Mill ready; work force cut

MISS DIMMITT, Susan Parish, started her public Christmas-shopping spree this week, and found the world at her fingertips in Dimmitt's stores. Here, Susan wraps herself in a polyester shag bedspread from New York as she surveys a table of imaginative gifts from over the world—hand carved woodenware from Spain, a knight's helmet and miniature victrola which are actually radios from Japan, decorator bottles from Italy, a gold filigree bathroom clock and perfume bottle from West Germany, a fondue set from Milwaukee, and a cassette tape recorder-player that's the result of both American and Japanese craftsmanship. She found all these imaginative items right here in her hometown, in the eight stores featured in "Miss Dimmitt Goes Christmas Shopping" on Page 14. Follow Miss Dimmitt's example and shop Dimmitt first!

Completion of the main mill house at Dimmitt Wheat Growers' corn wet-milling plant led to a major reduction in the construction force Friday.

A SPOKESMAN for Dimmitt Management Co., Inc., said approximately 70 construction workers were laid off Friday as the company prepared to put the mill house into operation.

The layoff reportedly came as a surprise to many of the workers, some of whom thought they were to be permanent employees at the mill.

"Of course, no one likes to lay anybody off," the company spokesman said, "but when a construction job is finished, construction workers get laid off. I think most of the men understand this."

MEANWHILE, construction continues on the corn syrup plant, the final phase of the $10 million construction project.

Dimmitt Management Co. issued this statement Monday on the progress of construction and testing at the milling plant:

"Due to completion of the mill house which should enable the plant to operate shortly, a reduction in construction labor was effected as of Friday.

"THE ONLY serious item pending which is standing in the way of mill house start-up is a defective motor on the Sharples protein centrifuge. This is a special motor and the manufacturer will do all possible to correct the defect and return the motor to us as soon as possible.

"The Southwestern Public Service main transformer which exploded for unknown reasons about two weeks ago has been replaced by Southwestern Public Service Co. and has been reconnected and the plant now has power once again.

"Construction will be proceeding on the last uncompleted portion of the plant which is the corn syrup plant."

Dimmitt lady is apparent beating victim

Mrs. Maurine Bice, Dimmitt postal clerk, was discovered unconscious in her home Monday morning, apparently the victim of a beating.

AFTER receiving emergency treatment at Plains Memorial Hospital for severe head injuries, she was transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, where she was still in a semi-conscious state at press time Wednesday.

Two of Mrs. Bice's fellow postal workers found her unconscious in her home after she failed to report for work Monday morning. She had a severe head injury and other bruises of the head and face.

"She seems to be in fair condition, but she's still a sick lady and we're watching her very closely," her physician said Wednesday.

MRS. BICE'S daughter, Mrs. Johnnie Dillon of Midland, said Wednesday morning that her mother "had been beaten about the head, but she doesn't have a concussion or skull fracture. We're still waiting for results of more tests."

Mrs. Dillon added, "My mother kept the most secure house in town. She kept the doors locked at night and would never let a stranger into the house."

The rear door of Mrs. Bice's home reportedly was open when her co-workers found her Monday morning. The incident apparently occurred after 9:30 p.m. Sunday, when she had talked with a friend on the phone.

Workmen give Girlstown $234

Girlstown USA received a check for $234.41, the balance of the recreation fund maintained by construction workers at Dimmitt Wheat Growers' corn wet-milling plant.

The workers who kept up the fund voted earlier this year to donate to Girlstown any amount left over in the fund at the end of the construction period.

Accident takes teacher's life

A head-on accident two miles west of Dimmitt Monday morning took the life of Mrs. Olga Alice Patino, 24, a teacher's aide in South Elementary School.

MRS. PATINO was en route to school at 8:25 a.m. with her three children and young brother when her 1965 Chevrolet sedan collided with a beet truck on a curve two miles west of the city limits on FM 2392 (Hospital Road).

Mrs. Patino died at about 10 a.m. Monday in a Dennis Funeral Home ambulance near Littlefield as she was being transferred to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital. Her injuries included fractures of the skull and chin, and possibly several fractured vertebrae.

Two of her children, Frankie and Olga Alice, and her 6-year-old brother, Ruben San Miguel, were treated and released at Plains Memorial Hospital. Her 8-year-old son, Joe David, was hospitalized with injuries, but was expected to be dismissed from the hospital Wednesday.

THE TRUCK'S driver, Oscar Torres Saldivar of Santa Rosa, was not injured.

Highway Patrolman Dyrle Maples, who investigated the fatal accident, said Mrs. Patino's car apparently angled onto the wrong side of the road, into the truck's path, as she turned the curve. Maples estimated that both the car and truck were traveling approximately 50 mph. The speed limit at the curve is 60 mph.

Mrs. Patino was the county's fifth traffic fatality since June 1. Monday's wreck was the fourth fatal accident in the county this year.

FUNERAL mass was scheduled for 5 p.m. Wednesday in St. Anthony's Catholic Church of Hereford, with Rev. Michael Graham officiating. Burial was to be in St. Anthony's Cemetery, under the direction of Dennis Funeral Home.

Born Jan. 14, 1946, in Elsa, Mrs. Patino was a teacher's aide in the first grade "Follow Through" program in South Elementary School. She lived with her parents and children on a farm near Hereford.

She is survived by a daughter, Olga Alice; two sons, Joe David and Frankie; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Domingo San Miguel of Route 2, Hereford; a brother, Ruben San Miguel; and two sisters, Mrs. Linda Perez and Mrs. Ester Trevino, both of Hereford.

FIRST WORSHIP SERVICES were conducted in the beautiful new First Baptist Church Sunday morning. Here, the church choir performs an anthem, directed by Bill Myers, as more than 550 worshippers listen. The first service also included a trumpet and organ duet by Nelda Thomas and Mrs. Maxie Horton, a vocal duet by Myers and Mrs. Jeannine Wimberley, sermon by Dr. Raymond M. Perkins, pastor, and an indoor ribbon-cutting ceremony at the conclusion of the services. More than 600 persons attended the opening service in the new $750,000 church complex on Western Drive. The new Sanctuary was also the site of a community Thanksgiving service Wednesday evening.

