Scratching the Scratchpad

JOHNNY MYERS
READER WRITES:
 You don't have a picture and a writeup about the cartoonist, Douglas... is a very good cartoonist and we will enjoy his work much.
 Signed: A Local Reader
 I must agree that Douglas is a young cartoonist. We will give him word in The Review from time to time when there is something of local interest on there is a story to tell. To tell the truth about the story, we just plumb hadn't heard of it—an admission we make because we generally don't think of everything. It had been nice, though, to see the Local Reader signed his name. There certainly is no reason to be ashamed of in writing a newspaper.

NEWS
 Newsom is really getting for the cotton farmers of the area. Just moved in over $500 worth of new gin equipment early this week.

SCRATCHPAD
 From time to time this column brings you a joke—one we will make you laugh a little. For those with little or no sense (and there are more than here) we will always give them like so:
WISDOM: The automobile motorist and suddenly wheezed to a lonely road.
 "Wonder," mused the sailor, "that knock is?"
 "Maybe," suggested his blonde companion, "it's opportunity knocking."

SCRATCHPAD
 The past week there has been a number of passing motorists who have stopped in Plains to have a picnic-style lunch or just rest on the grounds of the court house just a scant few blocks from one of the best parks in the whole big state of Texas. Don't you think it would be nice if there were a sign on each end of town welcoming these travelers and telling them they are welcome to the peace and quiet of our park for their momentary rest?

SCRATCHPAD
 This column on July 12 we noted that there were a great number of subscribers, through the gift of their own who did not pay. They were behind in their subscription payments. Well, we want you to know that the reason that plea for renewal was just great. Our subscription records are looking better, but there are still some behind. If you believe you are behind just ask us and we will be glad to tell you. Besides this could save us a lot of postage that would have to be spent mailing out statements.

SCRATCHPAD
 This week we congratulate the young who celebrate birthdays and anniversaries; Wanda and Roger Curry, Aug. 13; Jack Harrington and Betty, Aug. 13; Mr. and Mrs. B. Lloyd and Eddie Tingle, Aug. 14; Jack Harbour, Aug. 15; the Snodgrass, Lola Louise and Mr. and Mrs. Pat, Aug. 16; Beverly Jones, Jimmie Elmore and Velma Williams, Aug. 17; and belated congratulations to Denise Newsom, Mrs. H. D. Oden of Hawley, who celebrated birthdays.

OTHERS HAVE BOY
 Mrs. Cliff Prather of Plains is announcing the arrival of her son, born July 31 in a Big Springs Hospital. He weighed 10 pounds and 10 ounces and has been named Albert Marcus. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stamps are the proud parents of the youngster.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS BEAUTY CONTEST, WATER SHOW SATURDAY

Jan Hutchins now reigns as Miss Yoakum County, being chosen over a field of 20 of the county's prettiest contenders for that honor last Saturday night in the American Legion-sponsored beauty contest held at the swimming pool in Stanford Park. Ruth Hinkle won top honors in the age group 10 to 13 and Jackie Hawkins was judged winner in the group 9-years-old and under.

Jan and Jackie were both sponsored by Jackie's father, Ford Hawkins of Hawkins Food Market. McGinty-Stephens abstract Co. sponsored Ruth.
 Other winners were: Anna B. Paek, representing McMath Grocery, second; and Mary Kay Dyer, for Wells-Nelson Pharmacy, third in the older division; Annette Suddreth, Precinct 4, second; and Marsha White, Plains Frozen Food, third in the middle age division; Brenda Hart, McGinty-Stephens Abstract Co., second; and Beverly Jones, Blanche's Beauty Shop third in the youngest group.

Judges of the show were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and Mr. Warren Liner, all of the American Legion Post in Seminole. Approximately 500 persons were on hand for the judging and water show. Girls in the older group provided suspense for the audience. Judges were unable to immediately decide who should win and had the girls promenade before them a number of times, before announcing the winner.

Jimmie Elmore, dressed in red flannel underwear and lots of red make-up and Miss 1920, Odell Kerby, provided humor to the gathering.
 In addition to the contest there was a diving exhibition by Jerry Barron of Big Spring and a contest in diving between Steve McGinty, Robert Hether and Mike Caldwell.

Master of ceremonies for the show was Verron Townes, Yoakum County attorney.
 A beautifully-decorated pool was provided by Mrs. Lois McGinty and Mrs. Oma McCargo. The women worked on decorations almost all day Saturday and used huge displays of flowers for the major effect in the pool.

