JOE W. RIGBY, a 1958 graduate of Lockney High, has received an appointment to attend the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

Joe Rigby Gets Appointment To West Point

Joe W. Rigby, 1958 graduate of Lockney High School and son of Mrs. Ina Lee Rigby of Lockney, received official notice last Saturday that he had been selected for admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. The notice came from the Adjutant General, Major General Herbert M. Jones of the U. S. Army.

Joe received his appointment to West Point from Congressman George Mahon. He was named as second alternate in his first notice received in December of last year. Early in March he was advanced to first alternate and the week of March 12-19 he spent at El Paso taking extensive physical and mental tests for the appointment.

The principal appointee for the district was Steve Melton of Snyder. Joe has not heard whether or not Melton will attend West Point.

The Army has accepted some 750 out of the original 3,000 conditional appointments made. Sixty-two young men took the examinations at El Paso with 20 being accepted. The completion of the course at West Point leads to a commission in the United States Army.

Joe will report to West Point on July 1st at 11 a.m. He was salutatorian of the 1958 graduating class of Lockney High and has been active in many phases of school work. He served as president of the Student Council the past school term and has been a member of the local chapter of the National Honor Society the past two years.

Major Jones, in his letter to Joe, said in part, "You are to be congratulated upon the appointment. It comes only to a select few of America's youth and leads to a commissioned officer in the armed forces."

Memorial Day Services At Cemetery Fri.

Memorial Day services will be held at the Lockney Cemetery Friday, according to E. A. Carter, president of the Lockney Cemetery Association.

Some people will probably want to work over their burial plots during the morning and dinner on the ground will be served at the noon hour, he said.

Following the dinner a memorial service will be held with Rev. Charles Broadhurst, pastor of the First Baptist Church, speaking to the group. Election of officers of the Lockney Cemetery Association will follow.

Early Friday morning representatives of the Lockney American Legion Post will plant miniature flags on the graves of veterans in the local cemetery. This is an annual custom of the post.

Water Line Laid

A 2-inch water line has been laid from the edge of the city to the cemetery and work was underway Wednesday on the installation of a water storage tank at the cemetery. Money was donated by a large number of people for the water line and the tank several months ago. Water should be available for use at the cemetery very soon, Mr. Carter said.

Flags Displayed

The local Post Office and the American Legion Post are flying flags at half staff Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week in memory of the two unknown soldiers who are being interred at Arlington National Cemetery on Friday. One of these was killed in World War I and the other in the Korean conflict. They join an unknown soldier from World War I already buried in the national cemetery.

Local business houses are reminded to fly their flags on Friday in memory of those who have given their lives for their country.

A representative of the firm is also coming here to supervise growing and cultivating of the crops, it was said.

Hail Damages Crops Near Sterley Tues.

Hail preceded by heavy rain completely wiped out crops in a small area between Sterley and South Plains Tuesday afternoon and brought crop damage to a larger area.

Starting apparently around the E. J. Foster and Loyd Widener places in the Prairie Chapel area, the damage extended eastward in the area north of Sterley and directly west of South Plains.

Crops were almost completely wiped out on the farms of Paul Hrbacek, Duard Reeves and the east side of the Virgil Adams place, all located between Sterley and South Plains. One wheat field was apparently 100% loss and several fields of cotton were left with nothing but stems. The Hansel Sanders place had a very heavy rain but crop damage was undetermined. Conrad Henderson lost 87 acres of cotton in the same area but his home place at Sterley had but little damage.

Elmer Thornton had 75 to 85 per cent loss on a wheat field on his place five and a half miles north of Lockney and some cotton damage. Also damaged an undetermined amount were 12 acres of onions.

Howard Mosley, about six miles north of Lockney on the Lone Star highway, had some damage to cotton but thought he still had a stand left. His onions also suffered damage. A heavy rain which filled the beds with water preceding the hail helped to protect the young cotton in many places. Howard said the hail was the size of golf balls and still covered the ground three hours after it fell.

Horton Howell had 12 inches of rain at his place just south of Sterley but little, if any, damage to crops. R. H. Tinsley, also south of Sterley, had very little damage.

The hail was spotted and extended as far as the Liberty community, across the Floydada Silverton highway east of Lockney. Dick Ford reported a 20 per cent loss on his wheat in that area and Rene Yeary also had some crop damage.

Some crop damage was also reported on the A. B. Kerns farm, west of South Plains. Hubert Frizzell place, north of Lockney, and several other places. R. D. Spruill reported very little damage and 7 of an inch of rain. Doyle Harrison had 4 of an inch moisture and no hail. He is north-west of Lockney.

Frank Brown, southeast of Sterley had 1 1/2 inches of rain and slight hail damage. The Beacon was told Early Pritchett, on the Silverton - Floydada highway also had some hail damage to his crops.

At the Lone Star store, Mrs. Jeep Jarrett said they had just a shower and very little hail. Further north there wasn't enough moisture to stop farming operations.

M. A. Boone, a mile north and a mile west of Sterley, had very little hail damage.

Robert Lee Smith and Howard Smith, living directly north of Sterley, had only a small amount of crop damage from the hail. Howard reported 9 of an inch rain.

