County Demo Committee Sets Ballot, Voting Places, Judges

The Floyd County Democratic Executive Committee, in a meeting Monday of this week, decided upon the arrangement of the first primary ballot, the order in which names are to appear, set the voting places, named the election judges and decided upon the number of assistants each may have, set the time and place for holding the precinct conventions, and in a strongly worded resolution, made a slashing attack upon Governor Price Daniel, stating opposition to his proposal to elect party delegates by ballot as well as change the date of the primary elections.

Daniel Blasts DOTS In Speech At Plainview

Governor Price Daniel blasted the so-called "Democrats of Texas" organization as a group who are trying to take over control of the Democratic party machinery in Texas from the duly elected party officials in an address at Plainview Monday evening. He spoke to some 500 people at a dinner given in his honor in the Plainview National Guard armory.

"The DOTS have not been elected by the people, they are not recognized by the state Democratic party organization nor by the national Democratic party," he told the group. "In spite of this they are leading some people to believe that they are the official party in Texas."

Daniel opposed centralization of government, speaking against the federal government's attempt to take over state powers and charged that all the turor raised about American education since the Russian Sputnik went into space was designed to get the educational system in the hands of the federal government.

Daniel was given a hearty round of applause when he said, "Texas should have the best educational system, but it should be run by Texans with Texas money."

Daniel said that one of his objectives since he took the governor's office has been to unite the party, eliminate friction and bitterness, and establish majority rule.

Daniel urged all citizens to attend Precinct Conventions on July 26 in order to keep control of the party in the hands of the duly elected officials. "If Texas falls into the hands of the DOTS it will set our state back many years," he said.

The governor emphasized the importance of the precinct conventions in Democratic Party operations and quoted figures on some of the heavily populated counties representations at such conventions to show that only a small per cent of the people took part in party government at the grass roots.

The governor was introduced by Lucian Morehead, Plainview attorney, Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Frank Moore, prominent Hale County farmer, Gene Owen, county Democratic chairman in Hale County, welcomed the guests.

Some 15 or 20 Floyd County citizens attended the dinner.

P. B. Greenhaw Dies Monday

Preston B. Greenhaw of Hale Center died Monday morning at the Hi-Plains Hospital there of a heart attack. He had not previously been ill, relatives said, and his death came as a shock to the community.

Mr. Greenhaw was not feeling well when he arose Monday morning but went about making arrangements for his farm work for the day. When he continued to feel badly he was carried to the Hale Center hospital and had been there only a short time when death came.

Funeral services were held at the Hale Center Church of Christ Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by J. W. Chennell, minister of Stephenville Church of Christ. Interment was in the Lockney Cemetery. A large number of Lockney friends and relatives attended the services.

Wheat Harvest 80% Complete

The 1958 wheat harvest is 80 per cent complete in the Lockney area, elevator men said Wednesday. Probably this week will see most of the wheat cut and stored, although "loose ends" will continue to come in for another 10 days.

A rain north and east of Lockney Monday afternoon and damp nights since that time have slowed the harvest somewhat but it was almost back to normal Wednesday. No measurable moisture fell here but the Lone Star community, north of Lockney, received almost an inch and a heavy rain also fell in the Cedar Hill community, east of Lockney.

Local elevators have handled considerable more grain this year than they have in several years due to the heavy per acre yield but still the 1958 harvest doesn't compare with previous "bumper crop" years when average was much larger than it is now.

Cotton Good
Cotton crops in this area "couldn't be doing better" The Beacon was told Wednesday. Although farmers are busy fighting thry and other insects, they seem to be doing a good job of controlling the pests and the young cotton is growing off splendidly. "Lots of blooms" by July 4 is the prediction barring unfavorable weather.

Gospel Singing Is Planned At County Fair

Word from Joe Reeves of Sterley this week gives plans for a big gospel singing to be held at the Floyd County Fair on the night of September 11. This is the second year for the gospel singing, it being a big success last fall at the fair.

The big tent has been arranged for and efforts are now underway to arrange for seating from a rental service, Mr. Reeves says.

