LISTEN TO LUKE

Just a few short months ago a few interested citizens of Terrell County started a movement which created the Terrell County Chamber of Commerce. This body of civic-minded citizens has managed to get into the work needed for the advancement of civic interests in this community.

The work ahead of us is of a nature which requires a united effort of thoughtful citizens working for interests which will affect the future of all of us. To be sure there are committees for various phases of the work. These committees are set up with the idea that they are best fitted for work in the particular field for which they were chosen. It is not intended that members of any committee should endeavor to do all the work of that committee unaided. There is a place on all committees for you to help. Every citizen of Terrell County can and must be busy and willing to lend their efforts to aid in any way that their services might be needed.

Recently I have heard remarks to the effect that a particular job should be handled by the committee named. Certainly that is a wrong attitude. Work outlined by chamber officials is not the job of one man or a few men. It is a job for a lot of people. All of us must accept our responsibility to assist in any of the projects outlined. We have known communities where the entire citizenship looked after individual or a small group of individuals to handle all matters of community interest. Those communities were never aggressive.

Any community worthy of the name needs and demands the assistance of all who make up the citizenship. In recent years here we have noticed there is now a spirit of personal responsibility shown which is indicative of cooperation and a willingness to accept part of the load. That is as it should be. This paper has a part to carry out its representative of the community. We stand ready to serve in any way. You should be ready and fast in your own way to pitch in for whatever task may be assigned to you.

JAMES KERR RESIGNS AS BANK PRESIDENT

James Kerr has tendered his resignation as president of the Sanderson State Bank after serving for six years in that office. The resignation will become effective on July 13.

Mr. Kerr was one of the original stockholders and assisted in the organization of the bank on July 3, 1907. He was named president on July 13, 1948, succeeding Frank K. Harrell who resigned because of ill health. Failing health was also given as the reason for Mr. Kerr's resignation.

A successor to Mr. Kerr will be named at a future meeting of the directors of the bank.

Hunting Regulations To Be Discussed In June 18 Meeting

The Texas Game and Fish Commission will follow the practice initiated in 1953 of holding public meetings in the Trans-Pecos region of Texas in June. Instead of having only four in centrally-located cities as last year, a meeting will be held in each county seat of the nine county area. The purpose of these meetings is to afford landowners and hunters the opportunity to discuss hunting regulations with representatives of the game department.

The Terrell County meeting is scheduled for Friday, June 18, at 8 p. m. at the court house, according to Ed Lacy, game warden.

Under a law which went into effect in 1945, the Texas Game and Fish Commission is empowered to prescribe the open seasons, bag limits, and the means and methods of taking game surplus in the nine-county area of the Trans-Pecos. This is substantiated by the fact that the supply of any game bird or game mammal of this state is uncertain, and the fact that necessary regulations for the taking of same cannot be provided until careful study is given to the current supply, and the fact that such studies and the resulting regulations that may be required by the provisions of this law can best be made and provided by the Game and Fish Commission.

All interested landowners and hunters are urged to attend the meeting in the city nearest their place of residence. Wide representation of both the latter groups is necessary to make the public meeting program serve the purpose for which it was created. For instance, representatives from one county may advocate a general closed season on quail and deer for the entire region or a year around season on javelina. These proposed laws may be applicable to game of one or more counties but not necessarily to all of the others.

FHA Revision Puts More Authority In Local Offices

Measures to speed up and further improve Farmers Home Administration services to ranchers have recently been developed in Washington under the direction of Secretary Benson, T. T. Perkins, State Director at Dallas, said today.

In accordance with Secretary Benson's policy of placing more control of agricultural programs in local hands, many of the decisions formerly made in state offices will now be made in the counties. County supervisors, the employees who deal directly with the ranchers, will have final approval on a larger number of loans and will have more authority in working with other creditors and in taking steps to help borrowers solve their financial and ranching problems.

Greater use will be made of state and county committees. New state committees, to be appointed in the near future, will be called upon frequently to review agency operations and make sure they are efficiently serving local needs. County committees will be relied upon to an even greater extent than in the past to help adapt national policies to local needs.

Services of other public and private organizations will be used to the maximum extent possible. County home demonstration agents will help Farmers Home Administration borrowers with their family living problems. Every possible step will be taken to make sure that no government funds are advanced when private or cooperative credit is available to meet the needs. Lenders will be urged to supply funds for insured ranch ownership loans.

Measures already taken by the agency to render better service at less cost include the reorganization of the national, area finance, and state offices which resulted in a savings of more than $1,500,000. A duplicate set of files on 60,000 real estate loans has been eliminated as well as all of the work formerly performed by state offices in reporting borrowers' progress.

To expedite real estate loan-making, the engineering and appraisal services of the agency will be placed in county offices, closer to the ranchers to be served. Engineer-appraisers were formerly stationed in state offices.

Practically all property insurance matters have been transferred to county offices.

