LISTEN TO LUKE

This week marks the end of an era for Sanderson and Terrell county and its association with John W. Pate, who is taking his family to Switzerland for a change of domicile and where he will take further studies in his professional field.

We are sorry to see them go. We hate to see them go for the reason that others have — we will have no one around who will take care of our aches and pains, our periodical and emergency illnesses, until and unless the services of another physician are obtained.

We hate to see them go because we hate to see any fine family leave from this community.

We are sorry to see the people of the county and some of the residents of Marfa have been humored into predicament by a person who lived over seven years of his life to the welfare and well-being of any resident of the county who was or thought they were sick, at the time of night, the length of the road, nor condition, nor the condition of the elements never failed this good man from his aid and the keeping of his oath in the memory of the great operators.

We hate to see them go because we were interested in the civic life of the community. Time proved one member of the family was taking an active part in all the things that would have been to his liking, but the interest in social, welfare and religious things was maintained by his presence.

We feel that the town is losing true friends, some good people and good citizens.

We hope for the Pates are for happiness, a well-earned and deserved rest, and bon voyage.

The subject of doctors leads us to the actions of the local post of the American Legion at their meeting. And if you haven't heard what it's all about, we suggest that you contact Troy Druse or El Kerr and get them to tell you of the plans the organization is promoting. We feel that it is a worthwhile movement and one that deserves and demands the cooperation of all the citizens of Sanderson if it is to be successful.

We have in other columns of this paper this week a news release from Washington concerning a dam being made in this county near a possible dam site.

We would like to exercise the right of a news commentator and express a few views of our own taken from between the lines of the words that are in the release and the one issued not long ago concerning the probable location of a dam near Del Rio at the mouth of the Devil's River.

In that article, the latter one, did I locate a dam near Del Rio any more than it located one near Marfa, from an active standpoint. Other news releases on this subject have located one just west of Terrell County and in Terrell County and this latest news release is still even more suggestive of a dam site near Sanderson in Terrell County.

The fact that surveys are still being made indicate that there

SOFTBALL TEAM PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Terrell County received Thursday a softball team from Alpine and will be here Friday night to play the local Lions Club team.

The game will get under way at 7:30 p. m. and a good fast game is expected to be played.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Stumberg will be here several days in San Angelo this week.

Emergency Loans For Ranchmen Are Explained

Methods of making emergency livestock loans to farmers and cattlemen who need Federal credit for buying feed and to pay operating expenses were outlined today by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. The special loans were authorized by Congress in new disaster credit legislation approved by President Eisenhower.

This credit will be extended only to established producers and feeders of cattle, sheep and goats, who have a reasonable chance of working out their difficulties but cannot obtain funds they need from private or cooperative business or to carry on commercial feed lot operations.

Heaviest demand is expected in the drought-stricken Southwest, but loans to cattlemen are not limited to the disaster area.

Application blanks will be available from the Farmers Home Administration offices within a few days. In areas of heaviest demand, banks, production credit associations, national farm loan associations, as well as local offices of the FHA will have the blanks. All applications will be passed on by special livestock loan committees to be appointed by Secretary Benson.

The ranchmen can get in touch with the loan committee servicing his area by contacting his banker, the county agricultural agent, the Farmers Home Administration supervisor, or any other local agricultural official.

Loans will be made in amounts of $2,500 or more, at 5 per cent interest for periods up to 3 years for the purchase of feed, seed and other operating expenses. They can be renewed if renewal is found to be in the best interest of the ranchers and the government. The loan funds cannot be used to re-finance debts the farmers already owe.

When a ranchman applies for a livestock loan, his creditors will not be asked to subordinate their claims to the government. However, they will be expected to give standby agreements for a long period to enable the ranchman to have a reasonable chance of recovery.

The Secretary will set up loan committees to serve a whole state or a few counties, depending on the demand for this credit. Each committee will consist of at least three local persons having recognized knowledge of the livestock industry.

Most loan approvals will be handled by the local committees. However, whenever an applicant's total indebtedness would exceed $50,000, final approval will be by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Authority for making livestock loans extends for two years.

