Three Teams Deadlocked In Little League

Little League standing continue to get tighter every week. Three teams — the Yankees, Cardinals, Giants — are deadlocked for first place with 5-3 records. The Dodgers are close behind with a 4-4 mark.

The week's schedule has been abbreviated by the Fourth of July holiday and rain. Monday's encounter between the Red Sox and Dodgers was postponed because of the holiday. The Cardinals' game is slated for Tuesday. The Yankees will play at a later date.

On Wednesday it seemed doubtful whether contests could be played for several days.

Last Thursday the Yankees toppled the Dodgers, 6-2, in a well-played contest. Jim Kropp, Yankees, and Merlin Boedecker, Dodgers, were starting pitchers.

The red-hot Yankees won their third consecutive contest Friday by blasting the Cardinals, 14-1. The loss knocked the Cardinals, the league's frontrunners, into last week's position. Ronnie Marr was a tie for first. Bonnie Marr was the Cardinals' starter and Dale Galloway opened for the Giants.

The Yankees moved into a tie with the Cards and Giants on Saturday by whitewashing the Cardinals, 8-0. Yankee hurlers have allowed only two runs in their last two outings. Steve Shussell and Charles Smith were opposing moundsmen.

Schedule:
Thursday, Giants vs. Red Sox.
Friday, Dodgers vs. Cardinals.
Saturday, Yankees vs. Giants.
Monday, Giants vs. Cardinals.
Tuesday, Yankees vs. Dodgers.

Standings:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Yankees	5	3	.625
Cardinals	5	3	.625
Yankees	5	3	.625
Dodgers	4	4	.500
Red Sox	1	7	.125

DeBruyn Begins Onion Grading At Local Shed

Bob and Dave DeBruyn of the DeBruyn Texas Produce, Zeeland, Michigan, have been operating onion grading machinery at the Wiley shed in South Lockney the past week.

Grano onions are producing well this year and the quality is good. Bob said last week end. He reported yields up to 400 bags per acre. Farmers of this area have between 130 and 150 acres in onions, he said.

Farmers who have harvested onions include Dick Ford, J. R. Belt, L. L. Rhodes. Others who have crops yet to harvest are Raymond Rucker, H. E. Frizzell, Johnny Lee and Byron Ford. Rucker is the local representative for the company. DeBruyn said.

Richard McNally Improving After Motorcycle Mishap

Richard McNally, 24, is improving in Plainview Hospital after being seriously injured in a motorcycle accident here last Thursday evening. He suffered a fractured skull, a broken collar bone, cuts and bruises when his motorcycle struck the front bumper of a car driven by R. J. Battle and overturned. He was unconscious until Tuesday of this week, relatives said.

Those who witnessed the accident said that McNally started to pass the Battle car at the intersection of Main and Locust just as Mr. Battle started a left turn. Apparently the motorcycle almost cleared the car but the rear of the machine struck the front bumper of the car, causing McNally to lose control. He and the motorcycle skidded down the pavement some 100 feet.

Donna auditioned in clarinet for Keith McCarty, Tech woodwind instructor, and Dwayne in trumpet for Richard Tolley, Tech brass instructor. Both will be freshmen Music Education majors at Tech in the fall.

Construction On Highway 62 To Begin Soon

The Texas Highway Department has announced that construction on U. S. Highway 62 from Floydada south to the Crosby County line will begin just as soon as the roadway dries enough to permit the movement of equipment. The distance is 10.8 miles and the route is through Blanco Canyon and a road-side park in the canyon is included in the plans.

The project calls for complete reconstruction of the present roadway. The contractor, Strain Brothers, Inc., of San Angelo, hope to complete the road, except for surfacing, before December 1 of this year and to finish the surfacing in June of 1961, according to Doyle Johnson, superintendent.

Sam A. Fowler, resident engineer for the Highway Department in Floydada, states that traffic will be routed along and through the construction on detours. Fowler said that adequate barricades and warning signals would be prominently displayed, but that motorists should be extremely cautious in passing through the area as it will be heavily traveled by large highway construction equipment.

