Two Divorce Cases Filed This Week

Two suits for divorce were filed this week in district court.

Jack Johnson is seeking a divorce from Kate Johnson, charging physical and mental cruelty. The plaintiff sets forth that he is a resident of Yoakum County, but that the residence of the defendant is unknown to him.

The couple were married June 17, 1946, and separated July 15, 1954.

In the other suit, W. C. Allen has filed for divorce from Birdie Allen. The couple was married in November of 1937 and separated November 15, 1955. The plaintiff asserts that the defendant had been married before and continued to do all her business under the former name of Atchison, and in all things failed and refused to be a wife to the plaintiff. He further charges that the conduct of the plaintiff was damaging to his health and constituted cruel treatment of such nature as to render their living together impossible. He is asking for a divorce and that the defendant be restored to her name prior to her marriage, that being Birdie Atchison.

A TOUCHDOWN PASS — This pass was good for a touchdown and 6 points in the game against Grandfalls last Friday night on Cowboy field. The throw was from Harold Smith to Jimmie Williams for a total of 35 yards. James Overton and Gean James cover the passer here and Gerald Kennedy, front center, gets his man. Dwain Roland kicked the extra point making the score 13-0. Final score was Cowboys 40, Grandfalls 20. —Review Photo

VISITING WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

A THIRD injunctive suit against the City of Lubbock, aimed at stopping the laying of a 45-inch pipeline from the sand hills of Bailey and Lamb counties to Lubbock was filed in 64th District court last Saturday in Littlefield. The suit was brought by R. E. Scott and wife of Sudan, whose petition stated that the laying of the pipeline in front of the residence in Sudan would constitute a nuisance and threat to their enjoyment of the property, and that it also constitutes the taking of their property without compensation.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The picture you are looking at is a field of blue panic grass owned by Presley White of Plains. This grass was planted on deep broke shinnery land in June, 1956. It had received a total of three inches of rain at the time this picture was made September 10th. Before this field was plowed it was growing only shinnery, some purpleweed, and scattering bunches of needle grass.

Presley decided it was barely paying its way as it was so he decided to try something new. It was the type of land which he could get clay on if it were deep plowed, so he had it plowed. After talking to some of the Soil Conservation Service personnel, Presley decided to plant blue panic grass.

This field if planted to some good high producing grass like blue panic would serve as a supplemental pasture and take some of the grazing load from the other pastures and allow them to improve. Not only that, but it would enable him to run more cattle. So he planted blue panic.

However, part of the grass blew out. This was replanted later in the summer and now it is doing very good. The older grass has a good seed crop which probably would pay the cost of establishing the grass. Blue panic seed are selling from $.75 to $1.00 per pound now and are expected to be much higher next year.

This type of program is due to become more popular in the future. Many farmer and rancher areas which are well suited to grow grass for supplemental grazing or for emergency pastures during the shinnery time in the spring. If you are considering planting some grass next spring, remember that a good cover is essential to protect the young plants from the wind and sand. Sorghum stubble makes ideal protection from the wind.

TIMELY TIPS
By LA RUE GILMORE
County Home Demonstration Agent

I happened to hear a radio broadcast this morning from Amarillo which was a program of questions and answers for home-makers. One of the questions concerned a recipe for sopapillas (a sweet fried cake).

These cakes are especially nice to serve with chocolate or tea. This is a Mexican pastry and is very very delicious. So you can have a new and different dish to serve. Here is the recipe:

4 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
4 tablespoons fat
4 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
Milk

Sift flour with salt and baking powder. Cut fat into flour. Beat eggs, add sugar, and add to flour mixture. Add enough milk to make a medium dough neither stiff nor soft. Let dough stand for one-half hour. Roll out one-quarter of an inch thick, cut into one and one-half inch squares, and fry in deep fat until brown.

To 1/2 cup sugar, add 2 teaspoons cinnamon and mix well. As the sopapillas are fried and drained and still hot, roll in the sugar and cinnamon mixture.

For a dessert sopapillas may be prepared a little differently. They are then called Enmaldas (fried cakes in syrup).

Enmaldas
Make sopapillas as in above recipe. After they have been fried, dip in syrup.

Syrup
6 cups sugar, 3 cups water, 1 teaspoon cinnamon.
Carmelize sugar. When melted and brown add water. Cook until thick. Add cinnamon, mixing well. Each sopapilla is dipped separately into the syrup and taken out immediately. Drain on platter. Serve as dessert.

The most delicious Mexican dessert I've ever eaten is called Empanada fruta (fruit turnovers).

1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
8 tablespoons shortening
4 to 6 tablespoons water
Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening and mix well. Add enough water to make a dough easy to handle. Roll out dough one-eighth of an inch thick. Cut in rounds about 3 inches in diameter. Fill each round with fruit filling.