Special groups, quartets, trios, directors, pianists and others from over the area are being contacted and indications are that the very best singing talent will attend again this year. Plans are being made for the best singing and the largest crowd ever to attend an event of this kind in this county, Mr. Reeves says.

Quality Cotton In Good Demand

College Station. — Extra rewards await the cotton producer who succeeds in producing a high-quality crop this year, while discounts for low quality will continue to be stiff, reports Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist.

The abundance of low-grade cotton that was left over from last year's crop will continue to depress the market for lower grades, points out Elliott. However, he adds, the present outlook for the 1958 crop indicates a continued shortage of high grade fiber.

A late spring, shortages of good seed, and too much moisture have contributed to a poor start for cotton this year in many areas. But the specialist says there is still plenty of opportunity to aim for high quality through careful management and harvest practices.

These practices include weed, disease and insect control; fertilization at rates based on Extension Service recommendations; irrigating for good maturity in areas where it is done with special reference to cutoff dates; careful harvesting and ginning; keeping low and high grade fiber separate and selling on grade.

Almost a third of last year's cotton crop classified as spotted, resulting in a lower average grade for the 1957 crop than for any year on record.

Much of this spotting could have been avoided through better management practices, says Elliott. Widespread failure to adhere to such practices weakens cotton's position with synthetic and other fibers in marketing in many uses. And this, in turn, contributes to cotton surpluses and depressed prices.

County agricultural agents can provide the latest information on how to grow cotton for quality, and how to preserve that quality in harvesting and ginning.

Plans Started For F. B. Queen Contest

In a meeting of Floyd County Farm Bureau officers and directors last Thursday evening at Golden's Cafe here, a committee of women was appointed to instigate plans for the Farm Bureau's annual queen contest. The contest will be held sometime in July, although no specific date has been set.

Names of the committee members will not be released until all have been contacted and agree to serve. Farm Bureau officials said.

State Field Man Jack Moore of Brownfield was present and talked to the group concerning cotton legislation now pending on a national level. He urged that local members give support to the Farm Bureau plan which provides for a referendum in which farmers may vote for higher support prices with strict acreage controls or lower support prices and more liberal acreage quotas.

The group also discussed a proposed change in state farm-to-market road plans and expressed opposition to the change.

Duane Griffith Named Senator At Boys State

Duane Griffith, Lockney's representative at Boys State at Austin last week, won the office of senator from his "city" and participated in just about every event staged during the busy week. He returned home Saturday.

Duane's group also won the "state championship" in football and also entered the baseball, basketball and volleyball tournaments.

The 538 boys attending the event were divided into two political parties and staged campaigns and elections during the week. The purpose is to teach practical application of governmental procedures.

Duane was sponsored by Lockney American Legion Post No. 141.

Wheat Quota Vote Friday

Farmers of the nation will go to the polls Friday of this week, June 20, to cast ballots on marketing quotas for next year's wheat crop. At least two-thirds must approve the quotas if they are to be effective.

Locations of voting boxes in Floyd County have been announced as follows:
Lockney, Beacon office.
Floydada, ASC office.
Dougherty, Poole Grain Co.
South Plains, Dial & Clubb Elevator.

Wheat Quota Vote Friday

Polis will be open from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m. on the above date. Farmers who are eligible to vote in the wheat quota referendum are all those who in 1959 will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain on a farm, except those who are participating in the 1958 feed wheat program. Feed wheat participants are permitted to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown, without being subject to marketing quota penalties.

If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve the quotas, they will remain in effect for 1959. Crop wheat and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at a national average of not less than $1.81 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity.

If the quotas are not approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting, they will not be in effect, and price support will be available to farmers who comply with their farm wheat allotments at about $1.20 per bushel, or 50 per cent of parity.

EDITORIAL

And we know that to them that love God, all things work together for good. — Romans 8:28.

SURPRISINGLY, there seems to be less interest in Texas politics this year than two years ago. The governor's race will arouse some interest but most people are of the opinion that Governor Price Daniel will win in a walk, probably in the first primary. Even talked to one "Liberal" from down state, Austin in fact, last week and who admitted that Price Daniel had made a good governor and that he would probably vote for him. The only criticism we have heard of the Governor is from the rabid DOTs who realize that the battle for the reins of the Democratic party in Texas will be fought between their group and Governor Daniel. Of course, we believe that most people would favor the governor but whether they will take enough interest in the matter to attend precinct conventions where the battle will actually be fought remains to be seen.

