

Stubborn Bobcats Bow to McLean in Big Bi-District Battle at Canyon

A one-sided loss to the McLean Tigers in the bi-district turkey day special at Canyon belied the fine efforts of a good Dimmitt Bobcat team.

Dimmitt, Amherst Dominate District 2-A Honor Squad

Bobcats and Bulldogs Each Place Seven Men on All-District Teams

The District 2-A champion Dimmitt Bobcats and the Amherst Bulldogs dominated the 2-A platoon honor squad selected Wednesday night by the executive committee of the seven-team conference.

Those named to the offensive team besides Glenn, Ray, Brown and Dennis follow:

Center—James Anderson, Amherst; Guard—Bernie Pickrell, Amherst; Tackle—Jim Lucas, Sudan; End—Jimmy Brinkley, Kress; Back—Jimmy Hadaway, Springlake; and Back—Joe Barrett, Happy.

Nelson and Cole were also given honorable mention on the offensive team. Others given honorable mention on offense were: back Edgar Dennis turned in good performances as they uncorked two touchdowns runs for Coach Leo Field's Bobcats. The Bobcats played McLean on even terms throughout the second and third periods and were trailing only 21-7 at halftime. The Tigers did the real damage in the fourth canto when Smith and Mantooth went berserk. Four of the opposition's TD's came in the last quarter as the Cats were holding on to a respectable score at the end of the third period.

On the statistic side of the ledger Dimmitt chalked up 17 first downs compared to 21 for McLean. The Cats completed five out of 13 aerials for 105 yards and McLean completed 11 out of 20 for 229 yards. McLean rolled up a total of 370 yards on the ground and the Purple and White racked up 223 yards via the ground route.

Fumbles and penalties during the tilt dealt a cruel blow to Bobcat hopes as Dimmitt drew penalties on two crucial occasions and lost the pigskin four times on fumbles.

The loss knocked Dimmitt out of the running for the state championship and elevated McLean to regional play. The Tigers will face Sundown as they defeated Hale Center in the bi-district game at Plainview Friday afternoon. This game will be played in Canyon at 2:30 p. m.

In the Canyon game, McLean jumped to a 21-0 first quarter lead before the Bobcats came to life. The Dimmitt crew moved to tie the Tiger 12 on five plays and Dennis took a pitchout on the next play from scrimmage to score around left end. This was the only touchdown scored in the second and third quarters as neither squad was able to muster a scoring punch at any other time during the two quarters.

The District 1-A champs blew the lid off the contest in the last chapter as Mantooth and James Smith each scored and converted passer Troy Smith put the last two touchdowns on the scoreboard for McLean.

Dimmitt struck back in the last 33 seconds of play with Whitworth going over from four yards out. Dennis, who had kicked Dimmitt's first extra point, failed this time and the game ended 49-13. Some 5,000 fans saw the Thanksgiving Day game.

11 ACP Practices Approved For Castro Farmers in '55

Eleven Agricultural Conservation Program practices have been approved for Castro county farmers during the coming year by the Running Water Soil Conservation District board of supervisors and the ASC county committee. The practices were okayed at a meeting in the basement of the courthouse Tuesday night. Also attending the meeting were Wortham Seals, district director of the ASC program; Doyle Thomas, local ASC secretary; and Bob West, work unit conservatorship for the local SCS office. The 1955 ACP program will be similar to the 1954 program. However, there will be an increase in funds for the '55 program as compared to the '54 set-up. A total of $105,000 has been set aside for carrying out 1955 conservation practices through the ASC office while only about $78,000 was allocated for the current year. The single conservation practice costing the most in 1954 was the concrete pipe practice which amounted to $95,000 in ACP assistance, according to West. West

