or more aptly, retaliation, was the established pattern for a good many centuries.

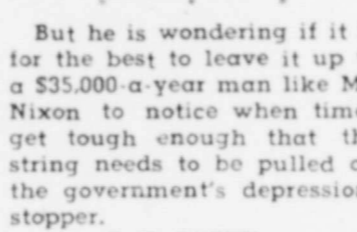

As late as 1814 three boys in England, aged 8, 9, and 11, were hanged for the theft of a pair of shoes.

Classifying youngsters as criminals and imprisoning them does not do anything except complete their education as criminals.

They Liked the Attention
A royal commission in England found that far more youngsters officially whipped became repeaters than those who had not been. . . . The whippings made them "heroes" to their friends.

Those who have studied the causes of delinquency and worked with teen-age offenders recommend probation in the child's home whenever possible — supervision, in other words. Otherwise, the youngsters should be put in an institution where there will be a program of education and rehabilitation.

And the younger and/or lesser offenders must be separated from the hardened repeaters, so that the contagion of badness does not result.

Dear Editor:

I see where Vice President Nixon says the administration has got a firm hold on the economic mess and is not going to tolerate any serious depression.

My unemployed neighbor is happy to learn this, as he and his groceryman have been getting a little worried.

But he is wondering if it is for the best to leave it up to a $35,000-a-year man like Mr. Nixon to notice when times get tough enough that the string needs to be pulled on the government's depression-stopper.

With Our EXCHANGES

A LITTLE SUNSHINE IS WHAT WE NEED

Right now economists are delving into the national unemployment situation with considerable alarm — and Hereford pretty well follows the general pattern. There is, however, a big difference in the national and local situations.

Currently, 150 to 200 people are unemployed in Deaf Smith County, representing roughly one per cent of the population; 75 of these people are drawing unemployment insurance, according to figures released through the local employment office. The big difference between Hereford and the rest of the nation centers around the fact that 80 per cent of the unemployment in this area can go to work as soon as the weather permits.

A welcome but unusually large amount of moisture (4.56 inches) has created a situation whereby farmers cannot get into fields to work and, consequently, has resulted in lack of jobs by most of the locally employed. The same situation has slowed down business in many local channels during the past 60 days. The condition, although definitely serious to the man who wants to work and cannot find a job, takes an entirely different aspect in the long-range view.

In a nutshell, Hereford's unemployment situation will straighten itself out as soon as we have enough sunshine and favorable weather to start farm work rolling — and we wish the same could be true on a national scale.

Meanwhile, we can console ourselves that present moisture means greater yields, at less cost, and look forward to a future upturn. At the same time, the condition puts up the fact that Hereford and Deaf Smith County, like other agricultural areas, are intensely affected by the weather conditions. — Hereford Brand

DO WE LIVE IN A CHRISTIAN NATION?
Recent figures formulated through the Ministerial Alliance survey reported a membership of 4,271 persons from nine cooperating churches. Of greater importance, however, was the fact that 3,308 regularly attended services in the nine churches each Sunday.

The ratio of 78 per cent attendance when compared against actual membership is, in all likelihood, well above the national average. And, since Hereford is generally accepted as a "church town," it is also probable that the membership ratio, itself, is well above the national average. These things are splendid. They speak well for our community and, unquestionably, provide a situation to which each of us can point with pride.

While we are patting ourselves on the back, however, it might be well to project the figures a little bit further. Had all 16 of the churches reported in the survey, the total membership might well have been 6,000, resulting in approximately 4,500 average church attendance each Sunday. Let us also recognize the fact that practically all of the churches in Deaf Smith County are located in Hereford, then compare the membership and attendance figures against the estimated 14,000 population generally accorded Deaf Smith County.

The figures indicate that approximately one out of each three persons in Deaf Smith County attends the church of his choice each Sunday. And, since families usually attend church as a group, it is highly questionable whether one out of five families in the county regularly attends services.