The agency's emergency loan program was stressed at the meetings. State Directors and their staffs were told to move into an area whenever a drought or flood strikes. And when the crisis has passed to move out again as quickly as possible.

It was stated that none of the basic policies under which the agency operates are being changed. The same amount of emphasis is placed on helping ranchers obtain adequate land and equipment resources, develop good systems of ranching, and adopt proper ranch and home management practices.

Highway Dept. To Move Offices To Monahans

Resident Engineer W. A. Davis announced this week that the State Highway Department District Engineer R. L. Faltinson had advised him of plans to move the local engineering offices to Monahans in the near future. No definite date has been set for the move, Davis stated, but added that it would probably be moved before September 1.

With the completion of the present work on U. S. 90 just west of Dryden, all proposed work in this immediate vicinity will be completed with the exception of the alteration of the intersection of U. S. 285 and U. S. 90 just west of Sanderson and a 3-mile construction job just west of the intersection of the two highways.

The only other projects that are being handled out of the local office are the sections of FM1217 between Dryden and Sheffield. Davis stated that all these unfinished and planned jobs would probably be handled out of the Fort Stockton office.

The move will not affect the maintenance crew headed by K. E. Dick, it was announced.

Davis stated that with the completion of the construction of U. S. 90 east to the district line east of Dryden, the recent construction of U. S. 285 and the completion of FM1217, there was little likelihood of a resident engineer for Sanderson, until plans for reconstructing U. S. 90 west were deemed advisable and the district office considered Sanderson to be the best probable location for a resident engineer.

Davis stated that this information, concerning future possibilities of the department, were all supposition on his part, emphasizing the fact that all future proposals would be subject to the action of the State Highway Department, concerning future highway construction allocations; the district engineer, concerning the assignment of reconstruction jobs to a residency, and the location of a resident engineer.

By VERN SANFORD
 Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas is moving to clean up its insurance "mess".

A study of reform proposals has been scheduled by the Texas Legislative Council, with a special committee of legislators in charge of the project. Other state agencies will participate.

A. W. Worty, executive director of the council, said that Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey has written to all insurance companies operating in Texas, asking for their co-operation in the study.

Sixty insurance companies have failed in Texas since 1939, Worty said. The council will look at the records of these companies to see why they went bankrupt.

Another aspect of the council's work will be to examine Texas' insurance laws and recommend changes "to assure a sound and stable insurance industry."

Yarborough's Charges
 Ralph W. Yarborough, candidate for governor, charged that there had been "influence peddling" in connection with the insurance situation. Yarborough recommended:

"A complete investigation looking into retainers, bank accounts, expense accounts, income tax returns, and excessive personal expenditures of state government officials connected with insurance law administration in Texas."

Insurance News
 Nearly everybody got into the insurance show. These included:

Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, who recommended 29 changes in the state insurance laws, including state control over insurance company stock sales.

Chairman Garland A. Smith of the insurance commission, who denounced "blatant untruths and half-truths" in a Time Magazine article. Smith said the magazine was "joining with jealous big Eastern insurance companies in trying to smear the Texas insurance industry."

Good Business
 Dr. John R. Stockton of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says that a trade decline is over and recovery has started.

Business activity rose two per cent from March to April in Texas, Dr. Stockton found, representing "a recovery of approximately half of the decline from January, 1953, and January, 1954."

This finding indicates, Dr. Stockton said, "that the decline in business, which has been under way since the spring of 1953, is approaching an end."

Lots of Roads
 A construction program for 1955-1956, costing about $211 million, was announced by the state highway commission.

It was the largest program ever approved in Texas.

Involved is the construction of 2,663 miles of roads, but, said commission chairman E. H. Thornton Jr., "it can only eliminate a minor per cent of the critical deficiencies of the (highway) system."

About $43 million of the money will go for highways within cities. Thirty of the worst bridges will be repaired or replaced.

Political Scene
 State political campaigns opened up, with principal interest in the governor's race.

There, the contenders are incumbent Allan Shivers; Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney; and J. J. Holmes, Austin contractor.

Yarborough opened up with a speech in which he talked about "the need for integrity in state government and a sound program for the advancement of Texas."

Meanwhile, Austin political observers heard reports from the Rio Grande Valley that national CIO leaders are going all-out in an attempt to defeat Shivers. The reports said that the CIO has put up $250,000 to finance Yarborough and already has 300 paid workers in the field campaigning against Shivers.

Holmes, who is beginning to step up his pace in the race, says, "I'm not mad at anybody. I just want to be Governor of Texas."

Shivers' Race
 Shivers, returning from Korea, said that the thing for Texans to do is to keep our government at home, and not turn it over to outsiders.

At a press conference, the governor said he expected some opposition from Democrats who supported Adlai Stevenson last time.

Shivers pointed out that he led the fight for Eisenhower because the Republican nominee saw eye-to-eye with him on the tidelands issue, whereas Stevenson thought the tidelands ought to belong to the federal government.

