'Drugdog' program underway

Dimmitt school students met "Dusty" Tuesday — and if school officials have their way, every other meeting with the Golden Retriever will be as friendly as Tuesday's first encounter.

"Dusty" is one of 16 dogs owned by Carl Rickert, who has contracted with the Dimmitt Independent School District as part of a drug deterrent program. Rickert met Tuesday with most Dimmitt Middle School students and all Dimmitt High School students to explain his program and to show what the dogs that will be brought into the schools in the near future will do once they enter the school.

Rickert and school administrators also met with parents and teachers during two meetings Monday.

"We are not hired to bust your kids," Rickert said Monday. "We are not here as a cure for a drug problem, but as a deterrent to a drug problem. I have kids in school and if my children use or abuse drugs I want them to be caught. If they are caught I want them to be punished, and I will punish them myself in addition to what schools or law officers do. But, I would want them to be treated with dignity."

"Our purpose is to reverse peer pressure," the former Dept. of Public Safety officer said. "Some kids think using drugs is cool, and those who don't use them won't usually break the code of silence because of peer pressure. But, after we show the kids the dogs, anyone bringing drugs to school after seeing the demonstration would not be using good judgment. In the vernacular of the kids, they would be foolish instead of cool."

During the meetings Monday and Tuesday, Rickert stressed he did not want to embarrass anyone, and said "we don't make a big deal out of it when we have an alert on a locker, a student handbag or a car. We step back and notify the school principal. We have nothing whatsoever to do with the disciplinary part of the program.

"The dog will simply walk through the hallway, up and down the aisles of classrooms and around the parking lot. The dog has its own 'code' for communicating with its trainer when it sniffs drugs, but the untrained eye won't notice when the dog alerts on something or someone."

While the dogs all are able to detect even a minute amount of marijuana, as Rickert exhibited during the Tuesday student meetings, the dogs are also able to detect "harder" narcotics, including heroin, hashish, cocaine, LSD and methamphetamines, including PCP or "angel dust."

Rickert disputed fears students might be framed by someone stashing pot or other drugs in a locker, or in a purse or coat. "We've been doing this since 1977 and I've never had a student claim someone planted it... this is because they never know when we're coming, and the stuff is too expensive to use that way."

Rickert also warned that his dogs will alert to smoke on a student's person or on a jacket or purse even though the student has not used or been around a person who uses drugs in several days.

School Supt. Robert Ryan was "extremely disappointed that we do not have the auditorium at least one-half filled" at the Monday meeting. There were only about 45 persons present, and at least half of them were from Friona.

R. J. SAXET

... tonight's Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker.

Chamber banquet is set tonight

Three Dimmitt citizens will receive honors tonight at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet at 7 p.m. at the Expo Building in Dimmitt.

The "Citizen of the Year," "Citizen Through the Years" and "Teacher of the Year" will be recognized. Introducing them will be Jodie Minnick, Joe Cowen and Nancy Greer.

The honored citizens were chosen by a committee based on nominations submitted to the Chamber. Criteria for the awards, according to the Chamber, include service to Dimmitt, performance beyond normal expectations, recent outstanding service to the community, success in business or profession, and age, health and retirement status.

The banquet will include "Reflections of Dimmitt," based on a community survey, awards presented by the Mayor's Council for City Beautification, and the recognition of directors by Chamber President Gene King.

R. J. Saxet of Saxet City, Texas will be the banquet speaker. Saxet is president of the Saxet Corporation, near Dallas, and is involved in gas, oil, gold, cattle, horses, computers, aviation and banking. Besides the Saxet City headquarters, Saxet also has offices in Dallas, Denver City, St. Louis, New York and Hong Kong. Because of corporate demand, Saxet has started Saxet M&M University.

R.J. and his wife own a 25,000-acre ranch where they live with their daughter, Ruby Jean, and son Bubba.

Jerry Hanners will serve as master of ceremonies, with the meal to be catered by K-Bob's Steak House. Decorations for the banquet are being prepared by Carolyn Sides, Sara Hill, Sue Summers, D'Linda Evans, Sue Broderson, Jerri Shultz, Carol Schroeder, Cheryl Pybus and Linda Dutton. Dinner music will be provided by Nolan Froehner and "The Sims Kids." The dinner will be served by the Dimmitt High School cheerleaders.

Tickets for the banquet are $14 for adults and $7 for students, and are available at the door.

Let it be duly recorded, in print, that Sunday, Jan. 19 was the most splendid January Sunday in the recorded history of Sundays here, with a high of 73 balmy degrees and just an occasional breeze.