The construction area outside the city limits of Floydada will be zoned for a maximum speed of 45 miles per hour for the protection of motorists and workmen alike. The entire length will be patrolled to minimize inconvenience to motorists.

Co-operation of the public is requested in obeying all traffic signals, warning signs and speed zones, Fowler said. Motorists are reminded that even though traffic will be handled with a minimum of inconvenience, the slower speed may delay the motorists to the extent that the use of the nearby farm-to-market roads may provide a faster alternate route.

The first three and a half miles of the road south of Floydada will be a four-lane divided highway and the remainder will be 26 feet wide with eight foot shoulders. Special slow lanes will be provided on each incline in the canyon.

Much of the heavy machinery necessary for the work has been moved onto the site.

RETURN FROM DALLAS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Huggins returned Tuesday from Abilene with their children, Terry and Sandra, who had been visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Skaggs for the past three weeks. The Huggins attended a family reunion in Gorman this weekend and then brought their children home.

Rains Fall At Just The Right Time For Crops

Rains which started falling here Monday night, came at just the right time for most crops, since farmers had completed cleaning their fields and many of them had started watering or planned to start this week.

The rainfall here measured 1.75 Monday night and another .9 of an inch had fallen up to Wednesday afternoon for a total of 2.65 inches. The rain generally was heavier south and west of Lockney and lighter north and east. Lone Star and Cedar communities had only one inch Monday night while the rainfall at Sandhill was as much as three inches for the one night.

Floydada had two inches on Monday night and another two inches Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, according to a report from Homer Steen of the Hesperian.

By Wednesday noon most of the farmers were ready for the rain to stop and fields to start drying. It was feared that cotton on flat land might be damaged by a sustained well spell.

No hail fell in this area but hail damaged some crops in the Lubbock area, news reports said.

Siren Causes Stir

The Lockney fire siren caused quite a stir about 1:45 a.m. on Tuesday when water seeped in and shorted out the wiring, starting the siren to blowing. The short caused the wailing sound to rise and fall, giving an uncertain signal which confused most of those who heard it. Many people went to cellars thinking the signal was for a tornado, while many others, including volunteer firemen, came to town to see if there was a fire. Cars crowded the main street like Saturday night, firemen said, and many people were out to see what was causing the alarm.

EDITORIAL

For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. — Romans 6:23.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION next week will be watched with deep interest by most of the nation. At this time it appears that only two candidates have any chance to secure the nomination, these being Kennedy and Johnson. Most of us have been hoping for a change in administrations, the coming year but it is our belief that whether or not we will have a change depends entirely on what happens at the Democratic convention. If Mr. Johnson secures the nomination we feel that we have a good chance to elect a Democrat as president of the United States. If Mr. Kennedy is nominated we will have lost all chance we have of changing administrations, we sincerely believe.

THERE ARE several reasons for this. One, of course, is Kennedy's religion. Whether you like it or not, he will lose several southern states, including Texas, in the general election. This he cannot do and win. This is not to be construed as a declaration of the way the editor will vote but it is an indication of what people have told us. We've been surprised at the number of people, especially among the liberal element of the party, who have told us privately that they would vote for Nixon in preference to Kennedy. We do not believe that Kennedy can carry Texas and we're equally sure he will lose several other Southern states.

—o—o—
ANOTHER REASON is Kennedy's lack of ability. To be sure, he has a pleasing personality that gets over well with the unthinking voter. But look at his record. He is not a dependable committee worker, a place where most of the Congressional work is done. He has shown no special ability as to legislative matters. He does not even attend working sessions of the Senate regularly. He is, in short, a young upstart who is lacking in ability but is long on personality and organization. Also, of course, the influence of the Catholic Church is behind him.

—o—o—
THE CATHOLIC influence is already being felt in the actions of Democratic Chairman Paul Butler. Mr. Butler is a Catholic and has used his influence in securing electoral votes for Kennedy. Many, many other pressures will be brought to bear before the convention is over, including the threat of bloc voting against Johnson.