Shoplifters mar trip

Shoplifting by a dozen or more Dimmitt teenagers marred a high school band trip to Lubbock last Wednesday.

THE Dimmitt students were in Lubbock for the UIL regional band marching contest in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium.

The shoplifting incidents reportedly took place in the Town & Country Shopping Center north of the stadium, after the DHS Bobcat Band had earned a 1-A rating for the 19th straight year.

No charges have been filed by any of the stores involved, but Dimmitt High School administrators said the school would take disciplinary action. The school's investigation is continuing.

"THERE WILL be some disciplinary action taken, of course, but we don't know just what kind of action yet, mainly because we

Minors charged in local thefts

Local law officers apparently have cleared up a rash of recent thefts with the arrest of four teenage boys.

CITY Policemen Kenneth McDermitt and Fred Moulton arrested three of the boys Sunday night on suspicion of stealing stereo tapes from cars.

On Monday, after interviewing the three boys, the Sheriff's Office arrested a fourth and charged all four with the theft of three automobiles, plus theft of merchandise from local stores.

The three boys ranged in age from 15 to 17.

Five boys charged in glass-breaking

Five juvenile boys were charged by the Sheriff's Office Monday with breaking approximately $500 worth of store windows along Bedford Street during the past year.

THE charges came after the arrest of three of the boys in a separate theft case. The other two were arrested later in the day, and Sheriff Jack Cartwright said, "We expect there will be more arrests made" on the glass-breaking incidents.

Acker to head Junior Leaders

Stephen Acker of Nazareth was elected president of the 4-H Junior Leaders Club last Thursday.

Other officers elected to serve during the coming year were Bob Duke of Flag, vice-president; Agnes Acker of Nazareth, secretary-treasurer; and Gary Hart of Hart, reporter.

EARLY START—632 Dimmitt residents got in shape for Thanksgiving by bending their elbows at the Dimmitt High School Band's annual Thanksgiving supper Saturday evening in South Elementary School cafeteria. At this table, the diners seemed to have appetites that were larger than their stomachs and aren't sure whether to tackle the prune-cake dessert. The band expects to clear $500 to $600 from the supper, Director Ralph Smith said.

LEE ANN MERRITT, senior Dimmitt guard, reverses her direction and pivots around a Springlake forward as she takes the ball out in the third quarter of Friday night's Bobbie-Wolverette game. A near-capacity crowd was on hand to see the Bobbies win their home opener, 39-33.

Bible Thoughts

"OPPORTUNITY" By RONNIE PARKER

Life is filled with opportunities, the greatest of which is to obey and serve the Lord God. Opportunity simply means a GOOD CHANCE. Someone has said that opportunity can be pictured in two ways. A vied figure standing at the door knocking, ready to depart if no one answers; or a ship in the harbor, ready to depart, and there is only a moment to board her.

Opportunity with treasure-laden hands appears at every man's door. GOOD CHANCES come for you to glorify God in your life. But what do you do with them?

We have the Bible, God's message to man. It is fresh as if God had just now sent it from heaven. We have the chance to read God's way of saving man. He tells us what to do. Men let the opportunity of salvation pass. They forget about their souls. They refuse to admit sins, wrong doings, the reality of the devil, and future torment.

Friend you have the chance of salvation. Jesus said "whosoever will may come." You must take the step. It is your opportunity.

SURE HANDS OF THE SURGEON

A child walks... an arm is straightened... a growth is removed... these and many other things are the result of the fine work of the surgeon. This is an occupation and a labor worthy of appreciation.

A star... a new born baby... the world itself... these and many other things reveal God to us. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork."

Psalm 19, 1 God has wrought a great work. Let us show our love and appreciation by worshipping him in Church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

HD notes

We could use more HD clubs

By IRENE KEATING
I hope you are enjoying your holiday. We all have so much to be thankful for—too much that we have to take for granted.

THE 4-H Junior Leaders Club has been organized for six months now, and they are a good group. There are about 20 4-H'ers eligible for membership. As soon as a 4-H'er turns 14 he or she is eligible to join.

I always really enjoy their meetings. They certainly do come up with clever games for recreation, and we all have fun. They elected new officers last week and I know they'll continue to grow under their new leaders. Steve Acker is president; Bob Duke, vice-president; Agnes Acker, secretary-treasurer; and Gary Hart, reporter and parliamentarian.

I am proud of these boys and girls. It is a shame that too often our young people don't get publicity except for the bad things they do. We are lucky here that we recognize the good things, therefore our youth don't need to do bad things for attention.

ANOTHER group that I'm very proud to work with is the Home Demonstration Council and clubs. They have also selected new council officers for next year. The very capable chairman is Mrs. Nell Ingram; Mrs. Bobbie Darnon is vice-chairman; Mrs. Oneida Hutto, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Hattie Howell is county THDA chairman.

We have many organized community ladies clubs in Castro County that could become Home Demonstration Clubs if they would want to. The only requirement is to send two delegates to county council. This caused many clubs to drop as HD clubs, because it is a long way to Dimmitt from Arney, and some other rural communities. The rule still applies, but our council now meets only four times per year so there can't be complaints about coming to Dimmitt each month.

Also, I bet that if some of the more distant rural areas organized clubs, the council members would even agree to take turns meeting in communities! After all, women from Flagg, Bethel and Mulkey all come to council now and it isn't just "real close" for them.

rural areas, but home demonstration clubs also benefit urban home-makers. Some of the programs planned for next year are: wigs, what's new in home furnishings, Christmas ideas, candy making, and many more.

If any of you are interested in either forming a new club or joining one of our present clubs, please call me at 647-3455. I feel that we could have clubs in Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth. Presently our clubs are in the Flagg, Bethel and Mulkey communities. Several club members and I will be glad to meet with any of you who are interested in a club. You don't need a large group to organize a club and I know you'd benefit from membership. Let me hear from you soon.

Bobcats defeat Hereford, 61-48

Dimmitt's Bobcats chalked up their third straight win Tuesday night, knocking Class AAAA Hereford from the undefeated ranks by a 61-48 score.

