US 90 PLANNED AS SUPER HIGHWAY IN NATIONAL NETWORK OF ARTERIES

US 90 from Houston to the merger of US 80 and 90 at Van Horn is a part of the super highway network planned for the nation, according to word received this week. Other designations are US 66 across the Texas Panhandle, US 80 from Shreveport to El Paso, and Highways 27 and 290 from Orange via Houston, San Antonio to the intersection of US 80 and 90.

The north-south routes are the Laredo-San Antonio-Austin-Waco route to Fort Worth and Dallas, and the Houston to Fort Worth-Dallas route, thence north to Oklahoma City.

The San Antonio to Davis Mountain segment is designated in advance planning as a two-lane route, but is expected to be of highest construction standards to permit quick movement of materials or manpower in the event of an emergency.

The strategic interstate network is the major project planned under the 33-billion federal program passed last month by Congress but there also will be increased federal aid for the states in their other highway work and in farm-to-market roads.

The big federal program costs money, of course, and the immediate effect was the new taxes effective on July 1.

Federal gasoline taxes increased from 2 to 3 cents per gallon, reflected in retail prices. Taxes on tires increased 3 cents per pound, which is estimated at a 60 per cent hike in the federal levy on new tires and re-treads.

It was revealed that a 300-foot right of way would be required of the road.

Traffic is expected to increase over US 90 with the completion of the Pecos River Bridge sometime early in 1957, and the standards of a super highway will be such as to draw additional traffic on the all-weather scenic route that is US 90.

Appeal Made For Supplies Needed By TB Sanatorium

The response to the call for supplies to be sent to the McKnight Tuberculosis Sanatorium by the American Legion Auxiliary has been only fair.

A large box has been placed in The Times office for the articles to be collected and they will be shipped free of charge by a motor freight line.

The needs for the rehabilitation classes in the sanatorium include Spanish books, and magazines, mens sports magazines, books for the library, quilt scraps, needles, thread, maps large enough to be displayed. Hospital patients need include double-edge razor blades, dominoes, cards and toilet articles.

Anyone having any of the above articles to contribute may bring them to The Times office or call a member of the Legion Auxiliary to pick them up. The Auxiliary members will appreciate any contributions to the box and Mrs. S. L. Stunberg, Auxiliary president, stated that she hoped a large collection of the needed articles will be sent.

Braves To Play In Marfa Sunday

The proud Sanderson Braves will be engaged in battle with one of the strongest teams of this season's play when they meet Marfa there Sunday afternoon.

The Braves have won ten games and have only lost two up to now, but feel that they will have their hands full with the Marfa aggregation.

Marfa will play a return game here on August 12, according to Julian Perez, business manager of the Braves.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS HERE FOR WEDDING

Among the out-of-town relatives here for the wedding were the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. John M. Bass, his aunt, Mrs. Walter Reiffert, his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran, and two daughters, all of Cuero; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Lester, Sr., of Carrizo Springs; his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Lester, Jr., and daughter, Ann of Houston; the bride's two great-aunts, Mrs. Jim Fuller and Mrs. T. G. Fuller of Hemphill; Mr. and Mrs. Wood Spears and children, Tommy and Roy Spears of Lufkin; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dean and daughter, Dee Ann, and Sidney of Brady; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spears and children, Patricia and Stephen of San Antonio, uncles, aunts, and cousins of the bride.

MRS. STEGALL RESIGNS AS ASC SECRETARY

F. M. Wood announced this week that he had received a letter of resignation from Mrs. R. G. Stegall, secretary for the ASC office, effective Monday of this week.

Mrs. Carlos Dunn, who has been working temporarily in the office during Mrs. Stegall's illness, has been employed to fill the vacancy.

RECORD VOTE CAST BY ABSENTEES

Indications are that the voting in Saturday's primary will be a record percentage wise, judging by the number of absentee ballots cast in Terrell County.

Ruel Adams, county clerk, stated Wednesday that 212 absentee ballots had been either mailed out or voted locally and, of the total, 197 had been returned to date.

All absentee ballots which come through the mails must be post-marked July 24 or before to be counted in the primary.

Wool Growers Urged To Report Marketing Costs

Growers who file applications for wool payments must report all marketing costs incurred in the marketing of their wool, Roy Deaton, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee reminded growers. The report should include those marketing costs which do not appear on the accounts of sale submitted to the County ASC office.

