STEN TO LUKE

School closes this week reminded of our trying days in classroom when we were roughly speaking, educating of school in those days along without many of the staid drapings that are today. Of course, there were the feeble way of thinking as just like when we felt a discharge from the after WWI. To be sure we all the happy days in the and many, many evenings "staying in" after school some minor infraction of the and fast rules, most of the of which I was innocent. the pomp and glorification of graduation is more on the and side. One would that a high school graduate may surely know some after seeing the fine show that is made at the various ones.

Schools have gone a long since the days of the little room building of my day. I the last in the world to the "good old days". Certainly the school children of to have many advantages that ever knew, and the schools are being antiquated ever. We need more class and more teachers in all every school in the country. They are continually needed up with the changing tions, but, thank God, the of Texas are still able to in and operate their own without federal interference. It always be that way. are those who got the recently and decided that immediately get the government in the school business start turning out scientists. could end up like the out of 30-day wonders in and I am afraid the scienc might be of the same call and that would be the day.

you met the new citizens have come to be with us for?

There are several new families anderson. We have made effort to meet the newcomers and assist them in any way to get located and to let know that we want them welcome and a part of the unity. We find they are people and will make neighbors and friends if we only do our part.

of you who have lived for many, many years, can feel the need for a hearty and a show of friendship that a newcomer feels. It is for a newcomer to feel at when there is a curtailed attitude among the people. of any community have a to form a circle of about them and want to de all others. This makes pleasant left-out feelings to new citizen.

try to see these people. them to our churches and community functions where may be able to adjust themselves without the feeling of ing in. We have known people seem to feel that they are exposing themselves to company if they show any of friendship to a stranger. That is a selfish attitude.

Anderson has almost always itself as a friendly town to the newcomer can begin at home almost before he into a house. Let's keep it way. We are happy to have fine families and we hope will adjust themselves to the family and community life. are churches of many denominations who will welcome to worship services. welcome new citizens!

Grigsby, Mitchell Homes Here Almost Complete

The W. E. Grigsby and G. K. Mitchell homes are in the final stages of completion. The Grigsby home, on the corner of School and Pine Streets, is having landscaping completed, following the completion of the interior and the Grigsby family is awaiting convenience for time of moving.

The Mitchell home, in the 700 block on North Fourth, will not be occupied before late summer as the Mitchell family plans to spend most of the summer on the ranch.

All of the new buildings in town have added considerably to making additional houses available for newcomers here and are also an addition to the appearance of their respective neighborhoods and to the town generally.

Legion to Push Local Fund Drive

The Clarence Halley Mulkey Post of the American Legion met in regular session last Thursday night at Pat's Body Shop with Commander Monte Goode in charge of the meeting.

The meeting place was changed because of a conflict in renting the hall for a party.

Several members were on hand for the meeting and it was decided to extend the deadline for raising funds to build a concrete slab at the hall for another month. All members are urged to make their contribution to the fund as soon as possible so that the work can be completed before the fall convention here.

Members are seeking funds from anyone willing to contribute. Goode said, whether or not they are members of the organization.

RANCH CLUB TO SHOW FILM

The Ranch Home Demonstration Club, as a community project is sponsoring the showing of a film for women here Tuesday.

The film is "How to Examine Yourself in the Privacy of Your Own Home for Breast Cancer". Dr. J. M. Sexton will be present to answer questions and to give additional information.

All women of the community are urged to see the film which will be shown free of charge in the high school auditorium from 1 to 1:30 Tuesday.

Rev. and Mrs. Claude Bridges

Rev. and Mrs. Claude Bridges are pictured at Lake Cyprus in Georgia as they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on May 10.

Rev. Bridges was preaching in a revival meeting at the Gracewood Baptist Church in Statesboro, Ga., on that date and the couple was honored by the pastor and members of the church at a fish fry and picnic at the lake.

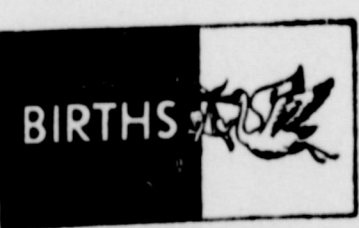

The date also marked the 50th anniversary of Rev. Bridges' first sermon which was preached at the First Baptist Church of Jeffersonville, Ga. In the 50 years he has been in the ministry, he has been pastor of 36 churches. This was done by serving many of them on Sunday afternoons in connection with full-time work. In Texas he has held pastorates in Goliad, Harlingen, Charco, Berclair, and Sanderson where he was forced into semi-retirement because of ill health.

Since going to Ludowici, Ga., his health has improved to the extent that he is now available for evangelistic work and supply work. He stated that he would be glad to hear from any of his former congregation here.

