Brown-Bassett Continues Gas Shows in Ellenberger

Magnolia Petroleum Co. and Western Natural Gas Co. No. 1 Brown-Bassett wildcat continues to reveal additional gas production in tests since last report. The tests are in the Silurian and Ellenberger. Last week, a test between 14,308-402 for 2 1/2 hours, gas surfaced in 45 minutes, flowing for one hour and 45 minutes through a 3-4 inch choke at the rate of 80,000 cubic feet daily.

More Good Rains, Cold Weather Heralds Winter

More rain has come to this section of the country, adding to the moisture already received and muddy ground is noted in several areas, according to reports from some of the ranchmen. Light mists and heavy sprinkle began falling soon after dark Saturday and left about 2-inch in local gauges.

Observers For GOC Needed Urgently

Joe Little, local Ground Observer Corps leader, has requested The Times to make an urgent appeal to all local citizens for their help in getting observers for the local organization. The need for local observers becomes more acute daily, according to Little, because of increasing flights of airplanes in this section of the country.

On a two-hour drillstem test between 14,415-527 feet, using 1 by 5-8-inch chokes, gas surfaced in 45 minutes at the estimated rate of 400,000 cubic feet per day. Recovery was the 2,000-ft. water blanket and 500 feet of gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 30-1,190 pounds; 60-minutes shut-in pressure was 5,055 pounds. Packers failed on drillstem test attempted between 14,402-525 feet and 14,527-605 feet. The project was drilling below 14,650. The hole is scheduled to a 15,000-foot depth.

Canon Well Below 5,000

The Hunt Oil Co. No. 1 Bustin Canon wildcat is drilling below 5,000 feet, probably, since reports early in the week were given at 4,807-foot depth. The reports from the wells usually are two or three days late when released and the last report was given on Monday. The hole is making fast progress and is drilling in lime and shale.

Observers For GOC Needed Urgently

Joe Little, local Ground Observer Corps leader, has requested The Times to make an urgent appeal to all local citizens for their help in getting observers for the local organization. The need for local observers becomes more acute daily, according to Little, because of increasing flights of airplanes in this section of the country.

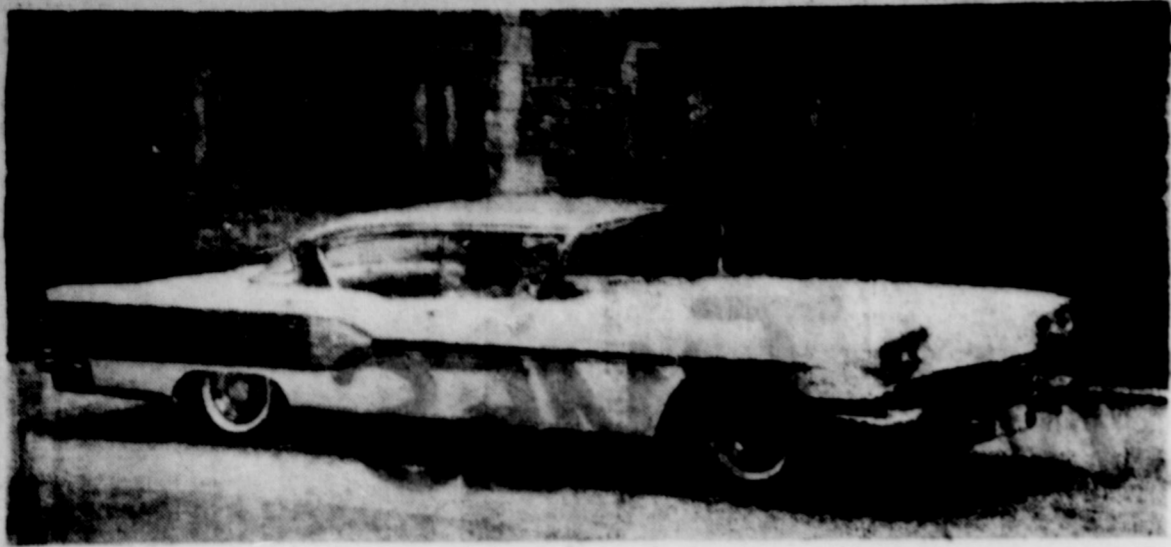

Observers For GOC Needed Urgently

Anyone who is willing to give a little of their time each week to an important job, is asked to contact Mr. Little for details. As soon as a sufficient number of volunteers are obtained, Mr. Little said that a class would be formed for instruction in aircraft identification and notification procedure, and other details related to the Ground Observer Corps. A 24-hour emergency alert would require the services of more observers than are now available here and volunteers receiving training now could be used in such a case, Little said.