—o—o—
WE FEEL we need to say little about Senator Johnson's ability. He has proven that in his years of service in the Congress. He is neither an extreme liberal nor an extreme conservative but his legislative record is of the "middle of the road" type. Certainly we can't agree with him in all of his stands but we believe he will come closer to standing for those things which are best for the nation as a whole as well as his native state.

—o—o—
THAT GREAT DAY, the Fourth of July, has passed again. Parades, speeches, and fire works marked one more anniversary for the American experiment in self-government. Among other things, there were various exhibitions of military readiness. Along coastal areas, naval and coast guard vessels of every kind and size were on hand to add to the atmosphere and to remind people that they have a vast stake in the world beyond the continental shores of the United States. The historic term "Freedom of the Seas" has greater meaning today than ever before. In the words of a little booklet defining the mission of the navy, "Freedom of the seas in peace and sea supremacy in war are basic to the existence of the United States as a world power. They are keystones of United States foreign policy and are essential to the Free World cooperation which it nurtures. Overseas alliances and overseas bases depend for their existence on secure sea communications." At another Fourth of July pass we should remind ourselves that while the basic rights of the individual may be inalienable they are also perishable.

THE WHYS AND WHEREFORES

Something that has always puzzled me is the business method of co-op power and light companies. They profess to be a corporation of farm members but their advertising policies tell a strangely different story.

The Claude News occasionally receives advertisements from the co-op electric but most of this fund seems to be funneled into radio advertising. Of course, they are at liberty to choose whatever medium they wish for advertising, however, most of the radio spots I have heard have actually been propaganda for legislative favor or in defense of co-ops. I seriously doubt they need the propaganda because they are performing a needed service.

In the meantime, the "meat-old" capitalistic electric companies, like the Southwestern Public Service, use nearly every weekly, daily and related mediums in their territory. Oddly enough, however, their advertising is designed to help both themselves and the cooperatives, i.e. "live electrically." Every ad informs the reader of the convenience and inexpensive power that is at their finger-tips. The advertising is as beneficial to the co-op power as it is to the advertiser. It is one thing to constantly propagandize for legislative favors, quite another to sell a product. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

FOR WANT OF A BID . . .

Senator Paul Douglas is an effective comparison shopper.

When he finds that we can walk into a chain auto supply store and buy for $3.89 a wrench for which the Army paid $29, he reports that the Army is wasting money by its procurement.

The Army is not alone in this failing. Senator Douglas found the Navy had bought for $10,550 five hundred lamp sockets which he priced at a retail store for $125. The Air Force, he charged, has also made more than its share of such foolish purchases.

The senator estimates that altogether such extravagant purchasing cost the Defense Department two or three million dollars a year.

Responsibility for most of these blunders lies in a failure to use the competitive bidding process provided by law. Unfortunately procurement officials for the armed forces seem so readily inclined to apply that old jingle "for want of a nail the battle was lost" to their entire purchasing systems. Expensive purchases are rationalized on the basis of emergency need, a permissible cause for waiving the safeguards of competitive bidding.

According to Senator Douglas, 86.4 per cent of all Defense Department supplies were bought last year through negotiated contracts rather than competitive bidding.

Admittedly there are occasions when, because of emergency need or a highly specialized type of purchase, a negotiated contract is advisable. But it is hard to see how this applies to wrench sets, plugs, etc. — or to any 86 per cent of the Pentagon's total business. The shift to dependence on negotiated contracts for buying ordinary equipment seems to mean either a don't-care attitude or a failure to be able to write foolproof specifications for competitive bids.

Senator Douglas has helpfully pointed out a multibillion-dollar leak in Defense. We trust that in their own interest the military buyers will henceforth try to do more of their ordinary business on a bid basis. For want of a bid the nail may cost so much the battle will be lost. — Christian Science Monitor.

Dear Editor:
I see where an English bishop says doctors hadn't ought to use their best tricks on us older types of people, trying to keep us alive after our brains mature.