In some places the wheat was flattened, apparently by a hard wind. Much damage also came from shattered heads, this apparently causing more damage than broken stalks.

No hail and very little rain fell at Lockney. Temperatures were very high reaching near the 100 mark here Tuesday afternoon.

Recuperating After Surgery

Mrs. Arthur Roberson is reported to be recuperating satisfactorily in a convalescent hospital in Houston following major surgery at St. Luke's Hospital about four weeks ago. She was in surgery more than six hours.

Mrs. Roberson underwent extensive tests at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston before being transferred to St. Luke's for surgery. When she regains her strength she plans to take x-ray treatments before returning to her home in Lubbock, relatives state. Mrs. Roberson's family stayed with her for some time and return for visits over the week end. The Roberson family made their home here a number of years before moving to Lubbock where they operate a nursery.

S. A. Freeman Is New Minister At Local Church

S. A. Freeman will be the new minister at the Main Street Church of Christ effective June 16. The Beacon was told this week. He succeeds Paul Epps who has resigned to accept a church at Plainview.

Mr. Freeman will move his family here on the above date and take up his duties at that time. They are coming from Friona. The Freemans have one daughter, a student in Abilene Christian College, and a 15-year-old son.

Mr. Epps has been minister for the church here for the past year and a half. They will move to Plainview today (Thursday) where he will be one of the ministers of the Church of Christ at 10th and Utica Streets.

He will be associated with Mid McKnight there, assuming his duties this coming Sunday. The Epps address there will be 1206 Ennis Street.

Mr. Epps stated Wednesday that he had enjoyed his association with the citizens of Lockney, and expressed his appreciation to the school system here for the good work which it is doing. The Epps invite their friends to visit with them in Plainview and also to attend the church services there.

Barry Paul Epps, a junior in Lockney High this year, will come back to finish high school in the Lockney schools next year, his father said.

Swimming Pool Will Open Saturday

The management will offer swimming lessons starting June 23, the announcement said.

Most Stores Will Close Memorial Day

Most Lockney stores will be closed Friday of this week, Memorial Day, according to a survey made by The Beacon this week. It is one of the holidays designated by the Lockney Chamber of Commerce.

The First National Bank, the post office, drug stores, dry goods and variety stores, The Beacon Office and several other stores will close.

Remaining open will be the implement houses, grain elevators, blacksmith shops, service stations, and others dealing in farm services.

For Thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore, for Thy name's sake, lead me and guide me. — Psalm 31:3.

A NEWS STORY

In the Lubbock Morning Avalanche Sunday gave a report on the retail sales picture for the South Plains by counties. According to figures in the story Floyd County has 10,000 population or about 2,800 families. The effective net buying income for the county is shown at $16,027,000 which is $1,603 per capita or $5,548 per family. Only one county on the high plains had less per family income and that was Lamb with $5,363. Perhaps the poor crop returns in 1957 had something to do with this county ranking low on the high plains. Of course some high plains counties have oil fields of varying sizes to add to their income. Cochran led the field with $7,314 income per family. Most other counties had better than $6,000. Lubbock's per family income was $6,542 while Hale's stood at $6,138. A bright spot in the report was the retail sales per family unit. Floyd's retail sales were $3,473 per family while Lubbock's was $4,274 and Hale's was $3,497, only slightly above this county.

ONE WONDERS

what the population census of 1960 will reveal in the counties and cities of the area. Probably most of us, remembering the optimistic estimates of 1960, will be more conservative with our guessing at population figures. As we remember it, Lockney's population figured slightly less than three persons per electric meter. Perhaps the rise in the birthrate since that time has pushed the average up some but still not much more than three per meter. Since Lockney has a little more than 800 light meters it looks like we should have 2400 or 2500 population. This is a nice increase over the 1697 counted in the 1950 census. Funny thing, the county has not increased at all if present estimates are correct but probably Floydada will have as much percentage increase as Lockney.

WOULDN'T

it be nice if Floyd County harvested a bountiful wheat crop, such as it looks now like we might, barring hail and rust, then receive a fair price for the vegetables we are raising or intend to raise this year, then turned out one of the bumper cotton crops we are capable of turning out when the weather co-operates just right. We suppose that's too much to expect but it's not too much to hope for. As we said in the beginning, wouldn't it be nice?

SCHOOL'S OUT

and a lot of kids are happy. Maybe teachers too. We parents are going to have to take over the job of "educatin'" for the summer months, and there's lots of educating we can do too. We seem to have gotten away from the practice of teaching young people to work. For their own good, to mold their character in the right way, to teach them to provide for themselves in adult life, children should be taught to work when they are still in formative years. It isn't fair to the child to turn him loose on the world without some kind of practical experience.

THE BALL SEASON

is here and for Lockney apparently the Little League is the only ball in prospect so far. But there's no one more eager to learn, more enthusiastic to play, more co-operative with those in charge, more loyal to his team than a Little Leaguer. Little Leaguers are an inspiration to those who work with them as well as those who watch them play. The Lockney Lions Club's Little League program is a very commendable enterprise in our books.