Mrs. Bridges was Miss Emma Frier, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Frier of Socrum, Fla. Her father was the first white child born in Polk County, Fla. Rev. Charles R. Shepherd, a class mate of Mrs. Bridges at Moody Bible Institute, who officiated at their marriage rites, later became a missionary to China.

Mrs. Ruth Geaslin and son, "Tootie" Geaslin, visited relatives in Sheffield last week and attended the rodeo in Fort Stockton on the week-end.

Mrs. Ruth Geaslin and son, "Tootie" Geaslin, visited relatives in Sheffield last week and attended the rodeo in Fort Stockton on the week-end.

A son, their first child, was born in a Honolulu, Hawaii, hospital to Sgt. and Mrs. R. J. Charleville on Tuesday, May 20. His birth weight was seven pounds, four and one-half ounces, and he was named Gregory Wayne.

Mrs. Charleville is the former Doris Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jones.

A daughter, their first child, was born in an Iran hospital to Mr. and Mrs. David Cunningham of Sheffield on Tuesday, May 20. Her birth weight was seven pounds and five ounces and she was given the name Dorothy Celeste.

Mrs. Dorothy Cunningham of Sheffield is the paternal grandmother.

Baccalaureate Sermon Given By Rev. Warren Capps

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday morning in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. L. D. Booker, Jr., played the processional and recessional marches.

Three numbers were sung by the Sanderson High School choir. They were: "I Would Be True", "Holy! Holy! Holy!", and "Now Is The Hour". Philip Shafer directed the choir.

Following the invocation by Edward E. Coates of Balmorhea, Rev. John W. Byrd read the Bible passages.

Rev. Warren C. Capps, Baptist pastor, preached the sermon on "Building a Civilization" after reading the first and last four verses of the 12th Chapter of Ecclesiastes.

"This is our civilization, our way of life. We've been a long time coming to this state that we find this morning," were his introductory remarks. "We live in a world where there must be proper relationships or civilization to reach high standards, there must be a continual growth in cultural things," he continued. "We are growing fine young men and women who daily are coming up with new ideas and we are grateful for the advance. The day is demanding and depending on you and me for better things, better ideas. With all of the advance in the field of medical science, we can't be left with things as they are today. More research, development must be made. Physicians and technicians in their laboratories are trying to come up with developments for diseases for which there is no cure as yet. The field is wide open."

"Mechanical engineering has advanced to a point where we live, ride and travel in comfort from coast to coast, around the world."

Chester Smith Dies Monday, Burial Wednesday

Chester Smith died suddenly here Monday morning following a heart attack. He was on his way to the courthouse with Texas Ranger F. G. Hardin when he was stricken and died instantly. He had been in failing health in recent months and had suffered previous light heart attacks.

Funeral services were held in the First Methodist Church Wednesday morning with Rev. John W. Byrd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. K. T. Melugin, Methodist pastor, officiating at the rites.

Graveside services were under the direction of the Masonic Lodge and interment was in Cedar Grove Cemetery.

Pall bearers were R. S. Wilkinson, H. E. Etelle, Monte Goode, Walter Kessler, R. K. Clark and Marion Batson.

Mr. Smith was born in Conroy, Illinois, September 12, 1880. His parents brought him to Texas when he was a child, his father being one of the first railroad engineers working in Mexico. The family resided in San Antonio. He was the last surviving member of his family, being the youngest of seven children, five girls and another boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last year on June 9th. They were married in Encinal, Texas. Mrs. Smith was the former Miss Etta Kuykendall. They came to Sanderson from Brackettville 44 years ago for Mr. Smith to be employed at The Kerr Mercantile Co. He later went into business for himself at Dryden and retired from the grocery business in Sanderson four years ago. He was appointed Justice of the Peace in this precinct after the resignation of Marshall Cooke in 1955.

He was a member of the Sanderson Masonic Lodge, a past master of that body, and a life member of the Lodge.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Etta Smith, three sons, Don, and Chester J. Smith of Sanderson, and W. H. Smith who is in the U.S. Navy in Indonesian waters; two daughters, Mrs. Celeste Coles of El Paso and Mrs. Guy Kercheville of Del Rio; also 8 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

The Janes and Magill Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Among out-of-town relatives and friends here for the funeral services were Mrs. Celeste Coles and son, Bob, of El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kercheville and children, Mack, Carol Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bruce of Del Rio; Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Ruby Maddux of Los Angeles, Calif.; Jim Kercheville of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Kercheville, Sr., J. A. Kercheville and Mrs. Walter Wardlaw, all of Del Rio.

Austin — A fresh task force is being organized by Gov. Price Daniel to attack the state's monetary problems.

With oil production still hovering at a historic low and a prime source of state revenue partially throttled, Texas government is, for the time being, at least, "living beyond its means." Governor Daniel named a six-man committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Secy. of State Zollie Steakley, Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Auditor C. H. Cavness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin, and Col. J. T. Ellis, Jr., of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Study Commission, a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated that the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance its books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

1. Every possible economy in use of state funds.
2. Possible elimination or combination of duplicating services among state agencies.
3. Compilation of a list on non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.
4. Every possible source of additional state revenues which may be available without the levy of additional taxes.