Which my passe neighbor says proves Youth has just about got the upper hand, and old reactionary citizens of 50 and upwards had better be on guard.

Says children already have taken over most homes and cars, and are leading in the crime business, as well as setting up government by mob, running for president, etc.

Plains Man Visits Cotton Mills In Europe

George W. Pfeiffenberger, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. executive vice president of the returned this week from a six-weeks tour through textile mills in Western Europe and reported that West Texas cotton is playing a vital part in Western Europe exports of cotton and that it has good prospects to continue providing farmers can supply quality cotton at the world market price.

The Lubbock cotton official was the only producer delegate from the United States to attend the meeting of International Standards Organization in London May 19-28 in which 23 countries took part. After that he visited mills and cotton officials in Belgium, France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy.

He was invited to speak to organizations in Belgium, Switzerland and Italy where he presented a series of illustrated lectures on results of fiber and spinning research and the utilization of High Plains cotton.

Pfeiffenberger said that while he found some dissatisfaction with American cotton shipments, and the general belief among European cotton men that American cotton is being damaged by over drying and over cleaning, there is a high level of cotton consumption in Europe and the potential is good for even more export markets there.

The export program of this country the past year or so has been very successful making American cotton very competitive and the outlook for 1960 seems to be equally as good.

More Cotton Stripped Than In Past Years

College Station. — Increased mechanization marked the 1959-60 cotton harvest in Texas. In keeping with the national trend, machine stripping and picking accounted for 44 percent of the Texas upland cotton harvest. A year earlier, it was 35 percent. Hand picking and snapping, with 56 percent, still predominated, however.

A survey by the Agricultural Marketing Service, in cooperation with ginners, compressmen and warehousemen, shows that 42 percent of the state's 4,371,000 bales ginned was hand snapped, and 14 percent hand picked, compared to 49 and 16 percent, respectively, in 1958-59. Machine picking gained from 4 to 10 percent and machine stripping increased from 31 to 34 percent.

By comparison, the 1959-60 national average was 39 percent hand picked; 18 percent, hand snapped; 31 percent, machine picked (a new high); and 12 percent machine stripped. A year earlier, U. S. growers harvested 44 percent by hand picking; 22 percent by hand snapping; 21 percent, machine picking; and 13 percent by machine strippers.

Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico, with 48, 34 and 5 percent respectively, were the top states that employed machine stripping extensively. South Carolina led with 92 percent hand-picked cotton and California was first in machine picking with 83 percent.

The AMS survey also reveals that Texas growers paid an average of $15.94 for ginning and wrapping each 500-pound gross-weight bale. A year earlier it was $15.40. Charges for bagging and ties, alone, averaged $4.34 a bale, 8 cents more than in 1958-59. The national average last season was $15.02, total charges, and $4.29 for bagging and ties only.

Last year, it took 1,435 pounds of Texas hand-picked seed cotton to make an average 500-pound bale, compared to the Cottonbelt average of 1,406. A bale of hand-snapped cotton in Texas required 1,932 pounds; machine picked, 1,515; and machine stripped, 2,078.

Most youngsters think there are only three seasons in the year . . . baseball, football and basketball.

When parents are able to answer the children's questions it's a sign that the kids are growing up.

Splinters on the ladder of success are much sharper on the way down.

UNION OF CHURCH AND STATE

We have learned thus far in our studies that the Papal power of Rome claims the right to both spiritual and political domination. It is most difficult for any person who has studied her history to believe she has lost her intense desire to rule the world as a religio-political dictatorship. Her present domination of Spain and most of South America shows she believes in a state supported church.

Illiteracy in Catholic dominated South America is from 60% to 80% as compared to the region north of the Rio Grande which is 6%. Illegitimacy is from 25% to 50% as compared to 2.4% in North America. WHY THE DIFFERENCE? It is primarily due to the fact that we have the Bible as an open book and our South American neighbors are kept in spiritual darkness, slaves to Roman Priestcraft.

