EDITORIAL

WHEREFORE take unto you the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having done all, to stand. — Ephesians 6:13.

IN THIS DAY and age when it seems every group and organization is wanting to get something for nothing from the government, it is indeed inspiring to see one group that goes out and does something for itself. We're referring to the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and their recent action in working for foreign markets for feed grains. The implications of this agreement with the U. S. Foreign Agriculture Service are more than merely selling some grain sorghum to foreign markets. The benefits derived could include a more favored position in domestic markets as well. In the words of one person, "The move essentially means establishing better and more permanent outlets for the nation's increasing feed grain stores and at the same time stabilizing the crop's market value."

THE ACTION of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in seeking an additional outlet for their product is just another in a series of moves by the directors to help the farmers of West Texas who grow the grain. To our way of thinking, this organization and the Plains Cotton Growers with headquarters at Lubbock are two farm groups which are doing something to help farmers. Not to say others are not, but these two seem to get more accomplished. The Grain Sorghum Producers Association is supported by voluntary gifts of grain from farmers of the High Plains, two pounds per thousand as we understand it. All you need to do is to authorize your elevator man to deduct that amount when you deliver your grain. Floyd County hasn't been doing its part in support of this program. Seems that the latest action by the Association should prove that it's worth supporting.

organization is unhappy with the newspapers of Texas. His latest recommendation is that his body engage in "exploration of means whereby the so-called free press can be caused to truly serve the purpose for which its freedom is guaranteed." Maybe we don't really understand what Mr. Holleman means but in our weak way we would say that Mr. Holleman would like to exercise a censorship over the newspapers of Texas and force them to say the things he wants said. Perhaps the newspapers have revealed too many labor scandals to suit Mr. Holleman or perhaps they have supported the wrong candidates. At any rate, he is displeased and now he wants to find means to run the newspapers of Texas like he does the CIO-AFL labor unions. He may do it too. With the Supreme Court packed with ultra-liberals whose interpretation of the law usually coincides with their radical viewpoint, there's not much telling what will happen next.

SINCE 1950 crime has increased four times as fast as our population, according to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. He is particularly disturbed about the growth of juvenile crime. Since 1952, the population group under 18 years of age has increased 22 per cent, while arrests of persons under 18 have increased 55 per cent.

WRITING IN Ladies' Home Journal, Dorothy Thompson says: "In dealing with the school shortage, I wonder whether we clearly ask ourselves what a school is. Communities are being taxed to support properties that often are out of all proportion to their needs — or the income of little people. And the financial burden is enhanced by demands upon the school that have little or nothing to do with essential education."

INFORMATION presented at the Second International Atoms for Peace Conference reveals this country leads the world in the number of nuclear power reactors constructed. Only 12 atomic reactors have been completed that are actually generating electricity for civilian use. The U. S. has produced eight, Britain three, and Russia one.

ACCORDING TO THE New York Times, through June of this year the social security system had collected $37 billion in payroll taxes and paid out $37 billion in benefits. The system originally covered 26 million people; now it covers 74 million.

FRANK ADMISSION
Dr. Raymond Moley, erstwhile college professor and later New Deal braintruster, now is a newspaper and magazine columnist. When he was a professor, and a New Deal politician, Doctor Moley was looked upon by some "left of center" in his thinking. Now, as anyone who reads his column knows, he leans distinctly to the right.

In a recent column, Doctor Moley made an admission which was rather unusual for an academician — he admitted that, since he left the classroom he has learned that not all brains are possessed by college professors. His foray into politics and business taught him that one may be intelligent even though he is not tagged as an "intellectual."

"I learned that people in politics," he said, "even while they seldom can describe how they operate, are highly intelligent about the subtleties of human nature. Later I learned that in the world of business there was organizing skill and know-how undreamed of by intellectuals."

Many so-called "intellectuals" never learn the lesson Doctor Moley did, since they never leave their ivory towers and come into contact with the cold, hard facts of life. But others do, and it is interesting to watch the metamorphosis which takes place in their thinking. When a former academician admits that not all knowledge is contained in textbooks, he has moved a long way toward becoming a practical, down-to-earth human being. — Lubbock Avalanche.

BAD START
The weather we have had lately is conducive to late sleeping. I guess it must be the moisture, combined with the lower temperatures. Everyone you see these days is talking about how hard it is to rise on schedule — and with a big smile. It reminds me of a fellow I once knew, who always said:

"You can't expect any day to be very good, because they all begin with getting up in the morning." — Jimmie Gilentine in Hereford Brand.

CONGRESSMAN REVEALS TRUTH

Business and commercial enterprises, not farmers, receive the largest chunk of federal subsidies says Rep. Lester Johnson (D. Wis.) To back up this recent statement before Congress, he cited a recent year in which business subsidies amounted to over $1 billion. In the same year, aid to agriculture amounted to only $463 million. A large share of that $463 million was charged to price supports which, Rep. Johnson pointed out has cost the government less than $1 billion in all years prior to 1953. He stated further, it is difficult to name a business today that is not receiving a subsidy of some type. — The Memphis Democrat.