MEMORIAL DAY

With Our EXCHANGES

The following was taken from the Boys' Ranch Roundup, official Publication of Boys' Ranch.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A JUVENILE DELINQUENT?

1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way, he will grow up believing the world owes him a living.
2. When he picks up bad or dirty words, laugh at him. This will make him thank profanity and obscenity are cute. He will then run off and pick up some more words of that type.
3. Never give him any spiritual training until he is 21, and then let him decide for himself. By the same logic, never teach him to speak and write the English language. Maybe when he is grown he may want to speak Bantu.
4. Praise him in his presence to all the neighbors; make him think he is smarter than all other kids.
5. Avoid the use of the word "Wrong." It may develop in the child a guilt complex. This will prepare him to believe, when he is punished later for stealing cars or assaulting women, that "Society" is against him and that he is being persecuted.
6. Pick up everything after him; his shoes, his books, his clothes. Do everything for him so that he will be experienced in throwing burdens on others.

7. Let him read anything he wants. Provide him with sanitary cups for his lips but let his brain drink out of any dirty container for words or ideas.
8. Quarrel frequently in the presence of the child. In this way he'll be prepared for broken homes later on.
9. Give him all the spending money he wants; never encourage him to earn his own.
10. Take his part against policemen, teachers and neighbors. They all are prejudiced against your child.
11. When he gets in real trouble, always defend himself and say: "I never could do anything with him."
12. Don't teach him compassion for others less fortunate than himself. Encourage him to ridicule the aged, the infirm, and the physically or mentally handicapped. This will prevent him from developing those annoying things called character and conscience. — Sticking Our Necks Out in Happy Herald.

IRONY OF IRONIES

We have been reading and hearing much about poliomyelitis in recent weeks. It is a terrible scourge. All America is in furor about it and the Salk vaccine.

But — Alcoholism in the United States is actually 100 times more prevalent than polio. Who gets disturbed about that? Recent national estimates made by the American Cancer Society, District of Columbia Tuberculosis Association, USA Public Health Service and the United Nations World Health organization reveal that alcoholism is 5.5 times more prevalent than tuberculosis, 102 times more prevalent than polio.

Here's how the figures stack up. In each case totals are the latest available for the U.S.A. covering a twelve-month period.

- Cancer — 711,000
- Tuberculosis — 1,200,000
- Polio — 38,000
- Alcoholism — 3,876,000

The American people raise millions of dollars each year to fight cancer, TB and polio, but spend millions — $9,885,000,000 in 1953 — to help spread the virus that causes alcoholism.

This, in spite of the fact that alcoholism harms souls as well as bodies, destroys homes, incapacitates workers, impairs industrial efficiency, causes juvenile delinquency, promotes crime, fills mental hospitals, jails, penitentiaries and Hell.

People are funny! or is "funny" the word? — Rosen Heights Baptist Messenger.

ALREADY SETTLED

After the discussion about trying to keep W. Lee O'Daniel's name off the Democratic primary ballot because he didn't support the Democratic nominees in 1956, one shouldn't overlook that this legal question was settled in 1939. Opponents tried to keep Tom Love off the ballot. The Supreme Court said in effect that what counts is what the man is NOW, not what he did or what he once was, politically. — Plainview Herald.

Dear Editor:
I note that Washington has been all stirred up on account of South Americans throw rocks at our Mr. Nixon when he was on a trip down there to see if they need some more money.

But my understanding neighbor don't think this rough welcome was entirely due to the Latins being mad at us.

Says more likely it was a put-on performance because they had noticed how Washington starts shedding money like dandruff when they get to thinking maybe some country don't love us.

Today Mrs. McMahan has a modern double-oven electric range with automatic control on both ovens. She has push-buttons, too, and bakes pies, 5 at a time, in just her electric home freezer. This grand lady, who has kept pace with the advances in electric cooking, says of her electric range, "Nothing goes wrong and the porcelain finish is so easy to keep clean." AUSTIN, Tex. — A fresh task force is being organized by Gov. Dan Daniel to attack the state's monetary problems. With oil production still hovering at a historic low and a time source of state revenue virtually throttled, Texas government is, for the time being, at least, "living beyond its means."

Governor Daniel named a six-man committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Sec'y of State Zollie Hankley, Treasurer Jesse Ames, Comptroller Robert S. Alvert, Auditor C. H. Cavness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin and Col. J. T. Ellis Jr. of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Commission, a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance the books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

10 CLUES TO CANCER

Clue No. 8, Age

Many scientists regard the cancer cell as an eternally young cell. It remains young by constantly dividing and, with each division, rejuvenating itself. There are several chemical and physical similarities between cancer and embryonic cells.

Some of the most profound research now in progress centers around efforts to determine how cells age. And some progress has been made. Compounds necessary for cell growth and for cell aging have been isolated and identified.

If the cell aging process can be regulated by chemical means, it may prove feasible to control cancer in humans with cell-aging drugs.

Help science help you! Send your contribution to the American Cancer Society!

wars that have broken out in major cities.

In some areas gasoline prices dropped as much as 10 cents per gallon below normal, and milk has been sold at a fraction of the usual charge.