Monday was a beautiful day, too, with a record high for the date, but with just a little too much wind to qualify for the most-splendid list.

(When are we going to have to pay for all these unseasonably warm, dry days?)

It's time for the State of Texas to get in step with the rest of the nation and declare the third Monday of January, Dr. Martin Luther King Day, as a state holiday.

King Day was adopted overwhelmingly by Congress two years ago, and was observed nationally for the first time Monday. The national holiday is now an accomplished fact. But it is still not a state holiday in almost 20 states, including Texas.

I, for one, don't want my state to drag its feet and be among the last to officially sanction King Day.

Anyone who saw or read about the special celebrations and observances Monday, or who heard elderly black people compare the way things were before Dr. King's "non-violent revolution" of the 1960s with the way things are today, should realize that this new holiday is very special to a significant segment of our population. And the lessons to be learned from Dr. King's life and work should be restudied annually by any American who really believes in the lofty ideals of freebirth and equality under the law, as set forth in our Declaration of Independence, Constitution and Bill of Rights.

To many, the new holiday honors a martyred leader who, through his strategy of non-violent protest and peace mar-

City puts paving program on pause

If you want your street paved, you're going to have to do a better selling job with your neighbors who might be opposed to a voluntary assessment. The Dimmitt City Board of Aldermen learned Monday that no pavers are currently interested in an assessment program, fearing that many of the streets the city would like to pave might not be paid for by property owners.

Last summer, the aldermen had accepted a conditional bid by High Plains Pavers of Plainview for paving up to 75 city blocks in what was planned to be the last city paving program. However, the company now says they would have to withdraw their bid because they couldn't find financing for the project. The company, in a letter to City Manager Paul Catoe, said the project "would not enhance the value of the property."

The aldermen discounted city-only financing for the project, and invited all property owners who would like to have their street paved to attend the next meeting of the aldermen Feb. 3 to try to arrange for a paving program, which would probably be done by a voluntary assessment program.

About 50,000 square yards of city streets will be seal coated this year, as the aldermen voted to accept bids for this summer's work at their next meeting. Original estimates were for only about 30,000 square yards, but the aldermen said they would like to see at least one-fifth of all city streets seal coated every year, and all streets placed on a five-year cycle for the treatment.

An annexation hearing was

School nurses do special job

In his "School Nurse Awareness Week" proclamation for Jan. 20 through Jan. 24, Texas Gov. Mark White said:

"The school nurse who is especially prepared and uniquely qualified in preventive health, health assessment and referral procedures, strengthens the educational process through improvement of the health status of children and youth.

"The school nurse's role of child health specialist, health educator, and health counselor to children and families, resource person to classroom teachers and administrators, child advocate in times of crisis and liaison between home, school and community is essential to the continuing promotion of child health."

Those, really, are just some the roles fulfilled by Dimmitt's two school nurses, Carol Lantz and Grace Killough. The two registered nurses, both graduates of the Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing, are working with their second generation of Dimmitt school children in some cases, and while some of their duties have remained constant through their years of service, there are new areas they are watching.

Their biggest ongoing project has been checking eyes and ears, and this school year they have checked over 1,200 Dimmitt students for eye and ear problems. They use an electronic box and eye chart to detect possible sight problems, but have special, high technology machines for examining ears.

"We have an impedance meter that we use to check most ears," Lantz said. "The machine produces a graph that shows whether a child's hearing is within normal ranges. If it is not, we then refer them to a doctor for further examination."

The nurses said one of the biggest problems in the Dimmitt schools has been head lice. It has probably received the most notoriety of common health problems because of the ongoing checks by the nurses in classrooms and because of letters that have been sent home with students.

"It's not a lack of education, it's a lack of cooperation by parents," Lantz said. "We have many repeat cases, and that's just because the parents haven't done what has been needed to control (head lice). We furnish a special shampoo for poverty-level students, and we send a detailed, explanatory letter home with them, but the parents aren't helping in several cases.

"Another problem we have is with immunizations. Despite

Young running for re-election

Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace Marshall Young has announced he will be a candidate for re-election, subject to the upcoming Democrat primary.

Young, a Dimmitt native, has served as the county's only JP for eight of the past 12 years. He was first elected to his post in 1974.

Young has received over 320 hours of special education since assuming his post at Southwest Texas State University, the National Judges Association and from Dr. Ralph Erdmann in forensic science. Young has also been very active in the West Texas JP and Constable Association, of which he is immediate past president and is currently chairman of the board. The association covers over one-half of the state's counties.