Again, concede the fact that Hereford is a "church town" and probably well above the average, especially when compared with larger cities of the nation, and you invariably face the question:

"By what unchallenged right can the United States lay claim to being a devoted 'Christian Nation'?" — Hereford Brand

TIME SAYS that "Britain's womb-to-tomb National Health Service is in the red again." Individual contributions are due for big increases. It was originally estimated that the plan would cost $490 million a year. Actual cost, in the next fiscal year, will be in the neighborhood of $2 billion.

Crankcase Crisis!

It seems this nice old lady drove into a Phillips 66 Station to fill up with Elite-Fuel. When the attendant checked the dipstick, he found she had only about a quart of oil left in her car. When he pointed this out, she replied: "Fine . . . as soon as I use that up, I'll put in some more!"

Of course the Phillips Dealer explained that she needed five quarts of oil for adequate lubrication!

Now that spring is here, it's time to think about the oil in your crankcase. If you are still using "winter grade" oil, it's time to change it. But why use two, when one will do? Better switch to Phillips 66 Trop-Artic* which gives you the effects of 10w, 20 and 30 grade oils. Compared to old-fashioned oils Trop-Artic Motor Oil can actually double engine life. Drive in today for your spring change-over. *A trademark

Sesame Yields Good Last Year

Paris — Sesame during 1957 continued to grow in reputation as an important actor on the Southwestern farm scene. Where the unseasonal weather lowered the quality of cotton and maize, the quality of Sesame remained good. Where the profits of cotton and maize lagged, the price of Sesame remained high.

Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. here reported that all of the 1957 crop is now harvested and marketed. The harvest of approximately 7,000,000 pounds of seed brought Texas farmers a total of $717,000 — an average of 10.43 cents per pound.

Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of Texas Sesame Growers, reported that the 1957 crop was more than twice the size and value of the 3,300,000 pounds of seed produced for the market in 1957 and more than 17 times the size of the first commercial Sesame crop grown in 1953.

The $10.43 per hundred price compared with $10.36 per hundred for the 1956 crop. Regionally, there were some minor differences. Dryland farmers of North Texas averaged $10.61 for their No. 1 quality seed, the High Plains growers averaged $10.41.

Sesame continued to hold its position as the No. 2 money-maker for many farmers with only cotton leading in per-acre profits. In a few instances last year, farmers actually netted more money on Sesame than they did on cotton, Parker reported.

Dryland yields averaged nearly 500 pounds per acre. Irrigated Sesame ranged from less than 500 pounds to 1,150 pounds per acre and averaged 760 pounds per acre. Average gross profits were from $55 to $80 per acre, with individual profits as high as $120 per acre. Total costs of production for dryland Sesame was about $15 to $20 per acre and $30 to $40 per acre on irrigated land. Sesame net profits for 1957 were down from 1956, but in comparison with other crops, it more than held its earning power.

Average price for No. 1 Sesame in 1957 was 10.43 cents per pound, 10.36 in 1956, 10.10 in 1955, and 9.60 cents in 1954.

Sesame profits for 1957 were highest for the farmers on the irrigated High Plains of Texas. Billy Marshall, who farms 1,000 acres of land near Bovina in Farmer County, was the Nation's No. 1 Sesame producer for the year. On 400 acres, he produced nearly 400,000 pounds of clean Sesame seed for an average profit of $102 per acre.

"If it hadn't been for my Sesame, I would really be hurtling now," Marshall said. "Cotton got so cheap and so sorry that it didn't make any money, and after considering all the expenses on maize, profits on it almost disappeared."

George Sumruld, who farms in Lea County, New Mexico, made the highest per acre yields for the year. Sumruld, according to reports to Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., produced more than 1,150 pounds of Sesame per acre. Running him a close second was Allen Haley whose Pleasant Valley farm in Bailey County near Muleshoe produced yields of 1,075 pounds of No. 1 quality Sesame per acre.

"The outstanding performance of Sesame in 1957, despite bad weather, and the low prices of other crops has resulted in more farmer interest this year than at any other time since the start of Sesame production five years ago," Parker noted.