"Texas anti-trust laws do not prevent price wars which are the free working of competition," Wilson commented, "but they do prohibit agreement or conspiracy to fix or cut prices and selling below cost to eliminate competition."

MORE BUILDING — Effect of the drought's end is being seen in more building in smaller towns dependent on agriculture for prosperity.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports a 10 per cent rise in the January-April building volume for towns with a less than 10,000 population.

BBR's report reflected a fairly general brightening of the building picture. Construction authorizations for April were up three per cent from March and 22 per cent from a year ago.

Home builders were found to be cautiously optimistic. Most, BBR reported, hadn't actually experienced much of an increase in home sales. But they were busier than they'd been in months building up a supply for an expected pick-up in buying by fall and next year.

Easier credit and, in some cases, lower costs of materials are expected to make house-buying more alluring.

MORE SALVAGE — Sale of some municipal bonds owned by the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. has brought another $144,000 for the company's creditors.

An earlier distribution of $2,181,000 represented about 31 per cent of the amount owed some 9,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Insurance Department employes are working against a May 31 deadline to complete an operation designed to prevent such fiascos in the future. They check the annual statement of each company doing business in Texas. If any questionable transactions are uncovered, the company is required to straighten them out before being re-licensed.

During the past year, a period of tightened regulations, there has been no large-scale crack-up in the industry. Many younger companies have merged to strengthen their positions by combining assets.

GUN SELLING LAW — Whether Texas law regulating sale of pistols is constitutional is being considered by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Case in point involves a Houstonite who was sentenced for sale of a pistol to a minor. Attorney for the defendant contends the law is too vague and confusing to be valid.

Texas penal code has two separate and sometimes conflicting sections on sale of firearms, forbidding their sale to minors, persons "under heat of passion" and persons convicted of felonies.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas Employment Commission has announced substantial drop in unemployment claims this year. After weeks of tabulating steady increase in joblessness, TEC reports claims had slid levy of additional taxes.

OPEN SEASON — Most major candidates have held their opening rallies and will be campaigning with little let-up between now and the July 26 primary.

But in many areas of the state an even more intensive struggle is going on at the grass roots for control of the precinct conventions. They'll be held right after the primary, on the evening of July 26.

It's a small-time battle with big-time stakes. Whichever group of the Democratic party gets out the "mostest" to the precinct conventions will control the state convention in the fall. This means taking over the official machinery of the party for the next two years — leading up to 1960 and presidential nominating time.

Governor Daniel has said he will personally lead "conservatives, moderates and all other Texas Democrats who believe in majority decisions." He's been assured of vigorous opposition from the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston, Texas' national committeewoman.

DOT will have a statewide rally in Austin May 31 to draw attention to its efforts to oust the governor from official party leadership.

For the average citizens the precinct convention poses a more ticklish problem than primary voting. It may mean voting, publicity, against a neighbor who's running for precinct chairman.

'WARS' WATCHED — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says his office is keeping close check on the gasoline and milk price HANDSOME—This sport shirt by Manhattan features a handsome combination of all-over dots and stripes on the collar. In Fuller's San Carlo "wash and wear" cotton, the shirt has permanent stays in the collar.

Soybean Data Available In Area

West Texas farmers planting soybeans for the first time this year may benefit from the experiences of producers who have grown this crop for several seasons. Factual information on soybean production in West Texas has also been developed at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, Paymaster Farm at Aiken, and the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway.

Variety, soil temperature and moisture, and length of daylight period, all strongly influence soybean yields. A soaking preplant irrigation, followed by a clean cultivation to control weeds, should have the soil ready for planting. The Lee variety soybean has proven to be the best adapted for West Texas.

Soil temperature should be 65 degrees F or higher, soil moisture level high, and seeds should be inoculated with a special soybean bacteria inoculant just prior to planting. The Lee variety soybean should be planted between May 25 and June 15. Rate of planting should be from 45 to 60 pounds of good quality seed, or an average of one seed per inch of row, planted on 36 to 40 inch rows.

Cotton planting and cultivating equipment is used for soybeans, and the same row width setting of equipment eliminates the need to reset for each crop. Soybeans should be planted in a very shallow furrow or as near to ground level as possible. When planted deeper, early cultivations often cover the first few nodes which may cause a reduction in yields. A planting depth of one inch is ideal, but in any case, seed must be planted in good moisture.

The use of the rotary hoe following seedling emergence affords good early weed control. One or more cultivations prevents further weed competition with the small soybean plant. Irrigation of soybeans is essentially the same as for cotton until plants begin to bloom. From this time on, high soil moisture must be maintained throughout the bloom set, pod and seed development period.

HAVE NEW SON

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gross are proud parents of a new adopted son, Tony Lee, who is 11 months old. Tony Lee, formerly of Big Spring, Texas, arrived May 4 to make his home with Mr. and Mrs. Gross and another adopted son, Ricky Lynn, 3 years of age. The Gross family lives on a farm in Sané Hill community, an ideal location to rear a couple of handsome boys.