THE BOBCATS were in control all the way, producing a well-balanced scoring attack while holding Hereford to an even 12 points per quarter. The Cats led 15-12 after the first frame, 32-24 at halftime and 53-36 after three.

Top scorers for Dimmitt were Kent Bradford with 18, Mark Wohlgemuth with 11 and Max Newman with 10.

"I think it was pure hustle that won this ball game for us," Coach Kenneth Cleveland said. "I was real pleased with all 13 of our boys. Jerry Matthews, Felton Isaacs and David Nino, especially, provided some real good help."

IN THE B-team game, Hereford walloped the B-Cats, 76-38. Dimmitt trailed throughout the first half, but pulled within six points of the Yearlings in the third quarter before Hereford applied a full court press and started widening the gap. Brent Miller was Dimmitt's high-point man with 10.

Petersburg tops Bobbies, 35-18

Dimmitt's Bobbies couldn't find the basket Tuesday night as they dropped a 35-18 decision to Petersburg.

PLAYING on the Petersburg boards, the Bobbie forwards sank only six of 45 field goal attempts and six of 26 free throws. Karen Baldridge was Dimmitt's high scorer with seven points.

Coach Bob Askey credited Dimmitt's guards with a good defensive game — especially Sarita White, who made six steals and collected two rebounds while fouling only twice and committing no turnovers.

But the Bobbie forwards could come up with only two points in the first period, four in the second, three in the third and nine in the fourth.

"THE basket looked like it had a lid on it," Coach Askey commented.

In the girls' B-team game, Petersburg defeated Dimmitt 39-34. Leading scorers for Dimmitt were Susie Mooney with 12 points and Tonya Brown with 11.

ADAM JANELLI, an Italian immigrant, conducted the first Salvation Army street meeting in Texas on the corner of Main and Ervay streets, Dallas, in 1889. He used a dancing bear to attract crowds to the meeting.

She also had slides picturing the country and natives. Forty-two women attended the meeting, which was followed by a salad luncheon in the church dining hall.

NEW SIGNS made and lettered by Sam "Buck" Raper now depict the exact area of the 20-mph school zone on West Bedford Street. This sign and another one like it mark off a three-block school zone area on the street, and tell motorists when they are entering and leaving the zone. Coupled with a flashing caution signal and a chaperoned crosswalk, the new signs are making a real difference in the way people are driving in the school zone," Police Chief W. W. Jones said.

"I CAN think of few things more important than teaching both children and grown-ups the value of the soil. The good earth is not only the foundation of a nation's economy; it is the basis of civilization itself. It is a simple matter to trace one after another the histories of those nations whose power, prosperity and culture declined when their soil became impoverished.

"To no nation has the earth been more important than to our own. Out of it has grown our wealth and our power. Man's greed and carelessness have done much to destroy it by cutting down forests and farming recklessly. The task of our generation is to undo that evil and restore the foundation of our prosperity. It requires a new generation of pioneers equipped with spirit and devotion and patriotism."—Louis Bromfield

Ann Hays visited the library last Friday since she brought Scott and Dondi to the Children's Story Hour. I read the story "Bread and Jam for Frances" to three boys and seven girls. We will not have the Children's Story Hour this Friday because of the Thanksgiving holidays.

Thought for the week: "Those who live on the mountain have a longer day than those who live in the valley."

"GOD BUILT Him a continent of glory; filled it with treasures untold, and called it—AMERICA! Trees and grasses and wild-flowers; springs and streams and lakes; birds and animals and fish all in balanced living made up these treasures. The soil sustained them all, and became increasingly rich in doing so."—Anonymous

Museum depicts 'dryland culture'

Dominating the view as a visitor enters the central unit of the Museum of Texas Tech University is an Eclipse windmill, which serves as a focal point at the entrance to the Pioneer Hall.

LONG A landmark on the prairie, the windmill took its energy from the air to draw water from the earth, making settlement possible on the Great Plains.

A gift of Mrs. James Levi Dagley of Lockney, the Eclipse windmill was a highlight of the "Life on the Plains" gallery in the original Museum building in the heart of the Texas Tech campus, and has been reconstructed in the 25-foot-high hall.

Although an ancient form of harnessing nature's power, windmills were not used in connection with water wells until the mid 19th century. Then, as the American frontier reached the arid and semi-arid West, where surface water was scarce and ground water too deep for rope-and-bucket wells, the self-regulating windmill was invented.

THE ECLIPSE mill in the museum is typical of thousands which pumped water for cattle, crops, industries and man.

Other windmills are being acquired for installation on the grounds of the Ranch Headquarters outdoor museum, east of the new museum building.

KEEPSAKES—All 650 people who attended the first service in the new First Baptist Church received a length of red ribbon as a keepsake of the event Sunday morning. At the conclusion of the service, everyone formed lines around the walls and along the aisles and ladies of the church distributed almost 300 yards of red ribbon, which deacons of the church cut into foot-long pieces. Here, Dan Heard cuts a length of ribbon for Mr. and Mrs. Tex Conard.

PILGRIMS LANDING AT PLYMOUTH ROCK, DEC. 21, 1620

350 Years Ago, the Pilgrims set foot on Plymouth Rock—and a new way of life began. On board the Mayflower, the little band of Pilgrims signed a compact, agreeing to form a local government for the new town of Plymouth, Massachusetts, and to abide by its laws. In the Mayflower Compact, we see the early flowering of democracy in America. As we observe Thanksgiving Day—yet another legacy from our Pilgrim forefathers—we can indeed be thankful for our proud heritage, for our American way of life, for freedom and its blessings. Let us then be humbly grateful, and let us reaffirm our faith in freedom, with our determination to preserve and cherish it, forevermore.

Uphill battle foreseen on imported-water plan

Just as surely as water runs downhill, the fight to divert or dam it will be uphill all the way, an official of Water, Inc., told the Castro County Jaycees last Thursday.