Mr. Deaton explained that some wool growers have in fact paid for certain marketing costs such as grading, handling, and freight, in addition to those marketing costs which appear on the sales documents submitted in support of their applications for shorn wool payments.

The wool payments, however, are based on the total dollar returns growers receive for their wool after deducting all marketing costs incurred in the marketing of their wool, regardless of whether such costs appear on the sales documents submitted in support of their applications.

The Chairman points out that any willful attempt to influence the amount of the grower's payment—by either the producer, his marketing agency, or the buyer—in reporting larger net proceeds than the grower actually realized after deducting all marketing charges subjects the people involved to severe penalties.

Inconvenience and delay in making the wool payments may be avoided if growers will report all marketing costs when they file their applications for payments.

Electric Scoreboard Fund Drive Begun

A drive is being initiated by local football fans to raise funds for buying an electric scoreboard and clock for the football field. If the drive is successful, plans are to have the clock in use for the coming season.

According to Supt. Matt Bader, the cost of the clock and scoreboard would amount to $750.

"This low cost is possible because the clock pack and other parts from the basketball scoreboard in the gymnasium can be used on the football scoreboard," Bader stated.

A planning committee representing the various service clubs of the town has been appointed to make plans for a drive for funds. The committee has decided to stage a baseball game August 5 between the Sanderson Braves and a team composed of "oldtimers" or "has-beens" as a means for raising funds. It was decided to combine an advance ticket sale for the game with a drive for donations.

Student tickets will sell for 50c and adult tickets for $1. Anyone wishing to donate money in addition to purchasing a ticket may do so by giving the donation to the ticket seller. Members of service clubs will begin the sale of tickets and receive donations on Saturday. Several of the business houses will also have tickets available for purchase.

A team of "old timers" for the game is being recruited by W. W. Sudduth and a complete roster of players will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

It was pointed out that the local high school is the only school in this area that does not have an electric scoreboard and clock. The clock and scoreboard should add much to the enjoyment of play by the fans as well as being beneficial to the players of the participating teams.

ATTENTION TO LUKE

Voters have their own and scales to evaluate the and merits of individual for public office — but voters are unable to name candidates until they see them ballot. That lack of information mean a vote for the candidate because the voter to familiarize himself issues at hand.

We print a letter from a who has his ideas about dates for state offices. A. Smith has been interested in the election of these candidates to the extent that he has money in their behalf. This column can consistently endorse both the men men. Mr. Smith and we feel his expenditure of time will be rewarded in the of having done his community a real service.

Our column in the Sanderson under date of July 20, mentioned two candidates for whom I know and am ardently endorsing.

One of them, Will Wilson, is a candidate for the office of Attorney General, and he is eminently qualified, having served as District Attorney General for the State of Texas before his election to the Supreme Court of Texas.

He is asked about corruption in government, Wilson replied: "I am not 'Do we have corruption in government? The one among candidates for Attorney General is — Who is qualified to clean it up?'"

Assistant Attorney General under Gerald Mann and Sellers, Wilson successful. He handled cases involving millions for Texas school children. Wilson was born in Dallas, graduated from S.M.U. with the top record in his class, served in World War II throughout the South and was decorated for gallantry behind Japanese lines.

Another candidate I am endorsing is Judge James R. Norvell, a candidate for Place No. 1 on the Supreme Court of Texas. Norvell, who is 53 years old, had 13 years experience as a trial lawyer, and has served on the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals for the past 16 years.

During the time he has been in the courts he has written 677 opinions, only 25 reversals and 4 errors, an outstanding and unprecedented record of industry and accuracy. He is a member of the legal profession and has a preference for the judicial experience, integrity and honesty to be a great credit to the highest tribunal, and I believe that intelligent service in the courts merits promotion. Know of a better way to constitute and statutes interpreted.

— A. Smith.

Education in American Citizenship

Great principles do not survive merely because they are right, or because they have been painstakingly legislated. Unless an understanding of the great principles of the American way of life, their rightness and their priceless advantages is implanted in the minds and hearts of each new generation our nation one day will falter and start down the road toward human slavery and ultimate destruction.

For 17 of those 20 years the National Education Program has been producing educational materials and developing educational techniques designed to bring about a better understanding of our American system, its comparative advantages, how these advantages are created, and how each individual must assume certain obligations of citizenship—a program of positive education for our adult population as well as the school and college youth of America.