Adlai E. Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and standard bearer of the Democratic Party for the past four years, carries the hopes of this nation's Democrats with him now as the "big push" to win back the white-pillared mansion on Pennsylvania Ave. in Washington begins for the Democratic Party.

Stevenson was a heavy winner for nomination on the first ballot of the convention and was less than 10 votes from nomination when the delegation from Pennsylvania was polled. That delegation cast seven votes for Gov. W. Averill Harriman of New York and 67 for Stevenson, more than enough to insure his nomination on the first ballot.

Mr. Stevenson appeared before the delegates in the huge amphitheater in Chicago about 10 p. m. (Plains time) and told them he wanted the convention to name his vice presidential running mate. He declined to make an acceptance speech, remarking that he would do that at the regularly scheduled time Friday night.

Veteran convention observers opined that Mr. Stevenson appeared before the delegates more to show his position as head of the Democratic Party, than for any other reason, in light of the past few days' power attempts by former President Truman.

Gov. Harriman, who gained strong support in the first days of the convention following his endorsement by former president Harry Truman, was a slow second in the balloting. Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma, who placed Harriman's name in nomination, and speaking for Gov. Harriman, took the floor before an official count was given and moved that a "united Democratic Party elect Adlai Stevenson unanimously as the Democratic nominee."

Harriman's strength came early after the Truman announcement and never climbed much higher than the first surge of approximately 400 votes.
 At 9:15 p. m. (Plains time) Stevenson was declared the nominee.

Former President Truman, when asked his reaction said, "I'll support the ticket as I have always promised to do." Mr. Truman had earlier said that Stevenson could not win the November election.
 Mr. Stevenson was given early support from two sources: Almost simultaneously with the Truman announcement, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt gave her support to him and before the convention convened, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, had urged the delegates pledged to him in various state primaries to give their support to Stevenson.

Vice Presidential nominations and balloting will be the first order of business Friday. Sen. John Kennedy, Mass., after spoke of as a vice presidential choice, had the honor of nominating Stevenson for the Democratic nomination.
 Stevenson, speaking Wednesday night to newsmen, said Sen. Kennedy was one of three young Democrats acceptable to him for the

Commissioners Pay Bills, Hear Monthly Reports

Commissioner's Court met in regular session Monday to approve bills and monthly reports.
 County Auditor Bill Moorhead presented the bills for payment. All bills were paid but the total amount was not readily available. Bills for charity cases — food, rent and medical expenses — amounted to $1,375.87.

Monthly reports from the county auditor, county clerk, treasurer, Justice of the Peace, precinct 1, and the tax assessor-collector were approved.
 Auditor Moorhead announced he has almost completed preparation of the coming year's budget. The budget report is expected to be heard soon after August 15.

It was announced in the meeting that the petition calling for a hospital bond election for the Plains area is still being checked for eligibility of signers. Poll tax checks have already been made against the lists and the petition is now in the tax collector-assessor's hands for a check against the rendered property lists.

PLAINS COTTON GROWERS SUBMIT COTTON RESERVE RECOMMENDATIONS

A delegation from the Plains Cotton Growers met recently with the Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McLain and other high officials in Washington, D. C., to present the case with respect to distribution of the state cotton acreage reserve.

The following recommendations for 1957 were presented, asking that the Secretary of Agriculture make regulations:

1. Limiting the State Committee to a maximum of 2 per cent of the total state allotment for use in all categories except that of small farms.

2. Limiting the State Committee to only 2.25 per cent of the total state allotment for small farm adjustments. This recommendation is based on precedent, and the figure of 2.25 per cent represents the average amount allotted to small farms over the last three years, representing all three years in which acreage controls have been in effect. Holding the state committee to the U. S. D. A. definition of small farms as being not over 15 acres.

3. Appointment of a West Texas cotton producer on the state committee, as this area does not have representation by a cotton producer.

A brief on the cotton acreage was filed with the Department of Agriculture pointing out that the history of West Texas is one of constantly expanding cotton production. The Plains production expanded rapidly, rising from only 2.7 per cent of the state total in 1915-1924 to 26.1 per cent in the past ten years, 1945-54.

