TWO LANDMARKS HERE BEING RAZED

Two landmarks of Sanderson are being razed this week two old adobe houses on the corner of Oak Street (main street) and Persimmon. The buildings are on the northwest side of the intersection of the two streets.

Unofficial sources report the probable construction of a large service station on the corner en

LIGHT SHOWERS

Light showers fell Tuesday night and put approximately .2 inches of rain in some of the rain gauges in town. The showers were reported to be light to nothing in he northeastern part of Sanderon and did not cover much area. Stars were visible during the ight shower.

A light sprinkle also fell Wednesday morning about 6:20. Ranges of the county like those over all of Texas are dried and burned with little or no feed for existing livestock. Many ranchmen of the county and of this area are selling off heir lambs to lighten the burden of the feed load which in many cases is still being carried on. Lamb buyers are busy taking up orders from stockmen and the price is ranging in the 15c vicinity according to reports. Ranchmen have cut their herds down to a bare minimum and reports are that others have sold off

Bill Nunn Retires As T&NO Engineer

W. A. (Bill) Nunn, 67-year-old engineer, made his last run back 212 to El Paso before retirement on Tuesday.

> Nunn was born in Louisiana and came to Texas in 1912. He brok n firing here at that time and remained in Sanderson until he was promoted to engineer in 1917 and moved to El Paso. In 1937 he re turned to Sanderson as regula freight engineer. He went back El Paso in 1942 and was assigne to a passenger run in 1945.

Except for one year of servic as a diesel instructor, Mr. Nun has continued on that assignmen! until his retirement this week.

The retirng engineer has many frends in Sanderson and enjoys his association here with old friends. He has no hobbies other than a good ffiendly game of dominoes. His future plans are taking life easy.

He plans a trip soon to Hawa and intends to stay about a month Nunn stated that his only regret at retirement was the separation from close contact with so many of his co-workers and associates over the years.Railrond employees here presented M Nunn with a beautiful set of lug gage as he started his last trip to L. Install OUTDOOR LIGHTING Now!

With outdoor lighting, you can avoid working in the hot sun . . . do your yard work when you have more free time. In large areas where chores like mowing are done regularly, permanent outdoor floodlighting is recommended. For close seeing jobs, like weeding, portable units put the right light where you need it. Stop by our office today for your copy of the free folder, "Light for Outdoor Living." It shows types of equipment available for lighting your garden, yard and patio.

A mushroom reflector unit like this puts plenty of light on your work. Equipped with a ground spike, it is easily moved from place to place.

A crew of workmen for Precinct 1 began work this week on a long-needed project in front of the high school building.

The culvert that runs the fu. length of the block in front of the school was covered down to the entrance of the gymnasium and from there to the corner was left uncovered. The uncovered portion, about four feet wide by about three feet deep, created a hazard those entering or leaving the Gene. Mrs. D. O. Bosworth is the gymnasium after dark.

The county workmen are cover ing the culvert the remainder of the distance to the east end.

A street light will also be plac ed in the middle of the block on the high school side of the street just west of the gymnasium entrance, thus affording more light for patrons and students who go to school functions in the gym.