Dear Editor:
I see where a widow with seven kids got kicked off the relief roll in New York here the other day because she won a little doodlebug car in a contest.

Which my soft neighbor says seems a little harsh, but maybe the country just can't afford to be free-hearted toward widows and orphans and foreigners at the same time.

Says the lady ought to get a subsidy for her work bringing up seven new taxpayers, but then if one of them turned out to be a Congressman or other type of squanderer we would be left with a net loss on the deal.

Fellowship

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	17	21-26
Monday	Matthew	18	20
Tuesday	Luke	24	13-32
Wednesday	Acts	2	42-47
Thursday	Acts	20	28-35
Friday	Mark	10	42-45
Saturday	Romans	15	1-7

It was Sunday morning. I had stopped only long enough on my journey for an hour of worship. The church was almost filled when I slipped into my seat. I knew no one. Yet between me and these worshippers there was a bond of fellowship. I bowed my head in worship of our Lord.

Then I thought of those in distant lands who must worship the Christ amidst ridicule and persecution. They too were my brethren and I prayed for them.

Through the church rang the triumphant notes of the opening hymn "Faith of our Fathers, Living Still."

My heart and my voice sang together as I remembered those of old who had labored and died that the Church might live. With fellow Christians, whom I did not know, I sang my promise:

"Faith of our fathers, holy faith
We will be true to thee till death."

If only everyone knew the joy and satisfaction that my faith brings to me! Start attending the services of the Church—and your life too will be enriched by that bond of Christian fellowship that has sustained millions through the centuries.

Grain Sorghum Producers Ass'n Will Seek Foreign Markets

By Jack Porter
Amarillo Daily News
Farm Editor

Directors of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in an unprecedented move Thursday agreed to negotiate a contract with the U.S. Foreign Agricultural Service to seek European market outlets. John R. McCracken, representing the Foreign Agricultural Service, told the association, which met at Herring Hotel, grain sorghum growers are the first feed grain group to enter into such an agreement.

Attending the meeting from Lockney were R. C. Mitchell, secretary of the Floyd County Grain Sorghum Producers Association and T. B. Mitchell. R. C. represented this county since the president, Ewald Quebe, and the delegate, Forrest Mickey, were both unable to attend.

The move essentially means establishing better and more permanent outlets for the nation's increasing feed grain stores and at the same time stabilizing the crop's market value. The directors, representing most Panhandle and South Plains counties, unanimously approved the agreement.

"Standards of living all over the world are being raised," McCracken said, "consequently people are eating better and progressive peoples require more protein."

He explained there is a continued demand for more meat in Europe and that poultry appears to be the commodity that will satisfy their needs. He said poultry requires less capital and less time before it reaches the table. As a result Europe in the near future will see a great demand for feed grains.

"Grain sorghum must find a home someplace," McCracken said, and it is your job to see that feed grain is converted into protein."

The contract between the Grain Producers Association and the government will pave the way for extensive feed grain promotional and educational programs in Europe. Bill Nelson, executive secretary of the association and McCracken said the contract could be signed within several weeks.

Italy now has an 18 per cent luxury tax on chickens, McCracken said, and the American poultry industry has already made headway in boosting the broiler industry in Italy and other European countries.

Bill Crotinger of Tribune, Kan., who recently returned from Europe on behalf of grain sorghum growers, said European chickens are now being fed on rations of locust seed pods, waste from wheat seeds, fish and meat scraps and peanut meal.

"Their present feeds are low in protein," Crotinger said, "and they want American feeds because of higher protein content."

Crotinger told the group, "Europeans definitely have an interest in grain sorghum and one importer wanted to know how soon he could get 50,000 tons of grain sorghum."

Nelson pointed out that a long range informational and educational program stimulating interest in American feed grains would also open up avenues for dairy, red meat and industrial uses, such as in the brewing industry.

He said the American wheat industry has already made headway in Japan convincing the people there of the value of flour and other wheat products. He added there is no reason why grain sorghum will not be accepted in Europe.

Crotinger, a specialist in international trade, said Turkey also expressed an interest in buying grain sorghum as did Greece and Italy.

He said under the new grain promotional program, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association will be able to work with the American poultry and soybean counties, parts now operating in Europe. Such things as mobile units showing grain sorghum in feed rations, their value to broilers and lastly broilers fried in soybean oil would have a tremendous impact on European consumers, Crotinger said.

The new program will be financed jointly by the Foreign Agricultural Service and the grain sorghum industry and will include exchange programs to educate European buyers and consumers on the value of feed grains.

McCracken said the Foreign Agricultural Service would finance most of the work done in Europe, except salaries for industry personnel, but that the grain sorghum producers would finance stateside projects, such as visiting groups while they are in the U.S.

Directors of the association said the move is one that means "sink or swim" for the grain sorghum industry. They pointed out that grain sorghum production this year was three times the 10 year average and the carryover is four times larger than any yet. It is imperative that grain sorghum be moved to markets.

