EDITORIAL

I shall bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth. — Psalm 34:1

ALL THE NOISE made by those who oppose the new auto insurance plan would lead one to believe that it is a monstrosity designed to fleece the auto owner and make all the insurance companies rich. However we are of the opinion that it is not as bad as some would have us believe. It does probably have some bad features but the idea of penalizing the careless driver and rewarding the careful driver is good and something should be worked out along that line. Another thing that seems to us desirable is a competitive rate system in this state. Competition usually is good for any business and we see no reason why the auto insurance business would be any exemption. We're thinking somebody is making a political football out of the insurance mess.

WE'RE NOT ONE of Mr. John L. Lewis admirers. No doubt that he has done a lot for the members of the miner's union and the experts say that he has been co-operative with the mine owners in allowing the introduction of automation and mechanization in the mines. But we keep remembering the early days of his reign as president of the United Mine Workers when he allowed, possibly even ordered, a group of non-union mine workers shot down in cold blood because they wanted to work and make a living for their families. Such atrocities are not part of the make-up of a great man.

SOME OF OUR fellow-Texans have cold feet about Mr. Lyndon Johnson's chances for the Democratic nomination for presidency as well as his election. We think they ought to be more optimistic — that is if they really are interested in seeing him get the chance to be president. Let's don't give up the ship before we even start to sail. Mr. Johnson is a man whose abilities are not fully appreciated by many of his admirers. True that he probably has less than an even chance now to get the nomination. But so do the other candidates. Let's give Mr. Johnson solid backing in his home state. That's the least we can do.

WE SAY "solid" backing but of course that's asking too much. As was demonstrated recently Mr. Ralph Yarborough and his ultra-liberal friends probably cannot find it in their "conscience" to back Johnson for president. No one but Hubert Humphrey or some other scatter-brain who wants to give away everything the government has would suit them. But we're thinking there will be enough voters in Texas supporting Mr. Johnson to give him the backing he needs from his home state.

AND NOW comes Senator Kennedy, who says that his being a Catholic will not be much of a consideration with the voters, yet it the Democratic party does not see fit to nominate him it will run the risk of losing the Catholic vote in the presidential election. It is interesting that Mr. Kennedy thinks that the non-Catholic voter will not consider his religion much of a factor but that the Catholic voter will make it a factor if he isn't nominated. What kind of reasoning is that?

ALTHOUGH AMERICA'S economy grew during the past century at a rate unparalleled in history, this space has slowed during the 1950's to the point where the United States stands almost at the bottom of the list of major nations in terms of economic growth. That statement was agreed upon by a panel of 11 distinguished economists, meeting at a forum conducted by the National Industrial Conference Board. The American preference for more leisure was mentioned as a factor contributing to slowed growth.

A MIDWESTERN company manufacturing nails pays its workers $2.90 an hour and sells its product at $9.80 per 100 pounds. Similar nails from a German plant, with wage costs of 90 cents an hour, can be purchased in America for about 15 per cent less. America now imports about 50 times more nails than it exports.

THANKS, MR. WAGGONER

I have been watching with interest the growing ink-stained-clouds between Editor Edgar Hays of the Lockney Beacon and Editor H. M. Baggary of the Tullia Herald. It is interesting that Mr. Kennedy thinks that the non-Catholic voter will not consider his religion much of a factor but that the Catholic voter will make it a factor if he isn't nominated. What kind of reasoning is that?

So far they have not been misled by the doctrines of "World Brotherhood" and "One Worldism," and it isn't likely they will place this doctrine above Christ in their preaching. They have a right to claim they are not a "Protestant" group in that their history goes back into antiquity. So Baptists have seen "social orders" rise and fall, but they have remained steadfast in their faith and are not easily drifted by worldly winds. Why? Their faith comes from the Bible instead of the intellectual whims of men — Cecil O. Waggoner in Claude News.

"YES, MRS. RANDOLPH"

Texans who keep informed on inside politics had no difficulty in finding the reason for Sen. Ralph Yarborough's alignment with a handful of other leftwing dissenters in the peanut "revolt" against the leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson. The "revolt" died a-borning in Washington last week.