BILL BLAKLEY'S campaign to unseat Ralph Yarborough has very little chance to succeed, in our opinion, unless Blakley uncorks more of a campaign than he has shown thus far. Yarborough, of course, is the fair-haired boy of the Dots and they are campaigning hard. Meanwhile Blakley's head-shaking campaign goes on but he probably won't be able to get around and shake everybody's hand before July 26. That kind of a campaign will never beat Yarborough or any other campaigner. Yarborough's so-so record in the Senate is the kind that makes few enemies. His desire to appropriate money for every good cause that comes along and cut taxes at the same time, is a popular stand even though a little on the inconsistent side. But no law has ever been passed that requires a politician to be consistent.

NATIONALLY, all the political experts tell us that the Democrats will have a wider margin in both House and Senate after this fall's general elections. But the Republicans will still be in charge of the executive branch of the government. Point of interest is whether the agricultural areas can elect enough representatives to override a presidential veto of more favorable farm legislation. Possibly the elections could result in a stalemate between the legislative and executive branches of the government with no good coming from that condition for anyone.

ALL THE AGRICULTURAL experts are urging early season control of insects in cotton. The first crop, they say, is the profit and farmers should go all out to save it if possible. Coupled with this is the prediction by some who study the situation that good white cotton may bring as much as 40 cents per pound this fall. This is brought about by a scarcity of good cotton, of course, resulting from the poor crops last fall. Forty cent cotton in this area would surely help the financial ills of the agricultural section.

COLUMNIST JAY HAYDEN points out that the present recession is mainly concentrated in the durable-goods industries, notably steel and automobiles. It has been much less pronounced in the nondurable lines. And in some service enterprises there has been an increase in employment.

WHY FATHER'S DAY?

They have made June 15 Father's Day — just why I can't say; unless it's because there's a Mother's Day and they figured they needed a Father's Day for balance. Or perhaps it's to sell more socks and tobacco. Certainly, it's not because they think dear old Dad, bless his bald knob and fat check book, is due any filial piety. The Old Man is the source of manna and a fount of funds—not something to proclaim hosannas over. Whoever heard, in this country, at least, of paying respect to pappy? In Europe papa is king, and in the Orient he is something to be revered, even after he is dead and gone. But in America? Well, in America dad is a necessary evil, the guy who keeps the home fires burning so that daughter can toast marshmallows and so Mom can keep her footsies warm. Pappies are good people, understand, and I have nothing whatever against them. Mine was a wonderful dad, but he, like me, considered Father's Day quite unnecessary.—Glenn Shelton in Wichita Falls Record News.

POLITICAL MIRACLE

There's one consoling thing about this year's state and national campaigns — the voters can't possibly go wrong.

We've been scanning the press releases for days and all of the candidates seem to be on the side of the angels. They clearly state they support truth, justice, religion, mother and patriotism.

None of them plan any mud slinging, whispering or smear campaigns. However they do intend to give us the plain, unvarnished fact, no matter how vile, about their opponents.

Most of the candidates seem to be for the underdog. On the other hand they expose minority rule and "special interests." Farmers and small business must be helped by the government and protected against the fat, greasy capitalists. Yet, private enterprise and rugged individualism must be preserved.

We've got to get lots of big new programs under way. We've got to cut taxes.

Seriously, all of these seemingly conflicting proposals must be somehow reconciled in any democratic political philosophy. The wise voter wants to know just how the politician proposes to do it. — The Rambler in Crosbyton Review.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

RUNNING TO AND FRO

In this political arena of madness we now find ourselves, we realize the greatest thing that has happened to us is our "hurt pride."

To show the world that the commies are not better than we are we are doing a great "running to and fro," up setting our educational systems, discarding our guarantees of individuality and in the main "making a great ado about nothing."

Instead of holding to those principles that have made us great, we are discarding them for theories and principles foreign to us. Why do we do this? Hurt pride!