GERALD IVEY, Slaton attorney who is the general counsel of Water, Inc., said the ambitious plan to divert irrigation water from the Mississippi River to West Texas will be scuttled by the apathy of downstate Texans and the opposition of conservation groups "unless we have a lot of people speaking with one voice."

The Texas Water Plan, which included the West Texas water-import project, was turned down by a narrow margin in a statewide referendum last year. But Ivey said Water, Inc., is now organizing for a second go-round at the ballot box in the future.

"The Texas Water Plan is still the law and policy of the state," he said. "But to put the plan over, we have to have a lot of people speaking with one voice. It's going to take a lot of organization."

WATER, INC., is now chartered in 132 counties of West Texas, Ivey explained. During the last 10 months, 40 county units have been organized — including one in Castro County.

He said Water, Inc., will bank on county committees to carry out the education and promotion program on the water-import plan.

"It's going to take a lot of work, and we can't do it without the county organizations," he said.

OPponents of the ambitious water plan are also organized and working, Ivey said.

"The Sierra Club (a conservation group based in California) has announced it will oppose all reservoir projects categorically," Ivey said, "so there won't be a water project anywhere that won't be attacked."

State Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, executive director of Water, Inc., was the object of a public attack in Austin recently, Ivey said.

CLAYTON, who is recognized as one of the legislature's foremost authorities on water problems, was sitting in on a legislative committee hearing on ecology, Ivey reported, when the representative of a conservation group attacked his motives as executive director of Water, Inc., "telling how much Clayton received in subsidy payments last year, and calling Water, Inc., a powerful lobby group."

"A lot more important things were said at that hearing," Ivey said, "but the charges against Bill were what got the headlines."

He continued, "This won't be the last time we'll be attacked like this. There will be more of it, and it will get louder. The charges will continue to get the headlines."

SUCH CHARGES will put backers of the water-import plan on the defensive with the voting public looking on, Ivey said. "The Sierra Club can make wild statements and not have to worry about individual reputations," he said, "but the individuals with the responsibility of the water plan have reputations to protect. Sometimes they won't be able to answer unfounded charges and get the same press treatment."

"We're going to get shot at and sniped at, and I would not for a minute tell you it's going to be easy," the Slaton attorney told the Jaycees.

ANOTHER enemy of the water-import plan, Ivey said, is the man downstate who simply doesn't give a care about West Texas.

"Our knowledgeable leaders are aware of the economic impact of our area . . . but the average man in East Texas or Houston really couldn't care less about our problems up here," Ivey said. "That's the man we've got to convince if we're ever going to put the water plan over."

West Texas will need to put its water-import project in motion relatively soon, Ivey said, because water shortages are spreading and sources are drying up.

"ROUGHLY one-half of the nation faces future water shortages," he said. "By 1990, Corpus Christi and San Antonio will be water-deficient. . . . If Mexico takes all the water that is allotted to it, the Rio Grande Valley will lose about 200,000 acres of irrigated land almost overnight. In West Texas, if we don't get imported water we will lose about three million acres."

"There's no water available from the Missouri, Columbia or Arkansas Rivers," he continued. "Only one source (the Mississippi) is left to us, and we must be ready to take advantage of that source when it becomes available."

groups, the popular ensemble now performs concerts throughout the state. Ralph Smith, DHS band director, commented, "They were a real sharp bunch if you like the percussion section of an orchestra."

Campus Chatter

THE LATEST "soul news" is about the same as it has been for the past week—full of soul and forever groovy.
 Daniel Frieson has changed his mind about playing for the Dallas Cowboys. "Good ole Bobcats are good enough for me," says Daniel.
 Alfred Sanders says the freshmen are out for a straight winning season for the basketball season this year.
 Floyd Bessett and Melba are beginning to really let the world know that they are going back together. Good luck!

It's never dull in art classes!

"What a beautiful painting you are working on."
 "Oh, it's my latest art project." THESE comments could very well have come from one of DHS's busiest departments.
 "The purpose of the art department is to try to encourage creative thinking and expression," said Mrs. Sue Broderson. She also commented that the art students have a lot of talent.
 Students seem to be very interested in art, although there are some students who are real "Mickey Mouse" and are just looking for an easy credit.
 Even though the art department contains 53 Art I students and 19 Art II students, Mrs. Broderson feels that the department cannot grow. It lacks space and equipment to supply the department to have greater and more interest. But the art projects are going on. Some of the projects are paper mosaic in Art I, and the Art II students work with paints on paper and canvas. Some of the girls are working on wooden plaques and wooden purses.
 Mrs. Broderson majored in art education and minored in English. In the past years she has taught grade school, junior high and high school art.
 Mrs. Broderson enjoys teaching art. Her favorite forms of art are clay modeling and watercolors. She especially enjoys to work with the DHS students.
 "There is always action going around in the school. Never a dull moment. Some of the most interesting people I know are high school students," Mrs. Broderson said.

Marching band is rated 1-A for 19th year

The DHS Bobcat Band marched 80 people on the Astroturf at Jones Stadium on the Texas Tech campus last Wednesday in the UIL Regional Marching Contest.

DIMMITT'S band was the first to present its show Wednesday. Marching at 9 a. m. required everyone to awaken early, but on the field everyone was wide awake. Because they were first to march, Director Ralph Smith's bandmen set the standard for the rest of the day.

With 62 school bands competing in the two-day contest, spectators saw many different styles being used. Shannon DeVanney observed, "Listening to those bands gave us some ideas for cadence next year." So there might be changes made because of the contest.

The Bobcat Band has made A-1 ratings every year for the past 18 years. So at 12 noon when ratings were announced, the crowd was tense until it was announced that DHS had pulled through with another A-1. After this, the tension turned to outward displays of joy.

"THE STORY of our nation in the last century as regards the use of grassland, forests, wildlife and water resources, is the most violent and the most destructive of any written in the long history of civilization."

Counselor's Corner

Junior Achievement Tests were given Nov. 17 and 18 in the DHS auditorium.

THE TESTS, which were administered by Mr. Ringo during the second and third periods, served several functions. The test results will indicate how well a student can read and interpret different materials; how readily the student can solve mathematical problems; his background of ideas and information in social studies and the natural sciences; and his ability to select and use sources of information.

