EDITORIAL

Who can understand his errors? Cleanse thou me from secret faults. — Psalm 19:12.

PEACE THROUGH PREPAR-EDNESS is the theme for Civil Defense Day, which this nation observes on December 7th, Pearl Harbor Day. We think it most fitting that Civil Defense Day and Pearl Harbor Day be observed together. The sneak attack which plunged us into World War II serves as a grim reminder that we must never again relax our vigilance. We in this area are rather slack in our Civil Defense efforts. Perhaps we should take more interest in this aspect of national preparedness. We might need it sometime and find ourselves unprepared.

THE EDITOR is worried. He is, in fact, worried about two things. One is the necessity for so many safeguards to keep people from stealing public (or private) money or from cheating in transactions involving money. Most every day we read where public officials, bank officials, union officials or some plain Joe Doe has stolen a sizeable amount of money. We wonder what has happened to the principles of our fathers. Is the slogan, "Honesty is the Best Policy" no longer in force? Have we become so greedy for material wealth that we have forgotten all about the basic principles of honesty, integrity, fairness and consideration of others. Maybe we should re-examine our school textbooks as well as home-text books. Bountiful teachings. Some children should be taught principles.

THE OTHER THING that worries the editor is the trend toward intolerance in thought and speech. Especially in political campaigns, local, state or national, we hear of those who would allow no thought on the matter except their own. Friends have fallen out, business men have been threatened with boycott, talk is spread of "starting a business" to force out one who disagrees, all because the people involved have expressed their opinion or had the courage to do their own thinking. Such a narrow-minded, intolerant attitude would be expected of the "Hitlers" and the "Stalins" but certainly should not be exhibited by Americans. We talk of the four freedoms, freedom of speech, of thought, of worship, and of the press, and yet there are those among us who do not believe in these freedoms except for themselves. They want others to conform to their own ideas and beliefs or be silent. This is not the American way.

UNUSUAL IS THE situation this year when we apparently have elected a president of the United States with less than half of the popular vote. The latest tabulations show that, counting the votes cast for the Prohibition and Constitution Party candidates, John F. Kennedy received less than 50 per cent of the popular vote though he is still some 200,000 votes ahead of his Republican opponent, Richard M. Nixon. We don't see how Mr. Kennedy can feel that he has much of a "mandate from the people" when more than half of them voted against him. We trust that he will be wise enough to tone down the extremely radical platform on which he was elected and adopt a sensible, sane, approach to the problems that will face him when he takes office. We like some of the stands Mr. Kennedy has taken since his election. We'll wait and see how we like his stand on labor legislation.

FROM THE NORWALK, Connecticut, Hour: "British government subsidized medicine—often referred to by Britons themselves as the terrible example of socialized medicine — was given another jolt by an investigation by the British Medical Association. "Slinging out a new housing development on the outskirts of London, the researchers chose 2,500 inhabitants at random and quizzed them on their health and medical treatments. They discovered that even among those enjoying good health, the obsession of 'free' medicine has turned a majority into hypochondriacs.

"Britain is on a gigantic medicine kick, brought about by placing medical treatment on a plane with free samples of chewing gum."

ACCORDING TO U. S. News & World Report, "Americans are giving auto makers abroad a severe lesson by snubbing foreign cars for Detroit's compacts. This year's sales of imported cars is estimated at a little more than 500,000 units, as against 610,000 in 1959. And a further drop to 450,000 imported units, is forecast for 1961.

TAX FUNDS FOR POLITICS

Sen. Ralph Yarborough disagreed with a suggestion of the Texas Commission on Higher Education to raise tuition rates at State colleges to a more realistic figure and immediately leaped to his typewriter.

To The Avalanche-Journal — and, it must be assumed, to every other Texas daily newspaper of importance — he dispatched from Austin, his views by telegraph, about a half-column of them.

The Senator's views are one thing, but the way he sent them out is another: at the top of the telegram were the telltale words, "Govt. Pd." This means that good, old Joe Taxpayer footed the bill for the Senator's personal politicking in this regard. It is not to be overlooked, by the way, that the Texas college tuition problem does not come under the aegis of the Federal government and that the bouncy junior Senator has no responsibility therefor. It will be decided not by the national Congress but by the Texas Legislature and is purely a matter of State responsibility.