The market prospects continue good for Sesame in 1958, he said, adding that his organization could have sold several million additional pounds this year at the same prices which the 7,000,000 pound crop brought.

"If Sesame can be sold at a good price," Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. can sell it," Parker said. "Our organization is working constantly to enlarge the market for quality Sesame seed."

Texas Sesame Growers, Inc. is a farmers' corporation organized to help grow, harvest and market Sesame. It handles the marketing bulk of the Southwestern Sesame production and has been successful in helping growers get top prices for the Sesame, Parker reported.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Tex. — It's "needling" time in Texas. That is the period when those in office start feeling the carbs of those who have their eyes on the same office.

Filing deadline for the summer's primaries is May 5. In any pre-election period the "outs" have a busy season of looking for "bugs under chips." Any likely looking "bug" is hauled out to test public reaction on its value as future campaign fodder against the "ins."

But this year no one has to look hard. Texas problems are all too obvious. Unemployment highs persist stubbornly into spring weeks. Oil, the state's No. 1 moneymaker, is seriously bogged down. A multi-million-dollar deficit in state revenues laws, speeding up spending programs for buildings, highways, water projects, etc.

Daniel retorted that Holleman's demands took no note of work already moving apace. Texas, he said, "did not wait for a recession to exercise its responsibility of providing highway, water conservation, attraction of industry, increased salary and building construction programs."

"This is one reason the situation in Texas is much better than in most other states."

"I have every confidence," said the governor, "that the prophets of gloom and doom will not talk us out of a continuation of our unparalleled progress."

WATER BOARD COMMENTED — Governor Daniel fired back a specific reply to the AFL-CIO's urging to "push the water conservation program."

Water conservation has been one of Daniel's "most pushed" projects since gubernatorial campaigning days.

Daniel said, in effect, the new Water Development Board had moved in a cloud of dust to get organized, set up rules, establish procedures, begin hearings and give preliminary approval to two projects — all within 90 days after taking oath of office.

Two projects, if finally approved, would lend $5,000,000 to the Sabine River Authority for a new lake and $350,000 to the Williamson County Water District No. 1 for a water diversion project.

TEC IN FUSS PARADE — Internal fussing contagious with state boards has spread to the Texas Employment Commission. AFL-CIO is stoking the fire from outside.

TEC's member representing labor, R. F. Newman, blasted the fess into orbit by accusing the other two members, Chairman Perry Brown and Maurice Acers, of dealing him out of policy decisions. Brown represents the public and Acers the employers.

Argument focused initially on policy toward employees within TEC itself. Newman contended morale of TEC's 2,000 employees was shot. They live in fear, he said, of knife-in-the-back retaliations, salary cuts and demotions when their decisions of lend trade groups, corporation lawyers or volunteer legal counselors.

Acers retaliated in a letter to trade organizations and employers charging Newman and "representatives of organized groups" with using the recession to gain their own ends.

That brought AFL-CIO leaders into the fray. State President Jerry Holleman fired back that Acers was flagrantly wasting state funds for propaganda purposes. Acers was also accused of denying just claims for unemployment compensation and forcing workers to go to court for rightful benefits.

Acers had a reply for that, too. Merely another attempt by AFL-CIO to influence commission policies, he said.

TEC supervises collection of unemployment taxes from employers and payment of benefits to unemployed workers.

NO HELP FROM IKE — More tears than oil flow these days in Texas petroleum circles. President Eisenhower's token tightening of the voluntary oil import quota plan just won't help, oilmen say.

They had pled for an import crackdown to relieve the slump in demand for domestic oil. What they got was "much too little and much too late," said

Winning attention in Japan are new designs in yukata, traditional cotton fabric for summer kimonos. Japan is one of nine foreign countries cooperating with Cotton Council International in a program to increase cotton consumption abroad.

J. J. O'Brien of San Antonio, president of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association.

Governor Daniel called the action from Washington wholly inadequate. Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray didn't see how the effort could be effective.