Perhaps old Benjamin Franklin can still give us a guiding light in our times of atom smashers and clean bombs. Ben once wrote, "But on the whole, though I had never arrived at the perfection I had been so ambitious of obtaining, but fell far short of it, yet I was, by the endeavor, a better and a happier man than I otherwise should have been if I had not attempted it."

"In reality there is, perhaps, no one of our natural passions so hard to subdue as pride. Disguise it, struggle with it, stifle it, mortify it as much as one pleases, it is still alive and will every now and then peep out and show itself; you will see it, perhaps, often in this history. For even if I could conceive that I had completely overcome it, I should probably be proud of my humility."

Without humility it is impossible to please God and only from Him can we draw our strength. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

Dear Editor:

I see where a Dallas landlord is putting up a real nice apartment house especially for rich citizens who don't want their wealth to go unnoticed.

Rent will run up to $1500 a month, which I guess is for the classier apartments with a Murphy bed and the bills paid.

My simple neighbor says if he was rich he would just put some ads in the papers saying so, instead of moving into some prestige palace where he couldn't feel right lolling around in his shirttail and bare feet.

In the High Plains country, no other crop is as important to our economy as Cotton. It is still our major crop and therefore it behooves us to support the crop that supports us.

It seems this girl was so cr-r-azy about the service she got from her Phillips 66 Dealer that she'd buy only one gallon of Fire-Fuel at a time... just so she'd have an excuse to come back oftener.

It was rather trying for this Phillips 66 Dealer, considering all the free services he provides for every customer on every visit. Brushing out inside the car, for example. Cleaning the windows all around. Checking the tires, battery, and radiator.

It turned out just about as you'd expect. Such an obliging fellow, she decided, would be a handy man around the house. So she hooked him.

The trouble is, of course, that most Phillips 66 Dealers are so dedicated to their jobs that household chores get short shrift. No moral here for wives. Obvious moral for motorists.

"I cook complete broiler meals for my family—thanks to my Electric Range!"

Broiler Recipe...

Here's the recipe Mrs. Wadley used when these pictures were taken. It's a complete, delicious broiler meal — one you'll want to try.

- Steaks
- 2 cans asparagus
- 1 can pimiento
- 2 cans Mexican Tomatoes
- Grated Cheese

Drain liquid from cans of vegetables and arrange in bottom of the broiler pan. Place asparagus down center of pan. Place pimiento strips down the center of asparagus. Arrange 1 can of Mexican on each side of asparagus. Season vegetables with salt and pepper.

Wipe steaks with damp cloth, score fat around edges to prevent curling. Place on rack of cold broiler pan, season, and place under broiler unit of electric range so the top of the steak is four or five inches from the broiler unit.

Turn oven control to Broil. Leave oven door ajar. Cook on one side until brown (about 12 minutes). Turn and broil other side (about 10 minutes). Cut tomatoes in halves and put grated cheese on top. Arrange on broiler rack just before steaks are done.

Marriage rites were solemnized Saturday evening, June 14 at 8 o'clock for Miss Shirley Galle Vernon and Marlin Ray Miller, with Dr. Harlan Harris directing the service in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church, Plainview.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Vernon, 2607 West 11th St., Plainview, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, 2508 West 11th St., Plainview. The Millers are former residents of Lockney.

Organist was Kenneth Vernon, brother of the bride, and Miss Sandra Jameson was soloist. Guests were seated by Roland Vernon, the bride's brother, of Dallas, Ed Billings, Travis Goree and Alfred E. Cornebise. Wayne Miller served his brother as best man.

Announcement Tea Reveals Wedding Plans

Wedding plans for Miss Maebeth McLaughlin and Jim Bob Reynolds were revealed by the bride-elect's parents at an announcement tea given Wednesday afternoon, June 18, in the home of Mrs. Buck Sams. Calling hours were 3 to 5 o'clock.

Miss McLaughlin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McLaughlin and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reynolds, all of Lockney.

The wedding date has been set for Thursday, July 10th, at seven o'clock in the First Baptist Church, Lockney.

Mrs. Betty Wylie, Miss McLaughlin, her mother, and Mrs. Willis Reynolds, mother of the prospective bridegroom, formed the receiving line.