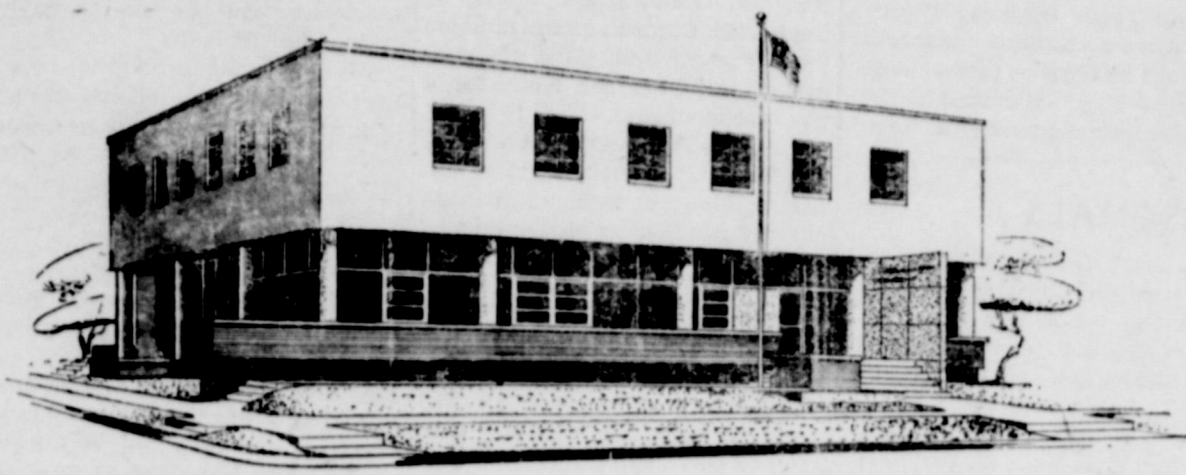

The legislation passed by Congress also provides a supplemental source of emergency credit for established farmers — not limited to livestock operators — in areas designated by the President as major disaster areas. When the Secretary of Agriculture finds the farmers in these areas have felt the force of an economic disaster — such as a substantial price decline — to the extent they cannot get needed credit from local sources to carry on farming operations he can authorize loans to meet that need.

Large areas of Texas and Oklahoma and parts of Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, and Arkansas have recently been designated as major disaster areas.

Emergency loans to help farmers hit by economic disaster will be similar to the disaster loans being made by the Farmers Home Administration to farmers who have suffered production losses from natural disasters as drought, flood and windstorms. New loans will be made only during the period of the emergency. Lending will be handled by the Farmers Home Administration offices. Credit will be available at rates and terms to be established by the secretary.

The new legislation also provides

TERRELL COUNTY OFF BLACKLIST FOR BRACERO HIRING

The following letter was mailed this week by Mrs. Jettie Peavy to ranchers in Terrell, Brewster and Pecos Counties:

"I have been notified that Terrell County is off the blacklist, and processing of braceros is now possible, after applications are approved by the Texas Employment Commission.

"The Texas Employment Commission representative will be in Sanderson on Thursday afternoon, July 30, and will also be in Sanderson a few hours Friday morning, July 31. It is necessary that each rancher contact a representative in order to have approvals okayed for processing. This representative will be at the Peavy Insurance Agency, and I trust that each rancher will come by and make application as early as possible.

"The Mexican consul has advised that it is better to make a new application under the new program for a year's contract, than to ask for a six months' extension. However, if a rancher prefers the six months' extension, it will be possible to make the application at the same time.

"If ranchers in Brewster and Pecos Counties will make application at this time, it will save them a trip to San Angelo or El Paso at a later date."

Del Rio Pony Leaguers Win 9-4 Here Saturday

The Del Rio Pony League All-Star team met the local lads here last Saturday afternoon and downed the local all-stars by the score of 9-4. The Del Rio boys outdid the Sanderson team in all departments of the game, garnering 10 hits to 4 for Sanderson and besting the locals also in their defensive playing by making less errors.

Eddie Hanson was the starting pitcher for the Sanderson leaguers and was relieved by Bo Wright in the sixth.

es that in the future whatever expense the Government bears in supplying feed and seed in disaster areas will be borne by a disaster loan fund revolving under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture. In the past this expense has been carried by the President's emergency fund.

The other two new programs will also be financed out of the disaster revolving fund. About $16-million is available at the present time. A request for additional funds is being made.

