Work On Pole Barn To Start Next Thursday

Work on the pole barn at the Lockney Fair grounds in Floyd County will begin next Thursday when the lumber is unloaded, according to Joe Reeves, fair president. Labor is needed and anyone who can help is asked to come Thursday. The poles are already set.

Money collected for the pole barn totals about $2300, according to Harold Ellison, assistant secretary - treasurer. It includes $1050 donated last week by Lockney business people.

The Fair Association will hire a carpenter to direct the construction of the barn. A lot of volunteer labor is needed. If you can't come and help, send someone in your place. Mr. Reeves requests a good crowd met at the Fair grounds last Friday and did a job in cleaning up the grounds. Mr. Reeves expressed appreciation for the help as well as that of the chemical salesmen of the City of Lockney, and others who assisted in the work.

There are some commercial building spaces left and anyone wanting one of these should contact Mrs. R. B. Holt or Mrs. Foster, it was said. Reservations should be made soon.

Dedication Of Cedar Church Set For Sunday

The formal dedication services of the new Cedar Hill Baptist Church building will be held Sunday afternoon starting at 3 o'clock, it was announced this week by church members.

Rev. J. F. Nix of Lubbock, a pioneer preacher of this part of Floyd County and reported to be the first pastor of the church, will be the afternoon speaker.

The new building includes the complete church plant, auditorium, Sunday School class rooms, recreational area, offices, etc. Rev. Bert Gluscock is pastor of the church. Carl L. Gilly was chairman of the building committee and other members were Edna Lacey, Jim Conner, Lois Gill, June Ware and Carl F. Lemons. Mr. Yearly was the construction foreman.

Regular services will be held at the church Sunday morning with Sunday school at 10 o'clock and worship service at 11 o'clock. Rev. G. C. Applewhite, a former pastor of the church, will preach at the morning worship services.

The sermon will follow by Rev. Nix and a dedication prayer by Rev. Applewhite. A hymn and benediction will conclude the program.

Local Classes Will Begin August 31st

Classes in Lockney Public Schools will begin on Wednesday, August 31st. It was announced this week by Supt. H. H. Nicholas. Classes will begin at 10 a.m. and will be dismissed at 2 p.m. on this opening day. Regular class periods will be observed after this date.

The annual faculty breakfast will be held in the high school cafeteria on Tuesday morning, August 30 at 8 o'clock. Members of the school board and their wives will also attend this affair.

Principals of junior high and high school opened their offices on Monday of this week, August 15. Until school starts, their office hours will be from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. and they will be present to discuss school problems with students and parents during these days. The grade school principals' office will open next Monday, August 22.

Registration of students was completed last Spring. Supt. Nicholas said, with the exception of new students and those who will enroll as beginners this term. Students in either of these groups will register Friday morning, August 26, at 10 o'clock in the building which houses their grade. All principals and a sufficient corps of teachers will be present at this time to enroll these students and answer questions of interest to parents. All beginning students should have at least one of their parents accompany them for this enrollment, the superintendent said. Other students who, because of illness or other reason did not enroll last Spring, may also enroll at this time.

Of interest to parents who have children in the sixth grade is the fact that all of this grade will be housed in the junior high building. The construction recently added to this possible and was designed to relieve the badly crowded condition at the grade school, Mr. Nicholas said.

Open house for the new addition to the high school building is being arranged by the Lockney Parent-Teacher Association under the direction of its president, Mrs. Tommy Montandon. This will be held on September 13 and the public is invited.

Supt. Nicholas is still needing teachers to complete the local high school faculty. Mr. and Mrs. James Anglin of Dumas, recently elected to junior high coach and high school girls physical education positions, have resigned. However, the superintendent has two positions filled since last week. He said this week that he will recommend Weldon "Doc" Mize to the board as junior high coach and math teacher in the junior high school and Ray Murphy as Spanish teacher in high school. Mr. Mize has been high school coach in Ralls school system for several years. He has an M. S. degree from Texas Tech. Mr. Murphy formerly taught in the Colorado City school system but has been in the Army for the past three years.

The new equipment for the science and homemaking departments in the new addition has arrived and is being installed. When this is completed the floor will be laid and the two departments will be ready for use.

County Receives $4650 For Fight On Mosquitoes

As part of a 10-county fight on encephalitis-carrying mosquitoes, Floyd County has received a federal grant of $4650 which will be used in spraying lakes and dusting in Lockney and Floydada. Judge J. D. McBrien said Wednesday.

The money came through the office of Civil Defense with the assistance of the U. S. Department of Health, Judge McBrien said.

Planes will be used to spray the lakes but the towns will be dusted by use of ground equipment, he said.

