LISTEN TO LUKE

Absentee balloting began this week, which means that there are less and less days and less and less chance of one changing his mind for voting in the general election. Really, there was little chance, in our opinion, for much mind changing from the time of the conventions.

But you can't blame people for trying. Voting in Terrell County is expected to be heavy, as it usually is in a general election.

Besides voting for candidates for the various offices of the nation, state, district, county, and precinct, there are five proposed constitutional amendments up for approval or disapproval by the voters. These, as are all proposed constitutional amendments, are important and should be weighed and studied by the voter before approving or disapproving them. They should not necessarily be okayed just because the legislators thought them up. Nor should they be disallowed necessarily on the basis of the same reasoning. They should pass if they have merit and be rejected if not.

Voters in Precinct three will have to elect a commissioner in that precinct on a write-in vote in the general election ballot, as the write-in nominee on the primary ballot was not certified by the actions of a committee who turned in the list of the certified nominees of the primary.

Failure to name a candidate for that post in that precinct would cause some, or many unforeseeable kinks in the rope so it will be well for all electors in that precinct to write-in a commissioner. Sid Harkins is the present Commissioner and the only candidate receiving votes for that post in that precinct. Failure to vote for the office disallowed certificate for the office disallowed certification, according to one member of the following party headings with candidates listed below: Democrat, Republican, Constitution, Prohibition, Independent, Write-In.

The ballot will list the presidential and vice-presidential nominees in the four parties with such candidates as have been certified by the representative parties listed above. The five proposed amendments to the constitution will be listed in brief form beneath the party headings and will have a "For" and "Against" each brief summary of each of the proposals.

The two new Highway Patrolmen now stationed in Sanderson were thoroughly indoctrinated on their first day's duty here with the accident east of town causing the fatality.

No power on earth could have prevented the accident, once the conditions leading up to it and immediately causing it were put in place. But they might be able to prevent another accident, and when not possible, will be close at hand to lend such assistance as is possible in those things connected with their duties as highway patrolmen.

We commend their attitude toward their methods of operation within this area and are backing them 100 per cent.

All laws of the state, traffic and otherwise, were not passed to be broken, but to be upheld by law enforcement officials and citizens alike.

Any deviation from the legal is wrong and should not be condoned by citizens nor enforcement officers.

Rain Soaks Area Over Week End

General rains covered this area last week end to give much-needed moisture to dry and powdery range lands. The rains were also beneficial to local yards.

A slow-falling mist and drizzle began Saturday night, with intermittent showers through the night. Sunday morning a light shower began falling at about 10:00 a.m. and mists and drizzle continued the rest of the day. There were showers and mists all Sunday night with some light showers falling Monday and also on Tuesday morning.

Local gauges contained about 1.50-inches of moisture. Area ranchmen all reported beneficial rains ranging from 1 1/2 inches upward to more than two inches of rainfall.

Heavy showers fell Monday afternoon in the Dryden area and some creeks in that country ran Monday night. There was little or no run-off reported from other areas.

Ranchmen are highly optimistic about possibilities of a good winter depending upon additional rainfall this fall.

Payment Of Delinquent Taxes Slow, Clerk Says

Payment of delinquent taxes has been extremely slow, according to Mrs. Tol Murrah, deputy tax collector. Only about 15 of approximately 200 delinquent property tax payers have paid their taxes since the mailing of the delinquent tax notices.

As was pointed out last week in a story in The Times, the Terrell County Commissioners' Court has demanded the collection of all delinquent taxes due the county tax assessor-collector.

Delinquent taxes amounted to approximately $12,000.00 including penalty and interest. Mrs. Murrah urged the prompt payment of all delinquent taxes as soon as possible.

Trapping Club Is Organized In Dryden Area

A group of ranchmen of the Dryden area met Sunday afternoon in that town to organize a trapping club. The purpose of the organization is to furnish a means of financing the cost of hiring a trapper to catch predators in that area.

A large number of ranchmen were present and indicated an interest in the success of the club. Ranchmen interested are asked to contact F. M. Wood for more information.

Predators have been taking a heavy toll of sheep on ranches in some parts of the county and the ranchmen are working for a unified effort to effectively control the predators.

Predators that have been killed by ranchmen include coyotes, eagles, bob cats, wildcats and an occasional panther or mountain lion.

The full-time work of an experienced trapper was thought to be the best means of ridding the country of the predators.

