Completion Near On West Wing At Turner Courts

Work is nearing completion on the construction of additional units at the Turner Courts east of town. The car ports on the west wing at the courts are being enclosed to make more units available for the traveling public.

The units previously consisted of alternate rooms and car ports for two cars.

An awning is being built over the front of the length of the west wing for protection for cars and visitors during inclement weather.

The boiler for heating and the air conditioning units on the east wing at the Western Hills Motel have been installed and those units are also available for travelers. There are sixteen units at the courts owned by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Weigand.

The swimming pool at the Western Hills Motel is in operation for the pleasure of the traveling public who stop at that place.

Signs advertising the motel have been erected east and west of town to attract the attention of tourists. They are trapezoidal in shape, with a diving girl superimposed in the upper left hand corner of the sign.

Employers Who Give Hot Checks to Help Now Are Liable

Austin — An amendment to the Texas "hot check" law that makes employers liable for paying their employees checks that "bounce" has been signed into law by Gov. Price Daniel.

Charles T. Lux, executive vice-president of the Retail Merchants Association of Texas, said the new amendment closes a loophole in the "hot check" law. "Until this amendment was signed, a retail business or any other place of business that accepted worthless checks presented in good faith by workers had practically no legal recourse to recover its loss," Lux said.

"Now under the new amendment, employers who give checks that prove to be 'hot' are subject to criminal prosecution and may be fined up to $2,000 and sent to jail for 30 days if the amount involved is less than $50. If the amount of the worthless check is more than $50, then the penalty is from two to 10 years in prison and a fine up to $10,000."

Lux said there were several hundred cases in Texas last year where employers paid off their workers with worthless checks causing the places that cashed these checks to lose many thousands of dollars.

Prosecution of these cases under the Texas "hot check" law was difficult because provisions did not cover checks given as wages or salaries for services.

Lux said the new amendment was endorsed and supported by the Retail Merchants Association.

MORE RAIN COMES TO LOCAL AREA

More rain fell in Sanderson last week-end with rains reported also east and northeast of here in more sizeable quantities.

Only 24-inch was reported in the Kerr Mercantile Co. gauge for local precipitation. The moisture fell Thursday morning in two showers and a slight trace fell on Wednesday morning.

The Dryden area reported more than 1-inch of rainfall on Thursday with light hail. North of Dryden gauges showed up to 2 inches in some places.

A 7-inch rain was reported in the Roark country southwest of Sanderson last week with the J. Garner ranch receiving near 1 inch of moisture.

Skies have been heavily overcast since last week with heavy humidity, but no local rains since Thursday.

Keith Mitchell reported ½-inch of rain Friday night of last week and said it was the fifth straight week-end that he had received a good rain.

Two light showers fell in Sanderson Tuesday, one in the early afternoon and another before dark, leaving only traces of moisture in the rain gauge. The cloud which came up early in the afternoon came from the west and went south of Sanderson with light showers reported west. The late afternoon cloud came from the east and indications were that heavier showers were falling north and northeast of town.

A third shower fell early Wednesday morning, wetting the pavement in town.

There was considerable cloudiness Wednesday morning with heaviest clouds hanging in the west and northwest.

They visited places of scenic and historic interest in and near Corpus Christi and spent one day on Padre Island. They were also entertained by civic and youth groups of that city.

The class made the trip in one of the school buses, leaving early Monday morning.

LOCAL YOUTH SHOT IN LEG IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Julian Rodriguez received a bullet wound in his leg last week in a freak accident. With his cousin, Willie Pena, the two boys were practicing shooting at the range used for turkey shoots east of town. As they were walking along a path, the 22-caliber pistol carried by Pena was accidentally discharged and the bullet struck a rock, ricocheting and striking Rodriguez in the calf of the leg.

Rodriguez was walking behind his cousin, according to the boys. The leg was placed in a cast after the larger part of the bullet had been removed by a local physician.

Rodriguez is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Rodriguez.

Mrs. John Trotter of Houston is visiting here with friends.