Lola Holt, age 15, of Silverton, was killed instantly and Larry Wallace, 18, also of Silverton, died at 2 p.m. on Wednesday from injuries received in a car-truck collision in east Lockney Tuesday afternoon. Scene of the accident was at the intersection of Farm Road No. 378 running north and south and Farm Road No. 97 running east and west. ## Dan Smith Will Be In Amarillo Football Classic

Dan Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Smith and a 1960 graduate of Lockney High School, will participate in the third annual Panhandle Grid Classic at Price College in Amarillo Saturday night. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Dan was named all-district, all South Plains and honorable mention all-state tackle last season while serving as Longhorn captain. He is slated to play a tackle position on the Sod Busters team Saturday night.

Players began workouts on Monday morning of this week and have been holding two workouts each day. Otis Sanders, Panhandle A&M College assistant, is coaching the City Slickers and his assistant is Duane Byars of Amarillo, a former Lockney boy. Morris (Snake) Bailey, former TCU end, Weldon (Scratch) Edwards, another ex-Frog star, and Hal Rogers, former Tulia mentor, are coaching the Sod Busters. The Sod Buster squad is made up of boys from Class AA, A, B classification schools and the City Slickers are 1960 graduates of Class AAAA and AAA schools in this area.

Other players of this area who will appear in the game on the Sodbusters team include Danny Shipley, Floydada, tackle; Jack Mars, Tulia, end; Phil Neinaast, Olton, center; Bill Gilliland and Don Vickers, Floydada, backs.

Lockney Gun Club Will Shoot Sunday

Lockney Gun Club will have another trophy shoot for members of the club Sunday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The trophy shoot will be held at the local club's trap in south Lockney.

Following the trophy shoot (about 2:45) a team from the Lockney Gun Club will shoot against teams from Edmonston and Floydada. Each team will have an eight-man roster with five of that number shooting in the competition.

Injured, not seriously, was Alice Holt, age 12, sister of the dead girl. She is under treatment at Lockney General Hospital, where her injuries were described as a cracked rib and bruises over her head, face, back and knee.

The two girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Stewart of Silverton. Mr. Stewart is agent for the Fort Worth & Denver there. The young man was the son of Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Wallace of Silverton. He is a farmer.

The two victims of the accident suffered severe head and chest injuries, according to information given The Beacon.

Olen Less Williams, 34, of Graham, Texas, and driver of the truck was not injured in the accident. The 1956 Chevrolet hard-top, believed driven by young Wallace, was left a tangled mass of wreckage. Damage to the heavily-loaded truck was light.

The truck, carrying 38,900 pounds of wheat, was traveling south on Farm Road No. 378 and the Wallace car was moving east on Farm Highway 97. The light car struck the big semi-trailer truck just about the center of the bed with the engine of the car ramming under the bed. The impact turned the Chevrolet south and rolled it up into the parking area of the Pinner Drive-In, some 60 feet from the point of impact. Skid marks for the Chevrolet before the collision were measured at 91 feet by Highway Patrolman R. C. Dunn, who investigated the accident.

All three passengers in the Chevrolet were pinned in the wreckage. Several local men arrived on the scene seconds after the accident and helped to pull them from the demolished car. It was necessary to pry the front seat back and the doors open to extricate them from the car. The accident happened about 3:15 p.m.

The big Chevrolet truck traveled 418 feet from the point of impact before coming to a stop, Officer Dunn said. One dolly under the trailer was broken off by the collision and the other was damaged and dragged on the pavement. A hole was punched in the side of the grain bed.

Patrolman Dunn filed charges of failure to yield the right-of-way against Williams following the accident. He stated that further charges might be filed but that would follow a conference with County Attorney Kenneth Bain, Jr. No further charges had been filed late Wednesday.

Conflicting testimony was received concerning whether or not the truck stopped at the stop sign before entering the intersection. There are stop signs on the north and south roads but none on the east and west roads.

Patrolmen Thurman Keffer and Troy Porterfield assisted Patrolman Dunn in investigating the accident. Local officers also assisted in directing traffic.

Young Wallace was given emergency treatment at Lockney General Hospital and then carried to Plainview Hospital & Clinic by Carter Ambulance. The older Holt girl was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The body of the girl is at Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home in Amarillo, according to reports reaching The Beacon, and funeral services are to be held at Channing probably Thursday. The girl had been living with her father in New York, the report said, but came to Silverton to live with her mother during the summer.

Wallace is a 1960 graduate of Silverton High School. He was active in FFA and Scouting. Survivors include one brother, Charles of Lubbock, and a sister, Gloria of the home, in addition to his parents.

EDITORIAL

In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength and my refuge is in God.—Psalm 62:7.

BACK IN 1942, when the Editor came to Lockney, The Beacon had a slogan under its masthead which read "Lockney, the Sugar Beet Capital of Texas." Gradually the planting of sugar beets in this area declined until for many years no beets have been planted here. With the need for another money crop, we wonder if it wouldn't be good for farmers of this area to re-investigate this crop. Some of the advantages of growing sugar beets were pointed out in a recent editorial in The Plainview Herald. Here they are: valuable by-products, deep tap root which opens up the soil, thousands of small lateral roots which remain and enrich the soil, etc. This in addition to the fact that sugar beets are a money crop of which we have all too few.