Vehicle Inspection Dates Set Sept. 15 To April 15, 1954

Austin, July 29 — The new period, during which Texas motorists will be required to have their auto inspected under the new modified Motor Vehicle Inspection law which was enacted by the recent 53rd Legislature, has been officially set for September 15, 1953 and through April 15, 1954, it was announced today by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison said that the State Public Safety Commission has advised him that they will confirm the designation of the new period on August 26, the effective dates of the new act.

The old law, which aroused much controversial argument during the last session of the Legislature, will expire at midnight August 25, and no inspections will be made under its provisions after that date.

Garrison explained that this means that no inspections of any sort will be made between that time and the beginning of the new period on September 15.

The modified law calls for inspection only of brakes, lighting equipment, horns, rear view mirrors and windshield wipers.

"In view of the fact that the inspection stations throughout the state are already set up and equipped to perform this work," Garrison said, "we feel that the full seven months of the new period will afford motorists ample time to have their vehicles inspected."

He urged, however, that car owners not wait too long lest they get caught in a last-minute rush to meet the inspection deadline.

P. M. A. TO HAVE ELECTION AUG. 17

A schedule for PMA rancher-committee elections was announced today by Joe Kerr, Jr., chairman of the Terrell County PMA committee. The election will be held in the courthouse on August 17, 1953.

Ranchers will cast their votes at the courthouse for three members of the PMA committee, 2 delegates to the county committee.

Kerr advises all ranchers to take advantage of the right to vote in county elections because the men chosen will direct all PMA programs in the county. As usual they will be in charge of the price support operations and will have supervision of acreage allotments on any crops for which these are in effect.

Names of the candidates running for election will be published when they are received.

Stressing the importance of getting out a big vote for the PMA rancher-committeemen on August 17, Kerr said, "Among their duties our county committeemen are responsible for the administration of price support programs.

"The kind of a job the county committeemen do means a whole lot to each of the 120 Terrell County ranchers participating in agricultural programs administered by the Production and Marketing Administration. And all these ranchers have a chance to vote in electing the men who supervise the programs at the ranch level," the Terrell County chairman advised.

"Every rancher who has an interest in a ranch — owner or leasor — is eligible to vote if he is participating in or carry out farm or ranch practices in accord with the programs administered by local county PMA committees."

Rep. Ken Regan, 16th district, conferred on this with Commissioner L. M. Lawson of the International Boundary Commission when he was in Washington recently. Lawson said a site near Del Rio was under consideration.

Sanderson residents reminded Regan that it had been promised that when Falcon dam was nearing completion another dam would be started. The Falcon project is expected to be dedicated this fall.

Official approval has not yet been given the proposed dam site near Del Rio below the mouth of Devil's River.

An appeal is being made to anyone who has an apartment or furnished home to turn in their names to The Times as several of the families have children and would like to have at least a 2-bedroom residence.

AS A MAN THINKETH

There's an old saying in the writing profession that a person will never become a great writer until he cuts loose from a steady income and begins to make a living solely on his own.

Almost the same thing was said more than 100 years ago by one of America's greatest free lance writers, Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Emerson contended throughout his writings and lectures that if society is to develop and progress the individual and his personality must be emphasized and not the State or the mass.

The first rule of economy, Emerson said, "is that every man shall maintain himself. The harvest will be better preserved and go farther laid up in each farmer's corn-barn and each woman's basket."

NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.
By Anne Goods

What's cooking? Pot roast, the best ever when we substitute tomato juice for water. After the roast is thoroughly browned, plunk it in the simmering tomato juice with a bay leaf, some onion, carrot, celery, salt and pepper. Cook slowly till done.

If you're a neat knitter why not make one of the boxy white sweaters that are going to be popular this summer?

Who would ever think that each year we Americans eat about 21 pounds of onions apiece? Well, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says so.

To accompany any number of meat dishes, prepare the ubiquitous onion accordingly: Melt vitaminized margarine in a skillet, add onion rings, green pepper rings and sliced mushrooms and saute gently till onions are cooked.

ket than if it were kept in national granaries. In like manner an amount of money will go farther if expended by each man or woman for their own wants and in the feeling that this is their all, than if expended by a great steward or National Commissioner of the Treasury.

"In dealing with the State," Emerson wrote, "we ought to remember that its institutions are not aboriginal, though they existed before we were born; that they are not superior to the citizen; that every one of them was once the act of a single man; every law and usage was a man's expedient to meet a particular case, that they are all imitable, all alterable, we may make as good, we may make better."