FROM THE County Agent's Office

By Cecil Lewis and Harold W. Ellison

COTTON INSECTS — Most fields of cotton that have been inspected show small holes in the leaves. This damage is probably caused by a small insect that lives in the soil, called Springtails. These insects do their damage when the cotton plants are still coming up. Observations pretty well prove that when the cotton is up they cause no damage. Some fields show fairly heavy damage from Thrips. This small, straw colored insect sucks the new leaves and terminals and causes them to be deformed. The leaves are cupped shape and deformed. If enough of your terminal buds are damaged early season control should be applied.

Cotton Insect Guides are available in the County Agent's office.

GRAIN SORGHUM — The treating of seed with insecticides can be a great help in assuring stands when wireworms and other insects are present. Two ounces of actual dieldrin or lindane will give good control and assure uniform stands.

GRASSHOPPERS — A forecast of grasshopper outbreak has been given for the Northeastern part of Floyd County. You should keep a close watch for an increase in numbers.

4-H CLUB — The Entomology team consisting of Robert Overstreet, Tommy Ogden, Jimmy Huckabay, and Kenneth O'Neal are working hard in preparation for the state contest at A&M College June 10, 11 and 12. Curtis Sanders will also compete in the state Tractor Operator's Contest.

Tennyson Tells Of Candidacy For Representative
Silvertown, Texas, May 26th, 1958

To the good people of the 89th Legislative District, Greetings:

When and if you read these lines, wife and I and 15-year-old son will have left the district for a few days. We are going to see our fine and only daughter-in-law wear the cap and gown for both her R. N. and B. S. degrees at the University of Texas Center in Galveston.

Since a lad in the grammar grades I have been all my life an ardent student of good government (and some bad) and taught government in one of the high school grades. It seems things are getting in a mess and, frankly, I don't know if there is much you and I can do to stem the tide, but we should try.

We shall come back to Austin for a few days where I have friends and loved ones, both in and out of state government, and hope to even more get a preview, portent and pulse of things to come for a few months.

I hope to be seeing as many of you as I can in the weeks that lie ahead. I shall wage as vigorous a campaign in this race as possible. I extend kind regards to my honorable opponents, but not congratulations.

Cordially yours,
WILLIE H. TENNYSON
Candidate, 89th Legislative District
Texas House of Representatives

Dear Editor:

My bleeding turnip neighbor says he got a letter from the Internal Revenue men a while back, saying he was undoubtedly a cheater, but they were sending an agent to see if he could maybe squirm out of the consequences.

Says he appreciated the warning, but just after the inquisitor came and water hauled, there was another glassine-eyed letter staring at him from his mail box.

Seems the head taker was congratulating him on winning that round, but before he could get the letter open he had aged ten years without getting any closer to social security.

Senior Trip Described By Class Member

By Charlyne Brown

Can we go too? Don't forget to write! I'll call Monday night! Bye!

The Seniors were launched on their annual senior trip. It was twelve o'clock Friday night, and each passenger aboard the TNM&O chartered coach was looking forward to their arrival at Colorado Springs the next day. Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Carthel and Mrs. Bob Davis were the sponsors for the group, but they too were determined to have a good time.

Saturday morning forty-seven sleepy but curious people enjoyed a trip through the Colorado State Prison at Canon City. Following this guided tour they visited the Royal Gorge and had lunch at the Terrace House. Within a few minutes after lunch, the chartered bus arrived at the Buffalo Courts in Colorado Springs. As soon as suits could be donned, Lockney seniors were invading the motel swimming pool. Others headed for the riding stable across the street or merely rested for the night to come.

The evening meal at the Hickory Inn was a treat to the hungry travelers. Steak, chicken and fish were all devoured in record time. Bob Davis joined the satisfied group at the restaurant, and while waiting for him to eat the group serenade other visitors with "The Eyes of Texas" and other native songs.

After learning that Seven Falls had not opened for the season, Manitou Springs was the decided spot for the evening's entertainment. Here the group enjoyed miniature golf, archery, and a little too much cherry cider.

Discovering that the class could ice skate at the Broadmore Hotel, the crowd of anxious seniors and sponsors made plans to check out of the motel and enjoy this special treat. On arriving at the hotel everyone was floored at the beauty of the resort. They were also floored once or twice while trying to ice skate on the large hotel rink. This recreation proved both refreshing and entertaining.

Church services were lead by Bill Musser while the bus was enroute to Paradise Ranch. The first glimpse of the ranch was of beautiful white buildings with red roofs and tall chimneys among huge cedar and pine at the foot of snow covered Pike's Peak. After a hearty welcome from the ranch manager and a few minutes for appointing cabins, the group was ushered into a beautiful pine paneled dining hall with an enormous fire place at one end and a real western atmosphere. While enjoying a lunch of blue berry pancakes and sausage, the seniors were able to watch the first rain of their trip through the large windows in the hall.

Before anyone had time to turn around they were straddled horses and headed up a narrow mountain path among beautiful scenery. After the horse ride almost anything would have tasted good, but the smorgasbord the ranch chefs had prepared was fit for a king. No one complained of being hungry for the rest of the trip.

Monday's lunch was served among the cool pines, and again they rode horses or a stage into the mountains for the buffet feast.