The junior Senator's action at the conclusion of a Senate Democratic caucus was part of the same, old "Tinker to Evers to Chance" double-play constantly practiced between the National party's extremely "liberal" branch and Mrs. R. D. Randolph, State Democratic committeewoman for Texas.

National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler, who fronts for the extreme liberals in the Northern wing of the Party, whispers the "word" to Mrs. Randolph, the darling of the Texas left, and she, in turn, whispers it to Yarborough. The Randolph-owned political propaganda publication, an Austin weekly, lambasts Johnson several times per issue and, in adjoining columns, prints means of praise of Yarborough. Mrs. Randolph and her unhappy crowd are dedicated to causing all the trouble they can to constituted authorities of the Democratic Party in Texas and the energetic Yarborough trots around the State and in Washington obediently carrying their message. He's their boy — all the way. — Lubbock Avalanche.

ON THE POLL TAX

Reading the papers and listening to street talk we have concluded that we are alone in urging that the poll tax be retained in Texas. The poll tax has served and is serving a good purpose. It is not a tax on the right of a man to vote. The poll tax should be retained. Wait until we get in the mess the fixers are going to have when they get it abolished. — Homer Steen in Floyd County Hesperian.

"As long as you feel you are serving others, you do the job well. When you are concerned only with helping yourself, you do it less well. This is a law as inexorable as gravity." — Arthur Gordon.

Dear Editor:

I see where some states have got a merit system on car insurance rates, so if you are a perfect driver you get a little reduction, but if you ever overlooked a stop sign you pay maybe double.

Which ought to soon get careless drivers priced off the highways, but won't solve the traffic problem because it leaves wayward pedestrians uncllobbered.

My super-market neighbor says what he would like to see is a law to make the stores charge jaywalkers 20 per cent extra for their groceries.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin, Texas. — Nothing that has come out of state government in recent months has caused a big ruckus as the merit plan auto insurance rates.

It is possible to take either side of the question and start a lively argument on almost any street corner.

Critics have mounted a two-pronged attack: (1) to get the Board of Insurance, which authorized the plan, to change it and (2) to get the courts to declare it unconstitutional.

Board hearing to review the plan was called at the request of Sen. Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo, one of the most vocal objectors to the plan. Just before the hearing, a group of attorneys from the Harris County chapter of the Texas Association of Plaintiffs' Attorneys filed suit in an Austin district court seeking a permanent injunction against use of the plan.

Chairman Penn J. Jackson declared the Board would listen to all protests with an open mind. Most insurance rates, he said, are subject to frequent changes. However, Jackson emphasized that the Board is directed by law to consider safety incentives and driving records, past and prospective, in its rate making.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no accidents or moving traffic convictions on their records for the past three years would get lower rates. Compensating for this would be a sliding scale of higher rates to be paid by others according to the number and seriousness of the marks against them.

Loudest gripes are about the retroactive feature of the plan and the fact that any moving traffic violation, no matter how minor, counts against the motorist.

Because it does go back three years in effect, the plan is often labeled an "ex post facto law" (law against something that happened in the past) which is unconstitutional.

Some motorists complain that in the past they have paid fines on tickets when they were not actually at fault — just to avoid the trouble of going to court.

Sen. Hazlewood derived the idea of putting all violators in the same class — those that go 23 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone and those that go 100 miles an hour. He charged, too, that much ticket giving is merely a money-raising proposition. Residents of cities where traffic is strictly policed and all accidents and violations faithfully reported to the Department of Public Safety will get it in the neck, said the senator. Small towns are generally less diligent in policing or reporting violations to DPS.

Hazlewood said he was and still is in favor of a "realistic" merit rating plan.

Defenders of the present plan say that if law enforcement is at fault, this, not the insurance plan, should be worked on.

With all the fussing and fuming, say proponents, it must be admitted that motorists are now giving more thought to careful driving than ever before. A traffic ticket costing $60 is a sobering thought.

Teachers' organizations say they believe Gov. Price Daniel will call a session after Feb. 1.