Eisenhower's plan called for a minute curtailment of voluntary imports of crude oil but left products untouched and the import door wide open to newcomers.

Texas fields were on a nine-day production pattern throughout March with an eight-day pattern ordered for April.

TWO PLUS TWO — In most educational circles prime interest has shifted from "Why Johnny Can't Read" to "Why Johnny Can't Calculate the Orbit of a Satellite."

But even before Sputnik, the State Board of Education set up a special 20-member commission to study the effectiveness of mathematics teaching in Texas public schools.

School administrators, teachers and board members making up the commission began their one-year study at a meeting in Austin. Broad aims are to discover whether requirements are adequate, courses sound and teaching methods effective.

NO BREAK YET — Payments to the jobless hit a record high of $1,568,958 in one week, according to the Texas Employment Commission's latest report.

Number of persons filing compensation claims inched up from 89,309 the previous week to 92,435.

TEC's mid-February report showed some 75,000 persons covered by unemployment insurance out of work. At that time it was hoped that approach of spring would bring the usual pick-up in jobs.

Instead, unemployment has increased more than 20 per cent.

SHORT SNORTS — Miss Doris Connerly, legislative reference director for the State Library, was cited as "Public Employee of the Year" at the first awards banquet of the Austin chapter, American Society for Public Administration.

Miss Katie Rucker and Gene Handley, students at Texas Tech, Lubbock, spent last week end with their parents here.

April 15 Is Deadline For Auto Inspection

Roughly one out of five Texas autos have not been inspected as required by state law and there remains but 12 more working days prior to the inspection deadline on April 15.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that some 700,000 motor vehicles must still pass through the inspection lines prior to that date if their owners are to avoid being handed tickets for violation of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law. Enforcement will begin April 16, he said.

"It is still possible," said Garrison, "for the State's 4500 licensed inspection stations to handle the last minute rush provided that motorists take their cars immediately in order that there will be no delayed period between the handling of one vehicle and the next."

The Public Safety Director pointed out that every minute of the inspection stations' time will be at a premium between now and midnight April 15, and that waiting lines will be in store for those who wait as the deadline draws nearer.

Miss Evelyn Bobbitt of Amarillo visited her father Bert Bobbitt and her brother, Jim Bert and family during last week end.

Air mail service in Texas began May 12, 1936.

Hybrid Corn Tested At High Plains Station

Sixty four commercial corn hybrids were tested at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation in 1957 to determine their yielding abilities under High Plains conditions.

White corn varieties produced the highest yields. In the tests, these were Funks G779W and TRF3. Highest yielding yellow corns were Conrads No. 1 and Texas 28. Close to these varieties were white corn varieties Asgrow 101W, Texas 17W, and TRF9. Yellow varieties were Texas 36, Watson 111, Texas 30 and Texas 26.

Unfavorable weather conditions delayed planting of this test by over a month to June 12. The combined irrigation and rainfall between April 1 and October 1 were 32.4 inches. Fertilization consisted of 36 pounds of Nitrogen and 45 pounds of P2O5 applied at planting time plus 75 pounds of Nitrogen sidedressed July 18.

The corn ear worm and Southwestern corn borer did considerable damage to all entries in the test.

In order to determine if the date of planting can be utilized to reduce or eliminate these insect problems, representative early, midseason and late maturing corn will be planted on five dates. Weather permitting, these dates will approximately be April 5, April 20, May 5, May 20 and June 20 of this year.

Dear Editor: These days if you hear a man call the new ladies wear the sack style instead of the chemise you know he is getting along in years.

On account of back when us older men were learning our etiquette, the chemise was an undercover garment and you didn't refer to same in polite mixed company.

But my optimistic neighbor says the sack style may bring back chivalry, being as most men have been brought up to treat wearers of this type of dress with more than ordinary consideration and gentleness.

