EDITORIAL

Forgetting those things which are behind and reaching forth unto those things which are before I press forward . . . — Philipians 3:13.

WE SUPPOSE it's expecting too much to think that anyone could operate a newspaper, wherein it is necessary to express an opinion at times, without offending someone. But there is one phase of our operation here in which we don't want to make anyone mad but apparently do anyway. This is our subscription department. We have a policy of sending two expiration notices when a subscription has expired and then if the subscription is not renewed we remove it from our list. It's not that we suspect the credit of the subscriber is bad or that we doubt his honesty. It's simply that we must have some kind of policy for handling subscriptions and this is the best we have been able to work out. The Post Office department requires us to send our newspapers to paid subscribers, as long as we mail under a second class permit. To allow our subscriptions to become delinquent for a long period of time would jeopardize our mailing privileges. It's just a matter of a routine for handling our big list of subscribers and we certainly appreciate your co-operation with us in the matter.

HOMER STEEN of the Floyd County Hesperian along with other newspaper editors have been contending for the passage of the flexible insurance rate bill through the Texas legislature. They tell us that the bill is now bottled up in an unfriendly committee and has little chance of passing. That there is considerable merit in the bill is proven to us by a comparison of the auto insurance rates in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. A chart of these rates received by The Beacon Office this week shows that Texas rates vary from $2.00 to $3.00 — a 5-10-5 policy than those of any other state with the flexible insurance law. As we understand it, the habitual reckless driver would be penalized under the new bill while the "wreckless" driver would gain. Maybe it isn't too late for the public to be heard.

SPEAKING of the Legislature, we gather that it is very difficult for a real honest, straightforward legislator who wishes to vote for what he believes to be the best interest of all his constituents, to please very many people simply because we now have a government of pressure groups. Nearly every profession or group of people of similar interests are organized and have their lobbyists at Austin to see that their particular interests are protected. This includes newspaper editors. The poor legislator is subject to pressures of every kind, most of them dictated by the selfish interest of the particular group which contacts him, rather than by the best interest of the state as a whole. Apparently the man who gets along the best is the one who can please the most pressure groups without treading too much on the toes of the everyday citizen who does not happen to be a member of any group. It's a sad situation.

THE LABOR PARTY

Speaking of politics there is one party that is now at work selecting their candidates for the 1960 election, and that is the Labor Party. Oh, yes, there is such a party in existence, however it will not appear on the election ballot as such, but it carries a tremendous wallop politically. It draws its strength from both the Democratic and Republican parties. It has already drawn up its list for political assassination and it includes such stalwart Republicans as Senators Alott of Colorado, Curtis of Nebraska, Bridges of New Hampshire, Drowns of Idaho, Martin of Iowa, Mundt of South Dakota, Schoepel of Kansas and Saltonstall of Mass. Their terms expire at the end of the present session of Congress. And on the Democratic side of the fence the ax does not fall quite so heavy but they will take a swing at Allen Frearer of Delaware, Willis Robertson of Virginia, John McLWilson of Arkansas, and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. This political assassination is no hot-air blast as last year it was the Labor Party which ended the careers of William Knowland, the Senate Majority Leader, and John Bricker. If the same percentage average prevails in 1960 not more than three of the 12 men listed above will return to Congress. These facts are known to politicians over the country, but the general public does not seem to be aware of the Labor Party's destructive power until it strikes its deadly blow. All of these men are aware of these facts and they are behaving like they were caught in a plague. This Labor Party is using the well-tested strategy of "divide and conquer." A good Democrat or Republican is rubbed out, and an obedient Laborite slips in under the label of one of the major parties, and before we know it, if we don't watch out, the enterprising "third party" will have control of the country and both parties, and we will be wondering what happened. — J. L. Suits in Petersburg Journal.

SO GOETH ROME

An interesting study of the decline and fall of Rome reveals the following causes:
 1. Racial intermarriage. There isn't a known Roman living today.
 2. Rapid increase of divorce and the undermining of the sanctity of the home.
 3. The spiraling rise of taxes and extravagant spending.
 4. The uprooting of rural population, moving them to urban areas.
 5. The craze for pleasure and the brutalism of sports.
 6. Failure to realize that the enemy lay within the country.