Teachers want to see the matter come up at a special session rather than at the next regular session in 1961. In a regular session, they would face again the same obstacles they faced in 1959, the necessity of taking care of regular money needs probably including a deficit, before any new appropriations will be considered.

FACULTY RAISES PROPOSED
—Commission on Higher Education recommends the Legislature raise salaries for state college professors by 12 per cent for 1962 and 18 per cent for 1963.

Commission said Texas colleges need to pay this much more to be able to keep up with other colleges in competing for the available supply of teachers.

During its last session the Legislature cut the Commission's requested college budget by 7 per cent.

Commission has agreed to hear the University of Houston's request for inclusion in the state college system at its April meeting.

BANKING AUTHORITY SPELLED OUT — Savings and loan associations may not open branches without approval of the State Banking Commission. State Supreme Court issued this opinion in an 8-to-1 decision on a case in which a Houston savings and loan association had challenged the commission's right to pass on a proposed branch. Savings and loan associations, like banks, are chartered by the Banking Commission.

Court said this regulation was necessary to prevent "excessively zealous competition through control of building and loan associations in an area."

Dissenting judge said there is nothing in the law to give the commission this power.

RESERVOIR PLANS ASSAILED — City of Fort Worth has joined the San Jacinto River Authority in protesting plans to build a Trinity River dam near Houston.

An engineer representing Ft. Worth told the State Water Board he felt Fort Worth's future water rights would be impaired if Houston and the Trinity River Authority build a reservoir near Livingston and take out 1,200,000 gallons a day, as requested. To protect needs of Upper Trinity Basin users, it was suggested the Livingston project be cut in half.

A spokesman for the San Jacinto River Authority said he felt the Trinity should not be developed for Houston use because it is polluted with Dallas and Fort Worth sewage.

SHORT SNORTS — Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo has been named chairman of the Radiation Study Committee created by the Legislature to consider state regulations and safety measures for the peacetime use of atomic energy. Public school administrators meeting in Austin discussed the prospect of requiring 20 credits for high school graduation rather than the present 16. Some superintendents reported their schools are already requiring more than 16, not including the "easier" subjects as music, health, physical education.

Sand Hill News

By Mrs. James Jeffress

It seems winter weather really has a grip on this part of the country. It's been so long since anyone has done any work in the fields that a days work might make our husbands sick. Most of them have taken up these farm sales as a hobby and have been making it just fine, since there's been one every day except Saturday for the past few weeks.

David Bloys and Mrs. W. R. Billington have been reported ill this week. We wish them a speedy recovery.

Sand Hill Club will have a meeting Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Hollis McLain as hostess. Plans will be completed for serving at the farm sale at the Rafe Ferguson farm next Wednesday, Jan. 27, instead of Tuesday, Jan. 26. Mrs. C. B. Carmack and Mrs. Pat Bullocks met with Mrs. McLain last Wednesday to complete plans for the sale.

Mrs. T. C. Hollums and Norma were in Plainview Saturday.

Mrs. William Mayo received word Saturday that an aunt at McCally, Texas, had a heart attack. Mr. and Mrs. Rarrell Mayo took his grandmother to her sister's bedside. The ill woman was better Wednesday.

Ernest Baird visited in the home of Stinson Stringer Saturday night. Ernest is a former resident of the community and was home on leave from the service to attend the funeral of one of his cousins in New Mexico.

Visiting in church services Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Olen Baird and family from near Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Baird and family from Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffress visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shafe Weaver in Silverton Monday while attending a farm sale at Silverton.

The Intermediates of the Sand Hill Baptist Church and their guests will enjoy a party in the home of Brother and Mrs. Franklin Reay Friday night of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Holland visited in Floydada with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams and grandmother Kibben who is ill.

