LISTEN TO LUKE

SanderSONites are real proud of TV talent from here.

Last Sunday we consented to let viewers of the El Paso area look-see at our local talent performed in that city.

L. (Stump) Duke and his two daughters, Doris Duke and Diana Duke, performed with a program of religious songs on a program which was hosted by Mr. Duke's brother, Stump Duke, by the way, is a candidate for mayor of that town in the Rio Grande.

It seems useless to attempt to list the merits of the Dukes' abilities as entertainers. Everyone in the area has known for years of their ability and willingness to put out a program. And it goes without saying, also, that they are associated performers.

El Paso viewers were loud in their praise for the splendid program and will be after them again.

Stump says it costs too much for him to go to El Paso as the Mrs. Duke manages to buy some-thing from all the talent in the family. I doubt it would be to rope her in on the singing then the viewers would enjoy the program and Stump could get her from getting to the next place.

All of SanderSON is proud of the Dukes' debut into TV and hope you have many encores as we feel sure you will always be a welcome in El Paso.

Long-Time Resident, Dan Ross, Dies In Dryden Wednesday

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Friday afternoon in the First Methodist Church at Sanderson for Dan J. Ross, retired Terrell County rancher, who died early Wednesday afternoon in the home of his son, Rufus Ross, at Dryden following a short illness.

Rev. J. J. Spurlin will officiate at the funeral services and burial will be made in Cedar Grove Cemetery. The O. T. Sudduth Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Born in Llano, Texas, Mr. Ross, who was in his early eighties, ranched in Edwards County before coming to Sanderson in 1910. He ranched in various sections of the county until failing health forced his retirement and he has made his home in recent years with his son at Dryden and with his children in Alpine.

He was married to Miss Nancy Burleson in Rocksprings in 1892 and she preceded him in death in 1941. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Besides his son, Rufus Ross, he is survived by another son, V. G. Ross of Alpine; three daughters, Mrs. R. C. St. Clair of Alpine, Mrs. S. E. Evans of Wilcox, Arizona, and Mrs. John Latta of Hurley, N. M.; also 7 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren. The Rosses lost a son in infancy and also their son, Arnett Ross, who died here in 1949.

"THIS NATION, UNDER GOD . . ."

At the time when our then new-born nation was taking its place among the older, stronger countries of the world, George Washington, as our first President, thus prayed in his inaugural address: "Almighty God . . . keep the United States in Thy holy protection."

America grew strong beyond his dreams, became the world leader of the fight to keep men free. And thus prayed in his inaugural, Dwight D. Eisenhower, our thirty-fourth President: "Almighty God . . . give us the power to discern clearly right from wrong, and allow all our words and actions to be governed thereby . . ."

Blessed be the land when its leaders put their faith and trust firmly in God and beseech His protection and guidance.

SHEEP MARKET PREDICTED FOR '55

College Station — A farm economist describes as "doubtful" the chances that sheep and lamb slaughter will exceed that of last year and predicts stronger prices in 1955.

Several factors may influence producers this year, says John G. McHaney, extension economist. Should range conditions improve, many lambs would go for restocking instead of being used to increase the supply of mutton.

The higher support price on wool may act as an incentive for producers to hold or increase herd numbers. This could happen even though wool provides only one-fourth to one-third of the total income in the sheep industry, McHaney adds.

The national average government support price on wool this year has been set at 62 cents a pound, grease basis. The average for market wool is expected to remain near 53 cents a pound.

Because of poor range conditions and last year's increased marketings, wool production is expected to decline slightly. World production, however, is predicted to rise roughly one per cent.

Consumer demand for lamb shows continuing signs of weakening, McHaney says. Americans are expected to eat approximately 4.1 pounds of mutton per capita in '55, less than 3 per cent of the total red meat consumed.

Graveside Services Thursday For Mrs. Feleclitas Lopez

Graveside services will be held here Thursday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock for Mrs. Feleclitas Lopez, 54, who died Tuesday afternoon in a Fort Stockton hospital following a short illness.

Burial will be in Santa Rita Cemetery with the O. T. Sudduth, Inc. Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Lopez, a native of Mexico, has been a resident of Sanderson for about 41 years.