In 1956, the nation as a whole received an average acreage reduction of 3.9 per cent. The Department of Agriculture, recognizing the national trend westward gave Texas only a 2.7 per cent cut; yet the state committee did not recognize trends within the state, and gave West Texas a 7.0 per cent cut, while giving East Texas a 7 per cent gain, thus completely reversing trends.

The brief brought out that the most equitable method of allotting acres is by the 5-year history. Those who plot their acreage earn this history and should retain it. Those who do not plant for reasons within their control, lose their history.

The record shows that many East Texas areas did not even plant their allotments in 1955.

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD

By LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

Last year there was considerable damage done to some of the crop by the cabbage looper, an insect that was not generally considered to be a damaging worm as far as cotton was concerned. This year the infestation of loopers is three or four times as bad as last year. A big hatch of young loopers came off last week and many of the cotton fields have a severe infestation of small worms.

Cotton fields that have had regular applications of insecticide for bollworms have kept the damage to a minimum but now that the bollworm has slowed down, the cabbage looper is on the increase. Cabbage loopers can be controlled but the cost of the insecticide is much greater than materials used for bollworms. Endrin is the only recommended material for cabbage looper control. Some of the farmers are trying to kill their loopers by putting on two or three applications of tetephene and DDT mixture instead of using endrin. They can get good control if they get the applications timed properly so that all of their worms are the very small ones. Some fields have such a heavy infestation of small worms and also enough eggs to warrant two applications of endrin. Certainly it is more economical to apply three applications of bollworm poison than two applications of endrin. None of these materials will have any effect on the aphids so two or three applications of these materials might cause a build up of lice. Lice are already getting a good start in some fields.

Parathion, demeton and BHC are the materials that are recommended for aphids; however, there is a report that cotton farmers in the Roswell area are getting good results with malathion. This material would be much safer on the part of the operator than either parathion or demeton.

The next cotton insect that is very likely to come in this year is the cotton leaf worm. Some farmers say that they are not anxious for the leaf worms to get here but it will be a pleasure to poison them if it is necessary. They know that the leaf worms will be easy to kill compared with the trouble they are having with the cabbage loopers. The first leaf worms usually appear about the 25th of August if they are going to reproduce in sufficient numbers to warrant poisoning. This year we found one almost grown and one half grown leaf worm on August 13th which indicates that the leaf worm will need poisoning in about six weeks. That will be the last week in September and about five weeks before the expected killing frost which is too soon for the cotton to be left without any leaves on it. When cotton leaves are eaten off by leaf worms or cabbage loopers the yield is lowered because the half grown bolls cannot go ahead and mature. If seventy percent of the bolls are open at the time that leaf worms are working, then the yield will not be impaired because of the loss of leaves. This figure of seventy percent comes from defoliation recommendations. All cotton specialists and research workers claim that cotton can be defoliated without any loss in yield if the defoliant is applied after seventy percent of the bolls are open.

The recommended seeding rates are a guide and farmers may plant from 80 per cent to 120 per cent of the recommended rates and still receive payment. The same applies to fertilizer rates. It is hoped that the state approval will soon be secured. As soon as it is farmers may sign up for this practice at the Yoakum County ASC Office. Application for this practice should be made before the cover crop is planted. If you would like to have more information on this, contact the SCS personnel assisting the Yoakum Soil District or go to the county ASC office in Plains.

AREA SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

The time is here to begin planning for some kind of cover to keep the farm land from blowing next spring during February, March, and April. One doesn't have to try very hard to recall that critical wind erosion period last spring when fertile topsoil was being picked up and carried away to be piled up on fence rows or public roads.

To aid the farmer in protecting his land from destruction by wind erosion, the Yoakum Soil Conservation District and the Yoakum County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee are trying to get a program approved which will pay the farmer for planting winter cover crops and for fertilizer to apply to these cover crops. This program, if approved by the state will be as follows:

TV Attack On Papers . . .

Early this week, one of the Lubbock television stations aired a program entitled "What's Behind The News" of which the first five minutes was devoted to a full-scale attack on the methods employed by newspapers to keep readers informed. The idea behind this tirade was to boost television's role in reporting the coverage of the Democratic national convention.

But we must say that the attack was unwarranted, childishly conceived and without basis of fact. Newspapers play an important role in keeping this nation informed. News is reported fully and without the 'stripped-to-the-bone' editing necessary in a full schedule of tightly-woven programs. We in the newspaper do not care how long it takes you to read a story, because if you are interested you may read all the facts, and if your interest is only slight, then the "meat" of the story is in the first few lines.