Directed Directions For Being a Ghost Town. There are certain for those who are working to create more "ghost towns" if these simple directions are followed either by individuals or by entire communities. Hundreds of new silent ghost towns are now being set up in this more truth than to the simple statement "ghosts happen here".

There is to be a strong third party in national politics? You don't think so, you may not answer some very pertinent questions. First, what is a third party? What is a Republican? There is no lack of issues which a third party can campaign on before me a copy of the National Quarterly which has set out the various issues on which the Democratic members of Congress differed and were split on many important issues.

School Advisory Committee Sets Statewide Policy

On Wednesday, October 16, the Hale-Aikin committee of 24 members held its organizational meeting at the Capitol in Austin. Sen. A. M. Aikin was named chairman of the committee that is to make grass-roots study of the Texas Public Schools.

The committee divided itself into four sub-committees to deal with four problems: Schoolhouse construction needs, total school program, teacher supply and adequate financing of the school program.

The group endorsed the involvement of local citizens in the study from its very beginning. One or two persons will be selected from each county to begin forming county committees to plan studies in each county.

Gov. Price Daniel, in addressing the group emphasized the responsibility that the committee had in regards to the future educational program of the state. He traced the origin of the Gilmer-Aikin program to such a group as this.

Gov. Daniel told of the growth of school population and the many problems that such an increase causes concerning teacher supply, building facilities, additional classrooms, additional services of the school, and more and larger administrative duties and increased operational costs.

The loss of teachers to business and because of retirement, plus the loss of potential teachers to other industries and jobs was a matter for deep concern on the part of the committee, the Governor states.

Gov. Daniel expressed great concern over the trend toward federalization of many of the former state and local-controlled services and warned of federalization of the public school system of the state. He stated that "if there is to be one last bulwark of local self-government, it should be the operation of our public school system."

The fourth area of examination for the committee listed by the Governor was in adequate financing of the public school program. The need to examine the financial ability of local districts, the effort which they are now making, and the part the state plays in financing the public school was also an area for examination listed.

The local organization of TSTA is wholeheartedly endorsing the proposed action of the committee and urges self-enlightenment of the various aspects of endeavors and action of the group on the part of the public.

Guests in the home of Mrs. W. R. Turner Friday were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Turner and daughters of Alpine, Mrs. J. M. Turner and Jerry Armstrong, also of Alpine, and Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezelle left for Alvin Monday to attend the funeral services which were planned for Tuesday.

Preliminary Plans For '60 Census Lead Line Survey Crew

Preliminary plans for the national census are being made by the Bureau of Census, according to Jack Burkhardt of the census staff who was here last week-end to consult with county officials. He sought their advice on establishing "census county divisions" for use in statistical reporting.

The proposed divisions should be particularly useful for local administrative purposes. The census county divisions are generally larger in area and population than the justices' or commissioners' precincts, they have clear-cut boundaries which can be easily identified; and they are intended to remain as permanent areas. And for the most part, they are based on the communities which serve as the focal point of each area.

It is believed that the census county divisions will be handy tool for use of county officials, local newspapers, and business and civic organizations.

Mr. Burkhardt assured the officials that the county divisions set up by the Bureau of Census will not interfere in any way with the use of Justices' or Commissioners' precinct by the state or counties.

Due to the fact that Sanderson being the largest town in the county, it will comprise one of the divisions, and the only division other than the county-wide county.

Deferred grazing is part of the basic conservation plan that Downie developed with the Rio Grande-Pecos River Soil Conservation District. He received help in developing his plan from Soil Conservation Service technicians.

voted in opposition to the Southern block and to the accepted Democratic stand. It is significant also that Majority Leader Johnson voted 42 per cent of the time for the South and 52 per cent of the time with the North. Sen. Yarborough, who was not eligible for all Southern votes because he did not go to the Senate until May, was shown as voting with a majority of Southern Democrats 29 times, and voting 46 times in disagreement with Southern Democrats.

Congressman Rutherford voted 90 times with the Southern-ers.