AS WE UNDERSTAND IT, sugar beets are now grown under an acreage allotment just as cotton is, so farmers of this area would need to make application for allotments. With the Cuban situation as it is, and the cutting off of Cuban sugar to this nation, perhaps the price of sugar will be higher and along with it the price of sugar beets. At any rate, the thing deserves looking into it seems to us. Let's get back into the sugar beet business.

DOWN AT POST, the school trustees have adopted some rules regarding a student's appearance at school. Forbidden for girls are blue jeans, slacks and peddle pushers and forbidden for boys are beltless blue jeans, exposed shirt-tails and odd-ball haircuts. The superintendent told the board that such practices are a "demoralizing factor and not conducive to good learning." We believe that school officials should have the right, within reason, to set standards of wearing apparel as well as conduct for school students. After all, some schools have had pretty sad experiences where the students were allowed to set the pace.

WE FIND IT very hard to sympathize with the Catholic Church in Cuba even though we cannot condone Mr. Castro's action. It seems to us that it is a matter of chickens coming home to roost, because the Catholic hierarchy itself has been guilty of many abuses of religious liberty and the persecution of other demoniations that make Castro's anti-Catholic action fade into nothingness. We do not believe in religious tolerance. We believe in religious liberty. There is a vast difference.

THE SOUTH has been accused of race prejudices in about every form known but we have never heard of anything in the South to match what happened to the Indian veteran at Detroit. The refusal to allow him to be buried in lots he had purchased from the cemetery because of the fact he was an Indian tops off all prejudice. You see the North can sin as well as the South.

A STEEL COMPANY has issued a leaflet showing that this country imported two million tons of steel and exported five million tons in 1957 but in 1959 we imported five million tons and exported only two million tons for a net loss of six million tons. This they point out, costs the jobs of 45,000 steel workers for one year. We don't know all the facts but we suspect that excessive wage demands by union labor resulting in higher prices for American steel may have had something to do with the reversal of imports and exports. After all, anyone can eventually price themselves out of business if they go high enough.

SENATOR KENADY and his fellow travelers made a lot of promises through the Democratic platform, some of them downright ridiculous. But he is finding that he is not the whole Senate body some say. We wish he could have kept that promise that he would do something about the farm problem at the present session but already he has abandoned any action in that direction. Now he is having trouble keeping his promise on the wage and hour matter. We seriously doubt if he can keep his promises on civil rights. Maybe our representative form of government will manage to endure a few more years.

With Our EXCHANGES

IS EVERYBODY SATISFIED?

The 1960 Democratic national convention was a political education for the millions of viewers and readers who saw the well-oiled Kennedy machine swing into action and smash through every obstacle to push through their man and their platform.

The South, where the Democratic party has long had its strength, was completely ignored. In order to stave off a walkout and to bring these states back into the fold, Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson was persuaded to step down and take the vice presidential nomination. His nomination was greeted with howls of anguish from northern liberals and labor leaders. His nomination was accepted, but not with shouts of glee, from the Southern states and his own Texas delegation.

Of course, the campaign strategy is to ignore the South and rest assured that they will always vote Democratic. Thus far, this has proved correct.

The 1960 Democratic platform is what scares me. It is the most liberal ever proposed by a major political party and is based on the assumption that the federal government should tax more heavily in order to make the people happy and prosperous.

The platform promises higher farm income, higher wages, the closed union shop in all states, federal spending for housing, federal spending for medical care for the aged, mammoth increases in foreign aid, big boosts in defense spending, federal aid to education, more slum clearance, more highways, public works projects to aid "depressed areas."

of the nation's resources should be diverted away from private consumer spending to public spending, they say.

The platform pulls out the stops in its promises for welfare spending. There is a lot of emphasis upon "rights" and very little upon "opportunities."

The people are told they have a 'right' to decent housing, a 'right' to college education for their children, a 'right' to good health, a 'right' to full employment.

The only right we have is the right to opportunity. No person should be handed a good house, good job, good car, good friends, etc., without lifting a hand to achieve them.

But we may be wrong. There may be enough wealth in the nation, properly re-distributed, to make us all rich. We will have a chance to find out before very long.—Ochiltree County Herald.

TOO PERSONAL

Then, it seems sometimes, that the editor never says the right thing. Boyce House tells about the West Texas editor, hard-pressed for something with which to fill his column one week, set up the Ten Commandments and ran them without comment. Two days later he received this letter: "Cancel my subscription; you're getting too damned personal." —Frank Hill in Lynn County News.

Dear Editor:

I see where a college sent our surveyors to ask people how come they were not happy, and mostly they said it was because they didn't have enough money.

My ever-short neighbor says he used to think all he needed for total happiness was a good self-working money mine, but here lately some doubts have cropped up.

Still having all the money you could spend would take a lot of the anticipation out of life, and leave a man with not much to look forward to except running for President.

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck... but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-racking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day... make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevies are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

"That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lugging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

TELEPHONE TALK

HOW MANY CALLS A DAY IN LOCKNEY?