"I have enjoyed working with people in the county and I appreciate their support and cooperation. If re-elected, I will continue to carry out my duties in a fair and impartial manner. I would appreciate everyone's support in the upcoming elections."

Fred Acker announced this week he will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Commissioner, Precinct Four, subject to the upcoming party primary.

Acker is a lifelong Nazareth resident, and is an insurance agent. He has been active in the Nazareth baseball program, serving as a volunteer for over 20 years, and is currently on the Nazareth Water Board.

He and his wife, Charlotte, have four children and one grandchild.

"If elected, I will do the best job humanly possible," Acker said. "I promise I will work to serve the people, and I ap-

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix

Sabrina Mays, Becky Rutkowski, Julia Hall and Chad Yokum gave a surprise birthday party for Joe Yokum on Thursday night in the Rutkowski's barn. They served cupcakes, punch, and munchies to Patrick Killingsworth, Kris Hall, Prentis Washington, Dennis Kirby, Ty Kellar, Tammy Leatherwood, Trisha Zimmer, Ricky Zimmer, Vickie Yokum and Jeff Howell.

Pat Sligh spent a few days with her mother, Mauzee Youts, and other relatives in Dimmitt. Mauzee took her home to Monahans and stayed a few days longer than she had planned because of the snow. (The one that missed us!).

Clara Gladden and Mauzee Youts prepared lunch on Friday for the musicians from Amarillo who came to practice on the new organ at the FBC, and Bob and Phyllis Mooney. Lanny Allen, music director at First Baptist Church in Amarillo, David Lowe, organist, and Janice (Mooney) Davis, pianist, will be presenting a concert on Sunday, Jan. 26 from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Dimmitt First Baptist Church. Everyone is welcome.

Peggy Fenn from Artesia, N.M. was visiting her parents, the J. V. Messengers over the weekend.

Joy Byers from Eules, Una Maxwell from Oilton, Okla., Laverne Simmons of Amarillo, and Twila Parker of Olton, daughters of Mrs. Jewell Kirby have been visiting their mother this week.

The Board of Directors of Dimmitt Agri-Industries and their manager and several of their wives went to Lubbock last week for a retreat. Those going were: Bill and Deanne Clark, Frank and Shirley Wise, Ray and A'llan Bradley, Cyril and Mitzi Brockman, Milton and Sandra Bagwell, Mack and Barbara Steffy, Danny Rice, Greg Sides, Rex Lust, Luke Acker and Ted Robb. While the men were involved in meetings, the wives went shopping and visiting. In the evening they all enjoyed some movies and eating at some real nice restaurants.

Kevin and Sheril Hucks of Hereford honored their daughter, Heather, on her first birthday with a party. Those attending from Dimmitt were: Johnny, Loretta and Michael Hucks, Garry, Sherri and Kevin Baldrige, and Bay and Bobbie Baldrige. Birthday cake, ice cream and a spaghetti supper was enjoyed by all. Little Heather played with the boxes more than the gifts she received. (Just a normal child!)

Weekend guests of the Elmer Scotts were: Joe and Pearl Scott of Aspermont and Jeter and Lillis Garner of Farwell. Joe is Elmer's brother.

Retta Cluck, Elmer and Jewell Scott went to Prairie Acres to visit Mary Gripp, a cousin from Panhandle.

Elsie Smith spent Thanksgiving and Christmas with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kobles in Cushing, Okla. She enjoyed the two weeks visiting with other relatives including her granddaughter and family, Tommy and Cara Rhodes and children, Heather, Ray, T.J. and Shawn.

Elsie Smith has just returned from Knox City where she attended the funeral of her father, Mr. L. W. Graham, who was 98 years old. Mr. Graham had moved to Knox County 71 years ago. Elsie stayed with her sister in Knox City for two weeks before returning home.

Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Broad from Portales, N.M. have been visiting in Dimmitt for several weekends, where Rev. Broad has been the Interim Pastor for the First Christian Church.

I visited with Cora West Sunday afternoon after her short stay in the hospital in Lubbock. Cora's sister, Daisy Wallen from Olustee, Okla., and her niece, Doris Sierer, from Altus, were there.

Coyce and Carolyn Wilkerson and Coyce Leon from Amarillo came by for a short visit with Cora. The Wilkersons were in Dimmitt visiting Faye and Dub Cline.

The Thursday Bridge Club met at the Senior Citizens Center with Alice Collyer as hostess. They enjoyed lunch and a day of bridge. Johnnie Vannoy won high score and Evie Froehner was second high. Others playing were: Louise Mears, Emily Clingingsmith, Bernice Hill, Oleda Schumacher, Cleo Forson, Susie Reeves, Elizabeth Huckabay, Jo Gregory, Ferne Dickey, Opha Burks, Edith Graef, Faun Welker and Virginia Crider.