Gov. Price Daniel has appointed Jack Woodward of Dallas to the Commission on Higher Education for a term ending in March, 1965. Other executive appointments: V. P. Ringer of Houston and William J. Elliott of El Paso to the Texas Real Estate Commission and Dr. Louis T. Bogy of San Antonio and Dr. A. V. Johnson of Midland to the State Board of Chiroprody Examiners. State Hospital Board has voted to sell 306 acres from the Kerrville State Hospital grounds and 80 to 90 acres from the San Antonio State Hospital. Preliminary plans were approved for buildings and improvements at the Denton State School, Austin State Hospital, Rusk State Hospital, Mexia State School and Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Childrens Pictures Will Be Published In The Beacon

An expert children's photographer will be at The Beacon Office on Friday, February 5th, to make pictures of children of this area. The pictures will be published in The Beacon soon thereafter under a "Citizens of Tomorrow" theme.

All parents are invited to bring their children in and have their pictures made without obligation of any kind. There is absolutely no charge for making the pictures or for having them printed in The Beacon. If the parent desires extra prints of any of the pictures they may obtain them when they select the pose they want published in the paper. Appointments may be made by calling The Beacon Office, Phone OL 4-3318.

The governor of only one state, J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, was born outside the S. (in Sweden).

Those who prefer long hair might as well obey the regulations; the habit may guarantee immunity from jury, but it will help.

Midget ball bearings made in New Hampshire come 22,700 the pound. One pound is worth $129.390, or about 230 times as much as gold.

4-H Winners In '59 Projects

Two 1959 project winning boys from Texas, both 17, attended the 38th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

They were G. C. Dean Jr. of Bishop, dairy project winner whose Chicago trip was provided by the Oliver Corporation, and Herky Killingsworth of Paducah, the state's best on 4-H entomology.

Dean Killingsworth
4-H projects, who were in Chicago as guest of Hercules Powder Company.

Both have completed their 4-H work under direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

In eight years of club work Dean has earned nine trophies and 109 ribbons, including a number of grand and reserve championships.

Young Dean has fulfilled a dream of becoming president of the Bishop 4-H Club. He is a senior at Bishop High school.

Through his 4-H study young Killingsworth has become the Lone Star state's outstanding 4-H entomologist for 1959. He has done valuable work along this line for the Texas A & M College system. For two years he was a member of the winning Cottle county entomology team, placing fourth this year at the State Round-Up.

A junior at Paducah High school, Killingsworth has organized and is junior leader of an entomology club for younger girls and boys.

World Cotton Supply Is Up From Last Year

College Station. — The cotton supply in the United States during the current season, August 1, 1959 to July 1, 1960, is estimated at 23.7 million bales, about 3.4 million over that of 1958-59.

One reason for the increase in supply, said John McHaney, extension economist, is that the 1959 crop was about 3.3 million bales over 1958 because of larger acreage and a record yield of 474 pounds per acre. The larger acreage was due to the ending of the acreage reserve program which took five million acres of cotton land out of production in 1958. The Choice B support program also increased the supply in that it added about one million acres to 1959 allotments.

Of the 15 million bale disappearance expected during 1959-60, exports are expected to be about 5.6 million bales, double that of last season. One reason for this increase in exports is a decline in foreign free world production. The economist said even though the foreign production decline is estimated to be only two percent of 1958-59 production, such a decline alone could mean an increase in U. S. exports of about 14 percent over last year. This, he emphasized, illustrates what can happen in the long run if U. S. prices are maintained at relatively low levels. Other reasons for the export increases are an increase in cotton consumption and relatively low cotton stocks in the foreign free world.

Domestic consumption of cotton during 1959-60 is expected to be about 9 million bales compared to 8.7 million a year earlier due to a higher level of economic activity and the replenishment of the low level stock of textiles. The economist pointed out that the lower cotton prices may have also stimulated consumption to some extent. However, the effect of prices on cotton consumption is usually a long-term factor. He noted also that the minimum prices stipulated by the current price support program should help the future competitive position of cotton. Research and promotion, however, will have to continue their part in the future, along with lower prices at domestic mills for cotton. McHaney added that competition from man-made fibers continues strong and could be stronger if cotton prices were higher.

last in Floydada was a Spanish baby.

Billy Odis Starkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Odis Starkey of Lockney, was the last baby born there in 1959, arriving on December 30. The last baby for 1959 arriving in Floydada was a baby daughter born December 31, at 12:20 p. m. to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Romero.