Dorman-Dollar Wedding Vows Are Solemnized

The wedding of Miss Donna Dorman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dorman, Lockney, and Ricky Dollar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Dollar, also of Lockney, was solemnized Friday evening, July 1, at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Lockney. The wedding date also marked the wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

Rev. Charles Broadhurst, pastor of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a street length dress of white cotton designed with a shirt waist bodice and pleated skirt cinched at the waist with a cummerbund. She wore a white flowered hat and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds atop a white Bible shrouded with white satin streamers tied in love knots. For something old the bride wore a wrist watch more than fifty years old, a gift from her late great-grandmother whose birthday the bride was born. New was her wedding attire, borrowed was a hat belonging to her sister, Mrs. Donald Rex Minshaw of Roswell, New Mexico. Blue was a garter and in her shoe she wore a penny for luck.

Miss Lesca Dee Dorman, sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of white lace over yellow cotton satin and carried a nosegay of yellow rosebuds.

Max Marble attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Dorman chose for her daughter's wedding a white Arnel suit with black accessories. Mrs. Dollar, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in beige linen with beige accessories. Each wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Reception
A reception honoring the couple was held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The dining table was laid with white lace over yellow and accented with a beautifully decorated wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom standing beneath an arch of yellow roses. A crystal punch service completed the table appointments. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Bobby Gene Dorman, Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Lesca Dee Dorman, the bride's sister.

Both the bride and groom are 1960 graduates of Lockney High School. They left immediately for Lubbock where the bridegroom is employed with the Municipal, Water, Power and Light Company. They are at home at 4506 Avenue G, Lubbock.

Farm Bureau Suggests Planks For Democratic Party Platform

Los Angeles. — J. H. West, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, today presented recommendations of the American Farm Bureau Federation to the Democratic Platform Committee.

He was accompanied by three other state Farm Bureau presidents from different sections of the nation. The recommendations presented were developed by Farm Bureau members in 49 states in their policy development process.

The Texas agricultural leader stressed Farm Bureau's platform for a "competitive enterprise system in which all property is privately owned, primarily managed, and operated for profit and individual satisfaction, and in which supply and demand are the ultimate determinants of market price.

Briefly, here are some of the Farm Bureau's policies on national farm programs:

(1) Farm production cannot be balanced with effective demand by legislation as long as increased production is being encouraged by government guarantees. Price-fixing programs of the past have failed to control production and have failed to protect farmers against reduced incomes.

(2) We should move in the direction of eliminating government regulation of the right to produce agricultural commodities. Our experience in this regard clearly indicates that political determination of the right to produce is the road to low — not high — per family farm income.

(3) Our farm plant is over expanded in relation to current markets — including the extraordinary "markets" made possible by special export aids. Land retirement programs, such as the Conservation Reserve, are not a cure-all. Nevertheless, a sizeable land retirement program is urgently needed as a temporary measure to help farmers make the adjustments that must be made to correct the adverse results of past programs.

(4) Where price support and production adjustment programs are used, they should be designed to facilitate orderly marketing rather than to fix prices. Price support levels should take account of competitive conditions, supply and demand, and market trends.

(5) With less interference from government, the marketing system will be freer to operate effectively and efficiently. This will encourage the expansion of market outlets and the production of quality products in line with market demands. Thus, we can better meet competition at home and abroad.

(6) Where special export pricing is necessary to regain or maintain foreign markets, we should return to a one-price system as rapidly as possible.

(7) Individually commodity programs must be in harmony with the interests of agriculture generally; however, these programs must also recognize the inherent difference among various farm commodities.

(8) Congress should retain responsibility for determining major provisions of commodity programs as it is the only body which represents all the people affected by such programs. The assumption that producers of a commodity are the only people interested in programs for that commodity is fallacious.

(9) We strongly oppose the establishment of maximums on price support loans, either in total or as applied to individual farmers. A ceiling on individual loans would not remove the basic causes of high program costs. More significantly it would tend to reduce the size of farm units and thus lower production efficiency.