Rev. Ken Cole is conducting a children's sermon prior to his regular sermon. The kids love it! Someone said it looked like kids were coming out of the woodwork when Bro. Ken called them to come to the front of the church. The children's choir, under the direction of Debra Ball sang "Children of the Lord," a beautiful children's song.

The Friday Bridge Club met at the Senior Citizens Center for bridge and lunch. The high scorer was Dorothy Elder, second high was Ruth Coleman. Other guests were Opal Bearden, Josie Bradford, Retta Cluck, Cleo Forson, Anita Morris, and hostess Gladiola Shipley.

Faye Tilley, the new kid on the block, brought the devotionals for the residents at Canterbury Villa on Thursday morning. Some who assisted with the song service were: Irene Carpenter, Gertie Waggoner, Debbie Annen, Ara Morrison, Mary Edna Hendrix and Becky Bridges, accompanist.

The Community Concert will be meeting in Plainview on Thursday, Jan. 23, featuring the Dukes of Dixieland. There is a conflict with the Dimmitt members due to the Chamber of Commerce banquet on the same night!

The Castro County Museum will hold their monthly meeting on Thursday, Jan. 30, at 7:00 at the museum.

Tracey Compton of Dallas spent the weekend with her grandmother, Beral Hance. Duane Bunce of Dallas was a guest. He was impressed with Dimmitt's beautiful churches. They are going with a group of friends on a skiing trip to Vail, Colo., where Tracey's mother, Linda Hance, will join them.

Presbyterian happenings

Palo Duro Presbytery meets Friday afternoon through Saturday afternoon at Graham. Sal DiCuffa, Ed and Betty Freeman will represent our church.

There is a Sunday Church School class for everyone every Sunday at 10 a.m. The Adult Bible class meets at the home of Mrs. Emily Clingingsmith. All other classes meet at the church.

"I Believe in God the Father Almighty" will be the subject of Pastor Edward D. Freeman's sermon at the service for the public worship of God at 11 a.m.

Our church is responsible for the service at Canterbury Villa at 9 a.m. "Trouble Clinic," a study of Luke 10:25-37, will be the subject of the mid-week Bible study on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

We Salute Our Chamber

Tonight (Thursday) the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce will gather for the annual banquet to honor individuals of the community who have served during the year. It is a time to recognize the role played in our community by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber of Commerce is the center of business, professional, agricultural and industrial activity. It is a vehicle through which all elements of our community can work together for the common good. But it's even more than that. The Chamber office is the "front door to Dimmitt." Visitors and many residents often make their first contact with Dimmitt at the Chamber office. We realize that first impressions are often the lasting impressions, and we know that our Chamber reflects the "good personality" of our town.

We are fortunate to have such an organization in Dimmitt. Operating with paid staff, but primarily through volunteer workers, the Chamber has things going all year long that contribute to the betterment of our community.

Down through the years the Chamber of Commerce has had a number of good leaders, and many persons have grown and broadened their interests through taking part in a Chamber program.