Besides her husband, Roman Lopez, she is survived by five daughters: Gudelia Villegas, Carmen, Sarabia, Guadalupe Parada, Juanita Galvan and Miss Tome Yturbe, also one son, Alberto Yturbe, and twenty-two grandchildren.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR RANCHERS IS EXPLAINED

Social security for ranch families, how it works and what ranchers need to do about it, are explained in a booklet just issued under the joint sponsorship of the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration. It is now being mailed to every rural and star route boxholder in this area, it was announced today by Jack Calvert, district manager of the Odessa social security office.

This booklet is directed to the self-employed rancher, ranch employer, and ranch workers — approximately 5½ million in all — who were brought under social security on January 1.

The purpose of the publication is to acquaint them with their benefits and tax obligations under the old-age and survivor insurance program. The mailing to rural boxholders in this area is part of a nationwide distribution to the ranch people. Those ranchers who do not receive a copy through this mailing may obtain one from the District Director of Internal Revenue or from the Odessa social security office.

The booklet stresses the need for self-employed ranchers and hired ranch workers to apply for a social security account card if they do not already have one; it also points out to the ranch operator who employs workers that he should secure an agricultural identification number. Examples are given of the monthly benefit payments for themselves and their families toward which ranchers are now building under the old-age and survivors insurance program.

One section of the booklet is devoted to explanations of how and when a ranch operator must report his own and his workers' and ranch earnings. The ranch operator will report his earnings from self-employment on the same return on which he reports Federal income tax. He will pay self-employment tax for each taxable year ending after 1954 in which his net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more. If the ranch operator reports his income tax on a calendar year basis, his first report and payment of self-employment tax will be made for the calendar year 1955, and will be due on or before April 15, 1956.

If a ranch operator has a worker to whom he expects to pay at least $100 in cash wages during 1955, he is advised in the booklet to keep a record of the name, social security account number, and the amount of wages paid to the worker. The ranch employer, moreover, is advised that he should deduct two percent social security tax from all cash wages paid to each employee. As the employer, he must contribute an equal amount, report the wages, and pay the total social security tax of four percent to the District Director of Internal Revenue.

The booklet includes an application form which employers of ranch workers may send to the District Director in order to obtain further instructions, tax return forms, and an employer's identification number.

On Thursday, March 3, Mrs. R. D. Bell, of San Antonio, 1st vice president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be in Sanderson to conduct a school of P.-T.A. procedure and a school of parliamentary procedure. It is hoped that a large number may be enrolled in each class for credits which will be given through the local association.

Thursday evening at 7:30, the Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the high school auditorium. Mrs. Bell will be the guest speaker for the meeting and her subject will be "The Parent-Teacher Movement — An American Ideal."

L. M. Stanley Buys Interest in Store Here

L. M. Stanley of Balmorhea, a former resident, has bought the interest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Berry in the Sanderson Butane and Appliance and White Auto Store here. The combined businesses were owned by the Berrys and their son-in-law, W. A. (Bill) Moore of Fort Stockton.

Mr. Stanley will arrive in Sanderson the last of the week to assume active management of the business. He has handled butane and appliances in Balmorhea for the past three years, since moving from Sanderson.

Mrs. Stanley and their five children will join him here later, planning to reside in the quarters back of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry, who have been visiting relatives for the past month, arrived home Wednesday and have not announced their future plans. Their daughter, Mrs. Bill Moore, has been managing the business in their absence.

Times Begins 48th Year of Publication

The Sanderson Times celebrated its 48th birthday this week with the beginning of Volume 48 last week.

In simple arithmetic, that's only 2496 publications, if you don't count leap years — and also the fact that some editor in Times passed happened to be unable, by one cause or another, to publish a paper.

And in case you have been a subscriber to The Times for as many years, it represents a lot of reading, even if it only takes, took or has taken only minutes per publication.

And in case you're interested, it also accounts for a lot of thought, a lot of work — typing and typesetting, press feeding, folding and mailing out on the part of the many who have had the responsibility of keeping the subscribers off of their necks over the years.

Local Masons Hosts At Barbecue Supper

The local and visiting members of Sanderson Lodge AF&AM were hosts Tuesday night for a barbecue supper in observance of Washington's birthday. Families of the local Masons, members of the Order of Eastern Star and their families were guests.