Since the return of the tidelands to Texas a year ago, Shivers said, this state has collected from them about $32 million in mineral rights, and this money goes to the state school fund.

Lieutenant Governor
 Opposing Ben Ramsey for lieutenant governor were State Representative George T. Hinson of Mineola and C. T. Johnson, Austin business man.

Hinson announced in favor of legislation which would require lobbyists to register with the state and force lawmakers to file a list of all the sources and the amount of their income.

Johnson plugged what he termed the need for "new men" to strengthen insurance laws for the protection of policyholders. Said Johnson: "It's interesting to see those who have been in a position for years and years to clean up the insurance mess suddenly get stirred up about it."

Brewster Starts
 Campaigning for the re-election of Few Brewster, associate justice of the Texas Supreme Court, began with the appointment of Franklin Spears of San Antonio as campaign manager.

William B. Carsow, Austin lawyer, heads up a statewide campaign committee. Brewster is opposed by Robert B. Keenan of Gladewater and Alfred M. Scott of Austin.

Civil Appeals
 I. N. Williams retired as associate justice of the Texas Court of Civil Appeals, and his place is being sought by Otto H. Atchley and Mat Davis.

Fourteen other judges on Texas civil appeals courts, up for re-election, are unopposed.

Executive Sessions
 State executive committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties will meet here June 14 to prepare the July 24 first primary ballot and select sites for the September state conventions.

Republicans will choose a state chairman to succeed Alvin Lane, who resigned. George Sandlin of Austin has been chosen Democratic chairman, replacing Wallace Savage, who resigned to run for Congress.

Park Visitors

Four million people will visit Texas' parks this summer, says Gordon K. Shearer, executive director of the state parks board.

The number will be a record, biggest year heretofore having been 1952, when park visitors numbered 3,803,147. Various improvements have added to the attractiveness of the parks, Shearer said.

More Milk
 Texas big dairy industry opened up a 30-day campaign, whooping it up about how much dairy products mean to the state's people.

Included in the program were guided tours through model dairy farms, speeches, menus on the newspaper food pages, exhibits, and advertising.

Formula for Grads
 Note to June graduates: Do you want to succeed? If so, you must love work.

So says L. L. (Tex) Colbert, president of Chrysler Corporation, who addressed 1,300 in graduation exercises at the University of Texas.

Himself a Texas graduate — in 1925 — Colbert said, "I believe that for most Americans there is a deep moral satisfaction in turning out a good job."

Duval Jury
 In Duval County "the oppressed may take new hope," said Attorney General John Ben Shepperd.

His comment was made upon the appointment of a new jury commission and grand jury panel in the violent South Texas domain.

Insurance Scandal
 Looks like the big "news" this week will outline the political spotlight. Scene of the drama: The 98th District Court room in Austin.

Stars in the show: Public Relations Man John Van Cronkrite; Maurice Acers, executive assistant to Governor Shivers; Attorney General John Ben Shepperd; State Insurance Board Chairman Garland Smith; and Chief Insurance Examiner L. W. Blanchard.

The five were ordered to appear for the trial in connection with the state's suit for a permanent injunction against the operation of Lloyd's of North America.

Fraud is the charge against Lloyd's of North America.

You can bet your bottom dollar that this case will echo and re-echo throughout the present political campaign.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Darn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

talk to many thousands of people. According to the Communist Party, and unfortunately, according to some prominent politicians and educators, our American people today are alleged to be filled with fear, afraid to express their minds or to express opinions, and constantly looking over their shoulder for a Congressional investigator.

Cybernetics But when influential people are led to believe and pass along the Communist propaganda it becomes a powerful force in ultimately shaping public opinion. Herbert Philbrick said the Communists are devoting a major effort today to the science of 'cybernetics.' Never before," he said, "have we seen such a rigidly, skillfully organized propaganda machine. Cybernetics, according to the Communists, is the manipulation and control of information — through the press, all fields of communications. "And by this means," said Philbrick, "you can control people as you do puppets. I don't know of a single book on the subject of what the Communists are doing with cybernetics. As a matter of fact, my own knowledge is limited to the facts I've gathered from inside the Communist Party. But the Reds have been working at this for many years. And today they are working around the clock in this study of the scientific manipulation and control of information."

And today they are working around the clock in this study of the scientific manipulation and control of information."

Conditioned Reflex Philbrick said that cybernetics, as used by the Communists, is based on the findings of Pavlov, the Russian scientist who developed the theory of conditioned reflexes in animals. The Reds have found, Philbrick said, that "a man, like an animal, who is conditioned to respond to certain impulses, can be made to respond to words, phrases and symbols to which he will respond without thinking. And then you withhold other certain words which would cause him to respond in a way you may not desire. It is the scientific control of human beings by means of control of information." In their practice of cybernetics in America, the Communists are aided greatly by the fellow-travelers and the Communist-front dupes. And many loyal non-Communists aid them too, by being victimized by false information cunningly planted by the Red masters of the science.