Dear Editor:
I see where the government is going to let lipstick factories run on for a few days longer using the 17 colors which federal health wardens claim make rats sick.

My lipstick expert neighbor says he notes the said impure colors are mostly reds and oranges, and he can testify that lipsticks in these hues have caused trouble among mankind.

Says, though, with only blues and greens left for lip illumination, it is going to take a while to get used to the new look in women.

WORTH MORE BECAUSE THEY WORK MORE

Chevy's new torsion springs and Sturdi-Bilt design are changing everybody's ideas about how much work a truck can do. Last year's schedules are out—Chevrolet trucks ride faster over the rough runs to get in more trips a day! Big repair bills are no longer a problem—Chevrolet trucks soak up punishment that means downtime to other makes! And trade-in time's put off for extra thousands of miles—'60 Chevrolet trucks stay new like never before!

New Dollar-Saving Prices
Step-Vans, 4-Wheel Drives, many light-duty models with automatic transmissions—all are lower priced. Prices have also been reduced on all optional V8's.

New Torsion-Spring Suspension
Eliminates I-beam shimmy and wheel fight! With torsion springs up front there's a brand-new, smoother, easier handling feel behind the wheel. New rear suspensions include wide-based coil springs in most light-duty models; tougher variable-rate leaf springs in medium- and heavy-duty models.

Electronically Balanced Wheels
Front wheels and tires are balanced at the factory. Helps make that new ride revolutionary!

New Cabs—Wider, Safer, More Comfortable

Many models are a whole 7 inches lower (without sacrificing road clearance), so it's easier to hop in and out of cabs. Still there's more space inside: more room for hats and hips, more foot room with suspended pedals. Cabs are safer, too; new build makes them 67% more rigid.

Plus Improvements All Through the Line

A new steering linkage system that cuts vibration, means better control. There's new V8 efficiency. Sixes long famous for saving. New key-turn starting. Higher, wider visibility. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about the world's most advanced trucks.

Conservation Work In State Made Progress In 1959

College Station. — A year-end summary of conservation educational activities carried out during 1959 in Texas shows that real progress was made, says Jack H. Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist. The summary was compiled by Barton from the 1959 annual reports of the State's county agricultural agents.

The specialist said that team work and understanding between the supervisors of the Soil Conservation Districts and the county agents of Texas were largely responsible for the progress made in educational activities. These activities included meetings, tours and contests, educational exhibits and demonstrations, preparation of newspaper and magazine stories, presentation of radio and television programs, distribution of printed material, and meetings involving SCD supervisors and county agents.

All educational activities showed good increases, Barton said. Outstanding increases were posted in the use of educational exhibits and demonstrations and printed materials for furthering conservation work, he noted.

Barton pointed out that the 177 soil conservation districts of Texas now cover approximately 98 percent of the farm and ranch lands and that the districts are the medium through which local residents can develop and promote their own soil, water and plant conservation program.

Each of the districts, he added, is a self-governed, State busdivisions established by the district residents through popular vote. They concentrate the authority in the local community and exercise it by democratic methods. A local district is supervised by a five-man board, and are elected public officials of a subdivision of the State government.

The Texas Legislature in 1940 authorized the creation of Soil Conservation Districts as an aid to carrying out the State Constitution as it relates to the conservation of soil and water resources, and to promote and protect the health, safety, and general welfare of the people of Texas.

WHEREVER YOU ARE

Cotton's not just a home body, it's part of the business scene, too. For career men and women it makes clothing that's smart, comfortable and practical. It makes scores of essential office items from typewriter ribbons to ledger paper, from index tabs to bookbindings, including drapes, upholstery, carpeting and hand towels.

No other fiber has cotton's unique natural advantages. No other fiber has cotton's amazing versatility. Now that chemistry has added new qualities — quick-drying, resistance to soil, mildew, wrinkling — cotton's uses have been still further broadened.

Indoors or out, at work or play, cotton is part of every picture, because it is the one fiber adaptable to almost every use.

AMERICAN COTTON PRODUCER ASSOCIATES SET OBJECTIVES

Lockney. — The American Cotton Producer Associates appointed a "yardstick" to cotton legislative program which the main objective is to return cotton to its character of trade and to protect the farmers' income. The first 1960 board of directors met in Lubbock.

