SANDERSON, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 24, 1958

NUMBER 50

ISTEN TO LUKE

This week we have been think ing of the worrywarts in our national capital and the damage they are doing to the cause of winning the cold war. Of course. t is an American heritage that we should all want to know what is going on in the matter of preparedness, but to stand and wring our hands and scream to high heaven, rehearsing our worries for all the world to hear, makes us, without realizing it. appear more than ever like the French people.

There are those who want to put all the actions and plans in the cold war in a fish bowl. Neither openness nor worrying contributes anything of value to the cold war. With the fish-bowl diplomacy all possible strategy is

We remember how hot shame flushed the cheeks of all of us when Pearl Harbor's debacle came over the radio. But it never occurred to us to be afraid. Instead we began to wonder what we might do. There were places for all of us who wanted to serve

Sputnik and Mutnik aren't a cataclysmnik. Millions of them in space wouldn't conquer America. But running around in hyssterical circles wondering who is going to be the first to contro! the weather and the first to photograph the world from 125 miles up and snarl radio communication over the world, will even more ridiculous all over the

So much of this scare as has waked up sleepy educators and paper-pushing administrators in the Pentagon is good for us. But a nation of worriers running in circles and worrying out loud is the laughing stock of the world today. And Russia is laughing at the hysteria in America.

What can we do? Cut out the political implications! Let every candidate or office holder know that we don't fall for the cheap propaganda such as was spread here recently by two Congressmen from Texas. Yes, knocking some heads together would be a good thing. too, if we find the politician who is using this for his personal partisan benefit and knock his head first

Up to now, we have not heard of any definite local political activities. But we are maybe a little early for speculation.

If you think it might not be worth $1.75 to vote this year. you may be wrong. We have an exemption this year for the first time in 40 years, but we would still be willing to pay the fee for the possibility.

We don't intend to let any candidate get into office without our say-so, one way or another.

With the first announcement of any candidate for election or re-election, the fire under the political pot is lit. And the pot comes quickly to a boil with the innouncement of the second andidate for the same office.

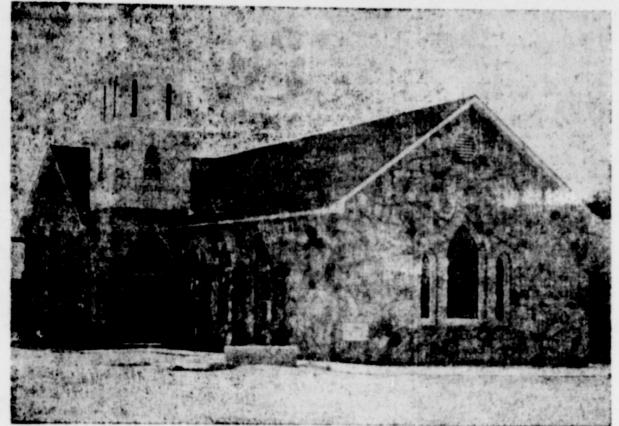

The fire is lit, and don't be surrised to see it come to a boil.

Do you know where the local girls' basketball team got the name "Roadrunners" Or do you care?

Several years ago, a reporter rom a San Antonio paper came to Sanderson and wrote a story about local athletics. He was named Perry Winkle and was affectionately called "The Jedge" by his readers and friends. He has since departed this life.

"Jedge" Winkle wrote several tories about the athletic events of the Sanderson schools and was fascinated by the long trips (Continued to page 4)

Jan. 31 Deadline For Poll Taxes

Friday, January 31, is the last day for a citizen of Texas to qualify as a voter for elections in 1958. If a poll tax is not paid by midnight of that date, a citizen will not be able to vote.

Important elections will be held this year, elections which will determine the type of officers we will have in the precinct, county, state, and nation, plus a school board election and possibly yet undetermined elections.

The only way for a citizen to qualify for voting is to secure a poll tax before February 1 or be eligible for an exemption.

Mrs. Tol Murrah, deputy tax collector, has reported only 321 poll taxes paid in Terrell County

W. H. Savage in Alpine Hospital W. H. Savage was taken by ambulance to an Alpine hospital early Sunday evening after suffering what was believed to be a heart attack at his home here.

Mrs. Savage accompanied her husband to Alpine and returned home Monday night, reporting his condition to be much improved. Tests and examinations are continuing in an effort to diagnose his ailment.

> "Dear Mr. Bader "Mr. Guice and I wish to express our thanks for your many courtesies extended us while in your community. After reviewing the survey made of the school facilities of Sanderson School District we have some comments

> "The primary building is in need of repairs. The toilet facilities need to be more accessible to the pupils. Doors are in poor condition. The rooms are too small for thirty pupils. Folding walls are too difficuelt to fold. Some revising is needed.

> "If a new elementary building is consturcted it would be advisable to include primary rooms. It is educationally sound to have primary children isolated as far as possible but for the small number that you have it would be too expensive. If allowed to stand, the primary rooms would become more obsolete as new facilities are provided. The parents of pupils in the primary building probably would want equal facilities to the upper elementary grades.

> "The elementary building seems to be structually sound. This means that the load bearing columns are in good shape and will stand for several years excluding a calamity, such as tornado or earthquake. The stack, however, should be repaired because it is loose from the building. If it is allowed to stand as it is, it would be dangerous.

"Even though the structure of the elementary building is sound, the wood and timber features are unsafe. The stairs are too steep and the steps are worn and insecure. The oiled floors need replacing. If a fire were to start in any part of the building, the interior would burn out completely before it could be extinguished.

"Rest rooms are located on the first floor only and are not planned for elementary students. Additional rest rooms are needed on the second and third floors. Sufficient light is not provided in the proper ratio. There may be too much natural light enter

It was pointed out that the trains can and do serve the public needs in a way that can never be equalled by highway trans-

"For safety purposes, the building is poorly arranged. Teachers and pupils have to be alert to the danger of high porches, fire escapes, stairs and windows. Most all elementary schools presently are designed so that all classrooms will be on the ground floor. By no means are elementary buildings more than two floors in height. If the building were remodeled to provide proper lighting, adequate toilet facilities and safety, it is almost would be out of proportion to the usefulness of the building. In other words, money spent on the building would not improve its offectiveness as an educational asset. The form of a facility limits the program. The facility should enhance rather than hinder the program. It is considered that if a renovation cost amounts sible to get by with fewer acres. to 40 per cent of the replacement cost a replacement would be more economical and functional "We would suggest moving a new elementary building to a new site. The present site is much too crowded. The proposed site in the northeast section of town seems the most logical. For shop. an elementary school of 500 pupils a site of 10 acres is recommended, when possible. Maybe time it would cost approximately

An elementary school for 540 pupils would cost about $365,000. This is based upon a state-wide average of $670 per pupil. The equipment cost would make it run to about $700 per pupil or about $380,000. This includes a multi-purpose room and a lunch room, with offices, clinic and Lighting in the high school needs improving. The surfaces reflective capacity of tables and school desks should be as small as possible. In other words, table and desk top should not be varnished or covered with a glass or glass-like material. There should not be too much difference between the amount of light near and away from windows. Too much is as much or more damaging than too little light.

All the plot of ground where the elementary and high school buildings are located is needed for a high school plant. For a high school of 300, a site of 13 acres is recommended.