This knowledge will also help the teacher to compare our school with others in the state.

The tests are accurate only if the student gives them his best effort.

New Tech Museum is a milestone

"The Museum is an educational institution. Its objective is to preserve the past, record the present, and create enthusiasm for the future through the collection and exhibition of objects of scientific, historic, and artistic value, and by research and publication, particularly as they relate to the southwestern part of the United States and to the arid and semi-arid lands of the world."

THIS objective, from the bylaws of the West Texas Museum Association, is being carried out in exhibits at The Museum of Texas Tech University.

The Museum started as a dream. The idea of a museum for this area was born in 1929, when an infant organization called the Plains Museum Society adopted a constitution and elected officers. The Plains Museum "collection" consisted of one branding iron, one cast iron son-of-a-gun pot with a hole in the bottom, and one neck saddle for a burro, with all the leather gone.

IN FEBRUARY 1930, at the Plains Museum Society's first annual meeting, the society boasted 69 charter members.

The group had projected plans for a three-story museum building but the scarcity of money during the 1930s prevented the fulfillment of these plans for many years. In the meantime, one of the outstanding museum collections of the Southwest was being organized, and the society acquired many valuable items.

THEN CAME talk of a Texas Centennial celebration, to be held in 1936. The Plains Museum Socety changed its name to the West Texas Museum Association so that the organization might represent a much larger area. And so began an ambitious undertaking.

In a three-month tour in the summer of 1935, two members of the association persuaded 67 counties in Texas to pool their Centennial interests for a regional museum and erection of 35 historical markers on Texas highways.

Requests by the Museum Association for an appropriation were rejected in Austin, but in October 1935, hearings were held by the Centennial Commission of Control. A direct appeal for a museum was made by the 67 supporting counties. From the Texas Centennial appropriation, allocation was approved for $25,000 for the museum building, to be constructed at Lubbock. This made possible the basement construction.

GROUND was broken for the basement Sept. 23, 1936, and it was ready for occupancy in January 1937.

The Museum was in the basement stage for almost 13 years. Five times attempts were made to finish the building. A "give-a-brick" campaign was launched, and the townspeople responded with bricks and money. In 1948 the Texas Tech board of Directors came forth with sufficient funds, added to those which had been raised by the Museum Association, to finish the building.

The first half was completed in March 1950, and the formal opening was set to coincide with Tech's silver anniversary.

DEDICATED to "the enlightenment and culture of the people of West Texas...a place to broaden the horizon, culturally, of the Southwest," the Museum served thousands of visitors during the ensuing two decades.

Meanwhile, in its growing pangs, the Museum was bursting at the seams. An expansion program was introduced by the West Texas Museum Association, and plans were launched for a fundraising drive to build a new Museum on 15 acres near 4th St. and Indiana at the North edge of the campus.

Upon assuming his position as president, Dr. Grover E. Murray proposed a new role for the University: that of an international center for arid and semiarid land studies. He envisioned The Museum as a "showcase" to interpret this new campus-wide activity, which would embrace all disciplines on the campus.

LAND SET aside for the new Museum grew to a 76-acre tract, and the giant new complex was designed with continuing education in mind.

When the fund drive got underway, a challenge gift of a half-million dollars set the pace, provided the West Texas Museum Association would raise matching funds within the year.

Support was overwhelming, and Phase I of the construction, costing $2.5 million, was completed in June. When eventually completed, it is said that the total outlay will be approximately $6-7 million.

ALTHOUGH not open to the public, The Museum continued its activities through the summer months during the moving-in process, conducting annual summer youth classes as in previous years.

When school began in the fall, special emphasis tours for the public schools were altered to permit the boys and girls to see the objects in a classroom in The Museum, arranged like a gallery, until the gallery displays are completed.

Art seminars, now in their 10th series of lectures by Rabbi Alexander S. Kline scheduled each Tuesday morning in the Assembly Room of the Museum.

"WE'VE COME a long way, but we have a long way to go," F. William Holder Jr., president of the West Texas Museum Association, commented.

A membership drive for the organization to induce further support is being planned.

Meanwhile, a Ranch Headquarters Association has been organized to preserve the heritage of the ranching industry, and an outdoor ranch museum is being developed on the Museum grounds. Its first annual meeting was held recently, and attracted several hundred members. The group is laying plans for the bi-centennial celebration in 1976, when it hopes to be able to offer a major tourist attraction in West Texas.

The West Texas Museum Association, now in its 42 year, is a chartered non-profit organization which acts as a supporting body for the Museum and is dedicated to the purposes of the Museum.

Bobbies win at free-throw line

Junior forward Karen Baldrige shot the Dimmitt Bobbies to victory from the free-throw line Friday night as she sank 17 charity tosses to give Dimmitt a 39-33 win over the visiting Springlake Wolverettes.

MOST OF Baldrige's free throws came in the clutch, after Dimmitt started nursing a two-point lead with a stall in the waning minutes of the game.

Time and again Springlake's guards made the mistake of fouling Baldrige as she calmly controlled the Dimmitt stall. And time and again, Baldrige stepped to the free-throw line and increased the Bobbies' lead with charity shots.

Until then, the home opener was a slow game as the two teams had trouble holding the ball and finding the bucket.

PLAYING before a near-capacity crowd, the Bobbies trailed 8-9 at the end of the slow first period, but gained a 15-13 advantage by powder-puff time. In the third quarter Springlake sank 11 points to Dimmitt's eight, giving the visitors a 24-23 lead going into the fourth frame.

When the Bobbies finally gained a two-point advantage over the Wolverettes midway through the final quarter, they started their methodical stall and Springlake's guards panicked, committing a rash of fouls — most of them on the sharp-shooting Baldrige.

Baldrige finished with 21 of Dimmitt's 39 points. Cynthia Henderson and Nancy Tisdale scored eight each and Diane Dyer sank two to round out the Dimmitt scoring.

ON THE guard end, LeeAnn Merritt collected nine rebounds and stole the ball from Springlake's forwards four times. Ann Lust got four rebounds and four steals, and Sarita White grabbed four rebounds and stole twice.