Mrs. Buck Sams secured names for the register.

The refreshment table was covered with an imported linen cloth of embroidered cut-work and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and orchid statice. Back of the flowers was an ivory fan and in front was a wedding bell decorated with lily of the valley.

A miniature bride and groom stood beside the wedding bell from which stemmed orchid satin streamers lettered in pink with "Beth and Jim - July 10". Wall candelabra held pink tapers. Pink punch was served with cake squares iced in orchid and topped with white fans outlined in pink.

Favors were white wedding bells lettered in gold with the couple's name and wedding date.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Betty Wylie and Mrs. Sandra Noland. Approximately 28 guests called.

Rucker-Handley Vows Exchanged In Church Rites Saturday Evening

Miss Katie Ray Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rucker, Lockney, became the bride of Leonard Eugene (Gene) Handley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Handley, Lockney, in an impressive double-ring ceremony performed Saturday, June 14, at 6:00 p.m. in the First Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles Broadhurst, pastor of the First Baptist Church read the vows as the couple stood before an altar centered with a satin covered kneeling bench flanked by white gladioli and tropical foliage arranged in tall baskets tied with white bridal satin bows.

A reception which followed the wedding was given in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with white ruffled net over white satin and appliqued with satin hearts each holding a single pink rose. The bouquets of the bride and her attendants formed the center arrangement. A five-tiered wedding cake iced in white and decorated with pink roses, was topped with a miniature bride and groom and wedding bells. Pink punch was served from a crystal service. The bride, assisted by the bridegroom, cut the first piece of cake with a silver knife engraved with the couple's names and their wedding date. Also escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of imported diamond white tulle with a white and pink patterned tulle and a white tulle train. The fitted bodice, terminating in points at front and back, was accented with applied medallions. From this stemmed a magnificent skirt fashioned of net, enhanced with a scalloped over-skirt outlined in folds of tulle with an appliqued medallion marking each scallop. This was worn over a bouffant ruffled net skirt.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a small hat designed of white lace accented at center front with a bow and small white flowers. She wore long white gloves and carried a yellow throated white orchid nestled in white net arranged atop a white Bible and showered with white and pink streamers tied in love knots. For something old the bride wore a penny in her shoe, new were pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, borrowed was a slip belonging to Miss Barbara Brown, and blue was a garter.

Miss Gayle Rucker attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Rucker, sister of the bride, Lynn Jolly, Lockney; Beverly Peck, Dalhart; and Barbara Brown, Abilene. They wore identical dresses of pink crystalline designed with scoop neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and full waltz-length skirts fashioned with double pleats. Their small hats were made of pink lace petals with clusters of white pearls and they carried arm bouquets of pink roses showered with pink satin streamers. Their gloves were white and they wore necklaces of small white pearls.

Jean Ann Kelley, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a pink dress with matching hat and carried a white basket trimmed with satin and net, filled with pink rose petals.

Carolyn Harris, Lockney, and Kay Harris, Kress, both cousins of the bride, lighted the candles. They wore dresses of pink crystalline fashioned similar to those of the bridesmaids. Their hats were pink and they wore pearl necklaces and wrist corsages of pink roses. Ring bearers were Terry Harris, Kress, cousin of the bride, and Don Kelley, Petersburg, cousin of the bridegroom.

David Frizzell, Lockney, attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Johnny Campbell, Spearman; Gary McLeod, Ft. Worth; Larry Jarrett, Lockney; Richard Howard, Anton; Jerry Mickey, Lockney; and Jimmy Litsch, Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Rucker chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of blue lace with accessories of blue and patent. Mrs. Handley, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of pink polished cotton and accessories of pink. They wore corsages of pink roses.