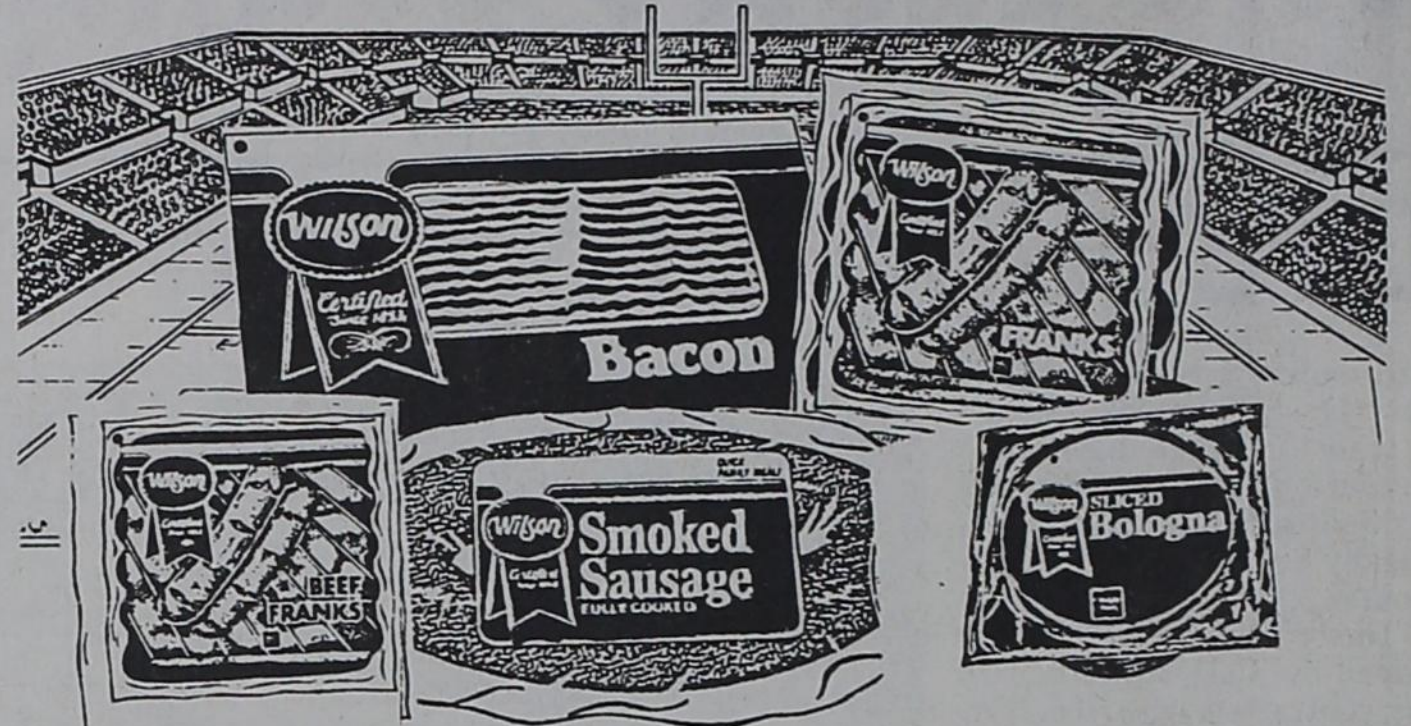

We salute the Chamber as it opens a new year and say thanks to those who helped guide it to a successful 1985.

If you are interested in a Community Crime Watch Program for Sunnyside call Teeny Bowden 647-5703 or Rev. Bentley and Kathy Gwyn 647-5712 or Pat Elkins 647-4206. Bethel was the first community in the county to organize the Rural Neighborhood Watch in November, and they have been very pleased with the results. Easter and Flagg also have organized to fight crime. The program is basically one neighbor watching out for the other in an organized way. The Sheriff's Department shows a film and explains the program to the residents of the community. They have stick-on signs that glow in the dark to give notice your property is protected, and a stamp with your driver's license number on it for you to mark your equipment and personal property so in the event of a theft the property can be easily identified and returned. There is a zone captain who keeps a log book and coordinates the work in the community, and a phone number you can call if you suspect some activity you see. The program is protection against theft, but can also be used in case of fire, a tornado, car wreck, need of an ambulance or any other emergency.