Rep. Rutherford Visits Sanderson

Touring the 19-county 16th Congressional District while Congress is adjourned, U.S. Rep. J. T. Rutherford visited Sanderson Thursday. Rutherford spent the morning on the streets visiting local people, and was a guest at the Sanderson Lions Club at noon.

He said that he would have less time to spend in West Texas this year than usual, due to the post-convention session of Congress which brought about a late adjournment.

Rutherford said that defense spending now tops $40-billion annually and he considers the expenditures "a necessary insurance policy on the nation's survival." He said, however, that this is all the more reason to reduce non-essential spending, and related that he has voted eight consecutive times against raising the national debt ceiling and has each year voted for considerably less expenditures than contained in the executive budget and than approved by Congress.

The Congressman also said that "free enterprise cannot endure in a society where the people look to the government for hand-outs, and where unwarranted federal controls are placed on business." For this reason, he said, he has opposed the foreign aid program in its entirety and voted for the adoption of some 300 Hoover Commission reports to remove the government from competition with private industry.

Congressman Rutherford spent the week end in the Big Bend area.

James R. Kerr, Fort Stockton attorney, was in Sanderson Wednesday on business.

Eagles Down Braves 30-22; To Play Rankin There Friday

The Sanderson Eagles won their first conference game by beating the Iraan Braves 30-22 at Eagle Field Friday night.

Early in the first quarter, Larry Harrell broke loose and ran 85 yards for the first score. The try at converting the extra points failed. A short time later, in the second period, Felix Valles went 65 yards for the second Sanderson TD. The conversion of the extra points was on a pass from Harrell to Bill Dunn.

The first Iraan score was in the third period when Robert Sullivan went over from the 3-yard line. Quarterback Duane Cash converted the extra two points.

To counter the Iraan tally, the Eagles pushed the ball over the mid-stripe and Valles went 18 yards to the Iraan 1 from where Harrell went over. Valles converted the two extra points.

In the final frame Harrell passed to Bill Dunn for 10 yards and the score and Herman Fuentz ran around right end for the extra two points.

Sullivan broke into the clear on a 12-yard run and the second Iraan score in the fourth period. He also converted the two points.

Sullivan scored his third TD for his team from the 9-yard line and the conversion try failed.

Sanderson's play was slowed down due to the loss of key men in the lineup due to injuries and ineligibility.

The Eagles will meet Rankin on the Red Devil home field next Friday night in their second conference game and are expecting a win, but some tough competition from the host team.

One Fatality In Car Wreck East of Sanderson

One fatality resulted from a car wreck about five miles east of Sanderson Saturday at 8:30 p.m. The victim is Mrs. Ethel Marie Hallett, age 23, of Rochester, Minn. She had been a resident of Dryden for about a week, according to investigating officers.

Only one car was involved in the accident.

The 1957 Chevrolet driven by Mrs. Sammie Movelda Romans, 35-year-old Dryden resident, went out of control after it left the highway on the right side, crossed the highway and crashed into a bluff which formed a cut for the highway, according to officers. The victim was thrown from the car into the bluff at the time of the impact and received severe head injuries. She died at 6:30 a.m. Sunday in a Fort Stockton hospital.

Mrs. Romans received a broken collar bone and several broken ribs, according to reports.

The car was traveling east on U. S. 90 en route to Dryden at the time of the accident.

Highway Patrolmen Bill Cooksie, Carl Davis, and Terrell County Sheriff Buster Babb investigated the accident. The two Highway Patrolmen had been on duty in Sanderson only a few hours at the time of the accident.

Patrolman Cooksie asked The Times to commend the action of Charles Vater, local school teacher, who furnished his station wagon for use in transporting the injured people to a Fort Stockton hospital.

Quail Season Opens November 1

Quail season opens November 1 and runs through December 31, according to Game Warden Cliff Wilson. Both days are included in the season.

The blue quail limit is 12 birds per day with 24 the possession limit, according to the game warden.

Quail are said to be plentiful in some parts of Terrell County and local hunters are anticipating a bountiful season of quail.

A hunting license is not required for hunting quail in Terrell County if the hunter is a resident of his county but he must have a license if hunting outside his own county, the warden stated.

This law does not apply to deer hunters, it was pointed out, and hunters who expect to go in quest of deer must have a license or exemption, regardless of age, residence or otherwise, Wilson said.