"What is the average number of calls made in Lockney? This is a question I often hear, so I look up the answer. Every day an average of 4,746 calls are made. That's about 4.02 calls per phone.

And every day people find new ways to get value from the phone. Only recently I heard of a man who says he uses his phone as an "alarm clock."

"I like to fish but I have a hard time getting early in the morning," he says. "So I have one of the phone me when he gets up. That way I can't turn 'alarm' and go back to sleep. I haven't been late for a trip since my friends started waking me phone."

Here's another case I heard of that shows the value of the telephone, day in and day out. One mother keeping a record of her calls for a week, figured two phones saved her family about three hours.

"That's the time we would have spent just driving errands and personal visits," she says.

As these stories show, the more you use your phone the more value you get from it. So why not use it for all it's worth!

How To Call Long Distance A Save 1-3

It's so easy to save yourself a lot of money. By placing your Long Distance calls station-to-station a distant number rather than to a particular person.

Here's the way to do it:

1. Give the operator the name of the city to call.
2. Next, tell her the number you are calling.
3. When the operator asks, give her the number you are calling from.

Why not try it tonight? Remember, rates are after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

for the 1961-62 period; $350,300,000 for the 1962-63 period. This compares with $337,000,000 spent by the Highway Department in 1959.

Most of the highway revenue comes from special earmarked sources, such as the gasoline tax, license fees, etc. Department is asking $600,000 from the general revenue fund to be used for tourist advertising.

GAME AND FISH — Game and Fish Commission is asking for what it calls a "status quo" budget, except for salary raises for some of its top technical personnel.

Commission is asking for $12,034,945 for the coming two-year period compared to $11,593,651 for the present biennium.

Executive Director Howard Dodgen declared the commission's top echelon employees are "grossly underpaid" for highly trained persons, some with master's degrees.

STATE COLLEGES — Three colleges, East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin State and Sam Houston State Teachers College, have told the Commission on Higher Education they need more money.

Expected enrollment increases need for higher faculty salaries and need to lower the student-teacher ration were cited as reasons for the requests.

East Texas is asking $2,446,555 for the first year, $2,547,125 for the second year of the 1961-63 period. This compares with a present annual budget of $1,676,424.

Stephen F. Austin asks $2,063,719 the first year, $2,048,603 the second, compared to the present $1,244,370 a year.

Sam Houston wants $2,970,261 the first year, $2,992,190 the second. Present annual spending is $2,040,677.

These requests, along with all those from state-supported colleges and universities, will be studied and screened by the Higher Education Commission before a recommendation is presented to legislative and executive budget officials.

WHERE TO GET IT — With new spending requests piling up, the search for new money-making plans is ranging far and wide.

Four broad-based tax plans are being considered by tax hunting sub-committee of the Governor's State Finance Advisory Commission.

They are: (1) a payroll tax, paid half by employers, half by employees; (2) a utilities customers tax adding percentage to all utility bills; (3) a business activities tax which would combine some of the features of payroll, gross receipts and corporate income taxes and (4) a transfer which would be similar to a sales tax.

Other ideas suggested to the panel include higher taxes on liquor and beer, sales tax on soft drinks and restaurant meals and a tax on sporting events.

"Most of the men running for offices are not politicians. They are commuters." — Llewellyn Miltifer.

AGRICULTURE — Complexities of increasingly scientific farming put greater demands on the State Department of Agriculture, says Commissioner John C. White.

His "sink or swim" budget request is for $3,061,421 for the coming two-year period. This compares with a $1,930,986 appropriation for the present period.

White said the "chemical revolution" in agriculture today puts heavy responsibilities on his department. He also asked for more equipment and more salaries for personnel to check weights and measures.

HIGHWAYS — State Highway Department is asking for a two-year allocation of $698,600,000.

Of this, $348,300,000 would be

$2,000,000 appropriation for the next two years. This is almost double the present spending level.

Of this million-dollar-a-year appropriation, the Board proposes to use $700,000 a year for improvements, $300,000 a year for administration.

Texas, says parks director Bill Collins, spends less on its state parks than Rhode Island. He cited figures showing that Texas would get $81,000,000 a year more in tax revenue if each out-of-state visitor stayed in the state one more day.

GENERAL LAND OFFICE — A bigger budget is asked by the General Land Office and Veterans Land Board to assure the state's realizing full value from the resources of state-owned lands.

A two-year budget of $3,042,339 is asked.

Land Office noted the state now has clear title to 8,000 square miles of tidelands. It wants to employ three oil scouts and a geological director

County Cotton Crop Estimated At 115,000 Bales

Lubbock — The first estimated production total of the Texas High Plains 1960-61 cotton crop for the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., was announced today as 1,889,000 bales.

If produced, such a crop would be the second largest crop in history ever harvested off the High Plains, being topped only by the more than two million bales harvested in 1958. Production this past year, 1959-60 was 1,869,353 bales.