'Cats win first half

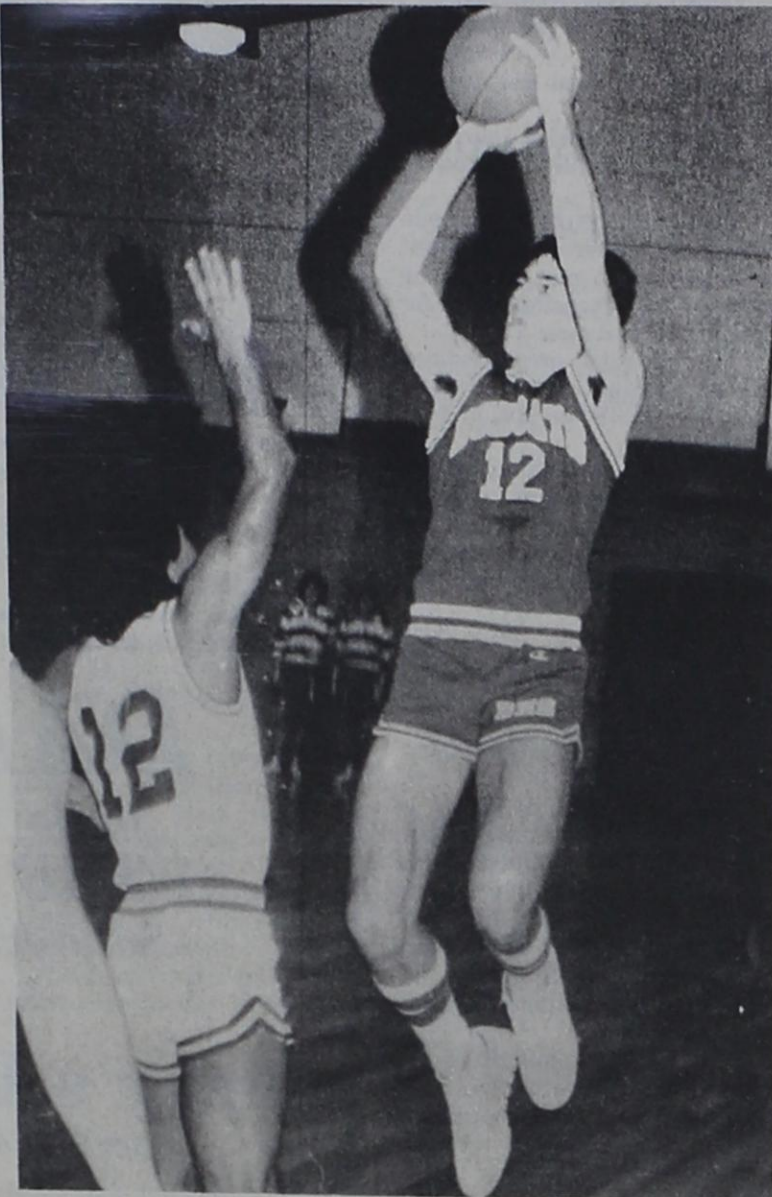

Dimmitt's girls squeaked out a one-point win to start their second-half district 2-3A race while the Bobcats ousted the last of their first-half foes to grab the first-half district title with a 74-53 win Friday at Idalou.

The win moved the Bobcats to 19-5 on the year but, more importantly, pushed them into the playoffs next month.

Idalou had previously been ranked as high as sixth in the state in 3A and suffered just their third loss of the season. The loss, though, knocked them into a second-place tie with Tulia to finish the first half Friday, as Tulia defeated Floydada.

Idalou's inside game, featuring 6-5 Wesley Dawson and 6-4 Robby Cook, did plenty of damage, accounting for 33 points, but the Bobcats limited the outside game of Joey Lozano and Fred Mormelejo to just seven points.

The Bobcats appeared to have the win clinched in the second quarter when they leaped to a 33-22 lead with two minutes left on a Danny Martinez free throw. Three straight Dimmitt turnovers, though, let Idalou creep back to within five points, 33-28, with 40 seconds left. The Bobcats increased their halftime lead to seven when Pat McDonald made an inside move, then passed off to James Alexander, who was wide open underneath, to give the Bobcats an eight point lead after DIMMITT GUARD Jeremy Warren canned this 20-foot jumper over an Idalou defender early in the second quarter to give the Bobcats a 22-16 lead. Warren had 14 points to help lead the Bobcats over the Wildcats and give Dimmitt the first-half district championship Friday.

McDonald led Dimmitt with 23 points, while Alexander controlled the boards, pulling down 13 while adding 17 points.

Dimmitt had every chance in the world to lose the girl's contest Friday, but instead held on as Idalou had two shots bounce off the rim in the last five seconds to grab a 51-50 win.

Dimmitt broke open a close game during the second quarter and jumped to a 33-32 halftime lead. But the Bobbies hit just two field goals during the third quarter as Idalou charged back to grab a 38-37 lead at the end of three periods.

The Bobbies took the lead for good early in the fourth quarter and built up a five point lead, 43-38, with five minutes to play, but guards Lori Baker and Tonya Saul pecked away from the outside to close the gap to one point, 51-50, with a minute left.

Idalou missed out on two one-and-one opportunities, then had one last chance when the Bobbies turned the ball over underneath the Idalou basket with five seconds left. Saul's 15-footer rimmed out, and Angela Sherrod's follow-up bounced away to give the Bobbies the win.

Alexander hit a free throw to complete the three-point play.

Alexander hit an early third quarter bucket, then Idalou hit three straight unanswered buckets to pull to within four, 38-34. The Wildcats could hit just six more points in the last 5:10 of the third quarter while the Bobcats ripped off 15 points in 2:19 of the quarter to pull out to a 15-point lead, 53-38, then breezed through the fourth quarter.

Martinez was making his first appearance of the year after falling victim to "no pass-no play," forcing him out of the first half of the season. Despite seeing fairly limited action in his first game of the season, Martinez led the team with the free clinics that are available for immunizations, many children aren't getting their shots until they start to school. We refer them to the clinic, which is in town once every two months, and check back to make sure they go to the clinic."