7. Moral decay of the political rulers as well as the people.
 8. The decay of religion and the fading of faith into a mere form, leaving the people without any guide.
 9. Special legislation for private interest.
- Of course this doesn't compare to America Today—Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

LABOR MOVEMENT

Biggest business sensation of the month — an electrifying sensation — comes in the report that AFL-CIO is moving in on the cotton oil mills in this area. The coop mill at Lubbock has been chosen for the first go-round, much to the surprise of the officers and directors. In meetings this week the mill people are studying the unsure ground on which they stand. The manager has been called on by the "representative" and told to be careful of his public utterances. To the bewilderment of country people the strong arm of the federal government supports the unions in this kind of a movement.—Floyd County Hesperian.

FILM ON IRON SOLEPLATE

If you have trouble with starch sticking to your iron, here's a tip to keep in mind with the "starched clothes season" coming up. Margaret Spader, home service editor for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, suggests you let the iron cool partially. Then rub the soleplate over baking soda sprinkled on a damp cloth. Wipe the soda off with a clean damp cloth, then rub the iron over a piece of waxed paper.

Dear Editor:
 I see where some folks complain about paying taxes to help support farmers in 60 to 75 per cent of the style other types of business men have got accustomed to.

My neighbor who farms when not water skiing says they had better be glad to pay a little price support as long as it keeps farmers from unionizing to price their own goods, like Henry II tells us how much for a Ford.

Says if farmers got to where they could raise the prices on their stuff like town business men any time their palms got to itching, it would break a lot of people of the eating habit.

Why Gamble?

Yes, why gamble . . . when there's no chance of winning? That's the kind of gambling you're involved in when you drive your car beyond the recommended period without having the oil changed.

Although you may use the very best motor oil, such as Phillips 66 Trop-Artic*, there comes a time when the accumulation of impurities in the oil reduces its efficiency.

That's why lubrication experts say: the best motor protection is to use the best motor oil, and change it every 1,000 miles under average around-town driving conditions.

Be sure to let your Phillips 66 Dealer change oil for you on schedule.

PECAN ROLL IN 20 MINUTES

Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Combine 3 tablespoons butter 1-3 cup brown sugar and 1/4 cup pecans and spread the mixture on the bottom of a well greased bread pan. Place Brown 'N Serve dinner rolls tops down over the nutty mixture. Bake in the preheated oven for 15 minutes. Let the rolls stand in the pan for a minute or two before inverting the pan. This, Margaret Spader, home service editor of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says, permits the sugar mixture to set so it won't run off when the pan is removed.

OPEN SEASON FOR FISHING

If the tackle-and-bait department is beginning to look like business in your household, the cook had better take note. Margaret Spader, home service editor for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, suggests a few frills for the fish dinner: A cucumber sauce made by adding 1/2 cup finely chopped cucumber into 1/2 cup mayonnaise and a little fresh mint if it is available. Or, Hollandaise sauce seasoned with fresh lemon and tarragon will add a glamour touch. Slivered almonds or Brazil nuts, simmered slowly in butter over a low flame add texture as well as richness to fresh water fish.

High Plains Station Becomes Independent, Granted Charter

The rapid progress of the High Plains Station at Halfway in Hale County in attaining full stature as an agricultural research center now warrants recognition of the station on an independent basis, Karl Hoblitzelle of Dallas, President of the Texas Research Foundation, announced Saturday, April 18.

"Texas Research Foundation established and staffed the 310-acre High Plains Station in the fall of 1956 at the request of farmers, ranchmen, businessmen and industrialists in that region," Mr. Hoblitzelle said. "The phenomenal success with which our neighbors on the High Plains have developed that station into a fully functioning research center in an incredibly short period is heartening confirmation of the Foundation's self-help philosophy."

