FROM RED PRISON-LANDS

Good people are slow to believe evil of others. This is a characteristic of Americans who have grown up in an atmosphere of freedom, neighborliness, family devotion and dedication to high Christian ideals. Especially is it difficult for church-going Americans to believe the horrible facts about Communism. The Communists know this and are pleased and aided by it. Herbert Philbrick, the courageous Massachusetts Sunday School teacher who worked with the Communist leaders nine years before revealing himself to be an FBI counterespionage, told me: "The average healthy American mind cannot conceive the evil in the unhealthy, twisted mind of a Communist."

In spite of powerful resistance from left wingers and dupes, a number of Congressional committees are continuing to expose to the America people the evils of Communism, how it is engulfing the world, and how it is threatening our own nation through thought-shaping propaganda and its network of spies and saboteurs.

Newest Report
 The House Committee on Communist Aggression has sent me its latest report (House Report No. 2650) on a series of interviews it has just concluded with non-Communists who have escaped from Communist-held nations. The following House members sat in on the interviews, conducted in Europe and America, and signed the report: Kersten (R. Wisc.), Busby (R. Ill.), Bonin (R. Pa.), Hillings (R. Cal.), Madden (D. Ind.), Machrowski (D. Mich.), Dodd (D. Conn.), and Feighan (D. Ohio).

"All who testified," the committee reported, "had one thing in common. They were eye-witnesses. They saw. They experienced. They were there. Most of them suffered the tortures of Communism. They came separately from the different nations enslaved by Communism but with fundamentally the same story: the anti-human nature of life under Communism. The basic conclusions from their cumulative testimony under oath cannot be questioned. It was a tragic parade of witnesses—people from another world, a dreadful world of mass murder, and anonymous graves, of concentration camps, torture prisons, slave labor camps, and ever present secret police, and hatred—hatred beyond the comprehension of us Americans."

Red Brutality

In nation after nation, as they look over, the Communists treated the people brutally. "As soon as the Communist-controlled Red army, infiltrated and dominated as it was by political commissars and elements of the NKVD, entered any area," the report said, "terror, robbery and violations of women and children became the order of the day. The people learned through bitter experience that the Communists would do whatever they wanted to do without regard for any laws, ethics or moral codes. The people also learned that any opposition . . . meant certain imprisonment or death."

Here's another fact about Communism which many Americans find hard to believe: "Mass deportations," our Congressman report, "are a prime Communist technique of destruction. They serve as a forerunner to a life of misery in a slave or forced labor camp. More than 15,000,000 people are detained in such camps in the U.S.S.R. itself. Human slavery is an integral part of the economy of the U.S.S.R. and it is organized on a more absolute, ruthless, and efficient basis than ever before known to mankind. Complete evidence and documentation in the form of maps, charts, and statistics covering this subject have been made a part of the committee's record."

Mass Murder

Another excerpt: "In 1943, after the Communists had been driven out of the Ukraine and that nation was under Nazi occupation, the people of Vinnitsa expressed their concern over the great number of people who previously, under the Communist occupation, had entered the NKVD headquarters. These people were never heard of again . . . this led to an investigation; a total of 38 mass graves were discovered containing the remains of over 10,000 farmers, artisans, workers, and intellectuals. . . . This terrible crime of mass murder has become known as the Vinnitsa Massacre. Estimates were given to the effect that more than 200,000 Ukrainians fell victims to this particular phase of Communist mass murder."

What can American citizens do for years I have been urging citizens to read reports of all Congressional committees exposing Communism. Read the reports and give your assistance to the loyal patriotic Americans who are working to develop this information vital to our security.

The Portland Oregonian describes the administration's partnership plan of hydro-electric power development as one which is designed "to encourage local investment for the self-liquidation power features of new dams, while the government continues to appropriate money to pay for the navigation, flood control and fisheries features which traditionally and throughout the nation, have been non-reimbursable." In other words, this plan—which has been widely misrepresented for political purposes—is strictly in the American tradition. Power production and distribution being purely commercial matters are to be undertaken and financed by private enterprise or local government. Non-commercial needs are to be provided by the federal government.

As a practical proposition the partnership idea is essential if we are to fully and properly develop our hydro resources. Congress will no longer appropriate virtually unlimited sums of money belonging to all the people in order to give a few favored areas subsidized electricity. The national debt is touching the legal ceiling of $275,000,000,000 and the budget is still far out of balance. Other agencies, private and public, must now help bear the heavy cost of turning water into electricity.

Miss Ginger Magill, who had surgery in a Fort Stockton hospital last week, has returned home and is recuperating satisfactorily. She will not return to San Antonio until the last of the week.

LIGHT'S DIAMOND JUBILEE

Celebrating the 75th Anniversary of Thomas A. Edison's Invention of the Incandescent Lamp

Down through the ages, Man has ever turned to Light—for vision, for protection, for communication.

But not until Thomas A. Edison perfected the incandescent lamp in October, 1879, did Man have a truly efficient and economical source of light.

Edison's historic invention ushered in the Golden Age of Light and Electrical Living. For Edison did more than invent the incandescent lamp. He built the first central station electric system and contributed many other electrical inventions that made possible the great power systems that serve Mankind today.

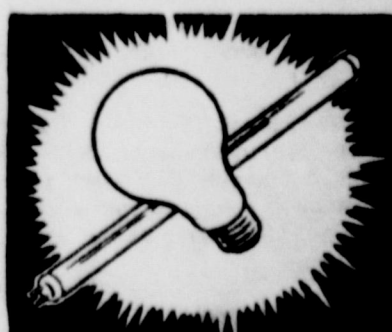

So, on Light's Diamond Jubilee, we are proud to join the nation in a salute to Thomas A. Edison. His genius has powered America's progress and brought better living to us all.

Gas light was known to America as early as 1816. By 1875, its efficiency had been increased by the gas mantle.

Thomas A. Edison's incandescent lamp—perfected on October 21, 1879—revolutionized lighting.

In 1911, the Mazda lamp was invented. Other improvements followed, such as inside frosted and fluorescent lamps.

Today light is only one of the many ways in which Electricity serves Mankind—in homes, farms, offices and industry.