"I thought the guards played real well and contained Springlake's forwards," Bobbie Coach Bob Askey said after the game. "We were lucky to come out on top."

OVERSIZED nuts available at any auto repair shop (the used ones that are given away) make economical fish sinkers.

A RACE TO THE GOAL is underway as Dimmitt guard Sarita White (20) tries to herd Springlake's Jimma Banks (13) away from the basket in the fourth quarter of Friday night's home opener at North Elementary School gymnasium. In left background is Dimmitt guard Ann Lust. The Bobbies went into a stall in the final minutes and capitalized on Springlake fouls by sinking enough free throws to take a 39-33 victory.

Cats clout Wolverines, 96-33

Five Dimmitt players scored in the double figures Friday night as the Bobcats smothered the visiting Springlake Wolverines, 96-33, in their first home game of the season.

COACH KENNETH Cleveland started substituting midway in the first quarter. Every boy on the squad saw action, and all but one scored as the Bobcats ran, shot and stole their way to victory before a packed house.

Kent Bradford paved the way by sinking 21 points while playing about half the game. Mark Wohlgermuth and Charlie McLean hucketed 15 apiece, Danny Ebeling sank 11 and Max Newman netted 10.

Many of Dimmitt's points came after turnovers as the Bobcats exercised the Cleveland Option and stole the Wolverines blind.

DIMMITT jumped to a 24-10 lead in the first period, and by halftime it was 44-17 and all over but the mopping. The Bobcats posted a pair of 25-point quarters in the second half to lead 69-24 at the end of the third and 96-33 at the final buzzer.

In the boys' B-team game, Dimmitt ran over Springlake, 64-25, as Brent Miller paced the B-Cats with 10 points.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A comparative study of the cotton margin and "blend margin" realized by textile mills over a 38-month period has led a marketing specialist to conclude that "... arguments favoring a lower selling price for cotton are ignoring reality."

THE STUDY was made and published by C. Curtis Cable, marketing specialist, and George Alstad, editor, Extension Service and Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Arizona. "Cotton margin" is defined as the difference between the price paid for a pound of row cotton and the price received for a pound of raw cotton. "Blend margin" in the study was figured as the difference between the price paid for a pound of blend fiber and the price received for the resulting 65 percent polyester and 35 percent cotton product.

As of September 1969, a pound of cotton fiber at the mill door cost 24.76 cents and the finished product from that fiber sold for 68.79 cents — a cotton margin of 44.03 cents. On the same date, a pound of blend fiber at the mill door cost 49.94 cents and the fabric value was 109.46 cents — a blend margin of 59.52 cents.

THUS, according to the study, mills in September 1969 realized 15.49 cents more gross profit from 65-35 blends than from all-cotton fabrics.

The difference between the two profit margins over the 38 months was as great as 38.20 cents in January 1968, and as small as 6.03 cents in June 1967. But the margin disparity was 15.49 cents or more in 26 of the 38 months studied, and was above 15 cents for all except one month of the last two years.

But with the margin difference of 15 cents or more that has prevailed for the past two years "cotton growers would have to reduce their costs and selling prices by 15 cents per pound to make the all-cotton margin equal to, or as attractive as, the blend margin." Cotton fiber, then, would have to sell at the mill door for less than 10 cents per pound.

It appears obvious from the Cable study that farmers cannot hope to close the gap between cotton margins and blend margins by reducing the price of their raw fiber. The only other way to improve the cotton margin is to increase the mill's selling price of the fabric obtainable from a pound of cotton. And that can only be done by enhancing the value of cotton fabric in the minds of consumers, just as man-made fiber makers have done for blend through product development and advertising.

Nine new revisions in tax law affect man on farm this year

A good knowledge of new Federal income tax laws could save a farmer many dollars in the next three months.

FARMERS prefiguring their final tax bill for 1970 shouldn't overlook those 1969 revisions in the Federal tax code, many of which went into effect for the first time this year, Jack E. Jenkins, area farm management specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, says.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 contains nine provisions that deal specifically with reporting income from the farm, as well as numerous other changes that affect all taxpayers.

"Producers would do well to consult the new regulations before deciding whether to buy or sell a particular item between now and December — or whether it would be more advantageous taxwise to wait until 1971," Jenkins said. "The goal of tax management isn't to avoid taxes, but rather, it is to minimize taxes paid, by taking advantage of all the provisions of the tax laws, as they apply to the farmer's particular operation."

TWO OF the Act's provisions affect the reporting of income from sales of livestock purchased for draft, breeding, sporting or dairy purposes, James I. Mallett, farm management specialist at Texas A&M, said. Formerly, all such income could be treated as capital gains, which are taxable at the lower capital gains rate, he explained.

"Previously, livestock used in the farm business were specifically exempted from recapture of depreciation," he said. "Depreciation claimed in the past could then be deducted from ordinary income that is taxed at the usual rates."

"Under the new law, the gain on the sale of livestock is to be treated as ordinary income, rather than a capital gain, up to the full value of previous depreciation deductions. This applies to depreciation taken after 1969."

THE PURPOSE of this change was to put livestock on the same tax base as other property used in business, depreciation on which is normally recaptured at time of sale, Mallett said.

"A second provision affecting livestock used for draft, breeding, sporting or dairy purposes, extends the holding period for certain animals before they can be sold and qualify for capital gains treatment," he said. "The old law allowed a 1-year holding period. The new retention period for horses and cattle in these categories is two years for stock acquired after December 31, 1969. The holding period for other livestock remains unchanged."

According to Mallett, the objective of the 2-year provision is to assure that cattle and horses are in fact being held for the purposes specified, rather than for sale in the ordinary course of business.

ANOTHER revision in the tax law has to do with taxation of indemnities paid to farmers for crop damage or loss, Mallett said. The old law required farmers who used the cash accounting method to include crop insurance proceeds as a part of the year's income even though the crop itself might not have been sold until the following year, he explained, adding that in effect, the farmer who customarily marketed his crop in the year following harvest was paying taxes on two crops in one year.