- added that indications are that this same practice will cost the most in 1955. The federal cost-share, West explains, will be 50 percent of the cost of applying these conservation practices except payment for those practices that will be limited by the ASC county committee. The first sign-up period for the various practices, according to ASC secretary Doyle Thomas, will be from Dec. 20 to Jan. 1. Those farmers signing up during the first period will have first choice at the money that will be allocated for the months of January, February and March. The '55 program will be divided into four sign-up periods. The second sign-up period will be the last ten days of March. Both officials emphasize that a farmer should sign up during the period that he will serve to benefit the most. A list of the 1955 ACP practices follows: 1. Initial establishment of permanent sod waterways to dispose of excess water without causing erosion. 2. Constructing terraces to detain the flow of water and check soil erosion. 3. Constructing diversion terraces to intercept runoff and divert excess water to protected outlets. 4. Reorganizing farm irrigator systems to conserve water and prevent erosion. 5. Leveling land for more efficient use of irrigation water and to prevent erosion. (federal cost-sharing under this practice may not exceed $15 per acre.) 6. Lining irrigation ditches to prevent erosion and loss of water by seepage. 7. Establishment of additional acreage of summer legumes for summer protection from erosion. 8. Initiation of stubble mulching into the farming system and expansion of stubble mulching to improve soil permeability and to protect soil from wind and water erosion. 9. Bindweed control. 10. Subsoiling for wind erosion control and water penetration, and 11. Winter legumes for soil improvement.

Lions See Visual Aid Demonstration

Dimmitt Lion Club members witnessed a demonstration on visual aid conducted by members of the local grade and high school faculty at their Tuesday luncheon meeting.

W. E. Reisdorph, grade school principal, briefed the group on visual aid equipment now being used in the local schools and emphasized its importance as a visual supplement to text books. Reisdorph indicated that pupils have given the various educational films a wonderful reception and that the slides and film enable children to learn while they relax and enjoy themselves. Reisdorph showed films on folklore, geography and science.

Also appearing on the program was Bert McCarty, high school science instructor. McCarty told Lion members of the various companies and organizations that make the school films available and pointed out how the films tie in with high school courses. He emphasized the value of the films and cited the need for additional ones. McCarty showed part of one of the films that is currently in use at the high school. The picture was entitled, "Texas and Its Natural Resources." A guest at the meeting besides Reisdorph and McCarty was Dr. J. E. Wohlgemuth.

Cotton Ginnings Near 45,000 Mark

Total cotton ginnings in Castro county as of Wednesday came to 44,517 bales, according to a check made by the News. This late report would indicate that the county will top its predicted yield of 45,000 bales as the harvest now is 85 percent complete.

Market price now on cotton is averaging 30 cents a pound. This is a slight drop compared to the average price reported earlier in the season and is due to the fact that some late cotton is being graded down as it is not proving to be high quality as earlier cotton. More cotton is beginning to go into government loan, ginners in the area report.

Gin Worker Injured While Battling Blaze

Series of Fires Threaten Castro Gins; No Damages are Reported

Strong winds Monday morning caused fires that threatened three Castro county gins before volunteers from the Dimmitt Fire Department could suppress them. The local fire alarm sounded twice in a period of about 30 minutes and a skeleton crew riding the old fire truck had to answer the second alarm as most of the original fire-fighting crew were busy extinguishing a fire that broke out at the Nazareth gin. The first crew responded with the new fire truck at about 10 a. m. High winds blowing out of an open burr pit burner caused some refuse to catch fire on the Nazareth gin yard and the gin itself was seriously threatened before firemen could put the blaze out. Similar fires threatened the Tamme-Anne Gin, west of Dimmitt and the Martin Gin here. Twenty bales of cotton reportedly burned at the Tamme-Anne Gin before the blaze was finally brought under control. Losses were estimated at $3000. No damage was reported at the Martine Gin or Nazareth Gin. Edmond Menefee, Negro worker at the Tamme-Anne Gin was injured while helping fight the fire that broke out there between 7 a. m. and 8 a. m. He was brought to Castro County Hospital and treated for a deep gash in his right leg. According to attending physician Dr. F. B. Faust, Menefee was blinded by wind and dust and ran into a piece of equipment on the gin yard. He will be released from the hospital after receiving treatment. All three gins reportedly suspended operations until the high winds subsided as the risk of crippling damages was considered too great. A gin at Plainview was completely destroyed late Friday afternoon by a fire of similar origin. Total loss was estimated at $115,000.