Early Insect Control Will Bring Profits
 Lubbock — Higher net profits may be the reward of Texas High Plains farmers who go all-out to control insect infestations and weeds to produce high quality yields — especially in cotton, W. O. Fortenberry, President of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said today.
 Fortenberry said there are a number of excellent reasons why cotton growers should take every effort to control weeds and insects this year; for it will pay big dividends to see that a full cotton crop goes to the gin rather than be consumed partly by insects, or choked out by weeds.
 First, producers are assured a minimum price of at least $190 per bale (Middling inch) for lint and seed in 1958. The Government loan insures the grower this amount and cotton can sell higher.
 Also the sub-soil moisture is the best in many years. Farm officials say that sub-soil moisture is adequate to insure a better than average crop. With timely rains on non-irrigated land, a record breaking yield could be made.
 Cotton insects can be counted on to be a limiting factor in production if they are not controlled. There has been plenty of host plants for the thrips, aphids, fleahoppers and even bollworms to hibernate in or feed on this past winter and spring. Cotton plants will grow and fruit much during June. This is a critical month for these insects to build up. With favorable fruiting and growing conditions, conditions also are favorable for insects and the grower must, therefore, control insects or have them take a terrific toll from his crop this year.
 Weeds also must be eliminated since they rob cotton plants of precious moisture. Fred C. Elliott, Extension Cotton Specialist, says the second highest cost item in cotton production is for grass and weed control.
 Last year, Elliott said the State's cotton producers saved an estimated 16 million by using rotary hoes, chemicals and oils in efforts to keep weeds and grass under control.
 Another loss that could be costly to Texas High Plains farmers is lower grades caused by insect "spots." This often amounts to more than $25 per bale and in most cases, the cost of insect control is more than paid for by the reduction in "spots" alone.
 Fortenberry also reminded growers that 1958, more than in recent years, is the time to market high quality cotton. "With the demand good and parity higher than last year, the farmers with better cotton is certainly going to have higher net profits from his 1958 cotton crop," Fortenberry con-

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas. — If a fire-breathing dragon were loose on the Texas countryside—smashing cars and their occupants, slapping down pedestrians—there'd be no question about the need to get rid of the monster. An aroused public demand that SOMEBODY DO SOMETHING.

In actuality, innocent people ARE being maimed or killed every day as they go about their business. Thousands are lost every year.

But somebody IS doing something. Right now, officials and private citizens are forming a massive "posse". They're going after the killer—the monstrous indifference, carelessness and other difficulties that bring death on Texas streets and highways.

Leaders are members of the Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature just a year ago. Gov. Price Daniel is chairman; Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, vice chairman. Leads of numerous other state agencies are members.

Formation of the Council was the starting point for a campaign which, for the first time, brought the official power and prestige of state government to bear on a growing problem. For some years Texas vehicles and their drivers had been outgrowing highway facilities and outdistancing law enforcement agencies by sheer weight of numbers. In 1956 Texas had an

1. A statewide program to bring greater public cooperation.
2. More rigid enforcement of present laws.
3. Adoption of the Uniform Driver's License Law.
4. A law to permit police to use chemical tests and other scientific aids to detect drunken drivers.
5. Development of strong, fair, effective traffic courts.
6. A State Highway Patrol double its present size.
7. Universal driver education in public schools supported by state aid.

Besides the state agencies working cooperatively through the new Council, other groups are part of the crusade. A major source of help is the 20-year-old Texas Safety Association, a pioneer group which finances its efforts on a voluntary basis. Texas Legislative Council is studying traffic problems and will report to the 56th Legislature.

Bringing new weight is the Governor's Highway Safety Commission. Scores of prominent Texans answered Governor Daniel's call to give citizen support to official efforts. First Commission meeting is set tentatively for Fall.

Results thus far are encouraging. For the first 23 weeks of this year the toll was down by 101 persons, about 11 per cent, from last year. There were 163 fewer deaths, down about 17 per cent, from '56.

Goal for 1958 is a year-long 10 per cent drop or 254 lives saved — a real stab at the dragon.

JULY SNOW STORM — Next summer's Democratic precinct conventions will be like an extra after-hours election. There'll be rival "platforms" and rival candidates, but only one key issue — who's to control the party.

Battle lines were drawn when the State Democratic Executive Committee held its June meeting in Austin. Governor Daniel, as head of the party in Texas, called on his moderate-conservative cohorts to "snow under" the liberal-labor Democrats of Texas at the conventions. He accused DOT of trying to usurp the party name for a "splinter group."

SDEC is recommending electing precinct delegates to county conventions by primary ballot and moving primaries up to May and June. It also suggests a search for means to prevent party line crossing at primary time.

