LISTEN TO LUKE

There are so many days that should inspire us to a universal Thanksgiving that we feel that one day is not sufficient. As we press one day early this week in order that we may observe Thanksgiving Day, we feel that so many days of the year pass without our ever thinking of the many blessings that come our way.

Most of us are inclined to accept the blessings of life from day to day without giving thought to others less fortunate or to remember that there is a giver of every good and perfect gift. We should pause each day of our lives to give thanks to that giver for the reasonably good health we enjoy and for the material blessings that make for a reasonable amount of the necessities of life and some of the comforts.

Thursday morning the various churches of the town will converge at the Methodist for a special Thanksgiving service. Rev. Irl Richardson, pastor of the First Baptist Church will be the speaker for this service. It is hoped that all the churches will be well represented at that service.

The daily newspapers of the nation are giving a lot of publicity to TV pay-offs and the like and we are glad to see it. There is also another type of pay-off called "payola" that is getting the headlines. This is pay-off in radio and television for plugs of some commodity which are usually written into the script for other advertiser's or manufacturer's show.

We think that all people who are guilty of such pay-offs and receipts should be punished by laws, where applicable, and by employers, where laws do not cover such things.

Then there is the case of perjury, and subornation — the act of inducing a person to commit perjury — these people should all be punished, regardless of how down the line goes.

Perjury — lying under oath — about the epitome of lying. When the courts of the land can no longer depend upon a person to tell the truth or to punish him when he doesn't, then our judicial system becomes completely ineffective.

As for the taking or giving of bribes, the implications and inducements lead to dishonesty in some stretch of the imagination one could curl such an act into an act of integrity and honor.

The deception to adults is not new and for television — as important as it is or can be on the part of young people, to condone or hold in any manner those in business involved in such practices, is even worse.

The enforcement and judicial systems should see that young people are not to believe that if they can get away with it, it's all right. The parents of young people should overcome those teaching also in their homes. School should stress the wrongs of such taking.

Everyone in the nation should rally their best to rally against an attitude of that kind. It is plain — too plain — that the little crusade of ours against foul practices is for naught unless we have to express an opinion against it lest some think that might be condoning it.

While the leaders of our nation practiced the taking of deep-seated, mink stoles, vicuna coats, automobiles, houses built at only cost of labor, or others at the cost of materials, down to vote stealing to gain an office, etc., it's hard for us to get where on our crusade.

Some politicians we know spend their own word, more money obtaining an office than they pay from that office for

4H Club News --

Twenty-two turkeys were taken home by good and lucky shooters who attended the 4H Club's turkey shoot last Saturday at the rock crusher.

There was a nice crowd of nimrods on hand for the shoot and the sponsoring organization asked The Times to express their thanks for their patronage and support.

The sponsors stated that the interest expressed by the crowd prompts them to consider another such event next year.

The regular meeting of the Terrell County 4H Club was Monday night at the Legion Hall. Ten members and six adults were present.

After regular club business was transacted, plans were made for the coming stock show and barbecue on Saturday, Dec. 12.

Following the meeting, Kay Seegmnd, supervisor, showed slides on native grasses. After the show some samples of the same grasses were placed before the members to classify and identify.

Roadrunners Lose In Balmorhea 50-47

The Roadrunners lost a game to the Balmorhea girls Monday night in that city by a close 50-47 score. It was their second game of the season and their first loss.

According to Coach Y. F. Bowley, the score stayed close during the entire game and he attributed the lack of free-throw accuracy as the probable cause of the loss.

Lupe Garza scored 16 points, Vicki Littleton scored 15 points, Kathleen Robbins, who alternated some at guard, scored seven points and Susan Harkins, who set up the plays for the forwards, scored seven points. Linda Morris, who worked most of the time as a guard, scored two points.

Darlene McDonald, Diana Brown, Darla Freeman, Natalia Chalabanga and Marta Flores were the guards with Darlene and Marta working for a short time as forwards.

According to Coach Bowley the highlights of the game included a jump rebound shot by Vicki, the play set-ups by Susan the rebounds of Darlene and the guarding of Natalia and Linda.

He stated that he did not wish to take credit from the other players and their ability, but the action by those mentioned was a little over and above their normal ability and worthy of mention.

He said that the Roadrunners had 25 team fouls and Balmorhea had 24.