Thomas Explains Cotton Election

Cotton marketing quotas, which on December 14 will come up for a vote by cotton growers, are set by law as the method for assuring each grower a share of the available market for cotton, according to Doyle Thomas of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. Thomas explains that if marketing quotas are adopted by at least a two-thirds majority in the December 14 referendum, then each farmer will have an opportunity to put in the acreage of cotton in 1955 which, under normal yields, will produce his fair share of the estimated market. On the 1955 crop of cotton, if quotas are approved, price support will be available to eligible growers at a level between 82 1/2 and 90 percent of parity, the exact level will depend on the supply. If marketing quotas are turned down by cotton growers voting in the referendum, price support to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity.

Mrs. Bischoff to Give Review Dec. 8

Mrs. Harold W. Bischoff will present a review on the book, "A Few Buttons Missing," when the Dimmitt Book Club has its next regular meeting Wednesday (Dec. 8) in the District Courtroom of the courthouse.

"A Few Buttons Missing," is the case book of a psychiatrist—"but not the sort of book you would think." The author is an extra ordinary man as well as being a doctor. Instead of offering explanations and scoldings about his subjects he makes the cases lively, imaginative, and translates many terms into mechanical processes we can all understand.

Dr. J. T. Fisher, the author, is a rare man of science who has a sense of humor as well as the wit to express it. As he says, "The typical patient enters your office dubious of his own sanity and departs sometime later dubious of yours."

An entertaining hour is promised those who attend the review. The event will begin at 4 p. m.

Last Pep Rally

The last Pep Rally for the 1954 Football Season was held last Wednesday, November 24 in the High School Auditorium. With their yells everyone showed the Bobcats they really appreciated them. B. M. Nelson was speaker of the rally. Several business men told the Bobcats how much they were behind them and were proud of them as District Champs. Mr. Nelson presented Coach and Mrs. Fields with an Emerson television set and Coach and Mrs. Fuquay with a Lane cedar chest and Coach Fuquay with a suit, in behalf of the Bobcat fans.
There were several Ex-Bobbies and Bobcats introduced who were attending the rally.

Bobcats Lose Bi-District to McLean

Band Performs Last Football Show

The 70-piece Bobcat Band marched on the field at the Buffalo Stadium Thursday afternoon when the Bobcats met the McLean Tigers for the Bi-District game.
Marching on the field after an eight count drum beat, the band halted. With three whistle blasts from the drum major Keith Taylor, the Band played "Dark Town Strutters Ball" and did a march step to it. As the band reached mid-field, a signal was given and they entered the form of a cross, and played "Come Ye Thankful People" in keeping with Thanksgiving Season. The next formation was two "F's" honoring Coaches Fields and Fuquay. For this formation "Victory March" was played. Next was a large M for McLean; in this formation "Washington Lee Swing" was played. Leaving the M the band broke into a D in salute to Dimmitt; in this formation they played "Opa Wisconsin." The band then returned to mid-field and marched off.
The Bobcat Band was followed by a performance by the McLean High School Band featuring the twirlers.
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Coke have returned home from a visit to Waco.

QUALITY YOU CAN MEASURE By Your Car's Performance

Here is quality in the making. Shamrock's clean, modern McKee Refinery is the site and symbol of the quality you expect under the big, green and white Shamrock.

New Shamrock Cloud Master premium is quality... refined especially for today's high compression engines. The heavy, carbon forming "Bottom End" of the crude oil is gone. Only clean burning fractions of the crude, free of gum forming copper and corrosive sulphur, are blended into this quality motor fuel. High Octane components assure smooth power. Protective additives mean longer, trouble-free operation.

Here is quality proved in the motors of thousands of cars from Wyoming to Texas... Kansas to Arizona. If your car has a high compression engine, get the power you paid for by using new Shamrock Cloud Master Gasoline.

Shamrock Quality... measure it by your car's performance.

Your Shamrock dealer now offers new Master-matic credit service... makes credit card purchases fast, accurate and convenient.