A charter from the State of Texas for the new institution, to be known as the High Plains Research Foundation, was granted on April 8, with the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees being Frank Moore, R. Virgil Payne, Harold Hinn, Graddy Tunnell, Jason Gordon, Hale County; Roy Mack, George W. Pfeifferberger, Lubbock County; Jack Yarbrough, Lamb County; Ewald Quebe, Floyd County; R. G. Feeler, Deaf Smith County; Crady Goodpasture, Terry County and Virgil Patterson, Potter County.

Hinn, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the High Plains Research Foundation, expressed gratitude to Texas Research Foundation for providing leadership for the establishment and development of the facility at Halfway in Hale County. "Without the assistance of Dr. C. L. Lundell and his staff at Renner to get the research program underway the High Plains Station could never have become a reality," Mr. Hinn stated.

"The industrial and agricultural growth of our region had presented agriculture with a number of pressing problems whose solutions demanded on the spot research," Mr. Hinn said.

"On several different occasions, we approached state agencies and the legislature with a request to provide facilities for meeting our needs, but each time our effort was fruitless."

Hinn described the more pressing of the region's major farm problems as being the efficient use and conservation of water, determination of fertilizer response for profitable fertility management and a need for new crops.

"Because of the lack of an experiment station, farmers had to resort to private water, soil and crop experiments, which proved costly and unsatisfactory," Hinn continued. He expressed pleasure with the progress which the High Plains Station is making in attacking the major problems. The station has enjoyed widespread acceptance by farmers and businessmen from the beginning.

Hinn saw for the High Plains Research Foundation a future growth and achievement which would assure it a permanent place in the development of the great High Plains country.

Hoblitzelle said that effective May 1, 1959, all operations of the former High Plains Station will be turned over to the High Plains Research Foundation. The former advisory council became, with only a few changes, the new board of trustees. The former executive committee, also with some changes, became in effect the executive committee of the new Foundation.

Frank Moore was elected president of the organization. Harold Hinn will serve as chairman of the board of trustees and the executive committee. R. V. Payne will serve as vice chairman of both bodies.

Vice presidents of the Foundation are R. G. Peeler, Hereford; Ewald Quebe, Lockney, and Jason Gordon, Plainview.

Graddy Tunnell will serve as secretary - treasurer. Dr. Tom Longnecker will continue as director of the station with Dr. Johnny Davis continuing as assistant director.

Members of the board of trustees include these Floyd County men: Clay Henry, Lon Davis Jr., and B. A. Robertson, Floydada; Ewald Quebe and Joe Foster, Lockney.

ON THE BEACH SCENE—Robert Bruce designed this smart cotton cabana set. A short, terry-lined jacket is worn over trim-cut boxer shorts. The interesting printed Everlast Everglaze cotton is completely wash and wear.

M. D. Lynn Proves He's A Fisherman

M. D. Lynn of Lockney landed a 23 1/2-inch carp in Elephant Butte lake at Truth or Consequence, N. M., last Friday that was worth $20 to him. His carp was the longest registered in a $3,000 fish derby being conducted by the merchants of Truth or Consequence.

Each week, Truth or Consequence merchants offer $20 each for the longest carp, trout, catfish, bass, crappie or Wall-eyed pike. The weekly contest continues through September 27.

Not only has Elephant Butte Lake become one of the hot fishing spots in the southwest this year, but it is also attracting water skiing enthusiasts, boats and even skin divers.

Last year was the first time for the contest and Lynn is the first angler of the Lockney area to win.

God's Word — His Authority

SHALL YOU SET FREE

God commanded Noah to make an ark of gopher wood and gave him specific directions how to build it. These instructions included its length, breadth, height, its windows, door, and all other details (Genesis 6:13-16). God called it "faith" when Noah obeyed these God-given instructions. He said, Hebrews 11:7, "By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of righteousness which is by faith."

Faith on Noah's part was doing what God commanded him to do. Faith on our part is obeying what God commands us to do. A failure to obey God's commandments to us is unbelief. "Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone (James 2:17)." "Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only" (James 2:24). "For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also" (James 2:26.)