The immunizations and other examinations go into the permanent health record of each student, which is in its second year of being stored in the school's computer system. One new item included in the health records is scoliosis, or curvature of the spine, screening. "The state has mandated that we check for scoliosis with each student in grades five through nine," Lantz said. "We have a meter we use to check for possible problems, and we also check for roundness in the shoulders and other possible problems."

A big part of the record-keeping chores deal with migrant students.

"We have to keep separate records on Chapter I Migrant Students," said Lantz. "They go from here to the Region 16 Service Center in Amarillo and on to Little Rock, Ark. On new migrant students, we have to update their medical history and check their family history. Anytime a migrant student withdraws we have to update their record, and we have to update them by March 1 of every year with their immunization, eye and ear, weight and height and scoliosis information, plus anything else that might need to be reported."

The job includes the well-being of teachers and administrators.

"There's probably been more stress placed on our school people in the last two years than at any other time," Lantz said. "We've had more requests for blood pressure testing than we've ever had, and we take two days in May to check over all of the teachers and administrators."

The nurses also help with a crippled children's health clinic held here twice annually.

"The district has been gracious enough to let us host this every year. Kathy Thomas, an SSI worker, and Judy Venhaus, the Texas Dept. of Health nurse, work with us in hosting the clinic," Lantz said. "We also have a good Early Childhood screening project in April at the middle school library that involves a number of school personnel that spots early developmental problems."

"You have to love children to be happy in this field of nursing. I think the biggest reward is when you're treating a child, giving them first aid, and they leave and say thank you. That makes everything worthwhile."

ches on key southern cities in the 1960s, forced our nation to take a second look at the double standard of the day, and to realize that it was not fulfilling the promise of its laws. Dr. King's movement required a tremendous amount of bravery, commitment and courage (take that as fact from one who lived in the Deep South in the late 1950s and who saw first-hand how very suffocating the system of absolute segregation really was).

To others, the new holiday may serve as a reminder of the principles which Dr. King stood for. They're the same principles that our founding fathers stood for, the same principles that many Americans have died for during the past 209 years.

Several state representatives—two in particular—have tried for years to get the Texas Legislature to sanction King Day as a state holiday. They'll try again in the next session. And this time, I hope, they'll succeed.

Don't forget the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight at 7 in the Expo Building. If you don't have tickets yet, they're available at several places around town, including the News office. They'll cost $1.50 more at the door.

WINTER'S MAJESTY

All delight in the beauty of snow... how it clears the air, cleans and gives the earth a pure white blanket. David in his worship of God said...

"Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow."

Attend church, worship God and know the joy of a free spirit, whiter than snow.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Hereford vegetable meeting is Tuesday

Profitable alternatives which can help vegetable growers and shippers cope with rising production costs and continuously changing markets in order to remain successful will be offered during the annual West Texas Vegetable Conference in Hereford Tuesday.

"There are many ways to improve what we do now, and there are new crops at which to look and these are what we are going to discuss with growers," said Dr. Roland Roberts, Extension vegetable specialist at Lubbock and coordinator for the annual conference.

The program will begin at 8 a.m. at the Hereford Community Center, 100 Avenue C at Park Avenue. It is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Deaf Smith County Extension Vegetable Crops Committee, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Tech University.

"The Texas High and Rolling Plains can produce vegetables which aren't being grown here," Roberts said. These possible alternative crops — including spinach, broccoli and cauliflower — will be discussed in detail by Dr. Frank Dainello, professor of horticulture with the Experiment Station at Uvalde.

"Plains growers have market opportunity for several crops in the mid-summer to early fall, when the warmer regions of Texas and other states are out of the market temporarily," Roberts said.

Another feature of the conference will be a videotape showing growers and shippers how to reduce potato tuber bruising in harvesting, loading and grading operations. Such bruising hurts the attractiveness of summer potatoes and reduces profits for the grower, Roberts noted. The video camera, carried on a working harvester in the field, traces the path of the potatoes and shows vividly where bruising occurs.

Traditional plant spacing and irrigation practices don't allow the area's onion crop to make its full potential, Roberts noted. At the conference, Dr. David Bender and Dr. William Lyle of the Experiment Station will report their findings on new combinations of spacing and irrigation timing that have broken this yield barrier.

Broadleaf and grass weed, which pose a major threat to onion production, will be addressed. Dr. Jack Gipson of Texas Tech will discuss herbicides found most effective against these weeds.