Another thing: We have not attacked television as a news medium. There is room in the news and entertainment fields for both of us. Rather, newspapers have made it a point to extol their virtues without reference to other media.

So, Mr. John O'Brien and his organization, KDUB-TV, now deserve a little analyzing:

Mr. O'Brien said that a person would get better coverage from TV, he remarked there would be no necessity for thumbing through reams and reams of paper to find a small column of type on a far from the front page. He, quite vehemently, harangued that convention coverage would only be at its best through the eye of the television camera, and all other news coverage was included in his attack.

Granted, we enjoyed seeing portions of the convention via Mr. O'Brien's station. But, it certainly was far from enough coverage to satisfy us. In difference to newspapers where there are many stories and you choose for yourself what parts you want to read; a noted news commentator and a director kept switching from camera to camera giving us just enough of many convention stories that we felt like a young swain that quite never gets kissed after much teasing.

Immediately following Mr. O'Brien's attack on us, there followed the "Early Edition." Edition being strictly a newspaper word we felt somewhat let down that a TV station would stoop so low as to use the dirty word.

Then, one of Mr. O'Brien's co-newsmen started the "meaty" newscast we had been built up to eagerly receive. First, the story of a fire in Greenville, Texas where two were dead—no other information. The number injured, the name of the hotel, the extent of the damage were all left to our imagination.

Next, the story that a group of young Democrats of Fort Worth had invited gubernatorial candidates Price Daniel and Ralph Yarborough to a public debate. Again, it was a story untold. No mention was made as to whether the candidates would meet, would not meet or what comments they had—a virtue you will always find in a well-written news story.

This story could go on and on, but we believe the defense has now placed the shoe on the other foot. Aside from the great and thorough coverage of all the day's news, we dare television to begin recording news in the departments of birth announcements, weddings, pictures of important events and the many other news developments that can be treasured as a living history of this nation and others, news the TV editors consider too small of consequence for televising.

And besides you can't paste a television picture in a scrapbook or carry it in your pocket to enjoy with your friends.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Tex.—The eyes of Texas are on Chicago this week. And politically speaking, the state nestles in one man's pocket.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson heads the 112-member Texas delegation, each of whom will cast one-half vote of the state's 56 nominating votes. They are pledged to support him as a favorite son nominee until he releases them.

Thereafter they will vote under the unit rule, probably for whatever candidate is favored by Sen. Johnson. All delegates and the 70 alternates were selected by the May convention with the Senator's approval.

Another Texan, Speaker Sam Rayburn, figures prominently in convention affairs. He will be presiding over a presidential convention for the third time.

SEPTEMBER CONVENTION IN DOUBT—Who will win out and how at the September State Democratic Conventions is a subject of heated debate.

Actual outcome will not be known until the meeting gets under way in Fort Worth. Rival conservative and liberal delegations will struggle for nearly 600 seats. Convention control hinges on these places.

Precinct and county conventions named some 577 definitely liberal delegates, about 224 conservatives. But neither side can control the 1900-vote convention without the contested seats.

Mrs. Kathleen Voigt of San Antonio, liberal leader, charged last week the conservative executive committee planned to "steal" the convention. She asked that the May state convention, which was recessed rather than adjourned, be reconvened to take charge of the situation.

Man George Sandlin dismissed Mrs. Voigt's charges as "the same old thing, every two years."

He promised the committee would give all contesting delegations a fair hearing and seat those legally entitled to places. He predicted the convention would be made up of middle-of-the-road conservatives "with no ax to grind."

As for the May convention, he felt the intervening precinct and county conventions had made it past history.

WEBB INVESTIGATORS IN CONTROVERSY—Who should investigate alleged voting irregularities in Webb County is still being debated.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard has twice been set back in efforts to set up a state-level inquiry. But his office said he intends to continue the fight.

At Sheppard's behest, Austin Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts sent Dan Moody Jr. to Laredo to act as master in chancery of an inquiry.

Webb County Dist. Judge R. D. Wright issued an injunction to stop the Moody investigation. He claimed prior jurisdiction for the questioning being conducted in his own court.

Sheppard and Moody took the matter to the State Supreme Court which rejected their petition. Meanwhile, the Webb County grand jury indicted seven persons. But spokesmen for the Reform Party called this "window dressing." They were still working for an investigation originating in Austin.