"The wise know that foolish legislation is a rope of sand which perishes in the twisting; that the State must follow and not lead the character and progress of the citizen; and that the form of government which prevails is the expression of what cultivation exists in the population which permits it."

"The less government we have," said Emerson over and over again, "the better; the fewer laws and the less confided power. The antidote to this abuse of formal government is the influence of private character, the growth of the individual. The highest end of government is the culture of men."

Emerson was born in Boston on May 25, 1803. He graduated from Harvard and became a preacher. He left the pulpit to write the great essays that have given him a place in the eternal literature of the world.

world, of value," Emerson said, "is the active soul. . . . As a man thinketh so is he, and as a man chooseth so is he and so is nature. 'My children,' said an old man to his boys scared by a figure in a dark entry, 'my children, you will never see anything worse than yourselves.'"

On social progress, Emerson wrote: "Social progress depends on individual progress. A man must be able to stand alone before he is able to operate to any advantage."

All these ideas are worth serious consideration in an age when much of the political opinion of the world seeks to enthrone the State and subordinate the individual.

will be another dam, even if one is located near Del Rio and the hopes for such an advantage to the town and county should run just as high as they were prior to the mention of a dam near Del Rio.

News is very scarce from the International Boundary Commission and what little there is is always very brief until a definite site has been selected and that announcement is made. Up until that time a probable location is not holding water on the river.

A dam site near Sanderson or Dryden would be of untold benefit to the county and its income from construction workers, and tourists following the completion. It would also give an opportunity for local sportsmen and the like to enjoy outings on the lake.

We don't want to build up hopes for such a thing, but we would suggest that our readers notice such words as "tentatively", "allegedly", "supposed" and the like.

State Health Dept. Moves To Assure Care for Aged Wards

Austin, Texas, July 28 — The State Department of Health moved this week to make sure that all nursing and convalescent homes in Texas are looking after the health and safety of their elderly residents.

Acting under authority granted by the legislature, the health department mailed licensing application forms to several hundred operators, all of whom must now conform to humane standards of operation or close their doors.

As state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox is administrator of the new licensing law. These are its terms:

Any establishment which provides food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and which provides services which meet some need beyond basic provisions of food and shelter and laundry, must apply for an operation license from the State Department of Health.

Hospitals, hotels and similar institutions are not included. Nor are homes conducted by or for adherents of a religious order who depend exclusively on prayer or spiritual means for healing.

Application fees have been set by the legislature at $25 per year, plus $1 for each bed maintained by the home. Fees will be applied to paying administrative costs of the law.

The health agency has the authority to make inspections on homes and to revoke licenses for shoddy operation. Home operators can file

It's Fine To Be Fooled — Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot blindfolded, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!

No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a batpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

Grievance complaints in district court in any instance of unfair or arbitrary treatment by the administrators of the law.

Dr. Cox, outspokenly in favor of the licensing law as a method of insuring proper treatment of elderly people in nursing homes, says "some homes in this state are little more than fire traps." He adds: "This is one condition we hope to eliminate. We will not tolerate unscrupulous persons in the nursing profession, not when the health and safety of disabled old folks are at stake."

Little League Starts Play With 3 Teams

The last half of Little League play got off to a start here Thursday evening when the short schedule for the season was approved with only three teams formed.

The Indians, sponsored by Jack Turner and Greene Cooke, took the first game from the Yankees, sponsored by Earl Pierson, in a closely contested fray when the winning run was brought in in the last half of the sixth inning.

The Yankees were on the heavy end of the score until two runs in the final half of the last frame ended the fray with a tight score of 4-3. Buddy Monroe was the winning pitcher after relieving Frank Ball after three innings. Pablo Moreno caught for the Redmen.

Pierson's aggregation, coached Calvin Howell, had Julian Martinez do mound duties for the entire game with Oren Belcher behind the plate.

Friday evening the Indians will play the Dodgers for the second game of this half. The Dodgers are sponsored by H. A. Finger and coached by Alton Wilhite.

All teams were reshuffled at the end of the first half and it was necessary to have only three teams because of the absence of so many of the youngsters who are on vacation.

Games are scheduled for each Tuesday and Friday evenings until September 4.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stokes of El Paso spent Monday here with her mother, Mrs. Annie Nance. They were en route to San Antonio.