Major improvements in potato yield and quality are difficult and take many years to accomplish, Roberts said. The newest varieties and unreleased potato lines that have strong promise will be presented by Dr. Creighton Miller, potato geneticist with the Experiment Station, College Station.

Soil fertility and plant nutrition is often misunderstood and mismanaged to the detriment of the vegetable crop and the grower. Dr. Michael Hickey, soil chemist who heads the Extension soil and tissue testing laboratory at Lubbock, will show how to make the best use of soil and tissue tests in vegetable crop management.

Additional hot topics on the conference agenda include: the 1986 market outlook, West Texas transportation advantages in potato markets, new intermediate day onion varieties, hot pepper production and irrigation, and control of the squash bug.

Dentists and surgeons may soon rely on barnacle glue to mend parts of the human body, reports National Wildlife magazine. Its strength and durability surpass most man-made compounds, but so far no one has been able to synthesize the stuff in a laboratory.

While Burger King is looking for "Herb," the Chamber of Commerce is looking for "FRAN." That's right, FRAN!

In an interview, her mother and dad said FRAN was always a good girl. FRAN did not become involved easily. She was not one to try new things. She has seldom experienced the frustrations and joys of undertaking an impossible project and making it succeed. She has missed the luxury of allowing herself to dream and then working to make those dreams come true. She almost never volunteers for anything outside her home or work. Her philosophy is "let someone else do it."

It's not that FRAN doesn't care. She has often criticized her community for its shortcomings. And lately, she has been concerned about the future of her children. She fears they will move to a distant city to find jobs.

FRAN is thrifty! She is slow to invest money in community "causes." And most recently, she has been heard to complain about the declining value of her property.

You may know FRAN. She may be a Friend, Relative, Acquaintance or Neighbor. It is possible that FRAN may have an idea that will make a key community project become reality. It is just possible that her participation might make the difference between our success and failure.

That's why the Chamber is interested in FRAN. We need all the help we can get to make our community the best it can be as a place to live and work and play. We need good ideas that can help us meet the challenges of the 1980's and move us successfully into the opportunities of the 1990's.

Your Chamber of Commerce is launching a membership drive to involve new people and fresh ideas. If you know FRAN, we hope that you will invite her to become an active Chamber member. She is needed! A good place to begin is the Chamber of Commerce banquet this week. We invite you to attend. Let us introduce you to the Chamber and its work. We think that you'll like what you see and hear. In fact, we believe that FRAN will have a particularly good time.

scheduled for Feb. 3 for two tracts of land on NW Fifth that was recently purchased by Roy Henderson. Structures have already been moved onto the property from the country, and the structures would have to meet city standards if they are incorporated into the city.

The tracts are surrounded on three sides by city limits, but since each tract was brought into the city limits individually when the lots were improved, the Henderson tracts have remained outside the city limits.

An easement was granted to Castro Oil and Gas for a fuel line the company plans to build under a city alleyway. There are no utilities in the alley, and CO&G manager Steve Buckley said the line was needed to connect overhead storage tanks with underground tanks. Buckley said the fuel line would be buried three to four feet underground and would meet all state and federal regulations.

The aldermen also approved a change in the city's alcoholic beverage ordinance which would force businesses that sell beer, wine or liquor to post the city license in a prominent location in full view, and increases the penalties for failure to obtain a city license, which costs one-half the amount of state licenses.

The aldermen tabled a proposal for recodification of the city's ordinances, which have not been recodified since 1969, and voted to open bids for the proposed airport improvement project at the Dimmitt Municipal Airport on Feb. 14.

The aldermen also met in executive session to discuss real estate and legal matters.

More about

'Drugdog' program. . .

 "We feel that our school kids do not have to be exposed to drugs at school if we can prevent it," Ryan said. He explained teachers and administrators have suspected for several months that there had been an increase in the use of drugs among local teenagers.
 After being notified of procedures and shown the drug-dog program, if a student is caught with drugs at school, "it's his choice, not ours," Ryan said. Ryan outlined the procedures that will be followed during the search by the dogs and what will happen if a dog alerts to a student.
 The dogs will work the different schools at unknown intervals, and, except for authorized personnel, there will be no movement outside the classrooms and offices during the time the dog is at work in the building.
 Parents will be called to school if the dog alerts to the car a student is driving, a locker or personal belongings. Parents will be contacted by telephone or by an administrative staff member. If parents refuse to go to the school when summoned, the student will be carried home by appropriate school personnel or released to the custody of the police. Parents must go to the school before the student will be allowed back into class.
 A student found to have been using drugs will be forced to receive professional counseling beginning immediately, and the counselor will visit with the