Coach Bowley stated that he was also very proud of the sportsmanship displayed by the Roadrunners and felt that their team play promised a successful season.

Other girls making the trip were Mary Duncan and Kay Williams.

Planting Notes Printed For Pecan Growers

For the information of local or area citizens who have purchased pecan or other trees and who are not familiar with planting procedures, we offer these suggestions for proper planting. This information has been gathered from several sources: books, pamphlets, gardening pages in newspapers, and is a compilation of the information from those sources which vary very little in detail.

The hole for planting a tree should be large enough to contain the root system without cramping and not under about two feet deep and wide, but a larger hole is recommended so that root development will be easy. For pecan trees another hole in the center of the main hole and 18 inches deeper should be dug to contain the tap root.

It is advised to prune off damaged roots with a clean, slanting; cut and limbs should be pruned to lengths shorter than roots, according to information available.

When hole is dug, top soil should be saved and mixed with sand before putting back into hole and new dirt should be used in hole when possible.

Put the tree in the hole and lay out root system for uniform and natural spread and leave bud or graft even with ground level. Cover up roots and fill in hole leaving a depression for the watering basin. The bud or graft is the crook in the trunk just above the root system.

No fertilizer is recommended for tree at planting and all nurserymen advise proper fertilizing only after root system is established.

If tree is planted in lawn area keep grass away from trunk for two years and keep weeds away from trunk of tree.

A pipe may be inserted in the hole at planting for future watering, but first watering should be done by pushing the hose into the hole to water from the bottom to eliminate air pockets in the dirt. Subsequent waterings should be twice a week for first year and once a week afterwards with a heavy watering each time.

It is not recommended to wrap a newly-planted tree to prevent sunburn, but rather put a board next to the tree trunk to shade it on the west side.

Recommended fertilizers for pecan trees may be obtained at commercial suppliers.

The main difference between planting pecan and fruit trees is the lack of the tap root hole. A few fruit trees have grafts or buds and the same applies to planting with the graft or bud at ground level. Fruit tree watering recommendations are the same as for pecan trees with the exception of more waterings for fruit tree during bearing seasons.

Recommended fertilizers for pecan trees may be obtained at commercial suppliers.

The two men were apprehended on the Dryden-Sheffield road.

Eddie McNutt's Brother Buried In Comstock

Funeral services were held in Comstock Tuesday afternoon for Willie Harold McNutt, brother of Eddie McNutt of Dryden.

McNutt, 43, died of a gunshot wound Thursday in Prescott, Arizona, where he had resided six years.

EARLY TIMES --

So that The Times families could observe a holiday Thanksgiving, we publish one day early this week.

Late Tree Orders Okay to December 1

Orders for pecan trees will be accepted up to December 1, according to J. A. Gilbreath, secretary-manager of the Terrell County Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the tree planting promotion project in this area.

Orders have been coming in from many area ranchmen and assisting organizations' chairmen are turning in orders that have been taken by their respective members.

Several of the block captains report they are having difficulty contacting all of the residents in their particular blocks.

People who have not been contacted and who wish to purchase trees are asked to contact Mr. Gilbreath or Clyde Griffith and place their orders with them.

Four pecan trees have been recommended by the nursery for best results in this climate and soil type. They are Western Schley, Burkett, Stuart and Success.

The purpose of the project by the Chamber of Commerce is to beautify the town and area and receive lasting benefits from the project in shade, beauty, possible cooler atmosphere and the nuts from the trees. There is no profit from the project to the Chamber of Commerce.

Pecan trees are being offered at approximately one-half price to all purchasers, plus a savings on freight charges.

Wedding Rites Unite Local Couple

A nuptial mass in St. James Catholic Church Sunday morning at 9:30 united in marriage Adolfo Flores and Miss Elizabeth Lopez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Lopez, Jr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis C. Flores.

Rev. N. Femenia officiated at the rites, using the double-ring ceremony.

Arrangements of gladiolus and asparagus fern decorated the altar for the formal wedding.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory imported brocade chiffon velvet. In the front of the fitted bodice and the draped skirt was inserted a panel of ivory satin with appliqued leaf motifs embroidered in sequins and pearls. A similar panel in the back of the skirt cascaded into a chapel train.