"The 1969 Tax Reform Act eliminates this hardship by allowing farmers to defer the reporting of indemnities until the year following the loss, if they establish that under their usual practice, income from the damaged or destroyed crops would have been reported in the year following the year of the loss," Mallett said. "This provision was effective for 1969 and subsequent years."

Other sections of the revised tax law that affect only farmers deal with limitation of farm losses, hobby losses, tax-free exchange of livestock of different sexes, recapture of soil and water conservation expenses and extension of the date for filing tax returns by farmers who do not file tax estimations.

"YEAR-END tax moves should be aimed at leveling out income between tax years and avoiding the wide income swings into the higher brackets," he said. "You do this by deferring or accelerating income and deferring or prepaying expenses to fit your particular income situation."

Take a look at your total sales of both ordinary and capital items to date, then subtract all production expenses incurred to date plus all personal exemptions and allowed expenses plus amount of depreciation taken last year from total income to determine your taxable income picture, he said.

"The amount of taxable income will tell you whether you should sell some more products before year end and hold off on buying next year's supply of seed, fertilizer, feed and other production items, or if you should do just the opposite," Mallett said.

Starnes is first award-winner as 'Young Farmer of the Month'

Larry Starnes, local soil conservationist, has been chosen the "Young Farmer of the Month" in a new recognition program started by the Dimmitt Young Farmers.

HE WAS selected as the first winner of the new award at last Thursday night's meeting of the local chapter. His fellow Young Farmers elected him because of his work in launching the new public relations program.

As the reporter for the Dimmitt Young Farmers, Starnes himself conceived the idea of naming a "Young Farmer of the Month" to recognize chapter members for their individual accomplishments. In choosing Starnes as the first winner of the award, his fellow members "turned the tables" on him.

Starnes, 27, has been a member of the Dimmitt Young Farmers more than two years, and has helped in most of the chapter's projects. He also is a charter member of the Sunnyside Lions Club and a member of the Sunnyside Baptist Church.

HE AND his wife, Elaine, and their daughter, Deanna, 3, live in Sunnyside. Starnes works with the USDA Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Running Water Soil and Water Conservation District here.

A native of Stephenville, Starnes graduated from Stephenville High School in 1961 and received his bachelor's degree in general agriculture from Tarleton State College in 1967.

After graduating from college, he went directly into the Soil Conservation Service, training for eight months in Lamesa before being assigned to the Dimmitt office in January 1968.

IN HIS work as a conservationist, Starnes assists local farmers here in carrying out such conservation measures as optimum irrigation systems, grassed waterways, terracing, crop rotation, pasture planning and water reclamation.

His job calls for him to be skilled at drafting, surveying, design and layout, advance planning and operations. He also assists in on-site construction of conservation projects.

Starnes' main hobbies are hunting, fishing and gardening.

The Young Farmer of the Month and his wife will receive a free meal at the Colonial Inn Restaurant.

Boys Ranch Yule project is underway

The annual goal to provide each of the more than 365 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began this week through the Christmas Suit Fund project.

FURNISHING new suits for the boys has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for many friends of the boys who contribute $25 for this purpose. Through special arrangements with Amarillo merchants and manufacturers, the boys are permitted to select suits or clothing combinations according to their preferences. In many cases, they are the first new suits the boys have ever owned, and for others the new suits replace those that have become worn or outgrown.

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, PO Box 1890, Amarillo, 79105, or taken to the office at 600 W. 11th St. in Amarillo.

Here's a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket joint.

It won't leak

The idea of using a rubber gasket joint in Vanguard PVC plastic pipe was revolutionary. It meant no more bands or solvents. Easier, faster, trouble-free installation. But that was just a beginning.

Next we put the pressure on. We hydrostatically tested it. We put it through all sorts of temperature tests. We twisted it and turned it. Then we field tested it. We gave it more punishment than you or those inevitable ground shifts could ever hope to.

Just as we anticipated — the rubber gasket held.

So, whatever your needs for plastic pipe, Vanguard is it. Bend it any way you want. We'll make a watertight statement about Vanguard's rubber gasket. It won't leak. Just be reasonable.

Vanguard is available in 1/2 to 15-inch diameters

WALNUT ROLL

Mrs. Rolan Simpson, 3213 56th St., Lubbock

Brush a jelly-roll pan, 10 x 15 inches, with oil, line it with wax paper, and oil the paper.

Separate 7 eggs. Beat the yolks with 1/4 cup sugar until the mixture is pale in color and thick enough to "ribbon." Beat in 1 1/2 cups ground walnuts and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Fold in egg whites, stiffly beaten. Spread the batter in the prepared pan and bake the cake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 or 20 minutes or until it is golden. Cool the cake in the pan, cover it with a damp towel and chill it.

Dust the cold cake generously with sifted confectioner sugar and turn it out on a board covered with two overlapping sheets of wax paper. Carefully strip the paper from bottom of cake. Spread cake with 1 cup heavy cream, whipped and flavored to taste with sugar and vanilla. Roll up the cake, using the paper as an aid, slide the roll onto a flat serving platter. Sprinkle with more confectioner sugar. (Rum or almond flavoring is also good.)

Financial Facts By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr. It was around the seventh century A.D. that Islam exploded upon the world. Its adherents poured out of the scorched Arabian desert, carrying their crackling green banners across all of North Africa and into Spain. For awhile, even the aggressive Arabs continued to use Byzantine and Persian coins. However, as they consolidated their conquests, monetary reform became inevitable. It was the Calif Abd el Malek who finally established the Moslem bimetallic monetary system which was based upon gold and silver. This finally broke the monopoly of the Byzantine solidus in the Mediterranean area and provided a third sphere of monetary influence along with the Byzantine and disorganized western systems. Here are week's best food buys

Holiday food shoppers will find a good selection of foods available at reasonable prices in the meat, vegetable and fruit markets, reports Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

PLENTIFULS in the meat market include turkey, chicken and pork.

Large whole turkey, the traditional holiday meat, is particularly a good buy in terms of cost per serving. If the turkey is over 12 pounds, allow one-half to three-fourths pound for each serving. If the turkey is less than 12 pounds, ready-to-cook weight, allow three-fourths to one pound per serving.