Some Violations Removed From Insurance Penalty

The State Board of Insurance has removed certain driving violations, mostly minor, from the list of those incurring penalties under the state's merit rating plan for auto accident insurance, according to word received this week.

There was some disagreement among the Board members as to whether to retain the present plan or abolish it and let the companies set up merit rating on an individual basis.

Removed from the list of driving offenses which cause the driver to have to pay higher accident insurance rates were such offenses as fraudulent use of driver's license, mental incompetence, physical incapability, driving on the wrong side of the street, going the wrong way on a one-way street, blocking traffic, illegal backing, improper signals, etc.

Points will still be assessed against the driver for such violations as speeding, running red lights or stop signs, illegal turns, negligent collision, illegal passing, failure to have driver's license, whether involved in an accident or not, etc.

The changes in the penalties for certain violations goes into effect January 1, according to information received.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — City officials of Texas are serving notice on the next Legislature that "something's got to give".

"Three-fourths of the people live in cities, and they should have three-fourths of the vote," said Deer Park Mayor Jimmy Walker after being elected president of the Texas Municipal League Mayors, Councilmen and Commissioners Association.

Walker referred to votes in the Legislature, due for a re-districting since the 1960 census. In the past 10 years Texas has had a sharp population shift from rural to urban which is not reflected in the make-up of the present Legislature.

Given representation according to their populations, the city officials believe they can "cure many inequities".

One of the first things they would like to have is broader taxing powers. State law now restricts cities to the property tax.

Many city officials believe that the pyramiding growth and expenses of urban areas make new revenue sources necessary.

Accidental Death Upheld

State Supreme Court has reaffirmed its own earlier ruling of "accidental death" in the case of a man who died from a blood clot on his brain after watching his office records burn.

This means two insurance companies must pay double for policies on the man's life which provided for double indemnity in the case of accidental death.

Decision was 5 to 4 by the court.

Majority opinion said that the "viewing of a fire produced a wholly unexpected, unusual and unforeseen catastrophe".

Dissenting opinion said that the case would bring up all sorts of confusion, such as whether a heart attack caused by excitement from watching a football game or TV show was "accidental death".

Another Chance for SA
Supreme Court ruled that the City of San Antonio has the right to make another try in court for water from the Canyon Dam Reservoir.

San Antonio's effort to get some water from the dam being built by the Guadalupe-Blanca River Authority has been going on for years.

State Water Board turned down the city's request which is vigorously opposed by GBRA. San Antonio appealed the Water Board decision to district court which rejected the appeal, saying, in effect, that it was too late since construction of the dam already had begun.

Supreme Court held that San Antonio was entitled to a trial of the case on its merits in district court. If the district court should decide that the city should get some of the Canyon Dam Water the case will go back to the Water Board to decide how much it should get.

"Saloon Clubs" Under Fire
State Liquor Control Board has set a hearing October 24 on proposed new regulations for private clubs selling liquor by the drink. Bona-fide private, non-profit clubs are not the target of the proposed new rules, said Liquor Board Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr.

It's aimed at the "fly-by-night" operators, he said, who give away membership cards or have only the flimsiest sort of organizational set-up as an excuse for selling liquor by the drink.

New rule would require all clubs to have a private club registration permit, to be renewed annually. To get the permit, the club would have to have dues or fees, exclusive of liquor charges, sufficient to pay rental, insurance, taxes, repairs, etc., on its premises.

Liquor dealers would be forbidden to deliver liquor to any club without a permit.

Stevenson said there are probably more than 1,000 clubs providing liquor by the drink in Texas.

Time to check your all-year central air conditioner for winter use

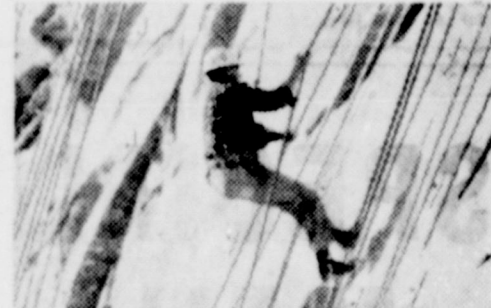

To assure maximum efficiency of operation, All-Electric Heat Pumps should be checked now for winter use. Filters should be inspected and cleaned or replaced if necessary, so that blowers can function properly. Fans and other moving parts should be lubricated as necessary for winter service. A similar check-up is recommended for combination central heating and cooling systems.