Invite Amateurs To Compete At Cotton Carnival

Entries will now be accepted for three age divisions of the amateur talent contest for this year's Hi-Plains Cotton Carnival, according to Reagon Ashby, general carnival chairman. The talent contest will be one of the highlights of the carnival scheduled for the Plainview Cooperative Compress Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 7, 8, and 9.

Again this year all amateur performers will be grouped into three age divisions; through 9 years of age, from 10 through 14 years and from 15 up. Three cash prizes will be awarded in each age group. First prizes are $25, second prizes are $15 and third prizes are $10.

The contest is open to amateur performers residing anywhere on the South Plains and entries should be forwarded to the Plainview Chamber of Commerce. Entries may be solo or group performers and should be forwarded in time to reach the Cotton Carnival talent committee not later than May 8.

In the first two years of the Hi-Plains Cotton Carnival, the talent show has been one of the big attractions with some 1500 persons on hand both years. Again this year the contest will be held on closing night, Saturday, May 9th.

Any questions regarding the talent contest should be directed to the Chamber of Commerce offices here, according to Ashby.

WHEAT IRRIGATION
Research has shown that the most critical times for irrigated wheat are jointing stage, boot stage and following flowering stage. Wheat watered at these three stages have consistently given the best yields.

With adequate subsoil moisture an irrigation that will fill the top three feet of soil will give the best results. About 75% of the water used comes from the top three feet of soil. Water should not be critical during the above three stages, as much as a 10 bushel per acre loss can be expected if adequate water is not available at this time.

In most cases about 4 acre inches of water per acre either rainfall or irrigation applied at jointing, boot stage and after flowering has proved the most economical.

ALFALFA
The spotted alfalfa aphid has been reported in damaging number in the county. Each alfalfa grower should check his field for these insects. Control using 2-3 to 1 pint of malathion per acre and 1 pint of parathion per acre has proven effective. Malathion can be applied with ground sprayers while parathion should be applied with airplane.

Seven days for malathion and 21 days for parathion should elapse from application to cutting or grazing treated acres.

Cotton Growers Offer Technical Consulting Service

A free technical consulting service on the use of High Plains cotton is being offered to the nation by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and is being industry-wide attention.

The High Plains once a somewhat questionable source of producing quality cotton, the advertising and promotional campaign being conducted by the PCG is doing much to remedy this.

It was pointed out at the PCG board of directors that this organization is a cotton group that is doing a type of advertising that is being done by the cotton harvest season the last two weeks that the merchants, mill and shippers throughout the country with the quality of cotton. Also the PCG has published a new brochure on the 1958 crop which states that the value of the cotton output "provides excellent value for mills."

The free technical consulting service being offered by the PCG is based on years of fiber pilot plant spinning research which PCG officials feel definitely aid mill operations.

The new brochure points out that High Plains cotton is being used in an intensive program of research and education to help growers produce quality cotton.

The "re-cap" of semi-monthly quality reports to point up the success of the research and educational programs. The brochure points out that the approximately 25,000 cotton producers on the Plains annually harvest more than 40% of the Texas crop and about 15 to 17% of the national crop.

To evaluate the research program and provide technical spinning information, the PCG maintains a pilot spinning plant at Texas Tech. A large backlog of experimental data has been accumulated as the basis for a consulting service. The brochure carries charts which illustrate the excellent spinning performance of white and light spotted cottons of comparable fiber properties. It points out that there is no significant difference in spinning results.

Other tests prove finishing properties also are practically identical, the brochure points out. Light spots sell for substantial discounts, and afford an excellent raw cotton purchase, according to PCG officials.

The same type of information was published in an advertisement in the 1958-59 Cotton Trade Journal International Yearbook, which is read throughout the world cotton industry.

Present plans of the PCG calls for more of this type of advertising and promoting of High Plains cotton in the future. Also the pilot spinning plant at Tech, which is used to supply much of the statistics on the quality of the area crop, "will be the most modern in the country" when a program of SURVIVAL PLANS for civil defense action have been prepared by all but four states and can be tested during the civil defense training exercise, Operation Alert 1959, which begins April 17. The plans provide emergency evacuation and shelter procedures for states, cities and communities in event of enemy attack. New Mexico and Pennsylvania have their plans 75 per cent finished, Indiana 50 to 75 per cent, and South Carolina less than 50%. There are also 240 area plans within states.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — With just about three weeks left in the regular session, legislators will be under much pressure — to do many things and do them fast.