Similar motifs were on the finger-tip length veil of illusion which was attached to a head piece of leaves fashioned with pearls. Atop the white prayer book which she carried was a bouquet of carnations.

The feminine members of the wedding party were Mrs. Marie Balzaduo of San Antonio, matron of honor, Misses Angie Salinas and Teresita Marquez of San Antonio, Mary Valles, Fidelia Gonzales, Ana Calzada, Carmela Castillo and Mary Lou Vasquez, the bridesmaids; Miss Arabelle Lopez, maid of honor; Blanca Falcon, flower girl.

Autumn shades were noted in their street dresses of velvet in sheath style with which each wore a bandeau of pleated satin and a circular veil of matching color. Satin shoes in the same shade completed their costume with each also wearing white gloves and carrying a bouquet of white carnations attached to a white fan.

Full skirts were featured on the dresses worn by the maid of honor and the flower girl.

Ushers were Alfredo Calzada, Pedro Hernandez of Kermit, Gilberto Vasquez, Francisco Munoz Jr., was the ring bearer. Marie Balzaduo of San Antonio was the best man and groomsmen were Roberto Salazar of San Antonio, Felix Valles, Ramon Cecla and Joe Borrego.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the V.F.W. Hall. The three-tiered bride's cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served with punch and coffee. Cookies and sandwiches were also on the bride's table which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white gladiolus and fern in a green bowl.

The couple left for San Antonio where they will reside. Mrs. Flores was wearing a coral pink wool suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mr. Flores, a graduate of the Sanderson High School, has attended Texas Western College for two years and plans to enroll in St. Mary's University in January.

The bride, a May graduate of the Sanderson High School, has recently completed her work at a business college in San Antonio.

Among out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Higinio Pena of Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Salazar of Monahans, Mrs. S. G. Hernandez Reynaldo Martinez, Mrs. S. M. Nelson, Charles Nelson and Paul Ray Gonzales, all of San Antonio.

AUSTIN—First of the 1960 political headquarters signs will be up before the Christmas lights.

An executive committee, formed to steer the Johnson-for-President drive, is opening a state headquarters in downtown Austin. Goal of the state office is to add to the 60 or more county clubs for Johnson and eventually to expand into a national operation.

With two exceptions, the state's top Democratic brass is on the committee. Gov. Price Daniel and Speaker Sam Rayburn are honorary co-chairmen. Plans were announced by Ed Connally, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and Byron Skelton, national committeeman.

Not on the committee are the state's junior senator, Ralph Yarborough, and national committeewoman, Mrs. R. D. Randolph. Both long identified with the party's liberal wing, have hedged questions on their presidential preferences.

Tight Schedule A possible time table for filling the three vacancies in the Legislature was set up by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson when Governor Daniel asked him for an opinion on the election law.

Forty days would be needed between the time the election is called and the time the new officials could take office, according to Wilson. This allows a required 35 days between the call and election day, two days for Commissioners Courts to canvass the votes and three days for county judges to certify the results to the secretary of state.

Law does not require that all the seats be filled in order to have a session, Wilson commented. But he said he felt it would be "especially desirable if more taxes are to be voted because of the old American principle of no taxation without representation".

Governor Daniel has discussed calling a special session in January to raise money for teacher salary increases.

Insurance Plan Debated Impact of a big change in auto insurance rates, due to take effect Jan. 1, is a prime discussion topic among insurance circles as well as the motoring public.

Under the merit plan, drivers with no record of accidents or moving traffic violations for three years get a reduced rate. Others pay on a sliding scale up to double the usual rate, depending on the number and seriousness of their accidents and violations.

Opinions on the plan vary widely. Among them:

- (1) It will make drivers more careful. (2) It will make clear to the driving public the direct relationship between accidents and cost of insurance.

(3) It will cause "bad" drivers to drop their insurance.

(4) It will result in more hassles over who was to blame for an accident. (Only the driver held responsible gets his insurance hiked.)

(5) It will flood the courthouse with contests over traffic tickets.

(6) It will be declared illegal because of the "double jeopardy" principle. Some lawyers reason that the driver is punished for his violation once when he pays a fine and cannot be punished again with higher insurance rates. Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas recently predicted that merit rating would result in such an overflow of traffic cases that new courts would have to be created and new buildings to house them.