Tragedy Mars Rogers Dinner

A tragedy marred the appreciation dinner for Senator Andy Rogers, held at Tullia Monday night. Louis Taylor, executive secretary of the Texas Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Austin, collapsed of a heart attack. Physicians who were present at the banquet rushed to Taylor's aid but he died within a few minutes.

The banquet continued in a subdued tone with planned lighter moments dropped from the schedule.

An estimated 600 persons attended the dinner with others joining the group for the program which followed in Tullia High School auditorium.

District Attorney John Stepleton of Floydada was master of ceremonies. Dr. Harlan Harris, pastor of the Plainview First Baptist Church, gave the invocation, and L. H. Lookingbill, VFW Commander of the 13th District, Department of Texas, led the pledge of allegiance.

Testimonials to Senator Rogers were given by representatives of many organizations and groups from over the district. Mayor Joe Cowen of Dimmitt, insurance man and Democratic Committeeman from the 30th District, praised the senator for his work in fighting corruption in Austin, particularly in connection with the insurance investigations.

Rev. Joe Allen, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Childress and Senator Rogers' pastor, paid tribute to the guest of honor, praising him for his fight against liquor, narcotics, and lewd literature. He also expressed appreciation for the senator's part in setting up the domestic relations court.

Leo Purvis, incoming president of Hale County Teachers Association, Peterburg, called attention to Senator Rogers' work in behalf of public education.

Commander Dow Stevens of the 18th District, American Legion, from Borger, told of Senator Rogers work in and for the Legion. As chairman of the Americanism Committee of the Legion, Rogers was one of the first to take an interest in veterans affairs, said Stevens.

Dick Fowler, Memphis druggist and district director of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, spoke for small business, saying that Rogers had always had an open ear for the little man when he took his problems to Austin.

Judge Luther Gribble of Wellington, presiding district judge of this judicial district and a lifelong friend of Senator

Also introduced were nine state representatives of the area and numerous officials of various organizations and public figures from over Texas.

Morris Higley and Alvis Yarborough escorted Senator Rogers to the stage. Rogers spoke briefly in appreciation of the dinner and tributes.

Mayor Jimmy Willson of Floydada, general chairman of the banquet, thanked those who helped make the appreciation dinner a success. Telegrams of congratulations were received from friends of Senator Rogers from many parts of Texas.

Willson pointed out some of the important appointments given to citizens of the 30th district since Senator Rogers had been in Austin. They included a member of the State Highway Commission, member of the State Planning Board; member Board of Water Engineers; member of State Egg Board; member of the State Dental Board; Public Safety Commissioner; and two members of the board of regents of Texas State Colleges.

High Plains Cotton Yield Down In 1957

Lubbock — Total number of bales of cotton ginned and harvested from the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. off the 1957-58 crop according to the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce stands at 1,570,520 bales.

The bureau of the Census released the figures as of March 24. The 1957-58 crop total compares to approximately 1,650,000 bales produced in 1956-57.

For the entire state of Texas production was higher in 1957 than it was in 1956. The '57 crop total was 3,600,425 for the state as compared to 3,555,106 bales in '56.

Nation-wide the 1957 crop totaled 10,875,297 running bales and compared with 13,151,208 bales ginned from the 1956 crop and 14,542,000 bales from the 1955 crop.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported that 1957 ginnings contained the smallest proportion of higher-grade cotton of any crop in the past eight years.

Strict low middling and lower white grades accounted for the smallest proportion of total ginnings since 1947-48. Spotted cotton comprised nearly one-third of the season's crop, the largest percentage of spotted cotton in any crop on record.

Cotton stapling 29-32" and shorter accounted for the smallest proportion of total ginnings since data became available.

California and Texas were the only two states that produced more cotton in 1957-58 than they did in 1956-57. California produced 1,555,696 bales this past year compared to 1,465,613 in 1956.

Production figures of some of the counties for the 1957-58 season are below:

Briscoe, 13,697; Crosby, 96,285; Floyd, 73,913; Hale, 138,400; Lubbock, 204,934; Motley, 11,530; Swisher, 29,629.