SANTA FE CASE—Awaiting the Supreme Court when it reconvenes in October will be a motion for rehearing in the long-contested Santa Fe Railway case.

In July the court upheld the right of unions to make closed shop agreements in the railway industry. Such contracts are prohibited by the state "right to work" law, but allowed by the federal railway act.

In their motions, railway attorneys asked the court either to reverse the July ruling or modify it. They contended that union contracts should allow only for collection of "dues and assessments necessary to support collective bargaining action."

U. S. Dept. of Agriculture estimates put Texas' 1956 cotton crop at 3,600,000 bales, compared to 4,039,000 last year.

Prospective yields ran to extremes. They were termed "extremely poor" in dryland areas, "excellent" in irrigated sections.

Farmers who did not grow cotton will get the lion's share of Texas' soil bank payments. Of the $22 million to be paid to Texas farmers by the federal government within the next few weeks, more than $16 million will go for idle cotton acreage.

Other payments: $5,524,000 for wheat, $372,000 for peanuts, $210,097 for rice.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT SUGGESTED—Texas needs a department of justice to bolster local laws.

ment of justice to bolster local laws.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness made this suggestion last week in a report on the Department of Public Safety. He pointed out that legislative investigators had urged such a move three years ago.

Cavness also noted that while the DPS funds and staff have grown, they have not kept pace with needs and responsibilities.

FEDERAL INQUIRY OF US TRUST—A federal grand jury investigation of the bankrupt U. S. Trust and Guaranty Co. is scheduled for Sept. 24.

Federal officials would have the power to prosecute if they found the company had violated U. S. postal regulations or securities laws.

U. S. Dist. Atty. Malcolm R. Wilkey of Houston declined to say what course inquiry might take.

SHORT SNORTS—Withdrawal of Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr. from the lieutenant governor's race for health reasons caused only minor delays in second primary preparations. Most counties reported they had printed only a few ballots for absentee voters. Most counties voting machines were changed with little difficulty.

New Visiting Hours Go Into Effect at Yoakum Co. Hospital

A new policy of establishing visiting hours at the Yoakum County Hospital was announced this week by Jack Flint, manager.

Mr. Flint said that effective immediately, visiting of patients at the hospital would be limited to between the hours of 10:30 and 11:30 o'clock in the mornings; 2:00 to 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and from 7:00 to 9:00 o'clock at night.

The hospital manager also announced that children under 12 years of age will not be allowed to visit obstetrical patients, but that after 24 hours the mother may come to the lobby to visit the children.

Mr. Flint explained that this policy was necessary as a double protection for both the children and the patients. He also asked the cooperation and understanding of the public in the instigation of the visiting regulations, pointing out that it had become a necessity to insure the best possible care for the patients.

The manager also asked that the "no visitors" signs be observed by the public, when they are posted on room doors. "They are only posted when the patient's condition is such that visitors would be detrimental," Flint said, "and we ask the cooperation of visitors in abiding by the signs."

Mr. and Mrs. Derward George of Corsicana visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Luna last Sunday.

It doesn't cost a cent to Take a Ford Test Drive . . . and you may save hundreds!

Would you trade 20 minutes of your time for a saving of hundreds?

Why put off the fun of a Ford Test Drive for a single day? As you know, it puts you under absolutely no obligation. And it may save you literally hundreds of dollars—we'll get to that a little further on.

By a Test Drive we mean more than a once-around-the-block "spin."

We want you to test the power that rocketed Ford to a 500-mile stock car record at Indianapolis . . . the GO that won the grand prize at NASCAR's Daytona Championships. We want you to feel how this Ford seat pays off in your kind of driving: in traffic, passing on the highway, getting going at traffic lights. We'll put either a Ford Six or a mighty V-8 with up to 225 h.p. at your disposal.

We want you to drive and listen—drive and feel.

That fine-car quiet results from sound insulation under the hood, under the roof, in door and body panels—the most insulation in any car at anywhere near Ford's low price.

Some other things that contribute to that smooth, silent, luxury-car ride are things which Ford's leading competitor certainly can't boast: Ball-joint suspension with wide base control arms for better steering, more stabilized wheel alignment . . . shock absorbers that are mounted to the frame rather than the body.

"Sure," you'll say as you drive along the road. "Feels pretty good—but after all, this car is new."

Well sir, when you come in from your drive we'll show you why Ford will stay like new for a long, long time.