Following the supper, which consisted of barbecue, salad, beans, cake, with tea and coffee, Rev. John W. Byrd spoke on the attributes of truth.

About 100 were present for the observance.

SENIORS TO HAVE SPAGHETTI SUPPER

The senior class of the Sanderson High School will have a spaghetti supper on Saturday, March 5, in the Band Hall. Serving will begin at 5:30 p. m. and the patronage of the public will be appreciated.

IT SAYS HERE:—

A reputation can be built overnight — but it takes a long time to develop character.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nessmith of Van Horn, former residents, visited here with friends Wednesday.

World Day of Prayer Service To Be In Local Baptist Church

The Women of the Baptist Church will be hostesses for the annual observance of the World Day of Prayer on Friday afternoon at 4:15.

The women of the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches will assist in presenting the program, which was planned at a meeting of the presidents of the three women's organizations last week.

Everyone in the community, regardless of church affiliation, is invited to attend the service.

A nursery will be provided for the small children.

This marks the 69th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer. There were 19,000 communities in the United States and 119 countries around the world observing the World Day of Prayer last year.

Stavley Boys Place At San Antonio Livestock Show

Charles and Bill Stavley won 4th, 7th and 12th places in the crossbred division when they entered five sheep in the San Antonio Livestock Show last week end.

C. H. Stavley accompanied his sons to the show.

The boys had lambs to place 2nd, 3rd and 4th in the junior cross-bred division of the local FFA show held in January.

Sanderson also took the B game with a 35-26 score with Darrell Cox hitting for eight points for the locals.

CORRECTION

One the front page of the section of The Times devoted to a clearance sale by O. T. Sudduth, Inc., in the contest rules, the first rule should read: "Any person may register as a contestant. Registration entitles contestant to 500 points or votes."

This is further clarified by Mr. Sudduth who states, that as many members of a family as wish may register as contestants, but the correction is intended to place the contest open to "persons" rather than "members", as is printed in the rules.

Responsibility of Schools

America is confronted today with a Communist-Socialist force which has as one of its primary tactical goals the undermining of young America's respect for our basic principles and institutions. For years, as this force has expanded its strength and effectiveness in nation after nation, I have been urging that American citizenship education be made a part of the educational program in every school and college in the nation, as the best defense against the Communist-Socialist plan to capture the minds of our youth.

During the preceding several weeks this column has discussed a number of splendid and encouraging developments in American citizenship education. Since the column series began, two top officials of one of the major textbook companies have visited with me and some of the faculty members of Harding College in Searcy, seeking suggestions for a series of school readers being prepared for grades four through eight. The readers will help to teach reading, and at the same time they will get across to the children some of the important facts about the great advantages of the American system and how the system works to provide these advantages.

Positive Teachings Needed

It is heartening to see these present activities in a number of textbook companies. Teachers in all parts of the country long ago noted the absence of adequate textbook material with which to teach the favorable facts about America and the responsibilities of American citizenship. They will welcome the new materials — if interested citizens will see to it that they are brought to the attention of the teachers and school board members.

This is positive education in Americanism — through textbooks featuring the positive advantages of citizenship under the American system. It is the kind of education we've desperately needed. A generation of youth armed with the true facts about our nation's freedom and its unmatched living standard will not be vulnerable to the subtle persuasions of the Communist-Socialist propagandist and their conscious or unwitting dupes.

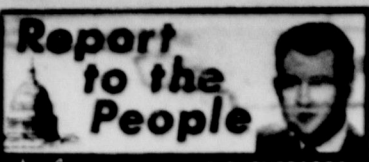

Reds Use Materials

For ten years the people of California have been conducting studies and investigations of various aspects of education in their state, including infiltration by the Communist-Socialist forces. A committee of the State Senate recently issued its eleventh report on education in California. The committee, composed of members of both political parties, published important warnings and recommendations which might well be brought to the attention of the public in all 48 states.

In our schools and public governmental activities there must be

OFT-TIMES when an increase in pay is mentioned, many people immediately wonder "how much will it cost us?"