For Yarborough gratuitously telegraph his views on a matter as widely important as the college tuition affair is, to say the least, duplicatory and unnecessary. Both wires services, Associated Press and United Press International, reported Yarborough's opinion, so it is extremely doubtful if any paper in the State printed one slide. It is also fortunate that every voter voted just as he did otherwise it would have been a different story.

The Republicans gained a net of nineteen seats in the House and one in the Senate. This trimmed liberal wings somewhat and with a Republican - Southern Democratic coalition we can hope for moderate legislation in the future.

Senator Johnson also gained in power due to the close election. It is now evident that without him Kennedy could not have won Southern support and without it he would have lost the election. That is something the Northern Democrats had better remember from now on. Johnson, although a moderate liberal, is also a practical politician and he knows the voter vetoed against "liberalism" and should act accordingly. Nixon, conducting basically a conservative campaign, almost won the election on that point alone. In fact, the sum total of the election may force Kennedy to become a non-partisan President which in turn would unite the country solidly against communism. If Kennedy is smart enough to see this the first thing he will do is shelve "that" Democratic platform and never allow it to see the light of day again. — Cecil Waggoner in Claude News.

Dear Editor: I see where the National Union of Teachers recommends children be taught to "approximate" and "estimate" instead of how to get exact answers to math problems.

My poor - guesser neighbor says he used to keep books by this system, until the Internal Revenue Bureau taught him better.

Says he has also been converted to accuracy on account of not wishing to run the risk of being interred too hastily because some Union - taught doctor figures he is approximately dead.

ELECTRIC BASEBOARD HEATING-

nearest thing to the sun's natural warmth!

Gentle, constant warmth — like the warming rays of the sun — but never sudden gusts of hot air followed by cold blasts. You'd like electric baseboard heating for that kind of comfort alone.

But there are still more advantages: warm floors without drafts — separate temperature control for each room — no loss of floor or wall space.

Your Public Service manager enjoys talking — about electric heating. Ask him how you can put baseboard heating in add-on rooms as well as new or older homes.

Johnny built a snowman! From white, cold snow he made it. It was hard work, and Johnny was justly proud.

Johnny built a snowman—in a day! He packed the snow hard, put in coals for the eyes and nose, and Daddy's hat was placed on top.

But far more of Daddy than just his hat went into this snowman. Just as Johnny worked hard to build the snowman, his father is hard at work too . . . building Johnny. Daddy's greatest dream is to see Johnny moulded into a man of strength, vision, and character.

Luckily for Johnny, Daddy is a wise father. He realizes that the most important single influence upon his son's life is the teaching of Christ. Daddy will see to it that his son receives that teaching by sending him to Church services regularly. In making certain that Johnny knows the beauty of God's words, father will see his greatest dream come true.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Junior High Band Entertains Parents

Lockney Junior High band played a short concert Tuesday night entertaining their parents and other members and guests of the Band Booster Club in the High School Auditorium. The program began at 7:30 with Wyatt Burkhalter directing. Forty-nine junior high band students took part in playing three numbers: "Sky Pilot March" by E. D. Cannan, "Wigwags" by C. W. Johnson and "Aria and Minuet" by Scarlatti, arranged by Johnson. Chuck Wilson, photographer, was on hand to take pictures of the attractive group after the program.

At the regular Band Boosters meeting held following the program, C. L. Record presided. Mrs. S. A. Freeman, secretary, read the minutes, and Mrs. Lena White read the treasurer's report in the absence of the treasurer. Mr. Record urged all parents to pay their dues which are two dollars each, and to remember to buy their Christmas cards and gift candy from the band. A large number of parents attended the meeting and many paid their dues for the year. Cookies, hot chocolate and coffee were served. Mr. Burkhalter announced that there would be many more enjoyable programs presented by both junior and senior bands during the year.

BREAKS COLLAR BONE

Eldon Stapp, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Slapp, received a severe break in his right collar bone while playing football Saturday afternoon. Eldon was playing with a group of other boys his age at the band marching field near high school when the accident happened. He and his younger brother walked across town to Lockney General Hospital where the shoulder was x-rayed, treated, and placed in a brace. His mother was out of town so the boys acted on their own in going to the hospital. Eldon has been out of school all week but expects to go back Monday.