Many other types of entertainment were offered at all times during the day and night. Tennis, badminton, horse shoes, shuffle board, table tennis, dancing, cards, or dominoes were always popular.

Tuesday bright and early the group of cowgirls and boys was headed once again into the mountains for breakfast. By this time a few noses and cheek bones were redder than usual, but that didn't stop anyone from having a good time.

At lunch the class had a meeting and decided to stay over one more day. Wednesday was another perfect day and everyone hated to leave on Thursday morning. More than one person made the remark that they were coming back.

In Denver they were welcomed at the Pig'n Whistle Village and immediately started making plans for the afternoon schedule. Reservations for the Denver Mint had already been made, and each member of the party was deeply impressed with what they saw. Upon seeing the gleam in their eyes the guard also showed them a few of the protective devices they had set up.

After another wonderful meal at Luby's Cafeteria the class went to Lake Side Amusement Park. Speed boat, roller coaster, and train rides and many others were enjoyed before a quick shower put an end to the night's fun.

Friday found the Lockney group among the interesting exhibits in the Museum, downtown in modern department stores, and in the beautiful pool at the courts. After a good sleep another treat was in store for the class. A good many in the group visited Joe (Awful) Coffee's restaurant. The ex-boxer entertained them with several

Another Lockney Heard From

The Beacon's recent search for descendants of J. F. Lockney, for whom the city was named, has reached another daughter of the pioneer West Texas newspaper man. Recently we received this letter:

"I am the youngest daughter of Johnson Frederick Lockney. Lawrence Lockney was the eldest child of J. F. Lockney and he has a baby boy born January 23, 1958. As far as I knew this is the only child to carry on our name. I am glad to hear of a Lockney living. J. F. was the father of eight children, three girls, all living, and five sons, two living. I have a few old keepsake books with some vital Lockney facts. I will be glad to copy for this said Ray Lockney by request.

Mrs. G. D. Tate of Denver City, former Lockney resident, spent from Friday until Monday morning visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cox.

Forty years ago it took only 100 horsepower to keep a combat plane in the air. Today it takes 250 horsepower to carry a 115-pound female to the corner grocery.

songs, and made certain they had all they could eat. After a five course meal of either steak or lobster, the miserable group went to Elisha's Gardens to enjoy the last night in Denver.

At 1 a.m. a happy but tired group headed for Lockney and toward a large group of family and friends. The trip had been enjoyed to the utmost, but the word "Lockney" sounded good, and no one objected to going home.

Dear Editor: I see where a Harvard economist says the auto is losing ground as a means of calculating a citizen's social standing.

My frugal neighbor says maybe so in some places but not around here. The older his car gets, the fewer people laugh as his jokes and stop to hear about his grandchildren.

Says driving an old paid-for car takes lots of nerve these days, like taking a bath on the front porch, and the worst thing about it is not getting to watch your neighbors squirm when you come out in a fancier head-sweater than theirs.

Fertilizer Must For High Yields

College Station — A well-planned soil improvement program and the proper use of fertilizer are essential for high yields of top-quality feed, forage and vegetables.

Data showing the average composition of nutrients in certain crops and their general nutrient needs is contained in a leaflet just released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service entitled "Soil Nutrients Removed by Some Crops".

The leaflet contains a table which gives the pounds of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium and calcium which are removed by a particular yield for field crops, forage crops and vegetable crops.

For example, a yield of 70 bushels of corn requires 63 pounds of nitrogen, 25 pounds of phosphorus, 18 pounds of potassium and one pound of calcium. A yield of four tons of alfalfa hay requires 180, 40, 180 and 112 pounds, respectively.

The figures listed in the leaflet are average for representative conditions. The actual quantity will vary depending on fertilizer used, climatic conditions, soil conditions, level of nutrients in the soil, variety of crop, as well as total yield. So, these values indicate the general nutrient needs of crops, but they cannot be used to determine fertility needs.

The best method of determining nutrient needs is to have the soil tested. This will result in the most efficient use of soil resources and the commercial fertilizer and will mean more profitable returns. Your local county agent can provide information on soil testing.

This new leaflet may be obtained from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for L-165.

Farmers To Vote On Wheat Acreage

College Station — Texas wheat farmers will help make an important decision when they vote June 20 in the national wheat marketing referendum. Searcy M. Ferguson, chairman, State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve quotas for the 1959 crop, Ferguson explained, the 1959 wheat program will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas (with penalties on "excess" wheat) and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of those voting, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The price support rate would be about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law.

Chairman Ferguson pointed out that wheat marketing quotas and acreage allotments operate only in commercial wheat States — those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Texas has an allotment of 4,069,094 acres for the 1959 wheat crop.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. Thus, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959 and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots in the 1959 wheat quota referendum on June 20.

Fleming Gives $50,000 To H-SU Building Program Abilene. — William Fleming, Fort Worth rancher and oilman and prominent Baptist denominational leader made a surprise gift of $50,000 Friday to the Hardin-Simmons University expansion program.

Fleming announced the gift at the kickoff dinner of the Fort Worth financial campaign for the erection of a new chapel auditorium and student center at H-SU. The dinner was held in the Broadway Baptist Church where Fleming is a deacon and church leader.