Melt one 6-ounce package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels over a low flame with one-third cup of hot water. Stir in one-third cup of orange marmalade and that's all you have to do. This is a flavor combination that will raise an eye-brow or two. Serve it warm or cool over ice cream, cake, gingerbread, or cream puffs. Yield is one cup.

DANGER AHEAD!

Beautiful, yes. Beautiful as only Nature in all her purity can be. But dangerous too; dangerous to the ships at sea and the men they carry. For an iceberg's greatest bulk lies unseen beneath the surface . . . and against it, the unwary cannot survive.

Many of the things which, on the surface, appear the most tempting and beautiful contain hidden dangers and unsuspected pitfalls.

Men, like ships, need warning and guidance—and nowhere can they find greater help, greater love and protection than in their Church.

HOLY BIBLE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Colored Church To Improve Building

A movement has been started to improve the Colored Church in South Lockney. The Negro church has about 30 members and the small building they have been meeting in is overflowing. They have about $200 on hand and will need on estimated $1,000 to make the improvements they believe necessary, The Beacon was told.

The church has recently purchased a three-room house and moved it on the location and it will be used to relieve the crowded conditions.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Arthur Brown returned to her home Sunday from Plainview Hospital where she spent several days. She is greatly improved and was able to return to work Monday. She is employed at Oliver Jewelry.

One Continuous Blast On Siren Is Storm Warning

Fire Chief Audvie Barnett reminded the public Wednesday that one long continuous blast on the local fire siren is a storm warning. The coming of the tornado season makes it advisable to remind local citizens of the signals. Three blasts is the signal for a fire and one blast calls the firemen to a meeting or practice.

The local Fire Department has recently purchased and set up a short wave receiving set for the purpose of receiving storm warnings. The Department will keep a man at the station to listen for weather reports during threatening weather, Audvie said.

The local warning system is part of a large, elaborate tornado detection warning system now in operation throughout Texas and neighboring states, with the central weather bureau in Kansas City.

Whenever compiled weather data indicated, the Kansas City bureau alerts all weather bureaus in the affected area which in turn notify all local media of mass information such as radio stations and TV stations.

These stations then announce a severe weather alert, carefully describing the areas in which strong weather will occur.

This does not mean a tornado is going to occur, but it does mean that conditions are such that a tornado could develop.

From this point the weather bureau, the Ground Observer Corps and the Department of Public Safety work hand in hand. Whenever radar picks up a likely trouble spot, a patrol car is dispatched to the location to check. If it is a tornado, the direction, approximate speed and exact location are determined by both the patrolman and by the use of three radar stations getting a "fix" on the trouble point.

Radio and TV stations are then immediately notified and a tornado warning is issued describing the direction and speed. This is the time to take action.

No tornado warning is issued until an actual tornado has been sighted and verified. A period of severe weather alert is a time to prepare for action — but a tornado warning means act and act fast.

When a warning is received seek inside shelter, if in town, preferably in a steel reinforced building, but stay away from windows. If at home, the southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. If in a frame, brick or stone house you should seek other shelter. Electricity and fuel lines should be turned off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building. If you have one, use a storm cellar.

Mrs. F. S. Byars of Floydada spent a few days last week here visiting her sister, Mrs. E. M. Whorton.

Guy H. Carthel Succumbs To Injuries Sunday

Guy H. Carthel of Lockney died Sunday afternoon a result of injuries received when he fell from a tractor at the Clay Muncy farm in the Hill community. He was 80 years of age.

A large crowd attended services at the West Side Church of Christ Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Elder H. W. Son of Amarillo and J. W. Bell of Silverton officiated at the service. Carthel was injured while driving the tractor when a one-way plow plowed into the tractor showing the tractor driver that he wanted the land and Carthel was standing on the draw-bar when a strong wind caused him to lose his balance and fall in front of the tractor. Mr. Carthel sustained breaks in the pelvic region, broken ribs, a crushed spine and kidney and prostate internal injuries. Carthel was taken to the hospital where he died Sunday afternoon.