Fryer chickens, also popular choices during the holiday season, are marked with attractive prices. Plan on 1 1/2 servings per pound, and select the bird with a plump appearance, smooth moist skin, flexible breast bone, few pinfeathers, short body and meaty breast.

Smoked or fresh ham or fresh pork roasts are also in good supply for the holidays. Hams may be purchased fresh or cured, ranging from tender to fully cooked. Only ready-to-eat or fully cooked hams are safe to eat without further cooking.

WHEN selecting hams, look for a light grayish to pink color, marbling with fat, firm flesh and fat, fine-grained lean, and a covering of fat over most of the outside meat. Avoid too much fat plus coarse-textured lean, deep pink or reddish-colored lean, and soft and flabby lean hams.

Ham and pork roasts with bone will yield two to three servings per pound, while those without bone yield three to four servings to the pound.

Other "best buys" in the meat market include arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, ground beef, and round steaks and roasts.

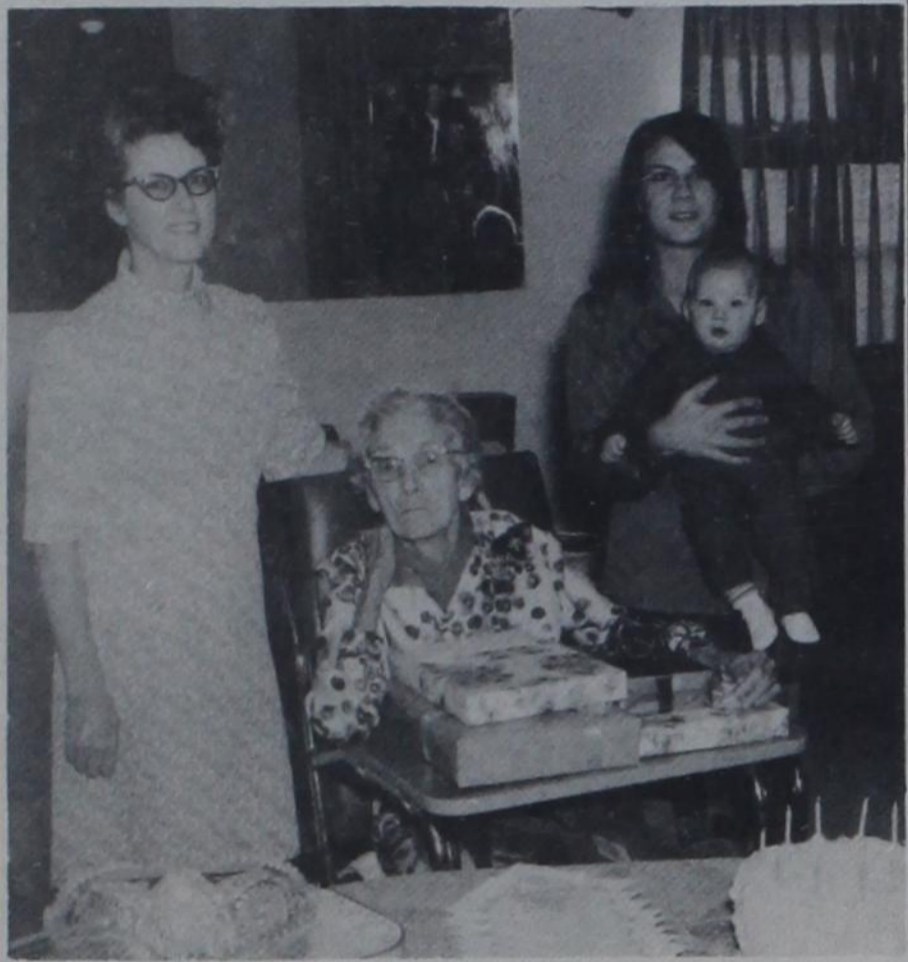

VEGETABLES for the holidays that are in good supply and at reasonable prices include cabbage, potatoes, carrots, turnip and mustard greens, onions, loose turnips, rutabagas, celery, hard shell squash and head lettuce.

In the fruit sections of the market, grapefruit prices are declining, and bananas, grapes, apples, and pears are economical buys. Oranges now coming to market have better flavors, and fresh cranberries are nearing their peak season with low prices.

ONE OF these zip-closed plastic covers that goes on a pillow makes a perfect waterproof container for carrying fragile equipment like the camera near water.

Garden Clubbers hear discussion, plan yule bazaar

Mrs. Ray Johnson of Summerfield, a charter member of Hereford's first garden club, was the guest speaker at the Dimmitt Garden Club luncheon meeting at the Colonial Inn Restaurant last Wednesday.

SHE SAID a good organization depends on participation by each member, and contact with the state organization and other garden clubs.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Jimmy Butler, president, told of plans to hold a bazaar Dec. 16 in the home of Mrs. Charles Vandiver.

Mrs. Robert Benton, delegate to the state board meeting in Amarillo last month, gave a report of the board's actions. She said that the concerns of the state garden club association include development of the Big Thicket National Park in East Texas and the Flint Rock park area on the Canadian River north of Amarillo. Mrs. Jay Lee Touchstone also was a delegate to the state board meeting.

The Dimmitt Garden Club has planted more trees on the Castro County Country Club grounds.

Does your class want a reunion?

If your Dimmitt High School graduating class would like to hold a reunion during the Christmas-New Year holidays, the Dimmitt Ex-Students' Association will help with local arrangements.

OFFICERS of the exes' association voted Monday to assist any class group that wanted to get together during the holidays, but to wait until next fall to hold the next all-school Homecoming. The ex-students' reunion has been held during the Christmas-New Year holidays for the past two years, but will be re-established as a fall event in 1971.

The association's officers have class rosters and may ex-students' addresses available, and will help pay mailing costs for any class wanting to call a reunion, according to Don Nelson, president of the association.

Those interested in holding class reunions should contact Nelson, Vice-President Jim Ratcliff or Secretary-Treasurer Bill Stephenson.