Floyd County's 1960 production was estimated at 115,000 bales, which would be the second highest in history. Last year the county produced 123,361 bales of cotton.

The estimated production total of 1,889,000 bales is expected off total 23-county allotments this year of 2,263,395 acres and standing acreage as of August 1, totals approximately 2,175,000 acres.

Condition of the cotton crop as of Aug. 1 was given as good to excellent. Hot, dry summer weather during July enabled the crop to do some "catching up" and most agriculture observers see the crop as perhaps somewhat late this year, but still in good shape. Some dryland cotton is reported to be in the best condition in the past 10 to 20 years. One more shower or rain in late August will insure a good production. Irrigated cotton is again being watered in some areas. Thus far insects have not been too much of a problem. Control measures have kept the situation in check.

Summer Is A Put-Up Job

But putting up summer fruits has never been easier. Freezers and streamlined kitchen equipment really simplify what used to take hours over a hot stove. Just remember that exposure to air is damaging to the color and flavor of fresh fruit. You can avoid this by working quickly with the proper utensils (sharp knife for example). If you use a syrup pack, slice the fruit directly into the syrup. Whether you use a syrup or dry sugar pack, pre-mix a protective agent with either the water or sugar before you start slicing.

Antioxidants, or ascorbic acid, can be bought at drug stores, grocery stores, or food lockers. They will prevent darkening of the fruit. Fruits should be prepared for the freezer in small quantities and frozen quickly to preserve the flavor and color.

Judge Your Canned Fruit And Vegetables

To help you decide what canned food to take to the fair, judge your own entrees. Consider these points as listed on the score cards for canned fruits and canned vegetables.

CONTAINER — 15 points. Clean, polished, standard jar. Lid free from rust and corrosion. Neat, plain label placed 1/4 inch from bottom of the jar. If your jar leaks it is disqualified.

PACK — 25 points. Practical but not fancy. Uniform in size whether whole or in pieces. Space in jar filled but not crowded; large proportion of vegetables or fruit to liquid or syrup. One-half inch head space.

COLOR — 30 points. Vegetables — Color of the freshly cooked product — not faded or darkened. Liquid characteristic of product.

Fruit — Color characteristic of fruit — not faded or darkened. Uniform ripeness. Clear syrup.

TEXTURE — 30 points. Vegetables — Shape held. Uniform maturity. Not mushy from over ripeness or overcooking.

4-H Records

4-H members, remember that all 4-H records are due next Monday, Aug. 22. In order to receive a year pin, you must include the Standard Report form, 4-H story, and your project records.

If you need assistance with your record, come see us at the Extension office, or call and we will be happy to help you.

Weed Killing Tests Are Completed

The final stage of growth...
tests with hormone type herbi... cides on Burrageweed and Alkali... mallow were completed on Aug...
8, by Dr. Allen Wiese, Associate...
Agronomist TAES Bushland and...
Douglas Degge, Supervisor of... the Floyd County Weed District...
The end results of this test... work will not be known until...
next spring to check for re...
growth or new growth, but...
results thus far look very...
promising on the Alkali mallow...
Degge said this week.

Thirty three and one-half... acres of bindweed were treated... with soil sterilants on 18 farms... in the month of July. Four...
acres of county bar ditches... were sprayed and 5 miles of...
highway was treated with 29,100... pounds of dry herbicide. Several... patches were skipped along the...
highways due to adjacent land...
not being treated or due to the... right-of-way being plowed. The...
Weed District cannot, under... their contract, treat bindweed...
on the highway where farmers... are abusing the highway prop... erty with their plows, Degge... said. The Highway Department... does not care for shredders... being used on the grass and... weeds on their property but...
where their rights-of-way are... being plowed the offender is... subject to law suit, he stated...
Besides possible law suit, this... land being barren the year...
round is subject to water and...
wind erosion and dust from it... will be very objectionable next... spring. The Board of Directors... of the Weed District join with... the Highway Department in... asking that farmers please...
refrain from plowing their...
rights-of-way.

Last week completed the... application of 40 tons of dry...
herbicide applied by the Weed...
District since May 1st. Now one... of the newer and more effective... herbicides is being used. The...
Weed District solicits the co... operation of every one concern... ed in this organized effort to... control the bindweed in Floyd...
County, Degge said.

Texas Tech To Play Three SW Foes At Home

Lubbock. — If there's a home stadium advantage in football, Texas Tech's Red Raiders could spoil the Southwest Conference title chances of two teams prominently mentioned for 1960 laurels.

Baylor University, the dark-horse choice of many, will be played in expanded Jones Stadium Oct. 15, and defending co-champion Arkansas will be met here Nov. 19. A third Southwest Conference member, Southern Methodist, is slated for the Red Raiders' homecoming Oct. 22.

Rounding out a home card of six games are West Texas State Sept. 17, Tulane Nov. 5, and Wyoming Nov. 12. West Texas State and Baylor are the only night games at home.

On the road the Raiders play Texas A&M, Texas, Texas Christian, and Rice.