Ernest Smith, president of the Cotton Growers, Inc., hosted the ACPA board meeting. He explained that the board also call for provisions for orderly market and stability in price. Farmers to use their land more effectively, to provide more cotton to both domestic and foreign mills as a continuation of the subsidy and export program long as needed.

Directors called for a reduction of the cotton surplus, to reduce consumption of cotton, to stabilize price for other fibers and a relations program to give the American cotton the true picture of the world situation.

Directors voted overwhelmingly to oppose any allotments on a price basis; they discussed no action on the Mundt which relates to price on oil seeds; approved membership expansion for 1960; agreed to support efforts to reduce the number of rows that be skipped to two or three.

Directors voted to oppose change in Public Law 78, also passed a resolution of the National Cotton

Council to appoint producer delegates to program committees on a rotating basis and asked that committee members so named be allowed to serve only one term per committee.

Attending the sessions here were representatives of cotton producer groups from Arkansas, Missouri, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, New Mexico, California and Texas. At present the ACPA has member groups in all these states except New Mexico and California.

Prior to the meeting the group toured the offices of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the pilot spinning plant at Texas Tech College.

Soybeans, Sesame Added To Hi-Plains Research Program

The 1960 research program of the High Plains Research Foundation was expanded by action of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees at their January meeting. Mr. Harold Hinn, Chairman of the Board announced today.

Soybean and sesame variety testing was expanded to include fundamental plant breeding investigations to develop varieties specifically adapted to the High Plains area. This program was enlarged to meet requests of farmers and business representatives for better yielding and more suitable varieties. Employment of additional personnel to assist Dr. Earl Collister in this program was approved.

"Soybeans could very well be the savior of the agricultural economy of the High Plains in fulfilling one of the needs for a dependable additional crop that can be grown in a rotation with grain sorghum and cotton," Mr. Hinn said in commenting on this enlargement of the Foundation's research program.

An agreement with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock was approved by the Committee. The coordination and cooperation in agricultural research in the area was established by this agree-

Observe the 3 C's — caution, care and common sense to prevent overloading electrical circuits. Failure to take proper precautions can result in bodily harm or damage to property, or both.

Overloading an electrical circuit not only causes a drop in efficiency but it is also unsafe. It causes overheating of wires, which cause the wiring insulation to dry out, get brittle, and can result in a fire hazard.

If the correct size fuse for the circuit is used it cannot be overloaded because the fuse will blow out before the wiring gets too hot. The fuse is the safety valve. In order to determine the correct fuse size, follow this guide:

No. 14 wire, which is about the size of a 3-penny finishing nail, requires a 15 amp. fuse.

No. 12 wire, about the size of a 3-penny common nail, requires a 20 amp. fuse.

In other words, the wire size determines the correct fuse size.

Loaf Bread Pans

At the leader training meeting on Yeast Breads and Rolls last Monday, a question was asked concerning the kinds of baking loaf breads. Plain finish-bread pans that are best for bread making, seasoned (darkened) in pans, and glass pans are satisfactory. If the glass pans are used the temperature of the oven should be reduced 25 degrees because glass absorbs heat readily and holds it.

If your tin pans are shiny your bread may brown on top but not in the sides, because the shiny tin reflects the heat. To "season" your pans, wash them and put them in a 400 degree oven for several hours until the brightness has darkened. Remove the cool them and they're ready to use.

the costs are comparable, but in others, buyers will find price differences. A little shipping will show these differences, adds the chemist.

Generally, liquid fertilizers are easier to handle and apply, provided proper equipment is available. On the other hand, points out Bennett, storage tanks and special applicators required with liquids are not required when dry fertilizers are used.

From the standpoint of increased crop yields, either type of plant food, if used in the correct amounts and properly applied, should give equal results, Bennett said.