Open Season
Most major candidates have held their opening rallies and will be campaigning with little let-up between now and the July 26 primary.

But in many areas of the state, an even more intensive struggle is going on at the grass roots for control of the precinct conventions. They'll be held right after the primary, on the evening of July 26.

It's a small-time battle with big-time stakes. Whichever group of the Democratic Party gets out the "mostest" to the precinct conventions will control the state convention in the fall. This means taking over the official machinery of the party for the next two years — leading up to 1960 and presidential nominating time.

Governor Daniel has said he will personally lead "conservatives, moderates, and all other Texas Democrats who believe in majority decisions." He's been assured of vigorous opposition from the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston, Texas' national committeewoman.

DOT will have a statewide rally in Austin May 31 to draw attention to its efforts to oust the governor from official party leadership.

For the average citizens the precinct convention poses a more ticklish problem than primary voting. It may mean voting, publicly, against a neighbor who's running for precinct chairman.

PERSONALS . . .

Judy Ann Morgan of Groves is visiting here with her grandmother, Mrs. A. C. Garner, and Mr. Garner.

Mrs. Bud Ivy and baby of Sheffield visited here last week with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Turner, and family.

THEATRES CELEBRATE JUNE JUBILEE

ACADEMY AWARD WINNER
AMONG MONTH-LONG
ARRAY OF HITS

The annual June Jubilee celebration of our local theatres has attracted the attention of Hollywood movie-makers to the extent that the major producers now vie for June showings of their outstanding pictures. Consequently, this year's June Jubilee promises to be a parade of the finest screen entertainment local moviegoers have ever enjoyed.

For the ultimate in entertainment, on the theatres' mammoth screens, many in Technicolor, it is hoped that local residents will take full advantage of the movie treats offered.

(Above) "Sayonara," the 4-Oscar Academy Award winner, starring Marlon Brando and the exquisite Japanese star, Miyoshi Umeki, rates as a top Jubilee attraction. Its East-West love story was filmed in Japan, in color.

(Right) A lineup of the year's best pictures would not be complete without Walt Disney's "Old Yeller," a thrilling story of pioneer courage and the devotion of a boy and a dog. Fess Parker and Dorothy McGuire are the stars.

(Below) Young and old will hail the return of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," a Disney classic which will delight audiences, again and again, forever.

COMMODORE EDWIN W. MOORE
Stormy Petrel of Texas Independence
Edwin W. Moore was the only Commandant the Texas Navy ever had, history's lonely man with one ideal... to champion freedom. The Commodore was never noted for his deference to the opinions of others or the orders of his civilian superiors, but during the war for Texas independence Mexico's ships and shores had ample cause to respect his daring and naval genius. With a fleet of four small ships he disrupted Mexico's commerce, harassed and captured several of her coastal towns, and kept the ports of Texas open to supplies and shipping. A former officer in the United States Navy, Commodore Moore chose to fight for liberty and Texas... as so many other brave and bold adventurers did. They were the men who left us a heritage of courage and determination to bow to no man's dictation.
Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland... "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly, in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texas, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.
Texas Division, United States Brewers Foundation, 206 VPW Building, Austin, Texas

world. There is continued growth in many of the fields all about us. Young people being turned out of our schools will stay with the job until the answers are found in many fields. We realize that in the field of electricity our nation lives in a realm of push-button switches, making our living so much more comfortable, so much more enjoyable.

"More improvements are being made daily. Our national standard is centuries ahead in its civilization and our way of life. The Sputnik has driven our men and women back to the laboratories to research and discover facts not yet revealed. God has given us a growing civilization, growing institutions, to make life better for all of us.

"Our civilization needs a growing generation that will not make but hate war a generation that will resolve that this thing of war must be laid aside not only from our land but all lands of the world. To me, waste is a sin in the eyes of God. We need to think about the waste of wealth of resources of our land. America lives in her luxury because she has built a nation with wealth and good things on every side. Comforts and luxuries are not available in every country. Thrift was built into our country by our forebearers who built one of the greatest governments on the face of the earth today.

"The tremendous cost of crime must be considered. Oh, if only the money could be put into education and other improvements in our country. We are expecting bigger and better things of our young people. Conditions and times are demanding bigger and better things, schools, and resources to help them as they train our boys and girls.

"Among the foundations of our way of life that have made it great are the great homes and our religion. America is known as a Christian or religious nation. America is known for her respect and service to God for God had a hand in the founding and building of it.

"Young people, you are going to choose your vocations. Do not leave God out of your thinking as you make your choices. Get behind great things and big things and stand for the finest," he concluded.

Rev. Byrd gave the benediction.