The civil rights cooked-up bill was one of the most controversial that was before the Congress and both our Texas Senators were shown as having voted for passage of that bill.

Now, please tell me who is a Democrat and who is a Republican. The administration has gone down the same road that was followed by two precedessors and the civil rights bill has plainly shown that neither of the two parties can lay that to the other.

A third party chances are increasing daily and that third party could become the major political party in these United States.

Magic Lemon Petal Tarts For Teen-Ager Treats

WITH THE OPENING OF SCHOOL even the resourceful mother is sometimes put to it to provide refreshments for the youngsters' treats and parties. Bite-size lemon meringue tarts with sweetened condensed milk filling are sure to win the approval of even the most critical teen-ager and from the mother's point of view, they are a real treat, too. The sweetened condensed milk filling needs no cooking and is always magically smooth and creamy.

To add eye appeal to the tarts, make the shells in your smallest muffin or cup cake pans like little cups of petals. Top with meringue or whipped cream.

MAGIC LEMON MERINGUE TARTS

1 package pastry mix made into petal shells
1 1/2 cups sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind or 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract
2 egg yolks

Stir sweetened condensed milk, lemon juice, lemon rind or lemon extract and egg yolks until mixture thickens. Pour filling into chilled baked tart shells. Top each with a fluff of meringue or whipped cream.

For petal shells, roll pastry out 1/4 inch thick. Cut pastry circle for bottom of each muffin or cup-cake pan and put in pans. For petals, cut circle pattern of stiff paper the depth of muffin pan, plus 1/2 inch, and cut five rounds of pastry for each tart. If you have a round cookie cutter approximately the right size, use it instead of the paper pattern. Place circles around sides of each muffin pan, overlapping for petal effect. To hold together, brush with unbeaten egg white where surfaces touch. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool and remove from pans.

Town Responsibility In Delinquency Told By Judge

By Judge Sarah T. Hughes

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of articles on the state's growing problem of juvenile delinquency by one of Texas' foremost authorities on the subject, District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, who has handled more than 25,000 juvenile and family relations cases, along with an even greater number of other civil cases in 22 years on the bench. "Family law is probably the most important phase of the law," says this internationally known jurist, whose work has been honored throughout the United States and in Europe and Asia as well, and whose name was put in nomination for vice president of the United States in 1952. A discussion of a different aspect of the problem will appear later.)

We are no longer trying to revenge ourselves upon erring youngsters, as they did not so long ago—1828 in New Jersey when they hanged a 13-year-old boy for theft. We are trying first to rescue the children, and second, to protect society.

This is not to say that children should never be punished. A good old-fashioned spanking sometimes gets results in inculcating the "old-fashioned" eternal virtues so much needed.

But society has another role toward children who have to grow up in the drastically changed conditions society has created for them as compared to the old-fashioned days. It is to try to provide other and counteracting conditions tending to prevent delinquency, to try to rehabilitate the delinquents, and to protect ourselves as well.

What you, as a member of the community, as a church and club member, as an individual, can do about the first aim includes more than you might think. It is to help create a climate of public opinion in which more means will be provided to take care of the idle time our society has forced upon children . . . to provide constructive outlets for their energies instead of destructive. It is to volunteer for work in these projects—scouts, campfire, junior achievement, teen canteens, playgrounds club and church jobs, church youth groups, and similar character-building work and recreational organizations.

Your help in the development of public opinion—and your dollars in support of Community Chest and United Fund drives—are also needed for another means of preventing delinquency. We do not have nearly enough child guidance clinics, family counseling services, vocational advisors, or similar agencies where trained psychological workers can often do some positive steering in the right direction which may turn a potential delinquent into a prospective good citizen.

Next, how do you as an individual, as a member of the community, do these two things which help discharge the community's responsibility in the effort to prevent delinquency? You can be quite a force in (1) developing public opinion, so how do you go about it?

Conversations with friends is a potent method. Bring your idea of the need into the conversation; ask your friends to urge their friends to spread the idea.

Talks to clubs is another excellent method. Clubs are always looking for a speaker and a subject, and many of us have opportunities to make such talks.

You can also "speak out at meeting" at every opportunity for a floor discussion of possible projects for your church or club. General topics often present a similar chance to speak from the floor on this, also.