Coach DeWitt Weaver's Red Raiders will be making their Southwest Conference football debut, a goal set back in 1927.

For the first time in history, Texas Tech will have a major All-America first team selection in the person of center E. J. Holub. The choice of the Football Writers Association, and NEA Service last year, Holub, 6-4, 215, has been pick-

Dear Editor:

I see where the new party platforms come out real firmly for Federal Aid to Education wherever local and state governments don't spend enough money.

My new Frontiersman neighbor says he is in favor of Federalizing schools all the way, so we could do away with P.T.A.s and local school taxes, and get our football teams in Civil Service.

Says, also, the Federals could handle the problem of surplus children by legislation instead of bond issues; say, with something like a Baby Bank program.

Johnny Race Wins Fisherman's Prize

A Lockney fisherman, J. A. Race, took fourteenth place in the ninth week's contest of the Monterey Peninsula Deep Sea Derby being held in Monterey, California.

Race caught an 8 pound, 10 ounce, ling cod on August 7th.

To date, more than 1,000 anglers have participated in the Derby that runs for thirteen weeks and offers $5,000 in prizes including an all-expense paid trip for two to La Paz, Mexico.

EXHAUST FANS FOR KITCHEN

If your range is located on an outside wall, a good place for an exhaust fan is 12 inches above the cook-top. This eliminates the need for duct work in your kitchen. A fan can also be placed above the burners, in the ceiling. However, this requires duct work to the outside. The use of a hood will increase the efficiency of the exhaust fan in either position.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

By Truman Gregory

It makes no difference whether you are farming on a large scale or on a small scale; irrigated or dryland; when your soil starts drifting across the roadbed or fence row, you are taking a loss that you or the nation can not afford.

Wind erosion may be extremely rapid as many have observed in a severe wind storm or it may be a very slow process that is hard for the average person to notice. Regardless of the type, the result is always the same and just as permanent a loss that can never be returned.

When soil is moving the wind does strange things to the soil. The finer particles of silt, clay, and organic matter are carried away while the coarser particles remain. An example of this principle would be a wire basket filled with flour and marbles out in a dust storm. Soil tests have shown that the material blown away during a dust storm contains 10 times as much organic matter, 9 times as much nitrogen, and 19 times as much phosphorus as the sand dunes left behind. This loss of mineral elements is not all by any means. The loss of organic matter reduces the ability of the soil to absorb and hold water and manufacture plant food. Protection of soil from wind erosion is a must. Also it makes sense from an economical view.

The question is raised how can we protect our soil from this erosion hazard? The answer is found in stubble mulching type of farming operation which simply means keeping as much plant residue from high residue producing crops as possible on the soil surface. Each tilling, planting, cultivating, and harvesting operation should be performed with this objective in mind. Agriculture research has demonstrated that it takes as much as 1000 pounds of sorghum stubble maintained the year round to prevent erosion on heavy clay soils. Also certain types of plows can destroy as much as 50 percent of the plant residue with one plowing operation.

It is recognized that keeping residue on the surface presents some problems not encountered when stubble is burned or plowed under. This makes field working conditions difficult, especially with standard type implements. These are implements on the market today that are specifically designed for working in stubble that allows the farmer to practice stubble-mulch farming easily and economically. It would be wise to consider these implements when replacing worn out standard equipment.

The SCS personnel will be glad to assist you in planning conservation cropping systems that include stubble mulching in your farming operation.

DISABILITY PROVISIONS OF SOCIAL SECURITY EXPLAINED

Many people are asking about the disability provisions of the Social Security Act. Mr. G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security District Office, declared today. These provisions have drawn the interest of some people who are temporarily out of work because of an injury. Mr. Hutton explained that the law was not written to insure the risk of temporary disability. Hutton explained that the law the definition of disability is "inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity." The condition must be expected to continue indefinitely or to result in death. It can either be physical or mental, but it must be so severe that it is not likely to be improved by medical treatment to the point of making it possible to return to work.

An example might be a worker who breaks a leg. He knows he will probably be off the job for as much as three months. This might have some effect on his social security record, but when his whole working history is considered upon retirement, the effect would be small.

We have a big stock of SCHOOL SUPPLIES for all students. Come in today and make your selections.

This worker would have every reason to believe he would return to work within the foreseeable future. For this reason, his disability, because it is temporary, would not qualify him under the social security disability provisions.

On the other hand, a worker who discovers he has a severe case of tuberculosis that prevents him from doing any kind of work, has no way of knowing when he will be able to return to work. When he has been disabled six months, he can apply for benefits if he is age 50 or over, or to have his record frozen if he is under 50.

Mr. Hutton noted there are other requirements that must be met before a worker's social security record can be frozen or benefits can be paid. Among these is the work requirement which states that a worker must have social security credit for at least five out of the ten years prior to his date of disability.