Each day that passes without agreement on financial matters heightens the possibility of a special session as soon as this one ends.

Many measures will be trampled under or pushed aside until '61. But as Speaker Waggoner Carr told the House, the problem of raising some new money "won't go away. It has to be faced."

NO EASY OUT — Like every other tax proposal made this session, the huge "something for everybody" omnibus tax bill recommended by the House Tax Committee brought howls of protest.

It would raise an estimated $151,000,000 a year by raising some old taxes and placing new taxes on hundreds of items. Tabbed for increases are natural gas, motor vehicles, cigarettes, liquor, wine, beer, licenses.

New targets include hotel rooms, restaurant meals, cigars, chewing tobacco, snuff, aircraft and auto parts, dozens of luxury items (jewelry, furs, cameras, watches, silver, etc.), radio and TV parts, business machines, commercial rentals, club dues, construction materials, dance studios, reducing salons.

Officially, the bill is known as the Tax Committee substitute.

expansion and improvement now underway is completed, says George W. Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice President.

With the PCG's program bringing in inquiries from mills and buyers throughout the cotton industry and from as far away as Canada and South Africa, it's apparent that the project could result in a considerable increase in the use and consumption of area cotton.

coops more "elbow room" has been sent to the Attorney General for an opinion.

Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, sponsor, protested to the House State Affairs Committee that this would kill the bill. This late in the session, delay is usually fatal.

Highly controversial, the bill would allow coops to add new customers after the area of their lines is annexed to a city.

ADVERTISING BILL ADVANCES — A state-financed advertising program for Texas moved close to final enactment despite heated opposition from an advertising man in the Senate.

Proposed bill would create the Texas Development Board to supervise tourist advertising by the Highway Department and industry advertising by the Texas Industrial Commission.

Sen. George Parkhouse, an advertising man from Dallas, objected, not to the idea of state advertising, but to the way it would be handled. He declared the suggested $100,000 appropriation would be wasted.

But the bill gained final approval in the Senate and next-to-final passage in the House.

FIRE-POLICE BILL GAINS — A shorter work week for many city firemen and policemen is near to legislative approval.

Senate has passed the bill finally, and a House committee has recommended passage.

Bill limits firemen's working hours to 72 in cities of 10,000 to 60,000 population, 63 hours in cities of 60,000 to 125,000 and 60 hours for all larger than 125,000. Policemen would work the same hours as other city employees.

City officials have protested the measure would raise local expenses and aggravate an already acute revenue-raising problem.

TEXAS DERBY? — Not given much chance of passing, but exciting some interest is a proposal to legalize horse racing and betting in Texas.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus introduced the measure which was sent to a House subcommittee. Thoroughbred horse breeders pointed out that legalized pari-mutual betting could bring in a lot of tax money.

Opponents, including Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University, charged it would bring on crime, poverty and immorality.

tute for H.B. 727. Unofficially, it's called a lot of other things.

House members showed no more eagerness to rally behind this broad-based approach than they had for Gov. Price Daniel's less "spread out" plan.

GIVE LITTLE, TAKE LITTLE — Two appropriations bills of varying sizes have been passed by the House and Senate. Differences will be adjusted by a conference committee of members from the two houses.

Both bills call for spending nearly $2,500,000,000 during the next two years. House bill is slightly larger. It calls for approximately $333,000,000 from general revenue. Senate would spend only $307,000,000 in general revenue.

To satisfy both houses, the conference committee will try to reach a compromise between these two figures. However, it's worked out, it's already clear that spending will considerably exceed the $281,000,000 spent from general fund for 1958-59.

ROUGH SLEDDING — Governor Daniel's "abandoned property act" barely squeaked by its first test on the House floor by a 71-69 vote.