Others have complained that traffic laws and their enforcement are not uniform and that some drivers—victims of speed traps, for example—will be penalized. Answer to this, says Insurance Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson, is to work out the wrinkles in law enforcement.

Insurance agents, in meetings and conferences over the state are boning up on the new procedures, planning how to explain them to their customers.

Although the rules apply after Jan. 1, present policyholders will not be affected until their contracts run out sometime next year.

Too Many Irons in the Fire

Duties of Texas' attorney general should be streamlined down to one main job—that of serving as the state's top legal officer.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson made this recommendation as he and his staff gained new, streamlined office space. Department moved from the west wing of the Capitol into the top five floors of the just-completed Supreme Court Building.

Wilson said he is an ex-officio member of more than 20 state boards and has to spend nearly half his time at their meetings. Moreover, he said, it makes the attorney general responsible for the activities of agencies over which he has no direct staff control. He cited the Veterans Land Board (troubles of several years ago as an example of the problems caused by such a situation.

Wilson advocated strengthening the executive branch of state government by gradually placing more responsibility with the governor. As a starter he suggested having the governor make appointments to replace the attorney general on state boards.

Penny Saved, Penny Earned

A House Economy in Government committee says it has turned up some cost-cutting ideas.

Use of more prison-made products by state agencies was recommended to the committee by O. B. Ellis, director of the prison system. For example, Ellis said prison-made bricks would cost the state much less than those it now buys. Also, he said prisoners could do the re-binding of school textbooks at a saving of about $300,000 a year.

Possibility of cutting back the farm-to-market road program was explored by the committee. State Highway Engineer DeWitt Greer made no recommendation, but said the state now is spending $78,000,000 a year on building and upkeep of rural roads.

Under the Colson-Briscoe Act of 1949, $15,000,000 a year is automatically appropriated to build rural roads. None of this can be used for repair which must be paid out of other highway department funds.

Rural road program has exceeded its 1949 goal which was to build 25,000 miles. There now are 31,000 miles.

Board of Control could cut costs by combining its Austin warehouse operations, the board's executive director told the committee.

Safety Award Department of Public Safety announced that its annual fleet safety contest was won by DPS Region 3, headquartered in Corpus Christi.

All DPS vehicles are involved in the contest. To win it, the 188 drivers in the Corpus Christi region drove 157 vehicles 4,688,900 miles with only 18 accidents. More than one-third of the accidents occurred during emergency pursuit driving at speeds of up to 105 miles an hour. There were no fatalities.

Incentive Prices For Wool and Mohair Are Announced

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound and a mohair support price of 70 cents per pound have been announced for the 1960 marketing year which begins April 1, 1960. These prices are the same as for the first five years of the program running from 1955 through the 1959 marketing years, according to A. E. Wooten, extension economist.

Yearly production of shorn wool is moving toward the 300-million pound goal set by the law. Estimated 1959 production is 252 million pounds, the highest since 1946 and compares to 234 million pounds in 1955, the first year of the wool payment program. Stock sheep numbers increased 3 per cent during 1957 and 4 per cent during 1958, and on January 1, 1959, were the largest since 1948.

ASC officers are completing payments for the 1958 marketing year, fourth year of the program. The shorn wool payment for the 1958 marketing year was 80.3 per cent, the percentage required to bring the average price of 56.4 cents per pound of shorn wool to a payment of $70.30 for every 100 received from the sale of shorn wool, Wooten noted. The payment rate on unshorn lambs was $1.02 per hundredweight of livelambs marketed.

The payment rates for the 1958 marketing year were higher than anticipated because prices received by growers for wool declined to the lowest since 1941 reflecting the drop in wool prices in the world market of 40 per cent from mid-1957 through early 1959.

Through August 31, 1959, payments for the 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958 marketing years were approximately $207.8 million. A small percentage of 1958 payments is yet to be made. From this amount, approximately $11.4 million was deducted for the self-help advertising and sales promotion program for lamb and wool being conducted by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc.

a full term. Some even have to sign notes for expense money they say. But they pay off their debts during their first term start living high on the hog and even branch out into other enterprises at times, and then talk to the voters in smooth-tongued glib words about how somebody else is or has been guilty of something or another.

There is little doubt that the world will be straightened out in the next few days because of the things we say, but we are still concerned over the future of the young people because of the example that is being set before them.