Construction of 12.878 Miles On R.M. 2400 Planned

James W. Whitson, resident engineer of the State Highway Department of Fort Stockton, revealed plans this week of that organization's intentions to supervise construction of 12.787 miles of grading, structures, base and surfacing on R.M. 2400, from the intersection of that road with U. S. 285.

The road is more familiarly known as the Sheffield road and the intersection is approximately 15 miles north of Sanderson.

The beginning of the project and the first six miles of the road are in Pecos County and have been recently been surfaced for the six miles within Pecos County.

The new work, according to Whitson, will begin sometime around the first of July, and will include reconstruction of the present surfaced portion and an additional distance of approximately 6½ miles.

The library at the First Baptist Church will be open this summer to the public, according to an announcement made last week by the Baptist Woman's Union.

The library will be open from 4 to 5 each afternoon and a charge of 50c will be made to those who desire to use the facilities during the summer months.

The library includes fiction, historic and reference books, plus some of the classics.

The public is urged to make use of the books and is invited to come in and look over the selection.

Mrs. Sue B. Moseley On Educational Tour

Mrs. Sue B. Moseley of Sanderson will participate in a 15-day educational tour of Mexico this summer. The tour is being sponsored by the International Society for Business Education and North Texas State College.

Conducted as part of the centennial celebration for business education in June, the tour will be directed by Dr. Ruth I. Anderson, professor of business administration at NTSC.

The 38 students and teachers registered will leave Dallas June 22 by chartered bus immediately after the closing luncheon of the United Business Education Association centennial convention.

The itinerary will include tours through business and educational institutions. The work will carry three semester hours' graduate credit.

The group will go by way of Laredo to Monterrey and Mexico City, with side trips to Cuernavaca, Taxco, and Acapulco. Students will return by way of Ciudad de Valles, Matamoros and Brownsville.

Mrs. Moseley will leave about June 15 for Grand Prairie to visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Winston and baby for a few days before going to Dallas. After the educational tour, she will vacation in Florida.

WILLIE BANNER PLANS ALL-STAR GAME TRIP

Willie Banner is making plans to take his wife to St. Louis in July to attend the baseball all-star game to be played in Busch Stadium.

Banner got two complimentary tickets to the all-star game last week from an old friend and he says they won't be wasted.

Banner, who now ranches in the eastern part of the county, is an ardent baseball fan, an old-timer as a player, and will still pitch four or five innings if you will give him a few warm-up tosses.

"We Were Amazed"

Says CAR LIFE, The Family Auto Magazine

We were amazed as we drove the Special four-door hardtop, to find that an automobile could be completely changed yet retain so much of its former appearance and character. The 1957 models have all the familiar, solid Buick virtues.

The above brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

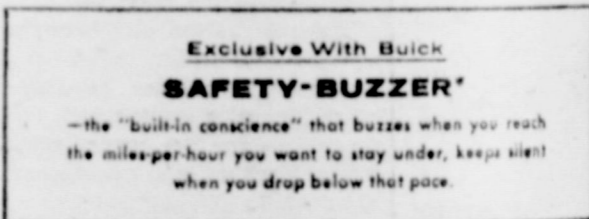

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflo, a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