(2) The time and energy of many more individuals are greatly needed for work as adult leaders in youth groups. You can volunteer to serve in one of the numerous such organizations crying for help on every hand. Forget about training—the need is for PEOPLE far more than it is for trained people.

You can even teach without previous training. To help relieve the great shortage of teachers, Texas authorities are issuing temporary certificates to enable you to teach during the time that you are taking a television course in your home on teaching methods.

You can be a personal friend to children you know or can become acquainted with talking to them, listening to them, giving them jobs . . .

Governor Votes for "Sweet Tooth"

EVEN A GOVERNOR HAS A "SWEET TOOTH"—Governor Goodwin J. Knight of California, like most of the country's male population, has a definite taste for sweets. While attending the California State Fair recently, the Governor took time out to test samples of canned peaches, prepared by the University of California. Mrs. Rose Marie Pangborn, of the University staff, awaits the Governor's verdict. He liked 'em.

Part of a research program to determine the relationship of sugar to flavor in prepared foods, this taste survey was conducted among more than 30,000 people who attended the Fair in the past four years. Results of the study showed that consumers like canned fruits to be sweeter than is currently believed, and also that men like fruit sweeter than women do. It looks as though the Governor would agree!

New High In Styling, Safety

A complete safety group, consisting of power steering, power brakes, padded dashboard and sun visors, is available on all 1958 Dodge cars. This Custom Royal four-door Lancer also features the compound picture windshield, standard on all hardtop and convertible models. The push-button Torque-Flite transmission is an added convenience, and the safety Torsion-Aire ride is standard on all models.

in the House would make the lawmakers responsible for reporting money spent on them by lobbyists.

Secret Study Proposed
Supporters of the crime study commission bill were dismayed at the turn it took in the House.

Before passage, the House put in a provision that the commission's sessions should be behind closed doors. It also gave it no power to subpoena witnesses.

It was the secret session part which disturbed the governor. Main purpose of the commission, he said, was to give the public more information on law enforcement and crime prevention.

Tangled Trail
Senate's investigating committee continued efforts to chop through the tangled financial history of three Dallas insurance firms.

Apparent purpose is to discover whether these companies were playing fast and loose with the policy and stockholders' money without restraint from the state regulatory agency.

Chairman Sen. Charles Herring said at the beginning of the inquiry that he felt the Legislature was catching the brunt of public indignation that sometimes stemmed from negligence by state agencies.

Pierce P. Brooks and Lester Hall of National Bankers Life were questioned about the complicated exchanges and re-exchanges of money and stock between that company and now-bankrupt ICT Corp.

Outcome was a $2,000,000 loss to ICT stockholders. Hall said hindsight made some of the deals look bad now, but they seemed perfectly all right at the time they were made.

Former employees of Preferred Life testified that they had been instructed to conceal records from Insurance Department examiners. Company books did

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Gov. Price Daniel's special session legislative program apparently is on the way to being passed — with addition and alterations here and there.

Both Senate and House passed water bills — differing quite a bit from each other, and even more from the measure the Governor requested.

Gov. Daniel asked for a state-wide water planning division with an appropriation of $1,024,000. He also asked for state authority to contract with the federal government for water storage in federal reservoirs.

Cut out of the House Bill was the water storage provision. Appropriation also was reduced to about $951,000.

Senate cut the appropriation to $609,240 and gave the proposed new division authority to do research, but not to formulate an overall plan. It authorized conservation storage agreements but only if they are approved first by the Legislature.

Biggest wrangle came when some House members tried to insert an amendment that would allow landowners to use water from small farm lakes for irrigation. Present law limits these lakes to domestic and livestock use except with a special permit.

Result was a city vs. farm battle of the sort that has derailed overall water programming efforts for years. Amendment was added in the House.

Lobby Proposals

After all the furore, both the House and Senate lobby control bills looked pretty mild.

Both would require registration of paid lobbyists and reports on how much they spend to influence legislation (over $50 in the Senate bill; over $25 in the House bill).

Neither would require details on how the money was spent.

Dodge Grille Combines Boldness, Good Taste

Adding a dramatic touch of boldness to the Swept Wing '58 is the completely redesigned front end. Dual headlights are arranged side-by-side, under flaring, fashionable hoods, for safer, surer night time driving. Parking lights are recessed in protective "bombs", placed to shield the cross-hatched grille from damage. Adding to the uncluttered look of good taste are the straight lines of the front bumper with its sturdy overbar to protect both grille and front license plate.