H-SU plans to build a new $500,000 chapel auditorium to replace Dehrens Chapel which burned last November. The university also will build a $1 million student center, and in addition the H-SU trustees have authorized the inclusion of a rebuilt and expanded fine arts building in the total project.

The Fleming grant was the second major gift of the campaign. The Baptist General Convention of Texas gave H-SU $100,000 for the building program earlier this year.

The fund drive in the Abilene area, currently under way, now totals approximately $130,000 making $280,000 pledged so far in the overall campaign.

Fire Destroys Hughes' Home In Kress Area

The farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. Guy T. Hughes 3 1/2 miles southwest of Kress and all its contents were destroyed by fire Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were visiting relatives at Fort Worth. They did not know their home had burned until they arrived in Plainview Sunday en route home and their sons, Larue and Glenn Don, told them of their misfortune.

The fire presumably started from a bolt of lightning. Mrs. Steve Morgan who resides about one mile from the Hughes place said she saw the blaze when she and her family came out of the storm cellar about 12:30 a.m. Sunday. A severe electrical storm occurred over the area between 11:30 and 12:30 Saturday night.

The five-room brick residence burned out completely. The Hughes' personal belongings and all the household furnishings burned. The residence was afire throughout before the blaze was discovered and when neighbors reached the scene the heat was so intense they could not get near the house.

Mr. Hughes is a nurseryman and is well known in the Lockney area.

The three member commission directed D. C. Greer, state highway engineer to make application to the bureau of Public Roads for the addition of this loop to the primary federal aid system.

The commission, in a minute order passed today, said advance planning and the acquisition of required right of way on U.S. 87 through the city of Plainview and a proposed loop around the west side of the city have been officially accepted by the city and county and right of way agreements for the pur-

URGES NEW COTTON PLAN TO ALLOW CHOICE

Memphis, Tenn. — A program made for adequate supplies of cotton both in the U. S. and abroad, with due allowance for the quality requirements of the market and for the large margin of error which is inherent in forecasting production, consumption and exports a year or more ahead. Provision also should be made for increasing established allotments by administrative action in the event a quality shortage should develop after an allotment has been announced.

(2) "Farmers should be permitted, under reasonable regulations, to transfer allotments within a county or state under a rental or purchase agreement."

The Board in its report pointed out that the delegate membership of the Council in January urged an "immediate increase in cotton acreage in 1958 sufficient to produce adequate supplies of all qualities of U. S. cotton needed to meet the requirements of our customers both at home and abroad."

The delegates had called for adoption of a long-range price and production program that would move as rapidly as possible toward: (1) expanded production and consumption of U. S. cotton; (2) competitive prices for U. S. cotton; and (3) a one-price system for U. S. cotton that maximizes the use of normal trade channels and minimizes the role of government in cotton marketing.

In its report issued today the Cotton Council's Board of Directors declared:

"Despite most strenuous efforts on the part of the industry and many Cotton Belt Congressmen and Senators, an increase in cotton acreage in 1958 was not obtained, due primarily to complications arising from the Soil Bank program."

"With regard to 1959 and thereafter, substantial progress has been made by producers and other segments of the cotton industry, as well as by congressional leaders from the Cotton Belt, in developing approaches generally in line with the objectives set forth in the Phoenix resolution."

"The Council's Board of Directors has carefully reviewed all these developments; and in addition has appraised the extremely critical situation which inevitably will confront the

There's plenty to see in Texas, wherever you may roam on a holiday jaunt or on a vacation trip. Clockwise from the lower left hand corner, some of the impressive sights to see in Texas are: The Big Bend, some of the most striking scenery in the state; Guadalupe Peak, highest point in Texas at 8,751 feet; the Palo Duro Canyon, camping grounds for Indian tribes in frontier days; East Texas oil fields, biggest of them all; the 570-foot San Jacinto Monument, commemorating decisive battle of Texas history; Gulf Coast Beaches, some of the finest in the world; the Alamo, "Cradle of Texas Liberty," and in the center of the state, Texas Longhorn Cavern, biggest cave in the state and third largest in the world, one of Texas' most spectacular natural wonders. Sightseeing is fun in Texas.

I see where some Kansas welfare officials have decided to quit helping clients who own TV sets.

Tokio Farmer Is Father Of Year

Dallas — Norman Lovelace, a 61-year-old Tokio farmer and the father of four children has been named District 9 Texas Baptist Father of the Year, leaders said here Wednesday.

Lovelace is one of 17 district winners who will be considered for statewide Baptist Father of the Year honors. The award is made each year to honor Texas Baptist fathers who have made outstanding contributions to Christianity. The statewide winner will be announced around June 1.

A member of Tokio Baptist Church, Lovelace has been a deacon for 42 years, Sunday school superintendent for 12 years, and has served as church treasurer and song leader.

His wife, Winnie, is a member of the same church. Their children are Melba Bandy, a Lubbock housewife; Clayton Lovelace, a Lubbock salesman; Ola Mae Adams, a housewife in Sobol, Okla.; and Delton Lovelace, a clerk in an Abilene dry-goods store.