3. A state plan for buying water storage space in federal reservoirs. A constitutional amendment to do this died in the past session. Since amendments cannot be considered in a special session, the governor said he is working on a statutory plan — possibly the creation of a statewide water district with authority to issue bonds and levy taxes.
Action on "other matters that may arise" after the Travis County grand jury reports. Jury is looking into any irregularities that might have caused the ICT Insurance Co. collapse and alleged payoffs to legislators by the Texas Naturopathic Association.
So instead of the usual post-session bill, the Capitol faces a summer of suspense followed by a frenzied fall.
NEW JURY AT WORK
Texas has generated more troubles than one grand jury can see to in two months. Hence, a brand new Travis County jury begins this week where the old one left off after digging away all during April and May.
Its study of ICT's past and naturopathic legislation will probably last all summer.
A Dallas grand jury already has indicted Ben Jack Cage, one-time ICT manager, on charges of theft and embezzlement. Authorities are trying to get him returned from South America so he can be tried.
Who, What, Where and When?
Texas' off-again, on-again Insurance Commission is still a prime source of speculation.
Past legislature passed laws abolishing the old board and enabling the governor to appoint new members. It also directed the commission to move within three years from its leased office quarters into a building to be erected with insurance tax revenue. And it passed dozens of new restrictive insurance laws for the new commission to administer.
Old board members Mark Wentz and John Osorio promptly resigned. But Gov. Daniel refused to accept their resignations. He said they'd have to stay on until their successors were named.
Then Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled the insurance tax revenue couldn't be used for a new building. It goes into the general fund and is already earmarked for other things, he pointed out.
And, until the new commission gets going, insurance men over the state are uncertain as to how to comply in detail with some of the new laws.
Ethics Quandary
Just who should do what to comply with the new code of ethics is still being discussed in the Capitol.
Some 163 legislators and state officials have given the secretary of state statements about their connections with businesses under state regulation. Assets ranged from Cuban oil companies to small town dog goods stores.
Secretary of State Zollie Steakley said failure to file such a statement could be grounds for removal from office, but that he didn't have authority to enforce it.

Gov. Daniel said he saw no need for this filing, since the constitution prohibits a governor's serving as officer or director of a corporation under state regulation. But, he suggested the secretary of state might ask for an attorney general's ruling to clear up other points about the law.
Bonds Go Begging
First sale of the second $100,000,000 issue of Texas veterans land program bonds attracted no takers.
In today's "tight money" market, the constitutionally-prescribed 3 per cent interest doesn't lure buyers, said Land Commissioner Earl Rudder.
He said the bonds would not be offered again until conditions improve.
Crops Lag
After years of longing for water, most Texas farmers now are trying to "recover" from the rain. State Agricultural Commissioner John C. White estimates flood damage to crops at $50,000,000 or more. Cotton planting deadlines had to be extended by the state office because farmers were delayed in plowing their wet fields. Even so, some crop loss was foreseen from inability to plant.
In some areas of North Texas small grains were reported hurt by too much water. But dryland cotton farmers in South Texas said they could use a little more moisture.
Texas has already received more rain in the first five months of 1957 than in the entire year of 1956. Sample totals for '57: Dallas 26 inches; Austin 24 inches; San Antonio 19 inches; Greenville 44 inches.
New Buildings Stated
From four to six new buildings are to go up soon, moving toward the eventual creation of a "state government center" clustered around the capitol. In the offing are:
1. A State Courts Building, now under construction, to cost about $3,750,000.

2. A State Office Building, for which contracts have been let and site-clearing begun, to cost about $4,000,000.
3. A central power building, to furnish heat and air conditioning for the Capitol and other buildings. Authorized by legislature with directive that it be ready by October, 1958.
4. A State Archives and Library Building for which legislature appropriated $2,500,000.
5. A Texas Employment Commission Building and an Insurance Commission Building. Lawmakers told each to move from rented quarters, but money for new buildings is not immediately available.

Dangers of Spray As Insecticides Are Enumerated

Between now and fall, insecticides in back yard gardens will fog the air like smoke as the annual battle between gardener and garden pests is joined in earnest. Ranchers will fight with spray guns as summer brings maturity to the flies that are so harmful to livestock.

Inevitably, the insect will lose. A single breath of lethal spray, a single drop on his tiny body, a single bite of spray-covered green and his doom is slated. He has a single consolation — a grim but satisfying one his executioner, being human, is liable to the human disease of carelessness. Which could mean that the man behind the spray gun stands a fair chance of being a victim of the very weapon he employs against the insects.

So it is that the executioner becomes the executed. Modern insecticides and miticides — including the deadly "organic phosphates" — allow slight margin for error. Improperly used, they have a very high toxicity for warm-blooded animals — including humans — as they have for insects.

Does their danger restrict their use? Yes, but only to a certain extent. Skilled doctors and chemical engineers in the State Health Department's Division of Occupational Health, while acknowledging the dangers of careless use, say: "Any poison, however toxic, can be used with safety when the proper precautions are taken."