Measure would allow the state to take over money and property unclaimed for seven years or more. Estimates of how much it would bring in immediately range from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Many bankers fear such a law would cause people to be afraid to put their money in banks and decide to stick it in a sock instead.

Backers of the measure say the banks and other businesses are holding and getting the benefit of property that does not belong to them, should be used to benefit all the people.

Pari-mutual betting was outlawed in Texas in the thirties, but proposals to return it come up frequently, always giving rise to lively legislative debate.

SHORT SNORTS — A youth vs. age battle was abandoned when the House failed to give enough votes to a proposed constitutional amendment to raise minimum age for Senators from 26 to 30. STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Whichever way the ball bounces, Texans can look forward to a hefty increase in state taxes for 1960-61.

House of Representatives passed a general appropriations bill calling for spending of $200,000,000 from general revenue. Senators took a more economical approach, began their work with a bill calling for $170,000,000.

Even so, the Senate proposal would put spending some $21,000,000 above the present level and require an estimated $117,000,000 in new tax money.

House bill includes longevity pay raises for long-time state employees and increases in welfare checks to the aged, blind and dependent, all added during floor debate. House also accepted committee recommendations for boosts in the appropriations for higher education, state hospitals and special schools and the prison system.

GASOLINE TAX VIEWED — Gov. Price Daniel says he's ready to support a 1-cent hike in the state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools, raise teacher salaries.

Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this, if it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

Texas still would have a lower gasoline tax than other states, said Daniel, even after the 1-cent raise. He said he felt sure service station operators would "go along" with it if it were for the purpose of better schools.

Opponents say that, with practically everyone having to use a car these days, the gasoline levy is about as "general as a sales tax can get."

HEALTH CHIEF RESIGNS — Recent target of lawmakers is the State Health Department, where Commissioner Henry A. Holle stepped out of his $16,000-a-year post under the glare of legislative disapproval.

Dr. Holle said he felt the department would be better off with another commissioner who could get more support in the way of legislative appropriations.

Meanwhile, both House and Senate launched inquiries into Health Department spending practices.

FLEXIBLE RATING OFF — State regulations of Texas auto insurance rates apparently will continue for at least another two years.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to approve a flexible rating plan, sent it to the subcommittee "graveyard."

Backers of the bill, mostly large out-of-state companies, claimed it would save Texas auto owners millions. Careful drivers would be rewarded with lower insurance, they said.

Opponents, including most Texas companies, fought the bill, said it would "take the lid off" rates. They said a merit rating plan, being considered by the State Board of Insurance, would take care of rewarding safe drivers.

LENDING BILL FILIBUSTERED — Senate disagreement over how to improve loan shark regulation brought on the first filibuster of the session.

Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo sponsored the House-passed measure which would, if approved by a vote of the people, amend the constitution. It would allow the Legislature to license lenders and set maximum interest rates. Present 10 per cent ceiling, widely ignored, would be abolished.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso led a long-winded assault on the measure. He and other senators insisted such regulation should be limited to loans under $500 to $200.

Senate gave Kazen's measure preliminary approval, despite all the opposition.

PARTY IN-FIGHTING BEGINS — Fifteen months ahead of convention time is not too soon for Texas Democrats to start haggling over who'll receive their presidential nominating votes.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is the focal point of controversy. Recent developments:

Young Democrats in Texas, currently controlled by left-wingers, declared the senator should pay more attention to the party platform. J. Ed Connally, chairman of the state executive committee, quickly announced the Young Demos did not speak for the party. He called them "immature extremists."

Democrats of Texas, unofficial liberal organization, announced it would have a convention in Austin in May. DOT, also, has "fallen out" with Sen. Johnson.

In the Legislature, the House elections committee approved a bill that would allow Senator Johnson to run for president and re-election as senator in the same general election.

INVESTMENT BOARD URGED — A bill by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville would create a new board to handle investments of three large state trust funds.

Making up the nine-member board would be the governor, attorney general, comptroller, chairmen of the two retirement systems, chairman of the State Board of Education and three bank presidents.