We'll show you how Ford has five cross-members (including a "K" member) in its frame. Ford's leading competitor only has two. We'll show you the deep-block Y-like engine design which enables Ford engines to take it.

Now—what you've been waiting for. How can you save hundreds of dollars by taking a Ford Test Drive?

Simply by proving to yourself that there really is a fine car in the low-price field.

You see, the reason a Ford does not cost hundreds of dollars more than it does, is Ford's huge production and the huge volume which we Ford Dealers sell.

There are many cases where "medium-priced" cars claim to be priced within a few hundred dollars of Ford. Remember, however, these prices are usually arrived at by comparing their lowest-priced models—stripped—with Ford's most expensive models that include all of the comforts of driving.

But enough of this talk. Come in. And you do the driving and the talking. Bring the family, too.

NOW! A FORD with AIR CONDITIONING costs less than many medium-priced cars without it. TRY ONE TODAY!

Although the city has not received the permanent city sewer map, there are connections being made onto the sewer line where the users know location of the tapping "Y".

Editorial Review of Successful American Legion Beauty Contest

THE YOAKUM COUNTY REVIEW
Plains, Texas, Thursday, August 16, 1956 Page 7

YOAKUM COUNTY BEAUTIES — Winners in the older age group of the American Legion beauty contest Saturday night were these three young lovelies. They are, left to right: Mary Kay Dyer of Denver City, third; Anna Pack of Denver City, second and wearing the crown of queen is Jan Hutchins of Plains.

MISS REVIEW — Willie Mae Addison represented The Yoakum County Review in the contest. Here she is seen crossing the ramp before the judges stand.

MISS 1920 — Odell Kerby provided a moment of lightness and humor to the American Legion beauty contest last Saturday night when she appeared in a not-so-modern bathing rig to represent Miss 1920.

Yoakum County Review Pictures

WINNER — Jackie Hawkins smiles prettily for the judges during the beauty contest Saturday night. Her smile was a big factor in winning first place in her age group of competition. Jackie represented her daddy's firm, Plains Food Market, as did the other girls, Jan Hutchins.

LITTLE CHARMER — Pam McDonnell was the youngest contestant entered in the contest and as evidenced here, the most reluctant. Little Pam was, in the opinion of the photographer, probably the prettiest, but he could not resist the chance of getting her picture during the crying scene.

QUEEN JAN HUTCHINS

A THANKLESS JOB — These folks had the hard (and we do mean hard) job of selecting the three winners in each age group of the beauty contest Saturday night at Plains. They are members of the Seminole American Legion post. Left to right, they are: Mr. Warren Liner, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson and Mr. Kenneth Thompson.

MISS PRESS — Representing The Denver City Press was Joyce Martin of Denver City. She was photographed as she paraded past the judge's stand. There were 40 girls entered in the contest, six of whom were from Denver City.

CONTESTANT — Another of the many contestants in the younger group of girls was Sylvia McGinty, who represented her daddy's business, Plains Frozen Food.

LITTLE BEAUTY QUEENS — Prettiest of the whole bunch of pretty girls were undoubtedly the youngest ones. Here they posed for the Review camera, in the usual order: Jana Warren, Sylvia McGinty, Frieda Copper, Laura Ann Townes, Jackie Hawkins, Kathy Curry, Suszan St. Romain, Beverly Jones, Brenda Hart and Joyce Warren.

Water

This fourteen mile stretch is one mile west of the Plains-Denver City Highway. The point where it turns east again is one mile north of the northeast corner of the Denver City Town Site. From there the line goes east for six miles going down the paved road by the El Paso Natural Gas Plant. At this point, which is five miles east of the Plains, the line turns south to the Gaines County line where it turns east again.

All of the Yoakum County land that lies south and west of his boundary line is in the proposed Underground Water Conservation District. An election will be held and the land owners in this area will vote for or against the organization of a District. This work was started over years ago by a group of Gaines County farmers who wanted to prevent state control of their water. In order to organize a district, it was necessary to make application to the State Board of Water Engineers.

After two meetings in Seminole and one in Seagraves during 1954 and 1955 the State Board called for a hearing at Seminole on Feb. 9 of this year. After the hearing, the board made a survey to determine the boundaries of the underground reservoir.

The results of their survey shows that several irrigated farms in Yoakum County are not included because of the location of the farms or perhaps the size of the wells.