DOT is pushing for its "code of ethics" for conducting conventions and a party registration law to keep out Republicans.

Relative merits of the two "platforms" may be confusing to some voters as a snowstorm in July. What's clear is that if the moderate-conservatives win out, Governor Daniel will continue at the helm of party affairs in Texas. If the DOT prevails, Mrs. Frankie Randolph, national committeewoman and DOT chairman, will take the wheel.

SHORT SNORTS — Governor Daniel has asked the State Board of Water Engineers to have ready by Dec. 1 a survey of Texas water needs that is to be presented to the next Legislature. Study is to be projected to the years 1975 and 2000.

For the fourth straight week the Texas Employment Commission reported a drop in unemployment payments. Jobless persons receiving benefits totaled 78,965 in the last report. During the spring the total soared a tove 91,000.

Jay Dean Howell Jr. of Waco will join Attorney Gen. Will Wilson's staff June 23 in the state and county affairs division. Howell is a former assistant U.S. district attorney.

Albert H. Pollard, State Highway Department engineer, has been cited and given a $500 cash award by the Western Assn. of State Highway Officials for achievements in the use of gamma ray cameras to inspect bridge work.

San Antonio will be host city for the state's big political shindig this year — the State Democratic Convention Sept. 9.

A 10 per cent hike in motor bus fares within the state of Texas has been granted by the Railroad Commission, effective June 20. Interstate fares had already been upped 10 per cent.

NOTICE OF MEETING OF EQUALIZATION BOARD
The Board of Equalization of the Lockney Independent School District will be in session at the office of the school tax assessor-collector on Monday and Tuesday, June 23 and 24, 1958, from 8:30 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 4:00. Any taxpayer who has a protest concerning the valuation of his property subject to taxation by the Lockney Independent School District may meet with the Board of equalization. 10-2tc

I see where a Miss Kim Novak has got back some of our foreign aid money. A slightly married Dominican general friend gives her a fancy car, right when our auto industry needs the business and Miss Novak needs the publicity.

My clod-hopping neighbor says it's nice to know that his tax money moves in such interesting circles, but he wishes some of it would circle back to him.

Says he will likely just have to stay always on the paying end, though, on account of not being a foreign big shot, nor having a chest expansion the size of Miss Novak's.

Dear Editor:

I see where Mexico has a new law which says some wheat flour has got to be integrated with the corn meal when a citizen makes tortillas.

My figuring neighbor don't think, as some do, that this edict is due to a drive by the Mexican Supreme Court to keep wheat from feeling inferior on account of being spurned by the tortilla makers.

In fact, he figures it is a move instigated by the same meddlesome characters who brain-wash many U.S. cooks into putting flour and sugar in corn bread.

Dear Editor:
I see where six congressmen from Minnesota had to get cleared with the security risk checker - uppers before they could go to a World Health Organization meeting in their own home state.

Some say this is as silly as asking the party loyalty of a postmaster, but my suspicious neighbor don't think it would hurt to check up on the motives of all congressmen.

Says it wouldn't make any difference, but it would be interesting to know, for instance, if they are bankrupting the country through carelessness or doing it on purpose.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Prayer	22	6
Monday	Psalms	103	13
Tuesday	Psalms	121	5-8
Wednesday	I Samuel	2	18-20
Thursday	I Samuel	3	2-9
Friday	I Samuel	16	4-15
Saturday	I Samuel	17	41-49

Buddy was going to the circus today, but he woke up with the sniffles this morning and the whole thing had to be called off!

While grown-ups learn to shrug off disappointments like that, it isn't easy for a child. Buddy's mother will soon come to the rescue with a special taffy pull or a favorite story-reading session, and that will help cushion the blow.

But there will be times when Buddy will have to stand up to far greater tests than this, and when he will have to take far greater disappointments in stride. That's one of the reasons his mother has started taking him to Church and Church School. It isn't that the Church serves as a cushion in times of stress . . . rather, it stands as a pillar of strength, lending support to all who come within it.

FARM BUREAU TO FIGHT FARM-TO-MARKET CHANGE

Waco — Officials of groups interested in preserving the present rural road building program will meet here July 1 to plan strategy for heading off an expected move in the next Legislature to alter the Farm-to-Market road building laws.