Investment in corporate stocks and bonds would be permitted by Hudson's measure. Altogether, the three funds total $820,000,000.

Dear Editor:
I see where Postal Pontiff Summerfield promises when people start traveling to the moon, they will practically find their mail waiting for them when they get there.

My impatient neighbor says they must have the route already set up and that's where his last letter got missed to which took 11 days to go 600 miles.

But says maybe the delay couldn't be helped. Mr. Summerfield may be pretty short-handed these days, on account of having to put a lot of his mail clerks on guard duty to keep people from stealing his new ball-point pens.

Best Varieties Of Chrysanthemums Are Found In Tests

Lubbock — Gardeners on the South Plains with penchant for chrysanthemums have a choice of some 20 varieties and seven colors suggested for West Texas this year by Texas Tech horticulturists.

Results of chrysanthemum trials on varieties furnished by Yoder Brothers of Barberton, Ohio, have been reported by Edward Zukauckas, assistant professor of horticulture.

"We have found the variety 'Resolute' to have exceptional vigor and excellent color — a bright russet bronze," Zukauckas said. "It's high quality and good-sized flowers in mid-October make this variety a must for the average South Plains garden."

The trials also served to recommend "Andante" — a good quality, flesh-bronze flower that is moderately tall; "Candytuft" — a light lavender pink, well-shaped plant and "Larry" — a medium to large white flower, borne on a relatively short plant.

Other general variety recommendations for 1959 include flowers in the following colors: White — Ostosa; Yellow — Astoria, Gold Lobe, Honeycomb, Bright Forecast and Sunstone; Bronze — Resolute, Huntsman, Andante and Toronto; Red — Remembrance; Pink — Allegro; Lavender and Purple — Fuchsia Fairy, Orchid Helen and Candytuft.

Large flowered exhibition types include White Pink Chief, Pink Chief, Major Bowes, Peggy Ann Hoover and Kathleen Storer.

Because many garden chrysanthemums have a tendency to overgrow when planted too early from cuttings or division, many gardeners want to know when is the latest possible date the garden mums may be pinched, Zukauckas said.

"Favorable growing conditions last year produced plants by the end of August that would be too tall for normal garden usage. Many of these plants were then sheared or cut back approximately one-half their height," he said.

Only a very slight delay in flowering resulted and the plant forms were not unattractive tive or affected by wind and rain, he said.

Some slight delay was witnessed in flowering, but this amounted to one or two days' delay in initial blossoming and a similar delay in peak bloom, the Tech horticulturist reported.

They tended to shear those plants that were mid-October blooming types, or later, and had narrow branching tendencies. Avoid cutbacks or extremely woody plants or those showing much budding at this time, he advised. It would probably be desired not to cut back later than August 15-20 on actively growing plants.

Complete data on the Tech chrysanthemum trials and shearing practices are available from the Tech horticulture department.

when you cook ELECTRICALLY!

Yes, results ARE easy to see when you cook electrically. The completely closed (and insulated) electric oven saves you money on roasts, keeps natural juices and flavor "locked in." Shrinkage is greatly reduced because of controlled electric heat. You serve with pride when you cook electrically because you're sure of the same, dependable results each and every time you use your electric range.

OUR FIRST PAIR OF SHOES

A great king, so the legend goes, once stepped on a thorn in his garden. In a rage he ordered his entire kingdom covered with leather. His wise prime minister suggested, "let me cover your feet with leather, and wherever you go you will be protected." And so the first pair of shoes was made!

The little fellow who wears these shoes has a long way to travel. His journey through life will not be free of thorns. And he'll need more than shoes to make that journey!

He'll need to develop a spiritual fiber which will strengthen his character. A man can't carpet the whole world — but he can acquire the faith and courage which will enable him to climb life's most rugged trails.

The Church brings such qualities to the life of man. The Church points the way to happy, wholesome living — for the grown-up with the burdens of life on his shoulders — and for the little tot in his first pair of shoes!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Cotton Growers Must Use Cost Cutting Plan

College Station. — "Cotton Producers have made their final decision on their 1959 allotment, either plan A or B," C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist said, "and unless disaster occurs, growers know the exact acreage they are permitted to harvest."