The two towns in the county will have altogether different situations. The people of Plains will not be eligible to vote in the election because their property is outside the district boundaries.

The people of Denver City can vote in the election and if they feel that it is a good thing for the area to have a district, they can vote for the creation of the district even if they do not want their city property to be included. Then, if the vote is favorable for the creation of the district, the people in Denver City can hold a city election and vote themselves out of the district so that they will not have to pay taxes to the district in case they levy a tax.

second position on the November ticket.

Two points in the convention proved dramatic, in a convention marked with harmony and brotherly cooperation. Gov. Frank Clements of Tennessee, keynote speaker and temporary chairman of the convention, attacked the policies of the Eisenhower administration and cited what he called failures of the GOP administration to live up to 1952 campaign promises. Gov. Clement began the session by laying all the blame for Republican failures to Mr. Eisenhower, himself. That is apparently, observers believe, to be the level to which the Democrats will fight the 1956 campaign.

The Clements speech was oratory on a level of the former greats of politics, and somewhat akin to the style of William Jennings Bryan who blasted with purple phrases one minute and quoted the Bible the next, intermingling them to the best effect.

Most tense moment of the convention came Wednesday night when the platform and resolutions committee announced they were ready to present the platform proposal for the 1956 campaign, a work requiring nearly two weeks to prepare.

Thorny issue of the platform was what some states believed inadequate language in the civil rights plank. This issue had been dominant in keeping many southern states from committing themselves as to nominees until they learned its contents.

Principal opponents of the civil rights plank were Minnesota, Pennsylvania, California, and a number of Democrats of high rank. Sen. Lehman of New York wrote the minority report suggesting amendments to the platform committee's recommended platform.

"Mr. Democrat," U.S. House Speaker Sam Rayburn and permanent chairman of the convention, gavelled through the platform following arguments for and against the minority report. Highlight of this controversy was a short talk by Mr. Truman endorsing the majority plank as reported by the full committee.

Rayburn called for a vote to adopt the minority report (a vote that could be called a close one) and announced that it had failed. He remarked, "I believe I have listened to the eyes and noses enough to make the count." Next he called for the vote on adoption of the majority report, handled it in practically the same manner, and announced the platform had been adopted, ignoring numerous state banners being hoisted and waved in order to get recognition.

Microphones were not turned on in the areas of the delegations and since he could not hear delegates asking for the floor, it was apparent "Mr. Sam" had no intention of seeing these requests to speak.

There was no open resentment to Rayburn's handling of the situation, however state delegations, both North and South, expressed to newsmen they felt disappointed.

The touchy spot passed, the convention moved into nomination session Thursday afternoon, and a total of 10 nominations were made, including that of Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Demonstrators, in almost all instances, took their full allotted 20 minutes for demonstrations. The Stevenson and Harriman demonstrations lasted a short time longer. However, the man from Texas continued to wield the power of the chair and maintained order easily.

Gov. Gary took his position on the speaker's stand shortly before 2:30 and placed Harriman's name in nomination. Mr. Truman again spoke to the convention after the Harriman demonstration subsided to offer his second to the nomina-

Hunters Focus Attention On Antelope Harvest

AUSTIN.—Field reports of favorable antelope herd conditions coincided with a rush of applications for the estimated eleven hundred permits to be issued this fall, according to Vernon Skaggs of the Game and Fish Commission.

Range conditions have improved in both the antelope ranges West of the Pecos and in the Panhandle stated wildlife biologists, with the result that the pronghorns should be in prime condition for the Oct. shoot.

Skaggs said mail inquiries about the two hunts has been "substantial" since he announced last week that formal applications ready for issuance to persons writing him at the Game and Fish Commission headquarters in Austin.

He added that more than ordinary interest concerned the provision that hunters may apply in groups so that their parties, providing they qualify, may hunt together.

When persons write in about the antelope season, they are forwarded a regular application form containing all pertinent information about the conducted shoot.

Skaggs pointed out that if the applications exceed the number of antelope earmarked for harvest, public drawings will be held in the Commissioner's Austin headquarters to determine the licenses. Separate drawings would be held for West of the Pecos, where approximately seven hundred head of both buck and doe antelope have been declared surplus, and in the Panhandle where the excess population scheduled for reduction aggregates four hundred head.

The deadline for applications is midnight August 31. The hunts will begin Oct. 1 and continue Oct. 19.