THE TATLER

Contest Staged

Winner in the Nazareth High School Voice of Democracy Contest this year was Odetta Ball. The junior and senior English classes participated in the contest. After preliminary class eliminations, ten students remained to contest for first place. From the group, which included Norita Schulte, Dolores Stork, Josetta Ackler, Betty Leinen, Della Pohlmeier, Jack Acker, Ted Conrad, Agnes Klemm, Odetta Ball, and Mary Ann Huseman, the school winner was chosen by faculty and students. Betty Leinen was named for second honors.

Odetta was invited by the contest chairman, Charles Bills, of the Amarillo Jaycees, to compete against the winners from the four Amarillo high schools, Amarillo High, Price, St. Mary's and Carver. The final eliminations were presented on KGNC-TV on Nov. 28, and the winning speech was recorded and sent to Fort Worth for the state contest. Winning this regional contest was the Amarillo High School student. The judges voiced high praise for all contestants.

4-H Club News

The Boys' Junior 4-H Club met Nov. 19, with Ronald Hoelting presiding. The song leader led the group in singing "Old MacDonald." Answering roll call, each member named his project for the year. Mr. Hudson introduced Mr. J. F. McCarty of Lubbock, who spoke to the boys concerning Smith and Doxy cotton classification.

The Girls' Junior Club met in the gym. Dianna Hoelting, song leader, accompanied by Rita Sue Witkowski, led the group in singing "Tell Me Why." The girls learned to make Coconut Dream Bars. Donna Rose Gerber was given recognition for having made bar cookies oftener than any other member.

Mrs. Stringer gave the girls their year books, sheets for food records, and a new recipe.

SPORTS

Nazareth sport fans will notice a decided change when they witness the next home game, since the Junior Class purchase of a new electric scoreboard for the gym. Early in the year the Juniors chose this as their class project. Under the leadership of their sponsor, they have worked hard to carry forward their plan.

"That Boy Jimmie"

The sophomore class play, "That Boy Jimmie," by Pauline Phelps, was presented on Dec. 1. A three-act comedy, the play tells of "the triumph of youth over the prejudices of age." Disguised as her brother, Jimmie, Jimmie Ensign instigated the youths' rebellion. "Jimmie" was convincingly played by Charlene Hoelting. The remainder of the cast includes Regina Gerber, as Rose Geranium Johnson, a colored woman of twenty-five; Eileen Venhaus, as Miss Gibbs, the middle-aged governess; Ethel Drerup, as Miss Marcia Osgood, older pupil of Miss Gibbs; Elsie Schacher, as Miss Helen Osgood, Marcia's sister; Danny Schmucker, as Dr. Arthur Henderson, who has just hung out his shingle; Dale Bowers, as Geoffrey Eno, a retired manufacturer; Joe Ed Pohlmeier, as Mark Eno, Geoffrey's nephew; Alphonse Husemar, as Eric Ericson, the good-looking iceman; and Dorothy Venhause, as Mrs. Osgood, the grandmother of the precocious girls.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Partnership or Corporation
John Brown and Bill Smith desire to operate a business together. Should this be done as partners or as a corporation? The answer to this problem involves many legal questions.

Perhaps the most important factor is that the business or personal acts of either John or Bill may be binding upon the partnership. The corporation, however, can act through its officers and agents, and then only within the limitations granted by the articles of incorporation.

As members of a partnership both John and Bill are liable for all of the debts of the business. In the case they have business losses, the creditors of the partnership could take all of the assets of the partnership, and all of the personal assets of either John or Bill, or both (except a few exempt by law), in order to satisfy the partnership debts.

On the other hand, if they form a corporation the creditors may go only against the assets of the corporation so that the most that either John or Bill can lose is the amount they have invested in the business. The creditors could not touch the personal property of either John or Bill.

Upon the death of John or Bill, it is necessary to liquidate the partnership but in the case of a corporation the operation of the business is not affected by the death of either. The firm continues as the same business with the heirs of the one who dies substituted as the owner of the stock.

Of primary interest to John and Bill is the amount of income taxes they have to pay. As a partnership, each includes on his individual income tax return his proportionate share of the income as shown on the partnership return. This is because the partnership is not recognized as a taxable entity.

The corporation is recognized as a taxable entity, so it pays on the amount of the net income, after deducting the salaries of John and Bill and other expenses.