There has just been completed in our National Program workshops a series of 13 educational motion pictures under the title, "The American Adventure." They are unique; there is nothing quite like them. The series was produced for use in schools and colleges, on television, in industrial training programs in the services, and for discussion groups in various other areas. From start to finish the films teach, in a dramatic and fascinating way, the basic facts which every American, old and young, should know to uphold the urgent citizenship responsibilities of people living in freedom. For use with each film a teacher's or discussion leader's guide has been prepared.

The response of people who have seen these films is one of the most encouraging experiences I've had in many years of educational work. Previews have been held for governmental leaders in Washington, for educators, business and industry executives, for agricultural and industrial employee groups, and for educational specialists in the armed services. Almost without exception, the previewers have said "Every American must see these films and absorb their great lessons!"

"The American Adventure series begins with a film dramatizing the founding of the American private ownership economic system at Plymouth Colony after a period of failure with a communal or collectivist system. The second lesson visualizes the creation of the two greatest governmental documents, the Declaration of Independence and the United States Constitution. No. 3 in the series spikes the fallacy mouthed by Socialists and Communists, that "the American way of life" is an abstract term, and cannot be defined. This film shows the building of the structure of the American way of life, the foundations and the political and economic rights.

Film No. 4 takes the viewer back into ancient history, tracing the rise and fall of the great civilizations of the past, and showing that certain factors were common in their failures—especially political, economic and moral decay. With film No. 5 the series begins a presentation of the philosophy and practical workings of first Socialism, then Communism and Capitalism. There is a film on each. The interrelationship of Communism and Socialism is spotlighted.

America's distribution of wealth which is the subject of much false left-wing propaganda is studied in film No. 8. A woman with considerable experience in the New York school system saw this film and exclaimed, "I've learned things that change some long-held no-

Mrs. H. E. Fletcher Feted on Birthday

Several friends gathered in the back yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. McKenzie Monday evening to honor Mrs. H. E. Fletcher on her birthday.

Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake, and cookies were served. The table, covered in a hand-crocheted cloth, had a centerpiece of roses, gladiolus and carnations.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Cresswell, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carruthers, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Talbot, Mrs. Burt Bell, Alfred Bendele, Mrs. Ida Bodkin, Mrs. Annie Krauss, Pinky Carruthers, Jack Talbot, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fletcher.

lions of mine!" Film No. 9 dramatizes the true life story of a young couple who overcame circumstances and hardships to win success in a highly competitive business field. "The Secret of American Production" is set forth in No. 10. The widespread benefits of the profit system are graphically examined in Film No. 11.

The vitally important subject of economic security is carefully studied in Film No. 12. The relation of security to personal freedom prompts a lively discussion among the college-age students participating in this film. The final film of the series is devoted to the outlining and discussion of "The Responsibilities of American Citizenship." A challenging eight-point list of specifics is offered.

Saturday is voting day in Texas. It's the Democratic Party that will be the biggest voting force in Texas history. Paid pollsters estimate that a record 2,410,188 people will mark their ballots on Saturday. Some are Republicans, some vote in a Democratic Party and some Democrats.

Since the Ferguson Era more than 80 per cent of the voters turned out in a general election. The biggest vote ever cast in the state was in the 1952 election. This was an 87 per cent turnout. Highest primary turnout was the August 1954 election with 71,458,220 voters.

and they are dependable votes. However, the five major cities have between them nearly a million eligible voters. In this big city market, labor claims a 450,000 to 500,000 "sphere of influence" vote. — But admitted it couldn't deliver that many in a bloc to anyone.

Another big question mark is how much voters will be influenced by the three segregation-related referendum issues.

How to Vote on Referendums
A check of voters who cast absentee ballots reveals much confusion about how to vote properly on the three referendums.

Robert Cargill, chairman of the Texas Referendum Committee, puts it simply, in these words: "If you are opposed to mixed schools, mixed marriages and illegal federal interference, vote FOR all of the propositions."

Due to the wording of the referendums, it is necessary for one to vote FOR the measures if he is AGAINST the subjects that each covers.

For example, the first proposition reads "FOR (or against) specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and negroes.

Proposition number two reads "FOR (or against) specific legislation perfecting state laws against intermarriage between white persons and negroes."

Third proposition says "FOR (or against) the use of interposition to halt illegal Federal encroachment."

The use of double-negatives is most confusing.

Voters also should remember that they may split their votes on the referendums, if they wish. For example, if a voter were opposed to mixed marriages and illegal federal interference, but not opposed to mixed schools, he would vote FOR the two propositions and AGAINST the latter.