Fruit Filling
2 cups cooked fruit (such as apples)
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/4 teaspoon anise seed
1/4 cup nuts

Pass drained fruit through colander. Add sugar and spices. Press edges of filled dough, and pinch ends between thumb and forefinger, giving the dough half a turn. Bake in hot oven until brown.

Tacos are another Mexican dish which are very good. You might want to serve these with a Mexican dinner.

Tacos
8 corn tortillas
1 pound pork, beef, chicken
2 teaspoons oregano
2 cloves chopped garlic
1 tablespoon parsley
1 cup cooked diced potatoes
2 cups chile sauce
1 small onion
1 small head lettuce

Fry and fold tortillas in center (may be done by using a fork). Cook and grind meat. Add seasonings, potatoes and chile to ground meat. Boil until thick. Place meat mixture, diced onion, and shredded lettuce between folded tortillas.

Of course tacos must be eaten with fingers. I hope you enjoy these recipes on one of the cool nights soon.

CROSS THE Battle Guard

LEO W. WHITE
County Agent

Monday day at the Lubbock Station was held on of last week. Those attending from Yoakum County were Banks, A. B. Carr, C. E. Poindexter, and Leo White. The boys at the station had to change fertilizers with fertilizers for several weeks. They use various fertilizers on different crops and some out with some very information with respect to increases. Last year they said that fertilizer would not pay off on cotton or grain sorghums but on certain vegetable crops, especially potatoes, the increase in yield was sufficient to warrant the use of fertilizers. Now they have decided that there is enough increase in the yield of cotton and grain sorghums to justify the use of nitrogen and phosphorus fertilizer.

The one thing that interested most at the experiment station was the grain sorghum with the yellow endosperm. They have found grain sorghum that has a yellow coloring in the germ of the grain and it can be crossed with the combine types that are not being grown. When they get this developed, it will have a higher carotene content and grain sorghum will then have a higher food value. Practically all the corn that is grown has this yellow endosperm and that is one of the reasons why corn is a better feed grain than grain sorghum.

This new grain sorghum plant was found several years ago in Africa and the seed was brought to this country for development. It was growing in a very temperate climate and it required about eleven months to mature. In order to make it cross with some of our varieties, they had to grow it in a greenhouse during the cold season. After making several crosses and selections, they now have it growing in the fields. They will probably never release a variety of grain sorghum with this quality to the farmers because hybrid grain sorghums are becoming so popular.

They are working now to get this yellow endosperm characteristic into the parent plants of the hybrids. It is very likely that the hybrid grain sorghums that we grow in Yoakum County will have this higher food value within four or five years.

The work that the experiment stations are doing with hybrids is very interesting. They have several hybrids that are giving a substantial increase in yield over the standard varieties. Some plantings of these hybrids were grown in Yoakum County this year. Each of the hybrids have a number attached and this number is very important. The number indicates the earliness of the hybrid. For example, Texas 590 will bloom in about 49 days after planting and Texas 660 will need about 66 days from planting to the bloom stage.

The earlier maturing hybrids are more suitable for dry land farming, while the later maturing crosses seem to do better for the irrigated farmer. It is estimated that there will be enough hybrid seed available next year at planting time for every farmer to get a trial planting. The regular seed dealers will handle the seed through the regular channels.

There is also going to be a limited amount of the new Blight Master cottonseed available this year. This new variety has fairly good resistance to bacterial blight which is commonly called Angular Leaf Spot.

who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson.

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drought, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

We Can't Make It Rain, but He's Still Best Man

Another day I asked a farmer who was dry out his way. He said he was. "Looks like we just get any rain," he said. When Noah had his 40-day rain, when he got over half an inch, he said he was dry. There's no mistake about it, it is having itself a real rain. Some of the farmers and men in our county are in such a shape that they may vote for Stevenson. Man Jones, from across the county, said he wasn't going to go to such an extreme. He said he had rain as bad as anybody. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the water was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, he said. "I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining. I said he knew that Stevenson Kefauver acted like they did so, and they had a right opinion. Lyndon Johnson, I figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was or not for the last 25 years. I hate not to go along with a widely known crowd of observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody

Harvests go faster, smoother when you haul away with John Deere Wagons. There's no weaving or whipping "snake tracks" on the road... and there's plenty of strength and flexibility for rough field operation, with a low center of gravity and automobile-type steering for good stability.

John Deere Wagon Gears are built in 2-1/4, 3, and 4 types to serve every farm hauling need. When you pick the hitch pole, you'll notice right away there's no play in the steering linkage. But that's only part of what makes them when we call these gears "precision-built." Stop in at...