A summary of 27 experiments in which liquid and solid fertilizers were compared showed little difference. The experiments covered a wide area and the same methods of application were used. In only three instances liquid fertilizers produced greater yields than did the solid or dry plant food. In one instance, greater yields resulted from the use of solid or dry fertilizers. In these cases, Bennett said, differences in yields were small and were not apparent on the same soil type in succeeding years.

The main considerations for making a determination of which type of plant food to use are cost and ease of handling and application. In some areas

Dear Editor:

I see where some college football coaches want to go back to the former unlimited substitution rule.

My slow-ball neighbor says he notes unlimited substitution has made the sport of matrimony more interesting, especially in Hollywood, and ought to perk up football when, say, a coach needs to send his best clipper back in the game.

But says Congress is where we need this rule the most, so as we wouldn't have to wait up to six years to send in a substitute for a legislator who starts running the wrong way.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY.

THE NEW CREATURE

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Cor. 5:17).

To be "in Christ" is to be in His body, the church. One is reconciled to God in Christ (II Cor. 5:18-19). One is also reconciled to God in one body (Eph. 2:16). This shows that to be "in Christ" is to be in the "His Body" and His body is the church (Eph. 1:22-23; Col. 1:18; 1:24).

The same process which puts one into Christ also puts him into Christ's Body, the church. We believe "unto righteousness" (Rom. 10:10). Repentance is "unto life" (Acts 11:18). Christ's name is confessed "unto salvation" (Romans 10:9-10). The final step in the plan of salvation is baptism and it puts one into Christ (Romans 6:3-4; Gal. 3:27). Baptism also puts one into Christ's death (Romans 6:3-4). His blood was shed in His death and that is where the sinner reaches the atoning power of His blood. Salvation from past sins (Mark 16:16; I Peter 3:21) is received at the point of Baptism. This is also the act of obedience in which sins are "washed away" by Christ's blood (Acts 22:16) and the sinner receives remission or forgiveness of sins (Acts 2:38).

Obedience to Christ's plan of salvation puts the sinner "in Christ" and makes him a "new creature".

Fertilizers

In tests conducted throughout the state comparing dry or liquid fertilizers both generally are equal value in improving crop yields. The main consideration in using dry and liquid fertilizers are cost and the necessary equipment available for application.

Many of you may plan on fertilizing crops next year, a soil test is one of the best ways to determine what your soil needs for a specific crop. Now is a good time because most soil testing labs can process your samples without delay. Forms and containers are available in the County Agents Office if you would like to send them to the Extension soil testing laboratory.

Demonstration Results

We have available in the County Agents Office a mimeographed copy of all the demonstration results conducted in Floyd County for 1959. Soap became a part of his daily life long before he understood its use. He's still more concerned with its bubbles than its cleansing properties—but he knows soap is mighty important.

And no one ever thought of postponing his bath until he was old enough to make decisions for himself!

Wise parents never postpone a child's religious training. Long before he is able to reason, he needs the character-building and guidance of the Church. Christianity should become important to him in his daily experience before its truths can be fully grasped by his mind.

We are fortunate that our churches are equipped to instill a vital Christian faith in the youngest child. Fortunate is the boy or girl whose parents begin his religious training in their church's Nursery or Beginners' Department.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pat Buchanan Is Crowned Football Queen

Miss Pat Buchanan, senior, was crowned Football Queen at the annual football banquet held Saturday night at the High School Cafeteria. Tut Tarwater, sports director of K.V.O.P., Plainview radio station, was speaker for the event. Leroy Durham was master of ceremonies and H. H. Nicholas, School Superintendent, offered the invocation. Weldon Smith, president of the Boosters Club, gave the welcome and Terry Clark, a tri-captain, gave the response.

The Harmonettes, composed of Jane Rhodes, Cheryl Rucker, Carolyn Belt and Sandra Smith, sang "You've Gotta Be a Football Hero". They were accompanied by Miss Janie Reynolds at the piano.

Coach Elvin Lyon introduced the speaker.

Dan Smith, a tri-captain, revealed the name of the Football Queen, selected by secret ballot and kept secret until banquet time. Miss Buchanan, an honor student, was also selected recently as "Miss LHS". She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Buchanan. She was escorted by her brother, Oyvama, and seated upon a throne decorated in the school colors of red and white. Dan Smith placed a football helmet on her head and Lewis Eiland, also a tri-captain, presented the honor with a dozen red roses. Terry Clark made the team's presentation of a gold football.