Colder Weather Increases Danger Of Ranch Home Fires

Fire cost the nation's ranchers and farmers last year an estimated $15 million. During the past 10 years, almost a billion and a half dollars worth of rural property has gone up in flames, according to economists in the USDA's Agricultural Research Service.

"Don't let a fire happen on the ranch or in your home," is the word of caution from the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. "As the weather becomes colder and heating equipment is put back into active service, the chances of fires takes a big jump," says the Council. They add that the USDA survey shows that farm and ranch fires are due to seven principal causes and most are preventable. The chief causes are: faulty flue and heaters, combustible roofs, spontaneous combustion, matches and smoking, defective wiring, gasoline and kerosene and lightning.

"All heating equipment should be checked carefully and adjusted by a qualified person," says the Councilmen. A check of all lines and connections should be made for leaks, and flues and chimneys should be thoroughly examined for cracks and breaks. "The most important of all, they say, "is don't give a fire a place to start. In other words, prevention by following the rules of good safe ranch and home living can save not only the loss in dollars but also the misery and suffering from injuries and possibly death to family members.

It is safe to have fire extinguishing equipment at hand and be sure that all members of the family who possibly can use the prevention methods, are taught how to use them. Extinguishers must be in top operating condition to be worthwhile and they should be located in places easily and readily accessible in case of a fire.

The Council is qualified to make recommendations on the types of extinguishers and the number and location of such devices for maximum protection.

Findings will be presented to the next regular session which is expected to be faced with a deficit and the necessity of putting new taxes on someone.

But commission members emphasized they would present no recommendations for new taxes, only facts on current ones.

Early End

An early freeze caused a sharp halt in crop growth for about half the state. It damaged some sorghum fields, reports USDA, and hit areas which still had late cotton crops to be harvested. Other areas reported ruined maize and damaged grazing.

Freeze was not expected in the Panhandle, said USDA, but came unusually early for many south central counties.

At It Again

For the third time in a row, a new Travis County grand jury has set to work with the charge to discover any possible misconduct by state officials. Gov. Price Daniel urged the investigation. "Wild and unwarranted charges do great harm," he said, "and the makers should be given an opportunity to put up or shut up."

Judge Mace Thurman echoed this view at the swearing-in session. Any citizen with information on malfeasance in office has not only the right, but an obligation to go to the grand jury, he said. Object: to indict the guilty and clear the innocent of charges from "insinuation or rumor"

Prison Educator Honored

Some 100 Texas notables attended an Austin luncheon honoring Dr. George Beto, credited with giving Texas the nation's first school behind bars.

Dr. Beto, a member of the Board of Corrections, is given chief credit for establishing a program whereby men in state prison can complete a high school education. Some 188 have received diplomas.