The meeting, which was called by the Texas Farm Bureau, will begin at 10 a.m. at the Roosevelt Hotel. Some 13 agricultural and rural organizations have been invited to send representatives.

In a letter to the groups involved, TFB President J. H. West said that a movement is afoot to curtail the present rural road building program in Texas. He declared that if opponents of rural roads are successful in securing passage of their proposed changes, it would be disastrous to the Farm-to-Market road building program as it would prematurely halt the program.

The Texas Research League, in a study made for the Texas Highway Commission, advocated a change in the laws governing the construction of Farm-to-Market roads as a means of preventing the state from "becoming burdened" with a rural road program far in excess of its needs. These roads are built under two separate state laws: (1) the Colson-Briscoe Act of 1949 which provides that $15 million a year be transferred from the general revenue to a Farm-to-Market road fund and to be used exclusively for construction and (2) the Motor Fuels Tax Act which earmarks a specific portion of that tax (now about one-fifth of net collections) to be used for both construction and improvement of the Farm-to-Market roads. Neither of the acts provide for maintenance of the system.

West said that only about 26,000 miles of rural roads have been paved while more than 100,000 miles of rural roads in the state remain unpaved. He added that school buses still travel over some 60,000 miles of unpaved roads each day during the school year.

The Texas Farm Bureau, which has a policy opposing any change in the present rural road building laws, is expected to lead the fight to save the Farm-to-Market road program at the 56th Legislature which will convene in January.

Organizations which have been invited to the Waco meeting include the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Electric Cooperatives, Texas Rural Letter Carriers Association, Texas Federation of Cooperatives, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, Texas State Grange, Texas Poultry Improvement Association, Texas Livestock Marketing Association, Texas Swine Breeders Association, Texas Dairy Association, Texas Angus Breeders Association, Texas and Texas Hereford Breeders Association.

Dr. Hewitt Attends State Chiro Meet

Dr. A. E. Hewitt of Lockney returned home this week after attending the 43rd annual convention of the Texas State Chiropractic Association in Dallas, June 12-14.

While in Dallas, he met provisions of a new state law that requires all chiropractors to attend at least one refresher or post-graduate school before they can be relicensed on January 1 each year.

Such a refresher course was given at the convention and included lectures on a number of technical and research subjects plus discussions by two national chiropractic educators, Dr. Vinton Logan of St. Louis, president of Logan Chiropractic College, and Dr. Cleveland of Kansas City, dean of Cleveland Chiropractic College.

Among the other speakers during the three-day meeting were Dr. W. T. White, superintendent of the Dallas public schools, and Warren G. Moore of Tyler, Texas commander of the American Legion.

More than 700 chiropractors and their wives from all parts of Texas attended the convention. ### Bagworms Must Be Treated Quickly

College Station — Ornamental plants infested with bagworms must be treated while the worms are small if effective control of the pests is to be achieved, says Extension Entomologist C. F. Garner. Chemicals applied after the worms are grown give no control.

The worms hatch in the late spring or early summer and the larvae feed on the foliage of ornamental plants. The young worm spins a silken sack and attaches bits of leaves to it as it feeds. The bag is carried by the worm as it moves about. A full grown worm may produce a bag from one and a half to two inches long and once inside the bag, the worm becomes most difficult to control.

The female bagworm remains in the bag and dies after depositing her eggs. The bags should be picked from infested plants and burned because the eggs for next season's worms go through the winter inside the bags.

Garner recommends the use of either chlordane or toxaphene as a 10 per cent dust. For a spray, he says 40 per cent chlordane emulsion concentrate or a 60 per cent toxaphene emulsion applied at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water will give good control if used while the worms are small. Lead arsenate used at the rate of one to two tablespoons per gallon of water is a good spray.

The entomologist suggests that a copy of L-199, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants, be obtained from the local county agent. It lists controls for insects which normally cause the home gardener the most trouble.

Visitors in the T. S. Fox home this week are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Payne, Roswell, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Page, Carey and John, of Alpine, Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Page are daughters of the T. S. Foxes.