Research League Helps Texas

In contrast with the campaign furor, the Texas Research League works quietly. Their aim is better state government. Election winners, whoever they are, likely will have cause to use the league's exhaustive fact-finding survey.

Only three years old, TRL already has provided Texas taxpayers with nearly a million dollars worth of services. All for free. Big businessmen are footing the bill.

Behind the organization and financing of the league are nearly 500 business and professional leaders. Their names constitute a Texas "Who's Who". These men, with a bigger than average stake in Texas' future, felt their billion-dollar-a-year state government should have the benefit of the same type of efficiency expert techniques that aid private enterprise.

non-political, educational corporation. It is prohibited by its charter from lobbying for the adoption of any of its recommendations. It can undertake a survey only at the request of the department concerned.

Apparently these restrictions have not hampered its effectiveness. While its analyses may turn up faults and criticisms, state agencies are standing in line for its services. Recommendations from surveys made so far have resulted in far-reaching administrative and legislative changes.

Agencies now working toward league-suggested goals include the state hospital system, University of Texas, and the public school financing (Gilmer-Aikin) program.

A State Library Commission survey is to be ready in about two weeks. Reports on the Department of Public Safety and Board of Control are to be completed by the end of summer. A mammoth State Highway Department analysis is due for release in September.

Slated for beginning in 1956 are studies of the Department of Public Welfare and the Youth Development Council.

Shepherd Urges Action

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd has urged the House Investigating Committee to conduct full on-the-ground hearings to uncover election frauds in Duval and surrounding counties.

Shepherd's comment on the situation came as the result of a wire Rep. Wade Spilman, chairman of the committee, sent to C. B. Dick of Laredo. Dick had requested an investigation of absentee voting practices in Webb, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Duval and Starr Counties.

In a wire to Spilman, Shepherd cited a group of bills introduced in the last legislature, at the request of his office, and the Texas Press Association. The measures, he pointed out, would eliminate such situations as now exist in the South Texas area.

All the bills, Shepherd said, failed to win legislative approval.

"Since 1953, we have tried to interest legislative agencies in the cleanup of Duval, and your committee will discover, as we did, that the same thing that happened there can happen in any county where a political boss can control election officials and machinery and the judicial processes," Shepherd said.

The bills to which he referred would open meetings of public agencies, allow full inspection of public records, protect reporters' sources of information, require an audit upon proper petition by taxpayers, provide punishment for false reporting of official finances or theft of public funds or records, and give venue in adjoining counties in case of theft of public funds.

More Drought Aid Sought

A committee of 175 Texas agricultural leaders, called together by Ag. Comm. John C. White, is working for two-way expansion of federal drought assistance.

Goals include a six-point credit and direct subsidies of $10 a ton or buying hay and other roughage.

County Judge W. S. Pickett of Karnes County heads an 11-member group designated to push the program.

Right-of-Way Buying Urged

Getting the "right of way" is the only major obstacle likely to delay the federal highway building program in Texas.

Enough road building equipment now is on hand to double the present work capacity within two years, said members of the Texas Highway Branch of Associated General Contractors.

Cities and counties which can do so were urged to buy up roadway immediately.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, has been chosen to receive the 1956 A. Harbottle & Co. Texas Award, presented annually to the Texan who has contributed significantly to the advancement of American life. Presentation will be made August 4 in Dallas.

Thirty-nine new industries were established in Texas during the first quarter of 1956, announced the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. In addition, 71 companies expanded.

Texas savings and loan companies have made fewer loans, and for less money, in 1956. Total loans dropped 10 per cent in number, and 13 per cent in value, from 1955, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock.

Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools has voted to ask the next legislature for a $14 million increase in its 1957-59 budget. Total amount sought is $40,808,816.

From where I sit... by Joe Miller
Confused "Sit"-up
Been meaning all week to tell you about Curley Lawson's "baby-sitting" experience.
His Mrs. left him in charge, about seven p.m., with instructions not to let the children come downstairs. So Curley read his paper and whenever he heard footsteps on the staircase he ordered the culprit back to bed. Happened three or four times.
Little while later, Mrs. Miller from next door came over to inquire if Curley had seen her sonny. "Here I am, Mom" came a voice from upstairs, "But Mr. Lawson won't let me see him."
From where I sit, conclusions like that doesn't always make for an interesting story. I'm reminded of people who—without deliberation—have concluded that wrong to like an occasional beer. Well, to my regret, but, what's more, "ain't no other fellow's business but an American way."