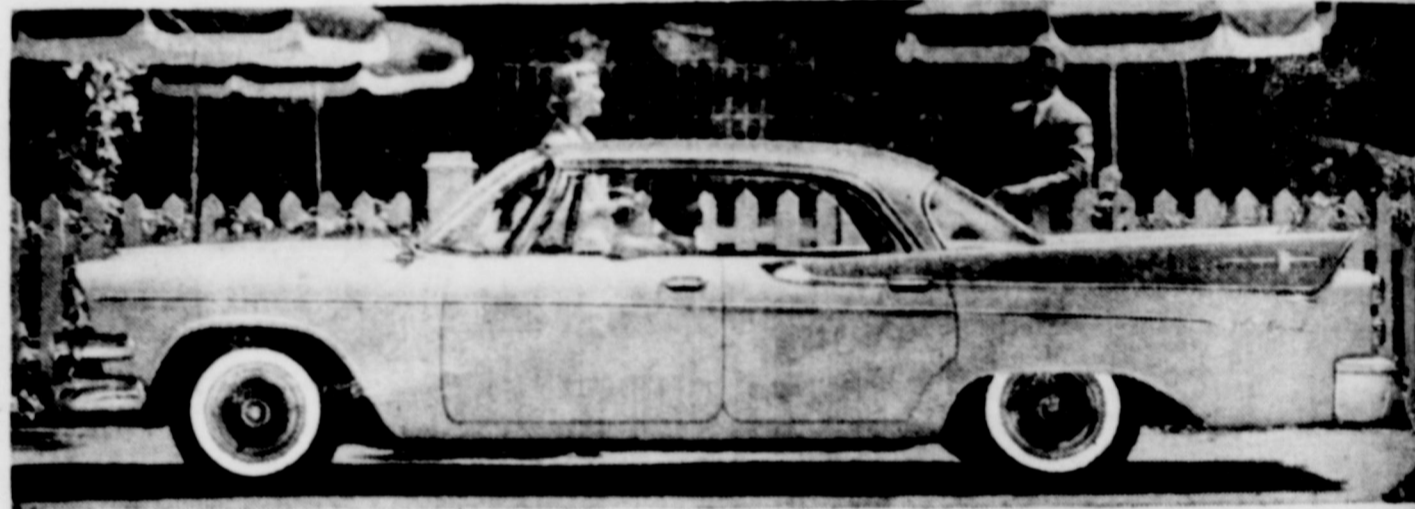

Former Gov. Allan Shivers, who appointed Beto to the board, served as master of ceremonies for the luncheon. Gov. Daniel joined in the tribute. Beto is president of Concordia Lutheran College in Austin.

Sam Houston Devoted to Huntsville Home

Houston's law office, where no woman was ever allowed to enter. Few men ever grew to love a house more than General Sam Houston, his first and favorite son. His self-designed "bang-up place," as he referred to it, at Huntsville offered him more comfort than the stately mansions he occupied while representing the "Lone Star State" in the state's capital during his three terms in the Senate.

the October McCall's article, "Houston Loved This House" traces his life during the mid-1800's to the tiny frontier settlement of Huntsville. Sam bought the 174-acre homestead seventy-five miles from Houston in 1847 for $1,000. He proceeded to build a white, two-story, six room, colonial style house, where eventually seven of his eight children were born. The Houston family regularly entertained visitors to Huntsville, placing heavy emphasis on Texas-style recipes for some of Sam's favorite dishes—Texas baked ham, rebel, southern rice pudding, Alamo lemon jelly cake, and Houston's favorite, white cake with chocolate frosting, which appears on the magazine's cover—appears in the article.

Houston's life was full of adventure and drama from the time he left his father's Virginia plantation at the age of seventeen to live with the Cherokee Indians in Tennessee, until his victory over Mexico for the Texas Territory. He attained the rank of General in the Union Army, while fighting under Andrew Jackson, who later helped him become Adjutant General of the Tennessee militia, paving the way for such positions as prosecuting attorney, congressman, and Governor of Tennessee at the age of thirty-five. It was during his tenure as Governor that his first and most successful marriage took place. He later married Margaret Lea who bore him four sons and four daughters.

About $450 Profit At P.-T.A. Carnival

The annual Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Sanderson Parent-Teacher Association was considered a success by officers of the organization. Proceeds from the Thursday night affair amounted to $642.08 and they expect the net profit to be about $450.

The first number on the carnival program was a parade by the young goblins of town. Led by Sheriff Lee Billings and the Sanderson High School band, the pupils of the first five grades and a group of pre-schoolers in gay Halloween costumes made up the larger portion of the parade. They were accompanied by their teachers and several mothers.

The costumes were judged prior to the parade and cash prizes were awarded to Duke Booker and Nancy Stanley for the most attractive boy and girl; to Jimmy Castner and Ana Maria Calzada for the most gruesome costumes; to Terry Kesler and Dorothy Venegas for the most unusual costumes.

Booths were set up on the school grounds for the sale of candy, sandwiches, hot dogs, cold drink, balloons, etc. Mexican food, cake, pie, and coffee were available in the Band Hall.

Mrs. Emmett Young was in charge of the stage show and Mrs. Dudley Harrison directed. C. G. Riggins was master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Harrison narrated "M-lady's Style Show" with 20 ladies in costume representing the various costumes suitable for various day's activities. The Nightingale Laides quartet was composed of Mmes. Ben Causey, Winnie Magill, T. O. Moore and Irvin Robbins. The group sang several parodies and had some dialogue jokes.

Miss Diana Duke sang "You're Getting a Good Girl, When You Get Me".

Mrs. L. D. Booker, Jr., furnished piano accompaniment for the above numbers.

A cash award was given to Travis Williams and Arnulfo Villarreal who tied in the sale of advance tickets.