If over a period of years the earnings of the corporation exceed reasonable salaries for the two owners, these earnings will be distributed to John and Bill in the form of dividends. The funds with which the dividends are paid have already been subject to tax in the hands of the corporation, but are again taxed on the individual returns of John and Bill when distributed.

The income tax advantage or disadvantage of a partnership as compared with a corporation depends on the net income from the business, the salaries John and Bill receive, the amount of their other income, and the requirements of the business for liquid funds.

In the event either of the owners is interested in planning his estate to reduce taxes at the time of his death, he can do it more easily through a corporation than a partnership.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

Probable Presidential Recommendations to Congress
 Many people in the political atmosphere of Washington are wondering what the President will recommend to Congress. This same question is no doubt causing the Presidential advisors much concern. It will be remembered that there was much complaint that the Congress would not cooperate with the President to put over his alleged dynamic program. However, no one seemed to take the trouble to find out just what the dynamic part of the program was. Many of the measures recommended by the President were passed by the last Congress because they were considered in the best interests of this country. Some fell by the wayside because Congress did not so consider them. It is interesting to note that some of the measures passed because they received votes from Members who had previously consistently voted against them. Some that failed were measures that had been voted on in previous sessions of Congress and failed by a much larger vote than they failed in this last session. This was because there was much vote switching in the last session of Congress. This was due to the fact that Eisenhower was putting his stamp of approval on legislation that had been vigorously contested and condemned in previous years by the very Members of Congress who found themselves with the responsibility of carrying out Eisenhower's wishes. If the President can retain the support of his party on his proposals, he may see legislation passed that he has advocated and recommended, but which many top members of his own party never expected to be passed and didn't want to be passed, such as the so-called health re-insurance program, a stepped up public housing program, a much relaxed reciprocal trade authority, and so forth.

It is presently expected that the so-called health re-insurance plan will meet with the same opposition from the medical profession and others who consider this proposed measure a step in the direction of socialized medicine. The request for additional public housing will of course be protested by all of the building organizations and associated trades. The record on public housing is not good. The loosening of the trade barriers will of course be opposed by all advocates of high tariffs, as well as many of the labor organizations. The world trade problem is one of the toughest that we will have in our lifetime. Its proper solution could mean the prevention of further hostilities between many nations.

Other recommendations that are expected from the White House will be a renewal of the request to admit Hawaii as a state, a probable request for pushing the debt ceiling higher, additional appropriations for the Air Force (The Air Force took the brunt of the defense cutback last year), further expansion of social security, and additional and expanded departmental re-organization powers.

It is contemplated that the White House will try to prevent any increase in individual income tax exemptions. It is expected that Congress will start the machinery to get these exemptions increased either during this session or the early part of 1956. It is also anticipated that the White House will contest and attempt to revive the resolution on the Brecker amendment.

What Could Be the Explosive Issue
 It presently appears that early efforts will be made by some of the senators to sever relations with Russia. If this is done, you can expect the fireworks to start and the "co-existence" debate will be on the front pages for many days. The split on this issue inside the Republican Party is much more pronounced than is generally suspected.

Incidental News Items
 Haile Selassie gave a dinner in an Amsterdam hotel and wanted genuine kangaroo tail soup served. The hotel was able to oblige, having in stock some of this delicacy in cans acquired from Australia prior to World War II.

No Traffic Worries: Washington has many cars with "DPL" licenses. This means they belong to the diplomatic corps and are entitled to diplomatic immunity. When they get a traffic ticket, they merely claim the immunity, and that is the end of it. I saw where 98 such tickets were cancelled over a period of about three days.

DEER BONANZA

On January 31, 1952, near Crockett, Houston County, the Texas Game and Fish Commission released the first of one hundred wild deer in the county's piney woods. They were to serve as brood stock in an ambitious restoration program. It was the largest of its kind ever attempted. Almost 500 landowners voluntarily offered 100,000 acres for the restocking plan and they signed contracts to give the deer complete protection for not less than five years. About 14,000 acres of the Davy Crockett National Forest was added by Uncle Sam.