He said proper fertilization, good stands, control of weeds, and effective insect control are some important considerations in getting the highest production at lowest cost from the cotton grown.

Plans should be made to use every practice that will help to reduce unit production costs, as lower costs per bale of cotton marketed will mean greater profit for Choice A and B producers alike.

In some areas the importance of certain practices rank higher than others. Cotton growers should check with their county agricultural agent for local practice recommendations Bates suggested.

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where President Ike wants to do away with the farm parity program of paying farmers for their work according to what it costs them to live and do business.

My George-riding neighbor says this non-parity idea ought to apply to a lot of characters besides farmers.

Like it ought to stop grocery stores from raising prices on the flimsy excuse that stuff costs them more, and also ought to do away with the cost-of-living parity scheme which gives Congressmen and other hired help more pay just because they can't live on what they are worth.

Crossroads, U. S. A.

Like other enterprises, cotton deserves the best management that can be given, he said. Extra attention to cost-reduction practices are especially important this year, advised Bates, since price support levels are below those for 1958.

With the aid of x-ray examinations in certain patients, radiologists are now better able to judge the amount of calcium in a child's bones. Thus, an underdeveloped boy or girl can be given medical treatment and grow up into a well-formed healthy adult.

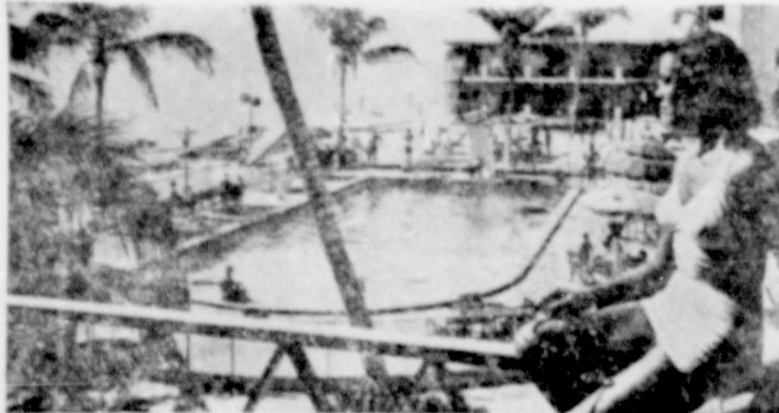

Motor vehicle accidents killed 36,700 and injured 2,825,000 on U.S. highways during 1958.

Vertical Integration Noted In Texas Hog Production

College Station. — "Vertical Integration in Texas Agriculture—Hogs," is the title of a new bulletin released jointly by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Integrated hog production is in the experimental stages of development in Texas. Most interest in integration has been on the low-income farms of the feed-lacking East Texas timberlands. Broiler producers who are looking for other sources of income to offset the effects of narrow cost-price margins on broilers are greatly interested in integrated hog production. There has also been mild interest in integration among farmers who produce their own grain.

Vertical integration is defined as the linking together of two or more stages of production, processing or marketing activities under one management. The key feature of vertical integration is the centralization of decision-making, risk-bearing and supervision.

There are three types of hog integration. They are: the farmer owns or obtains his pigs, and the feed company finances the feed; if the farmer raises his own grain, the feed company finances the purchase of pigs and the supplement; the feed company finances everything other than buildings and labor.

Plan A is the most common in Texas. Few farmers producing hogs under contract raise their own grain. Most feed dealers consider Plan C too risky. At the present time one or two percent of the commercial hog producers in Texas operate under some type of contract with a feed or packing company or both.

The bulletin also discusses future developments, precautions in making contracts and entering into integration.

The bulletin can be obtained from your county agent or by writing the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for L-424.

Studies by The Travelers Insurance Companies show that driver error caused 85 per cent of the highway accidents in 1958.

Some 105,000 persons in the U.S. today are using x-ray equipment, of whom 5,000 are accredited radiologists, physicians specializing in diagnostic and therapeutic x-ray, radium and active substances.