(10) The compensatory or direct production payment approach is unsound and dangerous to our economic and political system.

Regardless of the form in which it is presented, a direct payment program would be fantastically expensive. It would stimulate production, increase unit costs, depress market prices, and make farmers de-

New "Baby" Phone Offered By SW Bell

A new telephone — small, light and oval-shaped — will be introduced here July 1.

Called the Princess, this oval-shaped telephone is about one-third smaller and two pounds lighter than present desk model telephones, according to Manager J. C. Oakley of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

The manager said Bell Telephone Laboratory scientists worked five years developing the compact size and style of the Princess.

It is two inches lower and five inches smaller from front to back than current desk model phones.

"Because of its small base, Bell Laboratories engineers had to reduce the size of the complex dial and switch equipment in the wiring in the Princess," Oakley said.

He said the new phone is made in five colors — white, pink, blue, beige and turquoise. The Princess also has an illuminated dial so calls can be made in the dark. This light can be switched on to glow softly as a night light when the phone is not in use.

Oakley said the new Princess phones will be displayed at the telephone business office here, beginning July 1.

pendent on Congressional appropriations for their net farm income and a part of their production costs as well.

The payment approach carries a "cheap food" philosophy; however, in actual practice it would encourage inefficiency and thereby result in high food and fiber costs. Limitations on payments to individuals are inevitable in payment programs. Such limitations would place a ceiling on opportunity in agriculture and level individual farm incomes downward.

Hi-Plains Hi-Lights

NEWS from the High Plains Research Foundation

Stubble mulching has advantages in the long time farming program in the High Plains that outweigh the immediate and temporary gains from burning the wheat stubble, Delbert Langford, associate agronomist at the High Plains Research Foundation, stated in a recent interview.

The advantages of plowing under the stubble are (1) maintaining the organic matter content of the soil which facilitates water penetration by improving the tilth and structure of the soil; (2) returning plant food to the soil; (3) better aeration of the soil; and (4) prevention of diseases.

Temporary advantages of burning are (1) killing weeds, (2) killing insects, (3) immediate effect of released potash, and (4) double cropping.

Research tests have shown that burning stubble for a period of 5 years results in a considerable reduction in wheat yields as well as crops used in rotation. The loss in production from continuous burning of stubble over a period of time is very high.

Mr. Langford emphasized that the return of crop residues to the soil is a sound conservation practice in maintaining soil productivity. It will become more important as our underground water level declines, and we are more dependent upon rainfall for crop production. Soil with poor physical structure and low organic matter is much less effective in absorbing and holding rainfall than soil with adequate humus.

FLAME IDENTIFICATION

The correct gas flame is blue. The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association points out that a ragged yellow flame indicates the burner is not getting enough air along with the gas. A yellow flame may be due to clogged ports in the burner. The gas burner should be washed in sudsy water and clogged holes cleaned with a wire or pipe cleaner.

Normal, healthy people may lose 1-3 of their blood without fatal results.

SNACKS FOR AUTO OR BOAT

Here's a way to keep stomachs comfortable, calories low and foods delectable on a long journey. Half-fill a light-weight ice bucket with ice circles from the refrigerator. Make up individual packages of raw turnip slices, pineapple sticks, redishes, celery, slices of sweet potato and raw carrots in plastic bags. Keep them in the ice bucket and they will stay crisp for many hours.

Over 60 million copies of American newspapers are printed every day, and over 20 million weekly papers every week.

What is it about fishing that appeals to so many men? Is it the tang of the out-of-doors, the salt spray, the play of the reel — or is it a part of that age-old challenge of pitting oneself against the forces of nature?

Probably, it is mostly the challenge, for man is forever excited by a dare. Yet, while life is full of challenges, all of them are not fun. When it comes to meeting the greater tests successfully, you need a lot more than a fishing pole. Then it is that Faith comes into its own; then it is that the teachings of the Church are put into practise.

Don't walk by your church next Sunday — walk into it. Equip yourself for your own spiritual future now.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