Various directors of the association reporting on harvest operations in their counties, indicated the West Texas maize harvest is 85 to 95 per cent complete this year.

The association also went on record as favoring the establishment of a proposed soil and water research center at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland. A hearing will be held in Amarillo today to determine the feasibility of the Bushland station as a potential site.

All officers of the association were re-elected for another year. They are Frank Moore of Plainview, president; Sam G. Breath of Dimmitt, vice-president and Elbert Hart of Abernathy, secretary-treasurer.

Miller Says Mice Do Start Fires
The theory that mice do not start fires by striking matches is all wrong, Wilbur Miller believes. "I know because it happened in my house," Miller told The Beacon Wednesday. Miller said that a box of matches was kept in a drawer in the kitchen cabinet in his home. Mrs. Miller used a match from the box one night last week and the next morning when she opened the drawer she found a box of matches burned and a paper napkin and a piece of cotton in the drawer were singed. Only lack of air in the drawer kept the fire from spreading, was his theory.

"Nothing but a mouse could have set off the matches," Wilbur said. "We found traces of mice and we are sure that they caused the fire." The inside of the drawer was burned slightly and every match in the box was also burned.

FOUR TEAMS IN BATTLE Muleshoe Leads District 2-AA

This is the week of decision for District 2-AA teams. The four teams battling for a shot at the conference title and the right to represent 2-AA in bi-district will be in action Friday evening. Muleshoe, currently leading the district, plays at Lockney against the Longhorns who are double tough on their home field. In the other contest pre-season favorite Abernathy journeys to Olton. Morton is idle Friday.

Olton, Abernathy, Lockney could be eliminated with another loss. Each team is charged with one defeat. Undeclared Muleshoe has probably the roughest remaining schedule with games at Lockney and Abernathy.

Lockney is still in good position to win at least a share of the district crown. Should Lockney down Muleshoe and Morton in their two remaining contests and Abernathy upend Olton the Longhorns could win at least a share of the title. They would also represent 2-AA in the bi-district game.

THE LOCKNEY BEACON, LOCKNEY, TEXAS, NOV. 6, 1958

Last Friday Olton upset the Longhorn eleven, 18-14, in a thriller. Muleshoe maintained the lead with a 21-6 victory over cellar-dwelling Morton.

District 2-AA Standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Muleshoe	2	0	1.000
Olton	2	1	.667
Lockney	1	1	.500
Abernathy	1	1	.500
Morton	0	3	.000

According to the Navy's "Hurricane Hunters", hurricanes are tropical cyclones occurring in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. By common agreement they are called "tropical storms" until the maximum wind speed exceeds 75 miles per hour, after which they are called hurricanes.

Mrs. Harder had been bed fast for two years and was almost blind. A heart attack was believed to be the immediate cause of death, relatives said.

Survivors include two sons, C. B. and J. C. Harder of Plainview; three daughters, Mrs. O. D. Cokerham of Sudan, Mrs. Frank Cummings of Littlefield, and Mrs. Ruby May Johnson of Athens, Texas. Also surviving is one brother, W. C. Lee of Earth and the sister, Mrs. George Webster Sr. of Lockney.

Farm Bureau Adopts Resolutions To Be Presented At State Meet

The Floyd County Farm Bureau, in its recent county convention, adopted 10 resolutions which have been forwarded to the state resolutions committee to be considered for presentation to the state convention to meet in Corpus Christi next week.

Attending the state convention from Floyd County will be Mr. and Mrs. L. B. (Buddy) Brandes of this area and County President David Battey and Mrs. Battey from Floydada. Possibly others will attend but due to the rush of the harvest season Farm Bureau officials were not sure who they might be. The county is eligible for six voting delegates and has reservations for 10 people at the Nueces Hotel in Corpus. The state meet starts Sunday evening and closes Wednesday night. Speakers will include Governor Price Daniel, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White and others.

There was considerable debate on some of the resolutions in the county meeting, particularly one concerning the abolition of the county superintendent's office and another on taxes, with some favoring a general sales tax and others opposing it. The sales tax proposal was not adopted by the group.

Following are the resolutions adopted by the county group:

1. We resolve that a study be made of each county school superintendent's office in Texas and that an adjustment of funds allotted to each office be made according to the work it is doing. We further recommend that county school superintendent's office be abolished entirely where deemed justifiable.
2. We recommend and urge continued efforts to obtain a more accurate classing of cotton by the government classing offices. We are also in favor of baled cotton being wrapped in cotton bagging. We urge that samples be taken before the bale has been wrapped, so that it will not be necessary to take additional samples before the bale reaches the consumer.
3. We recommend a suitable natural resources tax in order to finance the state public schools.
4. We request the state legislature to enact a bill requiring assessment and collection of personal property tax on all state licensed vehicles before issuance of license.
5. We contend that underground water should not be included in any state-wide surface water program.
6. We recommend that the farm to market road program be continued as is, and the rural road program continued until all Texas roads have reasonable access to all-weather roads.