It is for this reason that the Department of Health, in cooperation with the Texas Medical Association and Texas Agricultural Extension Service has undertaken to acquaint as many persons as possible with exactly what those precautions are. The project has taken this form:

Kits of material on every conceivable phase of insecticide usage, including the composition of poisons and their relative toxicity and a description of insects and mites each is effective against, have been made available for physicians, veterinarians, and county agents. Also contained in the kits are guide sheets listing laboratories prepared to perform highly complicated blood tests for cholinesterase activity, how specimens should be prepared, and the limits of exposure to potent insecticides.

All the information is the latest obtainable, condensed to bare essentials for quick reading and reference. The intention is to make the office of every doctor and every county agent an information center in the safe use of economic poisons.

Still, the burden of safe use will always be on the person behind the spray gun. He is the one who must follow the instructions on the manufacturers' label. He is the one who must guard other people and livestock against wind drifts containing spray. He is the one who must make sure he is gloved and masked and properly clothed before using the poisons. He is the one who must be alert to spillage or inhalation.

He is the one who stands to be executed by his own weapon.

Polio Picture Altered By Salk Vaccine

New York, May 29 — The polio picture in this country has undergone a radical change in two years since the Salk vaccine was introduced. Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said this week.

Owing to the widespread inoculation of elementary school children, the proportion of paralytic cases among them has been sharply reduced. With this decline, however, there has been a corresponding rise in the percentage of cases in other age groups not yet protected by vaccine. The most conspicuous increase has been among pre-school youngsters under five years old.

Only 16 per cent of the cases in 1956 were reported in the 5-9 group, compared to 24 per cent of the same group in 1952.

The proportion of cases among infants and children under 5 has increased from 29 per cent of the total in 1952 to 39 per cent of the total in 1956. The highest paralytic case rates last year were reported for babies one and two years old.

Babies are now at the top of the priority list for immediate inoculation, according to O'Connor.

Next in vaccination urgency are teenagers and adults up to 40 years. In 1956, persons aged 15 and over comprised 34 per cent of all paralytic cases.

The percentage of young adults hit was almost as high as the teenage group, it was stated.

"Polio usually reaches its peak of incidence toward the end of August and early September. We still have time to give protection with two shots, placed six weeks apart, to all who have not taken advantage of the availability of the vaccine.

A couple of minutes spent getting the inoculation can prevent a lifetime of crippling," O'Connor concluded.

SENTRY DUTY

In America every editor is on sentry duty, guarding constantly against all encroachments on the Freedom of the Press. It has always been like this. Ever since the press battled for and won freedom of expression, its guardians have had to be on the constant lookout for infiltration by the enemies of that freedom. Infiltration—pressure from powerful groups to tone down comment on a situation—pulling of strings to keep a story from being published—predigested propaganda releases. But the press knows the importance of never giving up its freedom. For on freedom of the press depend all other freedoms that make up democracy. Therefore, the men of America's press refuse to recognize any check—except military security—on complete, unabridged and inviolate freedom to print the truth. That is the challenge of today to the conscientious and the vigilance of these sentries of America's press.

(Continued from page 1) offenders. The censure of one representative involved in the natural case is not proof enough that the legislature has cleaned its own house. This column is of the opinion that when the heat was on and when the issue came finally to a decision, the legislators jealously guarded their freedom of action at the expense of public good. Our own representative, George M. Thurmond of Del Rio, was one of 74 representatives who killed Senate Bill No. 55 which was designed to put teeth into Texas' publication laws. That bill passed the Senate without opposition. It was approved by the House State Affairs Committee and it also had Governor Daniel's endorsement. It would have done much to return honest government to Texas and would have given further protection to those who sincerely want to obey the law. It would have forced the public officials to let the people know what they were doing with our money. In other words this bill would have put teeth in the laws and ethics that we already have. A law is no good unless it has teeth to enforce it. When public servants are prohibited from letting the people know of their financial dealings of public funds, by legislative action, then it appears that the legislature is sanctioning the misappropriation of such funds by their failings at legislation to prohibit it.