When the mention of a pay raise for the member of the Armed Forces occurs, I immediately think "how much will it save us?"

If that sounds like reverse logic to you, then read on, as the top "brass" at the Pentagon has come up with some figures to lend support to my words.

The Pentagon officials say they can show with figures how we will save about two billion dollars this year — and possibly the same approximate amount each year — by voting a raise for members of the Armed Forces.

The reason? Listen to a statement made by Carter L. Burgess, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower. He says: "We have a million officers and enlisted men eligible for discharge this year and approximately three-fourths of them are expected to take their discharge papers."

Then he explains that, in dollars and cents, it would cost about two and one-half billion dollars to train replacements and it would cost only 760 million dollars to give career men their proposed pay increases.

Of course I realize — and I am sure Mr. Burgess does also, that the raise will not retain all of the men in the service and that many are getting out for other reasons.

Burgess says, for instance, that the hazards of jet-flying and service in the new atomic submarines is discouraging many men from staying in the Armed Forces. But he does think that an increase in compensation would lessen the anxiety of some of these career men.

Since I was an enlisted man during World War II, perhaps I often fall to give enough emphasis to "brass" or officers' section of the services but a serious situation is developing in this segment of the military. For instance, more officers quit the service this past year than were graduated from the combined senior classes of West Point and Annapolis.

Many of our men in the service feel that their pay has not only failed to keep up with the cost of living, but that their fringe benefits — which enticed many men to embark on military careers — are being gnawed away.

As I started out to say, the question in my mind is "how much will this increase in compensation save us?"

I feel that if it will save us the great amount of money listed by the Pentagon officials, it might also save our freedom.

COURAGE is a commodity that, at times, is hard to find. And many persons feel that some Congressmen couldn't dig deep enough to find courage to vote for the Congressional pay raise a few days ago. One story — known by me to be true — circulating on Capitol Hill gives fact to this line of thinking.

One Congressman known for his caustic, scathing speeches turned on the full force of his venom in attacking those who would increase the pay, on the floor of the House. Directing his public ire in particular at one proponent of the proposed increase, he thundered: "You should be ashamed to vote for this increase. It's an outrage to consider it," and so forth.

Shortly afterwards, during a recess, the Congressman who had been chastised was outside the Capitol talking to some friends when the Congressman "against" the increase came by.

The "agin-er" shook his fist in the face of the man he had so recently harangued on the floor and said: "Charlie, if you don't vote for this bill over my protest I'll never speak to you again."

IT LOOKS like everyone is speculating whether Senator Price Daniel will run for Governor of Texas in 1956.

As Jimmy Durante says, "Everybody's trying to get into the act." I don't profess to have any inside information, but here's my feeling on the situation: No doubt Senator Daniel had rather be Governor than U. S. Senator. I feel he realizes the present Attorney General will, in all likelihood, be a candidate also. And if the Attorney General — John Ben Shepperd — is a candidate, I believe Daniel feels he can beat him and will run. I further think Senator Daniel will enter the race on a basis of being "drafted" by both the conservative and liberal elements.

And I might even go one step further: If this situation comes to pass, I feel that Texas Congressman-At-Large Martin Dies will be a candidate for United States

O.K. there's my prediction. Who's next?

THE HAWAII - ALASKAN statehood bill finally chug-chugged out of the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee by a vote of 19 to 6. I was one of the six persons who felt that Alaska and Hawaii did not prove their respective cases before the Committee when asking for statehood.

But now that the Statehood Bill is out of Committee, the Interior and Insular Affairs group will be able to move into other fields.

A measure now up for consideration is a plan to stimulate the use of salt water, by means of conversion methods, for domestic use. Many bills, directly affecting water, irrigation and reclamation will be before the committee now.

AS OUR eWat Texas city fathers and police chiefs will tell you, operating a law enforcement business takes money. Recently the Chief of Washington's Metropolitan Police told the members of the Texas Delegation at a luncheon that his force is possibly the most expensive in the world (12-million dollars a year).

He pointed out that in addition to escorting diplomats, acting as special guards at appearances of the President and greeting visitors, his men must patrol picket lines around the White House and other government and diplomatic centers at many times. While the police do not interfere with the pickets, they are on hand to prevent untoward incidents as often opposing pickets will be mixed in the same line.