Anyone who needs further information is invited to contact Lubbock Social Security Office by phone, mail, or in person. The people there will be happy to explain to you your rights under the Social Security Act. The address is 1616 19th Street, Lubbock, Texas. A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Floydada on Monday, August 22, in the Courthouse, Room 106 at 9:30 a.m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Revision Is Needed In Ginning Order

College Station. — The practice of ginning cotton in the order of arrival at the gin needs revision. The reason, says B. C. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, is the ever-increasing number of machines used to harvest the fleecy staple.

Machine harvested cotton, he says, usually has a higher moisture and trash content than hand-picked cotton and different settings of gin machinery and drying equipment are required for each type. A modern gin can turn out a bale of cotton every 6 to 10 minutes and there isn't time to make the needed adjustments on an individual bale basis. The result, points out Reeves, somebody loses and it is usually both the grower and ginner.

The answer to the problem is the grouping of seed cotton on the gin yard according to the method of harvesting or moisture content. Reeves says that a number of gins in Texas have been using this plan and both the ginner and grower have profited. The grower has received a better selling price for his cotton and the ginner has been able to do a better ginning job.

Reeves suggests that farmers and ginner get together and agree on a procedure for solving the problem locally. In some instances, hand-picked cotton has been ginned during the day and machine harvested cotton during the night. If machine harvested bales are in the majority, then ginning hours can be adjusted to take care of the local situation.

Experience has shown, says the specialist, that trucks and trailers are usually back in the field, under the grouping plan as soon as they were under the old system of ginning on a first-come basis. The best ginning job is done when the lint moisture is 5 to 7 percent. Drying to this level, says Reeves, gives a smooth sample and allows proper cleaning. He advises farmers and ginner to get together on the problem before the heavy harvesting season begins.

Agriculture research has demonstrated that it takes as much as 1000 pounds of sorghum stubble maintained the year round to prevent erosion on heavy clay soils. Also certain types of plows can destroy as much as 50 percent of the plant residue with one plowing operation.

It is recognized that keeping residue on the surface presents some problems not encountered when stubble is burned or plowed under. This makes field working conditions difficult, especially with standard type implements. These are implements on the market today that are specifically designed for working in stubble that allows the farmer to practice stubble-mulch farming easily and economically. It would be wise to consider these implements when replacing worn out standard equipment.

The SCS personnel will be glad to assist you in planning conservation cropping systems that include stubble mulching in your farming operation.

DISABILITY PROVISIONS OF SOCIAL SECURITY EXPLAINED

Many people are asking about the disability provisions of the Social Security Act," said G. Hutton, manager of the Lockney Social Security District Office, today.

These provisions have drawn the interest of some people who are temporarily out of work because of an injury," Mr. Hutton continued. "However, the law was not written to include the risk of temporary disability."

Hutton explained that the law's definition of disability is "inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity." The condition must be expected to continue indefinitely or to result in death. It can either be physical or mental, but it must be so severe that it is not likely to be improved by medical treatment to the point of making it possible to return to work.

An example might be a worker who breaks a leg. He knows he will probably be off the job for as much as three months. This might have some effect on his social security record, but when his whole working history is considered upon retirement, the effect would be small.

This worker would have every reason to believe he would return to work within the foreseeable future. For this reason, his disability, because it is temporary, would not qualify him under the social security disability provisions.

On the other hand, a worker who discovers he has a severe case of tuberculosis that prevents him from doing any kind of work, has no way of knowing when he will be able to return to work. When he has been disabled six months, he can apply for benefits if he is age 50 or over, or to have his record frozen if he is under 50.

Mr. Hutton noted there are other requirements that must be met before a worker's social security record can be frozen or benefits can be paid. Among these is the work requirement which states that a worker must have social security credit for at least five out of the ten years prior to his date of disability.

Anyone who needs further information is invited to contact Lubbock Social Security Office by phone, mail, or in person. The people there will be happy to explain to you your rights under the Social Security Act. The address is 1616 19th Street, Lubbock, Texas.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Floydada on Monday, August 22, in the Courthouse, Room 106 at 9:30 a.m. and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

CROSS ROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where Washington aims to start work soon on a $2.7 million bomb shelter in Texas that is expected to preserve some 500 of the Federal officials in the area, in case of atomic attack.

My expendable neighbor says likely these shelters will be built around all over the country, so that if war comes, we will have enough bureaucrats left for seed.

But says they had better arrange also for the survival of a few plain citizens, on account of what good are bureaucrats without taxpayers?

Established in 1749, the mission stands proudly today in a rare and enviable beauty — a reverent beauty that is only bestroved upon the great during the ages.

Near the mission is the site of the infamous massacre of General Fannin and his Texas soldiers by the troops of the Mexican General Santa Anna.

Revision Is Needed In Ginning Order

College Station. — The practice of ginning cotton in the order of arrival at the gin needs revision. The reason, says B. G. Reeves, extension cotton ginning and mechanization specialist, is the ever-increasing number of machines used to harvest the fleecy staple.