The three princesses were seated at the foot of the Queen's throne. They were Carolyn Harris, a junior, escorted by Bill Mangold; Jo Readhimer, sophomore, escorted by Ricky Collins; and Jane Reynolds, freshman, escorted by Joe Allard.

The varsity team were presented with new football jackets and the "B" and Freshmen teams were presented with gold footballs.

F. M. Smith, principal, gave the benediction, followed by the entire group singing the school song.

Approximately 110 attended the event which is sponsored annually by the Boosters Club. Mothers of the football boys did the decorating and helped in planning and preparing the meal. The F.H.A. girls served.

Tables were laid with white with red streamers down the center. White mums featuring "L.H.S." in red letters formed the centerpiece for the head table. Place cards were red paper helmets. Glittered helmets and footballs decorated the other tables.

GRAIN SORGHUM DIRECTORS HEAR REPORTS, MAKE PLANS

Thirty-five directors and leaders of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, from ten counties of the High Plains, met in Tulla, Thursday, January 14th. The group reviewed the Association's past year's activities and mapped plans for the 1960 program of research, market development and service to be conducted in interest of area grain sorghum.

The directors authorized R. G. Peeler of Hereford and their executive officer, Bill Nelson of Amarillo, to attend meetings of the National Conference of Commodity Organizations which are being held in Washington later this month. Since the 1960 price supports have not been announced for feedgrains, it is expected that the pair will center with United States Department of Agriculture and legislative officials urging an early announcement of the support prices and that they will plead for a more equitable relationship between the price of grain sorghum and other feedgrains in 1960.

Sam Gilbreath, Vice President and Dimmitt farmer, reported on a feedgrain conference which he attended, held in connection with the National Wheat Growers Association's annual meeting in Wichita, Kansas, recently. Gilbreath reported that many agricultural and legislative leaders attending the meeting were very pessimistic relative to new and workable farm legislation during 1960. He indicated, however, that there appeared to be strong "grass roots" feeling among wheat growers and some corn area leaders that a different farm program approach must be forthcoming if catastrophe in the midwest corn area and the southwestern wheat and feedgrain area is to be averted.

A. P. Williams of Plainview, represented the Grain Sorghum Producers Association recently at a meeting in Dallas in which producers of all Texas commodities discussed market promotion for their products.

Elbert Harp, Association Secretary and Abernathy farmer, reviewed the several conferences which he held in Washington recently with the Foreign Agricultural Service, the Grain Standards Branch of the Agricultural Marketing Service, the Sales Office of the Commodity Credit Corporation, and legislative leaders. He reported that at the time these conferences were held there was no export subsidy being paid to shippers of grain sorghum while there was several cents being paid to exporters of corn which made grain sorghum higher priced in most foreign markets than U.S. corn. Since then, however, up to seven cents has been paid to firms exporting grain sorghum and as a result more is moving into world markets.

The directors reviewed a report of Dr. Clare Burgess of Carlisle, England, made after he and five other United Kingdom grain trade officials were guests of the Association, studying grain sorghum production, marketing and utilization in the area, recently. Burgess' report pointed out that he and his colleagues came here with certain reservations and prejudices relative to the use of grain sorghum in livestock and poultry feeds. He indicated that their reservations and prejudices have been removed as they received technical information and visited with livestock and poultry producers using grain sorghum in their rations, in Texas. His report has appeared in several agricultural trade publications and has been the basis of talks which he has made throughout England. The United Kingdom is now the largest user of U. S. grain sorghum and holds even greater potential for expanding our exports.

Plans were mapped for local Grain Sorghum Producers Association meetings and the election of area officers and the Executive Committee will be held at the next regular Association meeting in February. The present officers are: Frank Moore, Plainview, President; Sam Gilbreath, Dimmitt, Vice President; Elbert Harp, Abernathy, Secretary and R. G. Peeler, Hereford, Legislative Director.