The most expensive picket line? The chief says, it cost about $10,000 in overtime and equipment expense and salaries to watch picket lines around the White House during the display following the conviction and death sentence of the Rosenbergs, the infamous atomic secret spies.

Mrs. H. E. Ezelle Discusses Textiles or Culture Club

The Sanderson Culture Club met at the home of Mrs. John Reinhardt Thursday afternoon with Mrs. R. A. Gatlin serving as co-chairman.

The members of committees for the year, scheduled for April, were announced. Announcement was made of study classes to be sponsored by the P-T-A. on March 3. Mrs. R. A. Gatlin, chairman of the yearbook committee, submitted several subjects for the 1955-56 programs and members chose the subject: "Book Discussions," the books recommended to cover the different departments of the club. SMILE OF TRIUMPH

A RADIANT SMILE OF TRIUMPH spreads across the happy face of Manuel Greigo as he tries out his new artificial limbs at the Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children at Dallas. The 13-year-old San Antonio boy lost both legs in a rock quarry accident last year and doctors were dubious whether Manuel could wear artificial limbs, since the amputations were almost at the hip line. Another great triumph was scored last week at the hospital when the homeless boy found he could walk again. At the left, Manuel is shown as he entered the Masonic-sponsored hospital last September and being received by Mrs. Alma Power, superintendent. At the right he wears a proud smile for John McKee, president, and Asher Mintz, secretary of the Scottish Rite Hospital.

THE KERR MERCANTILE CO.

By VEEN SANFORD

Austin — Veterans land sale scandals overshadowed lawmaking in both branches of the Legislature for another week.

Investigations spread still wider. Involved were three departments of the state, both chambers of the Legislature, grand juries of Travis, Bexar, DeWitt Counties and probably others.

More of the approximately 80 "block deals" were brought before investigators.

Mike Rowan, a former executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board, testified that several legislators had exerted "unusual influence" to push veterans' applications through.

He named Senators Doyle Willis of Fort Worth and Warren McDonald of Tyler and Representative Douglas Bergman of Dallas. Rowan said it was "unfair" but he couldn't remember names of others.

Dennis Wallace, longtime chief clerk of the Land Office, reported that his name had been "signed" by someone else, to minutes of the Veterans' Land Board.

So far Atty. Gen. Shepperd has filed nine suits for forfeiture of block sales and recovery of a total of $1,539,505 to the state.

Tax Slow Down
With land sales taking legislative precedence, taxes, the Legislature's big problem, have taken a back seat.

Rep. Jerry Sadler sharply reminded the House revenue and taxation committee that the session was one-third over and no revenue bills had been reviewed or acted upon. He demanded an "immediate" hearing on his bill for a $3.30 per barrel hike on beer tax.

Rep. Charles J. Kirkham of Cleburne offered a new tax plan — a "road use" tax as a substitute for the administration's two-cent gasoline tax hike proposal. So far the tax hasn't been heard by the committee.

Kirkham's plan would levy a $5 fee on commercial motor vehicles, plus a graduated tax scale based on gross weight, ranging from six mills to 22 mills, all estimated revenue to go to highway purposes.

Water Bills, Too
Favorable report has been given by a Senate committee to the administration's $100 million state bond issue plan for aid to water districts. Rival measures for the same amount of bonds have been put in House sub-committee.

Passed by the Senate were two of the water bills, regulating pollution from oil wells, and requiring (Continued on Page 4)

Dear Boss Lady..

Let's look at my TIME CLOCK

My "TIME CLOCK" is your electric meter. It's as accurate as a jeweled watch. In fact, its bearings are tiny jewels. My company spends large sums of money for these meters, which are among the most accurate of all measuring devices, just to make sure you don't have to pay one cent more than I earn.

Yes, ma'am, my "time clock" registers every second I work, and it stops the second you turn off the switch. There's no loafing in my book. You KNOW my wages are for services DELIVERED.

So the next time you look over my "time card" (electric service bill) think of all the appliances you've given me to operate and the hours I worked doing it. And, best of all, there's no guesswork—you KNOW it's a bill for VALUE RECEIVED!