Machine harvested cotton, he says, usually has a higher moisture and trash content than hand-picked cotton and different settings of gin machinery and drying equipment are required for each type. A modern gin can turn out a bale of cotton every 6 to 10 minutes and there isn't time to make the needed adjustments on an individual bale basis. The result, points out Reeves, somebody loses and it is usually both the grower and ginner.

The answer to the problem is the grouping of seed cotton on the gin yard according to the method of harvesting or moisture content. Reeves says that a number of gins in Texas have been using this plan and both the ginner and grower have profited. The grower has received a better selling price for his cotton and the ginner has been able to do a better ginning job.

Reeves suggests that farmers and ginner get together and agree on a procedure for solving the problem locally. In some instances, hand-picked cotton has been ginned during the day and machine harvested cotton during the night. Machine harvested bales are in the majority, then ginning hours can be adjusted to take care of the local situation.

Experience has shown, says the specialist, that trucks and trailers are usually back in the field, under the grouping plan as soon as they were under the old system of ginning on a first come basis. The best ginning job is done when the lint moisture is 5 to 7 percent. Drying to this level, says Reeves, gives a smooth sample and allows proper cleaning. He advises farmers and ginner to get together on the problem before the heavy harvesting season begins.

Plow Deep To Reduce Cotton Root Rot

College Station. — Drying out the soil for 2 weeks or more after deep plowing can reduce cotton root rot to as low as 2 percent or less the following year, according to Dr. Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Deep plow 10 to 14 inches or more. It is best to use a mold board or disc type plow. Bedding and listings are ineffective. Plow in the summer if possible. If not, plow as soon in the fall as possible, advises Smith.

Drying out the soil helps reduce the root rot by lowering the number of fungus seed bodies or sclerotia in the soil. It also kills old cotton roots and roots of susceptible weeds on which the fungus lives over-winter. The fungus has been found at depths of 8 feet; however, most of it is concentrated in the top 12 to 20 inches of the soil.

Deep plowing is most effective if no rain occurs for at least 2 weeks after plowing.

Check the long range forecast. Try to select a time when dry weather is expected. Do not irrigate after plowing for at least 2 weeks to allow soil to dry.

A combination of practices carried on for a number of years is necessary for best results.

Local county agents can supply additional information on recommended cotton root rot control practices, Smith says.

When you are eight years old, it is not difficult to transform yourself suddenly into an Indian scout and to see a procession of chiefs, with their brightly colored feathered headdresses, galloping across the horizon astride magnificent stallions.

Children are fired with imagination, just as they are filled with faith. The faith of a child is something so simple and so beautiful that many an adult, viewing it, finds himself crying a little, deep down inside, for his own lost childhood and the touching innocence that was once his.

Yet before God, all men are children, His children, and Faith is there to be accepted, if men will but take it as a gift. The Church has the answer, showing you how to live like a man, while still possessing the heart of a child . . . helping you to get the very most out of life. If you haven't been to church lately . . . why not go this Sunday?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A HISTORY OF LOCKNEY

The three third grade teachers in Lockney schools, Mrs. J. D. Copeland, Mrs. Robert Ayres and Mrs. C. H. Cheves, have recently completed a history of Lockney written in story form so that it can be readily understood by third grade students. However, the story is so crammed with facts and presented in such an interesting way that adults will find it fascinating reading.

The teachers have in mind to use this story in connection with their studies in third grade. Adults who have read the story all agree that it is very well written, very interesting and should be a part of the study program of local students.

The problem now faced is how to get the story published in book form so as to be readily available to students. The Beacon has agreed to help with this matter and here is our plan: We would like to have a number of local people agree to buy a copy of the book for $1.00. If we can sell enough copies in advance we will proceed with the printing and will furnish these three teachers with copies for their school rooms at no cost to them. The Beacon wants only the cost of printing. If more books are sold, any money collected above the cost of printing will be returned to the teachers who spent many long hours in compiling the book.

We are primarily interested in seeing the book published because we believe it will be a valuable addition to the local school curriculum. We hope that a number of families of the community will agree to buy one copy.

It is not necessary to pay for your copy now. But we do want to know how many will want a copy so that we can print enough copies for everyone who wants one as well as copies for the school.

Please fill out the blank below and mail or bring it to The Beacon office if you wish one of these books.

Please reserve one copy of The History of Lockney for me for which I agree to pay $1.00.

Frank C de Baca Injured Saturday

Frank C de Baca of Tulia, husband of the former Patsy Vanek of Lockney, was seriously injured last Saturday morning at Tulia when his leg was caught in the auger in a boot pit at the elevator where he was employed. The foot and lower part of the leg was badly mangled and it was necessary to amputate the limb. First amputation was below the knee but complication made a second operation necessary and this time the amputation was above the knee.

He is under treatment at the Plainview Hospital & Clinic where his condition was described as good early this week. Frank's brother, Jerry, was injured about 10 days previous when a gin pole on a winch truck fell on him while he was employed in construction work. He is also under treatment at the Plainview Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allen recently returned from a vacation trip visiting friends in Brownfield, Denver City, Friona, and Artesia and Clovis, New Mexico.