Lovelace's pastor, the Rev. W. B. Hatch, said "he has been faithful in every respect — to his children, his church, and to his community."

Sponsors of the Father of the Year project are the "Baptist Standard" and the Baptist General Convention of Texas. District 9 extends from Canyon on the north to Brownfield on the south, and from Matador on the east to the west border of the state. The 19 county area contains 225 Baptist churches and missions.

Mahon Reports On Cotton Legislation

By George Mahon
Congressman, 19th District

Indications are that unless the cotton acreage allotment law is changed, the national allotment will drop from 17 million acres to 14 million acres in 1959. This would be disastrous. The situation facing cotton growers is more serious than it has been for years. I thought I should point out this fact to West Texas cotton farmers.

Friends of agriculture in Washington are diligently trying to be helpful to producers. Representatives of the farm organizations have made repeated trips to Washington from West Texas and elsewhere for consultations and hearings before the House and Senate Committee on Agriculture.

We passed a stopgap bill which would freeze acreage allotments on cotton and other supported crops at the 1958 level for 1959. This bill was vetoed by the President last March. We do not have enough votes to override the President's veto. The problem is to get legislation which the President will approve, which will be reasonably satisfactory to the farmer and that can be passed through the House and Senate. Representatives from farm areas are in the minority.

A plan known as the Compensatory Payment Plan for cotton proposes that all cotton be sold for domestic and foreign use at the world price, enabling cotton to compete with synthetic fibers and for the American share of the world cotton market. The producer would receive a compensatory payment enabling him to get an adjusted higher return for his crop. This plan has strong support from West Texas and elsewhere, but it is being set aside for the present because of the lack of support from non-cotton areas and the opposition of the Administration and some farm groups.

The House Committee on Agriculture is now working on a compromise bill which would provide the following:

1. In 1959 a farmer would be provided one of two options, Option A or Option B. Under Option A the farmer would have approximately his 1958 allotment and he would get a support of 84% of parity on his cotton production. This would be achieved by direct purchase of the cotton from the producer by the government. The government would sell the cotton for domestic and foreign consumption at about the world price.

2. Under Option B, the alternate plan, the producer would have the option of a support price of 65% of parity and an increase in acreage allotment up to 30%, the exact figure to be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture. (This element of uncertainty is one of the weaknesses of the bill.)

Farmers who exercise the Option A plan would receive a support in 1960 of about 79% of parity. This would fall to 75% of parity for 1961.

This plan and most other plans being advocated offer no rosy future for cotton. The cotton farmer is being offered a decreasing level of income while his fixed costs are going up. It is pointed out that if we are to have a substantial part of the world market, our cotton must be sold abroad at world prices through the present expensive export subsidy or otherwise. Synthetics are capturing more and more of the domestic market for cotton. Yet, the producer, to survive, must have a fair return on his labor and investment. How to assure this fair return is the big problem facing us now. A drastic cut in acreage allotments would be wholly unacceptable; hence, the big effort now on foot to get sufficient support for some sort of plan that will be reasonably acceptable.

The Senate Committee on Agriculture will begin a new series of hearings on farm legislation on May 26. The House Committee has been working for weeks with farm groups in an effort to get agreement on a bill that will be fairly adequate and will not be vetoed by the President. The situation is now at a serious stage. I shall continue to do all I can to be helpful. I welcome the suggestions of West Texas farmers and farm groups at all times.

Luther Williams, student at Hardin - Simmons University, spent last week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lois Williams and family. Luther is a sophomore student at H.S.U. He will attend summer school there.

Images Crops In Area Sunday

Hail and heavy rains in several areas north and north of Lockney last Sunday brought additional crop damage, wiping out some cotton and other crops and damaging wheat in varying amounts. F winds also did some bulk damage.

The cloud struck here between 9 and 10 a.m. No hail in Lockney and the rain to fall .35 of an inch.

The hail struck in spots, with some damage reported to Adams and Roll. This amounted to as much as 25 per cent. The Beacon reported the storm moved on wiping out 118 acres of cotton for Doyle Harrison, north of Lockney, and damaging wheat around 80 per cent.

Jimmie Cartmel, north of Lockney, had some cotton damaged and Gene Belt lost around 100 acres of cotton on the 100 acre tract near Sterley. He planted this week. Across the road the damage was considerably less on the Bryan place.

Leslie Ferguson had 100 acres of cotton completely wiped and 60 acres of wheat damaged 90 to 95 per cent on his place just west of Sterley. A considerable acreage of onions on home place, being farmed by Trautmann Bros., was damaged and onion tops in the bar ditch for half a mile or more where they had been washed out of the field.

In the same vicinity Cooper had some cotton damaged by the hail as did O. Lee and Conrad Henderson. Jones had some cotton damaged, and Horton Howell, south of Sterley, replanted acres of cotton and had another 10 acres badly damaged. He also lost completely 15 acres cucumbers. One inch of rain fell at his place.

The hail extended on the northeast damaging wheat in the Hilburn Casey place, Mason Davis place, and other in this vicinity. Marvin Se had additional hail damage to wheat just west of So. Plains, the second hail to strike that area within the past days. A. P. Sanders also lost second hail, damaging both wheat.