Several skits were presented with the following in the casts: F. A. Weigand, John Powell, Gordon Harmon, Bonda Gail Boyd, Al Word, Ruel Adams, Mrs. Winnie Magill, Peggie Cooke and Mrs. James Word, Lloyd Cowan, Lawrence James, Thurman White, Mrs. A. J. Hahn, Mrs. Gordon Harmon and Mrs. Thurman White.

Mrs. C. G. Riggins assisted with the "crazy hat" show and prizes were awarded to Mmes. Word, Causey, and White. The hats constructed of every conceivable material, were designed and worn by the maker.

Adding to the thrills and chills for the children was the wild man, Moo — Don Phillips.

There were several boxing bouts in the gymnasium and a large crowd witnessed the fist-cuffs.

Veteran Holders Of GI Term Insurance Warned To Note

World War II veterans holding term GI insurance might do well to ponder the experience of nearly 20,000 veterans of World War I who didn't convert their term policies to permanent GI insurance.

That's the advice of Harry Westernman, Contact Officer of the Veterans Administration in San Antonio.

Term insurance, he explained, must be renewed every five years at an increasingly higher premium rate.

Having carried their term GI policies through as many as seven renewals, these 20,000 World War I veterans now face an almost insoluble problem, Mr. Westernman said.

Averaging 62 years of age, with their earnings generally declining, they are finding the renewal cost of their term policies so high that many of them are being forced to drop their GI insurance. Even those who can afford to renew currently may not be able to do so in another five years, he pointed out.

World War II veterans can avoid that dilemma of their older comrades by converting to permanent GI insurance. The initial cost of permanent insurance is higher than term, but the premium rates do not increase.

In addition, Mr. Westernman explained, permanent GI insurance has a cash surrender, extended insurance, paid up insurance, and loan value. Term insurance has none of these.

Information about conversion of GI insurance policies is available at the VA offices in San Antonio and Del Rio.

Poppy Sale Next Monday

The annual Poppy Sale sponsored by the American Auxiliary will be on November 11, Veterans Day. Girls from the Sanderson School will be on the street every citizen in the county get a poppy from one of them and wear it. If everyone wears a poppy would mean remembrance. It is a symbol of sacrifice — the lives that our country owes to the veterans in our midst who make the poppies a source of a small but their efforts and help a useful life. There is a therapeutic value from the veteran benefits when he is wearing the poppies. The poppy is not only a memorial to the dead — it is also a hope for the living.

The money derived from the poppy sale will go to the rehabilitation of veterans in the hospital also locally. The needs are increasing each year by the bounds.

Here's a car so new, so beautiful it made eyes pop from Paris to Pakistan... a car so rugged it proved its mettle in a road test around the entire world! What's more, it did it on surprisingly little gas—thanks to new Precision Fuel Induction. Come in and let us show you the world's most beautiful new bargain!

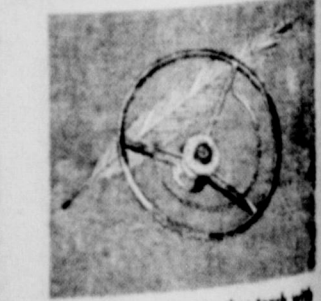

You'll be ahead with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 and Precision Fuel Induction. There's nothing newer than these engines that give you up to 300 hp. Smoother power! From less gas! One secret is Precision Fuel Induction, a wonderful new carburetion, fuel feeding, and combustion system.

You'll get up to 10% more gas savings with new Cruise-O-Matic Drive. Nothing rolls like a ball, and not the secret of Ford's handling and stability. New DI position, used for all normal driving, lets you move smoothly, automatically—with just a touch of your toe—from solid feeling take-offs right up to highway cruising speeds.

You'll ride on a cloud instead of a spring with Ford-Aire Suspension. Four air pillows literally soak up the bumps! And Ford's new air suspension reveals the car every time someone steps inside or luggage is loaded. An extra cost option, you get all this at traditionally low Ford prices!

You'll steer with a feather touch with Ford's new Magic-Circle Steering. Nothing rolls like a ball, and not the secret of Ford's handling and stability. Free-moving steel balls in the steering mechanism are virtually friction-free — give you the closest thing yet to power steering! Come in and try it!

Come in today... Action Test America's only world-proved car!
